Feed and labor represent [illegible] per cent of the cost of producing [illegible] and [illegible]. That any whole milk or [illegible] shipper must get the [illegible] out of feed and labor. In old fashioned talk, it takes no longer to milk a good cow than a poor one. Before a cow can be culled from a herd the herdsman must know which cows are poor producers. If enough farmers want this [illegible] the Alberta Department of Agriculture proposes to set up a [illegible] testing centre at Vermilion. [illegible] service is meant for grade herds of milk and cream shippers [illegible] [illegible] The farmer [illegible] service [illegible] check the production of [illegible] herd over a period of [illegible] Department of Agriculture [illegible] provide laboratory work [illegible] advice of Alberta's Cow Testing Supervisor. This service will be made available only if enough farmers request it from the district agriculturist.

PLANTING TREES [illegible]

Now is the time to plan 1961 tree planting. Land for trees must be summerfallowed this year to give next year's trees a chance. Summerfallowed land makes weed control possible.

M.D. 71 Vermilion River has [illegible] an excellent tree planter to be available for the 1961 planting. This will make roadside and field shelterbelt planting possible. Farmers in [illegible] M.D. have planted 2,000 trees an hour with this make of a machine.

H. M. Douglas [illegible]

When ordering 1961 trees be sure to state whether or not you wish to use the tree planter.

SILAGE

The three most commonly used silos in [illegible] are bunker, trench and [illegible] silos. The one most suited to the farm depends on the number of livestock, finance, feeding convenience and drainage.

The cheapest silo is [illegible] the trench but [illegible] is almost impossible [illegible] at any rate until as much money has been spent on it as a bunker [illegible] silo. The bunker silo is [illegible] the surface from any material at hand [illegible] lumber. It must be [illegible] to withstand the [illegible] 8 feet of silage. When using either the trench or bunker silo it must be built to [illegible] away from the silage and [illegible] freezing. Air [illegible] freezing prevents use in the winter. The best material to keep [illegible] air tight is polyethylene [illegible] with straw bales.

[illegible] the main reasons that tower silos are not being used in this area is because of initial cost, freezing and difficulty in self feeding.

"Grass Silage For Alberta" is now available at the District Agriculturist office.

Donna Rae Harrison Is Honored At Bridal Shower

Miss Donna Rae Harrison, a bride-elect whose wedding will take place on July 8, has been the guest of honor at Vermilion parties recently.

Miss Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Harrison, was entertained on Wednesday afternoon, June 15, at the home of Mrs. Wm. Walker. Mrs. Walker and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wm. Walker Jr., were hostesses to thirty-one ladies who gathered to pay tribute to the bride-to-be.

After playing bingo for a time shower gifts were presented to Donna Rae in a beautifully decorated baby buggy. She thanked her friends for their good wishes and their gifts, with a special note of gratitude to her hostesses.

The previous Wednesday Miss Harrison was the guest of honor at a bridal shower at the home of Mrs. J. T. Fenton, who was assisted as hostess by her daughter, Norma, Mrs. Angus Donkin. The twenty-nine guests were assembled in a room decorated with white bells and streamers. After a few games, Miss Harrison was presented with shower gifts in a decorated crib wheeled in to her by Miss Helen Iwaniuk and Miss Joan Trach. After the bride elect had thanked her friends lunch was served by Mrs. Fenton, Mrs. Donkin, Miss Rose Iwaniuk and Miss Anne Trach.

Wildwood East

Mrs. David Jack is visiting her granddaughter, Ada, in Stettler.

Congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sholdice on their recent marriage. Clifford was at one time a resident of Wildwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jack, Mrs. Jim Stone, Mrs. Norman Bowen and Mrs. Robert Drysdale attended the induction in Wainwright of the Rev. MacAvoy, a one time student minister in this field.

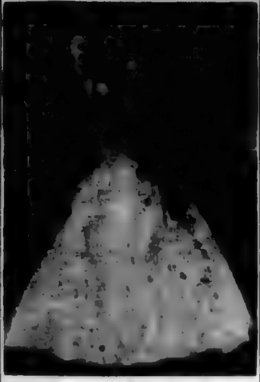
Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Franklin of Hinton called on relatives here and in Marwayne on the first step of their holiday trip east, destination unknown. Betty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Stone, accompanied them.

Mr. Ernest Jack, Fred Rogers and Leverine Lund enjoyed the rodeo at Wainwright as did others from this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Presley visited their son Gene and family recently.

Mr. and Mrs. George Jack spent last week in Stettler.

The student minister, Mr. Russel Christie, is spending this week supervising at young peoples' camp.



Margaret Bielech Bride at Derwent

At a pretty double-ring ceremony in the Derwent Greek Catholic church, Miss Margaret Rose Bielech became the bride of Mr. Edward Mudryk on June 4th, Rev. Father Chorhawsky officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bielech, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mudryk, all of Derwent.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father. She was lovely in her floor-length bridal gown of white nylon organza over satin with a semi train. Appliqued orchids trimmed the neckline of the fitted bodice with lily point sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil of imported illusion net misted from a princess crown of rhinestones and pearls. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls and matching earrings, gift of the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses.

The bride's attendants were Mrs. Adeline Zaharko (the bride's aunt), as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Lillian Bielech, sister of the bride, Miss Marie Kisiak and Miss Lillian Bielech, cousins of the bride. They wore dresses of blue nylon organza over taffeta with matching picture hats and carried Colonial bouquets of pink carnations.

Flower girls Barbara Wynnyk and Constance Klutz wore frocks of pink nylon organza with matching hats. They carried baskets of white and blue rosettes. Master David Mudryk and Master Woolie Mudryk were ring-bearers.

Attending the groom as best man was Mr. Peter Mudryk and groomsmen were Messrs. Peter Rebryna, Louis Mistal and Walter Chupka. Ushers were Mr. Paul Mistal and Mr. Michael Mudryk.

At a reception and dance in the Vermilion Elks hall, Mr. Peter Mudryk proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom ably replied.

For their children's wedding [illegible] of turquoise blue lace, white hats and matching accessories with corsages of red roses pinned at [illegible].

The bride's travelling ensemble was a white satin brocade sheath dress with matching accessories and red roses en corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Mudryk will reside in Derwent.

Out of town guests included the bride's cousins, Miss Frances Drewicki and Mr. and Mrs. Pinetino of Vancouver, B.C., and many other guests from Edmonton, Vegreville and Myrnam.

31 Whooping Cranes Spotted Nesting In Wood Buffalo Park

FORT SMITH, N.W.T. (CP)—"Kerloo, kerleeoo," says Grus Americana as he pounds out his weird courtship dance in the Sass River marshes.

"More power to you," answers the conservation officer watching the whooping cranes through binoculars.

Thirty-one of the 33 whoopers at large in North America have returned to their nesting grounds in Wood Buffalo National Park, 600 miles north of Edmonton.

Here, in the wild area closed to all but the soft-stepping men of the Canadian Wildlife Service the progress of the giant birds in their battle against extinction is being watched.

2,500-MILE FLIGHT

The first of the whoopers winged their way back to the nesting grounds 40 miles north [illegible] on May [illegible] following a 2,500 mile flight from [illegible] wildlife refuge on the Gulf coast of Texas.

TWO [illegible]

All 33 of the birds had left Aransas by May 11 but two were [illegible] a short distance from there. Apparently young birds, they are not expected to migrate northward.

On May 20 the first survey was made in the Sass River marshes and three pairs were sighted in the nesting area. Two were obviously nesting at the time. The others had not yet begun.

IDENTIFIED BY SIZE

Birdwatchers identify the whooping crane in flight by its great size — it stands five feet high on the ground — and the contrast of its jet black wing tips and pure white plumage.

The call of [illegible] kerleeoo [illegible] more than a mile gives the bird its name. In flight the majestic whoopers cruise at 45 miles an hour and average 300 miles a day on their migrations.

Whoopers mate for life marking each breeding cycle with a courtship dance which is one of the bird world's great dramas. In captivity they have lived nearly 40 years.

Whooping cranes once ranged from the Arctic to central Mexico. Few early travellers encountered the bird and it now is generally believed it has been comparatively rare since the [illegible] era.

Settlers drove the whoopers from their original nesting grounds in Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota and eastern North Dakota during the 19th century and their numbers gradually dwindled from an estimated 1,400 in 1870.

The final summer nesting in the United States was at Eagle Lake, Iowa in 1894. Survivors later nested in the Prairie provinces but the last known nesting there was at Muddy Lake in western Saskatchewan in 1922.

No other nesting grounds were known at the time and it was assumed Grus Americana had joined the great auk and passenger pigeon in extinction. Then a wintering flock with young was observed at the Aransas refuge in 1937 and conservationists realized the exquisite birds had found a new home and were fighting for survival.

HUNT FOR BREEDING GROUND

The breeding ground had to be found in order to protect the species and in 1945 the National Audubon Society and U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service set up a cooperative whooping crane project which was given full support by the Canadian Wildlife Service.

Discovery of the nesting ground was made by Canadian forester G. M. Wilson who was returning by helicopter from a forest fire in Wood Buffalo park in 1954 when he sighted two young [illegible] and one juvenile.

In the spring of 1955 Ray Fuller and Ray Stewart of the wildlife service flew over the area and saw the whoopers nesting on the [illegible] small streams that empties into the Little Buffalo River.

FIGHT FOR EXISTENCE

[illegible] Mr. Stewart and R. P. Allen, an American naturalist, spent [illegible] days in the area making [illegible] of their habitat. [illegible] effort by the [illegible] of Canada and the United States has helped the whoopers fight against extinction.

Baptismal Service At Alliance Chapel

June 26th was membership and Baptism Sunday in the Alliance Chapels at Vermilion and Mannville. Those received into membership at Vermilion during the morning service were Mr. and Mrs. Angus Anderson, Mrs. Harry Teasdale, Mrs. C. F. Rankin and Mrs. Neil MacLean. Albert Mix sang "Only One Life to Offer".

In the afternoon service at Mannville Mrs. F. Symington was also received into membership.

During the evening service at Vermilion there were twelve candidates for baptism. [illegible] to the above mentioned from Vermilion the following were also baptized: Steve Stuart, Carolaye and Sue-Ellen Clendenning, Robert [illegible], Ian Teasdale and Mrs. [illegible] from Mannville. An interesting feature of the service was the baptism of three generations of one family: Mrs. C. F. Rankin, her daughter Mrs. Harry Teasdale and her [illegible] sons, Robert, Glen and Ian.

Pastor J. M. Schroeder preached at all services and chose for his topics "The Way of Life made Plain" and "Identifying Marks of a Christian".

Musical numbers were a trio [illegible], Marguerite Clendenning and Dorothy Grinde, "I Was There When It Happened" and "I Ought to Know" and a solo by H. Sorenson, "Wounded for Me".

It was Missionary Sunday in the Sunday school. A large offering was received which will go towards the [illegible] of Roof [illegible] in Hong Kong.

In Canada one birth in 90 is twins or triplets; each week on the average there are born 166 sets of twins and one set of triplets.

Marwayne Home & School News

MARWAYNE. — The last Home and School meeting of the 1959-60 season was held June 14. The secretary-treasurer reported a bank balance of $[illegible].74.

A discussion was held re the track meet and graduation exercises and possible improvements in them. The regional library also came up for discussion again.

Letters of appreciation are to be mailed to Mrs. Chester, Mrs. Visychuk, Mr Williams and Mr Hutchinson for their [illegible] and help given in training the different teams.

New frames are to be made for the old school pictures and they will be hung in the school. It was also suggested that pictures be taken of the graduating classes and added to the collection each year.

A committee comprised of Mrs Harrington, Mrs. Spence and Mr Curtis was appointed to make a survey of available accommodation for incoming teachers. This to be given to Mr Joe Hale before July 15.

Mrs. Milne's room won the book for the April meeting and Mr Miller's room for June.

Mr Peck was re-elected as president, Mr Dave Kvill vice president, while Mr Earl Gray will remain in office as secretary-treasurer until the September meeting. Other committees will be formed at that time also.

Mr Gardiner moved a vote of thanks to the Home and School Association for the help received from them.

The next meeting will be the second Tuesday of September.

When a woman asks to see something more expensive, she's shopping; when she asks to see something cheaper, she's buying.

There is some consolation in the fact that even if your dreams haven't come true, neither have your nightmares.

Pleasant Valley

It would be more pleasant if we could get some nice warm sunshine after the boisterous rains we have had lately. The power was off for about four hours due to Friday evening's terrific electrical storm.

The flowers are thriving despite the high winds. Roses are now starting to bloom. Wild fruit should be plentiful this year.

The Clarke family journeyed to Wainwright on Sunday to visit the Frizzell family.

Mrs. Gillies spent a few days with Betty and Lloyd.

Agnes Gould is helping Mrs. Potvin with a little house cleaning.

Percy Golby was home at the week end.

Lila, Mr Bowser and Sylvia visited at the Clarke home last week, the writer's home, and on their way back called on Mrs. McClelland, visiting the next day at the Maire home.

Some of the neighbors' boys went fishing over the week-end. Have not heard any fish stories about the big ones that always get away.

There are a lot of birds around these days and they are certainly filling the air with sweet music early and late. Makes one feel that summer is here at last even though the days are already getting shorter.

The children will be happy to get out of school for a couple of [illegible] and enjoy the summer.

Farewell Party Held at Mannville

MANNVILLE: Approximately 65 members of the Anglican Christ Church parish Mannville, met at the church hall on Saturday evening June 25, to bid farewell and honor three families who are leaving, namely Mr and Mrs. James Johnstone and Doris, Mr and Mrs. Elbert Hubbard and Karen, Mr and Mrs. Ronald Forsyth, Stuart and Bill.

During the course of the evening some livewire games highlighted the evening's enjoyment. The "Rogue's Gallery" was most amusing as each viewed pictures placed around the room, which were numbered, of people present taken in their younger days, even to baby pictures. Games and contests were under direction of Rev. H. Shell. Volley ball with balloons, a singing game of proverbs were likewise much enjoyed, also a sing song provided interest.

Following the serving of a tasty lunch presentations of hymn books, prayer books and memo gifts to the young people, with purses of money made by Walter Osborn, people's Warden on behalf of the congregation. In doing so Mr Osborn paid tribute to the fine example of Churchmanship, as well as friendship, set by these families as he gave each their gifts. Rev Shell also spoke warmly of all families concerned, and wished them Godspeed.

Suitable words of reply were made by each in appreciation for the evening of fellowship, and tokens of esteem received. Rev. Shell pronounced the Benediction.

TOLLAND TOPICS

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Dick Donily on the birth of a daughter.

Congratulations to Miss Marilyn Watt on winning the home safety essay contest.

Miss Margaret McGrath has obtained employment in Edmonton.

Florent Van Wageningen had the misfortune to be [illegible] from his horse, causing him to be hospitalized for a few days. Fortunately no bones were broken. We are glad to hear he is home again and feeling much better.

Mr Russell Christie is leaving this Thursday for ten days as counsellor for Intermediate-Senior boys at Presbyterian camp Kannawin, Sylvan Lake. In his absence for the one Sunday, Rev Harold Morris of Lloydminster will conduct church services at Ganton or Tolland 3:30 p.m. and Wildwood at the usual time of 2 p.m. Please note change of time at Ganton is for one service only.

Rev. [illegible] McAvoy, a student here two years ago, was renewing acquaintances in the district recently prior to taking up residence at Chauvin. A group from Tolland and Wildwood journeyed to Wainwright last Thursday evening to attend the Service of Designation of Rev. McAvoy, B.A., B.D., into the pastoral charge of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

We are sorry to hear Mr Fred Nichols and a daughter are sick at present with jaundice. A speedy recovery is wished them.

Sorry to have missed mentioning in the last 'Topics' that Mr and Mrs. Harold Dickinson from Catawissa, Missouri, were visiting at the homes of Mr and Mrs. Fred Kottmeier. The Wolters and Mrs. Euna Lysons, Mr E. Webber and Mrs. M. [illegible] kindly drove him out from Vermilion. "Bud" as he is known, was a school chum of the people mentioned and seemed pleased indeed with what he saw of Canada, as this is his first time here. It was nice to have had abundant rainfall, then, and since, to make the country look its best.

Mr and Mrs. Art Lysons and family will be leaving for Moose Lake this Friday, July 1st and will be gone until Sunday evening so the store will be closed on Saturday. Have a good time folks.

Watch for announcement of the Tolland picnic which will be Wednesday, July 20.

The Red Cross meeting will be held Wednesday, July 7 at the home of Mrs. Van Wageningen Sr.

From 1948 to 1959 Canada's potential working force—that is, Canadians over 14 years—increased by 2,294,000 persons while the number of Canadians with jobs increased only by 955,000.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to extend my thanks to those who sent me flowers, fruit, cards and letters, and my gratitude to those who offered prayers for my recovery while I was a patient in the Royal Alexandra hospital, Edmonton. My thanks also to the people that visited me while I was there, and to those who have come to see me here at home. I appreciate the kindness shown to Mrs. Hodgins and Elma in so many ways — it helped a great deal.

Hiram H. Hodgins.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my thanks to Dr. Evans, the matron and staff of the Vermilion Municipal hospital for their kindness and care while I was a patient there; thanks also to my friends and neighbors for their good wishes, their visits and gifts of fruit and cards while I was ill.

Mrs. A. Manyluk

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to sincerely thank all my friends and neighbors who so graciously seeded my crop this spring while I was ill in hospital. Such kindness will never be forgotten.

Louis Hill, Clandonald. 51-2

IN MEMORIAM

In ever loving memory of MARY ZUK who passed away June 22, 1958.

Peaceful be thy rest, dear mother.
It is sweet to breathe thy name
In life we loved you dearly
In death we do the same.

Ever remembered by her loving [illegible] and daughters.

CHATSWORTH CHATTER

The downpour of rain on June 10th, which everybody hereabouts was especially happy over — as we've been in the 'dry' belt the past three years — began a series of showers which are continuing. Ample moisture is assured for a time, and crops, gardens and pastures are making very rapid growth.

[illegible] and some of us are practically isolated, wending our way through pastureland and fields around the [illegible].

Mr and Mrs. Arthur Tovell journeyed to Edmonton on June 10th for the capping ceremonies at the University hospital where daughter Marie that day received her cap.

Leo Klashinsky was a delegate to the convention of the Rural Electrification Association meeting at Red Deer on June 25.

Recent visitors to Harry Gaul's were Bob and Joan Robson and little son Peter and Mrs Robson's parents, Mr and Mrs. Dobie from Ontario. The Robsons and Dobies travelled on for a holiday at Banff while Peter stayed at Gaul's.

COUNTRY CLUB MEETING

The June meeting of the Chatsworth Country club was held at Mrs. Bert Moses' home with 11 members and two visitors present, these being Miss Milburn and Mrs. E. Bruns. The Sick committee reported one card sent and Mrs. [illegible] and Mrs. Alice Davis continue on in that capacity for July. The month's Multiple Sclerosis letter was read and the members were very pleased to hear that the hospital table ordered for a local M. S. patient has arrived. Also it was noted that the glass jars to receive the donations for World Refugee Year are being filled with a number of private donations swelling the fund.

Arrangements have been made to hold a community picnic at Vermilion park on Wednesday, July 6th starting at 1:30 p.m. There will be ball games, races for all ages and lunch will be picnic style with wieners for the kiddies. Committee in charge of ball games is Mrs. S. Jacula and Mrs. Bert Moses. Race committee Evelyn Hemingway and Mrs. Alice Davis, and lunch Mrs. Arthur Tovell and Mrs. Alice Tovell. All interested are cordially invited to attend and may contact the lunch committee as to donation of lunch or just bring along a basket lunch. Coffee and tea will be supplied free of charge but please bring your own cups and dishes and spoons for same.

The next meeting of the club is to be held at Mrs. Arthur Tovell's on July 21st, this being the annual meeting. Lunch committee is Mrs. Bert Moses, Mrs. Alice Davis, Mrs. [illegible] and Mrs. [illegible].

RIVERTON

The Riverton Ladies' club held their meeting at the home of Mrs. P. Hansen with a good attendance.

The annual rodeo was held at Lea Park and drew a very good crowd, especially the second day.

Home Nursing course is now in progress in the Riverton district. The first lesson was held last Tuesday with eighteen ladies present.

A very nice tea was given in honor of that grand lady, Mrs. Staley, celebrating her 80th birthday. Mrs. Donald Vivian, on behalf of the district, presented her with a dozen carnations, and Mrs. B. Timonson presented her with a gift from the Riverton ladies' club. A cake was baked and presented to her by Mrs. B. Spicer.

The F.U.A. held their monthly meeting last Thursday with Bob Parker of Dewberry as the guest speaker.

Three members went to the F.U.A. convention held this week in Vermilion.

A large gathering took place at the home of Miss Ellen Timonson to celebrate Mr and Mrs. Bill Holman's 25th wedding anniversary.

Bruce Hansen and Barry Boothman were home for the rodeo.

Mr Gus Garnier is now staying with his daughter, Mrs. Clayton Hansen, after a long period in the Islay hospital.

Visitors to the district recently were Mr and Mrs. John Gardy, Mr and Mrs. Frank Needham and Mr and Mrs. Alistaire Needham, all visiting Mr and Mrs. Harold Hyatt.

Vacation Bible School Starts July 4th at Alliance Chapel

Boys and girls, aged 4 to 14 years inclusive, are invited to attend the Vacation Bible school at the Alliance chapel.

Five days each week, Mondays through Fridays, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, classes in handiwork, devotional teaching, games and treat times will take place, starting Monday, July 4, with the closing program arranged for Friday, July 15.

A large staff will be in attendance at all times. Transportation for the children may be obtained, if needed, by phoning 237.

The Vacation Bible school has been conducted annually by the Alliance Chapel for many years. The theme of the two weeks' school this year is "Signaling for Christ".

Taking part in the official welcome to the visiting firemen and staff attending the five-day fire officers' training school being held at the Vermilion School of Agriculture this week were Ashley H. Cooper, M.L.A. at left; Hon. L. C. Halmrast, Minister of Agriculture, who was guest speaker; Austin Bridges, provincial fire commissioner; K. G. Urquhart, chief of the Vermilion fire brigade, Wm. D. MacKay, deputy provincial fire commissioner who was in charge of arrangements for the school. Absent from the picture but extending greetings from the town of Vermilion was Acting Mayor C. J. McCormick.

"CARE" AIDS CHILEANS

Care emergency aid for Chilean earthquake victims will include four eleven thousand dollar mobile health units, blankets, drugs, tools and machinery for reconstruction.

Mrs. Lillian Wadworth, Director of Care of Canada's Donor Headquarters, Ottawa, announced that $5000 worth of antibiotics and other drugs have been dispatched by air to be used by Chilean physicians in fighting the danger of typhoid fever and other diseases among the people made homeless by the disaster.

To hasten reconstruction, Care has made an initial allocation of 75 Cinva-Ram building block-making machines, together with picks, shovels and hammers. Additional equipment will also be shipped in from neighboring Care Missions in Latin American countries, as the need develops.

[illegible] Food Crusade packages for the victims will be flown in from time to time for emergency feeding programs. Donations for this Disaster Fund should be addressed to Care Chilean Relief, 116 O'Connor Street, Ottawa, Ontario.

Death Claims Village's Oldest Resident At Mannville

MANNVILLE. Mannville mourns with loving sorrow the passing on Monday, June 20th in local hospital of Mrs. Elizabeth Gardiner, the village's oldest resident, at the age of 96 years, 11 months and 19 days. She would have been 97 on July 1st. Mrs. Gardiner has enjoyed fairly good health until the past few weeks, and her friendly interest in all about her gained her a host of friends.

Born Elizabeth [illegible] on July 1st, 1863, in Dundee Scotland, she planned to be a missionary, but Dan Cupid had arranged for her to meet and marry James Gardiner, with whom she came to New York in 1903, and later in 1906, on April 13th, to Mannville where they lived until the following December when they moved to their Forest Hills homestead to become close neighbors with the R. E. Cains.

She was predeceased by her husband in 1937, and after one lonely year she left the farm and retired to Mannville village where she purchased a house and has lived ever since, until the past year when she became the guest of Mrs. Ed Symington. Her sight was failing her badly, in fact she was almost blind. Despite this fact she knit a pair of socks for every bazaar sponsored by the [illegible]. An ardent church worker in her day, she was also a faithful attendant, and was a member of the Ladies Aid and W. M. S.

A charter member of the Happy Centre W. I. she [illegible] all meetings possible. Her only living survivors are [illegible], Mrs. Bella Levay and Miss Margaret McKay of Brooklyn, New York. Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Thursday, June 23rd, in McQueen Memorial United church, Rev. Frank G. Andrews officiating.

Gophers, Sea Gulls Entertain Visitors

[illegible]. Visitors to the Vermilion Provincial park are intrigued by a friendly bush gopher and the sea gulls, which frequent the many eating places set up for the convenience of the public. [illegible] favorite fare of the gopher [illegible] named "Rusty" (being of a grey and rust color) is [illegible] which he finds quickly with the aid of a very keen sense of smell, and sitting upright holds the chip in his front feet and hastily eats every last crumb of it. When he feels thirsty after so much salt from the chips he varies his diet with dandelion greens served raw.

He is so tame that our small black dog does not scare him in the least, but then, she is tied to a tree so who would be scared? Tense with excitement the dog Mitzi strains on her leash without letting him look on [illegible] only to [illegible] any attention to her. Everyone [illegible] the busy admiring that [illegible] little rodent and [illegible] with amusement [illegible] others. Rusty adds [illegible] by advancing as close as he [illegible] from the dog and [illegible] up to observe just what [illegible] frantic female. Finally the bush gopher feels he has had plenty to eat and goes back to his woodland home while Mitzi watches his exit with interest as well as relief. . . oh well there's always next time!

The gulls attract the attention next as they wait for each picnic group to toss a few morsels their way. These snowy white sea gulls have become quite brave as the season rounds out and swoop down as soon as one throws food a safe distance away from people to retrieve it. One family of young hopefuls thought to make them come closer and so attached food to a small stake near the group but when we left, the gulls had not yet attempted to eat it. They make a pretty picture silhouetted against the sky and diving earthwards.

43 Entries in Fish Derby, Clandonald

The windy, rainy weather on Sunday, June 26 probably accounted for a rather small entry list of 43 fishermen in the Clandonald F[illegible] and Game Association derby at Moose Lake that day.

[illegible] were two prizes offered in each of three classifications, jack [illegible] and perch. The [illegible] skillful sportsmen were Mike Osinchuk and Larry [illegible], [illegible] the largest [illegible] second [illegible] jackfish for pickerel, Donald Good, Edmonton and John Forsyth for perch, Bill Specht and Tony Rennerberg.

Firemen attending the school held in Vermilion, gave citizens a real display of hose handling at the park lake on Wednesday last week. Every minute, the streams and pumpers shown above threw out 16 tons of water. The lake level wasn't affected either way as the [illegible] were pumping the water out while the hoses shot it back. An impromptu battle broke out between two Vermilion crews, who got thoroughly drenched. However, the Standard photog. thought discretion the better part of valor and did not get within camera (or hose) range. —Standard Staff Photograph

BUFFALO COULEE ACTIVITIES

Recent rains have made every one happy but we hope the hail storms striking many places unusually early in the season, are over.

SUCCESSFUL W.A. BAZAAR

The annual W.A. bazaar held on June 10 was a decided success with a perfect day, a good crowd and a complete sell-out of supplies. Baseball and softball for all ages was enjoyed with races being run off in the evening.

The central W.A. met in the church last Wednesday evening with the main items of business concerning the bazaar. Money raised from the venture this year was higher than for some time. A donation was made to Camp Whitney and plans were made for doing some work on the inside of the church. The W.A. also makes up the deficit in the M.M. allocation. Lunch was served by the Heatherbell group.

ACHIEVEMENT DAY

On the evening of Monday, June 13, most of the parents of the B.C. students taking Home Ec and Shop attended Achievement day in the Mannville gym. There was a marvellous display of work done by the boys. The girls put on an enjoyable fashion show, modelling the garments they had made during the year. A very large crowd attended.

Awards were given by the W.I. and Home & School of Mannville. [illegible] won the grade 9 award for B.C. and Alayne Stone for grade 10. [illegible] Cunningham was the runner-up in boys' work, placing 6th.

Lunch was served by the girls of the Home Ec class. [illegible] from Innisfree, Minburn, Mannville and Buffalo Coulee all take these classes at Mannville.

The Buffalo Coulee boys' hardball team lost the trophy which [illegible] won last year in inter-school play, being defeated in the final game by St. Martins of Vegreville.

MRS. GREEN PRESIDENT OF HOME & SCHOOL

The Home and School held their final meeting of the season on the 13th. Since the curling club was not sponsoring the [illegible] this year the H. & S. decided to take it over and have it at the community centre on June 30th with the usual full line of ball and sports and a booth on the grounds. New officers were elected for the coming year as follows: President, Mrs. Beryl Green; Vice-Pres., Mrs. Lilian Pheasey; Secretary, Mrs. Lois [illegible]; Program committee, Mary Arthur, Joe Betz, Ken Kennedy, with a teacher to be added; Membership, Mrs. Freda Staden; Social, Wyn and Carmen Kennedy.

Quite a number of B.C. people took in the Wainwright stampede.

STUDENTS IN RECITAL

[illegible] Haverstow, Diane and Colleen Kennedy, Helen Pheasey and Alayne Stone all took piano examinations in Vermilion last Saturday. They are all pupils of Mrs. Donna Eyben and took part in a recital held that evening in the Legion hall of all pupils of Mrs. Eyben. Others taking part in the recital from here were: Vernon Eyben, Lyla Eyben, Roddy Haverstow and George Pheasey. A very fine program was enjoyed with a great deal of credit going to Donna and her sister Mavis McCauley for their work with these young people. Lunch concluded the evening.

Visitors at the Stone home for the past two weeks have been Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rodgers and two children of Kelowna, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Eyben of Edmonton are visiting their families while on holidays, as well as Stew getting in a little work on his farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Eyben and family who now live in Edmonton were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eyben.

Miss [illegible] Barlow left by C.N.R. for Winnipeg on Saturday where she will spend the holidays with her sister Betty.

Lots of anxious faces around the school these days as grade niners are busy writing departmental exams. Grade ten students are all finished and are waiting for their results.

The grade 1 children got out of school on the 17th in order that the little ones who will be starting school in September might have a couple of weeks trying out what will be in store for them.

Rev. D. Powell will be holding a meeting in the church on Friday evening July 8 with a social hour following. Everyone is cordially invited.

Good Perch Fishing At Cairns Lake

No need to go travelling miles and miles for perch fishing for the simple reason that there are plenty of perch in Cairns' Lake, located just a half mile south of Preston school. Fishermen have yet to find this spot where the fat perch abound. The perch were planted in the lake, which is a deep little body of water, in 1956, by game officer George Senz. Taking a test on Monday George netted 14 perch in a half hour, indicating a goodly number awaiting the lure of fishermen.

Mrs. Bruce Bailey Dies At Lloyd.

Mrs. Bruce Bailey passed away at Lloydminster on June 23rd at the age of 44 years. She leaves to mourn her passing her sorrowing husband Bruce, one son George, her mother Mrs. Mary H. Moore, and her brother George Moore, all of Lloydminster.

Bruce Bailey and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bailey are well known in Vermilion, having been in business here prior to moving to Lloydminster. Mrs. Hardy Weer and David E. Brown are Mrs. E. H. Bailey's sister and brother.

Simon Woudstra had the misfortune to have his right arm broken in an accident with a team of horses on Saturday last.

New Store For Derwent; 24-Hour Telephone Service

DERWENT — Derwent is to have a new store, tenders for which are to be advertised at once according to an announcement by Ashley H. Cooper, MLA for the constituency. The new store is being erected by the Alberta Liquor Control Board and should be completed and in use two months after the tenders close on July 21st. Mr. Cooper expressed appreciation to the village council and the board of trade who have arranged for a house for the store manager, the gravelling of the lane to the new store and for the construction of a sidewalk. The vendor's store will be located just one door west of RCMP barracks.

MORE TELEPHONE SERVICE

Derwent subscribers will soon enjoy 24 hours of telephone service according to the M.L.A. The full time service will be effective as soon as staff is available at the exchange in Derwent. Mr. Cooper stated that recent efforts by the Derwent board of trade in securing extra telephone subscribers and in forming two new mutual telephone companies in the country had made Derwent eligible for full time service.

If Yer Knows of a Better 'Ole . . .

It may be just a hole in the head to some people, but to Mr. and Mrs. Wren, it is home, sweet home. Showing the ingenuity that characterizes the busy little wren, a pair chose the small hole in the top of the skull shown for a nesting site. The bizarre ornament was placed on a post by a couple of young west-enders as a warning to intruders, but this warning went unheeded by Jenny and husband as they set up housekeeping duties. Poppa wren usually sits on one of the horns but when this picture was taken simply kibitzed from the bushes nearby. —Standard Staff Photo

LITTLE HELPERS' RALLY

Under supervision of Mrs. Peter Laidler, the Little Helpers' secretary of the Anglican church, Mannville, the Little Helpers and their mothers gathered at the church on Friday, June 24 for a short service conducted by Rev. H. Shell. Following the service, the little ones, with the help of the rector and parents, played games and were ready for the lunch that was served at their conclusion. At the service the annual presentation of each mite box was made in the giant replica of same, which was made and given to the church by G.A. girls.

Mrs. Chris Hamilton has been visiting at the home of her daughter in Edmonton for the past two weeks.

Good news to report about the village secretary, George Pemberton, who is in an Edmonton hospital. He is greatly improved, so much so that Mrs. Pemberton was able to leave him and come home for the week-end.

Fire Chief Vic Humphries attended the recent fire fighters' training school held at Vermilion. There were representatives present from all over Alberta and one from the N.W.T.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Williams were son Alan and son-in-law Clifford Parker. Clifford planned to travel by plane to Victoria and join his family this week.

David Croft was an Edmonton visitor on Monday of this week.

Dr. and Mrs. Black called at the Dudley Croft home en route home from Winnipeg to Edmonton.

Mrs. R. Eldem and daughter Patricia spent a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Jones.

Norma and Harold Tardt spent the week-end at the parental home, the McLurkie's, after enjoying a holiday trip.

Friends of Bud Sunderland were happy to see him visiting around town on Monday, and renewing acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Osborn of Saskatoon were [illegible] visitors at the homes of both parents, Osborns and Gilberts.

Mrs. V. Sweezey's sister, Mrs. Younge, Mayfair, Sask., stopped over for a much enjoyed visit en route to Banff School of Fine Arts. Mrs. Younge is a school-teacher.

4-H Alumni Club At University

Former 4-H members attending the University of Alberta may belong to a 4-H Alumni Club on the campus. The purpose of the club, now entering its tenth year of organization, is to provide opportunities for those still interested in 4-H, to keep abreast of activities in the provinces and to express their views regarding the Alberta program in general. Meetings, discussions and social events are important phases of the club's activities.

A further project of the Alumni Club each year is the homecoming breakfast for the delegates to National 4-H Club Week. Last November the National delegates were greeted at the railway station by the Alumni members and entertained at a breakfast luncheon. Following breakfast each 4-H delegate spoke concerning highlights of the trip and of the educational value of a national award of this nature.

C. L. Usher, Provincial 4-H Supervisor, has spoken to the group on a number of occasions on new developments in 4-H and also on career opportunities in the fields of agriculture and home economics.

Fish and Game Assoc. Continue Bounty Payment

MANNVILLE. The Mannville Fish and Game announce their intention of continuing the annual crow and magpie campaign, with payment at the municipal office of five cents per pair of feet. A prize of $5 will be paid to the boy or girl bringing in the most feet.

The annual fish derby will also be held with $10 for biggest jack, $10 for biggest perch and $10 for largest pickerel to be caught in Alberta lakes. During the hunting season a prize of $10 will be offered for the largest duck shot. In order to be eligible, entrant must have a 1960 membership card by Aug. 1.

Vermilion W. I.

The June meeting of Vermilion W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Bell. Twelve members were present and two visitors, Mrs. J. Wallington and Mrs. J. Farkash. With the president Mrs. Bell in the chair, the meeting opened with O Canada, followed by the creed.

Minutes were read and approved and treasurer's report was accepted.

During the month thirteen get well and three sympathy cards were sent.

Members were pleased to note we received six red ribbons and four blue ones for our handicraft at the conference, but not enough to get the cup. It was decided to enter our handicraft in the fair, also a baby shower. Mrs. Green will attend to same.

Our district director, Mrs. Thorne, told of the need for towels for the Unitarian Committee. Our branch will send donation to help buy same. A motion was made to put our meeting dates on the Rotary calendar this year. Twenty four sick calls were made. Roll call was a short poem. Mystery box was won by Mrs. Wallington. After a lunch served by Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Wemp a social visit was enjoyed.

Would anyone who has W.I. crutches not in use kindly return them as there is a constant demand for same.

To Attend School Principals' Course

Mr. W. F. Stewart, Principal of the Vermilion Elementary school, is one of 70 school principals meeting at [illegible] College in Edmonton for two weeks beginning July 11 to study problems of educational leadership in local communities. His membership in this special leadership course for school principals, being conducted as a part of the University of Alberta Summer Session, is sponsored by the Vermilion School Board.

The Course is a cooperative venture of the Alberta School Trustees' Association, the Alberta Teachers' Association, the Alberta School Inspectors' Association, the Alberta Department of Education, and the Faculty of Education, University of Alberta. A grant from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation through the Canadian Education Association has been received to help finance the project.

Sixty-three city, country, divisional, and independent Alberta school systems will be represented. Representatives from the Saskatchewan Teachers' Federation, the Alberta Teachers' association and the Indian Affairs Branch of the Department of Citizenship and Immigration will also be in attendance.

Part of each day of the course will be devoted to work in groups set up on the basis of problems as outlined by members, based on their experiences in their own schools. These groups will focus their attention on varying phases of instructional leadership, appraisal, curriculum adjustment, research, in-service education of teachers, and supervision.

Rly. Modernization Continuing Process

WINNIPEG. -- Progressive modernization is injecting new life into the railways. The remark was made by J. R. McMillan, vice-president of CNR's western region, in an address to the annual convention of the Manitoba Bar Association.

The program of modernization, he said, was progressing as rapidly as possible and, in the process, many jobs were changing and many more becoming unnecessary.

Mr McMillan stated: "This is a matter of concern to us as it is to the employees. The simple fact of the matter is, however, that if we do not keep up to date and modernize our plant to meet present day requirements, shippers will not patronize our railway.

"I am convinced, too, that under such conditions, the level of railway employment would drop much quicker than under continual modernization."

BUILDING SELF-CONFIDENCE IN YOUR CHILD

Everyday competition among children is commonplace. It seems harmless enough, yet it can be dangerous — particularly when winning becomes the only measure for success. From their earliest years, children see the importance which adults place on winning or coming out on top. It is forgotten that for each winner there will be many losers — and losers are soon thought of as failures. Therefore, to please a parent, teacher, or some other adult, a child feels he has to be a winner. This is how fear of failure may begin. The pleasant and creative aspects of the activity are sacrificed in the struggle to win - to be a "success". The important inner satisfactions of accomplishment and doing one's best are lost. It's this attitude to competition that stands in the way of healthy growth and development.

Give Praise . . . Not Ridicule

Children and adults develop the strength to face failures through learning from past defeats and through confidence built up from earlier successes. When Johnnie gets a 'C' or 'D' in his report card, his very actions tell us that he knows, without being told, that he should have done better. Anger or sarcasm will not help. He wants and needs encouragement so he can do his best. One or two of his subjects are bound to be better than others. These call for praise. Feeling his parents confidence and trust gives him courage to face failures and mistakes. Perhaps he wasn't doing his best but he is more likely to admit this to himself and do something about it if he feels the encouragement of his parents' love and trust. Of course, along with encouragement, he needs to be shown better ways and methods of avoiding future mistakes. Also, most people wish they could have done better in some things when they were young. As parents, they obviously need to be careful that this feeling of personal failure doesn't color their attitudes too strongly towards their child's efforts.

Setting Realistic Sights

The fear of failure is really a fear of bringing disapproval from people whom we like and whom we want or need to please. It is also a fear of appearing foolish or awkward, which is damaging to self-esteem. Children need help in trying to meet their every day discouragements and disappointments with greater maturity. But we shouldn't expect too much from a child. A nine-year-old, for example, cannot be expected to have the same judgment as a 12 or 13-year-old. The older child has much more experience to draw from.

In a nutshell: Children need goals, but the goals must be reasonable. Setting sights too high leads to discouragement and failure.

Finally, adults need to appreciate the value of uniqueness and differences in children, as well as in adults. The human potentialities for growth and change seem limitless. If there is an atmosphere of love, encouragement and trust, children, and adults, when treated with dignity and respect, can find ways of solving their problems and facing disappointments and setbacks with a determination which will ultimately turn failure into success.

REMEMBER . . .

Confidence and success flourish in an atmosphere of love and affection. A child should feel that the love he receives does not depend on "success".

It's the attitude toward an activity that counts, not whether a child wins, or is best at it.

Sarcasm and ridicule destroy self respect. Give support and sympathy. Help him to understand that, in some things, others are more competent than he.

When he's very discouraged and things look hopeless, help him to see himself in a better light, reminding him of his own special achievements.

Provide plenty of opportunity for success. There are many games and activities which require a minimum of skill. They can assure a child of winning occasionally or at least getting recognition for his efforts. However parents shouldn't 'let' their child win. The child must earn praise. Children are quick to spot deceit which can only underscore their failure, e.g., "I'm so bad that dad thinks he has to let me win."

Talk about your own failures. This helps Junior to see that even in spite of them, Mom or Dad somehow came out O.K.

Finally, teach him through your own attitudes and behaviour. When parents take a reasonable attitude toward success and failure, it is likely their children will follow their example.

[illegible] WINS

(Held over from last week)

FARMERS' DAY CELEBRATED

Farmers' day has come and gone for another year, and long may it be celebrated. Many took advantage of it, attending picnics and going fishing.

Mr and Mrs. Lloyd Howard and family took the latter's mother Mrs. Coburn on the first part of her journey to the city on her way back to Vancouver and spent the day with Lloyd's parents, Mr and Mrs. Harry Howard.

The Preston Little Leaguers finished their schedule at the Auburndale Community centre on Farmers' day at the annual church picnic and banner. They won over Buffalo Coulee, thus having seven wins and one tie out of eight games. Good going boys.

Mr Bill Smith celebrated the day by purchasing a new car from George Webb and Sons.

It was nice seeing our friend Mr. Jack Veitch at the picnic, looking his old self again.

David Dibben is home from his work, having to spend some time in the hospital due to an injured back.

Mr and Mrs. Roy Gibson went to Edmonton last week and very kindly brought Mr. Hiram Hodgins home from the hospital. Nice to hear you are doing so well Mr. Hodgins.

The Preston 4-H Beef club held their Achievement day at the Gibson farm on Saturday. The boys and girls have done a fine job and have some very nice animals. Many thanks to Mr. Lyle Robinson and Keith Barr for coming and for the informative talks. It's certain the club will definitely benefit a great deal from the opinions voiced by these two gentlemen. A lot can be said for Mr. Holte, the club leader, for his efforts throughout the year.

Children are all busy writing exams, and the nice long holidays will soon be here.

Mr and Mrs. Ken Shepherd visited at the Crathers' home at the week-end.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Dick Dundy of Triangle on the birth of a daughter.

The Curling Club ball team played hosts to a team from Buffalo Coulee on Sunday.

HOME AND SCHOOL ELECT OFFICERS

The Home and School held their annual meeting on Monday. The new officers for the year are: President — [illegible]; Vice-Pres. — Floyd [illegible]; Secretary — Mrs. [illegible]; Treas. — Mrs. Roy Gibson. Program committee — Mrs. Arnold [illegible], Mrs. Bill Veitch, Mrs. Floyd [illegible] and Frank Gibson.

The Battleview people are busy getting their phone lines moved in preparation for the new dial system to be installed there.

Mr and Mrs. [illegible] and family of Lloydminster visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] and at the home of [illegible] mother [illegible] on Sunday.

TO HOLD CAMP FOR DIABETICS

The Charles Best camp, operated by the Edmonton and District Branch of the Canadian Diabetic Association, will be held at Lake Wabamun, from Aug. 21 to 31.

The camp provides summer camping for diabetic children between the ages of 6 to 16 years. During the term of the camp, the youngsters take part in outdoor activities, handicrafts and receive further instruction about diabetes.

To aid in the health of the children, the camp has a team of doctors and nurses on duty during the entire period of the camp. For guidance the children can rely on the host of camp directors, counsellors and individuals who are expert in handcrafts and swimming.

All diabetic children regardless of creed or race can attend, whether they are able to pay or not. The camp is operated on a fund through donations [illegible] who want diabetic children to lead normal and happy lives.

For further information, kindly contact Mrs. W. Harvey, Association Secretary, [illegible] Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta.

Leadership Studied At 4-H Conference

More than 100 club members attended this year's 4-H Youth Leadership Conference at the University of Manitoba. The four day conference opened on April [illegible] with [illegible] and discussions on leadership as highlights of the program.

During the first part of the conference the fourteen delegates to this year's National 4-H Club Week in Toronto and Ottawa, November [illegible] to 17th, were selected. The candidates were interviewed by a panel of judges and scored on knowledge of 4-H projects, maturity and leadership ability.

The remainder of the conference was devoted to addresses and group discussions on career opportunities, psychology, highway and farm safety, public speaking and tea-cup etiquette.

Special speakers at the conference were Dr. E. J. Tyler, Professor of Psychology, Brandon College and Mr. G. A. Kristjanson, Rural Sociologist, Manitoba Department of Agriculture.

PARADISE VALLEY NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence [illegible] and Dick of Minton, were down to attend the wedding of Gloria Elliott on Friday. They report all the former Paradise Valley people as doing well and all in good health.

Mr. and Mrs. Cloud James, Leonard and Wayne of Lashburn, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford James.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McLean went to Edmonton on Friday to attend the wedding of their cousin Miss Derbyshire, on Saturday, June 25th.

[illegible] and Barvey McLeod had the misfortune to lose their barn by fire the first of the week. It is not known if it was caused by the electric storm or not. It didn't break out until noon the next day following the storm, but no other explanation of the blaze can be given. Everything in the barn was lost including a calf. No insurance was carried.

Mr. Lloyd Knutson has returned home after his stay in the Lloydminster hospital where he underwent surgery. We hope he will be much improved in health.

The congregation which turned out to the service at the United church on Sunday, June 19, was rewarded by listening to a very fine and inspiring address by Mrs. C. Hartley of Vermilion. The many Christian principles brought forth gave much food for thought.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Henry went to Edmonton on Wednesday, returning the next day. Mrs. M. [illegible] accompanied them and visited her husband who is in the University hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Stanford spent the past week-end in Red Deer, returning on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Churchill spent the week-end in Red Deer, visiting their son Percy, who returned with them for a short holiday.

Prize Winning Essay Written by Sharon Dyck

The following essay, written by Sharon Dyck, grade six pupil in Mr. W. F. Stewart's room in the Vermilion Elementary School, was awarded first prize in the recent competition sponsored by the Alberta Safety Council.

CHEMICAL SAFETY

By Sharon Dyck

Chemical safety is very important. If chemicals are not properly used they can claim a person's life. Chemicals such as gasoline can be a help, but also a great hazard.

Two young children, a boy and a girl, were playing in the basement of their home with their wagon and toys when they found a bottle of gasoline. Since they had seen their father put gasoline in his car many times, they thought that they would try putting some gasoline in their wagon. While doing this, they got gasoline all over the basement floor, and when the furnace came on, the gasoline ignited. The children were so badly burned that they died within a few days.

This fatal accident could have easily been prevented if the gasoline had been kept out of reach of small children.

Many accidents have happened through carelessness. Chemicals can be very helpful if caution and common sense are used.

Explosives should, by all means, be treated with care.

Inflammable substances should be kept in a cool, metal lined cupboard. [illegible]

[illegible] so as not to [illegible] there in a fire. Inflammable articles ignite very quickly and much caution should be used.

This shows that precautions should be taken with the storage of chemicals in case of damage caused by fire. If there are small children in the family, extra precautions should be used where gasoline and other chemicals are involved.

The Bible Today

In the area of Malaya, Singapore and North Borneo the National Bible Society of Scotland reports that the circulation of Scriptures increased in 1959 to [illegible] Bibles, 7,[illegible] New Testaments and [illegible] portions.

That the Bible still speaks with power is illustrated by a story told by one of the Colporteurs, Mr. Tan Chin Hock who relates that a young acquaintance said to him, "While I was at school I saw you selling Bibles during the interval. I bought a copy of St. Luke's Gospel as I was studying that book for my Senior Cambridge examination. After passing the examination I just left the book lying about at home, and it happened that my father took it up and read it, and has become a Christian."

Another worker, Mr. Loh Chew Choo, [illegible] the [illegible] Christian [illegible] audio visual unit to several towns and villages in North Johore. Since then he has made several "follow-up" visits to homes of people who bought Scriptures. He writes: "The result was that 14 people follow the Bible's teaching, believe and be baptised."

A Salute to Alberta's Chinese Pioneers
NDRY

Based on John O. McHugh's description of May 24th Celebrations in Calgary's First Chinatown about 1901.

Behind their placid faces Alberta's Chinese pioneers hid a fierce desire to succeed in this new land. They had come to Canada with little but hope—to work as lowest class labourers on railway construction crews or to toil in the British Columbia gold fields. By the turn of the century they had gained a place in Alberta's economy as operators of restaurants and laundries.

Always shunned, sometimes feared and often scorned, they had but one bridge to cross the chasm which separated them from Alberta's occidental population: extreme patriotism for Canada and a child-like love of demonstrating that loyalty with noisy, exuberant fireworks displays on such occasions as the Queen's birthday.

It was enough: today Alberta's Chinese are regarded as respected members of the community, gifted in the art of cuisine, conscientious in matters of civic welfare, and hospitable in sharing the Oriental glamour of the "Chinatowns" with their white neighbors. The color woven into the tapestry of Alberta's development by its Chinese pioneers is proudly recognized by another Alberta pioneer.

FAMILY REUNION

A family reunion was held at the home of Mr and Mrs. Robert MacMillan on Wednesday, June 22, for the Burnett [illegible] eight members were together for the first time since [illegible]. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. L. C Burnett, E. G. [illegible] and Mrs. Con Strong, all of Lethbridge; M. O [illegible] and Mrs. Wayne Arthur of Kamloops; Mrs. Earl Mills and Mrs. Gerald Gillette of Ossoway. Also, [illegible] a cousin, Miss Lois [illegible] of [illegible], Calif., who was enjoying her first visit to Canada. Another guest was David Mackie of [illegible] who was visiting his [illegible] for a few days. Wednesday being the birthday of two members of the company it was celebrated by a family dinner climaxed by a beautifully decorated birthday cake and a happy birthday sing song.

A heavy rain and hail storm swept over the district last Thursday and flooded all the low places in the fields and gardens.

The hail was small so did little damage. We needed the rain [illegible] now our crops and gardens should soon perk up and make a good showing.

Frost in this area did some damage last Wednesday and Thursday evenings and potato patches and tender plants were blackened. The spuds may come on again but tomatoes, cukes and beans will have to be replanted.

Mr and Mrs Stewart Barr were visiting the MacMillan family and Burnett family Thursday afternoon and evening.

Miss Leva Miller spent Friday evening visiting Mr and Mrs. Robert MacMillan.

Orest Woywitka was a lucky young man when he won the $40 prize at the Vermilion Drive In theatre last week-end.

Canadian Legion Sponsors Carnival

MANNVILLE — The summer carnival sponsored by the Canadian Legion B.E.S.L. and the Ladies' Auxiliary drew a good attendance.

Alan Emmett won the "Stake a Claim" contest, and Robert White was the lucky ticket holder in the draw for a Cola cooler.

There were many other games of chance, including bingo, and lunch was served from the as yet, incomplete, but nevertheless, handy kitchen.

Beginners of Next Fall Attend School

MANNVILLE — Instead of being left behind by the bigger brothers and sisters as per usual, children who will begin school next September were taken by big sis or brother or parents for a two-day session recently.

All cleaned up, dressed up, and with a blanket under the arm, the little tots started off some with confidence and others with certain qualms. The blankets were for use at "nap" time when the little ones were under the kindly supervision of the grade one teachers, Mrs. Doris [illegible] and Mrs. [illegible] Brown.

Plans Underway For Mannville Sports July 1st

MANNVILLE — Mannville's 50th annual July 1st sports promises to provide fine entertainment for both young and old. Work has been going on to improve the grounds for convenience and comfort of the patrons. Entries for football and baby baseball are coming in slowly but still more can be accommodated. Top-notch teams are expected from near and far to provide the calibre of ball you like to see.

Bingo, refreshment booths and a chip stand will be on the grounds and a dance will be held in the evening to bring the gala day to a close. [illegible] orchestra will be in attendance.

A 15 cubic foot freezer will be given away to some lucky ticket holder who can answer a simple question about Mannville. Get your tickets now.

Gerry Malin Wins Special Prize

MANNVILLE — [illegible] on youth on [illegible] morning, [illegible] as members of the [illegible] Junior Auxiliary and [illegible] Auxiliary marched to their places to the strains of the processional hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers" in full uniform. Members of the Sunday school were likewise present to receive awards for [illegible] [illegible], etc.

Gerry Malin won the [illegible] prize from the General [illegible] of Religious Education for attaining the highest marks in the Diocese. This is Gerry's third consecutive win. Winners of other awards in the Sunday school were Heather Morrison (who won a special prize also for her good work), Suzanne Coulton, Daphne Hughes, Lorne Coulton, Ronnie Malin and Jimmy [illegible] for religious education at school (from the rector).

Outstanding Program Set For Official Park Opening Sunday

Wayne Isley Drowns In Vermilion Lake

Wayne Isley, aged 20 years, drowned in Vermilion [illegible] approximately 6 15 o'clock Tuesday evening. The body was recovered within fifteen minutes but life was extinct. Artificial [illegible] and mouth resuscitation were tried but to no avail.

Wayne was the only son of Mr and Mrs. [illegible] Isley who farm south of Vermilion.

It appears that Wayne along with two companions, Jim Noble and Orest Gordichuk, had gone to the lake just at the supper hour. The three had walked out to the end of the swimmers' pier and Isley had jumped into the water. He swam a few yards away from the pier, at the same time joking with the boys on the pier. According to Noble and Gordichuk, he seemed to get an unexpected mouthful of water and opened his mouth again as if to shout, just as he went under. He never did resurface. Noble although not an accomplished swimmer, jumped in and went to the spot where his friend disappeared but could not locate him. As fate would have it, while there were many people at the lake all had left the beach area for the supper hour. Shouts of the boys brought help and the Red Cross boat was quickly on the scene. Three divers, Pat Wilson, Elliott Urquhart and a tourist from Ontario searched for Wayne and finally the latter located the young man and with help hoisted him into the boat. On the pier Dr. King and Mac Fenton, swimming instructor, worked ceaselessly to start him breathing without success. He appeared to have swallowed an abnormal quantity of water.

The swimming area is left unguarded for but a scant half hour at supper time, during which Mr Fenton has his supper, returning immediately after to the lifeguard stand on the pier. The tragedy occurred during this short period and just twenty feet to the west side of the pier.

Elmer Wayne Isley was born in Vermilion. He spent four years working in B.C. but has been home for the past seven months recuperating from serious injuries received in a car accident. In this accident he received a broken neck and multiple injuries. He spent months in a cast and it was only recently that he had felt his normal self.

Besides his parents he leaves five sisters, Florence (Mrs. Annas) at Hanna, Jocelynne, Marilynne, Shelley and Penny at home.

The funeral services will be held Friday, July 8 at 2 o'clock, at St. Saviour's Anglican church, Vermilion. The Rev H Brown of Wainwright will officiate.

The tragedy cast a pall of sorrow over town and country, and the parents and family have the heartfelt sympathy of all in their sudden bereavement.

Blood Donors Exceed Objective

The objective of 300 at the blood donor clinic on Tuesday was exceeded by 22, thanks to the fine organizational work carried out by the Legion.

The 322 donors represented an increase of fifty per cent over the previous clinic held in November, 1958. On that occasion there were 218, so the increase of 104 to [illegible] a notable and laudable one.

Mr L. J Doucette, Business Administrator, Blood Transfusion Service, Canadian Red Cross, in a telephone message to the Standard on Wednesday morning, expressed his unbounded thanks and appreciation for the exceptional response and stated that henceforth Vermilion would be regarded as the anchor clinic for July. July is normally a very low month at blood donor clinics and the fact that Vermilion was able to have such a successful clinic is a cause for great satisfaction.

Hole-in-One At Vermilion Golf Course

Dr C. W. Stephens and his son-in-law, Paul Wacko, went for a round of golf on Sunday, July 3rd. Dr Stephens, a good host, carried hospitality to an amazingly high standard when he stood by as a witness at the 7th hole while the young guest made the perfect shot [illegible] off the tee that put the ball right into the cup [illegible] to realize the golfer's dream, a hole-in-one, and with a very creditable witness to complete the perfection of it all.

Bus Depot Now At Brunswick Hotel

A second change has been made in the Greyhound bus depot and this is now located at the Brunswick Hotel. [illegible] the [illegible] on the south side [illegible]

Representations were made to the Greyhound Company asking that a more central location be chosen with the ultimate choice being the Brunswick Hotel. The change was effective July 4th.

Excellent service will be given to passengers and the package express handled efficiently as usual.

Dan C. Campbell, Director of Alberta Travel Bureau To Officiate; Entertainment by Len McDonald and the Saddle Tramps; Water Safety Demonstration; Horseshoe Tourney; Films At Night

All that is needed to insure that Sunday, July 10th will be the biggest day in the history of the Vermilion Provincial Park is another day like any from [illegible] Thursday. In other words the program arranged is an excellent one, and all that is required is a fine day as the setting for a record-breaking crowd and good time.

Travel Bureau Director To Officiate

To begin the arranged part of the program, Dan C. Campbell, Alberta Travel Bureau director, will speak and declare the park officially opened for the pleasures of all peoples, for the summer season. Mr Campbell will be introduced by Ashley Cooper, M.L.A. while Cliff McCormick, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce who is in charge of arrangements for the day will also have some remarks as well.

LEN McDONALD IS COMING BACK

One of the most popular troupes ever to appear at the park, Len McDonald and his Saddle Tramps of radio and concert fame are coming from Edmonton, and will give a two-hour program. They are sure to attract an overflow crowd, as they did last year. People are still talking of the way they enjoyed Len and his group, his entertainers are ever welcome visitors. This concert is sponsored by the Vermilion Rotary Club.

WATER SAFETY DEMONSTRATION

Immediately following the concert the Red Cross will stage a short demonstration of water safety, out from the swimmers' pier.

FILMS IN EVENING

A good program of films will commence at 8:30 p.m., also in the band shell.

FISHING . . . SWIMMING . . . BOATING . . . PICNICKING

No matter what you like doing the Vermilion Park offers you facilities for enjoyment. There is a lovely sandy beach, a well-equipped playground for children, bathing houses, boating and handy boat pier, horseshoe pitches. Hundreds of lovely picnic spots, camp kitchens, and scores of camp tables and [illegible] some in secluded places, others overlooking the busy beach. Fishing just below the spillway is grand, with good casting from the high banks. The facilities and conveniences you find at the Vermilion park beach are not surpassed anywhere you go.

C. of C. Holiday To September

Following the meeting of last Wednesday the regular weekly dinner meetings of the Chamber of Commerce were cancelled until Wednesday, Sept. 7. Regular meetings will be held however by the executive and it is within the power of President Angus MacMillan to call a general meeting if circumstances warrant.

F. U. A. Officials At Vermilion Convention

Vermilion Man Loses, Recovers $600.00 In City

George Martin of Vermilion passing through the city on his way to England lost more than $600 in travellers cheques Wednesday night but police later recovered them and made an arrest.

Martin told the city police he arrived in the city by bus at 5:30 p. m. and checked into a downtown hotel. He found the cheques missing shortly after 8 p.m. Following investigations police arrested a suspect.

The man arrested was to appear in police court Wednesday before Magistrate F. W Barclay on a charge of theft.

It is believed the cheques may have been taken from Martin while he was in the bus depot.

Kinsmen Donate $1000 to Agricultural-Recreation Centre

It's another $1000.00 donation for the proposed Agricultural-Recreation centre, and this time it is the Vermilion Kinsmen making the presentation. President Art Morgan of the Kinsmen is shown on the left presenting the very acceptable donation to Charles Hackett, secretary of the special committee set up to forward plans for the new building. This $1,000.00 now brings the money on hand to a grand total of $189,000.00. —A Standard Staff Photo

"HAVE YOU CONSIDERED WHAT INDUSTRY CAN DO FOR YOUR COMMUNITY?"

How many young people in this community will be leaving high school this year?

This and many other important questions are raised in Calgary Power Ltd.'s new Industrial Development pamphlet "What Industry Can Do For Your Community." The pamphlet goes on to ask, "Will the young people find jobs in their own community?", "Will they find jobs in Alberta?", or "Will they have to leave the Province to find work?" It also points out that it may take from $10,000 to $100,000 in capital investment to create one job. It asks Alberta communities to consider whether they can supply the necessary required capital to provide employment for their young people. With approximately 8,000 students leaving high schools this year this is an interesting thought-provoking question.

The Calgary Power Ltd pamphlet then continues by outlining some important points to remember in attracting industry to a community and the advantages from an industry employing twenty persons. Finally it produces in chart form how the average farmer and industrial worker distributes his retail spending. Calgary Power Ltd. hopes that this chart will help Chambers of Commerce and other groups interested in industrial development work. A well-known Albertan after reading "What Industry Can Do For Your Community" remarked "The retailer in Alberta has been fortunate to have had good farmers in his area. Let's hope he will now help to bring in industry to provide jobs for the community" and thereby increase his sales.

WHY DROWN?

A new technique developed within the past 25 years can prevent death in the water. It is called Drownproofing and is aimed at freeing the potential drowning victim from panic and exhaustion, the principal causes of drowning.

The July Reader's Digest reports that the theory behind Drownproofing is that muscle and bone sink; fat and air float. The proportions of each in the human body are such that, with lungs fully inflated 98 out of 100 men and practically all women will float against the surface of the water if they don't try to hold their heads up.

In Drownproofing there are two strokes — one to stay afloat, one to get to shore without tiring. In the stay afloat stroke, you hang relaxed in a near-vertical position in the water, letting your head dangle, face down. Every few seconds you raise your head for a change of air. The other stroke, the "travel stroke", will enable you to travel at least a mile without fatigue. Both strokes are described fully in the July issue of the Digest.

With practice, anyone over the age of four can learn the technique with ease. Advanced age and poor physical condition are no obstacle.

"IN-A-HURRY" DRIVER IS CAMPAIGN TARGET

The motorist who risks his own safety and the safety of others trying to make time in traffic will be hit by safety groups all over North America this summer. This familiar road nuisance is the target for the continent-wide "Slow Down and Live" campaign, sponsored in Canada by the Canadian Highway Safety Council during July and August.

Provincial and state organizations in Canada, the United States and Puerto Rico, guided by the Association of State and Provincial Safety Co-ordinators, plan an all-out campaign to bring back to highway travel some of the fun and pleasure it once had. One of the ways to do it, they believe, is the elimination of the motorist who calls on every wile he knows to get where he is going as fast as he can, regardless of the rights or safety of others. This driver's selfishness can result in anything from ruffled tempers to death in traffic, the Council warns.

Participation in the annual "Slow Down and Live" campaign was promised by federal, provincial and municipal governments and police and by industry, service and fraternal organizations, women's groups and many more. They will use the drive's 1960 slogan: "Highway Safety Can Make Driving Fun!"

Suggestions Invited For Name Of Senior Citizens Lodge At Vermilion

Suggestions are invited for names for the Senior Citizens' lodge which will soon be opened in Vermilion. Names should be forwarded to Mr A. R. Kay of Kitscoty and the person submitting the name selected will be awarded a $10 prize.

Many people have very excellent imaginations along this line and the board of management expect they will have a good list from which to make a selection. 3-3

A herd of twenty Holstein cows has been placed on the demonstration farm here by the government.

Rain fell continuously all day Monday July 1, and sports all over the country were postponed.

An extra teacher will be added to the staff here after the holidays, bringing the number of teachers up to five.

Vermilion will hold a big sports day on July 12th.

Law Bros.' new garage and tinshop on Main street is now completed.

RIVERTON

The weekly home nursing course was held last Wednesday night with 21 ladies present, the lesson being on bed making, temperature reading, pulse beat and respiration.

Mr Verne Sinclair and Mr. Jack Hansen were in attendance at the F.U.A. convention held at Vermilion last Thursday.

Two ladies in the district had their gardens badly damaged by hail last Monday.

Lorne Timanson is now home after being away all winter and spring.

Jean and Dianne Clark are home visiting Mrs. Durnin. Pamela Hyatt is visiting Linda Hyatt, while Jane Hyatt is away in Lloydminster visiting Patsy Hyatt.

Mr and Mrs. David Wood are in the district visiting relatives and friends.

Janet Vivian went to Edmonton for a few days to be with her mother.

GREEN ACRES

By: H. MORLEY DOUGLAS,
District Agriculturist, and
EDWARD DOBKO, Assistant D.A.

The North Eastern Artificial Breeding Association was formed in March and [illegible] operations in April [illegible]. Some 1970 cows were signed up by [illegible] here and to date [illegible] cows have been bred. This is an opportunity for dairy men, cream shippers and small farmers to improve their herds beyond imagination.

The North Eastern Artificial Breeding Association needs your patronage because they will receive a grant of $1.50 for every cow served. The more cows bred this year will improve the chances of a better service fee in the future.

TREE PLANTER

M.D. 71 [illegible] River has purchased a tree planter for 1960 planting. A similar planter was planting from two to three thousand trees an hour on a ½ mile run this spring in a neighboring M.D. The tree planter can be used equally well to plant farmstead field or roadside shelter belts. Seedlings are planted so firmly that it is impossible to pull them which means a much better chance of tree survival. So plan now for 1961 tree planting. When ordering your trees from the Province of Alberta remember to reserve the tree planter.

4-H DAIRY CLUBS

Is there enough interest in the community to form a 4-H Dairy Club? Do you know there isn't an Alberta 4-H Dairy Club east of Vegreville or Smoky? Does this mean there are no cows milked in northeastern Alberta? Hardly. When the A.I. Association was organized in this area last spring about 45 per cent of the [illegible] cows signed up were dairy. A 4-H Dairy Club demands a high standard of performance but surely some community in northeastern Alberta needs one.

LIVESTOCK LEASING

Alberta's Farm Management Specialist, C. H. Ferris, says that the best livestock leasing arrangement is the one where both parties set down their contributions to the enterprise and work out a division of proceeds accordingly. Probably the most popular leasing agreement is the cow-calf or lamb-ewe [illegible] ment in which the crop is [illegible] at weaning time on a fifty [illegible] basis. The division of proceeds is affected by feed or [illegible] preciation, tenants' fixed costs, operating expenses, pest and predator control and fixed costs such as land, building, fences, etc.

SEWAGE DISPOSAL FIELD DAY

A Sewage Disposal Field Day will be held at George Broadfoot's nine miles north of Clandonald at 1 p.m. July 14th. The trenches will be dug, septic tank forms put in and the concrete poured. Mr Alex Fehr, Agricultural Engineer, laid out this disposal system and will be on hand to answer questions.

YOUR CLOTHING SENSE

If you wish to appear well dressed you must study your own personality, figure and coloring.

Simplicity in dress is a very important factor in gaining smartness and individuality. Whenever purchasing or making clothes, always keep in mind what you have in order that all pieces go together. Economical yet wise is planning a wardrobe consisting of one basic color. For clothes or accessories, choose quality not quantity.

COLORS

A general principle that applies, is the larger the area the duller the color should be. In other words choose a dull color for a basic suit or dress and brighten it up with accessories. Older women should avoid wearing harsh, intense colors as bright blue or orange, as bright colors have a tendency to harden an older woman's face.

FABRICS

A general principle here is to have one third area decorated and two thirds plain, since the eye has a tendency to always look for a resting spot. If a patterned dress is worn accessories should be plain in color. Printed designs should be chosen in porportion to figure. Tall figures can carry large designs. Short persons are usually more suitably dressed in fabrics with smaller designs.

SHORT FIGURES

These persons should choose clothes with lines for height. An outfit of one color will add height. Princess style dresses and skirts with gores are usually wise choices.

TALL FIGURES

Select dresses or jackets with large lapels. Wear the picture hats if you like them. Large [illegible], wide belts, and longer gloves are for you.

ACCESSORIES

These are used to complete an outfit. [illegible] jewelry don't wear any. Simplicity [illegible] effect. Remember that glasses are jewelry. If using metal jewelry it is better not to mix metals. One color in accessories should not be repeated more than three times.

Writer Maintains Alberta's Camps Are The Best

When comparisons are made of Alberta's tourist facilities with [illegible] and the comments are not favorable, it might be worthwhile [illegible] to quote the following letter-to-[illegible]

"In the Journal, [illegible] there was an article on Alberta's camp grounds. A bouquet should go to our government for these. Not long ago I took an extensive trip to the eastern States and Canada, visiting 17 States and seven provinces. In most places camping facilities as we know them in Alberta were practically non-existent. One state had a few [illegible], another had a beautiful place for camping with kitchens and all but they had a few restrictions: no camping allowed. Also one place charged a dollar for camping overnight and didn't even supply water. Our camping trip became fairly expensive in motels and hotels. The camp grounds in Alberta are not 'among the best', they are 'the best'."

Summer, the season which sets Canadian women to planning bare-backed vacations-in-the-sun and brings lusty tans to winter-whitened limbs, spells care-free comfort for this mother and daughter in their cool, matching dresses. Sleeveless, full-skirted and easy to care for due to the fabric's wash-and-wear properties, the dresses are hand made from 100 per cent "Terylene" batiste handkerchief print available by the yard in stores across Canada. Fabric by Bruck Mills and pattern by "Simplicity."

Kitscoty United Church Setting For Pretty Summer Wedding

Baskets of white and salmon gladioli made a pretty setting in Kitscoty United church on May 21st when Miss Marion Gordon Inglis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Inglis of Kitcoty and Mr. Kenneth John Atkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Atkinson of Lashburn, Sask., were united in marriage. Rev. James Shortt officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in her floor-length gown of white brocade styled with a fitted bodice, scoop neckline and lily-point sleeves. A drape of white peau de soie caught at the side by rosettes of the same material accented the bell-shaped skirt. Her double-tiered veil of silk illusion fell from a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a crescent bouquet of Talisman roses with short streamers of shaded ribbon.

Attending the bride were Miss Kaye Shaplin of Edmonton and Miss Nancy Hooper of Wainwright, wearing identical sheaths in a tangerine shade with matching overskirt of organza. Their picture hats were draped with the organza and trimmed with the brocade. Their flowers were colonial bouquets of white mums.

The best man was Mr. Richard Atkinson, and the usher, Mr Donald Atkinson, both brothers of the groom.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. E. Batty and the soloist was Mrs. George Bootsman.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Inglis chose a two-piece dress of light blue lace with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother wore a dress of beige organza over printed taffeta with beige accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

At a reception in Tracy Memorial hall the toast to the bride was proposed by Mrs. F. O. Seward. Mrs. Milo Quinn was in charge of the guest book.

In the evening open house was held at the home of the bride's parents.

For a wedding trip through the western states to the Pacific coast the bride donned a pure silk brown and beige suit. Her accessories were beige and yellow, and her corsage was of yellow roses.

The happy couple are making their home in Edmonton.

Out-of-town guests were present from Glencoe, Ont.; Vancouver, B.C.; Calgary, Red Deer, Lacombe, Edmonton, Westlock, Minburn, Marwayne, Lloydminster and Lashburn.

Mannville's Dominion Day Sports Terminated Early By Rain

MANNVILLE. — Mannville's 56th Dominion Day celebrations got off to a fine start with hot weather prevailing. There were 15 men's fastball teams entered in the ball tournament, 2 ladies' fastball teams, six in the Pony League and three in the high school entries. An estimated crowd of nearly 1800 passed through the gates, and most of them before two o'clock. The refreshment booths were most popular.

Bingo had just nicely begun when the rains came, not before Leslie Ann Kreller was the first young girl to win at bingo, however. The races for the kiddies were also run off before the storm broke. Harry Allen and Peter Grabas were the officials in charge of the children's races.

The finals of the men's fast ball tournament were rained out so the prize money was split among the four top teams. Jack Conford was manager in charge of the fastball.

The two ladies' fastball teams played off to give Premier Steel first money, with Mannville second. W.A.F. Ross was in charge of this section.

Finals of the Pony League baseball were called on account of rain, so it was decided to split the prize money three ways between Vermilion, Vegreville and Mannville. This section of the sports was under the supervision of Fred Fr[illegible].

The boys' high school baseball went to the finals, with only three entries. Vermilion and Myrnam shared the prize money. Nestor Bohaichuk was in charge.

The sports day was concluded with a dance in the Orange hall.

Record Crowd At Lea Park Rodeo

George Taylor and his trained Brahma bull provided a highlight of entertainment at the Lea Park rodeo held on Friday and Saturday, June 17 and 18.

The Canadian Legion Jubilee Park at Lea Park was the locale of the two day rodeo, at which the program was arranged by the livestock contractors Harry Vold and Bob Sidener. There was good attendance both days, but Saturday's crowd was the largest ever recorded for a single day at the Lea Park rodeo.

Special prizes were donated by A. T. Hines of Marwayne, and Commission Agents in Saskatoon.

The Marwayne Branch of the Canadian Legion who sponsored the rodeo were gratified with the interest shown in the two-day event, and with support given them.

Wildmere Winks

The Preston Central annual school picnic on the last day of school was a huge success. All the parents joined in the games which are looked forward to with great eagerness by the children each year. Mr. and Mrs. Holte looked after the booth for the Home & School Association.

On Wednesday after a crew of men had prepared the picnic grounds and Lloyd Howard was detaching his mower, the jack slipped and crushed his hand, necessitating several stitches to close the wound.

[illegible] visited at his uncle Waldon Westman's farm, coming back after Waldon had attended the funeral of his [illegible] on Tuesday.

Mr and Mrs. Bert Frissell of Wainwright stopped at the Fadden home on their way to Grande Prairie to attend the wedding of their niece Carol Frissell (daughter of Mr and Mrs. Bill Frissell, formerly of Battleview).

Alan Ford of Edmonton came to spend the first part of his holidays at the Gibson home.

Work was being done Monday and Tuesday on the telephone line. Two new members have been added, Steele and Ruzol, while three have gone off, Art Lyman, Glen Berkman, Walters.

It was nice to see Mrs. Geo. Symes in town on Monday looking so well.

Mr and Mrs. Floyd Sweet, teachers at Preston Central, have gone to Edmonton to attend summer school sessions.

Remember the Curling Club picnic at Cruthers grounds on Sunday, the 17th and the dance at the community centre at night. Everybody welcome.

DERWENT THEATRE

Ends Five Years in Offices

When Rotarian Reg Mitchell, retiring secretary-treasurer handed over the books to incoming secretary Ken Greenwood on Friday, it marked the culmination of five continuous years in office for Reg. For the first two years of the club's existence in Vermilion, Reg was the president, the third year he was a member of the executive as past president, at the end of which he was elected secretary-treasurer, an office which he capably filled until Friday, the end of the Rotary year. As will be noted by his name badge, Reg has perfect attendance for the Vermilion club five years without missing a meeting. Ken has a good record also never having missed a meeting since joining the club four years ago.

DREAMING . . . ?

Apparently both the president-elect, Elmore Stewart on the left and outgoing president Ross Boake, right, were dreaming dreams as Ross officially presented the Rotary Club gavel to Stew at the meeting on Friday thereby designating Stew as the president of the club for the ensuing year. Ross is no doubt dreaming of the relaxed time he has in front of him, but with Stew maybe it's a case of 'where innocence is bliss . . .'

The Bible Today

Dr. A. M. Chirgwin tells the story of how Mr. J. A. Clarke, translator of the New Testament into Luba Katanga, hit on the word to use in translating "faith". One day when on a journey through wild and mountainous country Mr. Clarke called a halt about midday when the sun was hot. While resting in the shade one of the porters picked up a stone and sent it ricochetting down the mountainside into the ravine below. After some seconds the silence was broken by a [illegible] splashing sound from the depths of the river below, followed by a fainter sound or echo. Just as the echo was dying away the porter turned and said with a smile, "Twi tabila [illegible]" [illegible] the rocks send back the sound.

[illegible] was a word was captured for the service of the Gospel. [illegible] was henceforth used to translate faith [illegible] from the [illegible] human hearts [illegible] in other words, man's response to God's offer of salvation.

Double-Header Baseball At Lloydminster This Sunday

The Western Canada Baseball league is putting on some high class ball. The double-header scheduled for Sunday afternoon, July 10, should be no exception and will show some snappy action of a high quality between Saskatoon and Lloydminster.

The ball played in this league is good enough to enable some of the players to graduate to the major American leagues, and a few of the present players have seen action in the big time.

There are four other teams entered and all are running neck and neck. Lethbridge takes the lead over Calgary by a mere half a game. Lloydminster and Saskatoon are a [illegible] apart, with Lloydminster [illegible] and a half games behind the league leaders. Approximately a third of the season's games have been played off.

Lloydminster is promoting Vermilion interest in the games this Sunday with an invitation to the Vermilion Little Leaguers to turn up in uniform and thereby gain free admission.

An added attraction is a set of free tickets to the next game given to the largest family in attendance at the double-header on Sunday.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of a dear husband and father who passed away July 12, 1957.

IVAR S. LARSEN

"God saw in the pasture one evening,
One too weary to roam
So He lifted him out of his suffering
And carried him gently home.
Though on life's pathway the shadows fall
And though the light grows dim,
We know that God is over all
And we can trust in Him;
And trusting Him, we can say,
Whatever be Thy will
Knowing that through each [illegible] way
His great love shineth still.
Peacefully sleeping, resting at last
The world's weary troubles and trials are past."

Ever remembered by his loving wife and family

Deputy Fire Chief Commissioner Addresses Chamber of Commerce

On the occasion of the recent School of Training for Alberta fire brigade chiefs and officials which had a five-day curriculum at the Vermilion school of agriculture, Mr. Wm. MacKay, assistant fire commissioner for the province of Alberta was the guest speaker at a dinner meeting of the Vermilion Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber listened to a very interesting address by Mr MacKay who outlined the objectives of the Fire Chief Schools. Following the dinner meeting Mr. MacKay outlined the curriculum of the five-day school and pointed out highlights of the sessions to members of the Vermilion brigade. From left to right in the picture are Russell Carroll, Roger Rowe and Fire Chief Ken Urquhart, Mr MacKay, and Angus MacMillan, president of Vermilion Chamber of Commerce.

200 Pupils Report Daily For Swim Lessons at Park Lake

The 1960 Vermilion swimming program got off to a good start on July 4th with approximately two hundred children and adults reporting daily for instruction. The classes are under the supervision of Mac Fenton, swim director of the Vermilion Provincial park, with instruction given by Ruth Stewart, Scott Blackburn, Jack Keating and Murray Ross.

The two weeks' swimming course is divided into classes as follows: Beginners boys at 10 a.m. Intermediate boys, 10 a.m. Beginner girls, 10:30 a.m. Adult women, 10:30 a.m. (all performance levels). Mino boys and girls (a course designed to acquaint the smaller children with the water) 11 a.m.; Tad [illegible] and girls, 11:30 (similar course to Minos). Juniors, 1:30 p.m., Seniors, 2 p.m. Bronze, 2:30 p.m. Diving, 4 p.m., Men's classes (all levels of performance) 7 p.m., Tuesday and Thursdays.

Swimming, and a knowledge of water safety rules is a primary need for anyone, young or old, who will ever be bathing, boating or fishing. It's not too late to join a suitable swim class now. Phone 187 to make the necessary arrangements. If there are any questions as to time of classes or one's eligibility to join, just phone the above number for information.

A lifeguard service is in effect at the lakefront from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, and from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. each week day, and from 11 a.m. until 8 p.m. on Sundays, for the safety of swimmers.

A special class for the children attending the Alliance Vacation Bible school takes place each afternoon at 3:30 p.m.

A water carnival is to be held on Sunday, July 17. Mac Fenton and his staff are in charge of the program. It will include water safety demonstrations, diving exhibitions and boating [illegible].

Any group interested in a water safety demonstration may make arrangements for same by phoning the swim director, 187.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Summer driving affords a lot of pleasures — and a few problems as well. Fortunately the most common complaints of the tourist season have easy cures.

(1) Bugs in the radiator: Place the water hose under the hood and squirt water outward through the radiator apertures. Be careful not to wet the motor or the wiring.

(2) Upholstery fading: Vent-shades over the side windows cut down the direct rays of the sun.

(3) Boiling radiator: Preventive medicine advised here. Have the radiator flushed and cooling system conditioner added. Have fan belt checked for proper tension.

(4) Breathing dust: Keep car floor mats well brushed, for dust on the floor is usually the culprit. It's circulated to your nostrils by the air vents.

(5) Hot seat: Special wicker backrests allow air to circulate behind the driver or passenger, help make the whole body feel cooler.

(6) Accumulated dirt on the engine: Caused by excessive dirt-road driving. Steam-cleaning the engine is the most effective remedy.

ORGANIC MATTER THE LIFE-BLOOD OF THE SOIL

Probably the least appreciated component of our prairie soils is the organic matter or humus content. This is no doubt due to the fact that, initially, most of our prairie soils were fairly well supplied with this material. The organic matter which was present in the virgin soils of Western Canada, accumulated over the centuries through the [illegible] of dead plant and animal material. Each day we have [illegible] and used up some of this [illegible] and we have not given enough attention to cultural practices which would maintain the supply. Furthermore, we have failed to realize the tremendous loss of organic matter that has occurred through wind and water erosion.

Organic Matter Vital. Let's face facts. Without organic matter we can produce satisfactory crops. [illegible] the life-blood of [illegible] does it do? Very [illegible] (1) Improves soil structure or tilth. (2) Helps prevent wind and water erosion. (3) Supplies nutrients to plants. (4) Absorbs heat from the sun and "warms up" the soil more quickly in the spring. (5) Changes certain chemical elements in the soil from an inert form into nutrients which the plant can use. (6) Stimulates the growth of beneficial soil micro-organisms.

The role of organic matter in the soil is indeed varied and endless. Without it the soil would be a mere lifeless mixture of sand and clay. Without it crops would not grow. Without it even heavy rates of fertilizer application would be of little value. To conserve it we must prevent erosion and return every scrap of straw, stubble and barnyard manure to the soil. And we can also add organic matter by growing forage crops. The nitrogen produced by legume crops helps feed the bacteria in the soil and assists in "rotting down" raw organic matter.

Organic matter is indeed the life-blood of the soil. Guard it carefully! It plays a vital part in the successful production of grain crops.

F.U.A. Presidents Gather at Vermilion

IN MEMORIAM
In loving remembrance of MRS. M. A. ROBINSON
who died on June 25, 1956.
Gone, but not forgotten, by her loving family.

CARD OF THANKS
The members of Chatsworth Country Club wish to thank all those who donated to the Refugee Family Fund. The total collected in the jars and through other means amounted to $91.27. This sum will be sent to the Western Producer Refugee Fund to aid in liberating someone in a refugee camp. Special thanks are extended to the anonymous donor through the Standard, to the Vermilion Standard for the publicity given, and to all the proprietors of the stores where the jars were placed.
Mavis M. Tovell, Secy.,
Chatsworth Country Club.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank the many friends and neighbors for their kindness, sympathy and floral tributes during our recent bereavement in the loss of our dear father.
Mrs. Katherine Schor and family, Derwent.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to sincerely thank all my friends and neighbors who so generously seeded my crop this spring while I was ill in hospital. Such kindness will never be forgotten.
Louis Hill, Clandonald. 31-2

Islay and District News Items

Mrs. Ed Steiner had her parents and a sister and husband visiting her and Ed at the week-end.

Mr Hector McFadyen from Saskatchewan is visiting brother Ulva and family.

Mr and Mrs. Dodd and daughter were in Islay on Tuesday looking up acquaintances. Mrs. Dodd is the former Jean Lane. They [illegible] here and in Vermilion [illegible] years ago. Mr. Lane was [illegible] lumber yard manager at that [illegible]. Mrs. Dodd discovered that all her schoolmates of Islay were [illegible] [illegible] in [illegible]. The Dodds live in [illegible].

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie [illegible], Elaine and Shirley McGuigan, were in Banff over the long holiday week-end. Don Martin is in Banff, working at Brewsters. He was surprised to see the Islay folk so soon.

Mrs. Patsy Robertson is expected home this week from an [illegible] hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Everon [illegible] entertained the grade IX students at a turkey dinner after exams were all over. Possibly the last time all would be together for some time.

9:30 a.m. is the time for the United Church service for the next two months. The early hour seemed to suit as the attendance was large. Mr. Snider gave a stirring sermon. Next Sunday Rev. Mr. Shortt will be in charge, it is Communion service.

Mr. and Mrs. August Isert were Tuesday visitors at the home of Mrs. Hutton and Miss Queenie Hutton accompanied them to their home in Hazeldine.

A large class from [illegible] is taking advantage of valuable swimming [illegible] being given at Vermilion Park lake.

A Vacation school is planned for July 25 to 29 at Islay United church. This is a splendid week for the children, games, handicraft, singing and Bible story reading will be in the program. Applications should be made at once. All children are welcome. Some fifteen years ago a grand class was held.

Water Safety Around the Home

1. Because children love to play in water they must be watched constantly if there are creeks, rivers or ponds, no matter how small, near the home. A ditch, flooded after a storm, can be a death trap.

2. Cover open wells. Attention to this constant danger will prevent tragedy.

3. Make sure deep excavations in your neighborhood are fenced, and small children supervised at play. Anticipate and prevent that one fatal slip.

4. Garden ponds and plastic wading pools should be supervised while children are at play. . . and closed off when supervision is absent. Remember . . . children have drowned in as little as two or three inches of water.

5. Around the home teach your children to avoid these dangers. 47-50

Clothing Club Achievement Day

The Ellsworth 4-H Clothing club held an achievement day in the Greenlawn hall recently, to complete their year's program.

The projects completed by the girls were judged by Miss Hooper, District Home Economist, of Wainwright, and Mrs. J. Johnson, instructress at V.S.A. The project books made by Jean Holman and Karen Buck were chosen for further competition in Edmonton.

Mrs. M. Moncrieff of Islay, leader of the Food club there, was guest speaker at the banquet which followed the afternoon program of judging.

At the conclusion of the banquet the hall was opened to the public to hear the program the girls had prepared and to view the year's project work. The girls who had finished their projects by a given date were presented with a pair of embroidery scissors each. Joanne Gray was the winner of the club public speaking contest, and also at Vermilion, for which she was given an engraved silver spoon.

In acknowledgment of their services and help during the past year the leaders were thanked and each received a cup and saucer.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker of Dewberry kindly supplied the public address system for the occasion.

News from Allandale District

Weatherwise we are having adequate moisture. On the evening of June 24 there was a terrific electric storm. West of here a wire on the power line was severed. Hail was experienced the next day to the north-west, causing considerable damage.

On June 18 Mr Art Nielsen, a cousin of the Nelson's, from Wilkie, Sask., passed away at a Saskatoon hospital.

June 19 was M. and M. Sunday at the United Church. Miss Ann Evans' theme for her service was "This is a Big World". She spoke in part of her experience as a missionary which was very interesting and truly amazing.

Mr Bill Bartram, Oxford University student from [illegible] [illegible] was a visitor at the [illegible] home on June 21 and 22. He is a friend of Miss Evans. They spent a few days visiting in Allandale and Clandonald. Bill was on his way to Alkiavik. He left by plane from Edmonton on June 24.

Church service was held at Lake Whitney camp on June 26. The morning was wet but later the day turned bright and enjoyable. Miss Ann Evans gave the sermon and spoke on "Christian Unity", a timely topic, especially at this the 35th anniversary of the United Church. Mrs. Shortt is to be congratulated on such a lovely five-tiered decorated fruit cake which she made for the occasion. Every year improvements are noted in the camp at Whitney.

Mr and Mrs. Bud Childress and family from Nelson, B.C. arrived at the latter's parents', the John Arnold home on June 27th for holidays. The children will stay here on the farm for a time while their parents return home.

A quilting bee took place at the Omness home the latter part of June. Those participating were Mrs. Evelyn Throndson, Mrs. Elsa Nelson, Mrs. Mossy McPhee, Mrs. Georgie McIntyre, Mrs. Lizzie McCambridge, Mrs. Norma Laird and Miss Ann Evans, owner of the quilt. This beautiful applique quilt top was sewn by hand by Miss Evans' grandmother around 1904. She passed away before Ann was born. Such outstanding work as this is a rarity these days.

Mrs Stella Mayers and Mrs Nora Ronaghan attended the Wainwright stampede, and Mr and Mrs Johnny Nelson and daughter from Lloydminster and Mr and Mrs. Tommy Stockwell and son Nelson from Clandonald.

A speedy recovery is wished [illegible] of Rusylvia who was in the Elk Point hospital.

Mrs. Stella Mayers accompanied the Jack Hobbis family on July 1st to Calgary to attend her niece Janice [illegible]' wedding on July 2 at [illegible] United church.

[illegible] left the same day going by way of Camrose and visited Mr and Mrs. Louis Baldock and the latter's uncle and aunt Mr and Mrs W Hogaboam. Then going on to Calgary to spend a few days at Lincoln Park at the home of Orlene Mr and Mrs Paul Whelan and family and were present at the Renne-Omness wedding. The bride was beautiful and it was a very [illegible] wedding.

On July 3 church was attended in the Parkvale United church in Calgary where Rev E. S. Reikie is pastor. It was a great pleasure meeting Sinclair Audrey and daughters Margaret and Lynn after a lapse of some thirteen years.

Parkvale is a new part of Calgary. At present services are held in the new church hall. In September building of the new sanctuary will begin.

Mr and Mrs Gerald Omness and daughter Lorraine from Kindersley, Sask., called at the Whelan home at Lincoln Park on the evening of July 2.

Paulette and Lynn Whelan from Lincoln Park returned with their grandparents on July 3rd for a holiday on the farm.

Mr and Mrs. Gus Throndson from town were caretakers at the Omness farm in their absence.

Adele Walsh spent the long week-end at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr and Mrs. Don Wilson.

On July 3 Mr and Mrs. C Sheppard and daughter Patsy from Kitscoty were visitors at the home of their daughter Mr and Mrs. Alvin Throndson. Of late we are thinking of their daughters Sylvia and Donna who are spending their holidays in [illegible].

Mr and Mrs. Angus Good from White Rock, B.C., were visitors at the Herb McPhee home the week of July 4.

Found by Alvin Throndson a brown Oxford shoe, size 6, girl's, on the river hill north of Borradaile phone 2814.

Joe Good is in the district doing some crop spraying.

Another nice rain on July 3. Crops and gardens are as good or better here than anywhere we saw on our trip.

Closing thought: Make new friends but keep the old, the first are silver, the last are gold.

Art Short Course Arranged July 12-14

The Vermilion Community Art club has been able to arrange for Prof. Wohlfarth to be the instructor at a three-day short course to be held next week, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, July 12, 13 and 14.

The classes will be on creative art in oil paintings. They are especially designed for beginners, but anyone interested in painting is welcome to attend.

Further information concerning enrollment in the short course may be obtained from Mrs. Muriel Long, Mrs. Maxine King, or Mrs. Marion Anderson.

Cardinals Win From Lloydminster

Vermilion Cardinals defeated the Lloydminster ladies' fastball team in a regular league fixture here on Monday evening. The locals had one big inning when they scored eight runs. The final score read 12-8. The local battery was Eve Gatzky to Peggy Leversedge.

"WHILE THERE IS LIFE THERE'S HOPE"*
—Author's name below—

Not so long ago diseases like smallpox, tuberculosis, diphtheria, pneumonia and polio were the scourge of mankind. Now they are controllable.

There are some, like cancer, for which we still have no positive cure. But, if the diagnosis is early, in the majority of cases a normal life can be lived. Meanwhile, research scientists feel that within a few years a cure will be discovered. More than forty new drugs are released for prescription use each month. Your physician knows their special values and will prescribe one of them for you if necessary.

A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Slate of Officers Elected At Home and School Meeting

MANNVILLE. – At the recent Home and School meeting the following officers were elected for the 1960-61 term: President, Russell Whitson; 1st vice-president, Rev. Harry Shell; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. S. Jackson, secretary, Mrs. Merrel Johnson; treasurer, Mrs. Les Brown.

Bus representatives: Claysmore-Clovelly, Alex Henderson; Stellaville-Creighton, Mrs. R. Weaver; Lake Geneva-Forest Hills, open; Bloomington-Lake Geneva, Mike Kurpil, Fidelity-Hamilton, Mrs. te Kampe, Chailey, Bruce Scott, Tankerton - Scotstown, Mrs. A. Hess, Brace, William Pedechko.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. George Younge, who thanked all officers for past support and turned over the gavel to Russell Whitson, who paid tribute to two teachers who are leaving, R. J Forsyth, and Orest Humenluk. He lauded the qualities of citizenship found in Mr. and Mrs. Forsyth while in Mannville. He also paid tribute to his fine work in sports.

A pianoforte solo and encore "Brahm's Waltz" and the "Country Dance" by Gordon McLaughlin were much enjoyed, and the play "Wildcat Willie" proved to be a hilarious comedy, directed by Drama teacher Mrs. Hugh Thompson, Grade 8. Taking part were Gary Wright as Wild cat, Vivian Lynch, as his sister, Terry Hasinoff, Sharon McLaughlin and Barbara Woywitka as school friends, and Mother, ably portrayed by Dawn Kreller; the teacher Miss Pratt and niece Darlene were well acted by Gloria Trenchuk and Gail Mercer.

Highlight of the evening was a full and comprehensive report of the Home and School Convention held at Lethbridge by the delegate, Mrs. Melva Jackson.

Group will recess until September, at Mannville.

Ray Jones Scratches Head Over Twin Colts

Twin colts at the Ray Jones' farm were the centre of of interest last week. Although twin colts in themselves are not too common, these little fellows were so different they caused much discussion. One a thoroughbred and the other a palomino, really puzzled owner Ray. Unfortunately, the palomino was very small and weak, and died in 7 days. However, the other little fellow is strong and healthy and is doing well.

Five Youths Have Miraculous Escape In Car Accident

MANNVILLE. Five young boys from Saskatchewan were proceeding east on highway 16, about one mile west of Mannville when they miraculously escaped losing their lives.

Driving along in their 1949 model sedan at about forty miles an hour, the vision of the driver became obscured during a heavy downpour of rain. In attempting to clear the windshield for better visibility, his attention was diverted from his driving and he apparently turned the steering wheel too far to the right, the car going into the ditch and over turning [illegible].

The youths, whose names have been withheld, were most fortunate, only the driver was hurt receiving only a slight cut to his head. The car was a complete wreck, looking as though a can opener had ripped it apart.

B.C. Students On European Tour

VANCOUVER, B.C. — Nearly 170 Victoria High School students left here last Friday aboard a special Canadian National Railways train on the first stage of a seven-week trip to Europe. Accompanied by nine teachers, the group arrived in Montreal on Tuesday, where they boarded planes for Europe.

The tour, arranged by the B. C. Student Travel Association, will take the party to the major cities in seven European countries. Most of the students saved their after-school earnings over the past two years to pay for the trip.

The group will leave England August 15 for the homeward journey, and from Montreal will travel over CNR lines, with a stop over at Ottawa, to arrive back in Vancouver on Aug. 20.

A record 24,400,000 tons. That's the 1959 output of Canadian mines, up 55 per cent over 1958.

Health Unit Notes

CLEAN EATING PLACES

From snack bars to smart dining lounges, those who serve Canada's meals hold the health of millions in their hands. If YOU operate such an establishment you owe it to your patrons to keep your place and food you serve CLEAN.

Cleanliness in food handling and serving is good business as well as good citizenship. The spotless restaurant trade in respotless restaurant, with trim and careful staff is bound to attract particular people. The drab, dirty "eatery" with sloppy service and stained counters soon becomes a hang-out for undesirables.

New products and appliances produced for the restaurant trade in recent years have made it possible to install fittings and equipment which simplify the task of maintaining high sanitary standards. But even the most glistening front can hide unhealthy premises if those who prepare and serve the food and who are responsible for the cleanliness of the restaurant in all its departments neglect the basic rules of sanitation and personal hygiene.

A healthy staff is quite as important to a public eating place as sanitary surroundings. Many diseases are transmitted through unclean handling. Government inspection of food at the source, in preparation and processing, is intended to make sure that Canadians get SAFE food, but all this protection will be useless if food is infected during cooking or serving.

There is no way of being certain that those who order food in your restaurant are free from disease. Some people may be suffering from highly contagious infections. It is all the more important then, to make sure that your place is thoroughly clean, that the kitchen and staff are careful and that [illegible] are cleaned and disinfected, so that disease will not be passed on to others.

From the time that the food is delivered to the premises until it is served to the patron, it should be handled with special care whether it is a juicy steak or a mere "hot dog." Food [illegible] be stored, at all times, in a clean, dry place and perishable food should be kept in a refrigerator. A display shelf [illegible] to all sorts of air-borne [illegible] carried infections — is no place for food.

In the kitchen, care must be taken that food is not allowed to [illegible] in contact with [illegible] surfaces, nor soiled hands or equipment. It should be stored in a sanitary manner until needed. [illegible] be protected from vermin, flies, rodents and roaches, etc., and every effort must be made to keep the restaurant free from such pests in the first place. Once they get in they are hard to control and destroy. All dishes and silverware should be sterilized when washed after each time. Two minutes of washing in hot water at a temperature of 170 degrees Fahrenheit is necessary to kill germs.

Table accessories, such as silverware and even the salt and pepper shakers, sugar bowl or pickle jar should be sterilized at frequent intervals. In washing dishes and utensils plenty of [illegible] hot water and lots of soap and disinfectant should be used. Don't use towels for drying. It is better to drain dishes etc., in a clean place and to store them on clean racks or shelves until needed. Sterilization with hot water makes the use of towels unnecessary.

STAFF RULES

As to the restaurant staff all employees should be obliged to report any personal condition which could endanger the health of customers or fellow-workers. Even a cut on the chef's finger might infect the food he handles. Colds, of course, are dangerous, and "droplet infection" is a sure way of spreading disease.

The personal habits of the staff, both in the kitchen and in the dining room, are important. Restaurant operators should insist on thorough washing of hands immediately after every visit to the toilet, after blowing the nose and even fixing the hair. Germs lurk everywhere and should not be passed along with the food.

POLIOMYELITIS CLINICS

There will be two special adult poliomyelitis clinics at Vermilion Health Unit office Thursday July 21. The afternoon clinic will be held from 2 p.m. to 4.30 p.m. and the evening clinic will be held from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Anyone who has not had three injections of poliomyelitis vaccine is requested to attend. Anyone who has had his or her third poliomyelitis injection more than four years ago is requested to attend for a booster injection. This year a lot of poliomyelitis has occurred in Canada. We hope that this area will not contribute to the statistics.

Attention Residents of Lloydminster and District. The clinics that were previously held at Twetons on the second Thursday of each month from 1.30 to 3.30 p.m. will now be held at Winston Churchill School at the same time and on the same day.

Mrs. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. P. McGaughey and their two children are staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Harrison to attend the wedding of Deanna Rae Harrison on July 9th.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pearman and family were away for a few days. Gordon Attfield was looking after the farm.

On Wednesday, June 29, Mrs. Hardie and Mrs. D. Cummings were visitors at the homes of Mrs. J. Repp and Mrs. O. Repp.

The Loafers' Lodge meeting will be held on July 13, the second Wednesday of the month, instead of the usual time.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Lind are their daughter Iris and her infant son.

Busy haying at Lind's are Jim Repp and Frank Robinson.

Mrs. O. Repp celebrated her birthday on Monday, July 4.

Margaret Robinson is now working on Saturdays at [illegible] Ltd., in Vermilion for the time being, and will later work full time for a period in August.

Mr. and Mrs. C. McPherson were week-end visitors at their old home at Sedgewick.

BEAUTY AND THE BEACH

At the beach this summer, when getting ready to put on the suntan oil, don't forget that your eyes need protection just as much as your skin. Eye lotion is now available in Canada in a new yellow plastic squeeze bottle that dispenses one drop at a time for easy use. It's easily portable and will neither break nor spill.

EMPRESS OF BRITAIN

N. R. CRUMP CHRISTENS LOCOMOTIVE — Commonwealth ties between Canadian and British Railways were further strengthened at London, England, recently, when N. R. Crump, president of Canadian Pacific, christened a new 2,000 H.P. British Railways diesel-electric locomotive "Empress of Britain" named after the Canadian Pacific trans-Atlantic passenger liner. (Upper left): New "Empress Voyager" locomotive which will carry passengers between the port of Liverpool and London. PATRICIA'S TROOP THEIR COLORS — One of the Army's oldest and most colorful traditional ceremonies took place recently at Hamilton Gault Barracks, Edmonton when the 2nd Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry "trooped their color." The Honourable J. Percy Page, Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta took the salute during the march-past of the battalion under command of Lt.-Col C. J. A. Hamilton of Brandon, Man. An estimated crowd of over 5,000 Edmontonians attended the ceremony as more than 250 soldiers of the Patricia's staged the precise movements that are required in a ceremonial of this kind. Here, the Hon. J. Percy Page, accompanied by Lt.-Col Hamilton, inspects the battalion.

SHOPLIFTING BIG BUSINESS IN CANADA

Canadian retail stores will lose an estimated $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 this year from employee and customer thefts. It amounts to from two to three per cent of total sales. About 60 per cent. of this will be taken by store insiders. Shoplifters come in all shapes, sizes, sexes and ages. In number, however, the majority are women and are followed by teenagers. But men account for the heaviest losses through their thefts of higher priced merchandise. Pictured above, models demonstrate two methods of shoplifting, woman puts one dress over another while man slips a towel under his coat.

Jean and Maxine Belsheim have returned to their respective homes for the holidays after attending classes at the Camrose Lutheran college.

Report from Parliament

By Cliff Smallwood, M.P., Battle River-Camrose

I feel that the Old Age Security legislation which has just been passed will be of great interest to many of those people who are receiving old age security at this time, and I would like to take this opportunity to explain in the Standard, the act which has recently been passed by parliament.

1. A pensioner will no longer have his pension cheques suspended when he leaves Canada. Whatever benefits he is entitled to will be mailed to a pensioner at his foreign address.

2. A pensioner who has resided in Canada for at least 25 years since his twenty-first birthday may continue to draw benefits even if he lives abroad permanently.

3. A pensioner who has not resided in Canada for at least 25 years since his twenty first birthday may be paid his pension out[illegible]

According to records of the Department of National Health and Welfare most recipients of old age security have the necessary residence requirements to qualify for permanent out-of-country [illegible].

It should be pointed out further that the required 25 years after 21 does not have to be a continuous period.

In addition any residence after age 70 can contribute to the 25-year requirement. For example a person coming to Canada at age 47 and living continuously in the country until age seventy-two, would meet this qualification.

Persons who cannot meet the twenty five years requirement represent only a small proportion of old age security recipients. They will however enjoy two advantages over their previous [illegible].

(a) On leaving Canada they will not have their pension cheques suspended but will continue receiving them at their foreign address.

(b) They will be able to remain out of the country for 6 months less two days without loss of benefit as against seven months less two days as was previously the case. They could for example leave on Oct. 1 and return as late as the following May 31st.

A pensioner who is away from Canada and who has the necessary 25 years residence after 21 can have his pension benefits reinstated w[illegible] returning to Canada. He [illegible] only make an application [illegible] Regional Director of Old Age Security in his former place of residence in Canada. No matter when this application is filed his pension will be reinstated with effect from July 1, 1960.

A pensioner who is away from Canada and who does not have the necessary 25 years residence after 21 will be eligible on his return to Canada, for any benefits due him under the previous legislation.

When considering leaving Canada either for temporary or indefinite absence pensioners are asked to [illegible] Regional Director of Old Age Security in their [illegible] arrangements for the [illegible] of their benefits.

Girls' Fastball Ends Season, Mannville

MANNVILLE — The girls fastball team sponsored by the Legion ladies wound up the spring season by defeating teams from [illegible] Mannville for [illegible] at Buffalo Coulee [illegible] they won [illegible] lost one.

The Legion Auxiliary feel the games have been well worth the effort [illegible] turned out faithfully for almost every practice. Very grateful are the ladies of the Auxiliary to those helping with transportation.

Suggestions Invited For Name Of Senior Citizens Lodge At Vermilion

Suggestions are invited for names for the Senior Citizens' lodge which will soon be opened in Vermilion. Names should be forwarded to Mr. A. R. Kay at Kitscoty and the person submitting the name selected will be awarded a $10 prize.

Many people have very excellent imaginations along this line and the board of management expect they will have a good list from which to make a selection. 2-3

KITSCOTY

Miss Jean McKerihan and her cousin Miss Linda McKerihan, nurses-in-training at the Royal Alex hospital in Edmonton, spent a holiday here recently with the former's parents and brothers, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McKerihan, Rob and Phil.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wahlstrom of Stockholm, Sask., are at present visiting with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr and Mrs. W. Murray and family.

Mr John Findlater from Montana is at present visiting at the home of his niece and nephew, Mr and Mrs. Reg Kay and family.

Little Miss Brenda Byrt of Lloydminster spent the week-end with little Miss Frances Ann Swyripa.

Congratulations are extended to Mr and Mrs. Roger Hall (the former Joan Richardson) on the birth of their daughter, the first grandchild for Mr and Mrs. Clark Richardson, and a birthday present for grandad Clark.

Congratulations are also extended to Earl Franke of Fort Saskatchewan, former resident here, who won the top driver award in the Lion's Club car rodeo which was held recently there. Twenty drivers were entered. Earl obtained 432 points out of the possible 500. A banquet was held for the contestants later in the day at which trophies were presented by Mr. L. H. McMannus, deputy minister of highways.

The Kitscoty Women's Institute is sponsoring a shipment of old woollens to be made into blankets. Anyone wishing to send woollens please phone No. 6, Mrs. L. E. Spectman.

Mr and Mrs. Archie McLean and family spent the week-end in Edmonton and visited with Mrs. P. McLean who is still in hospital there.

Best wishes for a complete recovery are extended to Mr. Bert Buck who is a patient in Lloydminster hospital. Get-well greetings are extended to Mrs. J. McCorry who is still confined to the Lloydminster hospital.

Congratulations to Miss Deanna Green who received her cap at the graduating exercises at the Edmonton school for nursing aides last Friday. Deanna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Green of the Kinnaird district and attended Kitscoty High school.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

First Homes For Aged In Alberta Now Open

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — Ludwig Elsasser, 86, packed up his portable television set and his few personal belongings this week and headed down the road for a new life of luxury.

Maybe you've never heard of Ludwig Elsasser. Many people haven't. But he's typical of hundreds of Albertans who will be leaving squalid surroundings behind this summer and moving into the provincial government's posh new homes for the aged.

Mr Elsasser lived on the outskirts of the village of Clyde, about 50 miles north of Edmonton. He occupied a tiny, windowless shack on the outskirts of the village. The rent was $8 a month, leaving him enough to support himself fairly comfortably on his $75 monthly pension.

But he was strictly on his own, with no one to prepare decent meals, no one to mend clothing, do his laundry or see that he was properly cared for.

This week he was to become the first resident of the new old folks home at Westlock, about eight miles west of Clyde. The Westlock home is one of 31 which will open its doors to senior citizens throughout the province this summer.

Exact dates for the opening of all the homes are not available. Delivery of bedding and furniture to some of them has been [illegible] until about mid July. Others, including Westlock and Ponoka, are in business. The 31 homes, the first of 32 to be built throughout the province as the initial phase of the Alberta government's five year plan comprises what is believed to be the biggest program for the aged ever undertaken anywhere in the world.

The program was first unveiled to the public in August of 1958 when Premier Manning made the announcement that oil and gas royalty dividends would be dropped and would be replaced with some special project every year for the next five years. The homes for the aged, the initial project, will cost an estimated [illegible] by the time the program is completed. They will provide clean, comfortable accommodation in pleasant surroundings for some [illegible] elderly Albertans.

[illegible] was the Alberta program [illegible] the nature of an experiment [illegible] Robin [illegible] and the men [illegible] in the provincial welfare department are hoping it will prove that Alberta can kill once and for all the stigma of the poorhouse.

The homes are purposely being kept small and spread around all over the province. The thinking behind this is that a small home will be less like an institution. And the elderly citizens who move into them will be able to live in the areas where they spent most of their lives in the company of other oldsters with similar backgrounds.

The man responsible for administering the program and selling the concept behind it is 30-year-old Simon Kenneth Gordon Austin, who joined the welfare department in 1958 on his retirement from the RCMP after 22 years of service.

In his travels around the province visiting with local foundations set up to administer the homes Mr Austin strives to play down the charitable aspects. In fact he doesn't even like them to be called homes, he prefers lodges and wants to create in them the atmosphere of a plush private club.

And he bristles when anyone refers to the oldsters who will be occupying them as "inmates". He feels they should be called either "residents" or "guests".

After all he says, the homes belong to the people who will be using them. They were built with the people's money, hence the oldsters who occupy the [illegible] them. All their $60 to $65 month[ly] rent covers is the cost of operation.

While the ones who benefit most will be the old timers, Austin looks [illegible] has something to gain from the [illegible] of the new lodges. One of his first duties when he joined the welfare department was to conduct a survey to determine what was needed to look after Alberta's senior citizens.

One of the things he found was that beds in chronic hospitals were occupied by old people who required only food and shelter [illegible] beds were occupied by people who really should have been in chronic hospitals. Hence the homes should relieve the pressure on chronic and active hospital beds. Not only that, says Mrs. Austin, clean beds and wholesome meals may actually prevent some sickness among old people. Thus the old folks' homes will save society money because the cost of keeping a man or woman in one of the lodges is only around $2 per day compared with up to $25 in an active treatment hospital.

Once the lodge-type homes are built and in operation, local foundations are expected to start establishing low - rental housekeeping units for elderly married couples. When the entire program is completed, says Austin, Alberta will have every conceivable type of accommodation for its senior citizens and will have gone farther than any other place in the world.

Missionary Service At Alliance Chapel

A service of special interest was held in the Alliance Chapel Vermilion Sunday evening July [illegible] when Mr John Harms was the guest speaker. Together with his wife and family Mr Harms is on his way to serve with the [illegible] Gospel Mission in the hills of Kentucky. He is a recent graduate of the Canadian Bible College, Regina.

Mr Harms told an interesting story of conditions in that area [illegible] served before going to New Guinea.

Special music was a mixed quartette by Mr and Mrs Ben Franssen and Mr and Mrs R [illegible]. [illegible] also sang a duet accompanied by Mrs Schroeder at the piano.

Mr Harms spoke in the Mannville Tabernacle in the afternoon. [illegible] in the morning service. Pastor J M Schroeder preached the sermon Joseph, a Type of Christ. Mrs Albert Tovell played a piano [illegible].

Children to Holiday at Charles Best Camp

Diabetic children from 6 to 18 years of age will be able to enjoy a holiday this summer at Lake Wabamun.

The Charles Best Camp, operated by the Edmonton and District Diabetic Association to young diabetics, will be held from August 21st to August 31st, 1960 at the United Church Camp at Moonlight Bay.

The camp has a double purpose of providing diabetic children with the opportunity to participate in outdoor activities and obtain further knowledge of diabetes.

The camp is non-sectarian and every diabetic child wishing to attend may do so regardless of ability to pay. The Diabetic Association through donations to its camp fund pays a portion of the expenses.

A medical team of physicians, nurses and dietitians will be on duty during the time that the camp is in operation.

Further information may be obtained from the Edmonton and District Branch of the Canadian Diabetic Association, Edmonton, Alberta.

Pastoral Charge of United Church Meets at Kitscoty

The official board of Kitscoty Pastoral Charge of the United Church of Canada met at Marwayne on June 22 with 32 present.

Rev J Shortt outlined the newly set up St Paul's United Presbytery church extension fund.

A delegation from Riverton was received with a request for Sunday services to be held at Riverton hall. By authority of the official board, services are to be conducted during July and August at 7.30 p.m. each Sunday. Church time at the other four points are to change as of July 3 to Islay and Marwayne at 9.30 a.m. and Dewberry and Kitscoty at 11.30 a.m. while in August when Mr Shortt is on holiday there will only be two services each Sunday.

Arrangements for a joint service at Camp Whitney on June 26th were finalized to mark the 35th anniversary of church union at which Clandonald and Allandale will join with the congregations of Islay, Dewberry, Marwayne and Kitscoty.

While the weatherman didn't favor with picnic weather the morning of June 26th, a goodly number ventured forth to join in the annual outdoor church service at Camp Whitney.

Miss Anne Evans, Mr Eric Snider and Rev. James Shortt shared the service with the Clandonald [illegible] junior choir and a combined senior choir presenting three anthems and Mr Harlan Green favored with an instrumental solo.

Miss Evans gave the sermon, her topic being "Christian Unity".

Following the service all joined together in the noonday meal, the highlight being the lovely thirty - fifth anniversary cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. J. Shortt. This was cut and passed among the crowd. With skies clearing and bright sunshine the afternoon was spent in visiting, swimming and boating, to mark another enjoyable get together at Camp Whitney.

MARWAYNE

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs. Teddy Kent on the birth of a son, Dean Edward, in the Lloydminster hospital on Saturday, June 18th.

Belated birthday greetings to Mr Jack Swan who was 75 years young on June 23. Many more happy birthdays are wished you.

Marwayne Friendship Club Entertains Vermilion Golden Age Members

MARWAYNE. — On Monday, June 13 the Marwayne Friendship club was very pleased to entertain 36 members of the Vermilion Golden Age club on a return visit.

The entertainment was an impromptu concert which was enjoyed by all and a short whist party. The whist winners were Mrs. Amos and Mr Roy Walker of Vermilion. Consolation winners were Mrs. Parker of Marwayne and Mr Roy Jory of Vermilion.

An enjoyable lunch was served on tables beautifully decorated with spring flowers. Those at the head table sharing the birthday honors for June were: Mrs. Andrews, Vermilion, Mrs. Ronaghan, Islay, Mrs. Corr, Mrs. Reichenbaugh and Mr Swan, all of Marwayne. To Mr. Swan went the honor of cutting the birthday cake.

Mayor Curtis, introduced by President Williams, extended a hearty welcome to the visitors and expressed the hope that there would be many more meetings like this one.

Mr Waldenberger, president of the Vermilion club, replied with a vote of thanks on behalf of the Vermilion members for the lovely evening and extended an invitation to this club to attend their pot luck supper on Sept. 21st.

Many acquaintances were renewed and old times talked over.

A recess has been called for July and August but the Friendship club will be back again in the news come September.

Alumni Reunion Huge Success

Almost 150 alumni and guests turned out on Friday afternoon, July 8th, for a banquet honoring the graduates of the Vermilion School of Agriculture from the classes of 1935, 1950 and 1955, on the occasion of their 25th, 10th and 5th anniversaries.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Robinson were special guests of honor, Lyle being a graduate who has reflected much credit on V.S.A. from which school he graduated in 1927. Among other guests in attendance were Mr B. J. Whitbread, graduate of 1915, on staff here from 1922 to 1933 inclusive and later D.A. at a number of points in Alberta; Mr D. A. Andrew, a member of the staff at the school from 1930 to 1941 inclusive, later D.A. at Vermilion and then secretary to the Canadian Hereford Breeders' Association from which post he has recently retired. Mr Whitbread was an instructor in Agronomy and Mr Andrew was farm manager and instructor in animal husbandry. Among other staff in attendance was Mrs. Hamilton Robinson of Carstairs, the former Miss Jessie Goodall. Mrs. Robinson graduated in 1918 and later returned to teach Household Administration from 1936 to 1938.

LARGE NUMBER OF FORMER STAFF PRESENT

Mr A. M. Wilson, the present Field Crops Commissioner for Alberta was the guest speaker for the banquet; he was instructing in Agronomy from 1935 to 1941. Mr Laurie Blades, who graduated in 1936, taught at the school from 1939 to 1952 with time out during the war years; he taught Math, Physics, English and Entomology and is now farming at Ohaton. Miss Lila Engberg, instructress in Cooking and Nutrition from 1948 to 1951, is now teaching Home Economics at MacDonald College at Guelph. Mr Victor Janssen, now with the 4H Branch as assistant supervisor for junior activities, taught Animal Husbandry and acted as farm manager from 1951 to '56. Miss McIntyre, who has taken over as dietitian at the school on a number of occasions during the summer months, was present also.

RECORD CROWD

A record crowd was in attendance at the Rose Ball which followed the banquet. Visitors came from Edson in the west, Arrowwood near the U.S. boundary in the south, Fort Vermilion in the north and Guelph, Ontario, in the [illegible]. A most enjoyable evening was reported by all in attendance and several telegrams from absent alumni were received expressing regret because circumstances prevented their coming.

Clandonald Fish Derby At Muriel Lake This Sunday

The Clandonald Fish and Game Association has arranged a Northern pike derby to take place at Muriel Lake on Sunday, July 17th from 1 to 6 p.m.

Three prizes, first, second and third are be offered. Free coffee will be served. Entrants must register with the Clandonald Fish and Game Association — then the rest is up to the fishermen and the cooperation of the fish. Everybody, including the fish, welcome, Sunday, July 17.

Quite a number of B.C. people took in the official opening of Vermilion park. This beautiful spot is really a credit to the people of Vermilion and district.

Mr. and Mrs. William McGinnis Celebrate Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. William McGinnis, who were married by the Rev. Father Goutier at the Holy Name Church in Vermilion, on June 30th, 1910, celebrated their golden wedding on July 1st at the farm home just a mile east of town. All of the intervening years have been lived here.

During the day an open reception was held at the family home when many friends called to pay their respects. Many beautiful gifts were received as well as cards and telegrams of best wishes. Among the felicitations received were those from the Hon. Percy Page, Lieutenant Governor of Alberta, Premier E. C. Manning, and Ashley H. Cooper, M.L.A. In all over one hundred signed the guest book.

Mr and Mrs. McGinnis have a family of eight children, 42 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

All of their family were present, Leo of Lauksfall, Norman of Winterburn, Bob of Edmonton, Edward, Evelyn, Laura, Mary and Rosella, all of Vermilion, in company with their families, making it a very happy gathering indeed.

During the afternoon, lunch was served to the many visitors. Later a supper was served at the lakeside cabin of their daughter, Mrs. Clarence [illegible] and family.

Marion Anderson Elected President Of Kinette Club

The June meeting of the Kinette club was held at the home of Norma Novak and took the form of a pot luck supper. There were fourteen members and one prospective member present.

The hospital library committee for July: Kay Hart and Jean Inman; for August: Joan Kowalchuk and Mary Morgan.

Following the meeting officers of the club for the forthcoming year were elected. In charge of Kinette activities for the next term are:

President - Marion Anderson
Vice-Pres. - Jean Wright
Secretary - Mary Morgan
Treasurer and Sgt-at-Arms - Lou McDowell
Registrar - Rhea Baddock.

HON. A. R. PATRICK TO OPEN FAIR

The Hon. A. R. Patrick will officially open the fair on Thursday evening at 7.30 and it is hoped that a vast crowd will be on hand to greet this well known cabinet minister.

Water Carnival At Park Lake This Sunday

A Water Carnival has been arranged for Sunday, July 17th at the Vermilion Park Lake, with fun and competitions for everyone. Commencing at 2:30 p.m., the program includes:

Water Safety Demonstration; Safety precautions and practices around the water; a demonstration of swimming skills as taught in progression to the beginners; and a boating demonstration emphasizing the use of a boat as a safety device after a disaster has occurred will be shown.

At 3:30 p.m. there will be a diving exhibition including fancy diving from both the high and low boards; some clown acts will also be performed.

Swimming races for children twelve and under, 15 and under and open competitions will be held at 4 p.m. Swimmers may use any stroke they wish.

For those who want another try at horseshoes, a tournament will start at 4 o'clock and checker enthusiasts may enter the checker tournament which also begins at 4 p.m.

At 4:30 an open class of boat races will be run off. From a stopped start they will go around the markers, return up the lake, around the island, back up to the ring buoy, then to the finish line.

A race for lower powered motors, 10 h.p. and under will also be run off.

A water skiing competition begins at 5 p.m. and is open to anyone who wishes to participate and can arrange to get their own boat and skis.

Registration for these competitions need not be made before the event takes place. However, because of the time element registration will be limited.

No prizes will be awarded for any of the competitions.

To complete the program films will be shown in the band shell in the evening.

For a fun and thrill packed day be sure to attend the water carnival at the Vermilion Provincial park on Sunday.

SWIMMERS' EXAMS

Examination of swimmers on the Junior and Senior levels who have been participating in the two-week course will be conducted on Saturday, July 16 at the Vermilion Provincial park. Spectators are welcome.

Registrations for the succeeding two-week course July 18 to 30 are being taken now. Forms may be picked up at the guard office at the lakefront from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. every day. Plan to take swimming lessons, register now. Men's classes are taught Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7 p.m.

Cheryl Jones Earns A.R.C.T. Degree

Cheryl Jones, daughter of Mr and Mrs Neil Jones of Dewberry, has been awarded an A.R.C.T. (Associate Royal Conservatory of Toronto) degree in piano, with honors, at the age of fifteen. To have earned this degree at any age is a praiseworthy achievement, but for one of only fifteen, it is remarkable. And Cheryl is active in other fields too. She completed her grade 11 academic year this June; she takes part in community activities, and is a member of the local C.G.I.T. group.

Mrs. Galbraith of Dewberry was Cheryl's teacher until a year ago. During the last term Mrs. D. C. Folk, V.S.A. campus, helped prepare her for the final A.R.C.T. examination.

Vermilion Cadets Place Third In Inspection

The Vermilion Army Cadets placed third in the Northern Alberta area with an average of 87.7 per cent at their annual inspection.

This was an excellent showing as the Corps was not formed until late in the fall of 1959.

The following Cadets will be attending summer camp at Vernon, B.C., Cadet Instructor's Course - Anthony Dixon.

Cadet Leader's Course — Wallace Brower; Allan Good; Allan Hathaway, John Seddon; Howard Scarfe.

The following cadets will be attending a two-week camp at Clear Lake, Manitoba: Kenneth Herbert, James Leahy, Peter Trach, Miles Reid, Donald Webb, John Wilson and Michael Hinton.

Vermilion Polio Clinic

An adult polio clinic has been arranged for Vermilion on Thursday, July 21st from 2:00 to 4:30 p.m., and from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m., in the Health Unit office. Anyone who has not had three injections of polio vaccine is requested to attend. A third injection received more than four years ago will require a "booster shot." Play it safe! Play it smart! Turn up on Thursday, July 21 at the Health Unit.

Premier Fair Planned For '60

July 28th, 29th and 30th will be the big days of Vermilion's Big Fair and plans call for the staging of an outstanding event in celebration of fifty-five years of activity.

The Agricultural Society is pleased to announce that Karin Stephenson of Mannville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stephenson; and Allen Good, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Good of Vermilion are the winners of the free week's short course at the Provincial School of Agriculture, having accumulated the highest number of points for girls and boys respectively in the 1959 School Fair. The young people will be entitled to board and room, together with class supplies and an equal opportunity with the other summer camp students to compete for the fine watches donated by the T. Eaton Company of Winnipeg as an award to the girl or boy standing highest in the work of the Summer Camp. Other fine prizes available have been kindly supplied by the Line Elevators Association.

During the five-day period the youngsters are treated to a banquet by the Alberta Wheat Pool and the Fair Board entertains them as their guests during the three-day Exhibition.

FREE KIDDIES' DAY TICKETS

Distribution of free kiddies' day tickets by Vermilion fair this year has been a popular move. This is an entirely new venture in Alberta Fair circles and it is hoped that every youngster in the area may have an opportunity to see the grandstand show or to have some rides on Kiddies' Day, July 28 up to 5 p.m.

SPECIAL FEATURES

In the hope of meeting a demand, Vermilion fair will hold a race meet on Saturday afternoon, July 30th, and all owners of speedsters are invited to contact the committee headed by Reg Ireland and make arrangements [illegible]. Purses in the amount of [illegible] are offered for competition and it is anticipated that the entries will be heavy.

[illegible] club show and sale [illegible] day of the fair [illegible] in operation but [illegible] of the past [illegible] by the boys and girls showing calves this year. [illegible] firms doing business in Alberta have been invited to be present and it is hoped that prices will be [illegible] to those with [illegible]. While [illegible] is not by any means a dominating feature of calf club work good prices are always acceptable.

FIREWORKS PROGRAM

In order to give every patron attending Vermilion fair an equal opportunity to view the fireworks program the directors have arranged for three excellent programs, one for each evening following the grandstand shows. The manager of the manufacturing company producing the fireworks will personally attend Vermilion fair from Vancouver in order to personally oversee the displays. It is doubtful if any other fair in Alberta will hold fireworks each of their three nights, but directors of Vermilion fair are determined to stage a superb show for 1960.

MUSICAL RIDE BY PONY CLUB

The Saskatoon Pony club composed of sixteen fine young people and sixteen superb ponies, will feature their famed musical ride on each of the three days, and judging by the expressions of satisfaction during the Saskatoon Spring show when the ride was staged for entertainment of patrons, the folks of this area are in for a real treat.

There are a [illegible] of other features which will be announced in due course, but altogether, Vermilion's 1960 fair is destined to make history and everyone in the district is invited, not only to attend the fair, but to assist in making it a truly district event of importance.

GRAND PARADE

All business firms and organizations have been advised of prizes to be awarded for winners in the various sections of the grand parade, scheduled for the opening of Vermilion fair on the morning of Thursday, July 28. Children should also notice that there are opportunities for them to take part, this also applies to groups from the surrounding district, all of whom would be exceptionally welcome.

Witching or Witchcraft — Jim's Wizardry Recovers Diamond Rings

If such a thing had happened [illegible] Jim Johnson would have been accused of practicing witchcraft and been burned at the stake, but this incident, incredible as it seems, took place [illegible] Park lake on Friday afternoon in broad daylight. It is vouched for by a score of people who actually witnessed the recovery of two diamond rings from the bottom of the lake. The rings belonged to Mrs. John Wasylik and were located by [illegible] of witching by Jim Johnson. Two divers, Bob Williams and Gary Young, [illegible] to the bottom at the spot [illegible] and [illegible] had recovered both [illegible] from a depth of four feet of water made [illegible] you couldn't see two inches in front of you. It was a case of feel.

But to start at the beginning of the [illegible] On Thursday afternoon Mr and Mrs. John Wasylik [illegible] Park lake. [illegible] Wasylik and [illegible] diamond [illegible] missing. Only one conclusion could be drawn [illegible]

[illegible] the spot the two procured a rowboat, got permission to take [illegible] Bobby W[illegible] to do the diving.

Mr. Wasylik rowed slowly around, Jim Johnson held the two wires out parallel to each other [illegible] suddenly the witching wires crossed. The boat was brought to a standstill, the iron [illegible] to mark the spot and the young divers went to work. By and by after a succession of articles, mostly bobby pins, up came Gary with one of the rings. John pulled out a $10 bill and said, "This is yours, and there is another like it if you find the other ring." Down went the boys and presently up came Bob wild with excitement and clutching the second ring.

The boys each received $10, Jim Johnson received a like amount for his witchcraft - he had located the exact spot where Mrs. Wasylik had lost her rings.

[illegible] and Irene Wasylik are happy [illegible] not only were the rings [illegible] beautiful and [illegible] but have of course [illegible] value to the young people.

[illegible] have a remarkable [illegible]. If anyone loses any [illegible] of value contact Jim Johnson, who can really be classed as a wizard, and a real handy man to have around.

WE ARE FORTUNATE

Maybe we do not realize it, but in the eyes of visitors we people of Vermilion and district are very fortunate in having a beautiful park conveniently located right on our front doorstep. Not many people are so lucky. Two couples from Edmonton at the park opening last Sunday, told of having a desire for a picnic supper on one of the hot days last week. The catch was that there just was not a nearby spot in or about the city where they could go, where there would be a little room and some picnic conveniences provided. At Vermilion we have plenty of clean and beautiful spots, plus every picnic facility. Yes, we are fortunate.

Gas Export Creates 4500 Construction Jobs

As our huge gas export plans took shape and as gas men worked on winter crash construction programs, writes W. L. Dack in The Financial Post, the employment side of the projects looked like this:

1,200 men employed for the next three to five months on the Trans-Canada Pipe Lines job.

An estimated 800 to 1,000 construction and ancillary workers on the Alberta end of the Alberta-to-California pipeline project.

2,000 men on construction of gas processing plants in Alberta.

An estimated 400 men working throughout the winter to produce the necessary large diameter pipe.

Another 20 to 40 steelworkers producing the wide special plate to roll into pipe.

That's a conservative guess of 4,500 jobs this summer and fall, and maybe about 3,000 jobs during the 1960-61 winter.

Don't Be Afraid to Face Change

Change is inevitable and to try to prevent it is to shut out life itself, reports the July issue of Reader's Digest. We could spare ourselves much regret if we regarded change as a chance to grow. It is when we fail to change that we fall behind in living and our spirits age.

The best way to face changes is to welcome them. Don't waste time longing for the happiness of the past. It is possible for us to prepare for change by rethinking our habits, making small changes when we can, to keep us mentally alert and spiritually alive.

Day by day we can make small adaptations to keep us flexible and venturesome. Experiment with your daily routine. Do in the morning what you formerly did at night, and vice versa. Go by yourself where you are used to going with others. Walk where you usually ride.

Most important, try to do without as many things as you can. One thing that most pins us in ruts is our fondness for habitual comforts. Practise flexibility and your days will become eventful. You will be keeping up with life rather than letting it pass you by.

Letters to the Editor

PRAISE FOR VERMILION PARK

Dear Editor

Please allow me a little space to express the appreciation of my family and myself for the effort the citizens of Vermilion have put into the fine park and tourist area here. We camped overnight at the lovely campsite and enjoyed the boating and swimming. [illegible] have a beach and playground facilities of which a much larger [illegible] could well be proud. If I [illegible] be permitted one small bit of criticism just a few more signs put around would be a welcome to us travellers — otherwise we found everything very much to our liking.

We will be sure to call again whenever we pass here again. Thank you citizens of Vermilion.

Peter Zuederveen and family
Burstall Sask.

Visitors in Vermilion on Tuesday were Mr Jos Scruggs, MLA for the new constituency of Dunvegan in Northern Alberta, and Mrs. Scruggs. Their home is in Worsley and they were on their way to visit relatives in Minnesota. They spent the afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Cooper.

Don [illegible] of Worsley, Alta., is visiting his grandmother Mrs. [illegible] at the W J Cecil farm in the Dewberry district for a month.

"BULL POLICY"

There is no reason for scrub bulls on Alberta farms as long as the present Cattle Improvement Policy is in effect. Under this policy the Alberta Department of Agriculture assists legitimate farmers purchase pure bred sires. Policy "A" is usually a farm to farm deal under which the purchaser selects a bull and agrees on the price with the seller. The next step is to apply to the Livestock Branch through the D A office accompanied by a cheque (payable to the Provincial Treasurer) for the full amount of the bull. The assistance, 20 per cent of the cost of sire or $75, whichever is the smallest, is mailed to the purchaser upon completion of the transaction. On receipt of the application and cheque the Livestock Branch proceeds to inspect the bull for defects and value. The purchaser may move the bull only after inspection has been completed. Bulls must be between 12 and 48 months of age to come under this policy and deals are approved only between legitimate farmers. A farmer having used the policy once must wait for two breeding seasons before using the policy again.

Policy "A" may be used in another manner whereby a farmer who is unable to find a desirable herd sire or doesn't feel confident of his own judgment may apply to the Livestock Branch to purchase a bull for him. The purchaser sends an application to the Livestock Branch accompanied by a cheque payable to the Provincial Treasurer for the amount which should buy a bull. The Livestock Branch will apply the 20 per cent assistance, select the bull and deliver it to the farmer's nearest station. Inexperienced herdsmen have made great herd improvement using this bull buying service.

COW TESTING CENTRE VERMILION

Feed and labor represent 80 per cent of the cost of producing milk and cream. Thus any whole milk or big cream shipper must get the most out of feed and labor. In old fashioned talk, it takes no longer to milk a good cow than a poor one. Before a cow can be culled from a herd the herdsman must know which cows are poor producers. If enough farmers want this assistance the Alberta Department of Agriculture proposes to set up a cow testing centre at Vermilion. The service is meant for grade herds of milk and cream shippers but pure bred breeders may enter. The farmer using the service must check the production of his herd over a period of time. The Department of Agriculture will provide laboratory work and the advice of Alberta's cow testing supervisor.

This service will become available only if enough farmers request it from the District Agriculturist.

FEED

What I wouldn't have done to have had some grass last winter. Groups of farmers may be heard saying [illegible] everywhere. Last year is history but in this year of [illegible] perhaps an extra trench silo full of [illegible] or a couple of extra green feed stacks could hold a little reserve for another year. If it is silage, take precautions against leaching and top spoilage. If six inches of silage are saved on top with some plastic the plastic cover has more than paid for itself. If it's stacked hay or bundles don't forget to really tramp a heart into that stack.

A new silage [illegible] is available upon request from the D.A. office.

FARM BOYS AND GIRLS CAMPS

The Lloydminster Exhibition and the Vermilion Agricultural Society annually sponsor Farm Boys' and Girls' camps. The camps last one week involving study, dancing, swimming and three days at the fair. Both camps can still accommodate a few more boys and girls. To attend Lloydminster, contact Mr Alf Mansel. To attend Vermilion, contact Mr. Carl Heckbert.

ASSISTANT TRANSFERRED

Mr. Edward Dobko who has been assistant district agriculturist at Vermilion for the past year has been transferred to Lacombe. A heavy summer program has been planned and many farmers are going to find Morley Douglas [illegible] difficult to locate. Morley will be in the Vermilion office all day Tuesday, Thursday morning and Friday afternoon. He will be in Lloydminster every Thursday afternoon around 2:00 p. m. until further assistance is available.

SUMMER TIME . . .
SALAD TIME —

During the summer months salad greens are at their best. Use your ingenuity in the choice of ingredients, vary the combinations often and season them well. If salad greens have been washed carefully and stored in a cold place they will remain crisp. Vary your salad dressings too. Try a French dressing with a tossed green salad or serve sour cream dressing on cabbage salad.

Your family will like —

GARDEN SALAD BOWL

10 radishes, sliced
½ cup sliced green onions
1 bunch watercress
1 cup chopped celery
1 cucumber, diced
French dressing

Combine vegetables and toss together lightly with French dressing. Serves 6.

VARIATIONS OF CABBAGE SALAD

Make any of the following additions to shredded cabbage using dressing to moisten.

Add ½ cup chopped green pepper.

For a change, use equal amounts of green and red cabbage. Add cheese cut in one-quarter inch cubes or grate if you wish. Add ½ teaspoon dry mustard to the dressing. Sections of pineapple make a welcome addition to cabbage salad. Thinly sliced onion rings or sliced green onions combine well with cabbage.

For a more colorful salad, tear spinach into bite size pieces and combine it with grated carrots and shredded cabbage.

SOUR CREAM DRESSING

1 cup thick sour cream
2 tablespoons white vinegar
1 tablespoon grated onion
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar (if desired)
Few grains of pepper

Combine all ingredients. Chill thoroughly. Makes 1½ cups.

For more salad suggestions write or call in at my office for the publications "[illegible]", and "The Salad Bowl".

Sixteen Years Ago

July 13, 1944

Harness racing has been arranged for the Vermilion fair. On Thursday there will be a Novice race for green horses; on Friday, a trot or pace race, and on Saturday there will be a free-for-all.

The town council is now studying an extensive sidewalk building program which calls for the construction of 24 blocks of cement walk within the next seven years. The cost will be divided between the town and property owners. There will be six blocks laid in 1944 and three blocks in each of the six succeeding years. By that time the incoming tax will be sufficient to carry the cost of new construction in perpetuity.

Capt. C. W. Stephens has been promoted to Senior Medical Officer of a group of units overseas.

Gordon Park was elected to the council, Town of Vermilion, by acclamation, on nomination day, to complete the unexpired term of W. M. Dalgleish.

Mrs. J. J. Knoll and family left last week for Edmonton where they will make their home in future.

32 Years Ago

July 12, 1928

The site of the new high school will be in block 46 in the west end of town.

A new cement walk is being laid from the Bank of Commerce to the Imperial Bank.

Early sown wheat is well headed out. The entire province is benefiting from general rains.

40 YEARS AGO

July 15, 1920

The Church of England building at Wellsdale has been moved over three miles by B. King to a site across the road from the Wellsdale school.

Secretary J W G Morrison of the board of trade is [illegible] some [illegible] data for a [illegible] advertising pamphlet for the town.

Old timers in the news are G. E. Hayward, Mr. and Mrs. Cedric Morris, H P Long, R. C. Pinkney, P. G. Pilkie, A. W. Rowbrough, Jas. Robinson, R. L. Craig. All were on trips here and there.

Twenty pupils are attending the Wellsdale school with Mr. McNaught the teacher.

Rev Mr Lapount is in charge of the missionary field at Wellsdale, succeeding Mr. [illegible] who has moved to Dewberry.

Lora (Childs) Smith Renews Acquaintances in Vermilion; Recalls Childhood Experience

The lady, who as a child caused more commotion than any other citizen in the history of Vermilion, is visiting in town this week. She is Mrs. William Smith, now of Novato, California, but will be well remembered as Lora Childs, only child of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Childs, formerly of Vermilion.

Lora, when only 32 months old, wandered away unnoticed from a berry-picking group on the [illegible] Haddatz farm, located three miles north-east of Vermilion. She apparently wanted to go home, and with an unerring sense of direction travelled across country towards town, only to be foiled by the Vermilion River. Tired from her two and a half mile hike, she lay down in the long grass under a thick willow bush and fell fast asleep. By evening she was the object of a widespread search. Not knowing in which direction she had wandered, long lines of searchers spread out in every direction from the farm. The search went on all night with every lantern in the hardware stores and farms commandeered for use. From 11 p.m. to 2 a.m. a violent storm of wind, rain, thunder and lightning raged, but Lora had chosen her spot well and was protected by the thick, bushy willow tree.

Lora Childs at 32 months.

A small "X" marks the spot on the river bank where Lora spent the stormy night and was found next day.

Morning came, and the sight revealed was a moving one. [illegible] of hundreds of people, joined hand in hand, could be seen in the distances, while with the coming of daylight, saddle horses and riders were pressed into the search, combing every foot of the country. It was on Saturday, July 24th, 1920, when Lora disappeared and at approximately 1:00 o'clock on the Sunday afternoon she was found by Alf Pinchbeck who was patrolling the riverbank on horseback. Approximately eighteen hours had elapsed and apparently the little girl had slept most of that time. She was not unduly perturbed and did not appear upset or nervous. Over 400 people took part in the search.

Mrs. Smith, in company with her husband Bill and two daughters, Jan 16 years and Gwen 13, arrived by car on Saturday and spent until Thursday morning renewing many old friendships. She left here 34 years ago now and this is her first return but she found many former playmates and friends of the family who gave her and the family a really royal welcome. Lora is teaching school, while her husband is a school superintendent.

During their stay in Vermilion they were guests at the home of Miss Beth Witherbe, being entertained as well at the town and farm homes of many friends.

Very Successful Blood Donor Clinic

Mr J H Stockbridge, [illegible] of the local branch of the Red Cross Society, reports a very successful blood donor clinic Tuesday of last week.

Mr Stockbridge wishes to thank the various organizations and individuals for their help in operating the clinic.

The Vermilion Registered Nurses' Association supplied quite a number of local nurses to assist in the clinic. The Canadian Legion donated the use of the hall and the ladies' Auxiliary of the Legion attended to the luncheon. The Vermilion Standard gave wonderful publicity to the effort, while Vermilion Beverages donated soft drinks for use at the clinic.

Thanks also go out to the work of five men who handled the supplies into the hall and back into the Red Cross van.

The Red Cross [illegible] is very grateful to Vermilion Branch of Canadian Legion for taking charge of the listing of blood donors.

Some new street lights have been put up in Harrington Heights and Stanley Park districts.

Former Vermilion Couple Celebrate 40th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William Howson who farmed in the Rosswood district south of Vermilion from 1927 to 1937, and then moved to Edmonton, [illegible] 40th wedding anniversary on July 4th.

Friends here will recall that Mr. and Mrs. William Howson came from Burnley, Lancashire, England to Vermilion in 1927.

Living here until 1937 they moved to Edmonton where Mr. Howson is superintendent of the education building at the University of Alberta. Mrs. Howson is a member of the Auxiliary of the St. Joseph's Hospital. Their address in the city is 10832 - 72nd avenue.

From April until June 30th Mrs. Howson along with her daughter Mrs. Mary Trendell, have been in England visiting relatives and friends in their old home town.

The bride and groom of 40 years received many cards, gifts and flowers in honor of the anniversary.

Three Masonic Lodges In Joint Installation of Officers

The Masonic Lodges of Mannville, Kitscoty and Vermilion installed the incoming officers at a joint ceremony held in the Vermilion Masonic Temple on Friday. Close to one hundred brethren from the three lodges, in company with a large number of visitors attended the interesting and very well conducted ceremony.

In charge of the installation were brethren of the Kitscoty Lodge, with Worshipful Brother John Spence as Installing Master and Worshipful Brother Albert Hounck as director of ceremonies. The work was beautifully administered.

During the ceremony V. Worshipful Brother S. C. Heckbert and W. Bro. C. T. Heckbert, master-elect, made a presentation to Vermilion Lodge which was received by the immediate past master, Ashley Cooper.

Following the ceremony a bountiful lunch was served by the Vermilion members, with Bro. Chris Oester of Kitscoty acting [illegible].

The officers installed for each lodge were:

Shower Honors Bride-Elect

The Chatsworth Community Centre was the scene of a happy gathering on Thursday evening, June 30th, when friends gathered to honor Miss Maggie Dodd, bride-elect of David Tovell, at a miscellaneous shower. During the evening there were games, singing, and the presentation of a wagonload of gifts, drawn in by two little friends. After the opening of the gifts, the crowd was thanked by Miss Dodd and David. Mr. J. Morlog extended the wishes of the gathering for a very happily married life to Maggie and David.

Darlene Pichota Has Champion Calf at Myrnam 4-H Club Show

The highlight of another 4-H club project year was the Myrnam - Beauvallon Beef Club Achievement day on July 4th in the Beauvallon skating rink.

Mr Ashley Cooper, M. L. A., was present to officially open the show. Mr. Jack Harcus, Farm Manager at the Vermilion School of Agriculture, was the official judge. Showmanship was judged by District Agriculturist Wm. Dent.

The Grand Champion calf was shown by first year member, Darlene Pichota of the Beauvallon club. Albert Ewanciw showed the Myrnam Champion and the Reserve Grand Champion of the show. Eddie Pichota had the Reserve Champion in the Beauvallon club and Emil Yaremchuk had the Myrnam Reserve Champion.

In the Myrnam club, winners for showmanship were as follows: 1st, Albert Ewanciw; 2nd, Sylvia Yourwyshyn 3rd, Oswald Yaremchuk. Larry Wowk was the best showman in the Beauvallon club, with Adolph Sasiliw receiving second prize and Billy Hladenwich, third.

Following the judging, lunch was served by the mothers of the Beauvallon club members and short talks were given by Mr. Paul Ewanciw, Myrnam club leader, Mr. John Yackimec, Beauvallon club leader, Mr. Cooper and Mr. Dent.

The show was followed by the sale on July 5 at the Edmonton stockyards with Don Ball as auctioneer. Calves were purchased by O. A. Brown, the Alberta Livestock Co-op., Weiller and Williams, Gainers, Burns, Swifts and Canada Packers. The top price was 25 cents for the Grand Champion with the Reserve Grand Champion 24½ cents. Twenty-five calves were sold for an average price of $22.12.

Vermilion Cardinals Win League Game, Lose Exhibition Tilts

Edith Miller's home run helped the Vermilion Cardinals girls' fastball team to a decisive win over Kitscoty 12 to 6 in their game on July 7. This was a league game with a battery of Eva Gordey and Peggy Leversedge in action.

DOUBLE-HEADER JULY 10

Lloydminster and Kitscoty were the opposition for the Cardinals in double - header exhibition games on Sunday, July 10th. Perhaps because they weren't league games the girls appeared too relaxed and lost both encounters 13 to 11 against Lloydminster and only 4 runs to 16 in the second game of the day played with Kitscoty.

The girls came back out in front against Kitscoty in a close league game on July 12 edging the Kitscoty contingent out by a score of 9 to 8. Gladys Jackitz and Peggy Leversedge turned in a good performance as the [illegible].

There has been a good attendance at the Cardinal games, especially when they play in Vermilion on Sunday. You are invited to turn out and give the girls your support and to watch some good ball at their next home game, Dewberry at Vermilion, on Wednesday, July 20.

Rotary Club Starts New Year

The meeting of the Rotary Club on Friday was devoted to the new officers and directors giving outlines of their plans for the ensuing year of activity.

Ross Boake touched on membership and set five new members as the objective of the club. The club has recently lost three members due to moving away from town. Bill Sutherland spoke on club service while Aldous Kent outlined vocational service.

Two missing directors Gordon Ross and Alex Palin were absent and will be heard from at a later date.

Harry Aimoe of the Vegreville Club outlined plans for a highway safety booth at the Vermilion fair.

Visiting Rotarians were Harry Aimoe from Vegreville, Jonathan Fox and Archie Little from Lloydminster.

Ghosts Over-Confident; Blow Game in Sixth

Once again the Ghosts started off on the right feet only to blow certain victory in the late innings. The boys travelled to Innisfree in the final game, the ceeded to roll over the opposition, winning the first two games 21 - 3 and 8 - 6. Matched against Innisfree in the final game, the locals looked like sure winners going into the 6th with a 2 - 0 lead. The Ghosts got a bit over-confident and the roof fell in with Innisfree scoring six runs. The Innisfree boys then proceeded to have three Ghosts fly out in order in the 7th to win 6 - 2.

The Ghosts have lost three times as many games as they did last season, with errors and weak hitting the cause of most of their defeats. The cause could be put down to lack of practise. Even the three or four who do turn up to practise do not get much good out of it because there are not enough players for a full scale work out.

Trip to Grande Prairie?

The Ghosts are looking forward to a trip to Grande Prairie and a provincial championship, but its going to take more effort on everybodys part than has been shown so far.

Grand Opening of Hub Cafe Slated For Saturday, July 16

Caron Family Starts New Modern Restaurant

For some time now the citizens of Vermilion have watched with interest the developments in the premises to the west of the former post office building. It has been evident that a new, modern and attractive cafe has been taking shape in the building previously occupied by Dixon's Ladies' Wear and Krause Flowers.

This Saturday, July 16th, the public is cordially invited by Mr. and Mrs. George Caron to be their guests at the official opening of the Hub Cafe. From 1:30 to 4:30 on Saturday afternoon, July 16th, free doughnuts and coffee will be proffered to the visitors, with cokes and balloons given to the kiddies who are accompanied by their parents.

After five o'clock this Saturday, a full course turkey dinner will be available for only $1.25 as the opening day special.

The public is encouraged to inspect the premises in the cafe section, the kitchen, and the modern dining room to the back of the building.

The cafe, with 13 counter stools and booths providing seating accommodation for forty patrons, will be able to serve as many as fifty three at one time. The long counter encloses a serving area backed by mahogany finished walls and fitted out with the latest and best quick lunch equipment.

The summer heat and sun glare of the south exposure of the cafe is attractively excluded with vertical venetian blinds in colors of beige and fawn, with the added protection of a honeycomb canopy as an awning extending almost entirely over the sidewalk in front of the cafe building.

In the winter the venetian blinds can be opened to give a bright and cheery light to the colorful walls, the turquoise with gold fleck of the arborite tops on counter and tables and to the gleaming tiled floor. The kitchen is completely furnished with the latest and most efficient of restaurant food service equipment.

To reach the dining room behind the kitchen, a spacious corridor has been provided for passage from the cafe to the dining area, 25 by 41 feet in size. The cross ventilation arrangements ensure cool comfort, even when the dining room is filled with wedding guests, club members or any other organization or group wishing to enjoy an excellent meal in privacy.

All these renovations, additions and modern equipment are the result of a desire of George and Dora Caron to cater to the refreshment needs of the citizens of Vermilion and district, as well as meal service to the tourists who are coming to Vermilion in ever-increasing numbers.

The Carons have been a part of Vermilion for many years. By coincidence both George and Dora came to Vermilion in the same year, 1907, Dora being a member of the Eyben family.

George and Dora were married the latter part of the 1920's and made their home on a farm in the Autumn Leaf district.

In 1939 Mr. Caron started his own contracting business, moving with their three children, Jean, Kay and Ken, to Vermilion to live.

George retired from the contracting business insofar as building for other people is concerned, early this year, but he has personally supervised and worked along with the crews who have enlarged, renovated and adapted the former dress and flower shops to convert them into Vermilion's new and commodious cafe.

Dora has had plenty of food service experience in her work in the curling club, the church and the many other organizations that she has wholeheartedly supported in this and other ways.

Mr and Mrs. Caron and staff extend a sincere and hearty welcome to those who come to share in their opening day celebrations, and to serve them in the future with the best of food and refreshments. The Hub cafe will be open for business starting Saturday, each week, Monday through Friday, from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m.; on Saturdays from 7 a.m. until midnight. They will be closed all day Sunday for the months of July and August.

Mrs. Ruby Larsen Elected Hon. Royal Lady of O.O.R.P.

At the June meeting of the Order of the Royal Purple, the officers for the ensuing year were installed by Past Honored Royal Lady Lillian Smith, assisted by Jean Cross. Following the installation ceremony a social hour and coffee were enjoyed at the home of June Jones.

The new officers installed were: Honored Royal Lady — Ruby Larsen, Associate Royal Lady Esther Stephens, Royal Lady Rosella Neis, Lecturing Lady - Jo McCaig, Pianist — Helen Bell, Conductress - Edith Waldenberger, Treas. - Nellie Jensen, Secretary Ann Winter, Chaplain Mary Keys, Historian Fay Park, Inner Guard Anne Reddeck, Outer Guard Eileen Young, Trustee, Evelyn Carell, Past Honored Royal Lady — June Jones.

Special Week At VSA Planned For Farm Women

Farm Women's Week will be Agriculture from July 18 to 21, held at the Vermilion School of inclusive. The program will include lectures and demonstrations on subjects varying from sewing techniques to space travel.

Of interest to most people will be a talk on Poison Control to be given by J. Brown of the department of health. Mr Brown will discuss the new poison control centres in the province. Making the Most of Refrigerator and Freezer is a cooking demonstration to be given by Mrs. Sylvia Scott (Dianne Watt) of Canadian Utilities. It Depends On the Weather will be the subject of a talk by J. Kimtid, meteorologist with the department of transport.

Buyer: Be Informed, Be Wary, Be Provident, is the topic chosen for a panel discussion. Current consumer problems and ways to solve them will be pointed out by Mrs. B. Morlin, provincial president of CAC. R. G. Brown, secretary manager of the Edmonton Better Business Bureau will mention possible financial traps and how to avoid them, while various angles of credit and life insurance will be discussed by Dr J. Ackerman, economist with the department of agriculture.

At the banquet, Dr C. Heath, associate professor of physiology, University of Alberta, and member of the Defence Research Board and advisory panel on aviation and space medicine, will speak on The Home That Space Built, pertaining to space travel and life on another planet.

Women from both rural and urban centres are invited to attend all or part of Farm Women's Week. Those within driving distance can come on the day either individually or in groups. The Thursday afternoon program and the topic for the banquet speech have been specially planned to appeal to husbands.

Further information regarding programs and accommodation can be obtained from district home economists, the principal of the Vermilion School of Agriculture or from the extension service of the department of agriculture, Edmonton.

Lynda Long Married At Calgary In Double-Ring Ceremony

Rev. Paton officiated at the recent double-ring wedding uniting Miss Lynda Louise Long and Mr. Wayne Shirvell at a ceremony in Ogden United church, Calgary.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Long of Vermilion, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Shirvell of Calgary.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Brenda Black of Calgary was the bride's attendant, and the best man was Mr. Brian Scott, also of Calgary.

After the ceremony a supper party was held at the Stampede hotel, with a reception at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Moss.

Following a trip to Banff and Radium the young couple will reside at 6420-19th St., S.E., Calgary.

ATTENDS GIDEON CONVENTION

Hartley Sorenson attended the 49th annual convention of Gideons International of Canada, held in Winnipeg July 7th to 10th.

This year's convention broke all previous records in attendance. Members were present from most Canadian camps as well as New Zealand and United States.

Mr. Sorenson is the Northern Alberta Zone Leader.

Mrs. J.W. Waldenberger is visiting her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. Martyn in Edmonton for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson of Detroit, Mich., who had planned to be in Vermilion to speak at the Gospel Hall, on July 13th, have had to change their arrangements, and will be here to speak at the Gospel Hall on Tuesday, July 19.

Mr. and Mrs. George Chambers and Miss Mary Chambers returned to Vancouver after spending a week with Mrs. Chambers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim McLoughlin. They also visited Emmet, Francis, Len and Pat McLoughlin at Mannville.

Guests in Vermilion on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fuller of Edmonton. Mr. Campbell is director of the Alberta Travel Bureau and Mr. Fuller is a member of that same department.

Mr. and Mrs. Milo Fleming and family returned recently from an eight-day motor trip to Vancouver via the Hart highway. They visited with Milo's mother, Mrs. Perry Hannigan and Mr Hannigan in Vancouver, returning by way of the Okanagan Valley, the Big Bend, Banff and Calgary.

LOCAL NEWS

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Calder announce the engagement of their daughter Agnes Johanna to Harold James Wall, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wall of Edmonton. The wedding is to take place at McQueen Memorial United church at Mannville on July 30th at 2 p.m. The wedding reception will be held at the bride's home from 3 to 5, and from 7 to 9 p.m. Friends and neighbors will please accept this as their invitation.

Mrs. Martha Washington has just returned from St. Paul's hospital in Saskatoon having received medical attention to her eye. By a coincidence her nurse was a Vermilion born girl, Miss Marion McInnes, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nellie McInnes, now of Wilkie, Sask., but formerly of Clandonald. Marion is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Doherty of Vermilion.

A post card was recently received by Mr. and Mrs. George Ronaghan at Creston, B.C., from Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Sherwood and Bev who are visiting in England. On the card is a picture of the ship on which they sailed, the "Ivernia". The card was sent from Kirkby-in-Ashfield, Nottingham. The travellers report the weather as hot and dry but they are having a truly wonderful time following a perfect trip across the ocean.

Hugh Rose writes the Standard and informs them that he has now moved back to Vancouver from Victoria. He wants his paper changed right away and says that he follows the cattle prices as carried in the advertisement of Clarence Lavig at the Auction Mart, but he thinks that Joe Green or Freeman French should list the prices being paid for hogs. Hugh's Vancouver address is 1150 Broughton St. Vancouver, suite 103, box 103.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Burdett over the week-end were their daughter Jean and Mr. Don Young from Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil McTaggart of North Battleford and Mrs. Edith McTaggart of Kitscoty were visitors in Vermilion on Friday last.

Lois Cooper is in Edmonton this week visiting her sister Mrs. Victor Kusch, Mr Kusch, and Murray.

Mrs. Lydia Deschot, formerly of the Minburn-Vermilion Health Unit staff, spent a few days visiting in Vermilion this week. She was en route from Creston B.C., to a new position at Saskatoon, Sask.

Mrs. H. Elliott went to Redwater Tuesday where she will visit at the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stack for the next three weeks.

At Kapasiwin Anglican Church camp for ten days are Dana and Janice Cooper.

Miss Marjorie Stack of Redwater is spending a few days in Vermilion, the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Ken Urquhart.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Clendenning have been away on a motor trip through various parts of Alberta this week.

Miss Ann Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Stewart, is visiting at home, on holiday from her teaching duties in Edmonton.

Mrs. Bernie Ackerman and sons David and Richard of Camrose were week-end visitors in Vermilion. Bernie is in Toronto, Ontario, on business, and Bob Ackerman is working here in Vermilion. Richard's pal, Derek Beatty, returned to Camrose with the Ackermans to spend part of his holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bremerick and little daughter of Lodgepole, Alberta, are spending this week visiting the latter's mother, Mrs. Grace Hawreliuk and other relatives in Vermilion. They are returning home this Friday.

Mrs. Wm. Holt of Longview, Alberta, is spending a couple of weeks with her sister and family, Mrs. Jack Brown, in Vermilion.

Mr and Mrs Walter Robinson and family moved to Wainwright on July 2nd, where they plan to reside in future. Walter has been working in Wainwright for the past eight or nine months.

Mr and Mrs. Albert R. Harrison of Tacoma, Wash., who lived in Vermilion in the early years of the town, leaving in 1925, visited here last week.

Guests of Mr and Mrs. E. A. Locke during the week-end were the latter's sister and husband, Mr and Mrs. Cliff Forge of Holden, and Duncan Locke of Calgary.

Geo. Mead Finds Natural Deep Freeze

The warm days of this week make it hard to realize that the citizens of Vermilion and district have much in common with the Eskimos.

But Steve Warawa, working on the George Mead farm 9 miles north and 4 miles east of Vermilion, dug down to a hardness that could almost qualify as perma frost.

In digging ditches for water and sewer pipes on the Mead farm, Steve found the ground was frozen solid from a distance of 5'6" to 9'6" below the surface, on the north side of, and under, buildings. The frost layer tapered out only after a distance of 20 feet to the north of the buildings.

Well, we might as well enjoy the heat. It seems to be only a fleeting impression here.

Leave For Overseas Service

George and Marian Burdett, son David 14 months old and son Donald 3 weeks, who have spent the past two weeks visiting at the home of the former's parents, Mr and Mrs. Sid Burdett, left on Monday on the first step of a journey which will take them to Germany. George is a member of the R C A F and has been posted in Edmonton. He is now being transferred to Germany for a period of four years and is being accompanied by his wife and two little boys. In Germany Mr. Burdett will be stationed at 4 wing R C A F, Cage 5056, C.A.F.E. The trip overseas is on board the S.S. Arcadia which sails on Friday, July 15th.

In the period 1953-59 certificates of Canadian Citizenship were granted 226,304 new Canadians. But one look at Canada's sparsely settled areas and the economic smallness of the home market indicates the great need for more of these people.

Sunday, July 10th marked a special day for members of the Perdue, Hughes, Woods and McLuckie families when thirty-four of them gathered at Elk Island park for a family reunion. A cabin was rented for the day and the time was profitably spent in reminiscing about old times and partaking of lunch.

LIVESTOCK REPORT

Receipts for Tuesday, July 12 at the Vermilion Auction Mart were slightly lower than previous weeks. Prices, however, were all on the higher side. On offering were 59 cattle and 185 hogs.

Good slaughter cows found a ready outlet.

Choice cows up to $15.20 cwt.
[illegible] cows up to $14.80 cwt.
[illegible] cows up to $11.75 cwt.
Bulls averaged $14.70 cwt.

Veal calves under 250 lbs. up to $26.50 per cwt.

The stocker and feeder cattle were in good demand but receipts were light. One group sold at $21.50 per cwt. with average weight of 385 lbs.

Hogs were stronger, good weaner hogs bringing up to $13.00. Feeders sold by the cwt. up to $19.75 per cwt. Brood sows averaged $51.00.

We have some exceptionally good buyers on hand now for feeder cattle and hogs. Please have all animals in before 12:00 noon if possible.

Travel Bureau Officials Attend Opening Of Vermilion Provincial Park

4,000 Throng Park For Opening Summer Season

Attendance at the official opening of the park for the summer season on Sunday was really fantastic. Conservative estimates place the crowd at from 3800 to 4000, with 900 cars in the parking area and in the scores of favorite picnic spots about the park. The crowds came early and stayed for the entire day, despite the fact that two heavy showers poured down for a few minutes each during the afternoon.

DAN CAMPBELL OFFERS SUGGESTIONS

Mr. Dan Campbell, director of the Alberta Travel Bureau, was present as guest speaker. In his remarks he stated that many places catering came up with a unique idea all of their own. For instance, Vermilion could make Friday "Apple Pie Day" at the park. This could be done by Vermilion housewives making an apple pie and giving it to a tourist who was staying at the park. Word of such an idea carried out would soon spread the length and width of Canada and beyond.

Speaking briefly during the program were C. J. McCormick, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce and convener of the parks program committee, Mayor Melvin Hill, Ashley Cooper, M.L.A. and Ken Urquhart of the local parks committee.

LEN McDONALD PACKS THEM IN

Len McDonald again as last year, attracted a huge crowd and despite the rain showers, the [illegible]. Len and his eight Saddle Tramps sang, played, danced a little, talked and produced a crowd-pleasing program. The ever-popular Len promised his huge audience that he would come back again next year.

Len introduced Becky Swan, who sang and played two well-rendered and enthusiastically received numbers.

A FULL DAY'S PROGRAM

A water safety display conducted by Don Brown of the Red Cross in the swim area; two ladies' fastball games reported elsewhere; a horseshoe tourney; and selections on the pipes by Piper Donald MacClellan completed the arranged program.

The day's program was sponsored by the Vermilion Rotary Club.

Viewed from vantage points on the north hill, the park presented a really beautiful and [illegible] sight.

McLean-Kvill Duo Prove the Best Horseshoe Tossers

The horse shoe tournament at the Vermilion provincial park last Sunday attracted players from as far as Two Hills, Cold Lake and Marwayne besides the [illegible] visitors from Mannville to compete with the local experts for the two prizes offered.

After about two hours of intensive pitching (they didn't even stop for two heavy rain showers) two teams emerged with all wins and were pitted against each other for first and second prize. At this deciding game all the spectators were on their toes, watching with bated breath as the scores piled up on one side or the other, as the teams were evenly matched.

After a closely contested game the local champ Lloyd McLean with his equally proficient partner Dave Kvill from Marwayne, emerged as winners of the first prize, while the two doughty Scots, Don MacClellan and Dan MacMullen from Vermilion took second money.

Despite the fact that the tourney went on during the last half of the Saddle Tramps performance in the band shell, there was a considerable number watching as the ten pairs of horse shoe tossers battled for the top honors.

The horse shoe players want to toss a little bouquet into the lap of Ken Urquhart, who on very short notice, got the pitches in to excellent shape for the tourney and provided a new pair of shoes. Watch the Standard for notice of further tournaments.

Who Says Reducing Is Difficult?

CALGARY, ALBERTA. "I want to tell you how pleased I am with the Naran Plan. I have never found it easier to take off those unwanted pounds. I feel so much better, have more energy and for the first time in years I don't have that heavy bloated feeling after eating. The Naran Plan is truly grand for anyone who has tried as I have to lose weight and given up because of starvation diets or tiring exercises." [illegible] Hergert, 22nd Ave., [illegible] Alta.

Why suffer the discomforts and embarrassment of overweight when it is so easy to reduce with the Naran Plan. Try this simple method and enjoy the flattering looks you will receive from your friends as pounds and years seem to melt away from your appearance.

Get the Naran Plan from your druggist today, it is simple and sold on a money back guarantee.

CAMERA INTRIGUES SOPRANO. Talented young opera singer Teresa Stratas is interested in the cameraman's view of the shooting stage between "takes" of a filmed interview with her at the National Film Board in Montreal. Miss Stratas is one of several entertainment stars interviewed for two half-hour films examining artistic development in Canada. Some of the others appearing in "The Performer" are John Drainie, Frances Hyland, Oscar Peterson, Celia Franca and Christopher Plummer.

"COMMANDO TANK RIDE" Most youngsters like to play at being in the army and for them, America's finest midway provides the Commando Tank Ride. Exact replicas of the famous Sherman tanks used in [illegible], each of these little tanks rumbles along on caterpillar treads complete in every detail even to the blazing machine guns mounted fore and aft. This particular kiddie ride is close to the heart of Bernard Thomas, owner of mighty Art B. Thomas Shows, because he was a tank commander in the "Battle of the Bulge" in the U.S. Army during World War 2. 3-4

Valuable Dogs Are Poisoned

Two valuable dogs owned by residents of Vermilion have died from poisoning during the past week or two. Indications are that the poison was planted by person or persons, with one of the owners having strong suspicions as to who was responsible.

The dogs included a pure bred collie owned by Clarence Hedgson and a pure bred Weimaraner owned by Ray Jones. The collie had never been out of the yard except on a leash so was fed the poison right in the yard. The dog was a gift to Mr. and Mrs. Hedgson from their family while Ray's dog was the constant companion of his son Donnie.

Indications are that it was strychnine poison that was used. If so, anyone planting it can be charged under the Criminal Code as it is extremely dangerous to humans. It is also a very cruel poison, causing much suffering to the animal consuming it.

Up The Ladder Behind the Counter

Here's a note for the kids who have finished school and are looking around for their first job, comments The Financial Post.

The Canadian Retail Federation is launching a drive to expand training facilities for retail saleswomen — and it's out to change the public image of retailing as a career that leads nowhere.

It's time, indeed, that it did both. For too long the customer has had to bear the tactless and unaccommodating sales clerk. Sloppy dealings over the counter have been frustrating both the retailer and the public for years.

But the truth about retailing is this. It's one of the places where employment is growing fastest. It is one of the places where there is now reasonably rapid advancement and very satisfying careers for ambitious young people.

Now that the industry has recognized that it has a problem, it's halfway to solving it. If it does spend a lot more money on training it will be obvious both to the public and to the promising youngsters that this, indeed, is a career to go after.

Derwent Canvasses For X-Ray Clinic

DERWENT — Sponsored locally by the community at large, the Mobile TB chest X-ray unit will visit Derwent in the near future.

The cost of staffing and operating the mobile X-ray units is borne equally by the Provincial Government and the Alberta Tuberculosis Association. The X-ray equipment and vehicle are supplied to the Government by the Alberta Tuberculosis Association out of the proceeds from the sale of Christmas seals.

Mr J. H. Anderson, director of surveys, Alberta T.B. Association, was in the district making preliminary arrangements for the mass chest X-ray survey. A house-to-house canvass will be conducted to register every family in Derwent and community. All persons four years of age and up will be included in this registration.

In charge of the program are Mrs E. Boyko, Mrs E. Nischo, Mrs F. Mudryk, Mrs A. Zarecki and Mrs A. McConnell.

The area to be covered in the survey will be school bus routes.

You can safeguard yourself and your family by participating in this community survey. Do not fail to attend the clinic.

Time and location of the unit in the district will be announced in the Standard as soon as the pre-registration of each family is completed.

Community Television, Sales and Service, Invites Public To Grand Opening This Saturday

The Community Television, Sales and Service, has announced the opening of their business on Saturday, July 16th. They have renovated the building formerly known as McLaughlin's Self-Serve Grocery, and will have a display of three major lines of television and radio receivers, Phillips, Dumont and Admiral.

Free coffee and doughnuts will be served this Saturday to those who care to come in for a look around. The public is cordially invited to view the television, radio and outboard motors that will be on display.

Community Television will also be in the marine supply business with an agency for the sale of Scott outboard motors and other boating equipment needs.

Al Anderson and Bill Severyn, who have been working in Vegreville, are the partners owning and managing Community Television. They will specialize in prompt, efficient servicing of television sets, radios, and all makes of outboard motors.

Al Anderson has had 15 years experience in radio service work, with eight years in TV. He has completed a course in marine motor work to augment his experience with outboard motors.

Bill Severyn, who is the sales manager of Community Television, has already made his home in Vermilion with his wife and two daughters. Al Anderson's family are still living in Vegreville.

The former Wiebe Flour Mill is being quickly dismantled by Ackerman Construction Ltd. The lumber is being salvaged and the property will be offered for sale.

Historic Wiebe Flour Mill Comes Tumbling Down

Despite the fact that the building has not been used as a flour mill since 1953, the dismantling of the old Wiebe flour mill severs a very definite connection with the past that will be remembered by many living in town and country. Old timers as far away as Irma, Innisfree, Elk Point, Lea Park, Vanesti, Kitscoty and Wainwright, will make the remark: "I remember when I took my grist there by team. We camped for a day or two or three in the wide open spaces about the mill and then returned to the farm with the winter's supply of flour". Wiebe's mill served a large territory and the quality of the flour turned out was known far and wide.

It was away back in 1909 that negotiations were started by W. R. "Bill" Wiebe to build a flour mill in Vermilion. In 1910 the business was operating and proving a boon to the community and a great attraction for the town, bringing to it a flourishing plant, an example of small industry for which there is a decided need today. The mill was operated by "W. R." who remained its manager as long as the plant was in operation. The mill ceased to manufacture flour in 1953. The owner and manager Mr. Wiebe passed away in 1954.

The historic building was sold to Ackerman Construction in 1955, remodelled and used as office, workshop and storage quarters by that business for some time. With the moving away of the head office of the company to Camrose Mr Ackerman decided to dismantle the big structure and use the lumber for other buildings. The valuable site will be for sale as soon as the lots are cleared.

However, in the intervening years a real history was unfolded. The milling business ran along in an era of prosperity right up to August 3rd, 1941, so much so that a second mill had been erected at Myrnam, to the north on the C.P.R. line, practically a duplicate of the Vermilion plant. On Aug. 3, 1941, during a severe electrical storm, the mill was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. Realizing that he could handle all of the business in one mill, Mr Wiege undertook to move the huge building and all equipment from Myrnam to Vermilion, and then to reassemble structure and plant.

It was not until 1943 that he could interest anyone to undertake to move the mill the fifty miles across country, and to set it up again. It was in that year that a young engineer, just back from overseas, Harry Nelson, undertook the job. Not only did he undertake it, but by cutting the mill into two pieces, top and bottom halves, he accomplished the marvellous feat and in November of 1943 the mill was in full operation.

Now in Vermilion

However, the days of farmers hauling grain to be ground to flour were over, and the larger mills, few and far between then it is true, were meeting the demand for flour. There was a revival of business following the war years when the whole world was crying for bread, and every flour mill, big and small, was needed to help meet that demand. In this period flour was shipped from the Wiebe mill to many distant parts of the world. By 1953 the world hunger was apparently met and the day of the rural flour mill was passed. The need for the big plant, which had meant so much to the prosperity of Vermilion for close to half a century was over . . . the era had been written into history and sadly the big manufacturing plant closed its doors.

This is a remarkable photo taken when the mill from Myrnam was being reassembled on the Vermilion site in 1943. Half the roof in one piece is being hoisted into place

Up The Ladder Behind the Counter

Here's a note for the kids who have finished school and are looking around for their first job, comments The Financial Post.

The Canadian Retail Federation is launching a drive to expand training facilities for retail salesmen — and it's out to change the public image of retailing as a career that leads nowhere.

It's time, indeed, that it did both. For too long the customer has had to bear the tactless and unaccommodating sales clerk. Sloppy dealings over the counter have been frustrating both the retailer and the public for years.

But the truth about retailing is this. It's one of the places where employment is growing fastest. It is one of the places where there is now reasonably rapid advancement and very satisfying careers for ambitious young people.

Now that the industry has recognized that it has a problem, it's halfway to solving it. If it does spend a lot more money on training it will be obvious both to the public and to the promising youngsters that this, indeed, is a career to go after.

In Canada there is a branch or a sub-agency of a bank for every 3,000 Canadians. In provision of such facilities, Canada leads the world.

HELD AT VEGREVILLE JULY 7th

Edenvale Farm Forum Awarded Shield At Annual Picnic

LAVOY "South of Vermilion, down Edenvale way" sang the members of the Edenvale forum in response to roll call at the annual Farm Forum picnic held this year at the Dominion Soil Research substation in Vegreville, July 7th. A large turn-out of members and families of the Edenvale Forum, and the fine response led the judges to award the Shield to this group, with other Forums attending including River Park, Park Grove, Martins, Pobeda, Waskawa, Fairwood and Lavoy. River Park Forum depicted a fishing trip, complete with tent fishing gear and "fish" for supper supposedly caught from the Vermilion River. Lavoy Forum had a Hawaiian theme with leis, colorful shirts, flowers in hair, and a song response. Judges were Mrs. L. Gibson, Edmonton, Mrs. K. Schilling, Germany, and Mrs. E. Langpap, Vegreville.

Hans Mayer former Alberta Farm Forum Council Chairman, conducted the roll call, and welcomed guests and judges. Mrs. L. Gibson newly-elected Council Chairman, and F. W. U. A. Director, addressed the group stating that she is looking forward to her new position and feels the year ahead in Forum activities and discussion groups will be a profitable one. A resolution from the National [illegible] was read and copies passed out regarding activities in forums in 1961 with a national emphasis.

Games and races were enjoyed both by participants and onlookers numbering over 100 children and adults, preceding a short film on the work of the Substation and a short talk by Dr Ross Cairns, Supt., in the implement shed on the farm. The slides were of numerous plots and explanations were given of processes of dealing with solonetz soil. A tour of the lab and green house was taken before lunch when coffee was again provided by the sponsoring Forums, [illegible]. Tables were loaded and the picnic dispersed.

The national Farm Radio Forum begins its 21st season in November with interesting programs arranged to help those interested and involved in agriculture to discuss their problems and learn new methods of farming in an effort to find a solution for these problems.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Everett Celebrate Silver Anniversary

BUFFALO COULEE Heavy rain showers on the afternoon of Sunday, July 3rd failed to dampen the spirit of friendliness and good will that pervaded, as well over a hundred people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Everett to help them celebrate their Silver Wedding anniversary. Lloyd and Ruth have the honor of being the first couple married in th Auburndale church.

Ruth's bridesmaid, Mrs. R. Murray, the former Bessie Bowerman of Wainwright, was present for the occasion, but unfortunately the bride's brother Burton Scale, who had been best man, was sick and unable to attend.

The table was centred with a beautiful three - tiered wedding cake, flanked by bowls of peonies. It was made by the bride's sister, Irene, and decorated by Mrs. Mary Arthur. Mr Frank Eyben proposed the toast to the bride and groom of twenty-five years, to which the groom fittingly responded.

Following a lovely lunch served by the ladies of the community, Mr George Harrison, in well chosen words, presented Lloyd and Ruth with an engraved silver serving tray and a silver cream and sugar with tray, on behalf of their many friends and neighbors. There were numerous individual gifts and the families of the bride and groom had given them a lovely chest of silver. A solo was sung by Harold Cleland, "The Sunshine of Your Smile", and a poem, written by Mr. Bob Dunsmore, an old friend, was read and presented to them, entitled "Your Silver Wedding".

TO RUTH AND LLOYD . . .

"Forget your trials, forget your troubles,
Let them disperse like empty bubbles.
And while your troubles you are shedding
Have a grand time at your silver wedding
"Every cloud has a silver lining.
[illegible] the sun is shining.
May joy reign king in your hearts today
My toast is 'That it remains for aye' "

Both Lloyd and Ruth thanked everyone for the gifts and good wishes and for coming and giving them such a delightful surprise party, making it a day to be long remembered. A number of friends also attended from Vermilion and Wainwright, as well as the bride's sister and family from Edmonton

Mrs. Ruby Samuelson was in charge of the guest book.

CLANDONALD FISH DERBY

WILDMERE WINKS

The district was deeply shocked on Tuesday last in the sudden passing of Wayne Isley, only son of Mr and Mrs Elmer Isley. Deepest sympathy is extended to them by the community.

Mrs. W. J. Garnett and son Roy went to Edmonton Saturday to attend the wedding of a former Dunwood boy, Richard Gilholme Jr., and Joelene Kalinchuk, which took place in the St. [illegible] Ukrainian Greek Orthodox [illegible]. They returned home Sunday.

The curling club picnic was well attended as was the dance which followed. The booth did a roaring business as the proceeds showed.

[illegible] and boys left Sunday to take in the parade at the Calgary Stampede and spend a few days at Banff.

The Wilsons, who recently purchased the [illegible] busy digging a new basement to move their house onto.

Mr and Mrs Dan Ford from Edmonton visited at the Gibson home on Friday evening and camped at Vermilion park on Saturday. They returned to the city on Sunday taking Alan back with them.

The program at Vermilion Provincial park was really good on Sunday and most certainly have been enjoyed by a tremendously large number of people as indicated by the large number of cars and the crowds lining the beach. Vermilion park is really growing and facilities being added to each year. An ideal spot for any tourist to spend a night, a day or a week.

The men held a bee on Monday and worked around the trees at the Preston Central school

BUFFALO COULEE ACTIVITIES

Returning recently from holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Everett, Frances and Lorene from a trip to the west coast; Mrs. Elward and Jerrald from Ottawa and Mrs. Wear from St. Mary's, Ont.

Mr and Mrs. Alf Green, Barbara and Clara were down for the week-end taking in the Everett party. Agnes also played the organ for church service in the morning.

Other recent visitors were Mr. and Mrs. S. Little of Wembley, and children, at the F. H. Eyben home; Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Richardson and family, all of Edmonton, at the Cleland home.

Mr and Mrs. B. A. Macomb Sr. are at present on holidays in B.C.

Mr. S. Pague, student minister, has been attending boys' camp at Lake Whitney as a leader.

The B.C. boys won their ball games at the picnic at Basswood last week, taking first money.

Quite a number of B.C. people took in the official opening of Vermilion park. This beautiful spot is really a credit to the people of Vermilion and district.

Congratulations and all best wishes go to Joan Findlay, one of our teachers, who was married last Saturday in Mannville to Mr Robert Tod of the Mann[illegible]

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Federal-Provincial Tax Agreement Discussions Set For July 24, 25

By KEN MANIN

EDMONTON. — Alberta's delegation will be singing the same tune as last year, with few variations, when federal and provincial officials sit down in Ottawa later this month to discuss fiscal matters.

The meeting, scheduled for July 24th and 25th, has been called to discuss possible changes in the federal-provincial tax rental agreement under which Ottawa collects income, corporation and succession tax revenues and returns some of it to the provinces.

Provincial Treasurer Ted Hinman says Alberta will be taking the same stand it took a year ago -- that certain taxes should be specifically allocated to the provinces. Under the present set-up, the provinces receive a percentage share of the total collected by Ottawa.

Under the Alberta plan, taxes would be tailored to meet provincial needs. Mr. Hinman explains that under the program he will suggest, a province which needs more money to make ends meet would simply ask Ottawa to increase taxes. The money would be available immediately, and the responsibility for increasing taxes would be with the province, where it belongs.

Alberta's delegation also will press for a federal program of capital loans for municipalities. Mr Hinman and Premier Manning will be among Alberta representatives attending the federal-provincial meeting.

MUNICIPAL FINANCING CORPORATION LOANS $24 MILLION

The Alberta Municipal Financing Corporation has floated its initial loan this year, and officials say that by mid-August an estimated $24,000,000 will have been lent out to municipalities in the province.

The government sponsored corporation recently borrowed $30,000,000 in New York. Fred Stewart, the deputy provincial treasurer, says that to date cheques totalling $22,079,160 have been mailed out to 31 municipalities. Four more totalling around $315,000 will be sent out July 15 and the next batch, expected to total round $2,000,000, will go into the mail August 15.

Later this year the MFC will borrow another $30,000,000, and officials hope they can find the money on the Canadian market at satisfactory interest rates.

ODDS AND ENDS

Municipal Affairs Minister Alf Hooke last week announced the government is going full speed ahead with its revolutionary industrial tax redistribution plan. Presumably this [illegible] chances are good that a special session of the Legislature will be called in the fall to implement the tax scheme.

Mr Hooke's announcement came out of a provincial municipal meeting to discuss a proposal to amalgamate the City of Edmonton and some of its surrounding suburbs. The issue ended up right back where it was five years ago — in the hands of the provincial government.

In 1956 the McNally Royal Commission recommended amalgamation of Edmonton, Jasper Place, Beverly and part of the M.D. of Strathcona "at the earliest possible date". Following last week's meeting in 90-degree temperatures, the government promised to formulate a policy on metropolitan amalgamation issues.

PUBLIC RELATIONS DOING A GOOD JOB

Have you noticed an increasing awareness among Albertans of the need to conserve the province's forest resources? I have, and it seems to me the credit can go to the public relations branch set up a few years ago by the provincial department of lands and forests.

Bill MacDonald, the personable guy in charge of public relations for lands and forests, has done a bang-up job of getting the forest protection message across to Alberta residents. Today Alberta even has its own forest conservation symbol — Bertie Beaver. Every other place in Canada uses a U. S. import, Smokey the Bear, but Alberta is still trying to sell other provinces on the idea of using Bertie Beaver.

At the Edmonton Exhibition and the Calgary Stampede this year, thousands of children will be given Bertie Beaver Wood Watcher buttons to help spread the message of forest conservation.

Bad weather is still stalling development of Alberta's newest town, Swan Hills. By the end of this month some 1200 persons living in an oil company base camp a few miles away were supposed to move into the new townsite about 140 miles northwest of Edmonton, but construction in the new town has been set back so far officials are now saying the move will have to be delayed.

Kent Re-elected As Wheat Pool Delegate

W. R. Kent of Vermilion has been re-elected a delegate of the Alberta Wheat Pool by acclamation. When the nominating period closed June 30 a total of 49 nominations had been received for the position of delegate in the 35 odd-numbered Wheat Pool subdistricts. Twenty-four delegates were elected by acclamation; elections will be held in 10 subdistricts where more than one nomination was filed and no nomination was received from one southern subdistrict, necessitating a by-election later this year.

Mr Kent has served as a Wheat Pool delegate for the past two years.

CLEAN EATING PLACES

Caterer's Code: Those who make a business of catering would do well to observe these basic principles of restaurant sanitation

1. Maintain a thoroughly clean and sanitary establishment, including the kitchen and the surroundings of your place of business.

2 Ensure that all your employees are free from infection. (The common cold is highly communicable.)

3 Carry out approved procedures for washing and sterilizing utensils including cooking equipment and tableware.

4 Keep food covered to protect it from flies and other possible disease-carriers. (For instance the sugar bowls should have lids.)

5 Dispose of wastes immediately and thoroughly. [illegible] attract flies and vermin.

6 Insist on personal hygiene on the part of the staff particularly with respect to hand washing after using the toilet with special attention to finger nails.

7 Look to cleanliness and the proper maintenance of lavatories. Common towels spread disease; provide paper towels which are disposable.

8 Have an ample supply of hot water available at all times. When sterilizing compounds are used adequate supplies of them must be maintained.

9 Wage constant war on rodents and insects and make sure your premises are not transmitting disease in any way.

10 Don't use chipped or cracked crockery worn or damaged knives forks or spoons, or soiled linen.

11 Make frequent inspections to ensure that all sanitary rules are observed by everybody.

12 Ask advice of your municipal health authorities in dealing with health problems and in planning to maintain a thoroughly sanitary establishment.

Handling of Food

In the handling of food and prepared dishes it is important to avoid [illegible]. Clean starched and well fitted clothing is important. Dirt can easily be transmitted from garments to utensils and plates.

Waitresses will find that a neat hair-do, possibly a net, will keep hairs out of food. Use of caps by chefs and kitchen staff is recommended.

Food should not be handled unnecessarily. For instance, rolls can be picked up in clean napkins and tongs and butter should be served with knife or fork. It is wise to handle dishes with a napkin too. Even the appearance of the table you set can make or mar a meal.

Keep it Clean

Restaurant operators need not be reminded that dirt and dust are dangerous to health as well as annoying. Efforts should be made to clean up during slack periods.

Dustless methods should always be used in sweeping and the place thoroughly cleaned before meals are served. Animals should be kept away from places where food is stored prepared or served. No matter how closely they are watched, they may contaminate food or serving surfaces.

An important sanitary precaution in any establishment is that of proper garbage disposal. This calls for special measures where food is exposed. Every restaurant should arrange for the speedy disposal of [illegible] or spoiled food and, until wastes are removed, should keep them in covered metal containers, secure against flies, rodents and other scavengers.

There are some points about sanitation on which restaurant people should obtain professional advice such as air conditioning, heating ventilation, etc. These have important bearing on the keeping properties of food and, hence, its fitness for use. The handling of perishables should be studied carefully to ensure that approved sanitary methods are followed. This applies particularly to such things as milk, water and ice. Ice, of course, must be kept clean, just like food and should be [illegible] with tongs or scale.

Special care should be taken to keep pests out of eating places. All windows and doors should be fitted closely with screens during the fly season and some form of insect control is necessary. Sanitary inspectors from the local health department will be glad to advise on all such matters and on their inspection visits to eating places will cooperate fully with management and staff in measures aimed at keeping such places clean.

Wayside Stands

While the principles of sanitation outlined here apply to eating places everywhere it is appreciated that maintenance of such standards may be difficult for those who run wayside stands particularly in the remote areas where so many such eating places operate. One problem of the country restaurant will be elementary sanitation. It is unlikely that it will have water under pressure and so will have to improvise washing and toilet facilities. Particular care therefore must be taken. The [illegible] it outhouses for instance doesn't help and the water used will have to be protected against pollution in places where seepage could reach it.

Operators of wayside stands should [illegible] sanitation [illegible] of the [illegible].

[illegible] and the water tested [illegible]. Plans for [illegible] safe [illegible] disposal [illegible] departments. Plans are also available from the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa.

In the country special efforts will have to be made to guard against pests particularly flies and mosquitoes [illegible] and in places favorable to pests the thorough screening of cooking and serving rooms will be essential.

Magic at The Edmonton Exhibition

RICHIARDI, the amazing magician, will be on stage to perform fantastic feats of magic. He is one of the ten outstanding acts featured at the Edmonon Exhibition Grandstand, July 18th to 23rd, at 8:00 o'clock each evening of the six-day 82nd annual Edmonton Summer Exhibition.

In the past ten years the value of Canada's mineral output has increased two-and-a-half times, in 1959 reached a record $2.4 billion. Mine employment has stabilized at about 88,000, just over one per cent of the total of Canadians with jobs.

United Kingdom Motors

Motor cars are being shipped or flown from the United Kingdom at the rate of three every two minutes. During the first three months of 1960 more than 200,000 motor vehicles were sent abroad, about 100,000 more than in the same period of 1959. The average weekly output this year was 30,000 cars and 9,000 commercial vehicles, a new record in that field.

WATCH FOR

—more authority over Canadian nursing, says The Financial Post. Ontario is giving lead, with a proposed College of Nurses for the profession.

It will have statutory power like the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons. Ontario also aims to meet shortage of nurses. The new Nightingale school, sponsored by Ontario Hospital Services Commission, in Toronto this fall, with 60 students in a special two - year course.

Edmonton Exhibition Stock Show Commemorates Hereford Centenary

The 82nd Annual Edmonton Exhibition will pay special tribute to Hereford Breeders, this year celebrating their 100th anniversary of the arrival of the first registered cattle on Canadian soil. These white-faced beef animals were first imported into Guelph, Ont., in 1860 by Frederick W. Stone, after attending the Royal Show at Canterbury, England and becoming exceedingly impressed with the Hereford exhibit.

Observation of the Hereford centennial will be officially marked at this year's Edmonton Exhibition Livestock exhibits with the "Hereford Century" show, attracting entries not only from all parts of Alberta but from other parts of Canada and the U. S. as well.

In the Hereford class 114 entries have been recorded from Alberta, Wyoming, Oregon and other parts of the United States and Canada. In the beef cattle class, Shorthorns come second with 63 entries followed by Aberdeen Angus with 57 entries, and Red Poll with 43.

Heaviest entries in the dairy cattle class are the Holsteins with 1064 head recorded; Jerseys 88 and Ayrshire 81.

Among the heavy horses, Belgians, Percherons and Clydesdales total 90 entries; sheep 106 and swine 170. A total of just under 1,000 head of livestock will be on exhibition this year.

An added attraction at this year's Exhibition will be the Dairy Princess competition in which six young ladies will participate. They will be the winners of similar contests in local areas sponsored by the milk producers and, representing Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, Calgary, Red Deer, Edmonton and Peace River, will compete for provincial honors at the Edmonton Exhibition. The attraction will take place before the grandstand; three competing Monday, July 18, three Tuesday July 19, and the two semi-finalists re-appearing to vie for top honors on Friday, July 22nd. The event includes a demonstration of practical cow milking.

4-H Club entrants to this year's Edmonton Exhibition will be given a special treat on Saturday morning, July 23rd, through the courtesy of Trans-Canada Air Lines. Forty-three 4-H Club members are scheduled to take off aboard a T.C.A. Viscount for a special half-hour flight over Edmonton and the oil fields in the adjacent areas.

Chatsworth Chatter

The weather remains changeable — very hot one day, suddenly chilly the next. Crops and gardens are making good growth, with ample rain in both showers and thunderstorms. A general rain fell throughout Sunday evening and Monday. Cutworm damage seems to be over for this season.

Mr. and Mrs. E. East of town were visitors to Dewberry for the July 1st holiday.

A number of residents of the district attended various sport events hereabouts; the George Farkash's and Henningsen's were at the Wainwright Stampede; the Joe Farkash's, Scoggins' family and several more at Mannville.

On holiday to the Pacific coast recently were Mr. and Mrs. Nick Jacula, and Mr and Mrs. Nick Jacula. Little Debbie Jacula stayed with her grandparents, Mr and Mrs. Mike Jacula while her mother and [illegible] were away.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kochan and family spent a few days at Jasper during the first week of July. Their holiday took the form of a camping-out in the park there, as a special reward for the kiddies on successfully passing their exams in school.

Mrs. Leo Klashinsky is away at the summer school sessions at the U of A.

Kenny and Jimmie Tovell are visiting with their grandmother Mrs. Nelmes, at Calgary.

Dean Jacula is also away on holidays — sorry, we have no further particulars.

Winning posters of previous years have been used in the Cancer Society's educational program.

TOLLAND TOPICS

Recent visitors in the district were Mr and Mrs. Bob Kennedy and family of Edmonton, visiting Mr and Mrs. Fred Kettmeter over the long week-end. Mrs. Kennedy is a niece of Mrs. Kettmeter.

Mr and Mrs. Ray (Sonny) Lewis of Irma and their five children visited Mrs. Euna Lysons his aunt and other relatives in the district.

Mr and Mrs. [illegible] left on an extended trip to Norway and other parts of Europe on Friday last. They expect to be gone around three months. Mrs. S. Oldenburg is cooking for [illegible] in their absence. Prior to their leaving Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ramsay and Janice were [illegible].

Mrs. Mable Bissnett Terry and Wayne are visiting the former's mother Mrs. Margaret Watson for two weeks or so, prior to their move to Lethbridge. Mr Bill Bissnett joins his family on the week-ends.

Mrs. Otto Weisenberger visited her folks, Mr and Mrs. Walter Procter and Reg for a few days.

Mr and Mrs. Brock Lysons, Jimmy and Artie of Edmonton have been visiting his mother Mrs. Euna Lysons and other members of the family in the district for the past week. Brock helped the Tolland ball club out considerably by playing on the team on several occasions.

Several folks are away on holidays including Miss Margaret Watt and Mrs. Gladys Robinson who left last Wednesday by bus for Ontario where Margaret was to pick up a new Frontenac car. From there they intend to visit relatives in and around Toronto, Susan Wolters at Montreal, and extend their trip into Nova Scotia. Margaret and her aunt plan to be away most of the summer returning the latter part of August. With them will be Miss Susan Wolters.

Mr and Mrs. Ray McQuid and boys have left on a short trip. They expect to be back this week.

Mr Russell Christie, Don Kal[illegible] and [illegible] left on Sunday afternoon on a four-day trip to Banff and also to take in some of the Calgary Stampede. The boys will camp out along the way.

The regular monthly meeting of Clandon-Watson Red Cross Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Albertha Van Wagenen where the quilt to be worked was set up under the trees and with lots of ice water and lemonade supplied the 11 members and 3 visitors finished the quilt in short order. After making picnic arrangements the meeting was adjourned for lunch and a look around at gardens which is always much enjoyed at Van Wagenen's. Next meeting is at Gladys Wolters' on Thursday August 4.

Miss Rose Wolters of the [illegible] left on a trip to Scotland and Germany and plans to finish her holidays in the U.S. where she will visit relatives. In Germany she is hoping to see the Passion Play and visit with relatives.

After several weeks of ground work [illegible] the phone line of Glen Borleman Tolland store and Wolters has been transferred from line 22 to 23. Numbers and rings respectively are 2303 [illegible] and 1 long and 2303 1 short and [illegible]. More new numbers and further changes are forthcoming later in the summer.

Herman Wolters and G. Lothe are visiting around in the district.

Haying is well underway now and good stands are in evidence everywhere as are excellent crops and gardens.

Here's hoping to see everybody at Tolland picnic on July 28.

Pleasant Valley

It has cleared off again after another big rain on Monday. The crops, flowers and gardens are certainly looking nice. Roses are especially beautiful this year.

Sylvia, Laura and girls are visiting at the old home. Sylvia is planning a trip to Vancouver while Laura and girls are off to Lac la Biche.

Granddaughter Linda Gould is visiting her cousins at Wetaskiwin.

Mrs. Warawa and daughter spent an afternoon with the writer last week.

Percy Golby was home at the week-end.

The Bible Today

Seeking to increase Scripture distribution in the Persian Gulf area, Mr Touad Accad, Associate Bible Society Secretary in Beirut, in charge of contacts with the churches on behalf of the Bible Societies in the Near East, recently spent three weeks visiting the seven Trucial States, Bahrein, Kuwait and parts of Qatar and of the Sultanat of Muscat and Oman.

In the Trucial States, where the only missionary activity is through one missionary hospital, two more are under construction, and by the work of a few devoted individual Christians mainly from the Oman Scouts (Military Forces) valuable contacts were made. Because of the dispersion of the population (about 130,000 in all) and widespread illiteracy, Scripture distribution cannot be widely developed at present.

In Kuwait (250,00 population) and Bahrein (160,000) the situation is more encouraging with a mission book-shop in each place and a colporteur working in Kuwait's American hospital and clinic. The average distribution is 1,000 copies of scripture per month.

Plans are to be announced for the intensification of the Bible Societies' efforts in these areas.

CHATSWORTH CHATTER

Marie Tovell, who is in training for a nurse at the University hospital in Edmonton, spent the Dominion Day holiday at home.

A very successful and enjoyable picnic was held Wednesday 6th, at the Vermilion Park, when the community folks and visitors were guests of the Chatsworth Country Club. During the afternoon a ball game was held and at the conclusion of this there were races for everybody. A bountiful picnic supper was held, with wieners and buns and ice cream as added treats for all. Angus Anderson took this opportunity to thank the club for the hospital table which was purchased for his use. At the conclusion of supper, folks wended their way homeward for chores.

The July meeting of the club is to be held at Mr. and Mrs. Angus Anderson's in Vermilion, (please note, ladies), instead of at Mrs. Arthur Tovell's as previously announced.

Letters to the Editor

Letter of Thanks re: The Blood Donor Clinic

Dear Editor:

About six weeks ago Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society agreed for the Legion to take over the listing of people in this district as donors at the blood donor clinic. The steering committee set up by the Legion proceeded to get the support of other organizations in the town and country.

It is the purpose of this letter to acknowledge and to thank everybody through [illegible] who helped in any way and a special thanks to the 322 people who came to donate their blood to the Red Cross Transfusion Service.

The first step in the organization was to interest the four church W.A.s in canvassing the town. These groups supplied from ten to twenty members each and were assigned blocks in which they would canvass [illegible].

The captains of the canvass were: St Saviour's, Mrs Jessie Stephens; United Church, Mrs Ruby Samuelson; Holy Name Church, Mrs Agnes Killen; Alliance Chapel, Mrs Chas Thompson.

The ladies with the help of some country canvassers [illegible] 320 names who expected to be able to come to the clinic. Clondonald was handled by Ernie Stanley and Islay by Gordon Purser.

Between 5 and 7 p.m. every one who had not come to the clinic in the afternoon was telephoned. This big job was done by the I.O.D.E. Mrs. John Peterson acted as chairman.

The [illegible] Lodge supplied cars for transportation under the charge of Walter Coulter and the Salvation Army had a list of baby sitters available for any [illegible].

The listing of donors in the records and mailing out appointment cards was done very thoroughly by Mrs. Marion Davis and some other members of the Rebekah Lodge.

We are very grateful to the Standard for all the publicity of [illegible] willingly and cheerfully given over a period of several weeks. It meant a great deal to the success of the clinic.

The Legion Committee
Thos. Thompson,
Alex Callas,
E. H. Buckingham.

[illegible] who gained world fame as a humorous writer under the pseudonym Sam Slick, was a judge of the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia. [illegible] was named for him through a land development program there which he headed.

Cabin Dedication At F.U.A. Camp

EDMONTON — Preliminary plans were announced in Edmonton today for a second caravan to Gold Eye Lake F.U.A. Camp. On August 14th a ceremony will take place at the camp dedicating a dormitory cabin built in memory of a family of F.U.A. members killed in an automobile crash December 7, 1953. The cabin was constructed by Fine [illegible] F.U.A. Local No. 1040 as a [illegible] to the camp project and in memory of the family.

The plans were announced by A. F. McCalla, chairman of the Jr. F.U.A. Camp Committee. He said, "many people have suggested that a second trip to Gold Eye would be desirable and here now is their opportunity to view progress made in the past year".

Present plans indicate that the dedication ceremony will take place at 11:30 a.m. with officials of the F.U.A. co-operatives and government, as well as the c[illegible] being present.

Gold Eye Lake is located 100 miles west of Red Deer on Highway 11. It is hoped many people will attend this function.

CAR SALES GAIN SLIGHTLY

Sales of passenger cars in Canada for the first five months of this year says Ralph Young in The Financial Post, are ahead of the same period in record-breaking 1959 but only by the slim margin of one-half of 1 per cent.

And the story is not that good for Canadian producers.

Canadian-built cars and imports [illegible] the U. S. took 74 per cent [illegible] market, leaving about [illegible] per cent for imports from the U.K. and Europe.

These imports from across the Atlantic then have climbed to the market penetration figure they averaged for all last year.

During the first five months of 1959 European and U. K. imports took just under 23 per cent of total sales in Canada.

PARADISE VALLEY NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Stewart left on Friday for a two week's visit with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stewart in Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Parke Dobson and family attended a Pool convention at Camrose on Thursday. On their return they left for a two week holiday at Loon Lake where they have a cabin.

Wednesday [illegible] the town was deserted as people attended the big Earlie picnic. They had a grand crowd and soft ball was the order of the day. Fourteen teams were entered and during the last game, between McLaughlin and Paradise Valley, it was getting quite dark. Paradise Valley proved the winners in a good game. Don Levitt did the ironman stunt, pitching four games without a loss. The McLaughlin senior team took out the other Paradise Valley team in the semi-finals. The [illegible] was a real sizzler but [illegible] ball playing.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Levitt and family of Kamloops, B. C. and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Levitt [illegible] Hayter spent Sunday with the Levitts of Paradise Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Elliott of Vancouver are visiting with old friends in the Moyerton district where Jim was brought up. It is quite a few years since Jim and his parents left for the coast. He reports that his father and mother are both well.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Guy of Edmonton are spending their vacation with Gordon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Guy. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Sr. returned with them from the city where they attended the Highland Games.

Mr. Herb Nickle, an old timer of the district accompanied by his daughter and son-in-law and family Mr. and Mrs. Bill Walters, are visiting with Mr. [illegible] Mrs. W. A. Nickle. Herb will remain for sometime while Mr. and Mrs. Walters return home shortly.

Mrs. Gladys Baxter and Sherril left for vacation at Vancouver on Wednesday. They went with Mrs. Baxter of Berwyn, going by car. Jim Baxter is spending his vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Safnuk. In Vancouver Mrs. Baxter will visit with her sister Mrs. Klaschinsky.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Jorgensen and family of Dawson Creek returned home on Wednesday after visiting with Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Swayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kirby and family of Victoria are on holiday with Mrs. Kirby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Redmond.

Mrs. Pickering of Calgary is visiting with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Miller.

Miss Alice Doty and the Frichel family are attending the Marsden Youth Camp being held at Marlio Lake this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Birett and family accompanied Mrs. Bill Long to Edmonton on Thursday where they will spend a short [illegible].

Miss Sharon Dobson accompanied the Art Nicholson family to Loon Lake for the first of July holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Stoddart returned from White [illegible], Ontario [illegible]. They will make their [illegible] in Alberta.

Mr. [illegible] Elliott left for Dawson Creek, B.C., where he has secured employment [illegible] the summer.

The Sunday School picnic the afternoon of June 26th came off successfully in spite of the windy weather. The co-operation and help of the parents to make the afternoon a very enjoyable day is much appreciated.

The W. A. of the United Church would like to thank all who helped at the Elliott-Shouldice [illegible] reception, especially the non members.

W. A. CLEANS CHURCH

The Paradise Valley United Church W. A. met at the home of Mrs. Pete Wolfe with Mrs. Charlie Elliott as co-hostess. There was a good attendance and Mrs. F. Street, the president, was in the chair. After the usual opening exercises Mrs. Ball led devotions. Mrs. E. Kragness [illegible] the study on "Statement of Faith".

The W.A. [illegible] like to thank Joe [illegible] for the [illegible] he did in painting the ceiling of the church. This was a great help to the ladies, who painted the rest of the church interior and the minister's study downstairs. All varnishing and cleaning was also done by the ladies and they are to be congratulated on the fine job done. The Sunday School room will have to be done at a later date.

Plans were made for catering to the reception of Margaret Dodd's wedding on July 15th and to Eva Brassington's on August 23rd.

The weather during the past week has been ideal for the growing crops but how the weeds can grow. Spraying has been completed which will help some. Prospects are for a good crop if nothing happens. Hail is the worry now.

Patients in the Lloydminster Hospital include young Gary Guy and Mrs. C. Stoddart.

The road gang is busy on the road north of town and we understand will soon be working on the road from Shaw's corner to McLaughlin.

Mr. Lloyd Thomas is a patient in the University hospital, Edmonton. It is hoped that his condition will be improved by treatment there.

August will be the holiday month for the Paradise Valley United Church W. A. The next meeting will be held on September 6th at 8 p.m. with Mrs. J. W. Guy and Mrs. George Guy as hostesses.

The next joint church services of Paradise Valley and McLaughlin will be held at Paradise Valley will be held at P.V. July 17 at 12:30 p.m.

To Crown Princess At Edmonton "Ex"

It was announced today by Fred N. Miller, assistant manager, Edmonton Exhibition Association, that the Honourable Gordon Taylor, Highways Minister of Alberta, would crown the winner of the province-wide Dairy Princess competition Friday evening, July 22, at 8 p.m. from the stage in front of the grandstand.

A total of nine [illegible] have now been received. They are [illegible] Young, Ft. [illegible]; [illegible] Curiel, St. Albert; [illegible] Beaumont; Carol Malcolm, Fairview; Pat Thoreson, Neilson; Roberta Eaman, Wetaskiwin; Irma Abrams, Red Deer; Betty Wright, Didsbury, and Betty Lou Hendersen, Lethbridge.

No Kudos For This Invention

Think of Alexander Graham Bell and the telephone comes to [illegible]. The name Thomas Edison [illegible] electric light. James Watt is synonymous with the steam engine.

But comments the Financial Post, pity the plight of Arthur Mansfield, Canadian inventor. He has invented an important "something". But just what that "something" is may never be known. It's classified information.

In this mad, topsy-turvy world, Mansfield is denied the tremendous pleasure that any inventor must get from having his name equated with his contribution to originality and progress. It's a very commentary on life in a cold war.

A Good Summer For Ice Cream

The ice cream and soft drink industries are poised for substantial sales gains this summer, reports The Financial Post.

It could be a record year for both product lines. The trends so far:

Output of carbonated beverages soared 11.7 per cent in the first five months from year-ago performance. The first half gain may have topped 12 per cent, industry sources say.

Production of ice cream has climbed nearly 8 per cent in the same period, as against 1959.

Wildmere Women's Institute Notes

The Wildmere W.I. met at the home of Mrs. F. C. Haines on July 6 with twelve members present. Mrs. R. Osterberg, vice-president, was in the chair.

The usual preliminaries over, Mrs. C. Cruthers, the delegate to the constituency conference at Vermilion School of Agriculture, gave her report. This was particularly enjoyed by members who were unable to attend the conference. Pamphlets, [illegible] by the members from [illegible] cy Hooper, [illegible] were distributed by the secretary, as also the C.A.C. pamphlets. The [illegible] of "Aging is Everybody's [illegible]ness" was completed.

It was decided each member should write an account of this area, as far back as she remembers. This to be completed by Christmas and then made up into book form.

Johnny Jump Up was won by Mrs. Noel Garnett. August meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. M. Holte. Project, donation to A.C.W.W. Travel fund.

Marriages in Canada have been [illegible] in number since 1957. The 1959 figure — 127,000 — reflects [illegible] the "hungry 30s" when the birth rate was low.

90 YEARS SPRY

ARTHUR SNAPE, who on July 19th celebrated his 90th birthday. On that day, dressed in his Sunday best, and twirling a cane, he sauntered about the town calling on old friends and new.

Arthur arrived at North Battleford back in 1904, coming from England with the famous Barr Colonists. On reaching Lloydminster he decided to move further west and walked to Vermilion where he picked out a homestead just south of town. In 1905 he built a home right in Vermilion where he now resides. During all those intervening years he has been satisfied to stay right here and has been no further away than Edmonton. He is a veteran of the Boer war and has two medals and service bars.

Mr. Snape farmed for many years, then moved into town and operated a shoe repair shop until reaching the age of retirement. He is in excellent health and demonstrates that fact by doing lively [illegible]. —A Standard Staff Photo

55th Exhibition Opens Thursday With Parade

Vermilion's 55th annual exhibition will swing open its gates next Thursday, July 28th and run for three interest-packed days. On Thursday, starting at 11:00 o'clock, the fair parade will line up in the west end of town and will move off promptly at 12:15 p.m. Judges will be on hand to place awards in the various sections, substantial cash prizes being offered for commercial floats, organizations, community groups, best decorated automobiles and best decorated bikes. All such groups are cordialy invited to prepare and enter their floats and to thus assist in making this year's parade the best ever. All children entering their decorated bicycles will be given 50c if not placed in the prize list.

CALF CLUB SHOW

On Thursday morning the calves of the Preston, Mannville and Vermilion Calf clubs will be judged and the calves sold by auction, starting at 2:00 o'clock. Messrs. Clarence Lovig and Marshall Jackson have kindly consented to place the fine calves under the hammer and spirited bidding is fully expected.

FREE KIDDIES' DAY TICKETS

Free kiddies' day tickets have been made available through the kindness of Vermilion business houses, distribution having been made through the kindness of the town and district teachers. Children who have not received tickets may find them available at business houses in town or will be given an opportunity to secure them during or immediately after the parade. These tickets are good for grandstand admission afternoon or evening on Thursday, July 28, and also good for rides and shows on the midway up to 6 o'clock Thursday.

HON. A. R. PATRICK TO OFFICIATE

At 7:30 p.m. the Hon. A. R. Patrick, Provincial Secretary, will officially open the exhibition and the public is invited to attend and extend a royal welcome to the minister.

GRANDSTAND

The famous agency of Tom Drake, of Kansas City, Mo., has again been charged with the presentation of the attractions program and the various acts arranged for the entertainment of Vermilion Fair patrons will no doubt be exceptionally well received. The program includes such outstanding acts as The Flying Valentines, Andrews Dogs, the famous White Guards vocalists and so many other fine acts that it is impossible to describe them here.

THE MIDWAY

The Thomas Shows of Lennox, S.D. will provide midway attractions of numerous and varied character presenting for the first time in Canada Grand Ole Opry Show which has made such a hit in the U.S. and elsewhere.

LIGHT HORSE SHOW

Some one hundred beautiful light horses will be on hand to hold the interest of the public and some of the finest horses in Western Canada will be seen in action at Vermilion fair.

MUSICAL RIDE

The Saskatoon Pony Club with sixteen spotted horses, performing to music is expected to be a highlight of the fair this year and they [illegible] at no other B Class fair in Western Canada. Superb horsemanship will be displayed by this [illegible] group of young and attractive people as they carry out their musical ride daily at the exhibition this year.

SPECIAL PRIZES

Generous cooperation of town and district folks makes it possible to award special prizes in the prize list for Vermilion fair. Prominent among the special awards will be those of the following donors: Geo. Webb & Sons, Searle Grain Co., Vermilion Hotel Co., Brunswick Hotel, J. C. Tucker, Thos. Smith, Craig Bros. Ltd., Walter Fulkerth, Arabian Horse Association, Robt. Maggs, Canadian Bank of Commerce, A. M. West (in memory of the late Duncan McDermid), Ort Strome, S. C. Heckbert, Dr. A. B. King (2 prizes), Clydesdale Horse Assoc. (in memory of the late John Brydon), Glenrobin Trophy, John Brydon, William Kluchka, Chester Gamble, Chris Maggs, Pioneer Cafeteria Foods Ltd.

Numerous other specials are available for competition in the Ladies' and Children's classes.

EXHIBIT BUILDING

Unexcelled displays of the various local business firms and farm machinery representatives will be shown during the three days and every effort is being made to produce the best fair in over half a century.

FIREWORKS

Each day's performance will be highlighted by outstanding fireworks displays and as a finale on Saturday evening July 30, the Kinsmen car will be drawn for in front of the grandstand and some lucky person will drive away a handsome new Meteor.

Derwent People Desire Continued Creamery Operation

Derwent farmers and village business men are concerned over the future operation of the Derwent creamery, and a public meeting has been called for Monday, July 25th in the Derwent hall at 8:30 p.m. to discuss all possible means to keep it operating.

The creamery has been operated as a private business under the skillful management of Mr. Christianson for the past 25 years. He is now not enjoying very good health and has reached the age of retirement. If the creamery was to be purchased by a larger firm it would probably be closed and Derwent would lose a valuable asset to its business services and a source of income to the dairy farmers. It is then in the intrests of everyone in the interest of everyone in Derwent and district to see that the creamery stays in business and keeps operating. Ways and means of achieving this laudable aim will be discussed at the meeting on Monday evening.

Cattlemen, Friends Plan Barbecue For Saturday

Beef cattlemen and their friends — which includes just about everybody — will be attending an open-air meeting and barbeque at the School of Agriculture, Saturday afternoon, July 23rd.

This is the first regional meeting of the Western Stock Grower's Association in this area and could become an annual event of major importance to everyone interested in the beef industry.

The programme, which opens at 2:00 P.M., will feature recognized authorities speaking on such timely topics as cattle feeding, community pastures and pasture management.

Concurrently with the programme for the cattlemen, there will be a separate session for the ladies where Dr. A. Ben King of Vermilion will offer some very important information and guidance on the subject of "First Aid on the Farm".

Rural people will welcome this opportunity to visit at the School of Agriculture just now when the School grounds, gardens and field crop plots are at there best.

Ample parking space, and a spacious, shady lawn for the open-air meeting ensure excellent accommodation for this field day.

A special expert has been imported from Southern Alberta to "ride-herd" on the barbeque pits. Rumor has it that enough beef has been purchased for this event to take care of any surplus that may have been developing in the industry! But the local committee, headed by Homer Hines of Marwayne, is sure that a large crowd will be in attendance and he is making sure that they can [illegible] at 6:00 o'clock. And remember [illegible].

Cardinals Win Two, Lose One

Vermilion Cardinals won two league games while losing one during the past week. The results by games briefly are:

July 14 at Dewberry, Cards 3, Dewberry 2. The Cardinal battery was Gladys Jackaitz to Peg Leveredge.

July 18 playing at Lloydminster the Cards dropped a close [illegible]. Pitching for the [illegible] Grace Simmonds, [illegible] Eva Gordey to Peggy Leveredge.

July 20 the Cardinals took a free-hitting affair from Dewberry 22 to 12 at Vermilion. In the bottom of the first inning the Cards scored ten runs with Lucille Thompson hitting a homer with bases loaded. Jackaitz to Leveredge was the battery. A very good crowd took in this game.

AT THE PARK

THIS SUNDAY

2:00 p.m. Band Concert, featuring Castor Town Band.

9:00 p.m. Movies in the bandshell.

Little Girl And Lamb Special Pals

MANNVILLE — On the Pete Tymchuk farm, located northwest of Mannville, live a couple of pals, a little girl named Joyce Tymchuk, and a grown sheep, raised on the farm.

To watch these two at play is most enlightening — for the youngster places her head [illegible] tingly against the sheep's and [illegible] against his. If the sheep [illegible] to upset her, which he sometimes does, he seems to gaze in some concern at her as if in fear that she may be hurt. However, Joyce always [illegible] back for more and the [illegible] seems to realize his strength and is exceedingly careful not to hurt his little chum — not intentionally anyway.

BUSINESS PLACES TO CLOSE FRIDAY P.M.

Business places will be closed from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Friday, July 22nd for the funeral service of the late Mr. Nick Kowalchuk.

Stores To Close At 12:00 o'clock Noon, Friday, July 29th

In order that everyone may have a chance to see the afternoon performance at the Vermilion fair all stores will be closed on the afternoon of Friday July 29th from 12 o'clock noon on. This is the second day of the fair. 4-5

Canadians are now drinking coffee at a rate of 25.3 cups per day, or an average of 1.91 cups per day, or an average of 1.91 cups for everyone ten years or older, according to the findings of a survey made by Canadian Facts Ltd.

Nick Kowalchuk Drowns in Park Lake

Fatality Casts Pall of Sorrow Over The Town and District

People of the town and district were shocked and saddened by the death by drowning of Nick Kowalchuk in the Vermilion Park lake on Tuesday, during the noon hour.

Nick, in company with his wife and their three little children, and Mrs. Kowalchuk's sister, Zo Ann, had gone to the north side of the lake to relax and bathe at what is known as the old swimming hole. The children were not in the water.

Nick and Joan waded in and the former who was learning to swim asked Joan to stand still while he swam to her. Swimming with his face in the water he had practically reached her, when, as if caught by a current, he turned suddenly out into the water beyond his depth. Joan made a valiant effort and reached him, but was almost pulled in over her depth also. She was aided by two unknown young men who helped her out but who could not swim themselves. Mrs. Kowalchuk then donned a life belt which the Kowalchuks had brought with them, and again tried to reach the spot where Nick had disappeared, while the others sought help.

Aid was quickly forthcoming from across the narrow stretch of water to the main beach. The body was located by David Ackerman in quite deep water as the shore shelves off quickly into the original river bed. Artificial respiration was carried on by Dr. King Mac Fenton and other helpers for a full hour in a vain attempt to revive him.

Mr. Kowalchuk was 35 years of age. He is survived by his wife Joan, and three daughters, Susan aged 5 years, and the twins Jana and Jane aged 3 years, his father Mr. Mike Kowalchuk and a married sister Mrs. Mike Skitalco (Olga), both in Edmonton. He was predeceased by his mother in 1948 and by his sister Elsie in September, 1959.

Seven years ago Nick and his father, who had been farming in the Buffalo Coulee district, purchased the Columbia theatre, and Nick has since that time been the proprietor of the business. He had been very interested and active in community affairs and was a member of the Kinsmen and Rotary service clubs. The town of Vermilion has lost a good citizen and community-minded business man.

Words cannot express the sympathy felt for the wife and young family who have lost a loving and kindly husband and father, and to the father and sister so suddenly bereaved.

Funeral services will be held in the First United church, Vermilion, on Friday July 22, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Interment will be in the Vermilion cemetery.

Community T-V Opens Doors

Another new business to open its doors to the public of Vermilion and district is the Community Television Sales and Service, which firm is located in the former McLaughlin Self Serve building.

The proprietors, Mr. Al Anderson and Mr. Bill Severyn, both newcomers to Vermilion, expressed themselves as well pleased with the reception accorded them on their official opening on Saturday.

Castor Band At Park Sunday

Attraction at the Park this Sunday will be the Castor Town Band who will commence their concert at 2:00 o'clock p.m. This will be the first appearance in Vermilion of this band. They are very popular in central Alberta and much in demand at every sports day and picnic.

The Castor band is sponsored locally by the Vermilion Kinsmen who will be in charge.

ANOTHER HOLE-IN-ONE

For some people golf seems to be easy! Another hole-in-one at the Vermilion course is reported. Scott Morgan made the perfect shot from the number 7 tee last Friday evening, while Dan Lutzak stood watching the performance with admiration.

NEW HUB CAFE OFFICIALLY OPENED

So Thinks Vermilion

Many public health officials now consider nature the best means of purifying sewage. The August Reader's Digest reports many communities are constructing "sewage stabilization lagoons." When sewage enters these ponds, the solids drop to the bottom, where they are promptly disposed of by worms and snails. The remaining sewage is then attacked by bacteria and algae.

What To Do When You Are First On The Scene of An Accident

Someday you may be the first on the scene of a highway accident, and if you are, here are some tips that may help you save a life.

Your first impulse is to run to the car and start hawling people out. Don't. You may do more harm than good. Park your car far enough away to protect it, and then take a second to think. It is often more important to protect the scene of the accident than to go immediately to the injured. Flag down the first cars travelling in both directions and have them slow down the on-coming traffic.

As soon as you reach the wreck, turn off the ignition to prevent fire. Fire in wiring usually begins smoldering under the hood or dashboard. Don't let this panic you into moving the injured. Disconnect the battery, locate the fire and attack it with a fire extinguisher, dirt or a blanket.

If the victims are hurt, leave them in their car until trained help comes. Don't move them in any way and if they are lying in the road, leave them there and take steps to guard them from traffic. Hail passing cars and send them in opposite directions to find telephones and call the police.

While waiting for the ambulance, if you are skilled at first aid you may find you can render assistance. If you are not, you can put coats or blankets over the victims to keep them warm, and without tugging or moving the victims loosen belts or collars to help them breathe easily. Send someone to find boards on which trained first aiders can carry the injured if an ambulance fails to arrive. If possible, locate a truck on which they may be carried if quick transportation is needed. And assure the victims that help is coming.

Queen's Scholarships, Grants of $1,228,163 Assist 3,587 Alberta Students With Education

A total of 3,587 Alberta students were recipients of the first [illegible] provided through the Queen Elizabeth Education Scholarship Fund established by the Government of Alberta to commemorate the 1959 visit to the Province of Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth. Assistance expenditure during the past year amounted to $1,228,164 or more than double that provided during the previous year. Aid was in the form of scholarships, grants, tuition grants, bursaries and fellowships, and totalled $963,412.89. Additional repayable loans, $264,751. Total awards numbered 7,179. [illegible]

One of the most comprehensive in Canada, the program this year provided a total of 6,250 separate awards to 107 vocational students, 392 awards to student nurses, high school students and persons attending the Banff School of Fine Arts, and a total of 305 awards under special teacher training section.

The Queen Elizabeth Education Scholarship Fund annually provides 200 scholarships of $100 each to high school matriculants and 300 scholarships of $100 each to undergraduate university students on the basis of academic achievement. The value of these awards may be increased to a maximum of $1,250 on the basis of financial need. Ten scholarships ranging from $2,200 to $2,600 each, three fellowships of $600 each and 27 [illegible] are available to students enrolled in the Faculty of Graduate Studies at the University of Alberta.

The maximum value of grants to matriculants and undergraduates has been increased from $350 to $450 and the minimum scholastic average requirement was reduced to 60. Graduate students having an average of 65 or better are eligible for grants and loans.

University students benefitting most were those enrolled in the Faculty of Education. Teacher training grants of $300 and tuition grants were made available to all students enrolled in Junior Education programs. An additional 50 grants of $600 plus tuition fees were awarded to graduates who enrolled in the one-year teacher-training program leading to [illegible] school certification. The automatic teacher training grants are being discontinued in the coming year. However additional funds have been provided for scholarships, grants and loans based on financial need to assure that no student is denied necessary financial assistance.

There are also 250 grants of $100 available to students who attend at a regular summer session to improve their qualifications to teach at secondary school level.

[illegible] received $638,753 in assistance during the past term, and an additional $38,765 was made available in loans.

High school bursaries valued at $50 to $300 were provided for the first time. Some 182 students took advantage of the awards during the past school year and a total of $21,800 was expended.

The Fund provides loans up to $750 in any school year for students enrolled at the Institute of Technology and Art in Calgary, and loans up to $300 for students enrolled at any Alberta School of Agriculture. A portion of the loan may be converted to a grant on the basis of [illegible] attainment. During the past year 107 students borrowed $43,825 to assist in their education.

Other awards included 18 bursaries to students enrolled at the Banff School of Fine Arts, amounting to $2,000, and 100 grants totalling $4,930 to student nurses.

The overall program is designed to ensure that no deserving Alberta student is denied the opportunity of a higher education due to financial circumstances. Students now are able to receive assistance from the grade ten level at high school through to post graduate university work.

Persons wishing to obtain literature and more detailed information about the provisions and benefits of the Province of Alberta Queen [illegible] tion Scholarship [illegible] are invited to get in touch with the Chairman or Secretary of the Students' Assistance Board, Department of Education, Edmonton.

Joint 4-H Meetings Held at Willes Farms

On Wednesday, July 6th, sixty-five people were present at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Willes and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Willes and families for a joint 4-H Beef and Grain Club meeting. The afternoon was started with a meeting being brought to order by [illegible] Willes. [illegible] led the 4-H'ers in repeating the 4-H pledge.

Members decided that the thematic display being made for display at the Vermilion fair will also be used at the Lloydminster fair. The next meeting will be held on Aug. 3rd to discuss the annual trip.

After the meeting all the members and other visitors went to the lake south of the Willes farm for an enjoyable swim. One of the members experienced a boat upsetting episode but fortunately no harm was done. When the swim was over all went for supper, following which the members went to the barns to see the club calves and to have a judging competition to end the evening.

HAWKSBEARD

A yellow flowering annual weed often confused with sow thistle. Hawksbeard is only half the size of a sow thistle plant, shallow rooted, having more pointed leaves and the broken stem produces no white juice. Hawksbeard thrives on uncultivated summerfallow or the beaches of dried up sloughs. The rapid spread of this plant in recent years is possibly due to its resistance to 2,4-D. Difficulty has been experienced in killing Hawksbeard with heavy duty cultivators on moist summerfallow but it is readily killed with a tiller or disker.

TREES

The municipal district you live in either owns a tree planter or is taking delivery of one in the spring. To be a success, tree planting must be planned now. Lots of room should be allowed between buildings and trees or the road and trees. Never plant trees closer than one hundred feet to buildings or 125 feet from the centre of the road. When planning a hedge, trees should be planted from 1½ to 3 feet apart in the row. Broad leaved trees are planted 6 to 8 feet in the row and evergreens 8 to 12 feet. Rows are separated by twelve feet or more depending upon whatever is a convenient working [illegible]. Trees [illegible] and planted can improve living [illegible] and the value of property. Trees may be obtained free for farm planting from the Alberta Department of Agriculture, on summerfallowed land. The municipal district will supply the tree [illegible].

BANGS ERADICATION

Under Canada's brucellosis eradication program only about 1.05% of cattle tested have found to be reactors. This is somewhat lower than forecast by the brucellosis advisory committee in 1957. Thirty areas have been qualified as brucellosis certified areas since last November boosting the total to date to 59. The [illegible] during the winter when cattle are stabled but occurs in a slower pace during the summer months. For an area to qualify for certification not more than 1% of all cattle and not more than 5% of all herds can be infected with the disease. The 59 certified areas by provinces are P.E.I. 3, N.S. 12, N.B. 11, Quebec 8, Ontario 17, Manitoba 7, Saskatchewan 26, B.C. 4, Yukon 1. Another 162 areas have been accepted and testing is being carried out in 115 of them. It is noteworthy that Alberta, Canada's third largest cattle province, has not one Brucellosis Certified area. Starland M.D. 47 is under test and several other areas have been accepted for test amongst which is Vermilion River M.D. 71. A Brucellosis Certified area is sometimes referred to as a Bang's Free area.

The Roller Coaster Really Rolls!

At Vermilion Fair

"The main idea is to scare the people mentally because actually there is nothing to be afraid of in the ride." That is how Bernard Thomas, owner of the Art B. Thomas Shows, described the roller coaster on his midway. He continued: "The average person will think nothing of doing 70 miles an hour in a car, or a pilot several hundred miles an hour in an airplane. But put them on our roller coaster and we'll scare them half to death."

"You take a fellow in a plane or car, complete with windshield, and floating on the clouds, or on air-filled tires and springs, and he doesn't seem to be going so very fast. But put him on our roller coaster, get the cars jangling and screeching, and the posts and scenery going by like crazy and of course the wind slapping him in the face, and he thinks he's going like a bat out of hades. It's all in the mind," concluded Thomas.

The discovery that normal human beings were willing to pay substantial sums of money for being tortured — in a nice way of course — was made in 1884, when a Sunday school teacher named Lamarcus Thompson, built the first scenic railway anywhere, at Coney Island. Since then, more than 6000 different kinds of rides have been invented. Today the ride industry is solidly established in the entertainment field since most everyone has discovered that — ironic as it seems, you can get a remarkable exhilaration, relief, and violent pleasure by paying a small amount of money to have yourself tortured for a few seconds or minutes.

The Thomas roller coaster simulates the thrills found on the big permanent coasters operating in the largest amusement parks. The lengthiest part of the ride is the "hoist," the drag up to the first dip. From then on, the coaster really coasts. After the first hair-raising drop or dip, the cars gain enough momentum to proceed uphill and down hill all the rest of the way. It is comparable to the [illegible] of coasting in neutral when you are in an automobile going down a steep circular mountain trail with a sheer precipice on both sides, and no brakes on the car.

Thomas says: "All humans like to flirt with danger. Every child likes to be thrown into the air. It will scream in terror and yet ask you to throw it up again. We like to skirt the edge of danger. Midway rides must always be dangerous and yet safe offering a kind of secure insecurity. For the adult to go on a roller coaster is for him to experience a pattern of emotions which brings him back to the '[illegible]' of childhood and this is one of the sources of the perverse pleasures attached to riding on a roller coaster."

Hundreds of dollars in small amounts of silver are lost each season by roller coaster customers as they are launched through the violent ups and downs and sharp corners of the Thomas roller coaster. Ride attendants have discovered brassieres, eyeglasses, jewelry, false teeth, shoes, toupees and countless other pieces of personal property that have been wrenched away from customers by the centrifugal and gravitational pulls. Hundreds of hats are turned into the Thomas Shows lost-and-found office each year, and these are given to the Salvation Army. What puzzles Thomas most is the number of shoes discovered around his coaster each season. How the patrons leave the fairgrounds without their shoes cannot be explained.

Checker Ghosts Lose To Innisfree Again Last Sunday

Last Sunday the Ghosts made a return trip to Innisfree with the hope of gaining revenge for the defeat of the previous week.

Drawn against North Viking in the first game the boys played good steady ball coming out on the right end of the score sheet 9 to 7. Against the Canucks in the second game with the score tied at 10 after five innings, the Ghosts pulled up their sox and took advantage of walks and wild pitches to score nine runs and held on to win 17-7.

FINAL AGAINST INNISFREE

Matched against Innisfree in the final game the boys were determined to get revenge and seemed to have things going their way, scoring four runs to lead 4-0 after three innings. Innisfree closed the gap to 4-2 at the conclusion of the 5th, but the shrouded ones didn't seem to be in any danger. Then came the disastrous 7th inning and once again Innisfree began fighting to take over the lead. With a runner on third, [illegible] committed the first error and after that the runs and errors came thick and fast. [illegible] Innisfree scored seven runs and [illegible] when they got three Ghosts [illegible] at the bottom of the 7th inning.

CASPER COMMENTS

If the Ghosts lose another one to Innisfree this season the boys will think seriously about taking [illegible] [illegible] again.

Ideal haying and growing weather prevails

From 1949 to 1959 in the Prairie Provinces the number of persons employed in non-agricultural jobs increased from 304,000 to 736,000 while the number at work on farms declined from 433,000 to 283,000.

Of all the provinces, Ontario has the largest Indian population, about 40,000 or one-quarter of the national total; the largest Indian tribe has always been the Ojibwa, who live mainly in Northern Ontario

Thirty Taking In Farm Women's Course at V.S.A. This Week

Thirty ladies from a wide area in Central Alberta registered on the first day of the regular program of Farm Women's Week at the School of Agriculture last Monday. Points represented in the enrollment included Westlock, Camrose, Vegreville, Marwayne, Viking, Mallaig, Lloydminster, Millet, Mannville, Bon Accord, Mannville and many others. A majority of those attending from some distance represented clubs or organizations particularly the Women's Institutes, but several were attracted to the course through members of their families who had been students in the regular winter courses.

Highlights of the program, planned jointly by the Extension Service and the School of Agriculture, included Handicrafts and sewing demonstrations, featuring a display of local crafts, cooking demonstration presented by Canadian Utilities, a panel discussion organized by the Canadian Association of Consumers and a variety of lectures and demonstrations in the more specialized field of Home Economics.

Mrs. Florent Van Wageningen, Jr., a Vermilion district resident, gave an illustrated lecture and demonstration on floral arrangements which proved highly interesting and was much appreciated by the ladies.

The program closed with a banquet on Thursday evening at which the guest speaker, Dr. C. Heath, from the University of Alberta and a member of the Defence Research Board, spoke on the subject, "The House that Space Built".

The Japanese steel industry has recently placed an order for 225,000 tons of western Canadian coal at a cost including shipping of $30.30 a ton; on the purchase the Canadian government will also pay a subvention of $4.30 a ton.

Subscribes for Fifty-first Year

The Standard has long been intending to write a story about a much revered old time subscriber, Mrs. L. M. Winters who resides at 3780 Cedar Crescent, Vancouver B. C. Mrs. Winters celebrated her 95th birthday on September 22nd, 1959 and her friends made it quite an event. She now sends along her 51st renewal to the Standard which means that she has been a subscriber ever since the paper commenced publication back in 1908.

LAC Don Raun from Penhold RCAF station, and a friend, LAC John Lundgren, spent the past week-end at the family home of former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Raun. On the return trip they were accompanied by Connie Raun as far as Rimbey where where she will visit her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Armishaw for two weeks.

Recent visitors at the home of Mrs. P. Hareuther Sr. have been her daughter and son-in-law, Mr and Mrs. Richardson from Vancouver. On their return trip Mrs. Cecil Sinden and daughter Marilyn accompanied them to Calgary where they all attended the Stampede. Janice Omness Wed In Double-Ring Ceremony, Calgary

Hillhurst United church, Calgary, was the scene of a small but beautiful wedding at 11 a.m., Saturday, July 2, when Janice Margaret, second daughter of Mr and Mrs. R. Omness, now of Kelowna, B.C., became the bride of Thomas Renne younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Renne of Eckville, Alberta. Rev. E. S. Robbie, whom many Vermilion people will remember, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Irene, younger sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid, and Adolf, the groom's older brother, was best man. Little Lorraine Omness and Randy Hobbis, niece and nephew of the bride, were flowergirl and ring-bearer respectively.

After the ceremony the wedding party and guests were served a delicious turkey dinner in the church hall. Mr. Orley Omness, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast to her, to which the groom responded in an appropriate and engaging manner.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Renne left for a six weeks' honeymoon, an extended tour of the United States, and will also visit the traditional honeymoon centre, Niagara Falls.

Upon their return the happy couple will reside in Bowness where they will both resume teaching duties in the fall. Mr. Renne is on the staff of the Wm. Aberhart High school in Calgary, and Mrs. Renne instructs a grade three room in Bowness.

Dear Little Deer Finds Sanctuary With Al Oeming

In a striking pose, this fawn bids farewell to Roddy and Sharon Emsland who cared for the little fellow from the time he was only a few days old. The episode started about one month ago when Mr Jim Emsland, who farms some eighteen miles south, while travelling to another farm early one afternoon, noticed the fawn in the ditch. Returning that same evening the animal was still in the same spot so Jim did the humane thing and took it home for care.

Fed from the bottle, kept warm in the house, the wee creature soon gained strength and became a real affectionate pet. In the meantime Game Guardian George Senz had contacted Al Oeming Alberta's outstanding zoologist and naturalist, who has started a wildlife farm near Edmonton. Mr Oeming consented to get the deer and arrived last Thursday night to pick it up. He commended the Emsland family on the obviously fine care given and invited them to be his guests at the wildlife farm any time they are nearby.

Now everybody is happy. Rod and Sharon because the deer has such a fine home, Mr Oeming because he has such a fine specimen and most of all the animal itself because he will now live out his life in a natural state less all the many dangers, both natural and man-made, that a creature of his kind has to face.

Vermilion To See Ladies', Men's Provincial Fastball Play-offs

Vermilion has been selected as the centre for play-off games for both the ladies' and men's provincial intermediate fastball title, with the men to see action on Aug. 7 and the ladies on Aug. 14.

LADIES' PLAY-OFF

In the ladies' division for the Intermediate B play-off for the championship of this area there are two entries, the Kitscoty Clippers and the Vermilion Cardinals. This will be a home and home series with the best two of three games winning the title. The contests will be played as follows:

August 7th. At Kitscoty, games at 1 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. Vermilion Cardinals vs. Kitscoty Clippers.

August 14th. At Vermilion, games at 1 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. Same two teams.

19 SEEK MEN'S TITLES

No less than nineteen teams are seeking the Intermediate B men's fastball championship for Northern Alberta. At Vermilion on Aug. 7th four of these teams will play a double knockout with Vermilion drawn against Looma and Woodward's meeting Sedgewick in the first round. From then on the round robin continues with the games all being played.

Watch for more details in the Standard next week.

NEWS from ISLAY

The John Maire family were visiting at the home of Mr and Mrs. Clay at Paradise Valley.

The Potvins and Beltons were at the lake at Vermilion Park on Sunday.

Mr and Mrs. Bill Purves have Mr Purves' brother and wife visiting them from Ontario. The Purves brothers are identical twins.

Garfield Potvin is attending university in Missoula, Montana. In a class of 100 Garfield ranked 13th.

Gerald Inman passed grade VII pianoforte examinations again this year with a mark of 70 per cent.

Ron Inman passed grade VIII pianoforte exam with 74 per cent and 96 per cent in grade II Theory exam. Both are pupils of Mrs. Elsie Batty of Kitscoty.

Erina Dalton and Linda Torrance spent the week-end in Calgary.

Mr and Mrs. I. D. Inman, and Mr and Mrs. W. Inman of Ardmore left on Friday for a trip up the Alaska Highway as far as Tascoin Lake Yukon.

The King family went to Edmonton Monday to see the parade the beginning of the Edmonton Exhibition.

Mrs. Nellie McFadden and her brother [illegible] of Edmonton were in Islay, Monday. Gordon had just returned from Ontario with a new Chev. He had visited the old home, and was in Lindsay where he visited with Catherine McEachern, also the July 1st picnic at Glenarm, an event which has been held for nigh on to 100 years. We would like to know if any reader can inform us as to the length of time?

Mr Henry Olds spent a few days at the home of his daughter Mrs. George Schaffer. Sunday great grandpa Olds came from Kitscoty, and Mrs. Evelyn Dobson and son Jim.

Mrs. A. H. Sweet went to Ponoka for a few days to see the new grandson, Timothy Ward Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Turner.

Mr and Mrs. Harry Ringland of Enderby B.C. are in the area visiting friends. Mrs. Ringland was the former Bessie Watkins.

Buck Deer Visits Town —Looking for Park?

A large buck deer with five point antlers wandered about the edge of the business section of the town on Sunday afternoon apparently looking for the provincial park which is at the same time an animal sanctuary. He was a beautiful animal.

The deer first called at the home of Angus MacMillan, president of the Board of Trade but found that Angus wasn't such a good gardener so moved next door simply by jumping the fence into the garden of Mrs. Porter. Mrs. Porter came out to see what was happening and the big deer took his departure simply by jumping over the fence and then over a second fence where he grazed the lawn of the Masonic Temple. He was last seen about 1 o'clock in the afternoon looking for a road out of the congested streets of town.

Steak Barbecue for Rotarians At Vermilion Provincial Park

Vermilion Rotary club held its annual picnic at Vermilion Provincial park in the form of a steak barbecue which was under the direction of three famous cooks by name, from [illegible] Dr. Don King and Jack Norton. There were no complaints.

Rotaryanns were invited so it made a delightful outing for everyone. Rotaryanns Maxine King and Edith Kneale arranged the supper and supervised the serving.

Three birthdays were recognized at the meeting. Aldous Kent and Ed Herring were duly congratulated. Then Maxine King's anniversary of her birth was the same day as the party, so she was presented with a card signed by everyone, a [illegible] and a gift.

Everyone present expressed appreciation of the beautiful setting we have at Vermilion lake for such gatherings. The park board has done a wonderful job in making the park suitable for tourists and citizens [illegible] alike and at no charge.

At Vermilion Fair, July 28, 29 and 30

Named by the manufacturer, the "Helicopter" Ride, it fulfills its name perfectly. There are eight helicopters on this attraction, each a perfect replica of the real thing. Each plane can be controlled by the junior pilot (or by dad or mom because they can ride too) and will fly up and around and down at the movement of the control "stick" as the pilot zeroes in for an attempted rescue or attack.

Paradise Valley

Miss Eleanor Fulgham was chosen from the Garden Club to attend the week's free short course at Vermilion this year, and Miss Ellen Teasdale and Miss Linda Stepenoff will go to Olds from the same club, for provincial competition. In the Clothing club Miss Sharon Dobson was the efficiency winner but since she attended the short course in Vermilion last year, Miss Irene Block has the honor of attending this course. Congratulations girls.

Miss Margaret Dudd of Paradise Valley and Mr. David Terell of Vermilion were married in the Paradise Valley United church on July 19th. Congratulations and best wishes to them.

There was an error in the Paradise Valley W.A. news last week. The W.A. plan to cater to the wedding reception of Miss Eva Brassington on Aug. 23rd, not Aug. 15, as stated.

Two F.W.U.A. Members To Attend Farm Women's Week at V.S.A.

Seventeen members of the Marwayne F.W.U.A. braved the inclement weather to meet at the home of Angeline McClean on June 27th.

The meeting was opened by the Creed. All were present to see the president, Mildred Sinclair, much improved in health, back in the chair again.

Doris Kvill and Frances Gray will attend Farm Women's Week at Vermilion from July 18th to 21st, and Lillian Tupper, Betty Hale, Isabel Parker and Dorothy Milne are delegates to attend the F.U.A. convention at Vermilion on June 28th.

The baby quilts, donated by Della Protsch, were divided between the W.M.S. and the Anglican W.A.

Plans for the Marwayne Horticultural Show were discussed. The show will be held in the Elks' Hall on August 19th and all members are to make two dozen entry cards for that day. There will be a produce table and lunch counter as usual.

A donation of $10.00 was received from two local residents to assist in some worthwhile cause.

Six blankets are to be ordered from the Adanac Company to replenish the branch's diminishing stock. Betty and Ruby Hale generously donated the material for these.

Ruby Peck gave an informative talk on "How Driver-Training Courses Can Improve Your Driving".

Kay Bacon and Gladys Hutchinson were winners of the stock ing contest, while Doris Kvill and Ruby Peck received the consolation prizes.

A bounteous lunch served by hostesses Angeline McClean, Lillian Tupper and Dorthy Milne brought the evening to a close.

The next meeting will be at the home of Ebba Currie on July 25th with Lil Quist and Ruby Kvill as co-hostesses. All visitors are very welcome to attend.

Michael Hinton Sixth in Race Of 230 Cadets

Micheal George Hinton, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Hinton of Vermilion, Alberta placed sixth in a field of 230 cadets competing in the annual cross country race at Clear Lake Army Cadet Camp in Riding Mountain National Park, Manitoba.

Hinton crossed the finish line seconds behind George Cowling of Ladner, B.C., Larry Stanfield of Spirit River, Alberta, Robert McArter of [illegible], Man., H. D. Stimson of Fort Churchill, Man. and Hubert Johnson of Sedgewick, Alta.

Although no official time was kept of the race, Lt. Col. C. B. Elliot, Commanding Officer of the camp and W. A. B. Gabriel, commented on the speed with which the first two boys covered the two and a quarter miles of broken and uneven ground.

Hinton is among seven boys from Number 2643 Vermilion Junior High School Cadet Corps attending the Junior Leaders Course at Clear Lake.

Lacombe Swine Breeders To Meet

The 1960 annual meeting of the Canadian Lacombe Breeders Association will be held on August 4 and 5 at the Experimental Farm, Indian Head, Sask.

With final distribution of Lacombe breeding stock from the Lacombe Experimental Farm planned for October this meeting will be of particular interest.

Dr. H. T. Fredeen, Head of the Experimental Farms Animal Science Division at Lacombe, points out that with some 123 breeders of Lacombe swine now in business, the breed would seem sufficiently established and capable of making its own way in the Canadian swine economy.

FUA Protests Any Regulations Change

EDMONTON July 12 — The following is the text of a letter which the F. U. A. Executive wrote to the standing committee on Agriculture and Colonization at Ottawa protesting any change of regulations in regard to feed mills buying grain direct from farmers.

"The F. U. A. Executive protests any relaxation of the Wheat Board regulations in regard to Feed Mills buying grain direct from farmers, outside of the Canadian Wheat Board.

One of the grain and feed companies in asking for the privilege of buying grain direct from farmers used the example of registered seed being sold outside of the Wheat Board, as a precedent to justify asking for the same privilege for buying feed grain. In the hearing it was frankly admitted that registered seed was often bought for less than Canadian Wheat Board initial price. This indicates that certain feed grain would move to feed mills at a lower price, therefore relaxing the regulation and would work to the disadvantage of the grain growers who are even now selling grain at below the cost of production.

Grain growers had for many years looked for some method to market their grain that would avoid the inherent weakness of the open market system. Even though the surplus production has created new problems, the grain grower does not wish to take the backward step that would be the result of any relaxation of controls at this time."

Health Unit Notes

SCHOOL CHILDREN

The Health Unit staff has been busy in the past two months inspecting school children and we would like to discuss with parents points in the health of school children which require special attention.

Teeth: A very large percentage of the children we examine have at least one decayed tooth and many have several large cavities and shells of teeth which need [illegible]. It is urged that parents examine their children's teeth regularly so that early decay may be treated before it gives rise to pain and entails loss of a tooth. A regular visit to the dentist is the only way of ensuring that teeth are in perfect condition. A child should have its first dental appointment at three years and every six months from there on.

Eyes: Many children are found to be suffering from mild degree of eye strain and if neglected this may cause deterioration in eye sight or permanent damage to the eyes. The early signs of eye strain are headaches, red rimmed and bloodshot eyes after reading, a tendency to hold the book close to the eyes and screwing up of the eyes to try and focus.

A reliable optician will always reassure a parent if eyes are normal or suggest the treatment necessary if they are not. Parents can protect their children's eyes by ensuring that they always sit in a good light when reading and hold the book straight and at a reasonable distance from the eyes. Excessive reading will put a heavy strain on the eyes. Wearing the right glasses when they are necessary will improve the eyesight and will not always mean wearing them for life.

Tonsils: Parents should seek advice from their physician concerning a child's tonsils and adenoids if the child has repeated colds, complains of sore throats, is a mouth breather, has a poor appetite and fails to thrive if the tonsils appear to be enlarged. It is quite amazing the improvement in a child's general health and school progress when this matter is attended to.

PALE, LISTLESS CHILD

If a child does not get sufficient sleep or have plenty of good nourishing foods (especially body building foods, such as meat, cheese, eggs and milk) he will not have the necessary energy to tackle his school work and resist infections and at the same time grow and the result is a pale listless child without zest for work or play.

CO-OPERATION

If any defects are found in a child at the periodic medical examinations, parents are informed and their co-operation in getting the matter attended to is earnestly sought so that the child can participate to the full in school life and get the maximum benefit from the education provided.

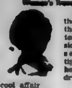
Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane

Women's Travel Authority



Want to beat the heat during the summer motoring excursions? Here are some practical tips on making hot weather driving a real cool affair.

Be on the road as early as possible. Dawn is the most beautiful part of the day — and the coolest. And there's the least traffic then. An early start will give you time for a rest stop after lunch during the midday heat. If you're near a lake or stream, a dip is most refreshing.

Dress right. Lightweight and wrinkle-resistant washable fabrics are best. For the girls, full skirts, sleeveless blouses. Add a flower or scarf and you're set for restaurant dining. A veil will keep your hair air conditioned, yet neat. Keep the youngsters in shorts or lightweight coveralls.

If driving gets hot, rub your wrists with ice. No ice? At a rest stop, run cold water over your wrists, splash some on your face. Have a cooling stick cologne handy, too.

Wicker back rests allow air to circulate behind the driver or passengers and make the whole body feel cooler.

Still hot? How about a car air conditioner?

And whatever the temperature, keep cool yourself by refusing to get hot and bothered by annoying road incidents. You're supposed to be having fun, remember?

The first large vineyards in Canada were started by John Kilborn at Beamsville, Ontario, in 1860.

Salvation Army Home League Notes

Captain Woods of Olds was in charge of the May meeting with Lieut. Jones opening with prayers. Mrs. Sample sent thanks for the fruit juices she had received when ill. Lunch was in the form of a birthday lunch for Mrs. Tremlett.

On May 11 Miss Craig opened the meeting. Mrs. Geake read the scripture and two solos were enjoyably rendered by Mrs. Tidsbury. Mrs. Fisk gave the visitation report. On May 17 the W.C.T.U. took the place of the regular meeting.

Mrs. Geake provided the leadership for the May 25 meeting. The Sunshine bags were handed in. It was work night so everyone was busy on some kind of handicraft. Roll call was given with a verse of scripture starting with a "D".

On June 1 Mrs. Kenat sang the hymn "Wonderful Words of Life" to open the meeting. Mrs. Geake showed a number of slides during the main portion of the meeting.

The meeting on June 8 was opened with a hymn. Mrs. Jensen read the "Optimist's Creed" which is very good instruction for everyday life. Games led by Mrs. Geake and Mrs. Sample were enjoyed. A shower was planned for Sylvia Rooks.

Mrs. Maskell opened the June 15th meeting with a hymn and a prayer and then gave her recipe for a scripture cake. Mrs. Isley is the delegate to Home League Camp. After devotion a social hour was held as a farewell party for Lieut. Moore and Lieut. Moffatt. A wedding gift was presented to Lieut. Doug Moore and his bride-elect. Rev. Schroeder closed with prayer.

The evening of June 22 was devoted to Sylvia Rooks' shower and many and varied were the gifts presented to her. Mrs. Jensen gave some humorous readings and advice. Sylvia sincerely thanked everyone for the enjoyable evening. She gave some very uplifting witness to God in her life work along the side of her husband-to-be.

The last June meeting was held on June 29 when Mrs. Isley opened with prayer. The scripture was read by Mrs. Vera Moren. A program was planned for the next three months and members are urged to watch your program for devotions and lunches that you take part in.

The meeting closed in prayer by Mrs. Geake. Many "get well" cards have been sent by the Home League to sick members.

The Bible Today

When Bishop Berggrav of Norway died he was President of the United Bible Societies in which position, during his lifetime, he had been active in promoting special assistance to the younger Bible Societies of the world. Due to the nationalistic influences and the rejection of [illegible] help by so many of the [illegible] it was the Society's aim to assist such countries to set up the domestic production of Scriptures by supplying technical help, composing machines, presses, binding machines and skilled helpers.

The Norwegian Bible Society has instituted an "E. Berggrav Memorial Fund" to be used for any kind of project which may help Societies in Missionary areas which are threatened in their work by the lack of local Scripture production facilities. Indonesia is a possible area for this help to be given.

The fund, administered by the Norwegian Bible Society is open to receive gifts from anywhere in the world. Those desiring to help this specialized work may send their contribution to their own National Bible Society, and marked "E. Berggrav Memorial Fund".

BARBECUING:

Outdoor living has caught the Canadian imagination. It is a common sight to see people eating outdoors at roadside picnic sites, in parks or in their own back yard. Barbecuing has given much variety to outdoor menu patterns.

ON THE PORTABLE GRILL:

These grills use charcoal available from local stores. For better heat reflection, place a sheet of aluminum foil shiny side up under the charcoal. To allow for air to circulate place a layer of coarse sand and gravel over the foil. Now place the charcoal on top of the gravel. Make a pyramid shape using 25 to 30 pieces of charcoal.

START THE FIRE:

Use charcoal lighter if you wish. Light your fire at least 20 to 40 minutes before cooking time. When your blaze has burned down, spread the coals evenly over the fire bed so they give even heat to all of the meat. When you find you need more fire, just push the charcoal from the edge of the firebed (after it catches) into the center.

YOUR CHOICE OF MEAT:

All variety of meats may be barbecued to suit the palate of any guest. One has a choice of steaks, sausage, porkchops, spare ribs, ham, wieners or chicken.

When cooking steak, have the cuts quite thick. Trim off excess fat and score the fat to prevent it from curling up. Meat tenderizer is a good addition to steak. Tongs are desirable for turning the steak but do not turn more than once. Grease the grill. For best results do not have the grate too close to the coals (4 to 8 inches). If using sauce, apply it as the meat cooks.

ACCOMPANYING FOODS:

BAKED POTATOES — To cut down cooking time, partially bake the potatoes in your own home. Be sure to grease and prick them. Then wrap in foil and place in hot coals to finish cooking.

GARLIC BREAD — Rye bread or a crusty loaf is a wise choice for this. Slice loaf, then spread with butter blended with garlic salt. Wrap the loaf in foil and place in coals and heat for 20 minutes.

Girl Guides Mark 50th Anniversary

WINNIPEG. — More than 100 Girl Guides from all parts of Canada, including the Northwest Territories, are travelling over Canadian National Railways lines this week in a series of inter-provincial visits. The visits are part of the celebration marking the 50th anniversary of the Girl Guides Association in Canada.

On arrival at their destinations, the girls will spend ten days at the Girl Guides Jubilee Camps, established in every province. For the remainder of their month-long trip, they will sample local hospitality in the homes of sister-Guides.

At Vermilion Fair, July 28, 29 and 30

Shown here is the one place on the entire continent where any driver of almost any age can drive in any conceivable manner without fear of injury to self or others. Actually, bumps, thumps and crashes are the rule rather than the exception, for this is the famous "Dodgem" ride on the Art B. Thomas Shows Midway. Each of the cars is controlled by the driver, who may control the speed and direction at will. The solidly constructed speedsters are surrounded completely with big spring-filled rubber bumpers that simply bounce the cars back into action and leave the drivers with no more harm than ruffled dignity. The "Dodgem" is one of the forty thrill-type attractions with the Thomas Shows playing here next week, July 28th, 29th and 30th at Vermilion Fair.

WILDMERE WINKS

Hope everyone survived the hot week. Haying weather is here and a number of people in this district have started haying.

Congratulations are due to Mr. and Mrs. George Caron on the opening of their new "Hub" cafe. We wish them success in their undertaking.

The Wildmere W. A. held their monthly meeting on Friday, July 15.

This past week has been a busy visiting week as many people have been arriving and leaving.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Bourgeois of Vancouver, B. C. are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Ken Sheppard of Edmonton visited at the home of the latter's parents for the week-end. Bobby and Murray Cruthers are visiting at their grandparents home for a few days.

Miss Marie Smith of Vermilion visited at her parent's home for the week-end.

Adam Smith returned home on Saturday after attending the 4-H camp at the Vermilion school of Agricultural for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Gibson, Isabelle, Ernest, and Ruth left on Thursday for a holiday to Kansas where they will visit Frank's cousin and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Grimble. They will return via Cloverdale after visiting Frank's parents and two sisters.

Remember folks the 4-H Calf Club Show and Sale on July 28. Get out and support these young people.

American Relief Fund Aiding Refugees and Disaster Areas

TORONTO. — $140,000 has been allocated for work among refugees and world relief by the Primate's Committee for World Relief of Anglican Church of Canada.

As World Refugee Year draws to a close officially, initial grants were made from the Primate's Fund for refugee work in Hong Kong, India, Pakistan, Germany, Austria, the Middle East.

Over $80,000 has been distributed through the World Council of Churches and $25,000 through the United Nations. Grants were made to Chile and Mauritius for disaster relief, to the Archbishop of South Africa for his assistance fund, and $18,000 is to be sent to Hong Kong to help Bishop Hall establish a children's meal centre among refugee families.

The Primate's Fund has been established on a continuing basis to receive contributions from Church people for disaster relief and for the rehabilitation and resettlement of those refugees whose needs were not met in World Refugee Year.

TULLIBY LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. Alec Marsh were guests at the wedding of Rosemarie Nettleton and Arthur Axani held in the Elk Point United church.

Curtis Morton has left to seek employment on the South Saskatchewan River dam project.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johns' little girl is in an Edmonton hospital slowly recovering from polio.

Douglas Adamson was home to spend the week-end with his parents. Doug now finds employment as an accountant at a branch of the Royal Bank at Bluesker.

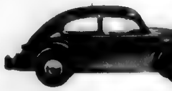
Best Buy in Fenders—Volkswagen



Volkswagen makes sense for you in many ways. Everything was designed with your pocket book in mind—nothing has been changed to please a passing fad. Take spare parts, for example: Volkswagen's fenders are bolted to the body for quick replacement. (A rear fender costs $16.10) Or a complete engine can be exchanged in 90 minutes. Only two examples of what a soundly engineered car means for you.

Or think of the low initial cost: Volkswagen has maintained the same price ever since it was introduced in Canada eight years ago. The secret? Volkswagen has increased production year by year, from 8,000 cars in 1948 to more than 700,000 in 1959, making it the largest selling small car in the world—by far.

The logical result of maintaining and improving a sound basic design is a standard of quality which has made Volkswagen famous throughout the world. 1,826 Canadian Volkswagen owners have received the Gold Watch Award and Diploma for driving their cars 60,000 miles without major repair.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Need of Northern Railway Is Questioned by Commission Chairman

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — Well, the proposed railway to the Northwest Territories seems to be right back where it started — in the hands of the federal government.

The Manning Royal Commission, which studied alternate routes for the proposed railway, has submitted its report to the government and it was tabled in the House of Commons last week.

The report gave a slight edge to the western route running north from Grimshaw, Alta., with chairman Mr. Justice E. Manning and commissioner John Anderson-Thomson of Yellowknife favoring that route. The third commissioner, Dr. W. D. Gainer, favored the northeastern route through McMurray, Alta.

But perhaps the most significant part of the report is the section written by the chairman, in which he questions the need to build a railway at all.

From the beginning the argument in favor of building the line has been that it would permit development of vast lead-zinc deposits at Pine Point on the south shore of Great Slave Lake.

Pine Point Mines Ltd., a subsidiary of giant Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. Ltd., told the commission that mining development would start if a railway should be built into the area.

Mr Justice Manning however says he thinks the ore deposits could be developed without a railway. He says the ore concentrates could be shipped out by truck over the Mackenzie highway and still produce a substantial profit for the mining company.

But if a railway must be built he says the western route through Grimshaw appears to offer a few advantages over the eastern route through McMurray. For one thing, he says, the Grimshaw route goes through easier construction terrain and there already is a highway to facilitate movement of building supplies and equipment. As for the McMurray route, he says, there are many uncertainties about the terrain and construction conditions.

From here on, it appears up to the federal government to decide what action will be taken.

Some critics have said the Diefenbaker government would like nothing better than a reason for shelving the proposed railway for the time being. If this is correct perhaps Mr Justice Manning has provided the reason.

CROP PROSPECTS NEVER BETTER

Grain crops and vegetables grew rapidly under a hot sun last week, and in most parts of Alberta crops prospects never have looked better. That was the word from R. F. English, statistician in the provincial department of agriculture. He said growth was tremendous in regions north of Calgary and Hanna. Only in the south, where rainfall has been spotty, did the hot weather appear to retard crops. In the Peace River area, the heat wave helped to ease flooding which occurred in June. All in all, says the department, things are looking good.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

Weather - very hot! Electric storms on the evening of July 14 and 15 with showers.

An enthusiastic group met at the church on the evening of July 5th, working on the grounds and mowing the lawn. The church has been painted by Mr C Ferguson of town which made a decided improvement to its appearance.

Mrs. Mabel Lee of Vermilion has been staying on the farm with her sister Mrs. Mayers.

On July 5 Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Walsh, Doreen, Wayne and Laura from the city arrived at the latter's parents, the Omness home, to join their daughter Adele for holidays. Della and Jimmy left on the 7th for Kindersley, Sask., and points in Montana for a week visiting relatives, also Lethbridge and Calgary.

Mrs. I. Huxley and family of Clandonald left July 9th for a two weeks' holiday at Cochin-Day's Beach, Sask. Mr Huxley drove the family down and then returned home.

Mr and Mrs W C Laird and daughters Margaret and Kathryn of Clandonald left on July 13 for Assiniboia Sask. to holiday with son Stuart, Glenna and baby son, at Welwyn, Sask., to visit the latter's mother Mrs. B. McGibney, Pilot Mound, Man., where they will see Clairmont's parents Mr and Mrs. L. C. Laird, North Dakota, his sister Mrs. E. Milne and will then wend their way home by the Black Hills and Yellowstone National park, Banff, Calgary. In Calgary a visit will be made with Mr and Mrs Jack Laird, a brother. In Edmonton they will stop over to see son Wayne and Mari and daughter Clarice, Cy and son.

July 9th, fishing was good but the catch not too successful at Fishing Lake though the McPhee and McRae sisters enjoyed their outing and the scenery of the north. Much the same luck was experienced by Gus Throndson and George Maggs of town on July 13 and 14.

Through the kindness and hospitality of Aunt Stella Mayers twenty-three cousins enjoyed a get-acquainted party at her farm home on the afternoon of July 11. They are her great-nieces and great-nephews. Some of the mothers were present and some were with their grandparents. The group enjoyed a ball game and the afternoon came to a close with a delicious lunch. Thanks again to [illegible].

Mr Jean [illegible] from [illegible] Flats arrived at his daughter's, the [illegible] Nelson home on July 6th for holidays.

Vernon Nelson left by bus for Banff on July 6th where he will be working for the next two months for the Peter Martin Dude Ranch.

Mr and Mrs Gus Throndson of town had a pleasant surprise lately when Ronald Mawson called. He is the youngest son of Mr and Mrs Fred Mawson now in the city, originally of Vilna. He is trucking from Vermilion to Vegreville.

The week-end of July 9th Mr and Mrs. Gordon Mayhew from Banff and the latter's sisters Mrs Mary Fighter from Vancouver, and Mrs. Bridie Porter of Ottawa, Ont., and some members of the families were visitors at the McCormick home in Rusylvia. Mother O'Fee has been at Banff, she will be visiting daughter Clara and Paddy Steward at Dawson Creek. Later this year she will go to Ottawa to be with her daughter Bridie and Winston and family.

On July 17 Mr and Mrs. Wm. Armstrong of town accompanied their son-in-law Jack Dwyer to the city for a week's holiday. Carol Armstrong accompanied Uncle Jack back to the city also.

The July W.A. meeting met at the Gus Throndson home in town. All were pleased to have Mrs. Annie Cameron in attendance. Entire devotional was taken from Hurlbut's Story of the Bible, starting with the New Testament. The August meeting will be at the Omness home. Lunch — Mrs. F. Throndson and Mrs. E. Nelson.

July 17 Mrs. Josie Southwell and granddaughter Sharon arrived in Vermilion from the city to holiday at the Gus Throndson home in town and at the Omness farm.

Our deepest sympathy to the families of Mother Carlson who passed away July 17. She was truly a pioneer of the west and saw it develop from the early days.

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs. Allen Mead on the birth of a son.

Congratulations and our very best wishes to the newlyweds, Mr and Mrs. Phillip Porter of Dewberry. Donna was a very charming bride.

Mr and Mrs Alvin Lawrence of Unity, Sask., called at the Omness home on the evening of July 16th to visit and renew acquaintances with the Walsh family.

Mrs. Southwell, Sharon Paulette and Lynn Whelan and grandparents joined the Walsh family at Whitney for an afternoon. A lovely spot at the campsite and many are enjoying it.

Closing thought: 'He is still taking care of the tomorrows, and I am doing my best with His help to take care of the todays.'

OLYMPICS

This year's Olympics bid fair to be the most beautiful, the biggest and the most exciting of all thanks to Italy's efforts as host. The [illegible] site near a bend of the Tiber River in Rome, is the Olympic Village, a 4000-room apartment development designed to house 8000 athletes who will participate in the forthcoming games. The August issue of Reader's Digest states that this project will have 12 restaurants plus a huge international kitchen. Chefs will cook to please every native palate.

In 1959 Gross National Product of Canada amounted to $2,348 per capita, compared to a figure of $2,187 for the United States.

MARWAYNE NEWS

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hines on the birth of a son.

Also congratulations and good wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fulton, the former Leona Mathison, who were married in Dewberry on Tuesday.

The Misses Shirley Hale and Linda Killam are Vancouver visitors.

Mr and Mrs. Thorsen, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and the Gudzowaty family motored to Banff.

Mrs. Doris Kvill and Mrs. Frances Gray are attending Farm Women's week at the Vermilion School of Agriculture July 18 to 21st. They are sponsored by the local F.W.U.A.

Miss Marjorie Campbell was a week-end visitor with Doris [illegible].

A shower was held at the home of Mrs. Doull Sr. for Miss Jean Harwood on Friday evening, in honor of her coming marriage. Miss Harwood has been employed in the bank for the past year.

The Marwayne and Kitscoty Boy Scout troops are camping at the lake on the Lea Park Cattle [illegible].

Bobby MacDonald fell from the ramp at the elevator and had to be rushed to the hospital. We wish him a speedy recovery as that is a poor way to spend the holidays.

Mr Gordon Boyce is home from the hospital.

Mr and Mrs. Chas. Nickles and family of Castor have been visiting friends here. Mr Nickles was the teacher at the Belcamp school a number of years ago.

Miss Arlene Armstrong of Kamloops, B.C., niece of Mr. C. Currie, has been visiting with all the Currie relatives here.

With such ideal weather the gardens of this area are really something to see.

55th Annual Fair Opens To Huge Crowd

TO OPEN FAIR

HON. RUSSELL PATRICK

Provincial Secretary and Minister of Industry and Development, who will officially open the 55th annual fair in Vermilion this Thursday evening. With the Minister for the ceremony will be Ashley Cooper, M.L.A. Mayor Melvin Hill, and Reeves Arthur W. Roland of Minburn M.D., John H. Kelly of Vermilion [illegible] and [illegible] Dudar of Eagle M.D. The distinguished guests will be introduced by S. C. Heckbert, the secretary-manager of Vermilion Agricultural Society.

Outstanding Programs For Friday and Saturday

Vermilion's 55th Annual Exhibition opened Thursday morning with a monster parade which included a large number of most attractive floats, decorated cars and kiddies with their bicycles.

The fair will carry on for the remainder of the week and all patrons will be delighted with the outstanding show of livestock, said to be one of the largest in Western Canada this season; every stall on the fair grounds is packed and the judges will have a difficult task to select winners from the outstanding herds.

MUSICAL RIDE EACH DAY

The Saskatoon Pony Club, composed of twelve attractive young people, will be staging their musical ride each day and an excellent programme of grandstand attractions will be shown each afternoon and evening.

RACING PROGRAM FIREWORKS

Special features of the fair this year will be the racing program on Saturday afternoon, and a grand display of fireworks each evening on conclusion of the attractions programs.

Saturday's race card includes a free-for-all, 1 mile; a free-for-all, half mile; barrel race; children's pony race; chariot race, and a consolation race for all who failed to get into the money in the preceding list of races.

FRIDAY and SATURDAY ATTRACTIONS

The program for Friday and Saturday will include judging from ten o'clock in the morning. On Friday there will be grandstand attractions at 2:30, 7:00 o'clock and 9:00 o'clock, and on Saturday the afternoon grandstand show will begin at 3:00 o'clock, with evening shows at 7:00 and 9:00 o'clock, provided there is sufficient crowd to warrant the second show, as has been the case the past two years.

KINSMEN CAR RAFFLE

The Kinsmen car will be raffled following the late show on Saturday and the grand fireworks display will conclude Vermilion's big fair late Saturday night.

Some 7,000 free kiddies' day tickets were distributed throughout the district and the youngsters were out in full force on Thursday afternoon to enjoy the free rides and shows.

Standard Staff To Holiday For Two Weeks

The Vermilion Standard will be closed for holidays from Saturday July 30th to Monday morning August 15. The newspaper issues of August 4 and August 11 will therefore be cancelled.

Provincial Fastball Playoffs Aug. 7th

Vermilion Ghosts have entered the Men's Intermediate B fastball playoffs and Sunday, Aug. 7 will see the first round played right here in Vermilion.

Four teams will play with Looma, Sedgewick, Woodwards and Vermilion Ghosts meeting in a double knockout. The first game is scheduled for 10 a.m. with never a dull moment thereafter.

Men's Open Golf Tourney Sun., Mon.

The annual open golf tournament of the Vermilion Golf club will be held this Sunday and Monday, July 31 and Aug. 1.

A qualifying 9-hole round may be played on Saturday, but arrangements have been made for the entrants to qualify for the various flights on Sunday morning, with the tee-offs starting at 9 a.m. With the flights made up, the tournament will consist of match play in three rounds of nine holes each.

A wiener roast for all entrants and their wives will take place on Sunday evening.

Entry fee has been set at $2.50 for the tournament, open to all male golfers. The Vermilion Ladies' Golf club is catering for the two-day event, providing meals and snacks for the players.

Town Council Moves To Purchase New Fire Truck

The council, town of Vermilion, at the last meeting passed by-law 1140 approving the purchase of a new fire truck.

By-law 1040 was also given three readings and carried. It related to the purchase of a tractor loader.

Other matters dealt with included a variety of items.

C. T. Heckbert was appointed deputy mayor for the ensuing two months.

The R.C.M.P. agreement for the year 1960-61 was accepted and signed by the mayor and secretary.

Agreement for easement between T. C. Marshall and the town of Vermilion was accepted at a charge to the town of $100.

Geo. Caron was granted permission to erect a canopy on the [illegible] cafe, located on Lot 19, Blk. five.

It was moved and carried that a lifeguard be on duty at the park beach from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily. Overtime salary at the rate of $1 per hour time to be arranged by the swim director, Mr. Fenton.

Carl Eyben was granted a permit to build a residence on Lot 3, Blk. 1, Plan 5786AY, subject to the building by-laws of the town.

The application of David E. Brown to operate a wood and metal shop on south half of Lots 27 and 28, Blk. 3, were approved.

United Church Broadcast

The worship service at First United church will be broadcast over CKSA at 11 a.m. Sunday, July 31.

Monday, Aug. 1 Civic Holiday

Monday, August 1st has been declared a civic holiday in the town of Vermilion in accordance with the declaration all business places in Vermilion will be closed. The practice of observing the first Monday in August as a civic holiday is now quite widespread.

Anticipation, as evidenced by Principal Newcombe Bentley, centre, was not greater than realization in this instance, as the barbecued beef served at the Western Stock Growers' Association meeting last Saturday was exquisite, if such a term may be applied to the delicious flavor of the beef served. Even the two chefs look quite happy and at home carving the barbecued beef. On the left is Gus Mireault, and on the right Dr. A. Ben King. There was a long line of hungry customers looking on, watching the two chefs do the carving, all expectation as the aroma of barbecued beef was wafted to their nostrils.

Butler Steel To Start Work On New Agricultural and Civic Centre Aug. 1

Agreement Calls For Construction of Foundation, Framework, Roof

At a meeting held a few days ago, an agreement was reached between the Committee which has been formed to arrange for the new building, and a representative of Butler Steel Buildings, to commence construction of the proposed new Agriculture and Recreation Centre in Vermilion. It is now planned that work will commence on or about August 1st, and proceed as quickly as possible. The plans for the building call for a steel framework, with sheet steel roof, concrete block walls and interior partitions, with adequate facilities for complete use of the building, both summer and winter. It is anticipated that the structure will be used as an agricultural building during the summer months, with accommodation for livestock shows and sales, as well as room for agricultural displays, handicrafts and similar competitions at fair time.

During the winter months the building will be used mainly as an arena. A concrete floor will be provided in the arena area, complete with the necessary piping for the installation of artificial ice. Seven rows of seats will surround the ice area, with eleven rows of seats at one end, and a two-storey waiting room at the front. The building will be situated directly north of the present main gate into the fair grounds, thus serving, as well as possible, the needs of the community for both agricultural and recreational purposes.

Cost Estimated $340,000

The cost of the centre will eventually total some $340,000.00 which will give Vermilion a building second to none in Western Canada for many years to come. As well as being useful for many purposes within the community the attractive, modern appearance of the building will add greatly to the approach to the town.

Considerable work remains to be done. The present agreement deals only with the construction of the foundation, the steel framework and roof. It is interesting to note that because of size and weight of the structure the huge quantity of concrete that will be used requires approximately one month to cure before the steelwork can be erected. Construction of this nature will naturally involve considerable time and at the moment it is not expected that all work on the building will be completed before mid-February although it is hoped that the building will be available for use some considerable time before that date.

MUCH LEFT TO BE DONE

Plans still have to be finalized for all construction except for the shell of the building as now arranged. The lighting, heating and plumbing facilities as well as the interior finish will all require considerable study before tenders can be called. In arranging the plans the Committee is trying to foresee every possible use that will be made of the building, and to arrange the facilities accordingly.

CO-OPERATION OF EVERYONE NEEDED

The project will eventually involve the community in a very large sum of money as the building must be paid for as the work progresses. While a large percentage of the necessary funds have now been provided by the Town and the Agricultural Society through various grants that are being made available there still remains a substantial sum to be raised by the community as a whole. The building committee takes this opportunity to urge that you support each and every one of the planned fund-raising activities that are being conducted by the various service groups of the town. This will be the assurance that the Committee will be able to finish the building in a manner best suited to the needs of the community.

Horse Races Make Re-appearance at Fair

The ever popular horse races will make their re-appearance at Vermilion fair on Saturday, July 30th with a program of six races commencing at 2 p.m.

The program includes the following races and prizes:

Free For All 1 mile 1 heat 1st $40 2nd $25 3rd $10

Free For All, ½ mile 1 heat 1st, $40, 2nd, $20 3rd $10

[illegible] 1 $30 2 $15 3 [illegible]

Children's Pony Race riders 14 years and under 1 $20 2 $15 3 $10 4 $5 5 $2. Horses in previous races not eligible.

Chariot Race 2 horse set-up 1 heat $50 $30 $15.

Consolation Race all horses entered in previous races which have failed to win money $20 $10 $5.

The races will be run in the order notated above.

Reg Ireland will be in charge of the race program.

Rotary Calendar Now In Course of Preparation

Early start planned for canvass in rural areas.

The very popular Rotary calendar is now being planned for the year 1961. All district residents who desire to have birthdays, wedding anniversaries or organization meeting dates included in the calendar should be on the watch for members of the Rotary Club who will be contacting farm folks right away, and people in town commencing on September 12th. There is a lot of preparation work to do for the calendar even after all the names have been collected, and if the Rotary Club gets the copy for their calendar in real early they get a 10 per cent discount on the price of printing, and this amount can be put to good community use. So everyone can help by getting orders for calendars in right away. See the large display advertisement elsewhere in this issue for full particulars.

The minor charge for listing birthdays and wedding anniversaries is only 25 cents; calendars are available at 50 cents. Local business men are co-operating by advertising on the calendar, and every effort is being made to make it more attractive than ever.

A synopsis of the use of the funds is published in the Rotary advertisement.

For people out of the district who wish to have their names included in the calendar, a form is attached to the advertisement. Just fill it out and mail as directed.

LIGHT HORSE TROPHIES

A very attractive display of trophies for the light horse classes was being admired this week in the show window of Craig's store. The arrangement was by Gerry Svenneson.

Mannville, Derwent First To Set Paving Programs

VERMILION — Mannville and Derwent were the first two villages to sign agreements for hard topping and paving programs, while Myrnam is the first to make a definite decision as to the use of the recreational grant within the Vermilion constituency, according to Ashley Cooper, M.L.A. Grants for paving and for recreation were the 1960 projects for the provincial government's five-year plan.

Little Interest in Redistribution of Alberta Legislature Seats

Maybe it's the hot weather, but there seems to be little interest in the impending redistribution of Alberta Legislature seats.

Friday of last week was the deadline for submitting briefs to the seven-member House Committee charged with the responsibility of reshuffling the seats. And on the deadline day Ray Crevolin, secretary of the committee had received only six briefs — from the Progressive Conservative Association of Alberta, the Three Hills Social Credit League, the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, the Mirror Chamber of Commerce and from two individuals.

There was always the chance more were in the mail, and if they arrive later they'll be accepted, says Crevolin.

Hon. F. C. Colborne, Calgary, minister without portfolio, heads the committee. He probably will call public hearings for sometime in the fall, and then committee members will go to work preparing a report and recommendations for next year's session of the Legislature.

The House currently has 65 seats, up from 61 as the result of a partial redistribution carried out before the last election. The last full-scale redistribution was before the 1952 election.

The demand for redistribution is accented by the growth of two major cities, Edmonton and Calgary. This has proceeded to such an extent that a city member of the legislature represents approximately 30,000 people, while the M.L.A.s in the country have from 10,000 to 15,000 residents in their areas. Balancing this, however, is the large area and multiplicity of problems the rural member has to contend with. In the city a few miles covers one end of the constituency to the other. Not so in a rural area such as Vermilion, which is some 70 miles from north to south and 45 miles from east to west. Included is every variety of local government, municipal council, town, village, hamlet and school division. A much wider variety of problems result with much more territory to cover. The need for redistribution is thus questionable.

Farm Safety Week

July 24 - 30 has been proclaimed Farm Safety Week across Canada. Of all the special weeks marked throughout the year none is more worthy of widespread publicity than this one, set aside to draw attention to the need of safety on the farm.

Farm accidents, many of them needless, take a tragic toll each year. Many can be avoided by these few simple safety rules:

1. In filling the fuel tank be careful that no gasoline or other fuel is spilled on the hot exhaust pipe. Stop the motor before refueling.

2. Be sure to keep the protective shield on the power take-off at all times. Unshielded take-offs have been the cause of many serious accidents.

3. Operate the tractor from a sitting position. Many an operator has been thrown off the machine, while standing up, by a sharp unexpected jolt.

4. Never make adjustments on a machine while it is running.

5. When hooking a tractor to an implement, don't operate the clutch while standing on the ground behind the tractor.

6. Never drive the tractor close to the edge of banks or gullies where there is danger of the machine tipping over. Tractors tip easily because their centre of gravity is high.

7. When driving the tractor along a road or highway don't drive too fast or too close to the edge. Many of the most serious tractor accidents occur on the highway.

8. Make sure the tractor hitch is adjusted properly and that the tractor is not overloaded. An improper hitch can cause trouble.

9. Never allow small children to ride on, or operate, farm machinery. Every year failure to heed this precaution takes several young lives.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR PERSONALITY

Teenagers are more occupied with personality and popularity than other people because they are going through a period of temporary insecurity. This is the opinion of Dr. Karl S. Bernhardt, Professor of Psychology at the University of Toronto, who gives this advice to teenagers.

There is no sure-fire formula to acquire a so-called good personality. If you want to change yours, you have to dig deep.

Understanding why you feel insecure is the first step. Next comes the three steps to effective personality change — an honest self-appraisal; the will to change; and practice over months or even years.

The clue to a healthy personality, Dr. Bernhardt said, was the ability to love and work. Another key was self-esteem. Liking yourself for what you are is necessary if you are to like others for what they are, he explained.

I'M JUST A MISUNDERSTOOD [illegible]

Letters to the Editor

The Standard does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents

Dear Editor:

I would appreciate it if you could spare space for the following letter at your earliest convenience, under the heading "Taxed Out of Existence".

Recently we have been faced with the shameful fact that a great public service, the Kohnee store, post office, filling station, etc., has been forced to close up and go out of business because of the outrageous taxes levied against it by the M.D. The proprietors made an admirable effort to stay in business, but the odds were against them.

To say I was surprised is putting it mildly, when I found out a year ago last spring that the Kohnee store pays more than twice as much taxes on the one or two acres on which it is located than Mr Nelson pays on the whole quarter section. Some might say that it's not the land but the buildings that are being taxed so heavily but that doesn't jibe either, as Mr Nelson has much more valuable buildings just across the road, and I don't think they were ever taxed at all.

Now that the store is closed the small plot of land on which it is located will be rejoined to the quarter from which it was originally separated, and the municipality will receive only about one dollar a year taxes on it as farm land. Why couldn't the Kohnee store have been taxed this small sum and thus permitted to stay in business, instead of being forced to bear the crushing tax burden of $180 to $190 per annum, as has been the case in the last few years? Are the stores at Tolland and Wildwood taxed equally as heavy?

If the jealous Americans keep provoking the patient Russians as has been the case in the past few years, an all-out atomic war may be started, and an hour or two after it breaks out there may be more edible groceries in the Kohnee store than in the cities of Edmonton and Calgary combined. Furthermore, the extermination of small country businesses like this is to be deplored, as it tends to crowd the population into the larger centres which would have to be evacuated in case of nuclear hostilities.

Even the wealthy farmers with new cars are often glad of these country stores when the roads plug up with snow so they can not be used, though the last two winters haven't been bad in this respect. But to a person like me who hasn't got car, truck, phone or power the store is practically indispensable.

Our municipal taxes have been climbing steadily every year for the past fifteen years, and the big question seems to be: Where will it stop? Perhaps they will keep on climbing for the next fifteen years or conversely, another great depression may set in and reverse the trend.

If the situation doesn't improve there will be much more than the Kohnee store taxed out of business soon. When these large municipalities were first forced on us by our S.C. government (against the people's will) we were told that it was being done for our own good, as the economies thus effected would greatly reduce our taxes, which is indeed laughable, as our taxes were never half as high before the changeover as they are now. According to the slip which we receive with the tax notice our taxes would be twice as high as they are now if it wasn't for the yearly subsidy paid the municipalities by the provincial government. This in turn is made possible by the revenues from gas and oil, which has been accumulating in the earth for billions of years, and not due to any magic financing on the part of the government.

At the time the new municipal office was built in Kitscoty, it was pointed out by this paper and many other persons, the economies that could be effected by leaving it where it was, in Vermilion. However, since it was only the taxpayer who would foot the bill, economies weren't considered worth thinking about as usual.

In addition to performing a public service, the families who have been operating the Kohnee store, are just one more lot of names off the relief or unemployment rolls, which is one of our great problems today.

The council makes generous yearly donations to other public services, such as Salvation Army, Beulah Home, Red Cross and so on, so why not try to help this store stay in business, by a tax reduction? This would be of direct benefit to the people of the M.D., whereas the three charities mentioned might be of more benefit to people living thousands of miles away.

FROM GARDEN TO FREEZER

Homemakers who are fortunate enough to own a home freezer use freezing rather than canning as the method for preserving much of their home produce.

Select the best varieties and kinds of food for freezing. When freezing fruits or vegetables work with small quantities.

FREEZING VEGETABLES:

Vegetables should be sorted, washed and prepared quickly. Blanch about one pound of vegetables in every three gallons of boiling water, using a wire basket or a cheesecloth sack to hold and remove the vegetables. Blanching checks the enzyme action which would cause flavor, texture and color changes. For recommended times for this process, phone or call in for our publication "Preserve by Freezing". Vegetables must be thoroughly chilled following blanching. Pack and seal the containers. Freeze.

FREEZING FRUITS

If syrup is to be used, make it and chill it. Add ascorbic acid to syrup when needed for some fruits. Fruits do not require blanching. They must be sorted, washed and prepared. Cover fruit with cold sugar syrup, mix with dry sugar or pack without sugar. Pack in moisture vapor proof containers leaving headspace. Crumple a piece of foil or waxed paper and place on top of fruit to hold it under syrup when cover is placed on the container, seal, label and freeze immediately.

IF USING COLD SYRUP

The syrup pack is best for fruits which darken readily, such as peaches and apricots. To make syrup add one cup of sugar to one and one half cups of water. Bring to a boil. Chill. Boiled syrup gives more protection against discoloration than unheated syrup. Add ¼ teaspoonful powdered ascorbic acid to each one and one half cups of syrup just before using.

FREEZING WITHOUT SUGAR

Occasionally berries, rhubarb, apples etc are frozen without sugar or syrup. Berries packed by this method, however collapse more quickly when thawed, and their flavor deteriorates more quickly than those frozen with syrup or sugar. Cranberries, apples and rhubarb freeze successfully without sugar.

NEW SEEDS ACT

E. H. Douglas

Ottawa, July 15 — The new Seeds Act regulations provide for grades of registered seed, certified seed and commercial seed. The Canadian Seed Growers' Assoc. now becomes the sole seed pedigreeing agency in Canada. Grade names are retained but now it will be permissible to indicate on the tag additional information as to details of analysis. Forage crop seed can only be sold under a variety name if the seed is of a registered or certified grade. Formerly variety names could be used on any grade.

APHIDS ON BARLEY

Corn leaf aphid has been doing some damage to late barley in North Dakota, Manitoba and some parts of Saskatchewan. A few have been identified in the Edmonton area. Conditions are right for aphids in this area and aphid populations build up rapidly. Heavy infestations cause plants to turn yellow and later brown. The aphids suck sap from the young succulent plants but barley headed out will likely escape serious damage. Insecticide control is recommended if the crop is heading out and there are from 100 to 200 aphids per linear foot of crop row. The recommended insecticide is Malathion (50 per cent emulsion) at 1½ pints per acre in from 5 to 10 gallons of water. The decision to spray or not depends on what can be saved as the very minimum cost for insecticide will be $1.75 per acre. Malathion 50 per cent retails for about $14.00 a gallon.

TREES

P. D. McCalla, Alberta's Horticulturist, reports that 27,910 trees were officially distributed from the Vermilion District Agriculturist office in the spring of 1960. This was a small number compared to the Sedgewick office which distributed 107,315 trees. Possibly more trees will be distributed from the Vermilion office with a new tree planter available for residents of the M.D. of Vermilion River in the spring of 1961. Trees must be planted on land summerfallowed the previous year. There is still time to give land a good working for next year's planting. Order trees from your D.A. office and if you are planting a lot of trees, reserve the tree planter.

CUTWORMS 1961

Red-backed cutworms which cause damage in the Parkland are expected to be on the decrease for 1961. This is not true for the Pale-western cutworm of the Prairie. Heavily infested crops of Red-backed cutworms can be prevented by black summerfallow. If there is a regrowth on summerfallow in the Parkland this must be destroyed because Red-backed cutworms lay their eggs on weedy growth. The crusted surface has no effect on Red-backs but does help control Pale Western cutworms. Red-backs will also lay eggs in weedy patches on stubble land, grain, rapeseed, alfalfa and sweet clover. Kill the weeds and keep down the cutworms.

NEWS from ISLAY

Mrs. Sylvia Rogers (nee Newcombe) of Ganges, Salt Spring Island, has returned home after spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Waterfield.

Grace Simmons is employed at the new Hub Cafe in Vermilion for the summer months.

Linda Redmond is assisting at the lunch counter of the Snow Queen, just west of Vermilion.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Davidson and Lynne have returned from a trip to various points in B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill McNeeley, Patricia, Marilyn and Joan of The Pas, Man., are visiting relatives here, and also made a trip to Edmonton.

Mrs. Marie Sanderson and wee daughter Karen of Calgary, spent a few days with her mother, Mrs. Marie Steinhauer.

Mrs. Faye Critchley of Brentwood Bay, B.C., who has been here to attend the wedding of her brother Kenneth McLennan to Miss Janet Kent, left for home Friday by Dayliner to Edmonton, then by plane to Victoria.

Cousins of the Andersons came from Saskatchewan the week-end to visit, returning on Sunday as they were attending summer school at the U. of S.

During August church services will be held only twice, on the 14th and the 28th, conducted by Mr. Snider, as Rev. Mr. Shortt will be on holidays.

Church Vacation school will be held Aug. 1 to 5 from 9 to 12 noon each day in the United church. An invitation is extended to all children.

NEWS from KITSCOTY

Nita and Jack Miller and the boys would like to express their gratitude to the volunteer fire department and all who helped in any way at the time of the recent fire in their home.

Congratulations and all best wishes for their future happiness are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. "Bob" Tyler (the former Fae Pettman of Dewberry) and to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Shortt (formerly Margaret Miles) who were married recently.

Miss Eunice Swyripa, student nurse at the Vegreville General hospital, spent a holiday here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Swyripa. Visiting with Eunice was her friend Miss Joan Benoit from Lloydminster.

Mrs. Dick Smith of Paradise Valley called on her old friends Mr. and Mrs. Ted Joy one day recently.

WINS $1000 AT BINGO

We wish to congratulate Mrs. Paul Swyripa who was a lucky winner at a recent bingo game in Lloydminster. Mary came home with a nice prize of $1000.

Miss Judy Sheppard, nurse-in-training at Lamont, spent three days here recently with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Ted Sheppard and Kathleen.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Harnan of Edmonton spent a week-end here with their aunt, Mrs. W. L. Apperson.

Mrs. J. Crews of the Earlie district and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Graham and family from town were all guests at the recent wedding of their niece and cousin Miss Sylvia Dunne of Ilashaw.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Harmer of North Surrey, B.C., spent a holiday here recently with relatives and called on several of their old friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. George McGregor and family spent a short holiday at Loon Lake, Sask. boating and fishing.

We are pleased to report Mr. Jack Graham is home and improved in health after spending a week in Lloydminster hospital.

BARN BURNS WHEN STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

The barn on the J. Locke farm, now owned by Mike Sherwyko, was struck by lightning recently and burned to the ground in about twenty minutes, despite the fact that several members of the fire department responded to the call for help.

Best wishes for a complete recovery are extended to Mrs. Emma (Grandma) Parkin and to Mrs. Stanley Welsh who at present are patients in Lloydminster hospital.

Mr. Ken Tinney, Mrs. Tinney and family spent a week here with their mother Mrs. R. M. [illegible] before leaving for [illegible], where Ken has been posted for the next [illegible].

Get Reputable Firm For Roofing

Information indicates that one of the rackets which is commonly associated with the Terrible Williamses of the U. S. A. may be tried on the home-owners of Northern Alberta.

One of their methods of operation is to approach the home-owner with the story that they just happened to be in the district and noticed that the roof needed repairs, particularly if it is the asphalt type which has been in use for some time. The salesman offers to add ten years to the life of the roof by using a "new" compound. They will even be willing to give you a ten year guarantee.

When the job is done it may look good, and they will collect their money and move on. Of course, the customer is [illegible] of nothing, because you will likely be unable to trace them later and a closer examination of the miracle compound may prove it is nothing more than road oil mixed with powdered aluminum. Within a few days, the oil has soaked into the shingles or dried up and the aluminum powder has gone with the wind.

If you don't know the salesman or his firm by reputation, take the time to investigate. Deal with firms you know, who have a reputation for satisfactory workmanship and use proven material.

STARVING FAMILY DISCOVERED BY HUMANE SOCIETY

Donald Johnston, left, of Nassagaweya township whose family of six has been starving found a job and went home with a bag of groceries. The family was found by Humane society officials when they went to the farm to investigate a complaint about two starving pigs. They had been living on raw onions. Mr. Johnston had been walking six miles to Guelph to welfare and unemployment offices but they had nothing to offer him. Mrs. Johnston wasted no time putting the food on the stove to feed their four children, Marie, five, Terry, four, Jerry, two, and Larry, nine months.

Rotary Members Hear Stockman Tell of Beef Cattle Industry

Members of the Vermilion Rotary Club heard a most interesting and entertaining address by Elon Chisholm, president of the Western Stock Growers Association, on Friday last.

Mr Chisholm told about the organization which he represents, one of the oldest in Canada, and then dealt with the beef cattle industry in general. He spoke briefly on vertical integration and said that while the family farm might be on the way out the family farm corporation definitely was not. Farming is now a business, not a way of life as in the past. One of the objectives of the Western Stock Growers Association was to see that governments passed legislation which would ensure proper returns to the farm under a free enterprise system.

Mr. Chisholm was introduced by Newcombe Bentley and thanked by Jim Robson.

Despite the holiday season only one visitor was in attendance, Hunter Robson from Calgary who was introduced by his father.

A moment of silence was observed in memory of Nick Kowalchuk. Arrangements to attend the funeral as a club were outlined.

This coming week the guests of the club will also be the entertainers, as several of the artists taking part in the grandstand performance at the fair will be in attendance.

4-H Club Weeks Attract Many

4-H delegations from three other provinces and the U.S. are participating again this year in Alberta Club weeks. The groups, all award winners, are here to exchange ideas with their counterparts in this province reports V. T. Janssen, Associate Supervisor of 4-H clubs in Alberta.

The largest delegation, comprised of twenty leaders and 20 members, comes from Manitoba. This group which has come in addition to the regular members attending 4-H club weeks, arrived in Edmonton on July 19. They are here on a goodwill tour and will visit farms, ranches, feedlots and club week at Olds. Also included in their itinerary are visits to Banff and Jasper.

Montana has again sent a delegation of four members and one county agent. This is an exchange program which was established several years ago. Later in the season a group from Alberta will attend the Montana 4-H State Congress at Bozeman.

Two members from the B.C. block of the Peace River country attended club week at Vermilion while delegations of two each from Saskatchewan and Manitoba will be present at the Olds' club week.

Wedding of Wide Interest Solemnized At Derwent

KACHUK—CHARCHUN

DERWENT — Vows of marriage were exchanged by Miss Marie Charchun and Mr George Kachuk at a recent ceremony at the Greek Catholic Church of the Holy Ghost.

Rev John Chorlawsky performed the ceremony for the daughter of Mrs. Prokop Charchun of Derwent and the late Mr. Charchun, and the son of Mr and Mrs. Steve Kachuk of Willingdon.

Mr Tony Charchun gave his sister in marriage.

For her wedding, she chose a floor-length gown of silk organza, the bouffant skirt extending to train length. The fitted bodice, of Alencon lace, was styled with a Sabrina neckline. Appliques of lace, embroidered with seed crystal crown held her veil of hand-rolled silk illusion mist and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. O. Miller was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Emily Charchun, Miss Joyce Charchun, Miss Lorraine Dubec, Miss Georgina Kachuk, Miss Cecilia Shapdyuk, and Miss Gloria Kachuk. They wore cocktail-length dresses in shades of blue and styled on princess lines. Their tiaras were of blue crystal beads and pearls and they carried bouquets of dark and light pink roses and lily of the valley.

Best man was Mr Nicholas [illegible] and ushers were Mr Martin Kachuk, Mr B. Karbashewski, Mr. Ernest Andruik, Mr John Shymko, Mr. W. Pasdick, and Mr Peter [illegible].

The bride's mother wore a blue ensemble and pink roses on corsage. A blue printed silk dress was worn by the groom's mother, with a corsage of pink roses.

A reception was held in the community hall where Mr. Daniel Chrapko proposed the toast to the bride.

For her wedding trip to the West Coast the bride changed to a floral-print silk sheath dress and coat ensemble with which she wore white accessories.

Mr and Mrs. Kachuk will live in Willingdon.

Dewberry Man Married at Irma

IRMA — Irma United church was the setting of the recent wedding of Miss Carolyn June Morse daughter of Mr and Mrs. Harold Morse of Irma, and Mr. Richard Alfred Tullson, son of Mr and Mrs. N. E. Tullson of Dewberry. Rev. H. Fuglis performed the double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Mrs. H. Tomachewski and Miss Lily Sanders.

The bride wore a short gown of white brocade and carried a bouquet of blue and white daisies.

Her attendants wore short gowns of blue and pink and carried bouquets of white daisies.

Attending the groom were his brothers Mr Oliver Tullson and Mr Arthur Tullson. Mr Robert Morse and Mr Donald Morse, brothers of the bride ushered guests.

Mrs C Laird, accompanied by Mrs A West was soloist.

At a reception at the Roseberry hall Mr Oliver Tullson was master of ceremonies and grace was said by Mr Raymond Schell. Mr James Jackson proposed the toast to the bride.

Servers were Mrs. R. Bammeman and Mrs. C Laird, and Mrs. V Horvath was in charge of the guest book.

The only way to make farming pay... modern methods and machines

You can't farm profitably today by using yesterday's methods and obsolete machinery. They simply don't meet the demands of modern farming . . . high productivity and low production costs.

The profit potential of your farm can only be fully realized through utilizing modern methods and the latest farm machinery. Today's farm machinery measures up to the task of doing more work faster and more efficiently. Farm labour, a major cost in the operation of any farm, is kept to a bare minimum while the amount of work done per day is greatly increased. Critical farm operations get done at exactly the right time without depending on the availability of high priced farm labour.

Massey-Ferguson machines and implements completely fill the requirements of profitable farming—more work with less manpower at lower cost.

See your Massey-Ferguson dealer.

Responding to a recent invitation by Mr. Al Oeming, Mr and Mrs. Jim Emsland, Sharon and Rod, visited Mr Oeming's game farm at Edmonton last Saturday. They saw the little fawn which they raised on their farm south of Vermilion, as well as a hundred other wild animals, finding the visit extremely interesting and worthwhile.

Mr and Mrs Dunc Currie and family returned home over the week-end from visiting in several points in south-eastern Alberta and a trip across the border as far as Great Falls Montana.

Mrs. M. P Dixon will leave next week to meet her sister in Vancouver B.C. From there they plan to take a motor trip through the northwestern U.S. of about a month's duration.

Mrs. Kae Rogers of Trochu spent the week-end with her uncle and aunt, Mr and Mrs. George Whyte. She returned home via dayliner on Monday morning.

Mr F J Richardson returned to Vermilion this week following a two weeks' vacation spent at Penticton, the city of beaches and peaches. While there he had the pleasure of renewing old friendships with Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Millward.

HUSBAND-WIFE TEAM JUDO EXPERTS

Mrs. Angela Fagan, a 110 pound housewife of Toronto, recently obtained a black belt for judo proficiency. Her husband Vern already was a holder of a black belt so they are a unique couple, the only husband and wife team in North America to have scaled the judo heights. According to Mrs. Fagan there is nothing like judo to work off tension or ease shattered nerves. Angela pictured above shows how a husband can be handled.

is again sponsoring the
COMMUNITY BIRTHDAY CALENDAR
IT WILL BE THE MOST INTERESTING AND INFORMATIVE CALENDAR YOU HAVE EVER SEEN!

The Rotarians want every person in Vermilion and district to have their name printed in the Calendar. Your name will appear on the date of your birthday. Everyone will know when your birthday comes, and you will know the birthday of everyone else in Vermilion and district. But it doesn't tell how young you are! Radio CKSA carries greetings from the Rotary Calendar.

YES! Once again this is going to be the CALENDAR OF THE YEAR, and a lot of fun for everyone!

The members of the Rotary, beginning right away, are going to contact you farm people about putting your birthday on the calendar. The cost of the name is only 25c, and the name of every member of your family is desired on this calendar. Each family buys a calendar for only 50c. Extra calendars may be purchased if desired. The canvass of town people will start Sept. 12.

The wedding anniversaries of all our married couples will be listed on the date of their anniversary, with a little bell after the names at cost of only 10c.

All proceeds taken in by the Rotary Club on this project will be used for community betterment and youth activities in this area, including the new Agricultural and Recreational Centre.

Proceeds from previous calendar sales have been distributed in part as follows: For support of Little League baseball team; Pee Wee hockey; revolving fund for students requiring financial assistance; Rotary Christmas tree; Grant to Library; sponsored Band Concerts; send delegate to United Nations short course at Banff; Grant to Scout Hall; sponsored Courtesy Contest; sponsored Car Roadeo; Vermilion Agricultural and Recreational Centre.

During the week Sept. 12th to 16th Rotary canvassers will call at homes in town to accept listings. Make sure that important events in your family are carried on the 1961 Calendar.

Anyone from out of town, or not at home when the canvass is made, may have their birthday listed or order a calendar from any member of the Rotary Club. Here are a few of them — Elmore Stewart, George Webb, Ernie Buckingham, Ken Greenwood, Ashley Cooper, Reg Mitchell, Carl Hechbert, Rudi Renaud, Bill Cross.

We're Throwing Away Our Past

Canada is the only country in the world which neither respects nor preserves its pioneer architecture according to Patricia Clarke writing in the August issue of Chatelaine magazine.

In Ottawa a century-old stone inn was torn down last fall to provide space for a gas station.

In Halifax, wreckers demolished Gorsebrook House, the home of the nineteenth-century privateer Enos Collins, one of the city's few remaining Loyalist mansions and a gem of Georgian architecture. At St. Andrews, Manitoba, on the Red River, a school built in the 1830s, where some of the west's early leaders were educated, was torn down to supply lumber for a [illegible]. Less than a [illegible] ago Toronto was a [illegible] city like Baltimore, Mrs. Clarke reported, [illegible] it has almost [illegible] left to preserve.

Why don't we treat our ancestor's homes and public buildings as the national treasures they are? Anthony Adamson, Toronto architect and university professor, felt we hadn't the national self respect to value them.

Ruth Home, director of museum research of the Ontario College of Art and president of the Architectural Conservancy of Ontario believed that "because our traditions were two thousand miles away, we couldn't believe that we had anything of our own that was worthwhile."

Only two governments, the federal and Quebec, have power under law to buy buildings valued for their architectural beauty alone, to save them from destruction. And this power has been exercised seldom by either government, the writer found.

LIVESTOCK REPORT

Total livestock consigned to Vermilion Auction Mart Ltd. on Tuesday, July 26th was as follows: 95 Cattle, 176 Hogs, and 2 Horses.

Prices were stronger on feeder cattle, order buying tended to support and increase prices. Good quality steers with weight ranges from 600 to 700 lbs. found a ready outlet. One lot of feeder cattle contributed by Mr. Ralph Wilson sold for $21.70 per cwt. Fat cattle were in keeping with last week. Eight steers of good quality contributed by Joe Drayterko brought $21.00 per cwt. There were no heavy prime choice steers on sale. Hogs were generally in line with previous weeks.

The following prices prevailed:

Choice fat steers up to 21.00 cwt.
Choice feeder steers with medium wgts. up to 21.70 cwt.
Choice cows up to 14.25 cwt.
Medium cows up to 13.50 cwt.
Canners up to 11.75 cwt.
Young calves averaged 29.75 ea.
Milk cows high of $195.00

Feeder hogs sold according to weight and condition.

One lot of feeders with an average of 75 lbs. contributed by Fred Attfield, sold for $22.00 per cwt.

Weaner hogs $9 to $12 each. Sows averaged $42.08.

Again your reporter must remark that our local market has an above average price on all classes of livestock sold. We anticipate a very good demand for feeder cattle because of order buying. Please contact us if you have anything to sell.

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

Who Attends Alberta College?

While the college was founded in 1903 under the auspices of the Methodist Church, it was a policy from the first that there should be "no religious test or qualification for the admission of a student or scholar into the said college". (Quoted from the original charter.)

This principle has been vigorously adhered to throughout the years, and as a result, students of all denominations have obtained educational benefits from the college.

It is a fact that over 70,000 have now been students since the inception of the college. The enrollment trends in the past twenty years demonstrate our present overcrowding problem well, the yearly enrollment has jumped from 1200 in 1940 to over 3800 in 1960.

Who are these students, from what homes do they come? An analysis in recent years shows 39% are from United Church homes, 19%, Anglican, 5% are Presbyterian; 3% are Baptists; 11%, Roman Catholic, 5% Jewish, 5%, Mormon and 13% are from other Protestant homes.

There is every good reason why this inter-denominational college in the very heart of downtown Edmonton should look to its citizens in the forthcoming $1,000,000 Building Fund drive for more accommodation.

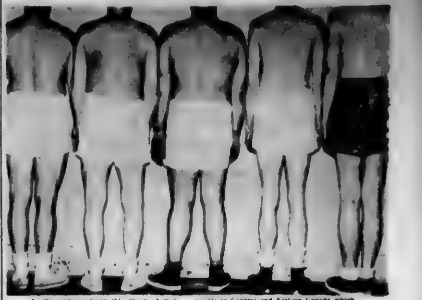
Canadians Drink Lots of Coffee

Canadians are now drinking coffee at a rate of 25.3 million cups per day, or an average of 1.91 cups for everyone ten years or older, according to the findings of a survey made by Canadian Facts Ltd.

Ranking fifth among the coffee-using nations of the world, Canada last year imported 153 million pounds of green coffee to set a new high record. Of Canadian green coffee imports, almost 92 per cent came from Latin America, making coffee a key factor in trade between this country and its Western Hemisphere neighbors.

More than half (55 per cent) of all Canadians, 10 years of age and over, drink coffee at breakfast, compared to 22 per cent who drink tea. Coffee is also the favourite beverage for between meal breaks.

CANDIDATES FOR MR CANADA?



As the picture shows this group of men would be unsuccessful in an exhibition of beautiful bodies. A series of tests designed jointly by the department of health and welfare and the RCAF reveals that Canadians are physically unfit. Medical experts say from the time we are infants we are carried about and eventually we graduate to wheels and remain there. Westerners are more fit than the people in Central and Eastern Canada which is due to their great love of the outdoors. Better than average ratings were revealed in abdominal muscle strength but we flopped badly in the arm strength tests. It is hoped that eventually 50,000 Canadians young and old will take the Canadian Physical Efficiency tests.

MARWAYNE

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Quist on the birth of a daughter on July 19th.

Mr. and Mrs. N. M. (Donald J.) and children attended the Calgary stampede. Mrs. Meiklejohn's sister Miss Mundle of Saskatoon, who had been visiting a sister in Calgary returned with them and is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Meiklejohn here.

Mrs. Ida Gibbs and Miss Mabel Giles of Calgary are visiting at the home of their brother, Mr. and Mrs. N. Giles.

Also from Calgary are Mrs. Mabel Onysko and son spending the summer at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Dow Sr.

Mr. Donnie Hancock flew home from Montreal for his vacation to be with his mother, Mrs. Ruth Hancock and family.

Mrs. Brown motored with her son and his wife from Simcoe, Ontario to visit her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Saltzberry.

Lyle Kent returned to White Rock, B.C. with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Angus Good, and will make his home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Milne and Mr. and Mrs. John Milne visited at the home of an uncle at Turtleford last week-end.

At the Reinheimer's last week end were Mr. Hugh Brown and daughter Sherry from Regina. Mr. and Mrs. Reinheimer and Judy left on Saturday morning for a three week trip to Cardston, Kelowna and Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer are driving a beautiful new car and are leaving on a holiday to the U.S. shortly.

In a Little League game played at Dewberry last week the score was Marwayne 3, Dewberry 5.

A [illegible] shower was held for Miss Erma Harris on Tuesday in St. George's Church social room in honour of her coming marriage to Russel Shaw on July 30th.

A cordial welcome is extended to the Rev. George Winchester and family who have been appointed to St. George's Mission. They have taken up residence at the manse in Kitscoty.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Shaw in the passing of Mr. Shaw's sister, Mrs. S. S. Parker of Spiritwood, Saskatchewan. Mr. Shaw attended the funeral there. Granddaughter Pat Moorhead returned to her home at Bonnyville and James is here now for a holiday with his grandparents.

Mrs. Don Irwin and four children are at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ramsey. Don will come in August.

At Mrs. Kay Hillsby's is her daughter Ollie and children from Calgary.

Mr. Herman George, Duncan, B.C., is renewing acquaintances in the district.

Our genial postmaster Roy Pinsent, is back from his holiday.

Castor Band Concert Enjoyed At Park

Despite a steady drizzle which prevailed a fair sized crowd gathered to hear the Castor band play at the park bandshell on Sunday. They were really rewarded for turning out in the wet weather as an exceptionally well rendered program of great variety was enjoyed.

The numbers included band marches, sacred music, Irish Medleys, songs of the south, and old time favorites.

The band is comprised of musicians from the town of Castor and quite a large district and includes ladies, boys and girls and men.

The entertainment was in charge of the Kinsmen club with Bob Anderson acting as emcee.

4-H Club Completes Interesting Farm Accident Survey

[illegible] out of five farm and [illegible] to make the Al[illegible] Safety Week, being observed in Canada and the U.S. July 24 to 30.

The Council's figures are based on a recent survey of 69,000 farm residents across Canada conducted [illegible]. The survey was [illegible] through the Canadian Council of 4-H Clubs, federal and provincial agricultural departments, the Canadian Federation of Agriculture and the Chamber of Commerce.

[illegible] 25 persons [illegible]

[illegible] ported accidents happened to youngsters in the 9-12 age group, [illegible] those in the 31-45 age group [illegible] to those [illegible] age group [illegible] each [illegible] of the accidents.

A third of all the accidents occurred off the farm. Of those, sixty per cent occurred in traffic on highways and secondary roads.

On the provincial scene here are some of the things Alberta farm residents reported.

Of the 3[illegible] accidents reported [illegible] resulted in a stay in hospital for the victim. Four of the accidents were fatal.

The accidents caused a loss of ten years 1 months work time or two and one-half days per farm during the year. Eighteen of the injuries resulted in permanent disability.

The larger the farm the more the likelihood of accident per [illegible] mechanization greater has [illegible] sections and [illegible] of the [illegible] farms of a [illegible] reported accidents. The farms of 160-239 acres reported [illegible] 240-319 [illegible] and 480 to [illegible] 14, 15.

The 13-20 year age group is the most prone to accidents. Males have five times as many accidents as females. Most accidents occur in the afternoon, and more accidents occur in July and August than in any other two months of the year.

Our Textile Industry's Hopes

This year promises a mixed bag of operating and financial results for Canada's big primary textile industry says The Financial Post.

Synthetic fibre makers and cotton producers should improve gains chalked up in 1959. Wool cloth industry is marking time and will do well to maintain improvements realized last year. Spinners, synthetic fabric weavers and knitters see trouble ahead. Many predict they won't match 1959 sales and earnings.

By and large, last year was the most encouraging in a decade for Canada's primary textile industry. In many segments 1959 marked a definite reversal of the downtrend that has plagued textile makers since 1951-52.

But the industry is still far from easy street. For many, 1958 was the worst year in postwar history. Any improvement, accordingly looks pretty good when compared with that bleak year. Imports, the industry notes, continue to be the major problem.

Big Difference In Taxes 1906 to 1960

John Arnold of the Island Hill district finds that there is a big difference between taxes paid in 1906 and those paid in 1960 on the very same quarter section.

Back in 1906 Mr Arnold paid taxes of $3.20, and on the same quarter in 1960 the taxes were $151.88.

In 1906 the area was not even a municipal district. It was a local improvement district and the secretary was Mr E. Covey, a farmer living in what is now the Bowtell district. No schools had been built, and no roads graded. Mr Arnold, who homesteaded this quarter in 1904, recalls that he had one earlier tax receipt which showed that he paid $1.60 taxes for one year.

Net deliveries of oil through Canadian pipe lines increased 12.3 per cent in 1959 to a record 308,454,005 barrels.

Death of Former Vermilion Lady

On July 25, Mrs. Edna Sarah Elliott, of 11600—74 avenue, Edmonton passed away. Mrs. Elliott was the widow of the late William James Elliott, for many years the principal of the Vermilion school of agriculture.

Surviving members of the family are one son, William of Edmonton, two daughters, Mrs. J.A. Strathearn of Hazelton, B. C.; and Mrs. G. H. Lambert of Edmonton. There are nine grandchildren and fourteen great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday morning July 27 with interment taking place in the family plot in the Mount Pleasant cemetery.

In 1959 sales in Canada's department stores reached a record $1,420,311,000, up 5.6 per cent.

Vermilion To See Ladies', Men's Provincial Fastball Play-offs

Vermilion has been selected as the centre for play-off games for both the ladies' and men's provincial intermediate fastball titles, with the men to see action on Aug. 7 and the ladies on Aug. 14.

LADIES' PLAY-OFF

In the ladies' division for the Intermediate B play-off for the championship of this area, there are two entries, the Kitscoty Clippers and the Vermilion Cardinals. This will be a home and home series with the best two of three games winning the title. The contests will be played as follows.

August 7th — At Kitscoty, games at 1 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. Vermilion Cardinals vs. Kitscoty Clippers.

August 14th — At Vermilion, games at 1 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. Same two teams.

19 SEEK MEN'S TITLE

No less than nineteen teams are seeking the Intermediate B men's fastball championship for Northern Alberta. At Vermilion on Aug. 7th four of these teams will play a double knockout with Vermilion drawn against Looma and Woodward's meeting Sedgewick in the first round. From then on the round robin continues with five games in all being played here.

CANADIAN DRESSES MOSCOW, PARIS

There's just a chance that the young ladies of Moscow, Tomsk or Omsk may soon be wearing Canadian-made dresses, says The Financial Post.

The enormous and so far almost completely unsatisfied Russian market for smart western clothes is now receiving the close attention of the [illegible] Montreal Dress & Sportswear Manufacturers' Guild. Paris and provincial France isn't being overlooked.

The guild already has won more than $250,000 worth of orders from Britain in less than a year. Now it is looking for fresh fields.

Wilf McLennan Visits Old Home

Mr. and Mrs. Wilf McLennan returned home last week after spending a very enjoyable holiday at Mr McLennan's old home at Glengarry, Ont. The following news item is taken from the "Glengarry News", Alexandria, Ont. "Mr and Mrs Wilfred McLennan of Vermilion, Alta., are visiting relatives and friends in this district. Mr McLennan was born in the 2nd Concession of Lancaster, a son of the late John Robert McLennan. He, with his parents and brother Arpad, left here in 1906 for the western provinces, this being his first visit to Glengarry since that time. Although seeing many changes, he is enjoying the hospitality shown him and Mrs. McLennan by his relatives, old friends and neighbors in the district."

CHEAPER AIRPORTS?

U. K. scientists are trying to alter the aerodynamic shape of an aircraft wing with an invisible section of air pressure, blown through small slots, says The Financial Post. It's a sort of invisible wing flap. They hope for a 40% reduction of runway lengths for take-off and landing.

"HOOS" STARING AT "HOO"?

Above is the stern countenance of Charles DeHoot, as he outstares the world in general. Charles is presently the special pet of Miss Betty Willes and is a pampered pest as far as the purebred Aberdeen-Angus are concerned. The horned owl was picked up in early spring, after a tumble from the home nest, and raised by Betty and the boys. However, in spite of his size, he still has to be looked after as far as food is concerned and shows absolutely no inclination to forage for himself. In fact, if he misses his evening meal there is no rest for his mistress as he perches on the roof outside her window and gives vent to his displeasure until fed.. Can you guess whom he is named after? —Standard Staff Photo

Checker Ghosts Trounce Innisfree Fastballers by 17-6 Count

Playing before a home town crowd in what could be called a 'grudge' game, the locals came up with their best performance of the year, and gained revenge for two previous losses at the hands of the Innisfree club.

The Vermilion boys showed their superiority early as they scored five runs in the first inning and never looked back. A lapse in the sixth when Innisfree scored four runs provided a bit of a scare and made the score 10 to 4, but the Ghosts held up under the pressure and played steadily to win 17-6.

Home runs by Brower and Young, a fine pitching performance by Redford and two double plays were the highlights of the game.

All told, a fine display of ball on everyone's part, and if this was any indication, the Ghosts have a very good chance of taking the first round playoffs here on Aug. 7.

CASPER COMMENTS . . .

In the last three weeks Pug has been our best hitter. Two double plays in this game were the first the club has made this year.

Don't forget the first round playoffs on Sunday, Aug. 7th, at the Athletic park.

Lack of Leadership Shown By Dominion Government Deplored

EDMONTON, July 20. — The Interprovincial Farm Union joint board meeting in Edmonton July 18 to 19th expressed deep disappointment and lack of confidence in the Federal Government's ability to cope with the nation's economic problems and total lack of confidence in the government's action and decision to meet the very serious and continuing decline in farm income.

The Interprovincial Farm Union Council believes that the complete lack of responsible leadership shown by the Government in its dealings with the Western Liaison committee can only lead to a condition of chaos.

The Farm Unions have never minimized the dangers and problems posed by the [illegible] inflationary spiral, but of [illegible] group least responsible for the condition, can see no justification for delaying for more than two years any decision to deal effectively with a situation that, by the Government's own admission has [illegible].

The Farm Unions have, from time to time advocated a national conference with all groups called by the Government to study some of the economic and [illegible] problems. In each case the Government minimized the need for such a conference. In addition some Government members have waged a campaign to discredit farm organizations in the eyes of the members and the public.

These events do not show the type of leadership most people hoped and believed would be forthcoming from the present Government when it was elected to power in 1958.

Health Unit Notes

OVERWEIGHT

Anyone who is more than 10% above the 'standard' weight for people of the same age, sex and race must be considered to be overweight. The importance of overweight lies in the fact that such people are more prone to various disorders than the average population. It has been known for a long time that overweight people are a poor risk for life insurance companies. It is a common cause of ill health.

Here are a few disorders to which overweight people are predisposed: diabetes, heart disease, disease of the blood vessels, varicose veins, coronary thrombosis, gallstones, surgical post operative complications, industrial household and street accidents, abdominal rupture (hernia), backache, flat feet, arthritis of the hips and knees. This is a large list of disorders, and one could add more caused to some extent and certainly exaggerated by being overweight.

WHAT IS THE CAUSE OF OBESITY?

1 Over-eating is the common cause because people are too fond of their food and sometimes because they are unhappy and food gives them solace. Whatever the particular cause of their overeating, women are more afflicted than men.

2 Since the calorie requirements of the body diminish with advancing age, if there is no corresponding reduction in eating habits, obesity and overweight result.

3 There are some people who despite a very small appetite become obese through some obscure metabolic change.

4 Endocrine factors (glands) are an uncommon cause of obesity and overweight.

TREATMENT

Obesity is due to a greater intake of food than that person requires, whether that intake is large, small or whatever metabolic change may be involved. The essence of treatment is to reduce the quantity of food eaten. It is essential in dieting that the decreased food intake be supervised by your doctor, in order that the reduction in weight may not be overdone and to insure sufficient quantity of protein, iron and vitamins.

PREVENTION

Prevention rests with one consulting one's doctor when you are aware that you are becoming overweight. Young mothers especially after having a baby are liable to put on excessive weight.

Remember, diet only under the supervision of your doctor. Exercise in moderation is a useful adjunct to dieting but excessive exercise increases one's appetite with the consequent calorie increase and weight gain.

$8.1 Million In Policy Loan

Are Canadian policyholders borrowing more money on their life insurance — or paying back loans" writes H R Sydam in The Financial Post. Are they repaying their loans in cash?" Or is there a growing tendency to surrender the policy or let the loan eat its cash value to the point of termination.

Bank of Canada figures for 12 leading life companies indicate a net increase in policy loans of $8.1 million for the first four months of this year. This amount represents new borrowings, plus the increase in existing loans, less repayments. It compares with a net increase for the same period in 1959 of $1.9 million, $3.6 million in 1958 and $7.5 million in 1957.

"Push" Prairie Oil In Ontario

There should be some good news for Western Canada's oil producers in Canada's first clearly spelled-out national oil policy writes W L. Dack in The Financial Post. Watch for it soon. Ottawa has launched a rush study of our whole oil marketing situation. The study should produce proposals with real teeth in them for bringing more Western Canada oil into [illegible] and [illegible] more [illegible]. But don't expect much federal support for the "[illegible]" pipeline campaign of the western producers.

SWAMP RAT THRIVES ON POISON

Nutria is the name given to this hideous looking swamp rat which may prove to be a menace in Canada. The rodents may reach a weight of 20 pounds, has a head like a beaver, tail like a rat, feet like a monkey and teeth like a parrot's beak. They will eat anything and everything above the surface. To nutria's reproductive capacities are enormous and to date they thrive on all manner of poisons. Canadian naturalists feel the nutria may defy the best of control methods.

GREENLAWN Goodwill Club

The July meeting of the Greenlawn Goodwill Club was held at Sheila Green's. There were 14 members and two visitors present. The vice - president, Florence, was in the chair. Reports were given of money made at the wedding. Many thanks to Harold for the most welcome donation.

It was decided to hold the picnic at the south beach at Whitney Lake on July 31st so the camp site can be used for coffee and wieners. Members are asked to bring salad, pie and buns for themselves and guests, also dishes and cups. The club will supply coffee and the wieners. Plans are to have supper about five. Come and bring guests.

The door prize was won by Betsy. After the close of the regular meeting keen interest was shown in arranging and mounting the separate garments of the layette to enter in the fair. Has anyone got 4 yards of ¼ inch ribbon to spare?

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, aided by [illegible]. Next meeting will be held at Doris Jones' on Aug. 18th.

MAKE MINE MEAD . . .

You should be able to place that order in September when a Sarnia, Ont., apiarist introduces honey wine, says The Financial Post. This ancient drink is made from diluted fermented dark honey. It has a 16% alcoholic content. It promises to create a bigger market for dark honey.

Musical Recital Reveals Talent Both Instrumental and Vocal

On the evening of June 25th the students of Mrs. Donna Eyben and Miss Mavis McCauley presented a musical recital in the Legion hall. Students participating were from Mannville, Vermilion, Buffalo [illegible], [illegible]more and Clandonald.

Each of the pupils gave a short explanation of the selection they were playing, some told about the composer, the style in the country from which it originated, thus giving the many guests a clearer picture of the class of music they were playing. Variety was attained by the use of the violin, accordion, trumpet, vocal and duet selections. Taking part in these were accordionists Dean Jacula, Brenda Wilkinson, Gordon Watling and Arthur Dmytryshyn. The vocalists were Glenda Brennan, Russell Kupin and Frankie McCauley; trumpet Russell Willes; violinists, George Zaharia, Laraine Young, Nancy Hill.

Miss Nancy Hill, violinist, was one of the special guests for the evening. Her interpretation of Nocturne was excellent and enjoyed by the audience. Laraine Young and George Zaharia with a violin duet, "The Norwegian Lullaby", showed exactness in bowing and tone. This selection was exceedingly well played. They were accompanied by Mrs. Young.

This year a musical trip was taken to [illegible] various numbers from Italy-Naples by Sue Ellen Clendenning, Santa Lucia by Russell Kupin; La Golondrina by Gordon Watling; Italian Tarantelle by Dean Jacula. The "goodbye" was a vocal solo "Arrivederci Roma", rendered by Glenda Brennan.

An educational feature of the recital this year was the history of the piano. The story of the piano was told by the students, each one having a particular century to explain. The pianos were illustrated by printings and featured the dulcimer, monochord, clavichord, harpsichord, spinet, upright piano and modern grand piano. Students taking part in this were Margwynne Clendenning, Linda Willes, Rose Ann Feenstra, Helen Pheasey and Arlene McLaughlin.

Other students taking part were Stewart Evans, Brenda Feenstra, Vernon Eyben, Rod Haverslew, Kathleen Ross, Russell Willes, Richard Cooper, Candace Clendenning, Barbara Haverslew, John Evans, Laureen Ross, Dianne Kennedy, Marilyn Manyluk, Betty McLaughlin, Nadine Hart, George Pheasey, Connie Keating, Pamella King, Lois Cooper, Lyle Eyben, Colleen Kennedy, Frankie McCauley, Byron Hart, Dianne Whitson, Laraine Young, Beth Blockidge, Lynn Kreller, Alayne Stone, Glenda Brennan, Mavis McCauley and Jan Evans.

Piano duets were rendered by Lois Cooper and Mavis McCauley "The March of the Wooden Soldiers" performed with precision and vivacity. "Nola", a popular number, played by Beth Blockidge and Mavis McCauley, was enjoyed by all. An accordion trio, "Over the Waves", featured accordionists Dean, Brenda and Gordon.

This year's perfect attendance was attained by Barbara Haverslew, Beth Blockidge, Richard Cooper, Margwynne Clendenning, Brenda Wilkinson, Pamella King, Betty McLaughlin, Myrna Whitson, Dianne Whitson and Dean Jacula. Dean has a perfect attendance record of three years. He was presented with a small gift.

Lois Cooper presented Mavis with a gift on behalf of the latter's students, in appreciation for the happy year's work. Lynn Kreller on behalf of the Mannville students and Glenda Brennan on behalf of the Vermilion and Buffalo Coulee students, presented their teacher, Donna, with a gift.

The evening was concluded by the students serving a very tasty lunch prepared by the parents.

STEVEDORES LEAVE BY CNR FOR CHURCHILL

CHURCHILL, Man. — Eighty stevedores left Prince Albert last week via Canadian National Railways in preparation for the arrival of the first ship at this northern Manitoba port.

CNR officials say that the first ship, the S. S. Geddington Court, which left Newcastle-on-Tyne, England on July 15, is due to dock this week.

The ship's cargo, destined for the prairies, is greatly diversified. Some of the items carried include tractors, chemicals, liquor, glass, asbestos, cement, binder twine and telephone [illegible].

PROSPECTOR COLLECTS CASH

By doing his homework in the feast-or-famine business of prospecting for mines Gordon Lelievre of Streetsville, Ontario recently collected $23,000 cash and stock worth about $40,000 for a property he staked in Northern Ontario. Lelievre, pictured above, has been prospecting since he was a child—his father was in the business for 40 years. His deal with Canadian North Inca Mines, an exploration firm, involved a forgotten gold property near Timmins, Ont.

Twenty-four plants make up Canada's musical instrument business. Together they do an annual business of upwards of $16,000,000. Pianos and organs are the big items.

From 1956 to 1959 sales of shopping centres in Canada doubled. The 1960 figure is expected to show an even greater increase.

In the deep woods Canada's pulpwood cut was up in 1959 by 17 per cent to 14,[illegible] cords.

Last Rites Held For Selmer Floyd Quickstad

Funeral services were held for the late Selmer Floyd Quickstad, at Louise Lake Community Hall, Landonville July 22 at 2 p.m. Mr Schneider officiated and the organ music was supplied by Mrs. Olga Braithwaite of Dewberry. Interment followed in the [illegible] cemetery.

Selmer Floyd Quickstad was born thirty-nine years ago at Monitor, Alberta. Here he lived with his parents until the fall of 1937 when the family moved to a farm in the Landonville district.

Following a natural urge to see new places, Selmer left home and for three years worked in the lumber camps at Dawson Creek, B.C. His next move was to Vancouver. After a couple of years work and a siege of poor health and hospitalization, Selmer returned to Alberta and began working at Rocky Mountain House. He was very fond of this community, the beautiful scenery and mountains appealing to his artistic nature. Selmer was an ardent outdoor man, loving hunting, fishing and working in the woods. He possessed a good-natured happy personality, was a friend to all his neighbors and friends, ever ready to lend a helping hand. He was full of fun, the best of company, and the life of every party. The high esteem in which he was held was shown by the large attendance at the funeral to pay their last respects.

He leaves to mourn his loss his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Quickstad, Landonville; four brothers, Arthur of Edmonton, Walter of Vancouver, Floyd of Landonville and Albert of Vermilion and nine sisters, Mrs. Chester Botting (Bertha) of Cadogan, Mrs. Frank Anderson (Lil), Mrs. Eddie Etherington (Elda), Mrs. Jerry Barduel (Margaret) all of Clandonald, Mrs. Bernard Garnier (Mabel) of Dewberry, Mrs. Ronald Jeffrey (Dorothy), Mrs. Wilmer Sanders (Emma) of North Burnaby, Vancouver, Mrs. Beverly Woods (Helen) of Oshawa, Ont., and Mrs. Roy Page (Edna) of San Leandro, California.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Alex Goldsmith, Ray Etherington, Horace Ostenbeck, Joe Marchuk, Laurence Waltze and Willie Ostrchuk.

Moyer's Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Beautiful floral tributes were received from:

Loving mother and father, brothers and sisters. Ted and Jessie the Ingersol Families. Elsie and Thelma, Laurence and Olga, Babe and Colleen, Marvin and Ella and families. George, Audrey and Auntie Emma, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Etherington; Georgie, Blanche, Deanna, Linda and Jerry Butz, Leon and Agnes Roberge, Clare Lawrence; Joyce and Laurence Waltze, Philip and Theresa Smith and family, Tom Brodbin, C. CARD OF THANKS

To those who gave flowers, donations, sent cards and messages, and helped in our time of trouble we ask that they accept our grateful appreciation and heartfelt thanks. There were cards too numerous to list. A special thanks to Mr and Mrs. Leon Roberge, Mr. Schneider, Olga Braithwaite and Ernest Mayowski.

The Quickstad Family.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all those who assisted in any way during our recent bereavement of our brother, Selmer Quickstad, and a special thank you to Emma Trapp and Esther Johnson for their help.

Albert and Yvonne Quickstad.

B. B. B. Issues Warning To Farmers

It has been reported to the Better Business Bureau of Edmonton that cleaning of Septic Tanks may be expensive unless you deal with a firm which is prepared to give you a definite price before they commence operations.

In this hot weather it is not the nicest chore but there are firms who are prepared to do the job at a reasonable fee. Don't authorize this type of work on the understanding that it is only going to cost you, let's say, 6 cents per pound, without doing some simple arithmetic. Say your tank is 3 ft. wide, 6 ft. long and 5 ft. deep, and contains waste to the depth of 74 cubic feet of waste. Let's be conservative and say 1 cubic foot of this waste weighs 62½ lbs. Of course, most of this is water, so total weight of the contents of the tank will be about 4500 lbs. At 6c per lb. the cost of clean-out may be $270 if authorized by weight. The total time for the job with a proper pump may only take 1½ hours. Take time to do a little figuring before authorizing the job, and you may find it will pay to do business with a firm which maintains a reputation for fair treatment of customers.

B. C. WOOL SHIPPED CNR TO ONTARIO

VANDERHOOF, B. C. — More than 10,000 pounds of wool, destined for Weston, Ontario, left here recently by Canadian National Railways.

The wool represents the first shipment to be dispatched directly from the Vanderhoof area in 13 years.

Loading was supervised by CNR's district superintendent of colonization and agriculture at Prince George, Harvey Milne.

Western Students Visit Stratford

WINNIPEG. — Sixty - two high school students from the prairie provinces, the Yukon and the Northwest Territories boarded CNR's Continental last weekend bound for the Stratford Shakespearean Festival.

Each of the students, considered to be an outstanding scholar and one who has shown considerable interest in the Arts, is a member of a tour sponsored by the Canada Council which conducted a similar trip last year.

From Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, there are 10, 13 and 13 students respectively; 23 from British Columbia, and three from the Yukon and N. W. T.

Part of the students' visit to the Festival will include a backstage tour of the theatre and a luncheon attended by many stars of this year's productions.

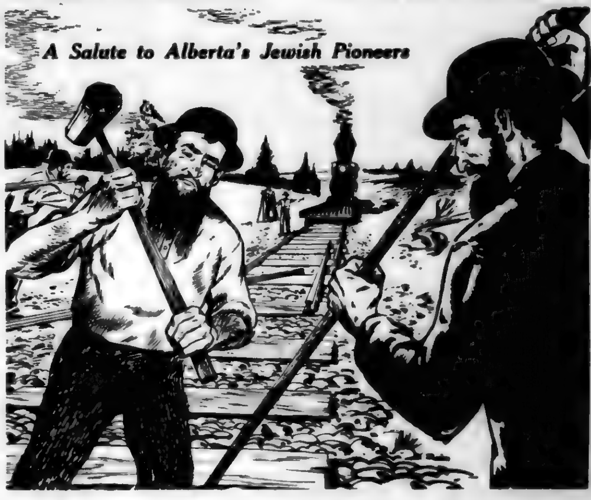
PROUDLY WESTERN
A Salute to Alberta's Jewish Pioneers



Railway construction gang of Jewish laborers in the early 1880's.

The transcontinental railway—a spiderweb of steel linking a nation together—was built by the labor of many men, among them—friendless and perhaps fearful—were the occasional work gangs of Jews, immigrants newly arrived from Eastern Europe. Still dressed in their Jewish garb, still boarded in Jewish fashion, and commanded in their own tongue by a bilingual overseer, they worked with pick axe, shovel and sledge hammer.

The railway finished, they realized they could become a part of the nation which it served. So they stayed—to become the storekeepers of the whistle-stop railway towns, and the itinerant salesmen of the homesteaders' communities. Their sons became the merchants of the bright new cities of the West, their grandsons are among the business and professional men serving the West's great, growing population. And, today, the contribution made by the Jewish laborers who helped to build the railway, now shines like a bright thread in the tapestry of Alberta's development.

The Jewish people—like other ethnic groups in Alberta—are an integral part of the population, comprised by another "proud Westerner" . . .

It's fair time again, so let's hope rain holds off for the next few days. Fair time reminds us all that harvest time is just around the corner.

Wanted: Air Passengers

Urgently required: Several hundred thousand people willing to fly the Atlantic between October and the end of March at special low rates writes Clive Baxter in The Financial Post. While the message will be phrased in more attractive terms, that is what airline advertisements will soon be saying as the much-feared off-season approaches.

This summer, as the big jets hit the market for the first time in force passenger records have been sent spinning. The increased capacity of the new jets means lines must carry more passengers this winter than last.

"These jets are fabulous money makers," one worried airline official told The Financial Post. "But if they aren't kept busy they can lose it all again in no time flat. We are now slaves of our machines."

In 1959 sales in Canada's department stores reached a record $1,020,311,000, up 5.6 per cent.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Government Statistics Show Big Drop in Farm, Business Incomes

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — Recession talk is something you don't generally hear in Alberta, but if provincial government statistics are any indication, conditions aren't quite what they should be at the moment.

Last week the provincial bureau of statistics released its monthly report, and it showed downturns in farm income from grain and livestock for the fifth consecutive month.

Total farm income for the January-May period dropped by nearly $30,000,000 to $145,583,000 from last year's $175,063,000.

Earnings from grain alone dropped to $65,786,000 from $87,775,000 during the same period last year. Income from livestock dropped to $80,207,000 from last year's $87,285,000.

There were other indications that Alberta isn't enjoying the buoyant economy which marked most years since the end of the war. Nearly all classes of retail trade showed drops in business during the January-April period, [illegible] for which figures are [illegible]. Overall retail trade was down 1.9% to $401,097,000.

Furniture, appliance and radio dealers took the worst beating with trade down 10.6% to $15,093,000. Motor vehicle dealers reported volume down 9.5% at $92,537,000. Sales of new motor vehicles dropped 17.4% to 14,430 units. The value of new vehicles sold dropped 13.7% to $46,193,000.

Of the four classes of retail business that did show increases in trade, grocery and combination stores topped the list with business up 6.2% at $90,301,000.

Government officials aren't saying Alberta is in the grip of a recession. In fact, Alberta is probably considerably better off than some other provinces. But things certainly aren't as good as they have been and officials say one of the reasons is the after-effects of the bad weather that made harvesting impossible last fall.

GOOD YEAR FOR HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION

It may not be a good year for the economy but so far it's been better than average for highway construction, according to Alberta Highway's Minister Gordon Taylor.

Last week Mr Taylor announced that 34% of this year's grading program has been completed, against 21% last year. Stabilized gravel base course work is 26% complete against 19% last year and asphalt surfacing is 29% complete as compared with 18% at the same time last year. Light asphalt surfacing of secondary highways is about 38 per cent complete, against 14% last year.

The 1960 road construction season got off to a bad start with wet weather in May and June, but since then dry weather has given contractors a chance to make progress. So far this year only 773 shifts have been lost due to wet weather, against 1,140 during the same period last year.

SOCIAL CREDITERS MEET IN OTTAWA

Social Crediters from across Canada were to meet in Ottawa this week and hammer together a new constitution which, they hope will give them a voice in Parliament when election time rolls around again.

The meeting scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the Chateau Laurier, also is expected to name a new national executive.

Originally, the summer meeting was to have elected a new national leader to help carry out Social Credit's master plan for a new march on Ottawa. But elections in a number of provinces have kept party officials busy and, on top of that, the party still doesn't have a logical contender for the national leadership.

Now, plans call for a full-scale leadership convention sometime next summer. Many members of the party still hope Alberta's Premier Manning will consent to take the job, but so far the Premier has shown no inclination to go for it.

DEMAND PRODUCER CONTROL AGRICULTURAL MARKETING

Western farm leaders are determined to carry on the fight for producer control of agricultural marketing. Approximately 100 delegates attending a meeting of the Interprovincial Farm Union Council here last week passed a resolution calling for pressure on the federal government to pass legislation clearing the way for establishment of producer marketing boards. Other resolutions demanded parity prices and federal deficiency payments. The farm leaders were unanimous on the principle of nearly all resolutions passed. The only haggling arose over minor points such as wording.

Railroad cost problem: For every revenue dollar earned by railways in Canada in 1958, 97.30 cents were expended. In 1957 the figure was 95.24.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
[illegible]

Are you a nagging wife who gets the last word in every argument? Of course not, none of us is! But if you suspect that some of your friends might be, [illegible] for a chance to drop this hint. The last word in any argument held while driving might really be the last.

A moving car is no place for an emotional flare-up. As a top traffic safety official put it — "Nagging wives, burnt toast, oversleeping, all fall into the same category. They all tend to take the driver's mind off driving to make him more susceptible to an accident."

His advice: "Don't let your husband drive if he's hot under the collar. Try to save discussions that could become heated for a later time. You'll be surprised how many troubles a few hours can cure."

This doesn't mean that we women can't speak up. The wife who gently points out that the speed limit is 45 and her husband is driving at 55 — and who helps him watch out for road hazards — this woman can be of real help.

"Women can be lifesavers if they'll help hubby co-pilot the family car", says the safety official.

What advice does he have for drivers — both men and women? "Keep tempers down before driving. Don't let a traffic accident spoil your life!"

Good Progress On Highway Programs

The Hon. Gordon E. Taylor, Minister of Highways, reported Monday that progress on highway contracts is well in advance of the point they had reached at the same time last year.

To date 119 miles of grading has been completed, or 34 per cent of the program. Last year at the same time, 98 miles had been completed, which was 21 per cent of the 1959 program.

On stabilized gravel base course contracts, 67 miles have been completed, or 26% of the program, as against only 50 miles, or 19%, at the same time last year.

Seventy-five miles of the asphaltic plant mix surface course have been completed to date this year, which is about 29% of the program. In 1959 only 18% of the program, or 37 miles, had been completed.

One and [illegible] miles of the concrete work near Calgary has been done this year. Less than a half mile of this project remains.

30 MILES DOUBLE SURFACE TREATMENT

Of the double surface treatment which is designed to act as a dust layer and at the same time to preserve the gravel in a type of stage construction which can later be incorporated into a heavier road, some 30 miles have been completed to date this year, or about one-third of the program. Last year only 11% of this program had been done, or about 29 miles.

Seventy-five miles of the seal coat have now been completed, which is about 36% of this year's program. Last year 40% of the seal coat work had been done at this time.

The 1960 season did not start off well but the weather recently has substantially improved. The extra progress made is largely because of shifts that were not lost because of rain. For instance, in 1959 up to the same date, 1,140 shifts had been lost due to rain or inclement weather, this year the situation is bad enough with some 773 shifts being lost but it is still a substantial improvement over last year.

In three years the median salaries of full-time teaching staff at 17 Canadian universities and colleges have risen 25%. The 1959-60 figure is 7% over 1958-59.

Curbs, Gutters Planned for '61

Will Use Provincial Grant Of $35,530.00

The council of the town of Vermilion has decided to use the provincial government grant of $35,530.00 for the building of curb and gutter, with the following blocks being [illegible] for 1961:

[illegible] from 48th to 49th Street;
51st to 53rd Street; 54th to 55th Street;
51st Ave. from 48th to 47th Street, 48th to 49th Street, and 51st to 55th Street;
52nd Ave from 45th to 49th Street, less the north half of Blocks 32, 43 and 46, and south half of 50th Avenue between 54th and 55th Sts.

In 1962 Vermilion Heights and 49th avenue will be done.

The government grant may be used for sidewalk paving, street hard topping or a curb and gutter program. After careful consideration the town council has decided on the latter.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN CHRYSLER

Diamond Wedding Anniversary Is Marked At Mannville

MANNVILLE. — Mr. and Mrs John Chrysler were honored here at a week-end gathering which marked what is said to be Mannville's first diamond wedding anniversary.

The more than 300 persons attending the banquet program and dance, included a sister of Mr. Chrysler, Mrs. Blanche Chrysler and a niece Mrs. Ed Cuddie, both of Toronto.

Congratulatory messages were read from Queen Elizabeth, Lieutenant Governor Page, Prime Minister Diefenbaker, Premier Manning and F. J. Fane, MP.

Mr. and Mrs. Chrysler were married in Wilberforce, Ont., and came west in May, 1909, to settle in the Orbindale district where they farmed for seven years. In 1916 they moved to Mannville, in 1941 to Edmonton and in 1954 back to Mannville. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in Edmonton.

Their family comprises three sons and two daughters and there are also 16 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Mr Chrysler, who is 82 and Mrs Chrysler, 80, enjoy good health. They made their first plane flight, to eastern Canada, last May.

First New Wheat Delivered To Pool Elevator at Islay

The first load of new wheat was delivered to the Alberta Pool elevator at Islay on Wednesday, Aug. 17. It was grown and delivered by Mrs. Lenore Dupuit, who farms north of the village.

According to the Pool agent, Mr. Wm. McLean, the wheat was Garnet and was of good quality.

Decoration Day Service Arranged For Sunday, August 21st

Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Legion will hold their decoration day service on Sunday, Aug 21st.

Ex-servicemen and women and the general public are invited to take part in this impressive service which will be held at the Soldiers' plot, Vermilion cemetery, at 2 p.m.

Anyone who would like transportation should be at the Legion hall by 1:30 p.m. when cars will leave for the cemetery.

President Thomas Thompson of Vermilion branch urges that Legion members and all ex-servicemen and women come out to this service. Mr Thompson states that this district has always given fine support to this one day in the year when we gather together to remember our comrades who did not return from the wars. Mr. Thompson says that the general public is most welcome to join with the veterans in this service.

Rev. W. A. Champness, padre of Vermilion branch will have charge of the service.

At the end of the ceremony everyone who wishes may lay flowers or wreaths at the cenotaph. Anyone who intends to do so should let the Legion president or secretary know before the service starts so that names can be listed.

As usual the Legion would like gifts of flowers for decorating the graves. Flowers should be left at the Legion hall from 3 to 4 p.m. on Saturday, Aug 20th.

Alf Kaiser Wins Kinsmen Kar

Winner of the sparkling new Meteor two-door raffled by the Kinsmen at the Vermilion fair was that well-known citizen and veteran businessman of the town Alfred E. Kaiser. Alf may now be observed driving the new limousine to his office daily, and seems to ignore his former 1954 model.

Rex Boake Does It

Windemere's Rex Boake joined the [illegible] 'hole-in-one' club on Sunday, canning his tee-shot on the 137-yard 15th hole. Boake, playing with Sven Hansen, used a five-iron for the once-in-a-lifetime shot. — Ed Journal.

Rex of course is a Vermilion boy and learned his golf here. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs Ross Boake.

Robinson Stores Opened Thursday

Robinson Stores opened the doors of [illegible] new building on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock with Mayor [illegible] cutting the ribbon. The store immediately filled with people and the third new [illegible] to be opened in the [illegible] within a month was successfully launched on its [illegible].

90th Birthday For Islay Old-Timer

ISLAY. — Mr. L. Bowser, esteemed old time pioneer and farmer of the Islay district celebrated his 90th birthday on August 10th. He was a patient in hospital at the time and received a birthday cake from the staff while [illegible] brought him [illegible]. Mr. Bowser has since returned to his home and is much improved in health.

24-Hour Phone Service, Innisfree

Innisfree telephone subscribers were placed on 24 hour continuous service August 12th. According to Ashley Cooper, M.L.A., a full time service will shortly be [illegible] in the Vermilion constituency to make the change from part to [illegible]. The change over has already been effected at Myrnam.

Vermilion Old Timer Bill Morgan Dies In Vancouver

Word has been received by the Standard of the death in Vancouver of one of the real old timers of the town and district of Vermilion in the person of William (Bill) Morgan who, with Lawrence Woodward filed on a homestead immediately east of [illegible].

After tiring of farming, Morgan opened a meat market in town close to where Rowe and Sons garage now stands, and carried on that business until he enlisted for service overseas with the rank of lieutenant in the regiment recruited by the late Col. W. C. Craig. He saw service in France and Germany. At the close of hostilities he returned to Vermilion with his war bride. He then opened a confectionery in Edmonton but this did not prove successful and they moved to Vancouver where he was attached to the postal service until his retirement several years ago when they took up residence at White Rock, B.C. He is survived by Mrs. Morgan.

Vermilion Deanery Anglican W.A. Plan Helpful Season

The executive elected at the Vermilion Deanery W. A. of the Anglican Church met on Aug 11th to discuss the respective duties of the officers and suggestions which might be of help to the Branches in the Deanery during the ensuing year. John Stewart is shown exhibiting his Hereford steer calf that was named Grand Champion of the Calf Club show at the Vermilion Fair and took first prize in the open class for cattle weighing 850 lbs. and over. At the sale a price of 35c per pound was paid for the [illegible] pound animal. John also won this top award in 1958 and 1957 while his brother Don won in the fair last year. They are sons of Mr and Mrs Hugh Stewart.

Annual Fair Is A Decided Success

Vermilion's 55th Exhibition can be considered as probably the most outstanding such event to be held in this area over a lengthy period of years. With ideal weather favoring the fair and people of the area apparently in good humor in connection with what seems to be an outstanding crop season, the attendance was the largest ever experienced and everyone seemed to thoroughly enjoy the event.

The generous distribution of Kiddies' Day free tickets for midway rides and grandstand admission brought thousands to town for the grand opening parade and the first day crowd was definitely the largest in the history of Vermilion Fair.

The parade was altogether successful and the thanks of the Fair Board goes to business men and others in Vermilion and district for staging what is generally conceded to have been "a good show." Streets throughout the town were lined with spectators as the fine floats, decorated cars, appealing children's bicycles and splendid light horses paraded from the west end of town, through the main streets to the exhibition grounds. Visitors who had witnessed other exhibition parades were unanimous in their praise of the opening event of the 1960 exhibition.

The fair brought out a magnificent exhibit of livestock and while it is impossible to go into detail with respect to the fine showing of pure-bred stock and excellent handicrafts there were some particularly noticeable features, one being the excellent showing of beef cattle. With the Hereford Association marking one hundred years of existence this particular breed was out in full force and some 75 head of Herefords were presented to the judges for awards. Not far behind were the Shorthorns with several herds competing for top honors. Beef cattle herds were present from as far distant as Calgary and Edmonton as well as from Saskatchewan points and judges were called on to exercise clear judgment in placing the ribbons.

Heavy and light horses from far and near made an excellent presentation and drew plaudits from the large crowds surrounding the judging rings during the entire three days. The Vermilion Fair light horse show has come to be recognized as the premier light horse show of Western Canada and vies most favorably with those held at the A class fairs held in the major cities. The Saskatoon Pony club, consisting of sixteen youthful and highly trained riders presented their musical ride each day and were exceptionally well received. Members of the group entered in numerous classes and were in many cases quite surprised at the [illegible] unexpected excellence of the competition.

While sheep entries were light, the entry list for swine was an unusually large one and it is noticeable that local breeders, competing with well known hog raisers from all over Alberta, stacked up exceedingly well and took a great many of the higher awards. It is evident that greater space will have to be provided to take care of the swine show in future as several entries had to be refused due to lack of space in the hog barns.

The entry in School Fair work was the heaviest in several years and the interest of the teachers and pupils of the Vermilion S.D. and the surrounding divisional schools was [illegible].

The schoolroom winning the highest number of points in schoolwork and thus becoming eligible for the shield and a special prize of $25 was that of Mr. Juskow of the Wainwright school system. The free week's short course awarded to the pupil winning the highest number of points in junior work went to young Miss Sharon Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Anderson of Vermilion. Sharon will be a guest of the Society at the short course to be held in conjunction with the 1961 fair.

Exhibits in produce of the farm and home shown in the exhibit building [illegible] ing was a most acceptable one. Particular interest centred on the group classes designed to interest organizations and the showing in a class for a baby shower proved exceptionally popular. The [illegible] the ribbons in this competition were: 1st Vermilion W.I., 2nd, Greenlawn Goodwill Club of Dewberry, 3rd St. Alban's W.A., Mannville, 4th Frog Lake Chapter of the I.O.D.E. Vermilion; 5th Saltaux W.I. of Mannville.

A number of fine Thematic displays were shown by district 4-H groups and the winners in this section were: 1st Vermilion-Mannville Turkey Club; 2, Paradise Valley Garden club, 3, Dunrose Beef club and 4th, Mannville Grain club.

Championships in the various livestock classes went to the following exhibitors:

Heavy Horses — Stallion, Wm. Giles of Marwayne; Mare, Bryden Bros. of Mannville.

Hereford Cattle — Grand Champion Bull, L. W. Bond, Calgary; Reserve, N. Bailey, Lloydminster; Grand Champion Female, V. Lyseng, Camrose; Reserve, L. W. Bond, Calgary.

Shorthorn Cattle — Grand Champion Bull, W. L. Robinson, Vermilion; Reserve, G. Creech, Wainwright; Grand Champion Female, W. L. Robinson, Vermilion; Reserve, G. Creech of Wainwright.

Aberdeen Angus — All championships to Willis Bros. of Vermilion.

In the dairy breeds the championship in Holsteins [illegible] to C. F. [illegible] of Edmonton while Chas. Dixon of St. Albert took the Jersey breed championships.

The livestock parade held in front of the grandstand before more than 2000 people was said to be one of the finest for any Western Canada fair. Special awards for the parade were won by [illegible] of Mannville with Thos. Halstead of Lloydminster in second place for heavy horses. In light horses Walter Fulbroth with his fine string from the 7D Ranch at Innisfree stood first followed by Ron Fuller of Vegreville. L. W. Bond of Calgary led with his herd of Herefords in the beef cattle section, followed closely by W. L. Robinson. Charles Dixon of St. Albert and C. F. Patriquin of Edmonton placed in that order for dairy cattle display.

The 1960 [illegible] tions programs were well received and drew generous patronage. The midway was well distributed over the large exhibition area and appeared to get a good play. Shows and rides were in place and operating shortly after the noon hour and the thousands of youngsters who took advantage of the free kiddies day tickets were apparently enjoying the goodwill of the Vermilion Fair board which adopted this plan for the first time for any exhibition in Alberta this year.

A grand fireworks display each evening following the last grandstand were enjoyed by all and judging by remarks heard in the crowds were much appreciated.

Altogether the 1960 exhibition established records all the way through and the generous patronage of people of town and a wide area helped materially in marking a noteworthy event which is looked forward to each year.

BEAR WITH US!

The Standard has tried in vain to make this issue adequately cover the two weeks vacation period, plus this week, and decided ruefully that it couldn't be done. The final result is that quite a number of news items, several accounts of weddings and numerous country bulletins and late advertisements have had to be held over for the next issue.

At that time it is expected that the Standard will be back on an even keel. The holiday period is certainly nice while it lasts, but it does create problems for the weeks following.

Child Safety Day

The Canadian Junior Chamber of Commerce has decided to sponsor national observance of Child Safety Day. The national body acted on the recommendation of the Saskatchewan Jaycees. Saskatchewan has observed Child Safety Day for the past three years. Every year in Canada more than two thousand children under fifteen years are killed in accidents and an estimated three hundred thousand or more suffer injuries requiring medical and hospital care. The date for Child Safety Day has not been announced.

Agricultural Bursaries Still Available

Applications for bursaries offered by United Grain Growers Limited for the fall term in agriculture at the Olds, Vermilion and Fairview Schools of Agriculture will still be considered if submitted by September 20th, according to information received from the Department of Agriculture at Edmonton.

The basic requirement for an applicant, who should be at least 17 years of age, is need for assistance. However, either a boy or girl applying should have taken a leading part in community activities, as in junior club work, etc. The bursaries are intended to help those who could not otherwise attend a School of Agriculture or School of Home Economics, and who have proven themselves worthy of assistance.

Full information and application forms can be obtained through the offices of District Agriculturists, District Home Economists, Principals of the Schools of Agriculture, or by writing to United Grain Growers Limited, Calgary.

Municipal Seed Cleaning Plants

Over 7,000,000 bushels of seed were cleaned by Alberta seed cleaning plants in 1959-60. This figure was released at the annual conference of seed cleaning plants which was held at the Olds School of Agriculture on July 11 and 12.

A. M. Wilson, Field Crops Commissioner, commenting on the report, said that the year's operations were very commendable. When grain leaves one of these plants it is excellent quality seed and free from all impurities. In addition to the grain cleaned more than 2½ million bushels of seed were treated for disease or wireworm control.

Representatives from 34 local seed cleaning cooperatives, including representatives of municipalities and from the Department of Agriculture, met at this two-day conference to discuss operations for the year. The maintenance of seed cleaning machines and building was discussed with the manufacturing companies and the contractor who builds the plants. The boards of six new plants which will be operating next year, also sent representatives to the conference.

A new board of directors was elected and Mr Geo. Zeigler of Vegreville is again chairman and Mr Geo Cranston of Strome will continue as secretary. Other board members include Alex Paul of Elnora; G. Quist, Marwayne; F. Noel, Chauvin, and A. D. Paul, Leduc.

At the directors' meeting following the conference it was decided to hold a two-day meeting again next year at the Olds School of Agriculture.

THE Homemaker

NANCY HOOPER
District Home Economist
Wainwright, Alta.

Home makers throughout the district have their work planned for them right now since it's canning and freezing time. As with all projects around the home, now and then questions come to your mind which you would like answered. This week I will dwell on canning problems.

Liquid Loss from Jars—

This may be due to filling the jars too full. Be sure to leave headspace at the top of the jar to allow for expansion during processing. Do not allow water to boil too rapidly during processing. A rolling or bumping boil is required.

Inverting Jars—

Do not invert jars after removing from the water bath or the seal may be broken.

Floating Fruit—

This may be due to over-ripe fruit, processing too long or using too heavy a syrup. A pack which is too loose may also cause the fruit to float.

Discoloration in Fruit—

This often happens with such fruits as peaches or pears. The fruit at the top of the jar discolors due to enzyme activity or oxidation. It occurs when the heat of cooking wasn't applied long enough or the temperature was not high enough to render all enzyme inactive or expel the air from the jars. The [illegible] is to use a hot water bath than a coldpack and to use standard processing time.

Raw Fruit Required—

Raw fruit required for one quart of canned fruit:

Berries, 5 cups; cherries, 6 cups; peaches, 8 to 10 medium; pears, 5 to 6 pears; plums, 20 to 25; tomatoes, 8 to 10 tomatoes.

BULLETINS AVAILABLE

Remember to call, phone or write to this office for "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables" and for "Jams, Jellies and Pickles". These are free of charge.

Funeral Services Held For Nicholas Kowalchuk

Funeral services were held on Friday July 22nd at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon for Nicholas Kowalchuk who passed away on Tuesday July 19. The services were conducted in First United Church Vermilion by the Rev W. Andrews of Mannville. Interment took place in the Vermilion cemetery.

During the service Mr John Webb sang the beautiful hymn "Abide With Me". The other hymns sung were "Safe in the Arms of Jesus", "Softly and Tenderly", and "Nearer My God to Thee". Mrs. A. M. West was organist.

Attending the services in groups were the members of the Kinsmen Club and Rotary Club.

Pallbearers were Messrs. T. L. Conboy, Wm. Novak, Victor Rogers, Clarence Moren, Mike Warawa and John Kachan.

A family prayer service was held at the home prior to the service in the church.

Mr Kowalchuk had been proprietor of the Columbia theatre for the past seven years, having farmed with his father in the Buffalo Coulee district for almost twenty years previously. Born in Poland, Nick came to Canada at the age of eight years.

Since coming to Vermilion Nick had been keenly interested in community affairs and was an active member of the Kinsmen and Rotary service clubs, a member of the Elks Lodge, Canadian Legion and Chamber of Commerce.

He is survived by his loving wife Joan, and three daughters, Susan, aged five years, and the twins, Jane and Jana, aged three years, his father Mr Mike Kowalchuk and a married sister Mrs. Mike Skitsko (Olga) both in Edmonton.

Moyer's Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Floral tributes to the home: Jack and Jean Wright and girls; Al and Vi Weeres and family; Bob and Sylvia Lynn; Mr and Mrs. Little and family; Local Association of the Guides and Brownies; Bert Billie and W. Wildmere Winks

We hope the Standard Staff had a very pleasant holiday as our family did. After traveling 3300 miles and being in 10 states and three provinces we returned home to find crops and gardens as good and better than any we had seen. The nicest part of going away is the coming home.

The warm weather of the past two weeks has brought crops along so that many are swathing, cutting and combining. Let's hope it continues so that everyone can be finished early.

Congratulations to the students at Preston Central school on the successful returns from their grade IX exams.

Many have been holidaying from here. Adam Smith Sr spent a week visiting his mother at Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith have gone to the same place for two weeks. Marlene Smith is home from Ponoka hospital for 5 days. Mrs. Bill Smith has been visiting friends and relatives at Vancouver and will return Thursday accompanied by her daughter Linda who has spent the holidays there.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Shepherd and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Robinson visited in the district and took in the fair. Diane Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Smith, Edmonton, is spending the holidays with her aunt Mrs. Cliff Cruthers.

Hewitt and Jim Dibben spent some time in Edmonton. Their parents motored up to bring them home last Thursday. Joan Dibben is working at the Vermilion hospital for the month of August.

Mr Jim Haines and Miss Margaret Haines from Ontario are visiting their brothers and families, George and Fred Haines.

Laverne Howard accompanied the Dibbens to Edmonton, guest of Maude.

Congratulations to the Preston 4-H club for their fine showing at the fair. Very gratifying to the children and their leader Mr. Holte.

Vacation Sunday school ended last Sunday when the children took most of the service at the church. A lot of credit goes to Mr. Pagee and his helpers Joanne Hughes, Linda Smith, Dorothy and Marie Tovell. Mr and Mrs. Arthur Tovell brought the girls down to attend church on Sunday. Mrs. Alex Morrison and Mrs. Sandy Morrison also attended church and visited at the home of Mr and Mrs. Albert Holte. Also visiting at the same home after attending church were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wallington.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Marfleet and Cindy visited at the Cruthers' home on Sunday.

Mr John Laramie who is engaged in bridge building and is working on the one east of Thorncliffe school visited at the home of his cousin Mrs Waldon Westman over the week-end.

Mr and Mrs Sweet have returned after attending Summer School to take up their positions at Preston Central School. The school has acquired a porch over the holidays built by the division's repair crew.

Dewberry United Church Scene Of Pretty July Wedding

Bouquets of peonies were arranged in Dewberry United church for the marriage of Miss Donna Evelyn Young to Mr Phillip Hardwick Porter. The Rev. James Shortt officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs. Wm. Young of Dewberry and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. S. Porter of Vancouver.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a portrait gown of sheer nylon organza over taffeta. Imported Chantilly lace outlined the sweetheart neckline of the fitted bodice and it was also used for the unusual criss-cross treatment of the tiny cap sleeves. The full expanse of skirt had a redingote effect with edged application of the same French lace.

The bride's veil of French illusion was held in place by a caplet of appliqued lace silk and seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Attending the bride, was Miss Patricia Kneen as maid of honor and Miss Beverly Porter, cousin of the groom, as bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of sheer turquoise organza over white flowered taffeta and styled with fitted bodices and short bouffant skirts. Their accessories were white and they carried bouquets of yellow shasta mums.

The groom was attended by his brother Mr. Stanley Porter.

Ushers were Mr Kenneth Porter, cousin of the groom, and Mr Jack Young, brother of the bride. Organist was Miss Cheryl Jones and soloist, Mr. L. W. Kruger, sang "The Wedding Prayer".

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Young wore a sheath with bolero of powder blue lace over nylon taffeta with white accessories and deep pink roses en corsage.

The groom's mother chose a dress of delphinium blue lace over taffeta with matching bolero. She wore pink accessories and a corsage of pale pink roses.

Low arrangements of pink and white peonies graced the bridal table at the reception held in the Dewberry Hall where the parents of the bridal couple received with them. The toast to the bride was proposed by the best man and responded to by the groom. Mr Kruger sang "I Love You Truly".

For travelling the bride changed to a turquoise slub linen suit, with which she wore white accessories and carried a coat of beige cashmere. A corsage of red sweetheart roses was pinned at her shoulder.

After a wedding trip to the southern part of the province and the United States, Mr and Mrs. Porter will make their home at Dewberry.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Mr. Stanley Porter and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jarman of Vancouver; Miss Patricia Kneen of Frobisher Bay; Mr. Kenneth Porter, Vauxhall; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Lawrence, Unity; Mr and Mrs Chas. MacDonald and Mr and Mrs. L. Corker, Lashburn; Mrs. F. Hartwell and Mr. Jack Young of Edmonton.

India launched her first ocean going vessel in 1948.

School Book Clearing House

A School Book clearing house will be operated at Clendenning's Family Wear for the convenience of pupils until the middle of September.

This is a service not already offered in town. It will be operated without profit or obligation on the part of the store.

It is suggested that pupils bring their books into the store with the suggested prices expected for them, and when sold the money will be paid to them.

At the end of the operation, any unsold books will be returned to the owners.

Books will be taken on a cash basis, whether the purchaser has books to exchange or not.

Funeral Rites For Mannville Lady

Funeral services for Mrs. Jane Tod, age 8? years, were held in McQueen Memorial United Church with Rev. F. G. Andrews officiating.

Born at Bathgate, Scotland, she came to Canada in 1906 with her husband Robert. They settled in the Saltcoats district south of Mannville, where they took a farm.

She is survived by three sons, Bill of Mannville, Robert and James of Edmonton, one daughter Margaret, of Mannville; eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild, and one brother, William Younge, Edmonton.

Pallbearers were: James Hills, Roy Hay, Walter Hinton, Lewis Smith, Ian Young and James Young.

An Oriental turban may consist of up to 20 yards of material.

Patricia Winters Wed At Norwood

A candlelight ceremony Friday evening in Norwood United Church solemnized the marriage of Miss Patricia Flora Winters and Mr Roy Marvin Schafer.

Bouquets of pink and white gladioli were arranged in the church for the double-ring service performed by Rev D. Smith.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs. Fred Leveredge of Vermilion. The groom is the son of Mr Harry Schafer of Edmonton.

Wearing a gown of nylon organza the bride was given in marriage by Mr Leveredge, her stepfather. Her floor length gown, styled with lace front panel, was designed with sabrina neckline, lily point sleeves and scalloped, long torso waistline. Iridescent sequins were embroidered on the gown.

A crown of pleated nylon tulle embroidered with seed pearls and trimmed with pearl teardrops held in place [illegible] tiered chapel veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of pink delight roses and stephanotis.

The bride was attended by her three sisters, Miss Hazel Winters, who was maid of honor, Miss Alice Winters and Miss Doris Winters.

They wore sheath dresses of shrimp pink brocaded taffeta with pouffed overskirts and matching headpieces. Each carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Mr Harry Cuthbert was best man. Ushers were Mr. William MacPherson and Mr. Orville Burchby.

For her daughter's wedding, Mr Leveredge wore a frock of green and white silk, with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

The wedding reception was held at the Park Hotel, where Mr Selmer Olsenberg proposed a toast to the bride.

Leaving on a wedding trip to the United States, the bride wore a sheath of midnight blue silk shantung with matching overskirt and accessories. Her coat was of oyster-colored wool and her corsage was of pink Sweetheart roses.

Mr and Mrs. Schafer will make their home at Edmonton.

Goldsmith Family Reunited for First Time in 42 Years

A family reunion at the home of Mr and Mrs. Oliver Goldsmith Monday marked the first time in 42 years that Mrs. Goldsmith and her brothers and sisters all have been together. Guests of honor were Mrs. Goldsmith's brother and sister-in-law Mr and Mrs. Kenneth Borowsky of Joplin, Missouri.

Other members of the family who attended the party with their families were Mrs. E. Willmer, Edmonton; Mrs. E. Stockstad, Kamloops; Mrs. M. Grumman, Bridge Lake, B. C.; Mr. Max Borowsky and Mr Harry Borowsky, both of Derwent.

The Borowsky family came to Alberta from Oklahoma in 1912 and settled in the district north of Vermilion.

A School Book clearing house will be operated at Clendenning's Family Wear for the convenience of pupils until the middle of September.

This is a service not already offered in town. It will be operated without profit or obligation on the part of the store.

It is suggested that pupils bring their books into the store with the suggested prices expected for them, and when sold the money will be paid to them.

At the end of the operation, any unsold books will be returned to the owners.

Books will be taken on a cash basis whether the purchaser has [illegible] exchange or not.

Funeral Rites For Mannville Lady

Funeral services for Mrs. Jane Tod, age [illegible] years were held in [illegible] Memorial United Church with Rev. F. G. Andrews officiating.

Born at Bathgate, Scotland, she came to Canada in 1904 with her husband Robert. They settled in the Rabbit Hill district south of Mannville, where they took a farm.

She is survived by three sons, Bill of Mannville, Robert and James of Edmonton, one daughter Margaret of Mannville, eight grandchildren and one great grandchild and one brother William Younge, Edmonton.

Pallbearers were James Hills, Roy Hay, Walter Hinton, Lewis Smith, Ian Young and James Young.

An Oriental turban may consist of up to 20 yards of material.

Patricia Winters Wed At Norwood

A candlelight ceremony Friday evening in Norwood United Church solemnized the marriage of Miss Patricia Flora Winters and Mr Roy Marvin Schafer.

Bouquets of pink and white gladioli were arranged in the church for the double-ring service performed by Rev D. Smith.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs. Fred Leversedge of Vermilion. The groom is the son of Mr. Harry Schafer of Edmonton.

Wearing a gown of nylon organza, the bride was given in marriage by Mr Leversedge, her stepfather. Her floor-length gown, styled with lace front panel, was designed with sabrina neckline, lily point sleeves and scalloped, long torso waistline. Iridescent sequins were embroidered on the gown.

A crown of pleated nylon tulle embroidered with seed pearls and trimmed with pearl teardrops held in place the bride's three-tiered chapel veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of pink delight roses and stephanotis.

The bride was attended by her three sisters, Miss Hazel Winters, who was maid of honor, Miss Alice Winters and Miss Doris Winters.

They wore sheath dresses of shrimp pink brocaded taffeta with pouffed overskirts and matching headpieces. Each carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Mr. Harry Cuthbert was best man. Ushers were Mr William MacPherson and Mr. Orville Burchby.

For her daughter's wedding, Mr Leversedge wore a frock of green and white silk, with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

The wedding reception was held at the Park Hotel, where Mr Selmer Olsenberg proposed a toast to the bride.

Leaving on a wedding trip to the United States, the bride wore a sheath of midnight blue silk shantung with matching overskirt and accessories. Her coat was of oyster-colored wool and her corsage was of pink Sweetheart roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Schafer will make their home in Edmonton.

Pleasant Valley News

It has been lovely haying weather but a nice rain would help gardens and flowers.

Sylvia Gould returned from a trip to the coast on Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ronaghan and the former's two sisters, Mrs. Trumbo and Mrs. Easton paid the writer a surprise last week. They came to see their old neighbors hereabouts. We think that they still like Alberta with the lovely waving grain fields, which this year are truly a picture.

Jean Inman and family were visitors at the Gordon Gould home on Sunday.

Bill Gillies and family from Edmonton visited their mother and Chrissie over the week-end. Little Donnie Gillies is staying on the farm for a [illegible]. Ronnie Gould went back to the city with Bob for a week. Most children enjoy the farm where there is lots of room to roam around.

Douglas Inman has been staying on the farm with his grandparents. Danny Inman accompanied his cousin Gerald and parents to the Yukon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Joy spent last Friday [illegible] the writer and husband. A really nice day was enjoyed among the flowers.

On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gould visited Henry Joy and family and a delicious fried chicken supper was enjoyed.

NEWS from ISLAY

Many of those who have been away for holidays have now returned. The I. D. Inmans and the Everon Inmans, both families having been as far up the Alaska Highway as Whitehorse. They report excellent roads, marvellous scenery and friendly people. They even saw the cabin of that famous character Sam McGee, th Anglican church that Prince Philip attended, and Gerald sat in the pew that Philip sat in! There was a sign posted "Prince Philip sat here".

The Bill McLeans are back from Moose Lake and the Moncrieff family back from Loon Lake, Sask.

The McCaughan and King families were camped at Laurier Lake.

Mr. Hagen, accompanied by his niece Miss Wood, from Youngstown, old time neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Allen, are visiting here.

Noticed Omar Easton back. He was on a trip to Ontario with Jim McGuigan and Syd Mountford. Haven't heard any news about the trip as yet.

Mannville Locals

MANNVILLE. — Orchids from Hawaii!

Bringing a thrill to the Alan Emmott family was the receipt of orchids, which were mailed on Tuesday via air, and received on Thursday at Mannville. Styled in corsage, and of a beautiful mauve color, the flowers were kept fresh by means of tiny miniature vases which were concealed amongst the profusion of petals. They were indeed a vision of loveliness, and were admired by many relatives and friends.

SURPRISE

Mrs. Dora Peskilvets received a pleasant surprise recently when she was paid a visit by a cousin who attended her 35 years ago as her bridesmaid. The lady was Mrs. Joe Kirpadlo of Edmonton, who accompanied her husband and son, and Dora's sister and family Mr. and Mrs. Mike Luyck of Hilliard to Mannville. Naturally much excitement was experienced by all those present and especially Mrs. Peskilvets herself, who was definitely "floored" by the surprise, as well as delighted.

CAR WASH AT MANNVILLE

Members of the senior C.G.I.T. are busy planning a car wash for August 29th, a Monday, and advise us details will be forthcoming later, so owners of all cars are interested in this news, and will, no doubt keep the date in mind.

Vacation School Held At Islay Church

ISLAY. — During the week of Aug. 1 to 5 a very interesting and happy vacation school was conducted at the United church in Islay with Mr. Eric Snider as leader. Assisting him were Mrs. I. Martin, Mrs. [illegible], Miss Anderson, Shirley [illegible] an and Grace [illegible].

On the evening of the last day a program was given along with an exhibition of the hand work. The children all sang well, recited and read Bible selections. It was very well done when it is considered only the mornings were spent at school, from 9 to 12 noon.

A break came when they went to the public school where games were played, then back to the church hall where they enjoyed cookies and koolade. The sessions closed with a devotional period conducted for the most part by the children, different ones each day.

Return From Tour In United States

ISLAY. — Mrs. Lila Waterfield of Islay, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Harrison and daughter Sandra of the Auburndale district, recently returned from a ten-day tour through the central U.S. Stops were made at Medicine Hat, Lewis and Clarke Caves in Montana, into Idaho, then to Salt Lake City where an organ recital was enjoyed in the Mormon Tabernacle. They crossed the Utah desert with the thermometer at 110 degrees.

They travelled through Colorado to Grand Junction and Denver, then into the Dakotas. One evening was spent in the Black Hills of North Dakota at the "Passion Play". The border was crossed at Coulter coming into Manitoba. After travelling 4200 miles they found the home district the greenest, crops the best.

Alberta Antelope Hunters To Have A Six-Day Season

In 1960 there will be a six-day season on pronghorn antelope in Alberta. This season, open for both male and female antelope, will commence on Oct. 24 and terminate on Oct. 29.

The decision to open antelope hunting this year was handed down by the Director of Fish and Wildlife after a review of the results of the midsummer antelope aerial survey. These surveys conducted each year allow the assessment of pronghorn density by zones which is just one phase of an intensive management program designed to collect data on animal abundance, sex and age composition of the herds, productivity or rate of increase, causes of mortality and hunter success and harvest by zones.

This year's aerial survey, the most extensive ever attempted, has shown marked increase in antelope numbers in all zones censused. [illegible] of the current [illegible] status in southeastern Alberta, expected hunter [illegible] and expected hunter [illegible] this season it has been determined that a total of [illegible] antelope permits can be [illegible] this year. In future years when hunters can be distributed in relation to antelope numbers present in each zone it should be possible to issue even more permits and realize an even greater harvest.

[illegible] checking stations will again be in operation at key positions throughout the antelope range. In addition to collecting information on hunter [illegible] these stations [illegible] the assessment [illegible] of the harvest [illegible] through the collection of lower jaws and uteri. Hunters can assist in the management of this important wildlife resource by stopping at the checking stations before and after they have hunted.

Good Attendance at Dewberry United Church W.A. Meeting

The July meeting of the Dewberry United Church W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. Wm. S. Porter with twelve members and five visitors present. Following the singing of a hymn, Mrs. Kay Braithwaite read from the Bible and Mrs. W. Boyce gave the reading for the day from the Upper Room.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted also the treasurer's and Sunshine reports were given. A motion was made and seconded that the W. A. help pay for the cost of the anniversary cake which was made at the time of the church service at Lake Whitney. Further planning for the Young and Bowman weddings was done and this took up most of the meeting.

The benediction brought the meeting to a close after which lunch was served by the hostess.

The August meeting will be held the second Thursday of the month in the church and each member asked to bring a little lunch.

Four More Whoopers

OTTAWA — Like a proud pappa, Northern Affairs Minister Alvin Hamilton told the Commons that the whooping crane population has increased by four young birds.

He said he had some "good news" from the Northwest Territories — that four pairs of whooping cranes, a rare bird almost extinct, had been sighted with four young ones.

This brought the known population of the long legged whoopers to 43 from 39, he said.

Wyoming put its women on a pedestal long before the other states. According to World Book Encyclopedia, Wyoming granted women full voting rights in 1869.

Construction Starts on Agricultural Building on Schedule

Shortly after the first official shovelful of mother earth was moved to mark commencement of construction on the new $212,000.00 Agricultural building, Foreman Harry Laye, Operator Bob Snelgrove and Steelman Art Hultt made the initial check on levels. Onlookers watching the group are, left to right, Mark Stamp, Lloyd McLean and Lawrence Ferbey. Work has been going on apace under ideal weather conditions since starting on August 1st.

Mannville United Church Concludes Successful Vacation School

MANNVILLE. — The Church Vacation school held at the McQueen United church, Mannville, concluded recently with a most interesting program of achievement, for enjoyment of parents and friends.

Handicraft articles displayed included many items made by the various departments, not only for themselves, but for others. The Kindergarten and Primary departments had made a supply of cheer-up and get-well cards to be distributed to others, while they took home a fuzzy lamb, modelled animals, worship centres and a basket of flowers for mother.

The Junior and Junior High girls made attractive baskets from popsicle sticks, a blue print picture, book marks and wastepaper baskets, some to be used in the church.

Boys made lawn ornaments which were proudly displayed, all nicely painted. They also sanded blocks for kindergarten department. The Junior High girls repaired hymnaries for the church.

Rev. Frank G. Andrews expressed appreciative thanks to all teachers for their efforts during the week of the school as well as parents for their cooperation and to the director Mrs F. Andrews.

Mrs Andrews explained the purpose of the school and the various methods of teaching used, results of which were shown in items on the program. The theme for the Bible study for the whole school was "The Church", and explanations as to how material was presented were given by Mrs Maurice Smith for the Kindergarten department, Mrs. Jacob Shock for Primary department; Mrs. Ches Gamble, Junior department and Mr. Andrews for Junior High. Miss Heather Andrews assisted with the Kindergarten department, while Miss Agnes Finlay and Miss Doris Lynch helped with the Primary.

At this stage of the program memory verses were recited by the children.

Songs used for worship were presented by Primary and Kindergarten members which was followed by a worship service very impressively conducted by members of the Junior and the Junior High departments.

By use of "Shadow Puppets" the Junior department presented the "Prodigal Son" and "Going to Church on Family Sunday", while Kindergarten youngsters literally stole the show as they sang action songs to a record, imitating various animals. Dramatization by Junior Highs "The Password" portrayed the dangers faced by early Christians as they worshipped secretly by candlelight in the catacombs.

Remarks expressing amazement at the amount of work covered in one week and words of commendation and thanks were offered by Mrs Oliver Willis and Mrs Ernest Larcombe speaking on behalf of parents for this worthwhile effort of all the teachers and making possible Vacation School week for the children.

Grand Lodge Officer Visits Mannville L.O.B.A.

MANNVILLE. — Approximately 23 members of Prince Edward Lodge No. 292 L.O.B.A. at Mannville were on hand to [illegible] Mrs. O. Mayson of Edmonton, Provincial Grand Mistress of Alberta, on Monday evening, August 8. This was the first official visit of the Grand Mistress to a primary lodge. Worthy Mistress Irene Finlay was in the [illegible]

During the meeting which followed three members with over twenty-five years of membership and service were given honorary membership certificates, namely Mrs. Chester Gamble, Mrs. Eber McFadden and Mrs. Jack Chrysler. The latter, who has over thirty-five years of membership, recently celebrated her diamond wedding anniversary.

Present also were Charter members with 41 years of service and under, Mrs. Caroline Manz, Mrs. Nellie Jones and Mrs. Lily Colborne.

A souvenir spoon was presented from Mannville L.O.B.A. to the honored visitor, Mrs. Mayson at conclusion of her speech, highlighted with notes of interest from the recent Most Worshipful Grand Lodge down east. Lunch was served to bring the evening to a close.

First Alberta Community College To Open At Fairview This Fall

The first community college in Alberta will be initiated with the reopening of the School of Agriculture at Fairview this fall.

Several of the characteristics of a community college as outlined by the Royal Commission on Education will be lacking at the Fairview community college in the beginning says Mr J. E. Hawker, Superintendent of the School of Agriculture. However these will gradually be added as development of the school progresses.

The first year work will be offered during the 1960-61 term. Second year and twelfth grade students will be referred to the Vermilion School of Agriculture. Academic subjects in grades 10, 11 and 12 will be taught in co-operation with the Department of Education and the Fairview school board.

The academic program will start in September and final examinations will be held at the end of each three month period. Students taking the academic courses will be able to add vocational courses in agriculture or home economics in the second quarter. Vocational courses will start [illegible] 21 and continue until April [illegible].

The tuition fee for students residing outside Fairview school division who wish to take the full high school program or only part of it will be $20 per quarter. Students who live within this school division will be required to pay a $10 per quarter tuition fee.

Applications for the first quarter of this school year must be postmarked not later than Aug. 13th. They should be sent to the Principal, Community College, Fairview, Alberta.

PREPARING YOUR CHILD FOR SCHOOL

Your child is facing an exciting adventure — his first days at school. He has heard a lot about this strange new world and he's looking forward to it with eagerness, curiosity and a mixture of many other emotions. To leave the cosy protection of his home for the uncertainties of a new kind of life is a tremendously big event. For some time now he has perhaps been feeling left out of things as he watched other children going happily off to that mysterious somewhere where one learns to read and write like grownups. He very likely has listened wide-eyed to tales of what you can or can't do in this place called school. Yet along with shivers of doubt and anxiety concerning the unknown he has probably become quite sure in his own mind that it is a good place because after all other children, his friends, go there. It's natural for your child to want to do what his playmates do just as he wants to be like and be liked by them.

But will your child be ready for this adventurous journey into a new life? Naturally the better he is equipped, the more successfully will he fare. There are certain things he needs in order to face his new experiences with confidence and a good chance of getting along throughout his school career.

Your child should start his school life in good, sound health. Have your family physician or the local public health clinic give him a complete physical examination. An eye examination is very important. His teeth should be checked too, by a dentist. If these examinations show that there are ailments or defects that can and should be looked after, then follow the doctor's and dentist's advice and have them corrected, if possible before you enrol him at school.

It's likely that your child has already been immunized against certain of the childhood diseases such as diptheria, whooping cough and smallpox. If not, have it done immediately either by your doctor or at the nearest public health clinic. If all immunizations have been done previously, make sure your child gets the necessary booster dose.

Insist on him getting regular and sufficient hours of sleep to help him enjoy school. He needs from ten to twelve hours of sleep in a quiet, darkened room with an open window, to build up his energy and offset tiredness.

Good appearance will go a long way in helping your child get along well with his schoolmates. He should know how to wash his face and hands, comb his hair, carry and use a handkerchief or tissue not only for blowing his nose but to cover a cough or sneeze. His clothing should be simple and practical and at the same time attractive. When a child has learned to do things for himself he gains poise and respect. He will be better able to look after his outer garments by himself at school if his clothes are roomy and all the fastenings are simple.

If he is used to sharing duties at home he'll have confidence in doing things at school. He should be able to keep his own toys and belongings in order and help with simple household tasks.

Your child's ability to talk so that he can be understood is obviously a basic necessity. It's not unfair to send him along to school handicapped in this way. He learns speech habits in his home so let him hear good English, encourage him to say what he means in sentences, not merely in single words or phrases which are understood only in the family. It is well to set an example of soft pleasant voices avoiding harsh loud tones. Teach him correct terms and names of things. He should be able to say clearly his whole name, address and telephone number. Baby talk sounds cute at home, perhaps, but he'll be embarrassed and even maybe laughed at, if he carries this habit to school with him. Learning to give and take to get along with others, is necessary for your child's happiness at school, in fact throughout his entire life. Encourage his friendliness toward other people. Give him the place and the opportunity to play with other children.

HOW IS HIS MENTAL OUTLOOK?

Your child should be well equipped with sound mental and emotional health. He'll have this in good measure if he has felt secure in your affection, learned to take his place in the family group, shared in small responsibilities, learned to do some things on his own, and has had a chance for play with playmates his own age.

If he has a healthy attitude towards authority he'll fit more easily into the school life with its many regulations. If he hasn't as yet learned obedience and the necessity to cooperate in routine, you'll not help him by being overly protective and "taking his side" against the school. If you sincerely think that there is something wrong with the school rules then talk them over frankly and openly with the proper school authorities.

When your child starts school, he hesitates, naturally, about leaving the familiarity of home. Yet, at the same time, he wants to push aside babyish habits of being dependent on you. He wants to be on his own, like his fellow pupils. The exciting time he has in feeling self important and independent may for a time, make him guard his new experiences as quite secret, something very private and precious to him. He may resent your questioning and curiosity and try to keep his new life apart from you. This is a phase that soon passes in a happy blending of school and home influences. Before long, if not immediately, your child will want to share with you his school experiences and achievements. He proudly brings his "work" home, tells you about his songs and games. Meet his pride with yours and praise his efforts with the same enthusiasm he shows for them and go easy on criticisms. He'll move farther and faster with praise than with criticism.

BE A PARTNER IN HIS SCHOOLING

Your child is a very special person whom you've watched and tried to understand and help from his earliest infancy. For this reason you have valuable suggestions that you can share with his teacher. If you work closely together (rather than apart, or even against) then the home and the school can assure your child the attention and consideration he needs. With more opportunities to meet new experiences and to accept responsibility, he'll have a better chance of becoming a happy, useful grownup.

Even though the school will now occupy the greater part of his day, you still have the leading role to play in helping to develop your child's character. His future will depend more than anything else, on your understanding, the warm loving relationship which began in his babyhood and which should continue throughout the growing years. Supporting and encouraging him in all his outside activities will provide him with that feeling of security so essential to his success in school.

Mr and Mrs. Dmytruch have bought a lot on Sandy Boulevard and will start construction on a house soon.

MARWAYNE

Congratulations go to Mr and Mrs. Roy Jackson on the birth of a daughter and to Mr and Mrs. Harry Pashniak on the birth of twin daughters, in the Lloydminster hospital.

Bob McClean is progressing favorably after a major operation and continued recovery is wished him.

The Misses Jackie Crichton and Isobel Gray representing the Wainwright Division of 4-H Clothing clubs were at the Olds Agricultural school on Aug. 1 to 6th for further competitions. Following this Isobel went to the CGIT camp at Sylvan Lake as representative of the Marwayne CGIT.

Arnold Kell who has been employed in the bank at Vermilion for the past year has been transferred to Pincher Creek where he will be assistant accountant.

Mr and Mrs. Herb [illegible] have taken up residence in Mrs. Oneta Kent's house at the back of her lot.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig are now settled in their house and Mr and Mrs. Bill Davison are working on their home and will be moving in soon. A cordial welcome is extended to the new comers.

Congratulations and all good wishes go to Mr. and Mrs. Claus Young, the former Jean Harwood, who were married in Ft. Pitt on July 29, and to Mr and Mrs. Russel Shaw married on July 30th. The latter couple will be living in Borradaile where Russ operates a grain elevator.

Mrs. E. Bodnar and son of Uranium City, Sask., are visiting at the home of Mrs. Kay Hillaby.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mr. Lloyd Gauley and family in the sudden and tragic death of her brother Rod Bullock of Czar in a chuckwagon race at Cheyenne, Wyoming.

Mrs. Doull Sr. is travelling by bus to visit her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Boyce at Mayo Landing, Yukon.

Miss Margaret Wilson of Ailsa Craig, Ont., visited at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Barry.

Mrs. Rutherford, a former resident of the Fenham district passed away in Edmonton after a lengthy illness. Funeral service was held in the United church here and interment in the local cemetery. Sincere sympathy is extended to her family.

Birthday greetings are extended to Mr. S. A. Berg, Mr. Joe Ure and Mrs. Guy Williams Sr.

Remember the Horticulture show by the FWUA in the Elks hall, Friday, Aug. 19.

WILDWOOD EAST

Mrs. D. Jack has returned home after spending several weeks with her granddaughters in Stettler and Edmonton.

Mr and Mrs. J. H. Simmonds visited their daughter and family at the week-end in the R. Drysdale home.

Jimmy and Douglas Bowen are holidaying with their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Bowen.

Ganton-Wildwood held a very successful Bible school in the Watson Hall.

Mr and Mrs. B. S. Ralston have returned to their home in Vancouver after visiting Mr and Mrs. Norman Bowen and other relatives here.

Mr R. Christie, student minister is going to Jarrow for a week.

Miss Sheila and Frankie Payne are holidaying with their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. George Jack.

Week-end guests at the home of Mr and Mrs. Alf Jack were Mrs. Jim Smith and Mrs. Richard Smith of Edmonton, Mrs. Shirley Leighton of Paradise Valley, Mrs. R. McKay, Don and Joanne of Tofield.

Some farmers of the district have begun harvesting their wheat.

The neighbors wish Mr Alvin Wyley a speedy return to his home from an Edmonton hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. George Jack spent last week in Edmonton.

Mr. Alex Sperberg left for Courtney, B.C., to attend the wedding of his niece, Miss Rosine Shattuck.

The Toronto Globe and Mail says the city's Department of Public Health has warned that childhood tooth decay is rampant throughout Toronto and may soon be beyond control. In its annual statement, published on July 12th, the Health Department recommended the introduction of fluoride to the Toronto water supply. The Health League of Canada has advocated this step for some years.

KITSCOTY DORMITORIES

The Divisional Board has not yet reached a decision on the operation of the dormitories at Kitscoty for 1960-61 and unless applications are received in the next two weeks it is likely that at least one dormitory will remain closed.

Parents having pupils who are planning to use the dormitory facilities are urged to forward an application immediately.

Promoted to Rank Of Brigadier

EDMONTON — Colonel Robt. A. Bradburn, Commander of No. 23 Militia Group in Edmonton has been promoted to the rank of Brigadier, it was announced recently by Army headquarters. He has been commander of No 23 Militia Group for the past two years.

Brig. Bradburn was first commissioned in the 19th Alberta Dragoons in 1933. At the outbreak of the second world war he was appointed to the Loyal Edmonton Regiment. In June of 1940 he was promoted to the rank of Captain in the South Alberta Regiment. He served overseas in the United Kingdom and Northwest Europe and in 1944 was promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel and commanded the Algonquin Regiment.

Brig. Bradburn has commanded the Loyal Edmonton Regiment (3 PPCLI) from 1954 to 1958. While commanding the regiment he initiated the young soldier training plan which gave summer employment to 180 Edmonton high school students, most of whom have followed up their summer training by joining militia units in the Edmonton area.

is again sponsoring the
COMMUNITY BIRTHDAY CALENDAR
IT WILL BE THE MOST INTERESTING AND INFORMATIVE CALENDAR YOU HAVE EVER SEEN!

The Rotarians want every person in Vermilion and district to have their name printed in the Calendar. Your name will appear on the date of your birthday. Everyone will know when your birthday comes, and you will know the birthday of everyone else in Vermilion and district. But it doesn't tell how young you are! Radio CKSA carries greetings from the Rotary Calendar.

YES! Once again this is going to be the CALENDAR OF THE YEAR, and a lot of fun for everyone!

The members of the Rotary, beginning right away, are going to contact you farm people about putting your birthday on the calendar. The cost of the name is only 25c, and the name of every member of your family is desired on this calendar. Each family buys a calendar for only 50c. Extra calendars may be purchased if desired. The canvass of town people will start Sept. 12.

The wedding anniversaries of all our married couples will be listed on the date of their anniversary, with a little bell after the names, at cost of only 25c.

All proceeds taken in by the Rotary Club on this project will be used for community betterment and youth activities in this area, including the new Agricultural and Recreational Centre.

Proceeds from previous calendar sales have been distributed in part as follows: For support of Little League baseball team; Pee Wee hockey; revolving fund for students requiring financial assistance; Rotary Christmas tree; Grant to Library, sponsored Band Concerts; sent delegate to United Nations short course at Banff. Grant to Scout Hall; sponsored Courtesy Contest; sponsored Car Rodeo; Vermilion Agricultural and Recreational Centre.

During the week Sept. 12th to 16th Rotary canvassers will call at homes in town to accept listings. Make sure that important events in your family are carried on the 1961 Calendar.

Anyone from out of town, or not at home when the canvass is made, may have their birthday listed or order a calendar from any member of the Rotary Club. Here are a few of them — Elmore Stewart, George Webb, Ernie Buckingham, Ken Greenwood, Ashley Cooper, Reg Mitchell, Carl Heckbert, [illegible].

NEWS from ALLANDALE

The weather has been hot with ample moisture.

On July 20th Mrs. Gertie Swanson from Elk Point visited with her sister Mrs. Mayers. That afternoon they called at the home of their brother Orley Omness. Happy birthday was wished Mrs. Swanson on her 72nd birthday that day.

July 20th, the third day of vacation school at Clandonald, Sandy Wilson was hit by a swing low on his forehead and the cut suffered required three stitches. The kindness of those who helped was much appreciated.

We were pleased to meet Mr Harold White on July 22 at the Throndson home in town. He was lending a hand at the Forbes and Kreller farms doing some haying. Harold, Agnes and family were holidaying at the Mungo Forbes' home. Previous to this Harold and his sister Donna (Mrs. Bailey) had been called to North Battleford where their brother Jim was ill. Harold is still teaching at Lacombe.

On July 24 the Allandale folk met with Clandonald for the vacation school closing. Miss Ann Evans and helpers are to be congratulated for the work done with the children during the week. The display of articles made was excellent. The girls gave a lovely dressed doll to the retarded children's school in Vermilion.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Swanson and family from Fort Saskatchewan spent the week-end of July 24th with the latter's sister Elsa at the Nelson home. Beverly stayed on for a longer holiday.

Susan and David Schmidt of Lloydminster stayed with their grandparents at the Nelson home the week of vacation school.

Splendid weather was enjoyed for the fair and the three days proved very interesting. Our grandson Raymond Wilson was quite happy in winning three first prizes with his colt mare. He won a lovely cup donated by Bob Maggs. Raymond's mother Mrs Don Wilson did very well with her exhibits at the hall. Mrs Bessie Moore won first with her lovely ecru crocheted tablecloth. It is nice to see all the beautiful work on display.

Congratulations to Rev. and Mrs. Darwell Welsh of Courtwright, Ont., on the birth of a son Gordon Darwell on July 19. Rev. Welsh was our student minister in 1956.

For a few days the last part of July Miss Ann Evans had her friend Gale from Toronto visit her. They appreciated the hospitality of the Laird family at Clandonald very much.

Sunday school was held at the Omness home on the evening of Aug. 1 at which around fifty parents and children attended. A wiener roast was much enjoyed following the classes.

Mr and Mrs. Charlie Moore of Deer Lake had their son Wilbert home through fair days and a family from Calgary also.

Mrs. Stella Mayers and Mrs Nora Ronaghan left by C.N.R. on Aug. 2nd for a trip to the states of Minnesota and Wisconsin.

NEW DRUG

A recently-developed drug has produced "good to excellent" improvement in patients suffering from rheumatoid and arthritic disorders, reports Dr. Emil D. W. Hauser, a Chicago physician. The drug is called triamcinolone acetonide and in a test it proved successful with 66 out of 67 patients. Dr. Hauser said the benefits were a sharp reduction in stiffness, tenderness and pain, a reduction in swelling and an increase in joint mobility. He added there was no evidence the drug caused any toxic reactions. Dr. Hauser's report was submitted to the Health League of Canada in a news release from the American Medical Association.

WHEN CONDITIONS ARE RIGHT YOU'RE ALWAYS Ready WITH MODERN FARM MACHINERY

Gone are the days when a farmer could quickly hire all the manpower he needed for work that had to be done fast to take advantage of right field or weather conditions. Today, experienced farm labour is scarce and costly.

The answer to this problem is modern farm machinery. It provides an efficient, economical working force that is available at all times. The danger of profits being left lying in the fields because of a shortage of harvesting help is eliminated. The ability of modern farm equipment to handle heavy work schedules at top speed with a minimum of manpower often means the difference between profit and loss on today's farm.

Follow the trend that leads to more profitable farming. Team up with Massey-Ferguson machines and implements. They keep labour costs low—provide a wider margin for profits.

Clandonald Missionary Returns From Seven Years in Jamaica

Allen McDonald, formerly of the Clandonald district returned to Alberta from Jamaica for a two-month stay last week. Mr McDonald has been in Jamaica as a missionary of Jehovah's witnesses since 1953.

Having attended school at Lower Lake in the Landonville district he farmed in the area for some years. He began studying with Jehovah's witnesses in 1939 and was baptized and ordained a [illegible] 1952. After spending several years in full time [illegible] called to the Watchtower School of Gilead near South Lansing, New York and given advanced training for missionary work. Upon completing this course Mr McDonald was sent to Jamaica where he has served as a circuit supervisor ever since.

Returning to Edmonton on July 27, Mr McDonald attended the "Peace-Pursuing District Assembly" held in the Edmonton Gardens and Sales Pavilion July 28-31.

The Organization is growing steadily in Jamaica reports Mr Donald. Many people of Jamaica are looking for the time when God through his kingdom will speak to the nations.

Commenting on his impressions he said Edmonton is a beautiful city. It is nice to be back here and get a breath of cool air.

TOLLAND TOPICS

Congratulations to Mr Frank Watson on winning the Robin Hood flour contest at Art Lawson's general store here. Frank chose an electric kettle as his prize.

On the casualty list are little Alberta Lampert kicked by a Shetland pony and requiring several stitches, and Mr [illegible] Thompson [illegible] due to a rail [illegible] on him while engaged in [illegible] operations. We wish them a speedy recovery.

The little girl with long hair whose picture appears in a popular week-end magazine perhaps won't be recognized as Heather Marie Foster, daughter of Mr and Mrs Vernon Foster of Edmonton, due to the fact that she is watching the [illegible].

Mrs [illegible] Watson and Charlotte spent a few days in Edmonton visiting Mr and Mrs Vernon Foster and attending the exhibition. They were accompanied home by the Fosters and two nieces Barbara and Shirley Freeman from Lethbridge and Mr L. Clark. They were disappointed to find it dry here after all the mud and rain in Edmonton.

Visiting at the Van Wagenen homes is Mr Van Wagenen's sister and husband Mr and Mrs Lenshoek from Holland. They were here last [illegible] some thirty-six years ago but recognized many old friends. Holidaying at Loon Lake and two other adjoining bodies of water for six days these folks report poor fishing and lots of flies and mosquitoes. Better luck next time!

Condolences are extended to Mrs. Rose Green and family of Edmonton on the loss of her husband Mr [illegible] on July 19.

Callers in the district recently were Mr Keith Hard and sons at the [illegible] home. Mr and Mrs Ted Fishlitt and son [illegible] of Napanee [illegible] with [illegible] Mrs A Hildreth of Vermilion [illegible] Mrs M Watson [illegible] and Mrs [illegible] folks.

Mr and Mrs Wes Funnell and [illegible] are holidaying around in the Okanagan Valley, B.C.

Has anyone ever seen a double wild rose? The writer has three blooming at present.

Mr and Mrs Harry Fortsmith spent a few days recently visiting Mr and Mrs Gordon Fortsmith [illegible].

A very successful week of [illegible] Bible school has just been completed at Watson school. Thirty young hopefuls were instructed by Deaconess Miss Ruby Patterson, Mr R Christie and Mr [illegible] United Church students from Jarrow. Unfortunately Mr Christie took sick and Mr [illegible] had to leave a day early but Miss Patterson carried on admirably with assistance from Miss Marilyn Jeffery.

The community was shocked to learn of the death of Mrs [illegible] Oldenburg. Beloved by all who knew her she will be sadly missed by all.

The drought was broken on August 1 and we have had several good rains since to make the grass green once more and help everything in general.

Mr and Mrs Fred Kratmeier spent a couple of days visiting their daughter Mrs. Don Cooper and family at Ponoka. Don, Carol and girls returned the visit for a few days renewing acquaintances in the district.

PROUDLY WESTERN

-- German Immigrant Settler Turning First Sod of His Alberta Homestead with Wooden-Beam Plow.

A Salute to Alberta's German Pioneers

The promise of free farm land in the Canadian West in the early years of the 20th century was like a giant magnet drawing to the prairies farmer-settlers from half around the world. Its pull reached to Russia and to the old Austro-Hungarian Empire, bringing to Alberta thousands of German speaking families. At the same time it drew second generation Germans from the northwestern states — Minnesota, the Dakotas, Wisconsin and Kansas — and this migration was supplemented again by government and railway colonization schemes particularly attractive to German-speaking settlers.

Hard-working, self-reliant, willing to endure the hardships of pioneering and to contribute earnest and enthusiastic effort to the building of the West, they make up one of Alberta's largest pioneer groups both in actual number and in value of their contribution to the agricultural advancement of the province. Another pioneer in the West — the Calgary Brewing and Malting Company Limited — is proud to salute them!

Mannville Farmer Killed in Collision

Joseph Horricks, aged 72 years, well-known and highly esteemed farmer, who lives just a few miles east of Mannville, was instantly killed Friday, August 19th when the car he was driving collided with the C.N.R.'s Continental passenger train at a crossing right in the town of Mannville.

The accident occurred at 12:38 noon as Mr Horricks was driving across the private crossing, just east of the elevators and the depot. Vision to the west is entirely obscured by an elevator. The eastbound train which struck the car had been delayed for some twelve hours by a wash out at Hinton. Its regular time to pass through Mannville is 12:13 a.m. No stop is made there although speed of the train is decreased.

Mr Horricks was returning to his farm, located on the west side of Stony Creek after being in Edmonton where he had purchased a few head of horses. He was preceding the truck carrying the horses to his farm.

He is survived by his wife Hazel, two sons, James of Islay and Jack of Lethbridge, and six daughters Mrs W J McGaughey, Mrs. H. Herford, Mrs. B Hicks, Mrs. A. Scouler, Mrs. E. Schneider, Mrs. J. Goshkow. There are 23 grandchildren, four brothers and four sisters.

Funeral services were held at the United Church in Mannville on Monday afternoon at 2.00 o'clock. Interment followed in the Mannville cemetery. The Rev. Frank Andrews officiated.

Moyer's were in charge of the arrangements.

School for Retarded Term Commences September 6th

Tuesday, Sept. 6th marks the opening day of the second term for the Vermilion Retarded Children's school.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Myrtle Benz, some eight or ten handicapped children will be happily embarked in a world of learning until only recently denied them.

If transportation problems can be overcome it is hoped to have three and possibly four children from Mannville and possibly seven from town and district.

The Association has leased the same house as used last year and if this second term is as successful as the first, plans are in the offing for a school built for the purpose.

Support of the general public has been great and a continuance of this support is anticipated.

Team of Horses, Biggest in Canada Sold at Vermilion

Thought to be the biggest team of horses in Canada, a pair of blacks, mare and gelding, was sold at the Vermilion auction mart this past week. Each of the horses weighed an even ton, for a total of 4,000 pounds.

The team was raised by Roy Finlay of Dewberry, and went by the names of Darky and Beauty. They were seven years old. The purchaser was John Simms of Lloydminster.

The price paid for team was $440.00, also thought to be a record price paid for a team for many years.

Winners At The Fair Races

Winners at the horse races held on the Saturday of the Vermilion Fair were as follows:

Free-for-all 1 mile—1. A. Benemiller, Dewberry; 2. H. Carlton, Clandonald; 3. George Convey, Clandonald.

Free-for-all ½ mile — 1. A. Benemiller; 2. H. Carlton; 3. A. Benemiller.

Barrel Race — 1. Jeff Allan, Edmonton; 2. Susie Carlton, Clandonald; 3. M. Olafson, of Turtleford, Sask.

Children's Pony Race—1. Barry Walsh, Vermilion; 2. Mike Malek, Vermilion; 3. Mike Malek, Vermilion; 4. Keith Whitlock, Vermilion; 5. Harold Schoonmaker, Clandonald.

Chariot Race — 1. A. Benemiller; 2. H. Carlton.

Consolation Race—1. A. Benemiller, Dewberry; 2. Fred Sidner, Onion Lake; 3. Jim Powell, Vermilion.

Ghosts On Hitting Spree At Sedgewick; Nine Home Runs

Last Sunday the Ghosts travelled to Sedgewick confident that they could bring home first money in a tourney sponsored by the Sedgewick ball club. After taking a good look at the draw the ghosts came to the conclusion that they were up against great odds. However they were determined to give it a good try and came up with their best hard hitting effort in two years to take the measure of Boyle St. from Edmonton 20 runs to 3 in 5 innings.

Drawn against the Central Car Sales, an intermediate A team from the city, the Ghosts continued their hitting spree to gain an 11 to 1 victory, once again in five innings.

Third Game Downfall

The third game proved to be the downfall of the Ghosts as they were defeated 21 to 16 by Dales Bros., another city team. The hitting continued to hold up well in this game but a couple of errors in key spots and a grand slam home run on a foul ball was more than the boys could cope with.

However a split of third money is better than nothing and the boys finally got to hitting all together even if it was too late for the play offs.

CASPER COMMENTS—

We can see great prospects for the newest addition to the pitching staff of the Ghosts.

Ghosts hit 9 home runs, 3 of them coming with the bases loaded.

Ghosts scored 57 runs and had only 9 scored against them.

Ghosts would like to get hold of the hat that the Sedgewick team used to make the draw from. It assured the host team of at least second money.

One of the Ghost players may be in the market for a sling shot, provided he can get one that is accurate.

N. N. BENTLEY

V.S.A. Principal Appointed To UNESCO Post, Iraq

N N Bentley, principal of the Vermilion School of Agriculture, has accepted appointment to a UNESCO post of adviser in agricultural education to the government of Iraq.

Mr Bentley has received leave of absence from the Alberta government as requested by the director-general of UNESCO.

This mission is similar to one undertaken by Mr Bentley in 1957 when he went to Egypt. At that time he spent a year in Egypt as an adviser on agricultural education to the Egyptian government under arrangements made with UNESCO.

Iraq has several large agricultural schools and has requested assistance in planning courses of studies, organizing school administration and teacher training.

Upon his return from Egypt, Mr Bentley worked for the federal department of agriculture for four months conducting a survey of agricultural training facilities in the provinces.

Mr Bentley was provincial supervisor of crop improvement for two years before being appointed principal of the Vermilion school in 1945. He is a brother of Dr F L. Bentley, dean of agriculture, University of Alberta.

Mrs. Bentley will accompany him when Mr. Bentley leaves for Baghdad in September. They plan to stop over in Paris for briefing at UNESCO headquarters there.

Legion Holds Service On Decoration Day

Vermilion Branch Canadian Legion held their annual decoration day service last Sunday at the Vermilion cemetery.

The graves of all ex-service personnel buried in the soldiers' plot were decorated with flowers. Wreaths were laid at the cenotaph by Vermilion Branch, the Ladies' Auxiliary and Mrs Geo. Brown.

Piper Donald McLellan played the Lament and Reveille while the flags were lowered and raised again.

Rev. W. A. Caine, past Legion padre, conducted the service.

President Thos. Thompson of Vermilion Branch expressed himself as being pleased with the turnout of ex-service men and women and the general public.

Mr Thompson wishes to thank Capt Kaiser, officer commanding A Coy., for making the pipe band available, also Lieut David Reynolds of the Salvation Army for having his band present to provide music for the service. As usual many residents of the town supplied flowers for decorating the graves.

Thanks of the Branch are also expressed to the pipe band for donating the collection taken up at the park last Sunday in aid to the Polio fund which is sponsored by the Legion.

Tower Completed Test Pattern Soon Lloydminster TV

Channel 2 television soon will become a reality. It was announced this week by CHSA-TV in Lloydminster that the station is expected to provide a test pattern signal within the first week of September. The 605 foot channel 2 tower has been erected and crews are now finalizing the antenna equipment installation.

Regular programming is expected to be in effect by mid-September. CHSA-TV will shortly issue a program schedule covering programs to be seen this fall and winter.

Stay in School, Advises NES

A survey conducted some time ago by the National Employment Service [illegible] said J. F. Garland, manager of the NES, in an interview recently.

On the other hand, the trend towards automation has forced employers to call for more educated [illegible] skills.

Students should complete their [illegible] total urge of their future and the labour market will be unsound.

Derwent Store Contract Awarded

Contract for the construction of a store for the Alberta Liquor Control Board at Derwent has been awarded to the Parkins Construction of Edmonton, according to information received from Ashley Cooper, M.L.A.

Work will commence within ten days, as soon as the company has completed a similar store at Alix. It is expected that it will take two months to complete the new building.

"Flying Canaries" Sing A Sweet Song

The Flying Canaries soft ball team [illegible] sweet tune for the Retarded Children's Association when Mrs Vi Toner presented a cheque on behalf of the team.

The money was raised by a series of raffles held in conjunction with the Tuesday night dances sponsored by the Canaries at the park bandshell. If you aren't a dancer you can still take part in the draws. See Vi at the Boston for details.

The Retarded Children's Association extend their sincere appreciation to the ladies of the Flying Canaries team.

Staff in Vermilion town schools will be increased to thirty-eight teachers for the opening of the fall term on September 1st. There are now 116 teachers in the Vermilion school division. It is interesting to note that it is proposed to operate only four one-roomed rural school houses in the division this coming year, and one of these still lacks a teacher.

There will be twenty operating schools in the Vermilion School Division. This can be contrasted with, for example, the Two Hills S. D. where seven schools, all located along Highway 45, take care of the education of the young people, and in Vegreville S. D. where centralizations operate at eight points.

11 NEW TEACHERS

The town of Vermilion staff includes eleven new teachers this term. Three of these are in the high school, two in the junior high, four at the elementary school level, and one newcomer on the primary staff. Another [illegible] Mr. E Waterfield [illegible] Miss Brassington [illegible] staff.

New teachers on the town staff include Mrs M Bagnley [illegible] She has been at Islay [illegible] and has taught in the division for some time.

Two Miss Williams sisters came to Vermilion from Lloydminster. Miss Miriam Williams has been teaching at Tulliby Lake and takes charge of a grade four class. Miss Ruth Williams is a grade five teacher. Also new in the elementary school is Miss F. Swean whose home is Rivercourse, grade 6 and Mrs Freeman French, a well-known former teacher who will return to the classroom in charge of a grade 5. There is one appointment to make in grade six to complete the staff.

JUNIOR HIGH

Junior high school sees three newcomers and one teacher moved up from grade 6. Mrs M Klashinsky will teach in grade 9 this year. Mr Fred Krause, son of Mr and Mrs. William Krause, comes back to Vermilion and has been appointed to grade 7. Miss M Brake of Clandonald grade 8. Miss Sheila Purvis of Islay grade 9.

HIGH SCHOOL

Of the eleven teachers in the high school, three are new to the staff, with Miss M. Watt being moved up from the junior high.

Mr R R. Mathison, a young man with the degrees of B. Ed. and B.Sc. in Agriculture, has eight years previous experience, part of it at Lloydminster.

Mr W. J. Averman comes from Pender, Nebraska, is an experienced teacher with the degree of B.A. in Education.

Field Crops Plots at Agricultural School Effective for Teaching

Travellers along Highway 16 as well as visitors at the Vermilion School of Agriculture frequently express interest in the purposes served by the neat rod-row plots of various field crops to be seen each summer just west of the school buildings. The common assumption is that they are similar to those seen in fields at the University or at the Dominion Government Experimental Stations. Actually although they do have some things in common with crop plots elsewhere, the field crops and, indeed the tree and shrub nurseries as well as the extensive grounds and gardens serve a unique purpose at the School of Agriculture where their primary use is related to the teaching of Vocational Agriculture.

The Plant Sciences form one of the major subject-matter divisions in any study of farming. Effective teaching of these subjects is dependent on a wealth of illustrative material for classroom exercises. Because training courses in Agriculture are typically conducted through the winter months when field operations and crop growth are necessarily suspended, instructors must give special attention to collecting and storing materials for class studies. Consequently they place considerable emphasis on growing a wide selection of types and kinds of crops under a variety of conditions so that illustrative materials can be on hand when needed for winter classes.

Coloured slide pictures of crops, tillage operations and cropping practices are also very useful for [illegible] samples and [illegible]

New Robinson Stores Officially Opened by Mayor

The new Robinson Stores was officially launched on its business career in Vermilion on Thursday morning last when Mayor Melvin Hill cut the ribbon signalizing that the doors were opened for customers. The ribbon cutting was followed by a rush of people who quickly filled the big and attractive store. Shown with Mayor Hill are Mr and Mrs. John Borsum, who came to Vermilion from Vegreville. Mr Borsum owns and manages the store. —Standard Staff Photo.

Accident Traps in your Home

The greatest source of accidents is the place where people feel most secure: the home. Yet a safety program which takes five to ten hours a year can help cut down the flood of accidents that happen needlessly in our homes annually, reports the September issue of Reader's Digest. Most of them need never happen at all. They are the results either of carelessness or of failure to eliminate hazards.

Home owners should check their houses and habits periodically for accident traps. As we install more and more appliances, a good start would be to check the wiring system for overload and frayed wires. Bedrooms should have lights in convenient spots and floors should be free of toys. In the bathroom, all dangerous [illegible] should be out of reach of children. Rubber mats placed in bathtubs prevent slipping. Basements should be well lighted, and tools locked up.

Along with failure to take the simplest precautions goes an equally amazing lack of common sense in handling injuries. Many victims of home accidents suffer needless pain and disability because no one on the scene knows what kind of help to give. Since all accidents cannot be prevented, people should be familiar with first aid. You may find the 20-page first-aid manual in this month's Digest a valuable booklet to have in your home for easy reference.

Castro's Brain

The man behind Cuba's dangerous flirtation with Communism has an openly avowed goal: to make all Latin America Red. The September Reader's Digest says Major Ernest Guevara, now director of the National Bank of Cuba, is really Castro's "brain."

Guevara, a native of Argentina, has no particular loyalty to Cuba. He is a dedicated Communist whose first goal is the total communization of Cuba under a Soviet type of government. Within another year, he has said, no important industry or property will remain privately owned. When the government decides to take over a property, the police simply evict the owner, offer him a small sum for it, and the property becomes the legal possession of the Castro government.

Moscow is delighted with the way Guevara is wrecking political and economic ties with the United States. Under a trade treaty which he negotiated with Soviet Deputy Premier Mikoyan, Cuba is to receive the equivalent of 100 million dollars to buy machinery from Communist countries. Russia has also agreed to buy one million tons of sugar in each of the next five years.

Guevara recently wrote a book, "The War of the Guerillas," and it is similar to Mein Kampf in which Hitler forecast his moves to dominate Europe. In his book Guevara outlines his aims and plans. All ties between North and Latin America are to be severed. Another iron curtain is to be created, and the southern countries are to follow Cuba's example and adopt "truly democratic principles."

[illegible]

It happens that I have quite a few friends who are in the general store business in small towns, so some of the illusions I had about storekeepers have been dispelled.

When I was a boy I envied Mr Cochrane who owned the big general store in [illegible]. I thought his life was perfect. Any time he wished, he could have a chocolate bar or he could slice delicious slivers from the huge round cheese always on the counter. All day long people came in and gave him money for groceries or else brought eggs and butter from the farms trading them for manufactured or processed goods from his shelves.

His store was a wonderful place. He used to pay me $1 per week to deliver groceries after school and to help out behind the counter. I would have worked for free — the place always smelled so nice and he had given me the freedom of the candy case. He almost wished he hadn't because I came close to disproving his theory that boys soon tire of chocolates if they can have all they [illegible], and I got to meet all the people who came in to shop and chat.

And I was taken into the secret about those markings on the goods. If you knew the signs, you could tell what markup had been added to what the groceries cost in the first place. In some cases it was quite high, and I was sure that Mr Cochrane was coining millions of dollars.

Alas and alackaday, storekeeping, when you get to know the details, isn't an easy road to riches. Markup is a long way from being profit and those groceries don't get on the shelves by themselves. Profits range from two cents to four cents on the dollar of sales and a few unpaid accounts or unhappy purchases can turn these slim profits into fat losses. And when my friends have a bad month no one comes to help them with deficiency payments, disaster funds, or anything else. They are on their own. The only time anyone from the government shows an interest in them is at income tax time, or to make sure they are paying proper wages and giving honest weight.

So my illusions are dispelled, and yet I think I'd like to be a storekeeper. Dreams die hard!

NEWS from ISLAY

FIRST NEW WHEAT

The first load of wheat of the 1960 crop, Garnet variety, was delivered to the Alberta Wheat Pool elevator on Aug. 17, combined that day, by Mrs. Lenore Dugall, taken from her crop on the Percy Gelby farm one mile west and one mile north of Islay.

A very happy picnic supper followed by a shower in honor of Miss Eva Brassington and Mr Art Waterfield, whose marriage took place Tuesday at Paradise Valley, was enjoyed by almost one hundred people at Kenilworth on Sunday. The gifts were many, varied, useful and lovely, drawn in on a wagon by Masters McFadyen and Budzilka. After opening the gifts both Art and Eva replied fittingly.

Last Tuesday, Aug 16th a shower was held in Islay church hall in honor of Miss Dorothy Axley who was married on Friday Aug 19th to Mr Robert Sheppard of Kitscoty. The young couple left after their wedding for a honeymoon trip to Banff. For the shower the hall had been suitably decorated with the guests of honor sitting under an arbor of vines and flowers. Two contests were enjoyed, then the gifts were brought in, one cealed in a large wedding cake which was both pretty and novel. Dorothy was really surprised as she thought they were coming to the church to plan the decoration for the wedding. A lunch was served and enjoyed by about seventy-five people. Dorothy thanked all very nicely for the very lovely gifts and many had matched the dishes she is collecting.

Church service on Aug 28 at 9:30 a.m. Mr Eric Snider will be in charge. Beginning Sept 4th and all that month service is at 11:30 a.m. All are welcome.

Noticed Mr. I. D. Inman driving into town with a 36-passenger school bus.

Mr Price-Jones who has been to Wales, returned home, so Mr. and Mrs. King and family went to Edmonton to see Grandpa.

Mr and Mrs. Ev Inman and Gerald and Mr I. D. Inman were in Edmonton on Monday.

Mr and Mrs. Bill Shaw, Mrs. Tuskey and Marion were in Edmonton Monday also.

The annual chicken supper is set for Oct. 10th.

Mr and Mrs. Gordon Edwards were callers in and around Islay on Sunday. They spent the night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Martin. Gordon was the druggist here about twenty years ago.

[illegible]

Dear Editor:

I would like to make a suggestion to the Vermilion Fair board through your newspaper.

This year our family attended the fair and on the first day we left the grounds for supper when a rain shower came up. When returning later we were stopped by the attendant for the admission fee. We were informed we could not re-enter as we had not left our license number with an attendant before leaving. We knew nothing of this plan and so I suggest that there should have been a poster put up on the building to inform everyone of the rule.

For future years this could be done or else have tags or stickers put on each car wishing to enter. I believe a regular system of this kind would help strangers and local people alike when going to the fair.

GREEN TOMATO RECIPES:

Many cookbooks do not offer more than one or two recipes using green tomatoes. If you have a supply and are low on recipes for using them, why not use some of them up in green tomato marmalade. All you require besides the tomatoes are some lemons and sugar or honey for sweetening. Green tomato relish is an ever popular addition to a menu course.

If your family likes mincemeat, they'll like green tomato mincemeat. For recipes, phone 51, call in or write to this office for "Green Tomato Recipes."

JARS OF JELLY:

Last year about this time I listed some of the causes of poor jelly. Here are some of those causes.

(Repeated) Over-ripe fruit may result in a soft jelly. It lacks pectin. If the fruit is the source of pectin, it is best to use some fruit which is underripe. The peel, core and seeds often contain pectin. For this reason the fruit should not be peeled or cored when cooking for jelly.

Jelly may soften is boiling is too slow. Pectin is being destroyed rather than developed. Slow boiling may also cause the jelly to darken.

Jelly is tough or stringy because too small a quanity of sugar was used or because jelly was boiled too long.

LOCAL 4-H'ers WIN TRIPS

Very good news was learned recently about some 4-H members from this district. Linda Stepenoff, Paradise Valley, competed at provincial competitions in the Garden Club project. She won an all expense paid trip to Toronto to the Royal Winter Fair in November. Alternate winner for the Toronto trip in the Garden Project is Ellen Teasdale, also of Paradise Valley. A winner in the Food Project was Diane Speight of Cadogan. She too will receive a trip to Toronto. Congratulations girls!.

GARDEN CLUB ACHIEVEMENT DAYS

Dates have been set for these important occasions in the lives of 4-H'ers. The Achievement Day dates for Metiskow is Sept. 6th., for Paradise Valley Sept 7th. Both are evening programs starting at 8.00 o'clock p.m., being held in the hall and school respectively. Don't miss an opportunity to see the canning, freezing, fresh vegetables and flower arrangements taken from the members' own gardens.

Everyone is welcome.

CHEMICAL FOR CHICKWEED CONTROL

Silvex, a new chemical on the market is recommended for the control of both chickweed and white Dutch clover in lawns. It will do a good job in removing undesirable growth if used according to directions.

The Soil and Weed Division of the Alberta Department of Agriculture however warn that this herbicide will damage flowers, vegetables, shrubs and trees if the spray or drift from the spray comes in contact with them. After the lawn has been treated areas which were predominately chickweed or white Dutch clover with very little grass stand may have to be reseeded.

Silvex is sold under the trade names of Kuron, Chickweed Clover Killer, etc. Most seed houses and large retail stores have supplies of this chemical on hand.

SEPARATOR CARE

If you want top grade cream take care of your separator advises R. P. Dixon, Supervisor of Dairy Cattle Improvement with the Alberta Department of Agriculture.

"Special" grade cream will be ensured if the milk is separated in a clean separator and properly cooled. A dirty separator will cause the cream to be contaminated by bacteria and the grades will be lower.

Rinse the separator with cool water immediately after separating, then dismantle and scrub with a brush using hot water and cleaning solution. Rinse all parts in boiling water and place them on a rack to dry. [illegible] the next separation, using 100 parts per [illegible] chlorine solution.

PLAN CREDIT NEEDS WITH CARE

Prepare a carefully thought-out written statement of your present financial position before approaching your bank manager for a loan. Farmers who follow this rule will usually come away satisfied whereas the man who simply demands a thousand dollars on the spot is likely to be disappointed.

It is only good business, says Alberta's Extension Economist, C. H. Ferries, to prepare a financial statement showing why and when the loan will be needed, the amount required and how and when it will be repaid. Remember that the accrued interest on the loan will be less if the money is borrowed in portions. The full loan should be arranged but the money borrowed bit by bit as needed.

Many farmers find it advantageous to secure a short term loan to finance expenses incurred at harvest time or by the purchase of feeder stock. This type of loan, which has to be repaid within the year, should be arranged before it becomes necessary to sell livestock, paper securities or other long term investments.

The best time to kill Sow Thistle and Canada Thistle is in the fall. One or two cultivations of stubbled land after harvest is a sure way to [illegible] patches of thistle. LENDING SYSTEM

So precious are the CARE agricultural tool packages given to Uminh, Vietnam, the people of the village set up a lending system. A man can borrow only one tool at a time, must return it to the village warehouse before he can borrow another. CARE donors in Canada contributed the cost of the implements, which are helping 1800 North Vietnamese refugees start a new community on the edge of the jungle, about 115 miles southwest of Saigon.

Clandonald Church Is Scene Of Charming August Wedding

St. Columbus Church, Clandonald was the scene of a charming wedding on Saturday, August 6, when Miss Elenor Marie, the youngest daughter of Mr. Charles B. Skrenkowich and the late Mrs. Skrenkowich of Ethelwyn district, became the bride of Douglas Maddex, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Maddex of Greenlawn.

Rev. Father A. Hensel performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. Mike Skrenkowich, looked radiant in an exquisite floor-length gown of white Chantilly lace and nylon net over satin. The bodice was of lace with scalloped neckline ornamented with rhinestones and pearls. It had long lily point sleeves. The bouffant skirt fell from the waist at the back in tiers of lace and net, while the front of the gown was fashioned of lace in apron effect. Her chapel veil, of French illusion edged with lace and bordered by groups of rhinestones and pearls, was held in place by a tulle tiara trimmed with rhinestones and pearls. She carried a beautiful bouquet of red roses.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Pauline Skrenkowich, Miss Mary Ann Grant and Miss Kay Rainey who wore charming dresses of lace and net in mauve, yellow and blue, respectively. They wore matching headdresses and carried sprays of roses in yellow, blue and pink.

The two dainty flower girls were nieces of the bride, Miss Sheila Hill and Miss Geraldine Topelka, and wore similar frocks of blue and pink flocked nylon. They had wreaths of roses in matching colors and carried baskets of roses.

The groom was attended by his brother, Ted, Mr. Bruce Brock and Mr. Elmer Jones.

A wedding reception for over two hundred guests was held later in St. Pat's hall.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Fr. Hensel and very capably responded to by the groom. A toast to the bridesmaids was proposed by Mr Bruce Brock.

The couple will reside in the Greenlawn district.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM MAYOWSKI JR.

United Church Is Setting For Mayowski-Harrison Nuptials

On Wednesday, July 6, peonies and snapdragons banked the altar of the First United church, Vermilion, uniting in marriage Miss Donna Rae Harrison, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Harrison and William Mayowski, Jr., youngest son of Mr and Mrs. William Mayowski, all of Vermilion.

Rev. Andrews of Mannville conducted the double-ring ceremony in mid-afternoon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over ruffled net and satin. The fitted bodice was styled with a Sabrina neckline edged with iridescent sequins and pearls, and with lily point sleeves. Her fingertip veil of lace-edged net was caught to a tiara of sequins and pearls. Her only jewelry were black Alaska diamond earrings, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Preceding the bride up the church aisle were Mrs. Marion Mayowski and Mrs. Patricia Woods, matrons of honor, and Miss Rose Marie Godziuk and Miss Sharry Lee Engelking, who were flower girls.

The matrons of honor wore identical waltz-length dresses of blue lace net over taffeta and matched headpieces. They carried nosegays of pink carnations.

The flower girls wore identical short dresses of pink flocked nylon, with matching headpieces, and carried white baskets of pink roses.

Attending the groom were Mr Walter Mayowski and Mr Neil Harrison. Ushers were Mr Mike Mayowski and Mr Lloyd Engelking.

Mrs. Albert West, playing the organ, accompanied the soloist, Mr Johnny Webb.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Harrison wore a turquoise jersey sheath with white accessories and corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Mayowski, the groom's mother, wore a beige dress with white accessories and corsage of pink roses.

At a reception for one hundred and fifty guests in the church hall Rev Andrews was master of ceremonies and Mr Tom Fenton proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom ably responded. A wedding dance followed in the Elks hall.

For a honeymoon trip to Vancouver the bride chose a blue grey print sheath with matching blue accessories and corsage of pink roses.

Out-of-town guests included Mr and Mrs. P. J. McGaughey and girls and Mrs. Ed Wilson all of Victoria, B.C.; Mr. G. Shonenberger and boys, Fort St John, B.C.; Mr and Mrs. Stewart Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. Art Harrison all of Edmonton; Mr and Mrs. Jim Woods of Marshall, Sask., and Mr. and Mrs. Lohse, Camar.

Wildmere Winks

After hot days, and cool, cool nights, which was perfect harvest weather a heavy rain came on Monday night so everything will be held up for a week.

There aren't many news items as everyone seems busy canning and getting things lined up for children to return to school on September 1st.

[illegible] Garnett spent a few days off duty from the Royal Alex at the home of her parents Mr and Mrs. W. J. Garnett.

Mrs Bill Smith returned home Thursday from a holiday at Vancouver. She was accompanied by her sister and nephew.

Mr and Mrs. Ken Shepherd were down from the city.

At the Gibson home on Sunday to celebrate Isabelle's birthday were Mr and Mrs. Waldon Westman and family, and Mr and Mrs. Herb Hemmingway and family.

Bertie Fadden did some combining for Lloyd Howard.

OBITUARY

GERTRUDE JESSIE RYAN

Gertrude Jessie Ryan passed away in Montreal on July 6th, 1960. The beloved wife of the late Dr. George H. W. Ryan of Vermilion, Alberta, and dear mother of Janet E. Ryan of Montreal. Services were held in the United church, St. Andrews East, Quebec, on July 8, at 2:30 p.m.

APPRECIATION

We wish to express our sincere thanks for the help and generous donations received during and following the loss of our barn and contents by fire. Such kindness is deeply appreciated.

Wyn and Ivan McInnes.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our son and brother
KENNETH DAVID DIBBEN
who passed away Aug. 22, 1955.

"I cannot say, and I will not say
That he is dead, — He is just away'
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand,
He has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since he lingers there.
And you — O you, who the wildest yearn
For the old-time step and the glad return
Think of him faring on, as dear
In the love of There as the love of Here.
Think of him still as the same, I say:
He is not dead — He is just away'

Always remembered and sadly missed by Mummy, Daddy and the family.

600% RETURN ON AID

A $200 CARE investment in watermelon seed yielded a 600% return in benefits for fifty farmers and their families in Komak, Ri, a refugee village 25 miles northwest of Seoul, Korea. With funds donated by Canadians, CARE bought the seed in the spring of 1959 so that the farmers could vary their crops and increase their income. Result: they sold some 18,000 watermelons, netted $1200, which they used this spring to buy more watermelon seed, plus apple and peach trees to start fruit orchards.

Father Officiates At Son's Wedding

Kitscoty United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding recently when Margaret Rose Miles, youngest daughter of Mrs. P. Miles became the bride of Robert Wayne Shortt, eldest son of Rev. and Mrs. [illegible] Shortt, all of Kitscoty.

Rev. James Shortt [illegible] at the marriage with the Rev. Dr Robert Magowan, great uncle of the groom, assisting.

The church was decorated with bouquets of pink and white peonies and stalks of blue delphinium for the double ring ceremony. Large white bows centered with peonies marked the guest pews.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her brother-in-law, Mr. Russell Sutton. She looked radiant in a floor length gown of nylon lace and net over taffeta, featuring a sabrina neckline and lily-point sleeves. The skirt had a floor-length apron of lace with layers of pleated net and lace down the back. Bodice and front skirt were sprinkled with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. A crown of small pearls and net held her finger-tip veil in place. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink sweetheart roses with ribbon streamers tipped with roses.

The bride was attended by her sister Mrs. [illegible] Sutton, as matron of honor, Miss Thelma Evans and Miss Lynell Shortt, sister of the groom, were the bridesmaids. They wore [illegible] gowns of turquoise, yellow and shrimp respectively. Each wore a bandeau to match her [illegible] and carried a basket of white and yellow [illegible]. Little Miss Donna McLean, as flower-girl, wore a short white frock of [illegible] lace. Her headpiece was [illegible] of white flowers, and she carried a miniature basket of white and [illegible] shasta daisies.

Attending the groom were his brother Mr Lyle Shortt, Mr Eric Snider and Mr Ronald Tipper. [illegible] were Mr Robert Manners, cousin of the bride and Mr Gerald Ferris.

Mr. Wes Kruger as soloist sang "A Wedding Prayer" and "O Perfect Love." Organist was Mrs. Elsie Batty.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs Miles chose a sheath dress of turquoise brocaded taffeta complemented with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Shortt wore a blue arnel gown with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

For a reception of 120 people the hall was decorated with white and pink streamers and bells. The bridal table was centered with a three tier wedding cake flanked by white and pink tapers. Mr Spencer Pidcock proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom ably responded. A telegram from Toronto was read and Mr Kruger entertained with a solo "God Gave Me You." Mrs. Isabelle Martell, sister of the bride wore a teal blue fitted suit with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses for going away. CLAYSMORE CLIPPINGS

The sympathy of the people of this district goes out to the Horricks family in the tragic death of their father in Mannville on August 19th.

The heavy rain on Monday night and Tuesday stopped the threshing operations for several days. Several farmers had started to swath early crops.

Mr. and Mrs. Fenton McHardy and family of Edmonton spent the week end visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman McHardy and Mr and Mrs. Henry Haverslew.

Mr and Mrs. Lloyd McCrea and daughter Betty of Calgary visited relatives hereabouts over the week-end and were guests at the wedding of Miss Jean West on August 20th.

Sunday evening supper guests at the Allan Olstad home were Mr and Mrs. Tim Nelson and Richard of Vermilion, and Mr Glen Nelson and friend from Bowness.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Willis and family are spending part of their holidays visiting relatives in the Claysmore district.

Mr. Roy Stebner of Ponoka spent a couple of days last week visiting his son Richard and family.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Ward have returned from their holidays.

Last Thursday evening supper guests at the Olstad home were Mr. and Mrs. Vic Karlstrom and boys from Meeting Creek, and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Karlstrom of Wetaskiwin.

LOCAL NEWS

Lt./Commander Bert Mead, RCN of Dartmouth, N.S. motored to Vermilion early in August to join his wife and their four children, who had been here from July. While here they were guests at the home of Bert's mother, Mrs. A. Mead, visiting also other branches of the family and Mrs. Bert Mead's father, Mr. F. J. Richardson. A leisurely trip was planned on the homeward journey to the east coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Tough returned from a three weeks' tour during which time they visited Las Vegas, Reno, Los Angeles, and made a trip into Mexico. At Las Vegas they were enabled to see a multitude of movie stars who were attending the world premiere of the picture "Oceans Eleven." They travelled in all some 4800 miles.

Mr and Mrs. Tom Stack, daughters Donna and Marjorie, and three of the latter's high school friends from Redwater, were all visitors in Vermilion at the week-end. Miss Donna Stack graduates this fall with her R.N. degree from the University hospital, and intends to go on regular staff at that institution.

Dene Cooper is spending this week at Redwater at the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stack.

Leona Mathison, Gerald Fulton Wed at Dewberry

The United church in Dewberry decorated with peonies and gladioli was the scene of a beautiful double-ring ceremony when the Rev. Shortt united in marriage Miss Leona Fay Mathison and Gerald Wesley Fulton.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs. Harold Mathison of Dewberry and the groom is the son of Mr and Mrs H. G. Fulton of Bright, Ontario.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of nylon and acetate lace over taffeta, designed with sequins, pearl-trimmed bodice and lily point sleeves. A nylon tulle waist-length veil was held in place by a coronet of sequins and pearls, she carried a cascade of red rosebuds, lily of the valley, and fern. Attending her were her sisters, Miss Marjorie Mathison who wore a waltz-length gown of blue nylon tulle over taffeta with head band to match and carrying a nosegay of pink carnations, lily of the valley and fern, and Miss Dorothy Mathison, who wore a waltz-length dress of yellow lace over taffeta with matching head band and also carried a nosegay of pink carnations, lily of the valley and fern. The little flower girl, Beverly Honey looked charming in a pink embossed nylon dress and carried a nosegay of pink, yellow and white carnations, lily of the valley and fern.

Attending the groom were Mr Bruce Wilcox and Mr Gary Fulton, brother of the groom. Bruce Brock and Ted Maddex acted as ushers.

Miss Cheryl Jones was organist and during the signing of the register Mrs. Iris Hudson entertained by a solo, "The Wedding Prayer".

Mrs Mathison, mother of the bride received in a poplin dress of beige linen with pink accessories and pink corsage of baby roses. The groom's mother was dressed in a two-piece blue lace with white accessories and accented by a corsage of red roses.

Following the church ceremony, a reception was held in the Greenlawn Community hall which was beautifully decorated with pink and white streamers, peonies and gladioli. About one hundred and fifty relatives and guests attended the reception which moved along smoothly under the guidance of Mr. Cecil Grant who acted as master of ceremonies. The head table was centred with a three tiered wedding cake banked in tulle and trimmed with rose buds. Mrs. Walter Jones is to be complimented on the splendid way in which the cake was decorated. The groom made a very suitable reply to a toast proposed to the bride by the toastmaster, Allen Anderson. Greenlawn Goodwill club catered to the reception.

After the ceremony open house was held at the home of the bride's parents where coffee and cake was served to all whom wished to avail themselves of the opportunity.

[illegible] later enjoyed themselves at a dance held in Greenlawn hall. Music for the dance was supplied by the Melody [illegible] orchestra. At lunch hour [illegible] Green entertained the [illegible] with several selections on the flute accompanied by [illegible] Jones.

For going away the bride chose [illegible] over taffeta [illegible] coat and [illegible] rose buds. The [illegible] reside on the [illegible] Dewberry district and the bride will be employed [illegible] staff of Dewberry school. The whole community wishes the best of everything for the young couple in the years to come.

[illegible] guests at the wedding were Mr and Mrs H. [illegible] Marie, Gary, Mona and Wayne, Bright, Ont; Mr and Mrs [illegible] Shortt, Kitscoty; Mr M. [illegible] Lindberg; Mrs. Bob [illegible] Keith and Kelly, Calgary; Mr Melvin Brown, Blackie, Alta; Mrs Thompson, Jardine, [illegible] Albert; Mr and Mrs Geo [illegible] Edmonton; Miss Carolyn [illegible] Hinton; Mr and Mrs John [illegible]; Mr and Mrs Jack Courtney; Mr and Mrs Roy Hart, all of Riverhurst, Sask; Mrs. Wm. Thompson and Miss Lyn Greenwood, Vancouver; Mr and Mrs. Vincent Conlon, Mr and Mrs. Randalph Matheson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Glowitski, all of Edmonton; Miss Ann Hagen, Clandonald, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Anderson and Inez Dorothy Roberts, Mr and Mrs. Fred Maddex, Mr and Mrs. Graham Skinner, all of Vermilion; Mr and Mrs. Cliff Hamilton, Wainwright; Mr Lee Green, [illegible] Kay Hillaby, John Doull, Jr., Mr F Kumalo, Marwayne.

Jack Herrick Passes Away at Minburn

300 Take Part In Learn To Swim Classes at Park

The final phase of the 1960 "Learn-to-Swim" campaign sponsored by the Vermilion Recreation Commission was completed on Aug. 15th with Mac Fenton conducting swimming examinations for those participating in the five-week course. Previously, two-week courses were completed on July 15 and July 30. Approximately 300 children and adults from Vermilion, Mannville, Buffalo Coulee, Derwent, Clandonald and Islay participated in the successful program. This was an increase of over two hundred per cent from the previous summer.

Successful candidates active in the swim program were:

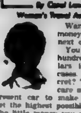
Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority



Want to save money on your next car?

You can ... hundreds of dollars in some cases. The secret? Take good care of your present car to make sure you get the highest possible trade-in. The little money you spend now will be made up many times over when you trade it in.

Here are some tips on maintaining your car's appearance.

Give it a good waxing at least twice a year. Pay special attention to areas under the doors, to the joint of the door and fender, seams around the trunk lid, and to the drain lines around the roof. These are the spots where rust is most likely to form. When you're waxing, remember the chrome work.

Have scratches and minor dents repaired immediately and have rust spots touched up before they spread or get deeper.

Protect the upholstery with seat covers. You'd be amazed what a difference good upholstery makes when trade-in time comes.

Rubber floor mats are a good idea too. They prevent wear of the carpeting. Most important spot: in front of the driver's seat. Get the kind with a waffle-weave pattern to catch dirt and pebbles and keep them from being ground into the carpet.

Finally, never neglect lubrication. Your dealer will watch this for you. Good mechanical condition can give trade-in value a real boost.

Derwent District Pioneer Passes Away

On August 16th, Mr. Jacob Wysocki of Derwent passed away at the age of 85 years. He is survived by three sons and two daughters, Walter and William of Derwent, Fred of Vancouver, Mrs. Josie Lota of Bonnyville, Mrs. Katie Jarock of Vermilion. There are 29 grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Saturday, August 20 at 10 a.m. at the Holy Ascension Church, Derwent. Rev. Father J. Cherkowsky officiated and interment took place in the church cemetery.

Five Youngsters Steal Hearts in Vermilion Fair Parade

It was all their own idea. The five enterprising and kind-hearted children pictured above conceived and carried out their plans to assist the Vermilion Retarded Children's school by entering the big fair parade and taking up a collection on the school's behalf. It is acts like these that certainly lighten the hearts of those connected with the Retarded Children's Assoc. in their efforts to provide the rights of education for the mentally retarded.

News from Heinsberg

There is much excitement around here at the moment as a survey crew are locating a place to build the long wished for bridge. Where it will finally be built is any one's guess.

Norman Howarth, the postmaster and Gail his little girl have been visiting in the Beaverlodge district, and have now returned home.

Tom Crook from Wainwright was a visitor at the home of his sister Mrs. O. Vinge during the week-end.

Mr and Mrs. Colpitts visited at the home of Mrs H. Jenner last week. Mrs Colpitts left this district several years ago when she was teaching at Frog Lake school and this is her first visit back since that time 29 years ago.

Mr Glad Horton had a bad fall a week ago from a horse and was in the Elk Point hospital for awhile but is home again now.

Mr J. A. Jones of this community is visiting in Ontario at Park Hill and says that the weather has been very hot there. They have also had bad hail storms which damaged the tobacco crop and corn. He plans to be back before school commences.

The old pump house of the C.N.R. is going to be occupied again when one of the Roman church boys and his wife will move in.

Mr and Mrs Mike Chirrilas and family are visiting at the parental home Mrs. Walter [illegible]. Mike will help with the harvesting if it's ready.

Many Canadians first got telephone service when country doctors built small systems so local people could summon medical help. Several hundred of the small systems still exist, some still known by the names of the doctors who installed them.

School Book Clearing House

A School Book clearing house will be operated at Clendenning's Family Wear for the convenience of people until the middle of September.

This is a service not already offered in town. It will be operated without profit or obligation on the part of the store.

It is suggested that people bring their books into the store with the suggested prices expected for them, and when sold the the money will be paid to them.

At the end of the operation any unsold books will be returned to the owners.

Books will be taken on a cash basis, whether the purchaser has books to exchange or not.

Return From Overseas

Mr and Mrs. K. E. Rowe have returned to their home in Vermilion following a three months holiday in England and Scotland.

Mr and Mrs. Rowe sailed from Montreal on the "Empress of England" and on landing sailed up the Clyde river into Greenoch Scotland. The landing was quite thrilling as the boat was met by a highland pipe band in full regalia playing a welcome to Scotland. Daughter Norma and husband who are presently living at Prestwick, Scotland, were also on the dock to greet them and so completed a very happy landing.

The first month was spent in Glasgow, Scotland and many tours were enjoyed out from that city. June was spent in England and Ken made a trip to the Vauxhall car plant at Bristol and from that time on drove a Vauxhall touring the south coast of England through Kent and Surrey. A few days visit was spent with Dorothy Bailey for mer health nurse in Vermilion who now lives in Bristol. Considerable time was spent in Ken's old home area south of London.

They planned to return from Liverpool but the sailing of their ship was cancelled due to the dock strike. After a few days delay they sailed from Southampton aboard the Italian ship "Italia." Landing at Quebec they doubled back by train to Truro N.S. where they spent two weeks with daughter Betty, her husband and family. Much of the time was spent at their summer cottage on the sea coast at Pictou.

Novak Family Leave For Cold Lake

Mr and Mrs. Wm. Novak and family left this week for their new home at the Cold Lake R.C.A.F. base where Mr Novak will be assistant high school principal. Their many friends here regret to see them leave Vermilion, where they have taken an active part in community life.

Mr Novak, assistant principal of the high school here, resigned prior to the end of June to accept his new post.

WOO THE WOMEN DRIVER

Memo to car salesmen and service station operators in The Financial Post: It could be profitable to pay more attention to the ladies. Here's why. A just completed cross-Canada survey of Chatelaine Magazine's consumer council turns up the interesting fact that 67.1% of women drive the family car: 84.7 per cent for shopping, 20.2 per cent to go to work and 23.4 per cent driving children to school. The survey also shows that 15.5 per cent personally own a car, that 48.6 per cent buy gas and oil, 19.8 have the car serviced and 5 per cent buy new batteries, tires and accessories. Nearly 25 per cent use a credit card.

What is a woman's influence on buying a new car? It varies, according to the survey from 1 per cent who said they had 100 per cent influence to 27.2 per cent who had final the say.

The 'Little Lady' may not always be right, but business should listen to what she has to say.

Sunday At The Alliance Chapel

Morning service Sunday, August 21st was taken by Albert Mix, in the absence of Pastor Schroeder on vacation.

Special speaker in the evening service was Rev. Geo. Francisco, of the Fellowship Baptist Church, Edmonton, who took as his subject "Bible Facts."

Musical numbers included a vocal solo by Mrs. Geo. Francisco "The song of a Soul Set Free." A vocal duet by Mr and Mrs Robt. Tilsbury "God's way is the best way" and a solo by Mrs. Tilsbury "In Times Like These."

In addition to those mentioned above, visitors to town in the audience were, Mrs. H. C. Gates; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mix of Edmonton and Mr and Mrs. E. J. Dyck and family of Carman, Man.

The congregational picnic of the Alliance Chapel will be held on the grounds of the School of Agriculture, Wednesday, August 31st, at 1:30 p.m.

Beautiful Display Of Blooms At Mannville Flower Show

MANNVILLE. — A large and enthusiastic crowd attended the annual flower show in McQueen Memorial United church social rooms on Thursday, Aug. 18 [illegible] a goodly sum was realized from the tea held in conjunction with it. Many new names were noted among the over one hundred entries and thirty-nine prizes were awarded in the various classes. Deserving special mention, and very outstanding, was the single spike of white gladiolus, entered by Mrs. Lucy Kufeldt of Minburn, which was a symbol of purity in itself. Coming in for much admiration and attention was a first prize winning single stalk of hollyhock of the double variety, entered by Ralph Daw, and claimed to be the finest bloom of its kind seen this year.

Civil Service Makes Generous Donations

Mr G. S. Audley, Secretary of the Alberta Civil Service Welfare Fund committee, has announced a list of donations made to various charitable organizations throughout the province.

This fund is maintained by monthly deductions from the salaries of all government employees and the majority of the fund is donated to worthwhile charitable organizations. A percentage is retained for the alleviation of distress in welfare cases among government employees.

The following donations were made: Lethbridge Community Chest $1,320; Olds and District Community Chest $300; Salvation Army $300; Canadian Foundation for Poliomyelitis and Rehabilitation $1,500; Boyndale Camp $500; Edmonton Rehabilitation Society $250; The St John Ambulance $750.

The Welfare Fund committee annually receives many requests for contributions and no request is turned down without investigation. The fund has contributed some $900,000 to individuals and welfare organizations since its inception in 1941.

Mannville Locals

Mannville was saddened and shocked Friday at the sudden accident which claimed the life of a respected farmer, Joe Horricks, and deepest sympathy is extended to the family.

Mr and Mrs Damon Walters from Windsor, Ont. paid a surprise visit to their cousins, Mr and Mrs. Stan Boe of Mannville. Jean has not seen her relatives in some time.

Mrs Alex Ross has had her twin sister visiting with her from Ontario and while here both celebrated their birthdays on Aug. 19th, being honored by a party at Mrs Ross's son's home Willie.

Misses Judy Gerhart, Dianne Kavanaugh, Donna Majeau, Bonnie Proudfoot, Dianne Whitson and Karen Hubbard report a most enjoyable camping trip at Lake Wapasu near Innisfree.

Mr and Mrs. Stan Boe spent the weekend at Barrhead at the home of Jean's parents.

Miss Lorraine White of North Battleford is a guest at the home of her aunt Miss Jean Allanach.

Miss Norma Cursid has returned home following a wonderful tour and course in the W.R.E.N.S. Canada's Reserve Navy.

Mannville's Main Street is being torn up prior to paving same.

Death and Funeral Of Arthur Bonner at Paradise Valley

The Paradise Valley district was shocked by the sudden death of Arthur Samuel Bonner, on Sunday, July 24. Sam was born at Pheasant Fork, Saskatchewan, on August 5, 1894. He spent his early years in Dauphin, Manitoba and came west to homestead in the Moyerton district in 1908 and farmed there until his death. He married Thelma Warren in 1918 and they raised eight children.

He leaves to mourn their loss, his loving wife, four sons, Lorne at home, Lloyd and Robert in Edmonton and Clayton in Lloydminster, four daughters, Mrs. Gerry Dobbin (Doris) in Edmonton, Mrs. Virgil Phillippe (Verna), Mrs. Vernon Phillippe (Alma) and Mrs. Bill Towndrow (Joyce) of Paradise Valley.

Also five brothers, Henry, William, Stanley, Alec, and Fenimore. Also nineteen grandchildren.

The funeral service was held in the P. V. Community Hall on Wednesday, July 27 at 2:00 p.m. with Mr. E. A. Snider of the Marwayne United Church officiating. The funeral arrangements were made by the McCaw Funeral Service of Lloydminster. Interment was in the P. V. cemetery. Pallbearers were Wm. Davidson, Harold Deaville, Joe Mayo, Wm. Quinn, George Guy, and Collin Ball.

Health Unit Notes

FACTS ABOUT POLIO

Type of Infection:

Polio is a virus disease, which means that the germ causing this infection is much smaller than the usual form of bacteria or germ. In fact it is so small that it cannot be seen with the ordinary microscope. It is recognized however by its particular characteristic behavior to certain laboratory tests, and can be seen with the aid of a special microscope.

Incubation or Penetration Period:

This is the time which elapses between the entrance of the virus into the body and the appearance of the first symptoms. It varies with different epidemics, but is usually between four to ten days.

How Polio Enters the Body:

The polio virus makes its entrance into the body at three different levels—

1. The naso pharynx (the nose and back of throat).

2. The larynx, trachea and upper bronchi (voice box, windpipe and bronchial tubes).

3. The digestive tract (the food passage from the back of the throat to the lower bowel).

Personal contact is a likely means of transmitting the infection. Such means are the spraying of droplets when sneezing, coughing and even talking, by a polio infected person or carrier. It is a recognized fact that the polio virus can be found in the excreta of polio infected persons, and others who are probably carriers.

Parts of the Body Involved:

The intestinal tract, muscles and nervous system may be involved. Headache, sore throat, moderate fever, stomach upset, loose stools, obstinate constipation in a normally regular patient are symptoms that must be viewed with suspicion during an epidemic period. Weakness of a particular group of muscles demands immediate medical care to avoid or limit crippling.

WE DO KNOW that flies carry the polio virus. That the virus is found in infected sewage. That such sewage can contaminate drinking water. That pollution is quite possible under such circumstances at summer camps. That spraying of the nose is an objectionable procedure and is not effective in preventing polio, and therefore is not recommended. That extreme fatigue, uncleanliness such as dirty hands at meals and not washing after bowel functions, chilling from staying in cold water, all predispose to making an individual more susceptible to a polio infection. The active child is more prone to extreme fatigue than the quiet child — therefore the active child is to be watched carefully and fatigue avoided.

Debatable Points:

The polio virus is transmitted probably by direct contact with a case or carrier, droplet borne infection and possibly water, fresh fruits, vegetables and foods contaminated with polio virus. Why so many cases make a complete recovery without any specific treatment. (The natural tendency is for the body to build up protective factors which vary with each individual). Why more boys are affected than girls. (Possibly it is that boys are more active and hence more prone to fatigue). Why most cases occur in the 5 to 14 age group. (Possibly immunity has not built up sufficiently; these are the years of greatest activity).

SUGGESTIONS

1. Get immunized against polio if not already immunized.
2. Avoid contact with known cases of polio.
3. Keep out of crowds during an epidemic.
4. Remember that the active child is most susceptible, if allowed to play to the point of fatigue.
5. Avoid physical fatigue and exhaustion.
6. Do not swim in polluted water.
7. Avoid chilling by staying too long in cold water.
8. Keep hands clean by washing before meals and after going to the toilet.
9. Keep garbage and waste covered so as not to attract flies.
10. Insure proper disposal of human excreta.
11. Protect food from exposure to flies and insects.
12. Wash fresh fruits and raw vegetables before eating.
13. Stay away from persons with nose and throat infections and do not have operations for removal of tonsils and adenoids during the polio season (late summer and autumn).
14. Remember that stomach flu, summer complaint, dysentery or any infection of the bowels may predispose to a polio infection.
15. Be on the alert for symptoms. Any infection during a polio epidemic season should be viewed suspiciously until proven not polio.
16. Call your doctor if suspicious symptoms do occur or when in doubt.
17. Notify your Health Unit medical officer immediately if a case of polio is diagnosed (to be done by your doctor).

Adults need three injections of vaccine to give them protection. The minimum period between the first and second injections is one month and the minimum period between the second and third injections is seven months. A fourth injection may be given four years after the third.

Much credit should be given to the leaders for their [illegible] through the years and [illegible] hard work to attain this high award.

Mr. Roy Stewart returned from Lamont hospital much improved in health. His grandson Dougie Stewart of Edmonton returned with him.

Congratulations to the students and teachers of the Paradise Valley high school on the excellent showing of the [illegible] and twelve examinations.

Massey-Ferguson Limited

MORE HORSEPOWER— LESS MANPOWER... THE KEY TO MORE PROFITABLE FARMING

The basic principle of sound farming economy is getting the maximum amount of work done at the lowest possible cost. The only way this can be accomplished is with modern farm machinery.

Modern farm machinery is designed to do more work in less time at lower cost. More horsepower per man allows you to reap full benefits from today's more productive farming methods by keeping labour costs in line. It also assures you of a reliable work force you can swing into action at a moment's notice. Critical farm operations get done without delay and without depending on the availability of high cost farm labour. Whatever kind of farming you do you can look to Massey-Ferguson for the machines and implements that will do every job faster, more efficiently, and more economically.

Agricultural Building Is Becoming A Reality

Monday, August 1st was a red letter day for both town and district when the sod was turned for the new $212,000.00 Agricultural Building, located on the exhibition grounds, immediately north of the main gates. Operator Bob Snelgrove is shown biting his backhoe into the ground for the first official shovelful. This building will place this area in an enviable spot as to agricultural exhibition facilities, giving it one of the most complete plants in the west.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Meeting Deficits Simple Matter For Alberta Government

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — When other provincial governments and the federal governments have deficits on their operations, it means the treasury has to go on the market and borrow money, thus increasing the public debt.

In Alberta deficits are much easier things to have. When both ends fail to meet, you simply dip into your bank account and out of the millions of dollars therein you draw out enough to make up the difference.

That's what happened in Alberta during the first quarter (April 1 to June 30) of the current fiscal year.

The government had to sign a cheque on its bank account for $2,022,181 to make up a deficit on first quarter operations. Higher expenditures for nearly all departments coupled with a drop in revenue from oil and gas were responsible for the outlay of [illegible].

An interim financial statement released by Provincial Auditor C. K. Huckvale showed revenue from the sale of oil and gas leases dropped by $12,069,336 to $33,518,910 during the first quarter.

This was partially offset by increases in revenue from other sources, notably federal payments under the tax rental agreement and hospital insurance plan.

Mr. Huckvale says the decrease in natural resources revenue is no cause for great concern. Things went pretty much as expected during the three-month period, he says. The drop in oil and gas revenue resulted mainly from a decreased amount of acreage offered for sale.

For the record, here is a breakdown of government financial operations. Cash receipts on income account totalled $81,149,652 compared with $87,956,849 during the same period a year ago for a drop of $6,790,197. Cash payments on income account totalled $73,560,320 as against $62,276,550 last year for an increase of $11,283,770. This left cash surplus on income account of $7,686,331 compared with $25,680,298, down $18,073,966 from last year, capital receipts added $6,084,378 to revenue for the period, compared with $2,714,083 at the same time last year for an increase of $3,370,295. Capital payments totalled $15,712,891 compared with $11,141,050 for an increase of $4,571,841 leaving the net deficit of $2,022,181. The deficit compares with a $17,253,341 surplus on operations at the same time last year.

Delegate Reports To Elks Meeting

MANNVILLE. — At the regular meeting of Mannville B.P.O.E. No. 395, held in the Elks hall, reports of the various committees were presented and accepted. Bro. A. Bedard delegate to the Dominion convention of Elks held this year at Kamloops gave a summary of proceedings. A printed copy of the business would be available to all brothers at a later date. Bro. David Hastroff and Lorne Sengpiel were appointed a committee, with power to add, to arrange for the Christmas banquet.

Princess Anne W. I.

The August meeting of the Princess Anne W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Norman Armstrong with ten members present.

Mrs. Ralph Strome gave each one a study course Group Members' Guide on Canada and World Affairs. The group has chosen this one as their study discussion course.

A sum of money was given to the boys who hauled the wood George Mead so kindly donated.

[illegible] Mead resigned as secretary and Mrs. Norman Armstrong was elected to fill her position until the end of the year.

A social evening was spent and lunch was served by the hostess, and Mrs. Parchewsky and Mrs. Scarfe. Next meeting is to be held at Mrs. Duchak's on Sept. 15th. Roll call — an oddity from your [illegible].

The July meeting of Princess Anne W.I. was held at Mrs. R. Mead's with nine members and one visitor, Mrs. Hanlan, present.

Mrs. Mike Simonet gave a very informative talk on physical therapy. Mrs. R. Mead very ably gave an interesting summary on a few sessions of Farm Women's week at the V.S.A.

Towels given as roll call are to be sent to Unitarian Service by Mrs. M. Simonet.

Lunch was served by the hostess, and Mrs. B. McIntyre and Mrs. Mudryk.

Jean West Feted At Shower

On August 18th Mrs. Norman Armstrong was hostess to a Princess Anne W.I. shower for Miss Jean West a bride-elect of August 20th.

The large group of friends assembled in her honor were kept busy with many novel contests.

A very business-like desk was set before the bride-elect, but instead of work, she was given numerous lovely parcels to open. All these proved most welcome to a young couple setting up housekeeping.

The lovely presents and the kindness of friends gathered to wish her well only served to remind Jean that her district is a wonderful one to belong to. Jean quite ably thanked her friends and invited all to visit them in their new home.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Charlie Mix, Mrs. Betty Richardson and Mrs. Geo. Mead served a sumptuous lunch to conclude the happy evening.

Last Drawing For Lacombe Hogs

About 30 breeding groups of Lacombe swine will be made available to Canadian breeders by the Canada Department of Agriculture through a public draw October 3.

This will be the fifth and [illegible] release of the Lacombe stock by draw. It is considered that the number of private breeders will be sufficient by then to establish the breed on a firm foundation.

There are now an estimated 4,000 privately owned Lacombe pigs, either registered or eligible for registration.

The herd at Lacombe, Alta. will in future be used for experimental and improvement purposes and only surplus boars will be available for disposal.

Each breeding group consists of three females and one boar. Officials stress that only those interested in raising purebred Lacombe swine should apply, especially since performance testing, which requires considerable record keeping, is necessary for registration.

Application forms and regulations may be obtained from the Lacombe Experimental Farm. Deadline for applications is September 26. Only completed applications on official forms will be considered.

A committee will examine the applications and conduct the public draw at Lacombe October 3.

The Lacombe breed is the result of a hybridization and selection program initiated by the department in 1947, which combined the blood of the Danish Landrace, the Chester White, and the Berkshire breeds.

French Pioneers Seeking Suitable Homestead Land in the Foothills – About 1905.

A Salute to Alberta's Early French Adventurers

The spirit of adventure which early in its history brought French explorers and colonists to the new world had not dulled, even by the late 19th century, there was still Western Canada, unsettled and undeveloped, and there were French men and women ready to cross an ocean and travel more than half the breadth of the continent to answer its challenge.

Some of those who came to Alberta had been farmers in France, but many were drawn from the aristocracy, from professional groups and from officer ranks of the French army. Choosing their homesteads here, they favored particularly the foothills country about Millarville and the parkland areas at Trochu and Sylvan Lake, districts well suited to their interests of farming and ranching and the breeding of fine light horses.

Not all the French settlers remained to live out their days here: for some there were other challenges to settle still newer lands, and for many the outbreak of World War One meant a patriotic return to their homeland to fight in the trenches alongside other Allied troops. Today, the number of their descendants in Alberta is comparatively small, but the cultural and economic contribution of those venturesome French pioneers is a proud one!

NEWS from ALLANDALE

(Held over from last week)

On Aug 2 Mrs. Omness and granddaughters Paulette and Lynn Whelan accompanied her daughter Della and family to their home in Edmonton and that afternoon they left by C.P.R. for Calgary where the girls joined their parents, brother Michael and their new wee brother Patrick Roland, whom they hadn't seen.

Church service on Aug. 7th at our little church was well attended. Miss Ann Evans gave a splendid sermon "Walking Together." Aug. 28th is Miss Evans' last service.

Miss Patsy Cross R.N., from Edmonton is home at the Wm. Cross farm for a month's holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Robertson and daughters Janine and Glenys from Kitscoty visited the latter's mother, Mrs. Swanson at Elk Point on Aug. 7. On their way home they called at their uncle and aunt's, the Omness home. Daughter Myrna was holidaying with relatives at Lloydminster and son Jimmy had stayed at home with some pals.

We called at the Fleming home in town on the evening of the 13th. Their yard is beautiful with a splendid arrangement of flowers all through and a lovely lawn. The begonias are beautiful, while the garden is really good. We've never seen such huge pumpkin.

Mr. and Mrs. Milo Fleming and family intended to go to the latter's home, Mr. Bingeman's, on the 21st, at Esther, Alta. Brother Carl, Ann and family from Delaware, U.S.A., will be home and the family will hold a reunion.

Allandale W.A. met at the Omness home on Aug. 11. All were pleased to have Miss Ann Evans and Mrs. Annie Omness join us for the afternoon. All found the mystery parcels very interesting. September meeting will be held at the Alvin Throndson home. Mrs. Nancy McPhee and Mrs. Betsie [illegible] will be in charge of the lunch.

On Aug. 6th Mr. and Mrs. Herb McPhee, Myrna, Irene and Billie left on a four-day holiday. Going through Camrose they visited Mr and Mrs. Louis Baldock. To Drumheller, where nephew Keith David is working. Here they saw the Badlands, the "Hoodoos", and four working coal mines. The little church along the Dinosaur Trail was visited. It is undenominational, seats six, is 7 feet by 11 feet and has held over 10,000 people to date. This was sponsored by Drumheller Chamber of Commerce. The family returned via No. 2 highway to Edmonton.

Holiday time — Leslie Nelson at the home of his sister Helen and Frank Schmidt, in Lloydminster; Billie McPhee at the farm of his uncles Norman and Lorne, Pelican Lake. Donna and Marlene Wilms at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Omness.

Mr. and Mrs. Isidore Nelson had as their guests on Aug. 7th the latter's father, Mr. John Ockerman and brother Carl, Olga and family from Ferguson Flats.

Closing thought: "A light serves its purpose when it shines forth."

Joan Finlay and Robert Tod Pledge Vows At Mannville

Two pioneer families were united when Miss Joan Elaine Finlay, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs Charles M Finlay and grand-daughter of the late Mr and Mrs J E Finlay became the bride of Mr Robert Smith Tod, son of Mr and Mrs. William Tod and grandson of the late Mr and Mrs R. S. Tod.

The Mannville McQueen Memorial United Church was decorated with bouquets of pink and white peonies for the early afternoon ceremony which was performed by the Rev. F. G. [illegible]

The bride, who was given by her father, chose a floor-length gown of silk organza trimmed with seed pearls and iridescent sequins, styled with basque bodice which dipped to a V at the back, and with lily-point sleeves. Her chapel-length veil was of French illusion trimmed with seed pearls, iridescent sequins and centre drop pearl. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses.

The bridesmaids Miss Ruby Hawley and Miss Frances Tod, sister of the groom, wore identical waltz-length dresses of blue silk chiffon with sequin trimmed picture hats to match. They carried semi-cascade bouquets of of yellow daisies.

The best man was Mr William Tod, brother of the groom.

Ushers were Mr Andrew Schumaker and Mr Julian Pulyk.

Mrs. F G Andrews was organist and soloist was Mrs. Jock Willis.

At an open reception at the home of the bride's parents in the afternoon and evening Mr John Finlay, uncle of the bride, proposed a toast to his niece.

The bride's table was laid with an ecru lace cloth and was centred with the wedding cake embedded in tulle and [illegible] with red rose buds, flanked by pink tapers in crystal holders.

Miss Louise Tod, sister of the groom, and Mrs J. W. White[illegible], cousin of the bride, were in charge of the guest book.

Guests were present from Edmonton, Namao, Hardisty, Vancouver, Sexsmith, Fort Macleod, Tacoma, Wash., Vermilion and [illegible].

The bride changed to a light green suit with white accessories and corsage of red roses for her honeymoon trip to Manitoba and North Dakota.

The happy couple will make their home in the R. S. Tod farm south of Mannville.

Prior to her marriage the bride was honored at a shower by her pupils and and mothers at [illegible] school.

A shower was held by friends and neighbors at the Hamilton Community Centre. She was feted at a shower held in Mannville at the home of Mrs. V. Osborne sponsored by Happy [illegible].

New Home For Aged To Be Known As Vermilion Valley Lodge; Opening Soon

Open House Sunday, Sept. 11 From 1:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Finishing touches are now being made at the senior citizens' lodge in Vermilion, and the truly luxurious building will soon be open to receive its guests. It is highly desirable that all who are contemplating making this their home, should make applications as soon as possible. These applications may be made to Thomas Wilson in Vermilion, who is secretary of the local management committee, or to A. R. Kay, municipal secretary at Kitscoty.

To settle a much-discussed point, the charges are $65.00 for board and single room, and $60.00 each if a room is shared. This pays for complete board and room. Laundry facilities are also available in the Lodge.

OPEN FOR INSPECTION

As many people have expressed the desire to see the interior of the completed Lodge, an inspection day or open house has been planned for Sunday, Sept. 11th from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. Everything will be completed by that time and everyone interested is invited to view the lovely interior and furnishings.

It is expected that the Lodge will be in operation later on in September.

NAME SELECTED

It has been a matter of much conjecture as to the name by which the Lodge will be known and from scores of suggestions the name "Vermilion Valley Lodge" was selected by the management committee. The name signifies the area which will be served, — the valley winding through the Vermilion River municipality.

MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE [illegible]

The management committee is now organized and is comprised of Mayor Melvin Hill chairman, E. A. Locke vice-chairman Thos. Wilson secy-treas., and members Mayor Ed Lippert of Kitscoty, Charles Thompson, E. H. Buckingham.

APPOINT MATRON

For the important post of matron the committee have chosen Mrs. Winnifred Torrance while tentative selections have been made of other members to staff the lodge. There were many applicants for jobs so that the committee had a difficult task in making the choices. However, with all other qualifications being equal, the decision was based [illegible]

SEE THE PICTURES ON PAGE 2

Some of these modern, comfortable homes are already in operation and interior views are shown, taken in the lodge at [illegible] on page 2 of this issue of the Standard. The remainder of the 31 under construction will be opened at various times this fall as they are completed. A joint province-wide official opening is tentatively planned for October which will be featured by broadcasts from the Alberta capital with individual ceremonies in each of the individual lodges, according to information given by the Vermilion member of the Legislature Ashley Cooper.

TOWN CARRYING OUT LARGE ROAD BUILDING AND IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

The town of Vermilion public works department is presently engaged in carrying out an ambitious road building and improvement program. Shown here are two phases of the oil and gravel surfacing used on the residential streets. In the above picture the road grader is shown laying the initial stages of the surfacing. Below, the road on 51st avenue is completed and has been rolled and packed.

Shown above is Vermilion's smiling and accommodating grader operator, Johnny Gordey. John has been a main-stay of the public works department of the town for many years, and consistently turns in first class work. Standard Staff Photo

Rev. C. W. MacKay Receives Toronto Appointment

The Rev. C W MacKay has received the appointment as assistant preaching minister and director of Christian education at Kew Beach United Church in the city of Toronto. He will commence his new duties on October 2nd. The church to be served has a very large congregation, with three ministers sharing the work.

Rev. MacKay's farewell services in the First United Church, Vermilion, will be on Sunday, September 25th.

Rev. and Mrs. MacKay came to Vermilion in 1951 and have completed nine years devoted service to the work of the church. Their departure is deeply regretted, but in this move they carry with them the sincere best wishes, not only of people living in Vermilion, but throughout all the neighboring communities where they have a wide and valued friendship.

Ronald E. Mathison Wins Scholarships

Mr Ronald E. Mathison, son of Mr and Mrs. Wilfred Mathison of Dewberry, and third year student in Agriculture at the University of Alberta, has been name recipient in several of the recent scholarship awards.

Those received by him are Loveseth Ltd. scholarship, value $250, Queen Elizabeth Education Scholarship fund (Province of Alberta scholarship) value $200. First class standing prize, $25.

Mr Mathison's [illegible] was over 80%. He obtained his high school education at Dewberry and Vermilion, winning a scholarship in his final year.

Little Lge. Tourney Labor Day, Sept. 5

On Monday, Sept 5th, Labor Day, a fine array of aspiring ball players will take the field in the first annual Vermilion Little League ball tournament. It is expected eight to twelve teams will be competing.

Up for competition will be the Nick Kowalchuk Memorial trophy. This trophy has been donated by the businessmen of the town, in memory of the late Nicholas Kowalchuk, honoring the qualities of citizenship displayed by him.

All games will be played on the fine grounds of the Vermilion Athletic park. It is requested that all parents, in particular, should attend, to cheer your boys on win, lose or draw.

Diefenbaker Silent On Jobless Situation

OTTAWA. — Prime Minister Diefenbaker declined comment on the upsurge in summer unemployment reported by the labor department and bureau of statistics. Mid-July unemployment figures showed an increase of 11,000 in a month.

Since 1954 Canada's capital investment in new plants, machinery, housing and government facilities has totalled $45 billion, of which about 70% has come from Canadian sources.

The typical family man has a billfold of pictures and no money.

Schools Open On Schedule

Schools in Vermilion opened as scheduled this Thursday morning, and reports on enrolments will appear in next week's Standard. The children registered at 9:00 a.m., were assigned to teachers and classrooms, given lists of the required text books. After this they were dismissed for the remainder of the day to secure the school supplies.

At least one class was puzzled by it all, as one grade six teacher is still lacking so the youngsters are still wondering who their new teacher will be.

Ex-Mannville Man Killed on Hy. 2

George Harold Whitson 19 of Ellerslie was killed Monday evening when he was struck by a car as he crossed the Calgary highway at Ellerslie about seven miles south of Edmonton.

RCMP and chief provincial coroner Dr M M Cantor investigated and decided no inquest will be held.

The accident occurred about 5.30 p.m. Mr. and Mrs Whitson were walking across the highway and a northbound car stopped for them. Police said another car, also northbound, was forced to swerve around the first car to avoid a collision. It struck Whitson as he stepped from in front of the stopped car.

Police identified the driver of the car involved as Leslie Karas, of Prince George, B.C. Whitson was taken to the University hospital by ambulance but was dead on arrival. —Ed. Journal.

100% Pass by Islay Grade Nine Students

ISLAY — One hundred per cent pass is the word from the grade 9 class of seven students of the Islay school who wrote the exams. Their teacher was Mr. Merlin Moncrieff. At the present time six of the successful students plan to attend grade ten at Kitscoty while one will go to the Vermilion high school.

Weekly Chamber of Commerce Luncheons Commence Sept. 7th

Mr. Angus MacMillan, President of the Vermilion Chamber of Commerce, announces that the regular weekly luncheon meetings of that organization will be resumed on Wednesday next, September 7th, and will be held every Wednesday thereafter.

The gatherings are at 12:10 noon in the banquet room of the Rio Cafe.

Mr. MacMillan [illegible] invitation to all business and [illegible] professional men, [illegible] provincial bodies and farmers to attend these meetings. The [illegible] as well to get together and decide matters of importance to the best advantage of the community as a whole.

Newcomers to town will find this an excellent place to meet their fellow business men and to [illegible] much more [illegible].

Three-Fold Objective At The Vermilion School of Agriculture

"Training for Farming" has always been the principal objective of the course in agriculture at the Vermilion School of Agriculture and although emphasis continues to centre on this traditional objective, recognition must be given to the very considerable number of farm young people who find that the course in vocational agriculture can serve a most useful purpose for them in securing suitable off-farm employment.

Persons in all walks of life who are interested in the farm scene repeatedly describe the increasing need of a good basic education for those who are to engage in farming.

Hunting Season On Waterfowl Opens September 14th

In spite of the deafening barrage now being heard around the country the season on ducks and geese officially opens one half hour before sunrise on Wednesday, Sept. 14th, for those who wait.

Limits remain the same as last year except in the case of canvas backs and redheads where only ONE of EITHER species may be included in the day's bag, so pothunters take care.

Hunting licenses must be purchased. These may be obtained at your favorite sporting goods store and with it obtain a book of hunting regulations, read it, study it and then live the rules and play the game in a sporting manner and teach your boy to do likewise. There is good hunting for all with the use of a little common sense so don't be a game hog and "spoiler" — stay within your limit.

Marwayne Little Leaguers Lose To Mannville

MARWAYNE — Marwayne Little League baseballers lost both games of a double-header with Mannville in Marwayne on Saturday, Aug. 27. The scores were [illegible] to 5 when [illegible] was the winning pitcher and [illegible] with the triumphant twirler being Bill Morton.

Former Vermilion Farmer Dies In Edmonton

James Martin Enfield, aged 61 years passed away in an Edmonton hospital on Friday Aug. 26th. He is survived by his loving wife Fern, two sons, Harold of McKay, Alberta, and Clifford in Edmonton. There are two grandchildren.

The deceased came to the Vermilion district in 1920 and farmed north of town for 22 years. He resided at 10117 163 street, [illegible].

Funeral services were held on Monday Aug. 29th with interment taking place in the Mount Pleasant cemetery.

To Teach Dancing Acrobatics Here

Miss Sharon E. Fitch of Vegreville intends to teach dancing, tap, ballet, Highland and acrobatics in Vermilion this coming year commencing [illegible] in October. Miss Fitch has been studying and teaching dancing for the past two years at the Martin School of Dancing in Red Deer.

Watch for complete details of the classes in a later issue of the Standard.

This is the Hugh Stewart family of Vermilion. For four out of the last five years the grand champion steer at the 4-H calf show and sale at Vermilion fair has been a Hereford exhibited by one of the Stewarts. John Stewart won this top award in [illegible] 1957 and once again this year. Don Stewart took the reserve grand ribbon in 1957 and the grand championship ribbon at the 1958 fair. Much of the credit for the good Herefords being brought into the ring by the Stewarts is given to a Hereford bull they purchased several years ago from J. C. Tucker of Vermilion. Standing alongside this year's top steer are, left to right: John, 17, Don, 14, Mrs. Stewart, Stan, 12; Mr. Stewart and in front is Carol, nearly four years old.

Girls Enjoy 6,500-mile Tour

Hazel Barr returned last Tuesday after a five week holiday to Eastern Canada, New York and Bermuda. Hazel accompanied Arlene Rockwell who was also on the Westlock teaching staff. The two girls motored over 6,500 miles spending five days in Ottawa and six days seeing the sights of New York before flying to Bermuda for twelve fabulous days. Their flight back to New York was made by jet and the two maintained it's the only way to travel.

[illegible] trip they motored through the central portion of the states and southern Alberta.

Hazel returned to the city on Wednesday to play ball with the Shirley Truchettes, who won the city intermediate women's league championships on Friday. The Truchettes then went ahead on Saturday and Sunday to win the Provincial "A" championships from Grand Prairie in two games straight.

Hazel will again be teaching [illegible] back for the coming term.

Special Show Times At The Columbia

Due to the length of the outstanding Cecil B. DeMille production "Greatest Show on Earth" there will be a change in show times with only one show Friday Sept 2 at 7 30 and Saturday at 2, 7 and 9. Make sure you bring the whole family to the most touching story ever filmed in Technicolor. Starring Betty Hutton, James Stewart, Cornel Wilde and a cast of thousands. An excellent family picture.

It's Back-to-School Time . . Children's Safety Is Your Responsibility

YOU — nobody but you — controls your car. If you are involved in an accident, if a child is injured or killed, YOU are responsible. Remember, children are hasty, unable to exercise judgment, so it is up to you to watch out for them — to be extra cautious, extra alert. Your judgment as an adult has qualified you for a driver's license . . . so you must accept the responsibility for the safety of our children by taking more than usual care, by being always on the alert.

YOU CAN NEVER REPLACE A LIFE!

Cross Canada Paved Highway

By freeze-up this fall, it should be possible to drive all across mainland Canada — from North Sydney, N.S., to Vancouver — on paved highway, except for a stretch through the Rockies in British Columbia. But this not to say the long-awaited, often-postponed completion of the trans-Canada highway is nearly upon us.

Fact is, it probably won't be completed up to "full standard" even by the time the latest deadline runs out—on Dec. 31, 1963. Reasons include: Quebec is only now negotiating with Ottawa to participate and probably won't be able to complete its section — which may include a couple of major bridges — by deadline. In Newfoundland much of the road probably will still be only graded gravel when time runs out because there aren't enough people along it to encourage more provincial expenditure right now.

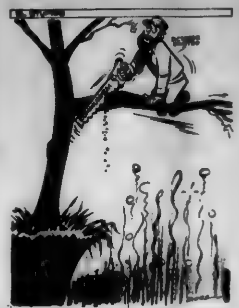
More Canadians Tour Canada

As Canada's summer tourist season moves into the last lap, government tourist officials, transportation men and hotel-keepers from coast to coast are forecasting a finish ahead of last year. But it looks now as though it may be Canadian holiday-makers who push room, meal and shop sales over the top.

While several provinces report fair increases in number of U. S. tourists, some at mid-season report slight decreases. Every province has reported considerable increase in Canadians from other provinces. Transportation men say domestic travel is at an all-time high this summer.

But this won't help Canada's international balance of travel spending — the amount Canadians spend abroad compared with the amount foreign tourists spend in Canada. Last year, Canada had a deficit of $200 million. And while Canadians are travelling farther in Canada this year, they are also breaking records abroad.



GREEN ACRES

District Agriculturist, and

GREEN OATS SILAGE

Green oat bundles (green feed) cut with a binder stooked, and stacked have been handled the same way since the advent of the first gleaner. Is there anything wrong with the good old way of doing things? It is over a hundred years since binders came into general use and during that time labor has become increasingly more expensive. Possibly the discontinuation of binder production by certain farm implement companies is a blessing in disguise. Perhaps the time has come to consider silage as the method to handle green feed.

GREEN DUST

Manitoba farmers have been complaining of clouds of green dust behind their combines and swathers. The Canada Department of Agriculture reports this dust to be caused by molds growing in abundance during hot humid weather. These molds seem to cause little damage unless there is a prolonged period of wet weather.

EFFICIENT HOG PRODUCTION

Purdue University reports that recent studies in New York state indicate that the 30-60 sow herd is the most effective operation. In fact the most efficient single operation had only a 30 sow herd. Swine farms using more than sixty sows became progressively more expensive to operate as the sow population increased. Despite all the talk about vertical integration there is still room for the well run swine enterprise on the farm scale.

CREAM UTENSILS

The cost of production of tainted cream or off flavored cream is almost high as a special. On occasion producers lose as much as $2.00 per can. Damaged cream cans, badly worn, or rusted separator parts are probably the worst offenders. Although the replacement price seems high a $2.00 loss per can of cream soon soon pays dividends.

GOODNESS FROM YOUR GARDEN:

Farm people depend to a large degree on their garden produce for vitamins and minerals obtained in their diet. To obtain the maximum benefit from them, certain principles should be followed in cooking them. Whenever possible, vegetables should not be prepared until just before cooking. Pared vegetables or vegetables prepared for salads lose food value if left standing for any length of time. Allowing vegetables to stand in water means loss of food value too. Vegetables cut length-wise retain more of their minerals and vitamins than if they are cut crosswise.

COOKING ROOT VEGETABLES:

Drop root vegetables into boiling salted water about one teaspoonful of salt to a quart of water. Cover the kettle to speed cooking time and conserve vitamins. Strong flavored vegetables such as turnips, cabbage or onions are not likely to develop disagreeable odors if not over cooked. Stop cooking as soon as the vegetables are tender. Cook vegetables quickly, reserving the juices for use in sauces, gravies and soups.

CORN ON THE COB:

Fresh corn on the cob is one of the most typical Canadian fall foods. It should be kept cool until it reaches the kettle on your stove. As with most fresh vegetables, corn on the cob does not require long cooking since this toughens the kernels and reduces their sweetness and juiciness. Cook most corn 8 to 10 minutes in boiling salt water. If cobs of corn are cut in 4 or 5 pieces, from 3 to 4 minutes cooking time will be sufficient.

VARIETY WITH VEGETABLES:

This can be obtained by simply making a cream sauce to serve with cooked vegetables. The sauce itself can be varied to suit the vegetable and the tastes of the family. Occasionally add a bit of crisp diced bacon or parsley to your cream sauce. Next time you cream peas add ⅓ cup chopped cooked celery or chopped hard cooked egg to the sauce. Take a peek into your spice cabinet and use such flavorsome additions as curry or oregano. Find out which ones your family like best.

Junior Red Cross Meets In Banff

BANFF — At the opening sessions of the Junior Red Cross workshop in the Banff School of Fine Arts last Thursday, Red Cross teen-agers from points throughout Alberta and Saskatchewan chose Ron Campbell of Yorkton, Sask., to head the student body for the week long training course. Junior members also named Lynda Rowswell of Edmonton as secretary for the study centre.

Aimed at developing leaders in Junior Red Cross ranks and acquainting teen-agers with the many facets of the Jr. Red Cross program, the workshop is under the joint direction of Mrs. Beth Norgren, Alberta Junior Red Cross and Miss Hazel Lawrence, Director of the Saskatchewan Junior Red Cross program.

Close to one hundred Red Cross youth members attending the training course received greetings from the senior Red Cross through Lt.-Col. D. H. Tomlinson of Calgary, Alberta Red Cross Commissioner. He urged the young people to be ambassadors for Red Cross in their respective communities.

During the afternoon students got an intimate glimpse of the operation and scope of the Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service when Dr. Eric Nation, medical director of the Calgary Blood transfusion depot, explained the various blood groups and uses for blood and outlined the process of "cross-matching" blood which is done in the Red Cross laboratories.

Mrs. Norgren stressed the need for Red Cross to be constantly prepared for any emergency and cited the recent tragic incident in Morocco where Red Cross is carrying on treatment of hundreds of persons paralyzed through consumption of poisonous cooking oil. She also touched on the earthquake disaster in Chile which required [illegible] Red Cross assistance in the form of clothing, bedding and medical supplies.

Mrs. Mumford described the [illegible] purpose of the Junior Red Cross [illegible] program [illegible] emergency supplies for immediate distribution to disaster areas, also [illegible] for establishment of [illegible] self help projects and [illegible] for special projects both immediate aid and [illegible] assistance.

Marwayne Horticulture Show Again A Very Successful Event

MARWAYNE — The seventh annual horticultural show sponsored by the F.W.U.A. in the Elks hall recently was very successful.

"A Horn of Plenty", flowing with vegetables, emphasized the evidence on all sides of a particularly good growing year.

The sign, "The F.W.U.A. Welcomes You", done in marigolds on a background of carrot tops was at the front of the hall and attracted considerable attention. Another display creating much interest was that of the animals and figures made from flowers and vegetables.

The judging was done very capably by Mr. Godwin of the Vermilion School of Agriculture.

The following generously contributed to the special prizes given: C. Mills, Lary Isert, L. Espetveidt, Co-op store, W. Curtis, Swanson & Son, Home Cafe, Bergs, A. Johnson, W. Kinsella, F.W.U.A., president and secretary of the F.W.U.A.

Interior Views of Senior Lodges

Constructed and operated in a manner that encourages maintenance of personal dignity and independence, Alberta's homes for senior citizens in fifty provincial communities are rapidly opening for residents.

The one-storey "U"-shaped buildings are designed along contemporary lines. The base of the "U" houses a well-equipped kitchen adjoining a bright and modern dining room. The dining room is furnished with tables and chairs seating four. The [illegible] are of glass along the wall provide a bright and cheery atmosphere. Extending from the dining room is a large sitting room tastefully furnished and dominated by a large stone fireplace bordered with knotty pine. Four additional smaller sitting rooms are located throughout the building. Each arm of the "U" contains single and double rooms accommodating 25 persons. Each well furnished room is equipped with a washbasin and toilet, while each [illegible] is provided with a bath. [illegible] and [illegible] are enclosed [illegible] the three sides of the building.

To date thirty-one contracts have been let for construction of the homes. Of these fifteen have been completed and it is expected the balance will be in operation this summer. A staff of five is required to operate a unit. Cost to resident is $65 per month for a single room. Each home will accommodate fifty residents.

The cost per home to the province averages $[illegible], according to [illegible]. Approximate additional cost for furnishing and fixtures is $[illegible].

Formal opening ceremonies are planned for early October.

In registration of trucks and cars in proportion to population Saskatchewan and Alberta lead the other provinces with a vehicle for every 2.8 persons.

It was the arrival of about 50,000 United Empire Loyalists at the time of the American Revolution that changed Canada from a predominantly French-speaking to a predominantly English-speaking nation.

Willa Bowman and Albert Byrt Pledge Wedding Vows at Dewberry

Mixed summer flowers tastefully decorated the Dewberry United church on July 23rd for a pretty summer wedding at which Willa Margaret Bowman, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Durward Bowman of Dewberry, and Albert James Byrt, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Byrt, Lloydminster, exchanged marriage vows.

Rev. J. Shortt officiated at the double-ring ceremony and Miss Cheryl Jones played the wedding music.

The bride was lovely as she entered the church with her father as the strains of the Wedding March filled the church.

Her floor length gown of bridal lace in double rose pattern was fashioned with bouffant skirt of lace over satin and [illegible] tiered flounces of lace and net alternately down the side. The slim fitting bodice was fastened down the back with tiny self-covered buttons and featured a sabrina neckline encrusted with seed pearls and glittering sequins, and lily point sleeves.

A pearl and sequined crown held in place her shoulder length veil of French illusion net trimmed with wide lace. Red roses and fern in cascade style formed her bouquet.

The maid of honor, Barbara Mead, cousin of the bride, wore a lemon yellow chiffon dress in waltz length and carried a colonial style bouquet of yellow and white carnations.

Barbara Byrt, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Her waltz length dress was of pink nylon over taffeta and her colonial bouquet was of pink and white carnations. Both wore short veils and headpieces to match their dresses.

Leslie Bowman, brother of the bride, and Bob Hiltz attended the groom. Jimmy Jones ushered the guests to their seats which were trimmed with pink roses and white satin bows.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother wore an ensemble of blue organza. The groom's mother chose a blue and white floral dress. Both wore white accessories and red roses en corsage.

Mrs. Iris Hodgson sang "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register accompanied by Miss Cheryl Jones at the organ.

The groom's gift to his bride was a gold engraved compact and to the groomsmen and usher he gave gold cuff links.

The bridal attendants received gifts of their choosing from the bride.

The W.A. catered to a reception in the hall for over one hundred guests. The head [illegible] was covered with a crocheted [illegible] and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake made by [illegible] aunt Mrs. May Braithwaite and beautifully decorated by Mrs. V. Dennill. It nestled in pink tulle and was flanked by pink tapers in glass candlesticks and summer flowers in pink vases. A banking of summer flowers tastefully arranged on the stage [illegible] the bridal table enhanced the decor.

Master of ceremonies Leslie Bowman called on Mr. Neal Jones who proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom ably responded. Rev. Mr. Shortt extended best wishes to the happy couple from himself and all present. The groom's father and the bride's father both tendered best wishes.

Verne Swan's renditions of "With This Ring I Thee Wed" and "Young Love" were very much enjoyed, also a solo by Mrs. Iris Hodgson "I Love You Truly."

A dance followed in the hall with music provided by "The Happy Hillbillies".

For a honeymoon trip to Banff, Jasper, Lake Louise and B.C. the bride wore a [illegible] flecked suit with white accessories.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Byrt, Mrs. [illegible], Mr. and Mrs. Byrt, grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Lawe, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] of Lloydminster, Mr. Fred Lawe, Mr. and Mrs. B. Alliance Pastor Back from Vacation

A vocal solo by Adele Nemirsky entitled "He is Able to Deliver Thee", was a feature of Sunday school at the Alliance chapel on Sunday, Aug. 28. Adele has been visiting her grandmother Mrs. L. Malec and comes from Camrose.

Pastor and Mrs. Schroeder and family have returned from vacationing in B.C. Mr. Schroeder preached both services on Sunday. His subjects were "The Battle for the Minds of Men", and "No Other Gods before Me". The latter being the first of a series of messages on the ten Commandments.

Musical selections for the Sunday services were vocal solos by Mrs. Wayne Mathews, Albert Mix and a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Francisco.

Guests in the evening service were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Jaster from Edmonton, in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hillcox. Mr. Jaster gave a dramatic presentation of the Biblical story of "Shadrach, Meshack and Abednego". This was very well done and was much appreciated by the congregation.

50 Years Ago

(From the Files of the Edmonton Journal)

"Moose" Phillips, a Vermilion district farmer, spent last night on the steps of the Land Titles Building — and says he made $120 an hour for the sixteen hours spent there. A few days ago he heard that the option on a homestead in his district was to be cancelled. Anxious to obtain the land, Mr. Phillips rushed to Edmonton to file on the property. He arrived after closing time yesterday, so waited at the building to make sure he would be first in line this morning. He was, and says the homestead he has obtained is worth $2,000.

Kinsmen Wading Pool Favorite Hot Weather Haunt of Tots

During the past two months of hot weather, no spot has been more popular with the young fry than the Kinsmen wading pool shown above. It offers the lure of cool water, green grass, playground facilities, fun and frolic to capture the hearts of carefree youngsters. This pool was conceived and constructed a few years ago by the local Kinsmen Club, who have done an excellent job in completing and maintaining it in a most acceptable manner. It is even a welcome spot for mothers to rest and cool off while the young ones cavort. This past year, Miss Rita Porter has been supervisor.

Early Landmark Vanishes at Islay

ISLAY — An old landmark of Islay, the building familiarly known as the "corner store" which stood on the main corner ever since 1906 has disappeared.

Empty for the past several years now it was purchased by Walter Carlson who tore it down and moved the material to his farm.

The building had an interesting history. It was one of the first in Islay, being opened by the late Harry Elliott and Mr Gilchrist who operated a general store business therein. In later years it was a restaurant and then again a grocery store. The last owner died a year ago and the building had reverted to the municipality.

United Kingdom automobile manufacturers exported 73,000 cars to Canada in 1959 compared to 13,000 five years earlier.

BUFFALO COULEE ACTIVITIES

(Written for last week)

After much travelling and visiting everyone is now getting settled down to harvesting and thinking of school days again.

Mr and Mrs. Herman Eyben of Cloverdale B.C. accompanied by their youngest son Ronnie and his wife, visited friends and relatives the early part of August.

Miss Katherine Barlow returned from a holiday in Winnipeg accompanying her sister Betty and family who came here for a visit.

Mr and Mrs. Jack Milton enjoyed a visit from Mr and Mrs. Gordon Radmore and family of Mission City, B.C., and also Jack's sister and husband from California.

Many of his old friends were very pleased to have a visit with Chester Kennedy when he was here with his brothers.

Mr and Mrs. Jack Smith and boys of Vancouver visited at the Tom Smith and Alex Stone homes recently.

Mr and Mrs Jack Brown came up from Calgary for their son Brent who had come home with his grandparents Mr and Mrs B A Macnab when they returned from their holiday in the Okanagan.

Mrs Majury Sr of Edmonton renewed acquaintances in the community as she spent some time as guest of Mrs. Ruby Larsen recently.

Mr and Mrs. Stuart Little and family are holidaying at the F H. Eyben home. Lyla Eyben, who had accompanied them to Naramata, B.C. returned home with them.

Robert Mundy of Calgary is spending the remainder of the holidays at the Edward [illegible] helping Jerrold with harvest.

Mr and Mrs. Spencer and family of Illinois, U.S.A., relatives of the Irvings, have been visiting at John Eyben's and on Sunday last were guests of [illegible] at a [illegible] of all the Irving families and relatives [illegible] from Edmonton.

Mr and Mrs. Jeff Dobie and daughters of Edmonton were week-end guests at the Alex Stone home.

Ken and Cecil Kennedy and families spent several days visiting in Calgary and Banff.

The Henry Haverslew family returned from a very enjoyable trip through the States to the west coast and back through the Okanagan.

Henning Haverslew and family with the exception of Reddy, took a holiday trip to Jackfish Lake, Battleford and Saskatoon, making a visit to the South Saskatchewan River dam.

A very successful Vacation school was held at the church under the direction of Mr. S. Pagee with Lenore McInnis, Lenreen May, Ellen and Ruby Beier and Fay Lepchuk assisting as teachers.

The Young People sponsored a film night and social evening at the church. Mr Ernie Schurman of Vermilion very kindly came out and showed the films "The Younger Brother" and "Split Level Family", which were very much enjoyed by all. A lunch was served by the young people in the Sunday school rooms.

Last Thursday night the Y.P. held a wiener roast down in the coulee. Mr. M. Hill had come out with a telescope to let the young people do some star gazing but unfortunately it started to rain before the observation got well under way and brought everything to an abrupt end.

[illegible] Evans, student minister of the Clandonald field, exchanged pulpits with Mr Pagee on Aug 14. Mrs. E Cunningham, on behalf of the board and congregation extended a very sincere welcome to her. All enjoyed her service and [illegible] extends best wishes to her in her chosen field.

On Sept 4th at 11 a.m. Mr. MacKay will be taking the service conducting Baptism and Communion. Please keep this in mind and plan to attend as this will be Mr MacKay's last time with us. We are all very sorry to see him leave but congratulate him on his new position in Toronto and wish God's richest blessing on him and his family.

The central W.A. meeting will be held at the church [illegible] 7th at 8 p.m. Mrs. J [illegible] of Viking president of St. Paul Presbytery W.A. will be guest speaker. All ladies are urged to attend as Mrs. Ruddick will have a very worthwhile message.

Ellen Beier is going to Alberta College Edmonton to take a business course.

Rumor has it that all teaching positions at the school have been filled.

A new propane gas heating system is being installed in the school so there shouldn't be any more heating problems. There will also be hot water now too. A Vegreville firm is doing the installation.

[illegible]

Congratulations to the grade nine students who were all successful in passing their exams and also to the grade 12s who will this year be going to town to school.

[illegible]

Congratulations go to Shirley Cooper who was married last Saturday to Mr Eric Sturt.

Previous to their marriage a shower was held in their honor in the gym on Aug. 10 [illegible] good crowd attended to present them with many lovely and useful gifts. Following games, under the direction of Mrs. Ruby Larsen and Mrs E Cunningham, Mr Henning Haverslew extended best wishes of all present. This was followed by the little niece and nephew of the bride-elect wheeling in a decorated cart well laden with gifts. Shirley very graciously thanked all for their [illegible] and wishes. Lunch was served by the ladies of the [illegible] group.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bentley on again being chosen for a UN mission. We'll be looking forward to more good [illegible] on their return.

[illegible] railway built in 1836 between the Quebec towns of La Prairie, opposite Montreal, and St. Johns, was a 16-mile overland link in the Montreal-New York water route.

GREENLAWN Goodwill Club

The August meeting of Greenlawn Goodwill club was held at the home of Mrs. Roy Jones on the 18th with sixteen members present. It was decided to cancel the September meeting, so the next gathering will be held Oct. 20th at the home of Mrs. Walter Jones.

The club decided to donate $10 to the St John Ambulance fund. All raffle tickets are to be handed in by Sept. 6th.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Ray Good. Lunch was served by Mrs. Roy Jones assisted by two of the club members.

National parks cover about 30,000 square miles in Canada and Alberta has more than half of the total park area.

The Standard does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents

Dear Editor:

With your permission I would like to make a few comments on your editorial in the issue of August 25 entitled "Castro Brain" taken from the Reader's Digest. I have read the article also and I would say that you have made a fair comment on same. However on most questions there are two sides. You appear to have taken the regular U.S. attitude that anything that opposes their capitalistic system is communistic. This is not necessarily so, the Cubans may be trying to establish a genuine socialistic system and as a free nation they have a right to appeal or approach any country they wish. By their overbearing ways the U.S. Government may be driving people into Communist hands.

I am taking the liberty of enclosing for your perusal an editorial taken from the Western Producer, a co-op and non-partisan paper widely read in western Canada. This paper publishes some excellent editorials. I hope you might publish some extracts from the same. The editorial is called the "Cuban Version" written by a Mr Bealer in the Nation U.S. weekly magazine. Among other things Mr. Bealer mentions needless display of power and arrogance aimed at smashing the Castro regime and bringing Cuba to its knees. We have the same people in Canada who would label everything socialistic as being communistic.

Witness an editorial published by a Quebec S.C. paper on the re-election of Douglas in Saskatchewan as one writer said of it, "here is a brew of viciousness and ignorance which it foisted upon its readers in its July issue." I have the editorial and have read it and I would say that it is a good description of it.

Larry Ilchuk Married At Mission City Adventist Church

Pink gladioli in tall standards, with fernery was the pretty setting [illegible] wedding on July 19th of Anneliese Ganz, daughter of Mr and Mrs. John Ganz of Matsqui and Larry Ilchuck, son of Mr and Mrs. [illegible] Ilchuck of Vernon.

Rev Nicholas Ilchuck, [illegible] pastor of [illegible] Ontario, and eldest brother of the groom, officiated at the ceremony performed in the Mission City Seventh-day Adventist church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned of net edged with lace, over white satin. Her full skirt fell in tiers, and the bodice was fitted, with lily-point sleeves of [illegible], and enhanced with an illusion sweetheart neckline edged with sequins and seed pearls. Her short veil, made of net edged with flowered lace, was gathered to a crown of orange blossoms, and she carried a [illegible] bouquet of deep red roses with ivy.

Maid-of-honor was Miss Walley Ganz, sister of the bride, and a nurse in training home for the summer from the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital in California. Another sister, Miss Inge Ganz, and Mrs. Ron Milne of Vancouver, were bridesmaids. The attendants were all [illegible] dressed in pale green [illegible] with full skirts and fitted bodices with a wide belt and [illegible] bows. Matching headpieces and white gloves and shoes completed their ensembles, and they carried bouquets of pink roses.

Best man was Paul Ilchuck, brother of the groom; with groomsmen being Benno Ganz, only brother of the bride, and Ron Milne of Vancouver. The groom and his attendants were all dressed in dark [illegible] suits, with [illegible] ties, and their boutonnieres were white carnations. Ushers were Waldemar Ganz and Vernon Ganz, cousins of the bride.

Flower girl was wee [illegible] Ganz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waldemar Ganz, and second cousin of the bride, dressed in a full-skirted yellow nylon gown. She wore a ribbon headpiece and her bouquet was a miniature of that carried by the bride. Tiny Perry Tkachuk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Tkachuk, and also a [illegible] cousin of the bride, was Bible boy, carrying the minister's Bible, and wearing long [illegible] trousers, with a gray tweed jacket, [illegible].

Organist was Mrs. Nick Tkachuck of Sidney, cousin of the bride, with Mrs. Raymond Wegh of Hamilton singing "The Lord's Prayer," and Mrs. George [illegible] of Lacombe, Alberta, another cousin, singing, "God Gave Me You." during the signing of the register.

Reception was held at the Elks Hall in Mission City, with 200 guests in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Ganz, and Mr. and Mrs. Ilchuck, parents of the bride and groom, joined the wedding party in receiving the guests. Miss Rose Marie Olson, student nurse from Loma Linda, California, attended the guest book. Mrs Ganz wore a two-piece green dress suit, with white accessories, and her corsage was of pink roses. Mrs. Ilchuk's gown was blue lace, with pink accessories, and she also wore a pink rose corsage.

Centering the bridal table was a three-tiered cake which had been made and decorated by the bride's former landlady, Mrs. E. B. Trussell of Vancouver. It was topped with wedding bells, with a bow and a flower, as well as an angel which had been used on Mrs. Trussell's own wedding cake over twenty years ago. White candles and the attendants' bouquets also decorated the table, with pink roses and sweet peas on the guests' tables. Topping the piano in the reception hall was a bouquet of red roses which had been wired from Germany by an uncle. The ladies of the Elks Lodge took care of the refreshments.

Master of ceremonies for the program following the wedding supper was Benno Ganz. Featured on the program was a poem written and given by Mrs. Nicholas Ilchuck telling of the romance of the bride and groom. Other numbers included vocal solos, a reading, a violin solo and a trombone solo.

The bride and groom honeymooned for a [illegible] motoring to southern Ontario. They will make their home at Walla Walla College in Washington State, where the groom is completing his BA degree in physics and mathematics.

Out of town [illegible] Mrs. George [illegible], sister of the groom, and daughters Sharon and Darlene from [illegible] Mrs. Ted Ilchuk [illegible] Mannville and other relatives and friends from various parts in Ontario, Manitoba, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Oregon, California and British Columbia.

New Polio Vaccine Requires No Needle

A Public Health Nurse of Costa Rica's National Health Service administers oral vaccine against poliomyelitis to a child of one of the homes in her district. These new vaccines are made with attenuated or "tamed" strains of live rather than killed poliovirus and are taken by mouth and not by injection. They are usually given in the form of pills or in fruit-flavored syrups. Costa Rica is only one of several Latin American nations now using oral vaccine in campaigns against polio.

The Pan American Sanitary Bureau, operating arm of the Pan American Health Organization and Regional Office for the Americas of the World Health Organization, assists the countries in combating this crippling disease.

WILDMERE WINKS

Mrs. Ken Holtz and family from Winnipeg are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Albert Holtz and relatives in town.

Mrs. George Seuffert and Mrs. Bob Martin from town and Mrs. Bob Smith visited at the Fred Haines home to visit Miss Haines from Ontario who was a former teacher at Wildmere.

Rev. McKay will be at Wildmere church this Sunday Sept. 4 to give the communion service.

LITTLE LEAGUERS TO PLAY

The little league ball team will be playing in the tournament in town on Sept. 5th. Give these young boys your support if at all possible.

School at Preston Central will be in full swing Sept. 1st. The same teachers will be present to greet the children and guide them through another term. Give them your whole hearted support through Home and School.

Ken and Laurence Graham, Mrs. Wallington and Mrs. Many [illegible] visited several homes in the district on Tuesday evening. Ken will soon be returning to university for a second term.

Linda Ruth Smith, Allister Cruthers and Margaret Sweeney will be taking their Grade 10 in town.

FAST READING

The Newsy just dropped my daily copy of The Winnipeg Tribune on the desk. I'll also read The Free Press at home tonight, along with copies of The Edmonton Journal, The Portage La Prairie Graphic, and the Toronto dailies.

Along with these dailies, I read several weekly papers and two weekly magazines, plus assorted other publications, such as the CCF's Commonwealth and the business world's Canadian Business.

"How do you plow through so much reading?" friends ask.

I smile smugly. Some years ago I was talked into taking a course on rapid reading. The fee was outrageous, and I was cynical about the whole thing, but I now consider it one of the best investments I have ever made.

When you read faster you remember better, too. That was one of the pleasant surprises in store for me. The effort to absorb material quickly seems to make you more alert. When you are alert, you are more likely to remember what you have read. Speeding up has many beneficial effects.

Because fast reading has helped me so much, I have tried to put the same speed-up process to work on other things. I have increased the speed of my typing a good deal, just by being aware of the fact that speed increases alertness. This is even true of driving an automobile, but you will find this a hard proposition to sell to the cops. Nevertheless, the man who is driving quickly is often alert, while the dawdler dreams his way to death.

By speed-up, of course, I do not mean frantic activity. Just a steady push toward completion, a slight tenseness which seems to tone the mind and the muscles.

Try it — and get that tonic feeling of alertness! And with it the great feeling that comes at the end of the day when you see a worthwhile number of things accomplished. It will not seem to be such a fast and frantic world when you have started to match its speed yourself.

Saving Human Lives

KARACHI, Pakistan — A recent survey showed that 1 of every 10 babies died in births attended by untrained midwives; only 3 out of 1,000 when a trained midwife was on hand. CARE is helping to expand training programs, by providing midwifery kits for class instruction and personal use by the graduates. The $25 kits, subscribed by Canadians through CARE of Canada, Ottawa, contain basic instruments and supplies.

Prominent Educationist Joins Staff Of Alberta College, Edmonton

H. C. Sweet, B.A., B.Ed., recently retired Assistant Chief Superintendent of Schools for the provincial government, joins the Academic Faculty of Alberta College as lecture in English.

Mr. Sweet, a graduate of both Manitoba and Alberta Universities taught at [illegible] and Lethbridge, was superintendent of schools at Foremost and Medicine Hat before his appointment to the provincial government high school system.

A life member of the Alberta Teachers Association and the Education Society of Edmonton Mr. Sweet brings a lifetime of teaching and administrative endeavor to Alberta College.

Alberta College is currently embarking on a Building Extension Fund Campaign for $1,000,000.00 for the purpose of erecting a new six-story building to replace the present wooden structure which was built in 1903.

It lovely these days. Everybody is busy in the fields, even some of the ladies have been taking shifts on the tractors.

Wilfred Potvin returned home from hospital on Monday. He suffered severe injuries to his hands last week in an accident with his swather.

The writer really enjoyed the flower show held at Lloydminster last Saturday. The flowers were simply wonderful.

It was a disappointment not to be able to attend the Dewberry flower show but the old weather man acted up and certainly made the roads very muddy.

There are plenty of flowers and plants in the garden folks— come and get some before Jack Frost sneaks up on them and spoils their beauty.

Safety Award Goes To CNR

CHICAGO, August — For the third consecutive year, Canadian National Railways has been awarded the National Safety Council's Public Safety Activities award in recognition of the company's "dynamic safety program."

Singled out for special commendation by the Safety Council were the CNR's programs for family night meetings, the company's work in schools, use of the Safety Car for instruction, and wide use of films in addition to participation in community safety programs in all areas served by the railway.

Sixteen Junior Forest Wardens from clubs at Slave Lake, Edson and Hinton recently attended a week long training school at the new Alberta Forest Training School at Hinton. The course conducted by foresters of the Alberta Department of Lands and Forests, included instruction on Forest Service conservation methods and fire protection demonstrations. The Junior Wardens were taken on tours of the Northwestern Pulp and Power Plant at Hinton, a plump camp in the area and a sawmill near Obed.

A highlight of the school was an overnight camping trip on which the students were required to maintain themselves under the same conditions as a Ranger would on an inspection trip.

Junior Wardens were sent to the course by their home town sponsoring organization and accompanied by the club leader. The school was sponsored by the Alberta Department of Lands and Forests with instructors from the Department's Edmonton headquarters.

Alberta Forest Service instructor Jack McNabb is shown demonstrating tree callipers to a group of junior wardens in the area near the new training school. Left to right are Noel Armstrong, Hinton; Mr. McNabb; Wayne Michener, Edson; Jim Affolter, Edson, and Dennis Maine, Hinton.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

The weather for the most part in August has been dry. Crops are ripening and harvest has begun. It is much earlier than last year. Some began swathing and cutting around the middle of August.

Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Lundblad from Valleyview were guests at the home of the latter's brother Alvin and Evelyn Throndson, the evening of Aug. 13. The next day the Throndson families gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Strome to honor the latter's dad Mr. Gus Throndson of town on his 75th birthday.

On Aug. 14th church service at Allandale was conducted by Mr. Samuel Pagee. He had a very impressive service, well delivered, on "Authority". Freddie Brooks accompanied Mr. Pagee from his south field.

Mrs. Strome Sr. fom Inglefield, Sask. visited with her sons Ort and Ralph and families the weekend of August 14.

On Aug. 15 Mrs. Mabel Lee of town and her daughter Mrs. Anna Strang and family from Lloydminster left for Toronto to visit relatives.

SURPRISE VISITORS

The Whelan family at Lincoln Park had a very pleasant surprise recently when Orlene's uncle and aunt, the Earl Nelson's from Vancouver called. They also visited at the Walsh home in the city. They had been at Athabasca at sister Izola and Walter Peters and family and brother Gilvia and Pearl Deford and family.

On Aug. 14 Mr. and Mrs. Omness accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Matheson and daughter Cheryl to church service at Riverton. Mr. Eric Snider has been conducting service through the summer months. Guest for the evening was Mr. Graham Fraser who was relieving at Lloyd [illegible] United. Theme for his service was Love.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb McPhee were Edmonton visitors for several days recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Baldwin had as their guests on Aug. 17 the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wharty from Mannville [illegible] had grandchildren along [illegible] for them while their mother is in the hospital with a new baby. Aunt Judy was along too.

HONOR BRIDE-ELECT

A very pleasant evening was had at Mr. and Mrs. Norman Armstrong's home the evening of Aug. [illegible] when relatives and friends gathered to honor a bride-elect of the month Miss Jean West. Mrs. Armstrong has beautiful flowers and through her kindness all the ladies made a corsage for themselves. Other amusing contests followed. Jean was very appreciative for the many lovely gifts she received. A [illegible] lunch was served.

On Aug. [illegible] Dorothy and Raymond Wilson accompanied Grandpa Omness north to [illegible] Point and on to Muriel Lake. Mrs. [illegible] Swanson has sold her [illegible] [illegible] and has moved to [illegible] where she will be near her daughter Mr. and Mrs. Howard [illegible] and family.

Noticed along the way — a [illegible] [illegible] his crop with horses and binder.

VACATION SCHOOL ENDS

It was a pleasure to join the Riverton congregation for their closing vacation school exercises. Mr. Snider and his helpers had a very full week and accomplished much. We renewed several acquaintances and met some new ones.

On the afternoon of Aug. 22 Rev. and Mrs. MacKay and sons and Miss Ann Evans were visitors at the Omness home. They showed slides taken on their holidays and of Camp Whitney which were much enjoyed.

The latter part of August Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hobbs and family were holidaying with the latter's parents, the Rufus Omness home at Kelowna, B.C., Mr. and Mrs. Warren Edwards and family were in Edmonton as were Mr. and Mrs. Selias Lee and family. Mrs. Lee's brother, Mr. and Mrs. David Williamson, who were honeymooning overseas, were recent visitors at that home, passing through on their way home to the Peace River district.

Heavy rain was experienced on August 23rd with intermittent showers later.

Mrs. Delia Walsh and family arrived at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Omness, for a few days holiday before school opening.

Ervin Oakes from Stoney Lake is helping through harvest at the Alvin Throndson farm.

On Aug. 21 Merna McPhee accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Currie and family from town to Cold Lake to visit Mrs. Currie's cousin the Leonard Alsop family. Irene McPhee spent the first part of the week at the Colin West home at Louisa Lake and around the middle of August Billie McPhee spent a week at his uncle Norman and Lorne's at Pelican Lake helping to shingle a garage.

Misses Merna and Irene McPhee accompanied their uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. John David to Banff the week end of Aug. 27th.

Happy holidays to Mr. Joe Killian and his niece Myrtle Killian of town who plan to leave August 31st for Guelph, Ont., Joe's old home.

HONOR MRS. ARMSTRONG

Folks from Allandale and town were present at the Wm. Armstrong home in Vermilion on the evening of Aug. 24. This had been planned for the evening before but it rained all that day. The gathering was to honor Mrs. Etna Armstrong on her 70th birthday Aug. 23, and proved a complete surprise to her. It was a joyful evening for all, especially our hostess, despite the fact she had injured her hand a few days previous in the wringer of her washer. Lunch was served by the ladies including a decorated birthday cake. Mrs. Armstrong thanked all for the lovely gift and purse received, stating that both she and Bill were always happy to have folks call.

Marlene and Dorothy Wilson accompanied their aunt, Mrs. Delia Walsh and family to the city on Aug. 26.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Martin Jr. on the birth of a son, Dennis, on Aug. 16th.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Baldock from Camrose were in Vermilion on Aug. 27th [illegible] and friends and in Allandale at the week end.

We hope our editor and staff had a restful and [illegible] holiday.

Nearly 2,000,000 immigrants have come to Canada since the end of World War 2 while 432,000 Canadians have emigrated in the same years.

NEWS from ISLAY

On Thursday, Aug. 25th a number of the members of the W.A. gathered to give the church a good cleaning while several of the men were putting new asphalt shingles on the roof.

Omar Easton called on the Gordon McFadyen family at Elk Point this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Elliott of White Rock, B.C., are on a tour, having a house on wheels. They are calling on old friends and relatives here. Sunday they were at the Neil McLennan home. Mr. Elliott ranched eleven miles south of Islay in the early days. Mrs. Elliott is the former Elsie McLeod, a teacher in those pioneer days in this area.

It is said that much of the grain is being put up in stooks this year, not only in the Islay area but elsewhere, and when one takes a drive in the country this is quite noticeable.

A deep well has been dug close by the C.N.R. station — very convenient for the King family.

Keith and Elaine Sherriff were callers at the Gordon Purser home Monday evening.

Don Martin is home again after spending the summer at Banff where he was employed.

Ten little children gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cote on Saturday for a birthday party for little Sheila Mae, four years old and wee George one year.

Mrs. Nixie of Kitscoty is visiting at the home of her daughter Rose, Mrs. Roland Buchanan.

FALL FASHION NEWS FROM CRAIG'S!

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to extend my appreciation to all my friends who attended the party given in my honor, and for the gift received, upon my departure from Derwent. The decision to leave was not an easy one to make after 42 years residence in the community. However for health reasons I had to seek a different climate. A heartfelt "thank you" to one and all.

H. Meyerman.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank Dr. Stephens and Dr. King, Matron McPhee and the hospital staff for their care and kindness during my six weeks' stay in the hospital. I also wish to thank my friends for their gifts, get-well cards and many welcome visits.

Mrs. Marion Davis.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many friends and neighbors for the lovely gift and evening given us in respect of our 40th anniversary.

Guy and Clara Miller.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all the ladies who helped with the cooking and serving at our wedding. Also the ladies who served supper at the dance and those who supplied the music. Thanks for everything everybody.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Maddex, Dewberry.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank all my friends and neighbors who were such a help to me while I was unable to work. Your kindness is deeply appreciated.

Ray Williams.

APPRECIATION

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for the farewell gift and the many expressions of good wishes received on the eve of our departure for Edmonton from the following friends: Mary Grystik, Annie Link, Dune McDonell, Joe Shaw, Jim Wallington, Mr. Anderson, A Horpestad, S Wickham, R MacPhee, B Moore, Mr. and Mrs J Sadownyk, Harry the Taylor, Allan Jones, Walter Coulter, Arnold Winter, Alf Hodgson, I Gordon, Bill Krys, F Doyle, Wm. Mayowski, Edith Gunn, Anne Baddock, J Coma, K Jacula.

John and Jessie Hlus.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of George Frederick [illegible] —who passed away Sept. 4, 1958.

"His smiling way and pleasant face
Are a pleasure to recall;
He had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet him,
Some day, we know not when,
To clasp his hand in the better land.
Never to part again."

Lovingly remembered by wife Joy and daughter Helen.

Provincial government revenues from gasoline taxes, vehicle registrations, license fees and traffic fines was $504,000,000 in 1959, an average of $107 per vehicle and nearly one-quarter of all provincial government revenues.

Rotarians Hear Talented Speakers

Vermilion Rotarians were fortunate during their meetings in the holiday month of August in that the program committee was enabled to secure three outstanding speakers.

For the first August meeting the speaker was Floyd Moore, president of the West Edmonton club and who in business life is traffic manager of Canadian Coachways Ltd. Mr. Moore told of bus transportation in the north and the tourist traffic in that area. His remarks about operating buses in the Peace River in the early days were both interesting and amusing.

The club was fortunate to hear Dr. John Convey, director of Mining and Metallurgical Research of the National Research Council of Canada, Ottawa. Dr. Convey, originally a Clandonald boy, has a remarkable record of achievement to his credit.

Sam Pagee, student minister from the Auburndale field, gave a very learned address at the August 19th meeting. The subject was "The effect of scientific theories on the emotions of human beings". Mr. Pagee comes of an Orthodox Hindu family and is studying Theology at the Mount Allison University, N.B.

The final August meeting was taken up hearing of the holiday outings of some of the members of the club. Supplying the entertainment were Fred Stewart, Gordon Ross, Chauncey MacKay and Ashley Cooper.

The Vermilion board of trade has organized five groups to help with stooking. Captains of the groups are Charlie Laverty, Jim Swanson, Russell Carroll, Dan Logan and Bill Pilkie.

A delegation from the Vermilion board of trade has asked the provincial government to see that the new buildings erected on the grounds of the V.S.A. for use of the C.W.A.C., [illegible] for educational purposes and not turned over to war assets for disposal.

Mr and Mrs. Dave Andrew and family are leaving for Calgary where they will reside in future.

Three Vermilion men, Flt./Lt. Doug Brimacombe, Pte. A. E. Winter and Bdr R. Barnett, all veterans of the Italian campaign, have returned to Vermilion from overseas during the past week.

Vermilion River M.D. council was comprised of Reeve J. A. Currie, G. E. Clay, R. Thomson, J. C. Beaton, O. H. Quist, W. J. Casterton, E. J. Hillaby, D. G. Lawrence, F. Braithwaite, T. Balsham.

Unsettled weather prevails with hail damage reported as a result of a storm last Thursday.

The Superior Lumber Co. was awarded the contract to supply materials for 138 farms under the Hudson's Bay and C.P.R. Colonization plans which centre on Vermilion.

Eight degrees of frost were recorded Sunday night. Cutting of grain is well advanced and the yields are exceptionally heavy.

One hundred and sixty-four applications have been received from students planning to attend the V.S.A. this fall and winter. The new dormitory will be in use for the first time.

Edmonton "Friendship Train" To Visit Sixteen Alberta Centres

Under the sponsorship of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, a special Friendship Train will visit sixteen communities as far east as Lloydminster on Sept. 21 and 22. The group will travel to Lloydminster over the CPR and return home over the CNR.

The trip is being organized by the chamber's trade relations committee, headed by G. D. O'Brien. Its purpose is to develop closer liaison and good relations between the Edmonton business community and the Edmonton trading area.

In past years similar trains proved to be outstanding successes and officials are confident that this will be a repeat venture.

A feature will be the distribution of souvenirs to approximately 10,000 school children at station stops.

The maximum train accommodation is 64 persons. There will be a special baggage car which will be available as a recreation car, with three musicians on hand for entertainment.

Leaving the north side CPR station at 7:30 a.m. Sept. 21, the train will make stops at Andrew, Willingdon, Two Hills, Western Chemicals Ltd. plant at Duvernay, Myrnam, Derwent, Clandonald, Marwayne, arriving at Lloydminster at 6:05 p.m. for a reception and dinner.

Leaving Lloydminster at 9 a.m. Sept. 22 over the CNR, the party will make stops at Kitscoty, Vermilion, Mannville, Innisfree, at Vegreville for a reception and luncheon, Mundare, Lamont and Bruderheim, reaching Edmonton at 6.45 p.m.

Seek McConnell-Turner Descendants

CHICAGO — A will-o'-the-wisp search is under way over the vast area of British Columbia and Alberta for descendants or other next of kin of the late Samuel and Mary McConnell Turner who are wanted to claim a $27,000 estate left by a long forgotten relative.

This became known when Gordon L. Cox, probate genealogist, 188 West Randolph St., Chicago, who specializes in tracing missing relatives to settle estates, took over the hunt on more than half-century old clues.

"Members of the Turner-McConnell family sought," Mr. Cox said, "dropped from sight at Somers, near Kalispell, Flathead County, Montana, in 1898, shortly after the birth of a son, Walter.

"They were believed to have scattered into B.C. and Alberta, Walter going on to Alaska in the 1890s while some of the others settled in the two Canadian provinces."

The estate was left, Mr. Cox added, by a descendant of Samuel and Mary Turner, the latter's maiden name being McConnell, and under inheritance laws applying reverts back through their lineage to their nearest kin.

"Children of the couple would obviously be quite aged," Cox said, "and it is likely that grandchildren or nieces or nephews may prove to be the heirs sought.

"Members of the family are of Irish descent, both Samuel and Mary McConnell Turner being shown by records in the effects of the deceased to have come to this country from Saint Johns, [illegible]."

Fire Damages Mannville Home

MANNVILLE. — Apparently stemming from faulty wiring, fire Saturday, Aug. 20th could easily have levelled the home of the village shoemaker, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Grabas, but for the valiant effort put forth by the local fire chief and his men. The alarm sounded minutes after the local curfew was heard, as smoke was observed coming from the roof of the dwelling. Damage was extensive.

Hog Quality Premiums Increased By $1.00 — Effective Oct. 3

OTTAWA, August 25 — Agriculture Minister Douglas S. Harkness announced today that effective for hogs slaughtered on and after October 3, the quality premiums will be $3 per hog for carcasses grading Canada Grade A, instead of the present $2 for Grade A and $1 for Grade B.

Mr Harkness pointed out that this is in line with a statement he made in connection with the change in national grade standards for hog carcasses, which went into effect Oct. 5 last year.

At that time, he said that in view of the importance of encouraging the highest possible percentage of Grade A hogs, it was proposed to devote the quality premium entirely to hogs of that grade, starting the latter part of 1960.

Mr Harkness emphasized the need for improvement in quality if the Canadian hog industry is to maintain its rightful position in the domestic and export markets. A higher proportion of lean meaty carcasses is necessary to sustain and increase consumer preference for pork products in the face of strong competition from other foods.

There has been some improvement in the percentage of Grade A hogs since the revision in carcass grades, and the minister hoped the adjustment in quality premiums would provide added incentive. During the first half of this year 30.1 per cent of hog carcasses qualified as Grade A.

It would be profitable for producers to increase the percentage of Grade A's, he said, and judging from past performance of individual producers and communities, it would seem that they could easily double the present figure.

CROOKED TEETH

The smile is the most important feature of any face. It radiates warmth, friendliness and appreciation. It should be the most attractive view possible. Unhappily, many a beautiful smile is spoiled by crooked [illegible]. The lower jaw may extend beyond the upper jaw, like that of a bulldog. There may be one or two teeth twisted or jutting out or crowded between the others. Or perhaps one side of the jaw is a different shape from the other side.

Irregularly shaped jaws and teeth are sometimes inherited. But for every child who is born with such hereditary tendencies, four children either cause the irregularity themselves or their parents let it develop through lack of dental care. Even the fifth child, the one who got his "buck teeth from his father", can, through proper dental care, improve or correct this condition.

The important fact is that in most cases, malformed teeth and jaws can be prevented. Four out of five people with irregular teeth have let this condition develop because they or their parents did not know the causes of malocclusion or did not know it could be corrected. X-ray and dental examination around six years of age may reveal many causes of future irregularity of the teeth and face before they have a chance to cause permanent changes in growth.

Putting on the Pressure

During growth, bone is much more easily distorted than most people realize. Its shape and growth can be altered by very slight pressure, as has been demonstrated from prehistoric times up to the present by people who had their own ideas of beauty. Among the Flathead Indians it was fashionable to be a "pointy head". By exerting gentle pressure of the heads of their babies, they made them grow into a strange shape with apparently no discomfort to Junior. Even today examples of bone distortion due to abnormal pressure can be found. Look at the bow-legged cowboy, the hump-backed shoemaker whose jobs cause them to work in abnormal positions.

Permanent changes in the shape of the jaw and the face can result from very slight pressure of the tongue or lips, if it is continuous. The most obvious example is that of the "mouth-breather". A child suffering from enlarged adenoids, for example, breathes with his mouth open. The upper lip is not exerting any pressure on the front teeth, but the tongue is pressing from behind. When the mouth is open, there is tighter muscle pressure from the cheeks, and these factors result in narrowing the upper jaw or arch, and causing buck teeth.

Irregular teeth may be caused whenever the pressure of the cheeks and lips against the outside of the teeth is greater or less than the pressure of the tongue against the inside of the teeth.

There are many other forms of pressure that distort bone growth. For example, tongue thrusting, lip biting and thumb-sucking, if persisted in vigorously up to five and six years of age and beyond, may cause irregularity of the teeth that is difficult and expensive to correct. The pressure from these habits is often greater than that used by the orthodontist to move teeth, and may press the new permanent teeth out of their proper positions as they grow in. The dentist can advise whether or not the habit is having a harmful effect, and if so the help of both the dentist and the physician may be needed to correct it.

Another common reason for malocclusion is the tooth that got away too soon. If a baby tooth decays and is lost or has to be pulled out before the permanent tooth is ready to take its place, the teeth on each side of the space where it was will tip toward each other, closing the space. When the permanent tooth does try to come through, the space that it should have is already occupied, and it has to twist and [illegible] out of line in order to find [illegible] for itself. This form of malocclusion is easy to prevent. First, the number of cavities can be [illegible] reduced by teaching the very young child to brush his teeth immediately after eating, and by seeing that he does not eat candy and sweet foods too frequently. Secondly, have the child's baby teeth cared for by a dentist from the age of 3. The tiny cavities can be filled before they destroy the tooth to the point where it has to come out. Thirdly, if a tooth is lost too soon, the dentist can put a "space maintainer" between the remaining teeth to hold the space for the permanent tooth.

Once in a while a baby tooth outstays its welcome. Long after the permanent tooth is ready to come through, the old baby tooth hangs on to the space it should vacate. The permanent tooth is coming anyway, and if it can't go where it belongs it will come out at an angle beside the other tooth. This can be prevented very simply by the dentist who will take out the sluggard tooth and make room for the new permanent one at the proper time. Sometimes an extra tooth comes in, a little peg-shaped affair that has no business there in the first place. Unless the dentist has a chance to see it and take it out, it will be responsible for overcrowding and resulting distortion.

It May be Something he Should Have Eaten

Vitamin D and calcium are essential for proper development through the period of growth, when the facial bones are especially vulnerable to even very light abnormal pressures. A child who is not getting enough milk, cheese and Vitamin D in either liquid or capsule form, is particularly susceptible to bone distortion.

Sometimes for no reason that anyone can find, a child's teeth may arrive in the wrong order. Nature has worked out the best order for them to come so that new teeth appear at places where there is space for them. Sometimes teeth appear at inconvenient times and the resulting "jumbling" causes irregular teeth. Fortunately X-ray tells the dentist what is going on and comparatively simple treatment carried out at [illegible] and seven years can correct the situation before the growth pattern of the jaws is seriously affected.

It is hard to change habits. The help of both the physician and dentist may be required. Mouth breathing for instance is often caused by adenoids or enlarged tonsils which should receive the attention of the physician. But even when the cause has been removed, the child may have to learn exercises to teach him to breathe through his nose and to press his lips against his teeth to equalize the thrusting pressure of his tongue. In many such cases, too, the help of a speech therapist may be needed.

An Ounce of Prevention

Parents can help forestall malocclusion in several ways. First, a good diet based on Canada's Food Rules and daily doses of Vitamin D up to age sixteen will help grow strong, healthy bones. Just as important as good food is the encouragement of good eating habits.

Children should start regular visits to the dentist at the age of three. Early attention to the small cavities will lengthen the lives of all teeth, but is particularly important for the baby teeth.

Tonsils and nasal obstructions should be removed if the family doctor finds that they interfere with normal breathing. Habits causing abnormal pressure upon the teeth, if vigorously continued beyond infancy should be corrected if a dentist finds that injury is being done.

Indeed, every child is entitled to a beautiful smile!

August Weather Slows Road Work

The Hon. Gordon E. Taylor, provincial minister of highways, announced this [illegible] that August has been generally a bad month for highway construction. To date, it [illegible] worse than August 1959 when 1,425 shifts were lost during the first 19 days of the month. This year, up to August 19th, 1,300 shifts have been lost.

A very excellent July [illegible] has enabled highway construction crews and contractors to keep the record of construction ahead of that of a year ago.

Sixty-one per cent of [illegible] contracts or some 220 miles have now been completed; only 44 per cent of the programme was completed a year ago. Under the stabilized gravel base course programme 142 miles or 54 per cent of the programme has been completed as against 46 per cent in 1959. Seventy per cent of the [illegible] mix programme (182 miles) has been finished as against only 46 per cent a year ago. Sixty-two per cent of the double surface treatment programme or 111 miles has been done this year; 47 per cent was completed at the same time in 1959.

Seventy-eight per cent of seal coat work has now been completed (161 miles) as against 71 per cent a year ago.

The minister expressed hope of at least six weeks of good weather between now and freeze-up. This amount of time is certainly required to complete any acceptable amount of our programme, he said.

Alberta 4-H Members At U. S. Congress

Four outstanding members, chosen from a total of 200 4-H'ers, are at present representing Alberta at the annual Montana State Congress. Approximately 300 American members and their leaders are also at the gathering in Bozeman, Montana.

Members of the delegation are Diane Stuart of Clive, Bernice Gordyko of Ohaton, Barry Campbell of Mossleigh and Ron Hanson of Calgary. All were chosen at the provincial eliminations. Selection was based upon accomplishment in 4-H work and knowledge of projects carried.

Miss Priscilla Mewha, Associate Supervisor, 4-H Clubs and Mr Ken Walker, District Agriculturist of Strathmore, accompanied the members to the U.S.A.

Alberta Will Again Participate In Winter Works Incentive Program

The government of Alberta has decided again to participate in the Municipal Winter Works Incentive Program. This was announced today by Honorable A. J. Hooke, Minister of Municipal Affairs and minister responsible for the operation of the program in Alberta. Mr. Hooke stated that the province will again provide a further incentive as in past years by paying twenty-five per cent of the labor costs of approved projects. In terms of value of project undertaken and also payroll costs, Mr Hooke [illegible] out that Alberta stood [illegible] Canadian provinces. He [illegible] the hope that this record will be equalled or surpassed this coming season.

Projects undertaken may be commenced not earlier than December 1st, the starting date of the program and work can continue to April 30th, next.

Mr Hooke said that as claims are still coming in final figures as to the extent of last year's program were not yet available. Indications are, however, that approximately $2,100,000.00 will have been paid to municipalities when the program is finally completed August 31st with the federal government paying $1,400,000.00, and the province $700,000.00.

Preliminary estimates show [illegible] a total of 373 projects in [illegible] were approved with an [illegible] total value of $12,800,000.00. The various projects are estimated to have employed 7,750 men and to have provided 301,010 man days of work.

The terms of offer of the 1960-61 program have been broadened to cover municipal buildings (excluding schools and hospitals) and also allow for the building of municipal structures such as water towers and pumping stations.

BOWTELL BULLETIN

Here we are again folks after our three months holiday in England.

We wish to extend our deepest sympathy to the Horricks family in their recent sorrow.

Brian Robinson, Beverly Sherwood, Pat Carey, and the Warawa children will attend school in Vermilion this year due to overcrowding at Islay.

Margaret Robinson and Brian visited a few days in Calgary with their aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Firth.

It was nice having Mrs. Jenkins of B. C. visit recently.

Shirley Williams enjoyed a visit with her grandparents in Edmonton while Mary spent some time visiting relations at the coast.

Sorry we missed George and Pearl Ronaghan from Creston. Leslie and Rena enjoyed your over night visit folks.

Beverly Sherwood celebrates her 11th birthday Sept. 6th.

Jim Repp was noticed taking home a new combine.

Tractors are humming early and late, harvesting the good crops in this part of the country.

Grandad Kay is riding the binder at his daughter's farm.

During the recent electric storm the electric power was off some 10 hours. Did you get some candles, Hazel?

The Pierman's little girl had the misfortune to get her finger badly cut with a power saw requiring medical attention.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Freestone of Edmonton were visitors to our district over the week-end.

Pemmican, a very high quality concentrated food made by Indians from dried, shredded buffalo meat mixed with fat, was used extensively by European explorers, particularly in the Arctic where it could be kept indefinitely.

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH DON McLENNAN

Wedding At Irwinville Church Unites District Families

McLENNAN—KENT

A very pretty summer wedding was solemnized in Holy Trinity church, Irwinville, on Saturday, July 16 when Miss Janet May Kent, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Kent of Marwayne, became the bride of Mr. Kenneth Don McLennan, the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. McLennan of Islay, Alta.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Brian L. Brown of Wainwright before an altar banked with vases of delphinium and peonies. The guest pews were marked with bows of white satin.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride looked radiant in a floor-length gown of white nylon organza over satin, styled with a bouffant skirt appliqued with lace. The little bodice of organza and lace was designed with cap sleeves and a scalloped neckline with sequin-edged yoke. Mittens of organza complemented her gown. A double crown of sequins and pearls held in place the bride's fingertip veil of French illusion and she carried a cascading bouquet of red roses and white daisies with twining ivy leaves. Her only jewelry was pearl earrings, the gift of the groom.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Phil Bass, and as senior bridesmaid Mrs. Earl Welin, sister of the groom. Miss Susan Bass, the bride's niece, was junior bridesmaid. All were charming in identical afternoon-length gowns of mint nylon sheer over taffeta complemented by matching picture hats, the junior bridesmaid wearing a bandeau. Their mittens and shoes were of white and their crystal jewelry was a gift of the bride. Each carried a Colonial bouquet of Shasta daisies.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr Bruce McLennan. Mr Brian Kent and Mr Darrell Welin, Mr Max Kent and Mr Bill McGuigan were ushers.

Mrs. Batty of Kitscoty played the beautiful wedding music and during the signing of the register accompanied Mrs Brian Kent who sang "A Perfect Love".

For her daughter's wedding Mrs Kent chose a two-piece ensemble in figured apple green with which she wore white accessories and pale pink carnations en corsage. The groom's mother was gowned in peach nylon. She chose a flowered hat and accessories in white and her corsage was of white carnations.

Following the wedding a reception for the large number of guests was held at the home of the bride on the beautiful lawn surrounded by towering spruce trees. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth centred by a beautifully decorated three-tiered wedding cake embedded in tulle and red roses. Summer flowers in crystal vases graced the table. The ladies of the Islay United Church W.A. served the guests luncheon at small flower-decked tables spread about the lawn.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. E. Brown and was very ably responded to by the [illegible].

During the reception the best man read a telegram of congratulations from an uncle and aunt of the groom residing at the coast.

Mrs V. Critchley, sister of the groom, was in charge of the guest book which well over one hundred guests signed during the afternoon.

For a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and other points in Ontario, the bride changed to a brown suit matching that of the groom. With this she wore beige and white accessories and cream roses en corsage. On their return Mr. and Mrs McClennan will make their home in Vermilion.

Among the many guests from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Phil Bass and children, Terrace, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Welin and children, Kitimat, B.C.; Mrs. V. Critchley, Brentwood Bay, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Young, Elstow, Sask.; Mrs. Rex Ferris, Saskatoon; Sqdn. Ldr. and Mrs. Ken Wark and children, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Isley, Brownfield, Alta.; Mr. and Mrs. Robyn Sloan and children, Stettler, Alta.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Loader and boys, Berrymoor, Alta.; Rev. and Mrs. B. Brown, Wainwright; Mr. Elmer Beckett, Camrose; Mr. and Mrs. A. Good, White Rock, B.C.; Flt. Sgt. and Mrs. J. W. Kent and boys, Lancaster Park, Alta.; Misses Jean and Linda McKerrihan, Edmonton, Alta.; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Kent and children, Edmonton.

Shower Honors July Bride at Irwinville

Honoring Miss Janet Kent, a mid-July bride, a miscellaneous shower was held on the beautiful lawn at the home of Mr and Mrs Howard McLachlan, Irwinville, on the afternoon of July 12th.

A large number of ladies from the Irwinville and surrounding districts were present and it was a pleasure to visit with Mrs Peggy Loss [illegible] and her daughters from Terrace, B.C. [illegible] sisters of the [illegible] Mrs. [illegible] [illegible] home for the week-end.

[illegible]

After the social hour [illegible] charming nieces drew a wagon before her. It carried a huge red apple for the teacher, [illegible] in person. On being opened it was found to contain a large number of beautiful and useful gifts to thrill the bride-to-be. Mrs Kent helped to open them and Mrs McLennan recorded each in the gift book after which they were passed around the circle of friends.

Miss [illegible], a school chum of Janet, who was home on vacation from Frobisher Bay, arranged the shower and acted as hostess in presenting the wishes of all the guests for many years of happiness to Ken and Janet. In reply Janet sincerely thanked those present for their good wishes and gifts and invited all to visit them in their new home in Vermilion.

A sumptuous lunch and a cup of tea brought to a close a very happy afternoon.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Alberta Surveys 25 Years Of Unparalleled Progress Under S. C.

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — Back in the depression-ridden 1930s the people of Alberta wrote a unique history by electing the world's first Social Credit government.

And the man behind it was a dynamic school-teacher evangelist from Calgary who came into the mixed-up political scene preaching a strange mixture of fundamentalist religion and monetary reform.

The late William Aberhart emerged as a leader at a time when prairie people, with much justification, had lost their faith in the old-line political parties. They were ready to try anything.

Aberhart did two important things. He replaced the chaos and frustration of the depression with a sense of direction and purpose, swung the people behind him in the belief they could, after all, do something to end their plight.

With his rolling oratory and and magnetic personality, combined with an ability to make people work for him, he brought the complicated causes of the depression and his equally complicated solutions down to the level where the common people could understand them (although critics still claim Aberhart didn't understand them himself.)

This business of bringing things down to the level of the masses made Social Credit the party of the people. And whether you agree with its policies or not, it still has to be rated as the party of the Alberta people if for no other reason than the way they turn out to vote for it.

This month Social Crediters are celebrating the 25th anniversary of their party's initial sweep to power in Alberta on Aug. 22, 1935.

In Edmonton some 400 party faithful attended a picnic at Victoria Park and watched a program which was reminiscent of the Aberhart days in its folksiness and liberal use of symbolism to get the message across.

The floodlit dome of the Legislative building gleamed through the trees and a huge bonfire blazed and crackled as Premier Manning, Mr Aberhart's protege and successor, got up to speak.

Mr Manning outlined the bad things his government had eliminated — things like sales tax, unearned increment tax, amusement tax and heavy provincial debt — all eliminated under Social Credit.

As he listed off the items cardboard logs bearing the labels were hurled into the fire by a pair of boys. "There goes the sales tax," said the premier as the first log went into the fire. Symbolically, Alberta was getting "rid of these things forever — even the memory of them."

25 FIRSTS IN PROGRESSIVE LEGISLATION

While Social Credit has thrown out some bad things it also has brought in some good things. These were symbolized by 25 gilded concrete blocks in a wall behind the speaker's platform. The bricks carried such labels as "widows' pensions," "supplementary pensions", "free maternity care" — in all, 25 "firsts", claimed by Social Credit.

The concrete block wall, said the picnic organizers, was symbolic of the prosperous, progressive province built by Social Credit.

Premier Manning paid tribute to the late Mr Aberhart. "Without him," he said, "we would not be here."

And for anyone who thinks that Social Credit has edged away from the philosophies of its founder, Premier Manning had this message.

He said Social Credit's spiritual core is the secret of its strength. So long as he has a voice in the party here or elsewhere, he said, it will not abandon its monetary theories or the religious foundation "which is the secret of its enduring strength."

The rest of the day's program was taken up with races, games, community singing and a show by Municipal Affairs Minister Alf Hooke and his troupe of entertainers.

CAREful Solution

SULU, the Philippines — A gift of 113 rolls of hog and barbed wire, delivered by CARE, has saved the crops of 24 families in Tawi-Tawi, a Moslem village in these southernmost islands. Because of their religion, the farmers would not kill the wild hogs that ravaged their fields. Nor could they afford to buy fencing. The wire to build their fences was bought by CARE, under its Self-Help program to give the needy tools to help themselves.

Former Derwent Nurse Married In Calgary Ceremony

Miss Olga Mary Pashulka, R.N. became the bride of Mr Floyd Robert Richards at a pretty double-ring ceremony on Saturday July 30th at the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary Ukrainian Greek Catholic church in Calgary. Rev Basil Martynyk officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs John Pashulka of Derwent, Alberta, and the groom is the son of Mr and Mrs. Robert Richards of Truro, Nova Scotia.

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a portrait bridal gown of re-embroidered lace and silk organza, with captivating pouf back. Pearl and sequin embroidery highlighted the Alencon lace appliques. Her white organza skirt with Alencon lace extended to a beautiful chapel train. The fingertip veil was held by a crown of seed pearls and her only jewelry was a matching culture pearl necklace and earrings, gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of live red roses with cascading white streamers entwined with red rosebuds.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Anne Stabler aunt of the bride, wore a waltz-length gown of lilac in tiers of lace over taffeta and carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations. Miss Irene Bohachik, R.N. and Miss Lillian Pashulka, cousin of the bride, wore identical waltz-length gowns of shrimp lace over taffeta with matching picture hats, and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations.

Attending the groom as best men were Alan Ratcliffe, Curtis Richards, [illegible] of the groom, and Alfred Archibald.

The reception was held in the Victoria Community hall where Bill [illegible] proposed the toast to the bride.

For her daughter's wedding the mother wore a sheath dress of [illegible] white hat and matching white accessories with a corsage of red sweetheart roses.

For the wedding trip to Banff and Radium Hot Springs the bride donned a sea green sheath dress and matching duster. Her accessories were white and her corsage was of red roses.

The happy couple will reside at 715-8 Ave. N.E. Calgary.

Greenskeeper No Week-end Gardener

JASPER PARK LODGE, Alta., August — It takes eight million, 400 thousand gallons of water a day, 107 sprinklers and a staff of 12 to 21 men to keep Jasper Park Lodge's 85-acre golf course green from June to September.

Proud keeper of this 18-hole championship course is a tall, white-haired, twinkling-eyed Irishman, "Jack" Milligan, father and early coach of one Canada's top women golfers, Rae Milligan.

In his dawn to dusk day, John F. Milligan checks to make sure that the course is kept paddy [illegible], the greens are mowed [illegible] and the trees and fairways [illegible] a week, the branches and trees are kept trimmed, the underbrush cleaned up, and the 60 acres of rough kept playable.

GIANT CANADIAN PHOTO FEATURED IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, August — A giant, colored enlargement of Maligne Lake in Jasper National Park will be displayed in New York's Grand Central Terminal from August 30 to September 26.

The Maligne Lake picture, sixty feet long and eighteen feet high, will be featured in Eastman's "Colorama" display — the first time that a Canadian scene has been used in the Grand Central exhibit.

Hon. Harry A. Scott, Canadian Consul General in New York, unveiled the Maligne Lake picture on August 30. Also participating in the unveiling were A. H. Hart, vice-president, sales, Canadian National Railways, Montreal, and Peter Brant of Rochester, N. Y., executive in charge of "Colorama" displays for Eastman.

Occupying a prime location in the station, the Canadian picture will be seen daily by an estimated 300,000 people.

Vauxhall... the difference between skimping and saving!

THERE'S NO SKIMPING ON PLEASURE
That's the big difference with Vauxhall — it has the total visibility of wraparound windows — Ball-Race steering to help you into that tight parking space — a low centre of gravity to give you a wonderful feeling of steady, smooth control over the roughest roads.

NO SKIMPING ON COMFORT
That means sit-back-and-relax comfort for five passengers. With Vauxhall there's no struggle to get into the back seat, four wide opening doors provide easy entrance and exit. Contour-cushioned seats and steering column gearshift are two of the many other Vauxhall luxury features.

NO SKIMPING ON FEATURES

Alex Laboucane Loses Life Seeking Ride On Highway

Well-known in Vermilion and district for many years, Alexander Laboucane, aged 55, was instantly killed last Saturday night, Sept. 3rd, as he stood on the highway seeking a ride home.

The fatal accident occurred about 10 p.m. on highway 16 just a quarter-mile west of the outskirts of the town of Vermilion. According to reports Alex was standing near the centre of the highway, apparently seeking to catch a ride to his home in Vermilion. Visibility was very poor at the time as a heavy fog had come up. The driver of the car involved was Constable J. E. Snider of the Bonnyville detachment of the R.C.M.P. An inquest will be held.

Alex had gone to Mannville early in the evening to visit friends there. When he left their home it was his intention to catch the Greyhound bus back to Vermilion. It is surmised that after leaving the home of his friends he must have changed his mind, and decided to thumb a ride instead.

The dead man was born at Onion Lake, but his family came to Vermilion many years ago. Alex was deaf from birth and communicated only by the sign language and writing. He had attended the school for the deaf in Winnipeg and thus could read and write. For some time he worked in the dry cleaning plant in Vermilion, and was known as an efficient and conscientious worker. However, the hot damp air of the plant did not agree with his health and he had to give up that work.

He leaves to mourn his loss his mother with whom he lived in Vermilion, two sisters and six brothers.

Funeral services were held at the Holy Name Catholic church at 10 o'clock on the morning of Wednesday, September 7th. Interment followed in the Roman Catholic cemetery at Clandonald. The Rev. Father Landrigan officiated. Moyer's Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

D. R. Mitchell New Owner Oilfield Mtrs

Mr D. R. "Reg" Mitchell, having disposed of his interest in Mitchell Insurance Agency Ltd. will be owner and manager of Oilfield Motors as from Monday, September 12th, 1960.

The announcement was issued jointly Thursday morning by representatives of both firms concerned in the interesting transaction.

Mrs. G. C. Dunsmore Pioneer of 1910 Passes Away

An esteemed old timer of the district, Mrs. Margaret Ann Dunsmore, beloved wife of Mr. Gordon Dunsmore, passed away in the Vermilion hospital on Friday, September 2nd following a [illegible] illness.

Mrs. Dunsmore was born at Portage Le Prairie and came west in 1910 when Mr. Dunsmore homesteaded in the Claysmore district. In 1929 they moved to Vermilion and have since resided here. Mrs. Dunsmore was a life member of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church and of the Women's Institute. Only this past summer Mr. and Mrs. Dunsmore celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary.

She is survived by her loving husband, three daughters, [illegible], Kitscoty, Mrs. William Phillips (Myrtle), Ft. Nelson, B.C., Mrs. [illegible] (Eleanor) Lloydminster and two sons, B[illegible] of Swan Hills Alta., Mac of Edmonton. There are eleven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Three sisters and two brothers reside in Portage Le Prairie, Manitoba.

Funeral services were held at the First United church, Vermilion, on Monday, Sept. 5th with interment following in the Vermilion cemetery. Rev. C. W. MacKay officiated.

Moyer's Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Overture Concerts To Start Sept. 15

The Lloydminster Overture Concert Association has announced that concerts for the season will begin with the Hart House Symphony under the direction of Dr. Boyd Neel on Sept. 15th. The Canada Opera Co. will perform the "Merry Wives of Windsor" on Nov. 23. The third concert, scheduled for Jan., will be the famous American tenor John Carter.

The concert series will conclude with the world renowned pianist [illegible] in early April. This outstanding series will announce an enjoyable musical season.

Mrs. [illegible], director of the Association, will be in Vermilion Sept. 9 and 10 directing the sale of season tickets. Persons interested in obtaining season tickets are requested to leave their name with Mr. Tom Watts in the Northern Hardware.

You Are Going To Have A Visitor!

Yes, everyone in Vermilion is going to have a visitor this coming week, commencing Monday, Sept. 12. The caller will be none other than a member of the Rotary club, and a good friend of yours.

The purpose will be to record your name on Rotary's Vermilion community calendar. Your name will appear on your birthday and it is hoped that every member of every family in town will have his or her name appear on the calendar. Not only that, but the names of all married couples will appear on their wedding anniversary. This all results in the most attractive and genial calendar ever to be hung on a wall, while it also serves the usual use of a daily calendar.

The cost of all this is negligible with the added incentive that all funds so collected are spent by the Rotary club on projects within the community.

The actual cost is 25c for each birthday and for each anniversary, and 50 cents for each calendar. Have your listings ready and when this genial member of the Rotary club calls, receive him cordially and co-operate with the club in their service work.

Anglican W. A. To Observe Anniversary Throughout Canada

It was seventy-five years ago that permission was granted to seven devoted women with vision, to form an auxiliary to the Missionary Society of the Church in Canada. The first meeting was held in Ottawa, and from this grew the present organization with nearly 59,000 members in 2800 branches across Canada. The W.A. now works with the General Synod in all phases of church life.

The Women's Auxiliary has a Dominion constitution and each of the 29 dioceses has its individual constitution based on the original. From supporting one missionary in its early formation, the present organization is now responsible for nearly 125 in the missions at home and abroad, and is annually training more candidates at the Anglican Women's Training college in Toronto.

The Auxiliary supports kindergartens, hospitals and all work connected with women and children both at home and overseas.

A special service of thanksgiving is being held in Ottawa at Christ Church cathedral, where the Dominion Board is in session. A diocesan service of thanksgiving is being planned for the same Sunday, Sept. 11, at the Anglican cathedral in Edmonton at 7.30 p.m. to which all women are invited. Locally, the two branches at St. Saviour's in Vermilion will be attending thanksgiving services at 11:00 o'clock when it will take the form of a corporate communion, while the Christ Church branch at King Edward will be keeping their anniversary service at 2 p.m.

Ladies' Softball Tourney Sunday

All is now in readiness for the ladies' softball tourney which is planned for this Sunday, September 11th, at the athletic park. The sports attraction has been arranged by the Vermilion Cardinals ladies' fastball team.

The games are due to commence at 10:00 a.m.

Wins Triple Championship

Vermilion Soldier Attacked in Congo

Sgt M. J. Benoit of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs Paul Goutier, serving with the UN Canadian Force in the Congo, was one of seven Canadian Signalmen attacked and arrested by Congolese troops at Stanley UN headquarters one Saturday recently. The men were forced into trucks at gunpoint and driven to jail where they were beaten and stripped of their arms, papers and money. After two hours the group was released upon the intervention of Ethiopian UN troops.

Sgt Benoit left Trenton, Ont. on August 22 aboard a U.S. Globemaster which carried Canadian Army Signals equipment and other personnel. He had previously been stationed with the 1st Signal Squadron, Currie Barracks Calgary and had been home only three days following a two-month summer concentration in Camp Wainwright before being called for duty in the Congo.

Rocky Road Riles Russ

A rough rocky ditch rather riled Russ Branham, contractor in charge, as he surveyed the rather twisty course his ditch had followed. However, rocky or not, there are quite a number of north-east Vermilion residents who welcomed the sight, as it means, at long last that they will be served by water and sewer conveniences. Work on this project is progressing well in spite of the rocky terrain.

N. N. Bentley Tells Rotary Members Of UNESCO Work In Iran

N. N. Bentley, a member of the local Rotary club told the members on Friday last of the nature of the work he will undertake for UNESCO in Iran. He will be in Baghdad at the end of this month. Mr Bentley also spoke of his former U.N. [illegible] in Egypt and ran a tape on which were recorded interviews with representatives of other countries of the United Nations in Cairo. This proved extremely interesting bringing forth as it did many impressions carried abroad of Canada and Canadians.

[illegible] was introduced by [illegible] and thanked on behalf of the club by Jim Robson. The club members [illegible] for a year but are quite proud that a Vermilion club member has gained such wide international recognition as to be twice chosen for UN work.

Dedication service for the new Hammond organ will be held in First United Church on Sunday Sept 11 at 11:00 a.m.

Senior Citizens' Lodge Open For Inspection Sunday, Sept. 11th

As many people have expressed the desire to see the interior of the Vermilion Valley senior citizens' lodge, an inspection day or 'open house' has been planned for Sunday, Sept. 11th from 1 to 5 p.m. Everything will be completed by that time and everyone interested is invited to view the lovely interior and furnishings.

It is expected that the Lodge will be in operation later on this month.

Hosts for the day at the Lodge will be the local management committee comprised of Mayor Melvin Hill of Vermilion, Mayor Wilfred Clifford of Kitscoty, Thomas Wilson, E. A. Locke, Charles Thompson, E. H. Buckingham, as well as the M.L.A., Ashley Cooper.

Friendship Train To Make Tour

EDMONTON — To promote and improve better relations between Edmonton's business community and trading area, members of this city's chamber of commerce travelling aboard a special "Friendship Train" will visit sixteen centres as far east as Lloydminster beginning Sept. 21st.

Accommodating 64 persons, the train will have a special recreation car with three musicians aboard to provide entertainment. And to exemplify its amiable title 10,000 souvenirs will be given to school children at station stops.

From Lloydminster to Edmonton on Sept. 22 the train will stop at Kitscoty, Vermilion, Mannville, Innisfree, Vegreville, Mundare, Lamont and Bruderheim.

Opening Social Planned by Club

A meeting of the Golden Age Friendship Club's committees was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Waldenberger to make arrangements for the forthcoming season.

A pot luck supper is planned for the first get-together, at the Legion hall on Wednesday Sept. 21st at 6.30 p.m. sharp. Members do not need to bring knives, forks, spoons, plates or cups as these are being provided by the club, but be sure and bring along a little extra food as the Mannville Friendship club is being entertained. It is to be hoped a nice turnout will be on hand and please bring a friend along.

Just a little reminder to all who are not members but would like to be. If you are fifty years of age or over, please feel free to come to one, if not all, of our socials — and if your husband is over fifty and you are not or vice versa you are both cordially invited; there is no entrance fee, no forms to fill in, just sign the register and that's it. Once you have attended one of the socials [illegible] the biggest year ever.

10 Students Attend School for Retarded

Almost a capacity enrollment faced teacher Mrs. Myrtle Sens and assistant Mrs. Kay Hemmingway when they opened the doors of the Vermilion School for Retarded Children on Tuesday, Sept. 6th.

The students attending encompass an area from Mannville on the west to Marwayne on the east, with six from Vermilion and immediate vicinity.

The school was in complete readiness, however one item is in great need, and that is a piano, organ or some like instrument to provide musical entertainment and appreciation. The present school funds are not sufficient to permit purchase of one of these and it is hoped that one may be donated or loaned for the school's use.

Special Acreage Payments To Start Sept. 11; Rate $1.00 Acre

The Hon Douglas S. Harkness, Minister of Agriculture has announced the arrangements for acreage payments to western grain producers under the $42 million provided for the purpose at the recent session of Parliament.

Regulations governing the payments have been passed which designate the Canadian Wheat Board as the paying agent. Payments will be based on Wheat Board permit books for the crop year 1959-60 and will be made directly to permit holders who are actual producers.

The permit books of the last crop year were selected in order to make possible prompt payment of the assistance. Had the 1960-61 permit books been used it would have taken several weeks longer before the payments could have been made.

Cheques for the payments will begin to be issued not later than during the week commencing Sept. 11 and will be completed as soon as possible.

The rate of payment will be $1 per cultivated acre, up to a maximum of 200 acres. "Cultivated acreage" will include all acres listed in the permit book except that shown as uncultivated land and natural pasture.

Commenting on the arrangement, the Minister stated that the purpose of the payments is to extend assistance to actual producers, particularly to the smaller western grain farmers. The total amount of the payments will be roughly equal to the amount western farmers would get if a two-price system for wheat were put into effect.

The making of these acreage payments at this time will provide funds badly needed by farmers to assist them in harvesting this year's crop. They will not only provide assistance in meeting a difficult regional problem, but will also be of great help to the general economy of Canada through providing increased employment in the manufacturing, merchandising and transportation industries.

Brownie Meetings

The Vermilion Brownie Packs will commence meetings next week for the 1960-61 term. The Second Pack meets on Monday, Sept. 12 at 4:30 p.m. with Mrs. Maxine King and Mrs. Jean Kowalchuk as leaders.

The First Pack meets Thursday Sept. 15 with Mrs. Madge Callan and Mrs. Marguerite Webb as leaders.

New members wishing to join in September must be 8 years old by Oct. 15, 1960. For further information mothers of girls in the Brownie age group may contact any of the leaders mentioned.

MINISTER OF HIGHWAYS EXPLAINS REGULATION RE SPINNER WHEEL DISCS

"Regarding the recent regulation passed by the Highway Traffic Board in connection with hub caps, I wish to advise that the whole purpose of the regulation was simply to protect the public," said Hon. Gordon Taylor, Alberta Minister of Highways today. "We have no objections to any type of spinner or wheel disc, providing it does not represent a potential danger to other persons."

The regulations reads, "An ornament or device known to the trade as "Spinner wheel discs" where the spinner is equipped with blades, fins or spikes protruding outward from the wheel and is likely to cause injury to persons that may come in contact with same."

"It should be made abundantly clear that the regulation does not forbid spinners of any kind unless they have protruding spikes that could cause injury to pedestrians or the property or person of others," said Mr. Taylor.

BURSARIES AVAILABLE FOR SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE STUDENTS

The Line Elevators Farm Service will again this year provide bursaries to students wishing to enroll in the Schools of Agriculture in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Since the establishment of this student assistance program, 65 young farmers have been assisted.

The bursaries awarded annually by the Line Elevators Farm Service are entrance bursaries. They are provided to encourage deserving and needy students, who are interested in farming as a career, to continue their education at one of the Schools of Agriculture in Western Canada. Although the provision of financial assistance to worthy students is the important aim of the bursary program, it is gratifying to report that high levels of scholarship have been attained by all students receiving the award.

Six bursaries will be available for the 1960-61 school term. They will be awarded on the basis of financial need, scholastic ability and maturity. The value of each bursary is $100.00 or $150.00 depending upon the School of Agriculture the student attends. For further details concerning these bursaries, and for full information on the agricultural courses offered this year, interested students should contact the Director or Principal of the School of Agriculture they intend to enter this fall.

The purpose of the diploma courses or similar courses offered at our Schools of Agriculture is to train young men in the skills necessary for successful farm management, and for community leadership. The courses are especially designed to prepare young farm people to meet the changes and challenges of the future. Western Canada needs more well-trained farm people. Young farmers are urged to consider the excellent opportunities for advanced training offered at the Schools of Agriculture in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

TAX RELIEF, JOBS IN OTTAWA'S PLANS

With one eye on the economic barometer, the federal government is charting its course for the months ahead, writes Don Peacock in The Financial Post. That course has a couple of alternate routes, but if the storm signals get much worse, it will certainly include: A fall session of Parliament; some radical proposals involving both taxation measures and make-work plans.

The tax measures now being discussed here would have the two-pronged aim of encouraging development of Canadian industry and its Canadianization. Among the possibilities: 1. Accelerated depreciation of capital costs for machinery, equipment and factory buildings by Canadian secondary industry (recommended by the Gordon commission in 1957). 2. Tax incentives to encourage more production for export — especially by foreign subsidiaries — of manufactured products. 3. Lower tax rates for companies that can show a stipulated percentage of Canadian ownership.

The Sherwood Family Return From Holiday in England

Mr and Mrs. Sherwood and Beverly returned home August 29th after a three-month holiday in England.

The voyage along the St Lawrence seaway was very interesting due to definite attractions. On landing at Southampton we were met by a niece and nephew of the writer's. The car ride to the middle of England was made in two days with many stops being made to enjoy the scenery. The first six weeks of our holiday were spent in Nottinghamshire where many tours were made of the surrounding country-side. Sherwood forest was visited where the Major oak was seen [illegible] Harwick castle. A visit was enjoyed with Mrs. Dedelly's sister and brother Bob and Lillie Pistell. Lilly's name is now Mrs. Brookes and she resides at Norfolk. Bob and Lillie lived for some years in Vermilion from 1915 to 1919, so many events of the early days were recalled. Bob has two barber shops and Mr and Mrs. Brookes have a lovely farm, milk twelve cows and raise chickens, having about 1000 of them at the time of our visit. They are assisted by their daughter and a hired man. They wished to be remembered to old timers around Vermilion. The country side was at its best during our visit and the roses were indeed a sight to see. A call was also made on a friend in Leicester who had corresponded with us for over thirty six years.

Stone walls, made in place of fences in Derbyshire, were noticed for many miles on a tour to Blackpool.

The last few weeks were enjoyed near London with Tom's relatives. On a visit to his birth place at Tatsfield it was found the house was still there and occupied by an old gentleman who knew the late Mr and Mrs. W Sherwood before they sailed to Canada in 1904. A day was spent in Regent park where the zoo took up most of our daughter's time. A visit was enjoyed with Charlie Burt's brother and family Mr and Mrs. J Burt of Kent.

Many points of interest were enjoyed in London including St. Paul's Cathedral, Buckingham Palace, Tower of London, the Parliament buildings and the famous old clock Big Ben.

In one group of relations it was found there were three Mrs. Tom Sherwoods, the writer, a cousin's wife and an aunt.

On arriving at Southampton shortly before our boat the "Sylvania" was due to sail, half her crew walked off but due to help from the passengers we finally set sail for Canada.

Increase in Fatal Accidents During Summer of 1960

Summer 1960 was above average for fatal accidents on the province's highways and July was no exception. The Alberta Safety Council reported this on Thursday as the long Labor Day week-end approached. Thirty six deaths were reported making the total for the year 32.7 per cent more than the same period of 1959.

In terms of accidents per death 73.4 to the end of July 1960 is second only to 1956 in being a black year on the highways. In 1956, there was a death for every 70 accidents. In 1959 the ratio was one for every 88, in 1958, it was 79, in 1957, 95, and in 1955, 94.

At the same time the council said police statistics for the province show the accident total is showing little change from last year — at 13,281 to the end of July it is up by 1.4 per cent. The injury total for the seven-month period — 3,035 — is 12.7 per cent less than in 1959.

During July alone the R.C.M.P. reported 29 deaths. Edmonton and Medicine Hat two each, and Calgary, three. Last year, the R.C.M.P.'s July figure was 20; Edmonton reported one; the others none.

The R.C.M.P. also reported an increase in the number of accidents from July, 1959, but a decline in the number of injuries. Edmonton reported marked declines in both. In Calgary, there also were declines in both, but they were pronounced. Medicine Hat reported increases all along the line: more accidents, more injuries and the two deaths. Lethbridge's record was uneven: fewer accidents but more injuries. Red Deer reported increases in both. For the month of July 1960 the accident total was 1,879 while July 1959 was 1,979; the injury toll July 1960 was 628, 1959 was 724, and the 36 deaths in 1960 compared with 21 in 1959.

Again reflecting multiple-fatality accidents, the 36 persons died in 27 accidents. The 628 injuries occurred in 408 accidents. Property damage for the first seven months of this year is estimated at $4,708,234.

FALL CUT ALFALFA

The critical period for cutting or heavy grazing of alfalfa is from August 15 until the end of September. It is during this period that the alfalfa plant stores root reserves which are necessary for winter survival and vigorous spring growth. Winter killing in this country can usually be traced to very heavy grazing during this period. As soon as the cooler temperatures or frost stop further top growth it is safe to cut the forage. Those farmers using good bunker or trench [illegible] find little difficulty in curing late fall cut alfalfa. Alfalfa put on top of greenfeed silage makes the whole silage more palatable and higher in protein.

GRASS FIBRE

A three-year-old stand of crested wheat grass will have added two and one-half tons of fibre per foot acre of land. In five years the same crested wheat grass will add three tons of fibre per foot deep acre of land. Prairie sod has about six tons of fibre in the top foot acre of soil. Fibre [illegible] as new fibre is added by the plant and a [illegible] commonly called root bound is set up. Actually the decaying fibre creates an abnormally high carbon content in the soil and the plants suffer for lack of nitrogen. Ammonium fertilizers (nitrogen) applied at rates of at least 150 pounds to the acre overcome this carbon and make an old stand of grass produce like new. On the farm where extra hay can be turned into extra dollars this is the best paying proposition for fertilizer.

SWINE NOTES

After October 3rd premiums will be $2 per grade 'A' hog carcass. The premium on 'B' carcasses will be discontinued. The grading services report a marked improvement in the grading of hogs for the first half of 1960. "Do you suppose the $2 premium for grade A hogs will further improve the hog going to market?" R.O.P. officials report the average Lacombe hogs on test reached market weight fifteen days earlier than Landrace or Yorkshires. Thirty breeding groups of Lacombe hogs will be drawn for Oct. 3. Interested swine men should contact the Lacombe Experimental Farm without delay.

GOING TO FARM?

Farming is becoming more complicated and more a way of business than a way of life. If you are going to farm don't stack the deck against yourself. Get all of the education you can and back it up with a year at the school of agriculture. For information contact your district agriculturist or the principal of the school of agriculture.

DUCK FOR DINNER:
In another week the duck-hunting season will be open and homemakers whose husbands are hunters will be faced with the problem of preparing the birds for the table. Not everyone likes game for dinner but correct handling and cooking can make quite a difference to the flavor.

HANDLING GAME BIRDS:
With game, fast removal of body heat is necessary. The hunters are advised to break the neck and drain the blood while still in the field. If carrying birds in the trunk of the car, spread them out rather than placing them in a pile. This hastens cooling.

PLUCKING OR SKINNING:
Unless you plan to roast the bird, skinning is the simpler method.

If you pluck your birds, pull the feathers downward in the direction they grow. Work as soon as possible after killing as the feathers set as the bird cools. Pinfeathers can easily be removed by immersing the bird in a pail of boiling water having wax on the top. The wax will cling to the bird when lifted out. When allowed to cool, the wax will harden and when peeled off takes with it the pinfeathers.

DRAWING DUCKS:
Ducks should be drawn as soon after killing as possible. Partly digested food in the gullet causes the flesh to become off flavored. The oil sack at the base of the tail must be removed or it will impart an undesirable flavor to the rest of the bird.

WILD TASTE:
To make the wild flavor less pronounced ducks may be soaked in a strong salt solution. This helps to draw the blood and reduce the wild taste. When roasting rather than using a bread stuffing fill the cavity of the bird with onions, apples, carrots or potatoes to absorb some of the wild flavor.

COOKING:
It is important to cook a duck at a low temperature 325 degrees Fahrenheit and to baste often. Place extra fat on breast and thighs to keep meat moist.

Milk should never be taken raw. Unpasteurized milk may carry the germs of undulant fever, bovine TB, septic sore throat and other serious diseases. If you are staying at a summer cottage or some place where pasteurized milk is not available do the job yourself. All you need is a double-boiler and a dairy thermometer. Probably a cooking thermometer would do just as well. Heat the milk in the double-boiler to about 145 degrees F. and then allow it to stand covered for 30 minutes, keeping the temperature around 145. Then cool as quickly as possible to 45 degrees.

The first of Trans-Canada Air Lines' Vickers Vanguards is now undergoing Certificate of Airworthiness development flying in England, prior to delivery to the airline late in 1960. The big, 96-passenger, 425-mile-an-hour turbo-prop airliner is scheduled to enter service on domestic routes early in 1961, succeeding the piston-powered North Stars and Super Constellations on medium-length routes. They will enter service on trans-border routes and to Bermuda and the Caribbean later in the year. The Vanguard is the world's first second-generation turbo-prop airliner, successor to the Viscount with which TCA introduced turbine travel to North America in 1955. By the end of 1961, TCA expects to become the world's first intercontinental air carrier with an all-turbine fleet, flying Viscounts, Vanguards and DC-8 jetliners exclusively.

Alliance Picnic At V.S.A. Grounds

The annual congregational picnic of the Alliance Chapel, Vermilion and the Tabernacle, Mannville, was held on the grounds of the School of Agriculture, Wednesday, Aug. 31st.

The recreational program was enjoyed by the large crowd, beginning with a variety of races and brought to a close with several ball games played simultaneously.

The group then went to the Chapel and were served supper by the ladies of the congregation. A devotional program closed the day's activities, with Pastor J. M. Schroeder as speaker.

All those present very much appreciated the use of the fine facilities and grounds of the School of Agriculture.

This would be a much better world if we had more wild life in our forests and less in the big cities.

St. Anthony's Church, Dewberry Scene of Tyler-Poitras Wedding

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Anthony's R.C. church Dewberry, on June 29th when Fay Maynard Poitras, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Poitras of Dewberry, became the bride of Robert James Tyler, son of Mr. Ed Tyler of Kitscoty and the late Mrs. Tyler.

Rev. Father Nearing officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father looked very charming in a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon net over satin. The fitted bodice of Chantilly lace was fashioned with a square scalloped neckline embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins and featured lily point sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion net was held in place by a pearl and sequin trimmed tiara. She carried a cascade style bouquet of pink roses and white daisies.

The maid of honor, Doreen Poitras, sister of the bride and Theresa Behnke, the bridesmaid, were identically dressed in waltz-length dresses of white ticatina crepe enhanced with turquoise cumberbunds which ended in wide streamers at the back. They wore turquoise halo hats and carried baskets of white daisies.

Marilyn McRobert, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and wore a dress of turquoise taffeta with white cumberbund and a white halo hat. She also carried a basket of white daisies.

The ring bearer, Lance McRobert, cousin of the bride carried the rings on a white brocade cushion.

The groom was attended by Edward Gerritts and Lorne Venance. The bride's brother, Norman, was usher.

The wedding music was played by Miss Cheryl Jones.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother wore a blue nylon brocade dress with white accessories and pink roses en corsage. Miss Katie Kell also wore a blue brocade dress with white accessories and pink roses en corsage.

A reception for over eighty guests was held in the Dewberry hall which was catered to by the C.W.L.

The bridal table was centered with a beautiful three tiered wedding cake nested in pink tulle and flanked by pink candles in glass candlesticks. Grace was said by Father Nearing.

Mr. John Anderson was master of ceremonies and called on Mr. McCorry of Kitscoty to propose the toast to the bride to which the groom ably responded.

Miss Patricia Tyler, sister of the groom was in charge of the guest book.

For a honeymoon trip to Jasper and district the bride wore a two-piece suit of turquoise wool with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

A wedding dance was held in the evening in the Dewberry hall which was well attended. Music was supplied by the Western Aces.

Out of town guests at the wedding were: Mr. Ed Tyler, Miss Patricia Tyler, Mrs. Beth Potter and Marcella, Mr. and Mrs. Milo [illegible] and Maureen, Miss Katie Kell, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. George McGregor, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Batty, Mr. [illegible] Franks, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Laughton, Mr. and Mrs. Reg Kay, Mr. James McCorry, all of Kitscoty; Mr. and Mrs. Stefan Wich, Miss Georgette McGregor, Mr. Doug Laughton, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] McLean, all of Lloydminster; Miss Carol Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin [illegible], Clandonald; Mr. Gordon Laughton Jr. of Vermilion; Mr. Bob Milne Jr. of Marwayne; Miss Jean Craig, [illegible]; Mr. and Mrs. George [illegible], Two Hills; Mrs. Ann Mitchell, Vegreville; and Miss Mary [illegible], Edmonton.

Ray Armstrong, Lois Swainston Wed At Big Valley, Alberta

A lovely wedding was solemnized in the United Church manse at Big Valley on August 12th when Lorna Eloise (Lois), the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Swainston of Big Valley and Raymond Norman Armstrong, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Armstrong of Vermilion were united in marriage. Rev. Stan Errett officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked radiant in a lovely waltz-length gown of nylon taffeta featuring lily point sleeves and a shawl collar with lace inset in bodice trimmed with sequins. Her chapel-length veil was held in place by a sequin trimmed tiara. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace and ear rings, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Dolly Swainston, sister of the bride was bridesmaid. She wore a pale green gown of nylon chiffon and carried a bouquet of baby mums.

The groom was attended by Larry Swainston, twin brother of the bride.

A dress of sapphire blue rayon crepe was the bride's mother's choice for the occasion. She wore a corsage of pink roses.

The groom's mother wore a blue and white dress with white accessories and accented by a corsage of pink roses.

After the ceremony a lunch for the immediate relatives of the bride and groom was held at the home of the bride's parents. The table was centered by a beautifully decorated three-tiered wedding cake.

For going away the bride chose a sand and tan ensemble with matching tan accessories and a corsage of red rose buds.

After a honeymoon to Banff, the happy couple will reside at Sangudo.

Pleasant Valley News

The men are really working early and late these days, some are combining but reports are that the wheat is tough. Rain over the week end didn't help matters any. Next thing will be the frost to spoil the lovely flowers.

The Reid family from Edmonton spent the holiday weekend with Lawrence and Chrissie Gould. Keith Inman's family journeyed to Consort to visit their relatives. Granny Gould played mother to baby Grant and Greig.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gould [illegible] enjoyed a visit from Betty and Gordon Turner. They viewed the flower garden by the light of the silvery moon and by flashlight.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kachuk, the former Marie Charchun

Marie Charchun Wed In Traditional Ceremony

A lovely young bride of Saturday June 11th Marie Charchun exchanged vows of marriage in a double-ring ceremony in the Greek Catholic Church of the Holy Ghost at Derwent with Mr George Kachuk.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs Catherine [illegible] and the late Mr Prokup Charchun of Derwent and the groom is the son of Mr and Mrs Steve Kachuk of Willingdon.

Rev. Fr John Cherkowsky performed the marriage ceremony. The bridal procession was led by the bridesmaids and the matron of honor. Each carried a crescent bouquet of dark to light pink shades of roses, arranged with a lighted tapered candle and lily of the valley. Their dresses were a cocktail princess pleated line in identical shades of azure to misty blue crystal charm. To complement their ensemble each wore a tiara of blue crystal beads and pearls. The bridesmaids were Misses Emily Charchun, Joyce Charchun, Lorraine Dubec, Georgina Kachuk, Cecilia Sheptycki, Gloria Katchuk. Mrs Ollie Miller was the matron of honor.

Best man was Mr Nick Iftody. The ushers were Mr Martin Kachuk, Bill Karbashewski, Ernie Andriuk, John Shymko, Nick Pundick and Peter Zurba. Each held a lighted tapered candle during the marriage ceremony.

The priest gave the bridal couple lighted candles during the ceremony. The candles symbolize light and therefore truth and knowledge all over the world. The bride and groom stood at the foot of the altar in front of the analloy on which are the Bible candles rings and crowns. After the marriage vows and placing of the rings by the priest the bride and groom were crowned with gold crowns. The crowns proclaim the bride and groom king and queen of their small kingdom and their future family willing to accept and share whatever life brings them. During a special blessing from the script the bride and groom knelt on a white carpet placed before the analloy by the matron of honor usually called the "traditional mother" to the bride for her wedding day. The best man is also called the "traditional father" to the groom. The white carpet is symbolic of love and purity. A white silk shawl was placed by the matron on the bride's head who then knelt before the statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary and prayed, a symbol of her blessing and a reminder of the meaning of the common prayer "Hail Mary".

BRIDAL GOWN

Mr Tony Charchun gave his sister in marriage. Her floor length gown was in silk organza with long lily point gloves designed with Alencon lace fitted bodice, sabrina collar embroidered with seed pearls. The bouffant skirt extended to a chapel train with had clipped scattered Alencon lace appliques embroidered with seed pearls. The bride's veil a hand rolled silk illusion mist was a chapel length, held by a French hand-cut imported crystal crown. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses.

The bride's mother chose a blue suit ensemble with pink roses en corsage. A blue printed silk dress was worn by the groom's mother. She chose a corsage of pink roses.

At the reception in the community hall Mr Daniel Chrapko proposed the toast to the bride. The bride and groom left for their honeymoon trip by car to the west coast. For travelling the bride changed to a floral silk sheath dress and blue coat. Her accessories were in white.

On their return the bridal couple will reside in Willingdon.

DEWBERRY HALL

Showing at Dewberry hall Fri. and Sat Sept 9 and 10. "The Man Inside". Jack Palance plays an all-too-human private detective assigned to recover a priceless gem. Sept 16 and 17 "Vertigo" a great and unusual picture with James Stewart and Kim Novak. It engulfs you in a whirlpool of terror and tension. 9

RIVERTON

[illegible] was united in the holy bonds of matrimony with Miss Pat Gleave of Edmonton on August 20th. Dr Young performed the ceremony in the Metropolitan United Church. Attending the wedding from this district were Mr and Mrs Jack Hansen. They also spent the week-end in the city to attend the trousseau tea given by Mrs. Gleave for her daughter.

Graham Hansen came home for a few hours recently in his helicopter.

Bible school was held in the Riverton hall with the majority of the children from the district attending.

The September ladies' meeting was held at the home of Mrs. [illegible] Hyatt with twenty-two ladies present.

Mr and Mrs. [illegible] celebrated their [illegible] wedding anniversary on September 1st. A surprise party was given by the family in their home.

Recent visitors to the district were Mr and Mrs Edward West, Mrs. I. G. Hyatt, Mr and Mrs. Charlie Norman.

THROW AWAY BOTTLES

[illegible] battle back with throw-away bottles against the trend toward cans in the soft drink industry reports The Financial Post. [illegible] introduces the disposable bottle in Kapuskasing, Ont. Soon they'll be sold in North Bay. The bottles have reduced glass content and about the same [illegible].

Wedding Bells

The following was unintentionally omitted from the Madden Skrenkowich wedding account.

Immediately following the wedding, a breakfast was served for the bridal party and relatives at the home of Mrs. Harold Cooper.

After the reception a dance, which was largely attended, was held with Mr George Butz as a very capable M.C. Music was provided by the Mulgrew Zaharko orchestra.

Among the out-of-town guests were the following relatives of the bride: Mr and Mrs. Stanley Skrenkowich, Miss Mary Skrenkowich, Mr and Mrs. Robt Elliott, Mr and Mrs. Leroy Waltz, Mr Billy May, Mr and Mrs. Mike Nydnuk.

NEWS from ISLAY

School is down to real business again with an enrollment of 72 and a staff of 3. Mrs. Irma Shaw is in charge of the primary room, Miss Janet Hall intermediate and Mr Merlin Moncrieff principal. A 36-passenger bus driven by Mr Inman has been added to the fleet of buses.

Both the vegetable and the flower gardens have been very prolific this year. Some of those admired were Mr. and Mrs. Alf Hollington, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Purser, Mr. Jack McNeeley and Mrs. Steinhauer. One day while in Kitscoty we drove around to see the begonias at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pidruch, a beautiful [illegible] we had never seen such [illegible], while the other flowers were wonderful too.

On Sunday Sept 4 at 11.30 a.m. Mr Eric Snider, the student assistant for the past four months to Rev. Mr Shortt of the United Church, preached his farewell sermon. After service a social hour was spent at a pot luck dinner in the church hall. We were pleased to have Mr and Mrs Orley Omness dine with us. After dinner Mr Moncrieff [illegible] some well chosen words of appreciation of Mr Snider's work among us, presented him with a carved leather wallet with his initials on it, made by Mrs Neil McLennan on behalf of the Islay congregation, also with the wallet was a poem composed by Mrs McLennan, who is our Islay poetess (watch the Allandale column for the poem). Mr Snider very nicely replied, thanking the people and Mrs. McLennan for the beautiful piece of work. Rev. Mr. Shortt also spoke, regretting in one way having Mr. Snider leave us but wished him God's speed on his journey and in his work at the United Theological College in Montreal, which fits him still more for his future work. It was nice too having Mrs. Barbara Hart and children with us, they had come to visit her parents Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Barnett. Mr Snider left next day by Volkswagen for his home at [illegible].

Honored On 80th Birthday

On Monday afternoon friends from Edmonton, Stony Plain, Wainwright, Auburndale, Mannville and Vermilion gathered and completely surprised Mrs. Peter Jensen at her home in Vermilion, the occasion being her 80th birthday. Peter had a hand in the organization of course but he never dropped a hint and the surprise was a complete success. Many beautiful cards and gifts were received which will help Mrs. Jensen to remember the happy afternoon.

A delicious lunch was served featured by a beautiful birthday cake all decked with candles and greetings. Happy Birthday was sung by young and old making the walls ring.

After the gifts were opened and passed around Mrs. Jensen thanked the friends for the wonderful [illegible] and the pleasure they had given her. She [illegible] up by reciting "My get up and go has got up and went."

It's Beautiful

A little park that catches the eye this summer is that at the C.N.R. depot. The grass is lush and well cared for, there is a fountain, plenty of flowers which make a colorful display, and lovely shade trees. The trees are quite a variety, including spruce, poplar, ash and maple, with caragana in the hedge. Much of the work in rejuvenating the C.N.R. park has been done by Mrs. Sifton Hammond, who deserves considerable praise for her achievement this summer.

Wilf Clifford Member Management Com.

In the Standard last week the name of Mr Wilf Clifford of Kitscoty should have appeared as a member of the management committee for the Vermilion Valley Lodge. Mr Clifford is a former Vermilion resident and since moving to Kitscoty has become mayor of the village.

Mrs. Alice Cambridge and daughter Frances arrived home recently from a delightful holiday spent touring the Pacific coast, many interesting points in Mexico including Mexico City, and the central United States. Mrs Cambridge proceeded by car to her new position in Hay River, N.W.T. and Frances flew to Yellowknife to take her grade twelve.

Mr and Mrs. W. R. Coma and two children Charlotte and Darrel, recently returned from a two weeks' holiday trip during which they visited Banff, Radium and Fairmont hot springs, through Idaho with return via Great Falls. On the way home they picked up a load of corn cobs at Taber, Alberta, and this led to a real corn roast at the Vermilion Park lake. Mr and Mrs. Coma were assisted at the corn roast by John and Marguerite Webb and this happy event was attended by 83 people including some from Lloydminster.

Miss Grace Taylor, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Ross Taylor spent the long week-end at the family home. Grace is now working in Edmonton.

The Standard made a married man out of Tom Brown in the local column last week. Tom is just plain Mister — no Missus to it.

Cecil Porter of Los Angeles was a visitor in town this week, a guest at the home of his mother Mrs. Tom Smith and Mr. Smith.

Friends were pleased to see Walter Fisk out and around again after a week in the Vermilion hospital. Walter's heart was acting up a bit again.

Guests at the home of Mr and Mrs. Walter Fisk for the holiday week-end were Mr and Mrs. James Fisk and two boys from Calgary, and Mr and Mrs. Mac Fisk and family from Edmonton.

Jim Lamport of Calgary spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Lamport.

GET GLASSES IF NEEDED

Surveys show that fifty per cent of school children who need glasses do not have them. Faulty vision may be the cause of an otherwise bright child being considered dull at school. Make sure your youngster has a complete medical check-up and eye examination before starting school, and periodically during his school years.

Japan Pro-Western

Those who cherish the notion that the communist-inspired anti-American riots in Japan in June reflect the mood of the Japanese people, would do well to ponder the findings of a public opinion survey completed by one of the most reliable opinion research agencies in the Island Empire. Poll, conducted by the Tokyo newspaper Asahi Shimbun, shows that 51 per cent of the population [illegible] the pro-Western Ikeda government and favor the signing of the U.S.-Japanese security pact. A mere 17 per cent were opposed, and only 17 per cent said they would vote for the opposition Socialist party.

Japanese poll results reflect the waning popularity of the Socialist party, closely identified in the public mind with the communist agitators who staged the June riots. As recently as 1956, Japan's Socialist party, in another poll, showed up as enjoying support from 30% of the populace.

THOUSANDS OF MILES FROM THEIR PACIFIC OCEAN HABITAT exotic fish swim contentedly in specially-transported sea water at the Calgary Brewing and Malting Company's new aquarium in Calgary. Calgary school girl, Leslie Evans, 11, and J. B. Cross, president of the Calgary Brewery, view the specimens which are among 100 varieties of fish and reptiles now on display at Canada's only inland aquarium.

Calgary Brewery Opens First Inland Aquarium

A pioneer [illegible] has successfully undertaken a public-interest project never before attempted in Canada.

The Calgary Brewing and Malting Co. Ltd. has established in Calgary the only salt water fish and reptile aquarium inland from Canada's coasts. The difficulty of obtaining sea water has always previously prevented the establishment of inland aquaria.

The new aquarium at Calgary is located on the Calgary Brewery grounds and the half-million dollar building which houses it will eventually also [illegible] a Western museum. On the same site, the Calgary Brewery [illegible] largest fish hatchery where the provincial department of lands and forests has reared nearly 100 million game fish fry and fingerlings for planting in provincial streams and lakes.

J. B. Cross, president of the Calgary Brewery, said in a press interview that the aquarium which was officially opened on August 25th by Premier E. C. Manning, is intended primarily as an educational project although it will have great value as a tourist attraction.

"Getting natural sea [illegible] for the aquarium was, of course, a tremendous problem when we first contemplated the display," Mr. Cross said, "but as long as we allowed that problem to beat us, prairie people and their families were going to be deprived of the opportunity to see the kind of sea life which exists so far away from our [illegible] here."

Consequently, as soon as the building with its 67 tanks—ranging in capacity from four gallons to 4,000 gallons—was completed, and the fish were on order, the Brewery arranged to have 46,000 gallons of sea water transported from the West Coast to fill the tanks.

Twenty-five truckloads of water were shipped to Calgary from Vancouver contained in [illegible] bags containing 1,500 [illegible] water each. The [illegible] is estimated to have cost [illegible]. With the water came consignments of tropical plants: their chemical process of growth freshens the water.

Some of the rare and exotic [illegible] Calgary. A sea turtle made the Vancouver-Calgary flight on his back so that the weight of his shell when he was out of water would not rupture his lungs. Two three-foot alligators were coaxed to back down the airline passenger ramp as their short forelegs made it impossible for them to navigate the steps in the ordinary way.

Among the fish from warm waters which visitors to the aquarium will see in the tropical section are sea horses from south-sea coral reefs, butterfly fish, lung fish from Africa, guppies, Siamese fighting fish, and sea creatures variously described as "upside down," "disc" and "moon" fish. Piranha—native to the world's largest river, the Amazon—have been obtained, and from the Pacific ocean have come special varieties of marine fish including sea perch, sea turtle, flounders and starfish. A shark will [illegible] ably be added to the display [illegible].

But Albertans who visit the aquarium will also be able to see their own native fish. The location of the aquarium on the prairies makes it ideal for showing local game fish, a feature not included usually in other aquaria. All species of [illegible] whose [illegible] in Alberta will be shown [illegible] as pike, perch, pickerel and [illegible] native to [illegible] province. The feature of [illegible] aquarium is expected to draw [illegible] siderable tourist attention.

The Calgary Brewery aquarium will be open to the public the year round daily including Sundays. Elmer Taylor, a professional aquarist formerly associated with the Royal Ontario Museum in Toronto is full-time [illegible] at the Calgary aquarium, and will be available to discuss with groups or individuals touring the display [illegible] interesting features and [illegible] of the rare fish and reptiles.

What Is TV Doing To Our Children?

The nuclear weapons that scorched Hiroshima, and now stand poised with a threat to decimate whole nations in the first wave of attack, may have less influence on man's future than the six-shooters in the hands of gunmen and sheriffs that stage nightly TV battles in our living rooms.

Nuclear power — whether used for annihilation or to serve mankind — affects only tangible things. But television has the power — on a scale never before approached in the history of the world — to sway the minds of men. In particular, it has the power to influence the minds and personalities of children, the men and women of tomorrow. Changes in thinking and character will always be more potent than changes in things, and the television coverage that now saturates the western world is undoubtedly moulding the future, in a subtle but highly significant way.

Thoughtful people are aware that TV is affecting Canadian boys and girls. But nobody has any precise knowledge of the extent to which they are being affected; nor of the direction in which they are swayed by this pervasive influence. In fact, there is little [illegible] to support a view that the overall effect of TV on our young people is either beneficial or undesirable.

Parents with TV sets can find much to say in favour of the medium. The entertainment is enjoyed by adults and children alike. Many programs have a strong educational value. It keeps children quiet and helps keep them in off the street. Parents commonly use TV as a "pacifier".

But psychologists are looking far beyond the surface advantages that can be commanded at the turn of a switch. They are speculating about long-term results to children [illegible] exposure to the "fantasy world" of television. They are thinking of the effect in the special terms of their profession. Addiction, Vicarious Habit Formation, Frustration Tolerance, Substitute Satisfaction, Identification, Interference with Practice of Real-Life Skills.

The part TV plays in a child's life is probably not different in quality from the influence of movies, the daily "comics" or even the traditional fairy stories. It is the quantitative impact that has made this a matter of such importance. An audience research study by the CBC in 1956 showed that "in Ottawa, the average English-speaking high school boy (with a TV set at home) views TV about 15½ hours a week; the average girl views about 18½ hours". This supports a study in Cambridge, Mass. in 1950-51, [illegible] that children averaged 18½ hours weekly looking at the home TV set. Thus, watching TV takes up about one-sixth of a child's waking hours.

The Canadian Home and School and Parent-Teacher Federation has moved this problem into the spotlight by a resolution urging the Board of Broadcast Governors to undertake comprehensive research into the effects of television upon the minds and personalities of boys and girls. Federation Treasurer C. M. Bedford, B.A., B.Ed., M.A. who drafted the resolution has specified that the Home and School want continuing long-term research into the cumulative effect of TV over a period of years. CBC "audience research" and short-term, unco-ordinated research of universities and scholars does not meet the requirements of the resolution.

Home and School, to underline the need they feel exists, have suggested a minimum research budget to the Board of Broadcast Governors — $62,000 annually. This represents about one-tenth of one per cent of the parliamentary grants expected to go to the CBC in 1960-61.

In effect, the 325,000 parents who make up the Canadian Home and School [illegible] have said this to the BBG and the CBC: "Television is doing something profound to our children. It is affecting [illegible] habits, their knowledge, their thinking. Therefore, it is gradually changing the whole future of the country. We do not know whether the overall effect of the change is good, bad or [illegible]. But we want to know. We believe it is very important — not only to us as parents, but to all Canada — that we should know. It is possible to get the relevant knowledge, but only through a research effort that is intense, and continuing. You have money from the nation that could make that effort. Will you please do it."

Canadians in and outside the huge Home and School organization will think this a good request. They will look to the Board of Broadcast Governors for a good reply.

Marwayne F.W.U.A. Notes

The August meeting of the Marwayne FWUA was held at the home of Janet Hancock on Monday last. President Mildred Sinclair called the meeting to order with 21 members and two visitors singing "The Hymn of All Nations" and repeating the "Farm Women's Creed".

Secretary-treasurer Betty Hale gave a report on the horticulture show and quilt raffle. Both were a decided success.

A questionnaire on mental health was answered by the members.

Dorothy Milne gave a talk on "Why you should make a will". Gladys Hutchinson gave a reading on the Gold Eye Camp project and it was agreed that each member should donate $2 towards this worthy venture.

Gladys Hutchinson and Ollie Midgley were winners of the "Pot" contest, while Doris Kvill and Lily Quist received the consolation awards.

A lunch provided by hostesses Janet Hancock, Frances Gray and Isobel Parker brought the evening to a close.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Ruby Peck on Sept. 28th, with Betty Hale and Doris Tupper as assistant hostesses.

UNITED CHURCH W.A.

First United Church W.A. will meet on Tuesday, Sept. 13 at 8 p.m. in the church hall. All ladies are invited to attend. 9

POLITICS

Manitobans love to talk politics. That was one of the first things that struck me when moving back home to this beautiful province. Manitobans, like Maritimers, seem to think that good times or bad times depend on who holds the reins at Ottawa.

They don't have complete faith in this notion, because they still plant good seed on well-fertilized soil, and they pray for rain or sun in proper order, and they open their shops early and serve customers well. There is always, though, even while "keeping the powder dry," a sort of child-like [illegible] that the end result of all this enterprise will depend not on sun or rain or service, but on Ottawa.

Let the weather be bad or the world trading situation worsen and there has to be a change at Ottawa.

You don't get too far trying to argue that this is foolish — that Ottawa can't make the sun shine or the rains come. Try it and you run into some of those exceptions that prove the rule — such as the $12,000,000 in acreage payments showered out of the Ottawa sky for Prairie grain growers. If Mr. Diefenbaker could have made that a downpour instead of a shower ($126 million might have been considered a pretty good shower — [illegible] a downpour) he'd be sitting pretty with the Manitoba [illegible] right now. As it is [illegible] a few pegs but [illegible] [illegible] Manitobans [illegible] of them would say, "This is crazy talk. Ottawa can't grow my grain or build my house or do much else but make the laws. The really important thing, the production of wealth, is undertaken by me and my neighbors."

And of course that is true. Ottawa's big job should be encouragement of the production of wealth, not the confiscation and redistribution of it. But the men at Ottawa seem to think that while individuals are sensible, voters as a group are not.

"We've got to make them think we made the sun shine, even if it costs them their last penny," say the politicians—and politicians may be amusing, but they're not fools.

FALL CULLING OF CATTLE

A culling program based upon pregnancy checks, carried out at the Colorado State University, resulted in nine more calves being born for every hundred cows used in the test.

J. J. Kallal, Live Stock Fieldman with the Alberta Department of Agriculture, suggests that cattlemen in this province have their herds checked by a veterinarian for pregnancy this fall. Any animal that ought to be in calf but is not should be sold for beef. It may require a short fattening period before it is sold depending upon the condition of the cow and the market at the time the test is done.

Considering the high cost of labour, the cost of a winter's feed and the forecast for lower cattle prices next year this suggestion is well worth thinking about.

Mead Family Gathering Marks 50th Anniversary of Arrival Vermilion

Vermilion Park was the site of an interesting family reunion when the Mead clan gathered on Saturday, Aug 13 for the marking of the fiftieth anniversary of the arrival of the family at Vermilion.

August, 1910 saw Frank and Laura Mead, with their family of eight, leaving their home in Blair, Nebraska with Vermilion, Alberta, as their goal. Mr. Eli Souder, a brother-in-law, had settled with his family, five years previously on land north of Vermilion, in what was later known as the Allandale district. Land was cheap compared to the value of land in Nebraska and with six sons in the family, it seemed a good idea to join the Souders at Vermilion.

The farm home disposed of, a carload of settler's effects was loaded and the journey was undertaken.

Land was later purchased in what is now known as the Campbell Lake district - a four-room log house was home to the family until 1916 when the present farm home was built. Mr. and Mrs. Alan Mead and their children now represent the third and fourth generations to call the original farm their home.

For many years the Mead orchestra enlivened the dances for miles around, but time eventually dispersed the family and the orchestra was disbanded. The boys of the family for many years were active on baseball and hockey teams.

Tragedy struck the home in 1913 when a son Harry, 11 years of age, was accidentally killed by a saddle horse.

The founders of the family at Vermilion have been gone for many years. Mr Mead died in 1926 and Mrs Mead in 1935.

A son George, well and favorably known in the Vermilion district for many years died in 1945.

Of the original family Roscoe, better known as Rock lives in the town of Vermilion but still farms in the Campbell Lake district.

Mrs. Rena Pollard, the elder daughter of the family, is the assistant matron at Fort Saskatchewan jail and has her home in that town.

Dick Mead has lived for many years in the U.S. and now resides at Sierra Madre, Calif.

Mrs. Helen Thorne, the younger daughter, also lives at Fort Saskatchewan.

Frank Mead is farming at Dewberry, Alta., and Bill Mead is the Alberta Livestock Commissioner and resides in Edmonton.

Forty-one members of the Mead and Souder families were present at the anniversary reunion at Vermilion on August 13. A pot luck dinner and supper were served and the facilities at the park were used and enjoyed to the full for the day. Fifty years have brought a good many changes, not the least of these the creation of the beautiful little lake which has replaced the tiny river crossed by this family in the dawn of August 11th, 1910.

Sunday At The Alliance Chapel

A feature of Sunday school at the Alliance Chapel Sunday morning, Sept. 4th was a story told by Bob Tidsbury entitled "Two Babies".

The church services were taken by Pastor Schroeder, his sermon topic in the morning was "Not I, but Christ", and for the evening the second in a series on the Ten Commandments "No Graven Images". The Communion service was observed in the morning it being the first Sunday of the month.

Special musical items were a vocal solo by Mrs. R. Tidsbury, vocal solo by Mrs. Alton Curtis, and a ladies' trio Mesdames J. M. Schroeder, B. Francisco and A. Curtis. Pianists were Margwyne Clendenning and Mrs. Schroeder.

Out-of-town visitors in the services were Mrs. Loewen and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd from Bowness, visiting in the home of Dr. and Mrs. John Love D.C., and Miss Vera Stredl, flying evangelist, who sponsored the recent Oral Roberts films in the Legion hall.

Mannville Schools See Increase In Enrollment; 2 Rooms Added

MANNVILLE — With the total enrolment up fifteen per cent over the previous term, Mannville pupils, primary, elementary, Junior high and Senior high, all trooped back to the classroom on Thursday morning, Sept. 1st. The most marked increase was noted in the High school, as the Senior high recorded a 25 per cent increase in number. There are two new rooms this term which are not quite ready for occupancy, a senior science lab and a grade 7 classroom, both being larger than the other classrooms. The High school staff has been increased by one and Band one and Band two make their appearance i.e. Junior and Senior bands, under the capable leadership of Jack Dobush.

Teachers and enrollment are as follows: Grade 1 — Mrs. Doris Keating and Mrs. Olga Brown, 60 pupils. Grade 2 — Mrs. Ruth Hubbard, Mrs. Mabel Otto, 40. Grade 3 — Mrs. Sheila Baldwin, Mrs. Ilene Trynchuk, 53.

Grade 4 — Mrs. Alice Hamilton, Mrs. Myrtle Lagg 46. Grade 5 — Mrs. Thelma Enfield, 32. Grades 5 and 6 — Mrs. Mabel Gammie 10 and 12. Grade 6 — John Misik (vice prin.) 28.

Grade 7 — Mrs. Marion Ross, Mrs. Frances Puhachuk, 38; Gr 8 — Mrs. Olive Thompson, Nestor Bohaichuk, 46. Grade 9 — Mrs. Mary Morrison, 23, Mrs. Lily Park (vice prin.) 24.

Grade 10 — Kevin Majeau, Mrs. Lillian Smith (temporary teacher for Ron Singh) 56. Gr. 10 and 11 — Gerrit te Kampe, 12 and 10; Grade 11 — Mrs. Della Bang, 24. Grade 11 and 12 — Allan Rostron, 7 and 14. Grade 12 — Mrs. Willa Ross, 21. Total number of pupils, 372.

Special Instructors: Industrial Arts — Allison Toronchuk.

Home Economics — Miss Ruth Gray.

Band Instructor — Jack Dobush.

Principal — Angus Smith.

P.F.A.A. PAYMENTS

Payments made under the Prairie Farm Assistance Act to prairie farmers suffering crop failures totalled $242,178,101 between the introduction of the program in 1939 and March, 19, 1960. About one-half of this amount or $119,981,003.54 was collected through a 1% levy on grain deliveries. Payments on the 1959 crop losses had totalled $14,389,673 up to March 19, 1960, of which $2,776,054 went to Alberta farmers.

U. G. G. To Increase Size of Terminal At Port Arthur

United Grain Growers Limited will construct a three unit addition to its terminal at Port Arthur with a total capacity of 4,250,000 bushels. A contract for this construction has been awarded to Carter Construction Company Ltd. of Toronto. The addition will be built at the outshore end of the present structure, following exhaustive investigations by the engineers of the Company of the site. The construction will proceed as rapidly as weather conditions permit and it is hoped that a substantial part of the capacity will be available to the company by the end of July next year. Improved shipping facilities will be provided such as to enable the largest vessel operating on the St. Lawrence Seaway to take a complete load without moving from one position.

South Side Has New Look in Curves

One curve that was thrown was welcome by south side residents during this past summer. In the town's sidewalk program the old plank walk was ripped up and new asphalt ones were laid by the town crew. This particular one leads from the main C.N.R. crossing south around the curve to highway 16. There is also one leading straight south to highway 16 and along highway 41 for one block.

Mannville and District Local News

An interesting visit was enjoyed recently at the Merril Johnson home when Merril and his wife and family entertained at a family reunion. Present were Mrs. Lois Ream from Terrace, B.C., and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cameron of Edmonton and families. It was the first time in ten years that the Johnson family had all been together so naturally there was much to chat about over a picnic supper.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Hamilton there were visitors also, as daughter Margaret (Mrs. Morden) and family of Edmonton were here for a holiday.

A study of more than 250 boys and girls has revealed that a [illegible] child generally grows faster and matures earlier than a slender child. Report by Stanley M. Garn, Ph.D. and Joan A. Haskell B. A. Fels Research Institute, Ohio, said though body size in childhood is determined by a number of factors, including the size of parents, accumulated fat is clearly related to size superiority during the growing period. Therefore, they concluded, an excess of calories in children is growth accelerating.

Understanding The Young Adult

* * *

Health Unit Notes

It is often [illegible] that "the youth of today are irresponsible", that nothing serious ever enters their heads — and so on. Can these claims really be taken seriously? What are young Canadians really thinking? Not too long ago, a comprehensive study was made to find out just what young adults were thinking. Here are some of their comments and replies.

Marriage: "How long should people know each other before getting married?" "What are the things that cause trouble in marriage?"

Jobs: "What kind of training is required for different jobs?" "How much ability do I really have?"

Religion: "I feel that I'm not living up to my religion." "I wonder about the after life."

Personal: "I have trouble keeping my temper."

Problems: "I worry about little things." Many said, "I feel I am a burden to my parents."

Citizenship: "How can I help make the world a better place?" "Is there a way of eliminating slums?"

These are some of the things young Canadians are thinking about. Penetrating, realistic thinking about the future — about jobs, marriage, religion, citizenship and how to make the world a better place.

Yes, in spite of the doubts young people [illegible] about the future. In their eagerness for independence they may seem to reject advice and help. Yet, we can be sure they want it. Without help, how else can they secure worthwhile independence? But help and advice takes patience and understanding — understanding of the many factors which play a part in the development of a young adult.

PHYSICAL AND MENTAL CHANGES

At about 18 or so, the sudden growth of adolescence tapers off. There is little increase in height or weight. Body proportions seem to adjust themselves. The chest broadens, the trunk lengthens and earlier awkwardness gives way to co-ordination and control that makes for grace and beauty. Above all, those hated skin blemishes are likely to disappear!

There is a considerable difference in muscular strength between the sexes. For example, girls usually prefer the less violent sports, but boys like the rough and tumble of football and hockey. Of course the girls love to watch, making the boys play even harder.

Physical and mental reactions of the young adults are at a peak. There is an alertness which makes them think and act more quickly. Although learning goes on for the rest of life the capacity to learn has now been fully developed. Sexual maturity has already been reached. Physical growth may have come to an end, but growth will continue in other ways — in knowledge, judgment, getting along with others, etc. It's this mental and social growth that leads to maturity.

SOCIAL AND EMOTIONAL CHANGES

Adolescents want to conform. They want to be like the gang. When they become young adults their need to conform becomes less intense. They still go with their own crowd, have dances, go on dates, wear the right clothes and so on, but unlike the adolescent they are somewhat flattered to be thought of as 'different'. While they continue to enjoy the security of the crowd they like being left by themselves too, and enjoy doing things on their own, or with a close friend of the same sex. Dating is also being narrowed down to someone "special".

Anger is a common teenage emotion. There are so many adult things to learn that mistakes and blunders are inevitable. These lead to embarrassment, humiliation and anger. Young adults usually express their anger in words through sarcastic remarks, fault finding and vehement self defense. Rigorous sport or physical work is often used to 'let off steam'. This indicates that emotional control is developing. In closer and more intimate relations with people, young adults learn how to accept and to offer love free from the earlier childish demands and restrictions. These too, are steps to maturity.

Although childhood fears may be outgrown, anxiousness, even though disguised or hidden, can often be seen. This is not surprising, considering the many insecurities and uncertainties of adult life. But in addition, the young adult faces other challenges. "Should I stay on at school — perhaps go to college? Or is it really worth it? Why not take a job and be on my own? Should I go to business college or vocational school? If I do, will summer earnings be enough, for I just won't ask dad for more help!"

These are some of the worries. Important — even frightening decisions must be made which call for patient understanding.

THEY'RE ADULTS NOW

Often parents find it difficult to realize that their child is now 'grown' up and must make his own decisions — and take responsibility for them. This is especially true when the son or daughter is still living at home. Some parents find it hard to give up their long held authority, mainly because they don't trust their son's or daughter's judgment. Or perhaps they are parents with little ability to give and take, who find it difficult to co-operate with others. In other cases, the young people are at fault. When they are unreliable or irresponsible, they discourage adult trust.

However, difficulties which develop usually stem from differences on both sides. Young people need to understand parents, remembering that legally, their parents may still be held responsible for them. In their impatience to grow up, they can forget that their parents also need time to get used to this young adult who only yesterday was their child. Part of growing up and becoming mature is developing patience, being satisfied with compromise and respecting the feelings of others. Parents, too, need these qualities. They also need to see that they no longer treat their son or daughter as a dependent child. Young people yearn for independence. By treating them as adults and respecting their opinions, parents discover that irritating stubbornness soon gives way to co-operation and willingness to compromise.

LOVE AND MARRIAGE

Most 21 year-olds have "fallen in love" several times. These are testing periods which help young adults discover what marriage may mean. For some, early romance will eventually lead to marriage — others need more time before they feel ready for it. Often there is lack of knowledge about sex — sometimes covered up by a know-it-all attitude. This only emphasizes the need for more factual information. While courses in school or college are certainly helpful, parents also should assume responsibility for sex education and preparation for marriage. If the children have always felt free to discuss things at home with their parents they will usually continue to do so as they grow up. In other cases, it may be wise to encourage outside discussion with a competent adult or professional person.

[illegible] old should a young couple be to get married? [illegible] Today the average young man in Canada is married at 25, the average woman at 22. In grandma's day it was much younger, often before 20. Early marriage has advantages and disadvantages. It calls for important decisions at an age when many persons may not yet be ready. On the other hand, it allows a young couple to make this adjustment when the partners are young and more adaptable.

The change in the traditional responsibilities of the marriage partners is another factor which needs to be thought of. Nowadays, it is quite common for a young wife to go out to work. With the extra income, she can help pay for the furniture, make a down payment on a house, etc. Because she is working, more of the housework will need to be shared. If her young husband has been brought up to do his share, so much the better — he will have less of an adjustment to make. But with so many girls going to work or to college, there is a tendency to pay less attention to cooking, buying, budgeting etc. especially if they have been living with their parents. In short, both partners in growing up need to have shared in the business of family living and so come to understand the mutual responsibilities of marriage.

VOCATIONS

What about choosing a vocation? It was easier when the boy could take over the family farm or work into his father's business or when the girl seldom thought of any career — except marriage. But farm and city life have changed. In an age of specialization it's hard to decide between so many different kinds of work. How can one decide?

First, the decision doesn't have to be made alone. Besides parents, there are others to turn to. High schools and universities usually have vocational or guidance counsellors whose job it is to advise on these matters. They can discuss the pros and cons of many trades and professions and can often provide literature about them. More than that, by giving various aptitude and psychological tests, they can fairly accurately predict future chances of success or failure. When further education is advised it needs to be thought of seriously. Success calls for one or all of three qualities — hard work, talent, or education. Hard work, by itself, is usually not enough, and only few have natural talent. Thus, special training and education are "musts" which are often abandoned when they're needed most after high school.

The local National Employment Service is another source of enquiry and advice. N.E.S. officials are pleased to help young men and women with their vocational plans and can also refer them to particular jobs or employers. Also, talks with business men, technicians, professionals, or tradesmen — someone with standing and experience in his or her particular field — can be especially helpful in reaching a decision. But the decision need not be final.

The importance of the first job choice tends to be over-rated. If the choice has been a poor one, other opportunities will follow. The important thing is to try to do well whatever the choice. At this age, it's the attitude and enthusiasm toward the job that counts more than it being the "right" job. Experience, interest, and aptitude make for success. Situations and people change, but work habits — like conscientiousness, dependability, and thoroughness — when learned early, will prove invaluable later on.

ON BECOMING MATURE

Maturity is much more than growing up, reaching 21 or being on one's own. There is no precise moment from which maturity can be dated. Few people, whether at 21 or 90, are ever fully mature in everything. We may come close to maturity in some things but remain less mature in others. We each have strengths and weaknesses and when we speak of someone being "mature" we usually mean that his strengths more than balance his weaknesses.

These strengths, or qualities, will vary from person to person depending on a number of factors, including age and personal development. To be reasonably mature, a young man or woman is probably expected to have developed some of the following qualities in greater or lesser degree. To be able to accept people as they are and get along with them reasonably well, to handle his feelings with a minimum of emotion, being able to gracefully give and to accept criticism; to make independent decisions and accept their consequences, to be dependable, reliable and responsible, to satisfactorily plan his time, budget his spendings, and arrange his leisure. To participate in the social life of the community through church, recreation centre and other organizations.

These are some qualities of maturity. Others, of course, could be added. As young adults grow older, their experience adds to their maturity, making them less subject to the ups and downs of adolescence and so more stable, confident and comfortable with themselves and with others.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Alberta Department of Health Introduces Rural Dental Service

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — Early this year the provincial health department decided it was time to do something about extending dental health services in rural Alberta.

Helping to bring matters to a head was W. G. Lewis, a missionary from the U. S., who was teaching fundamental dentistry to missionary students who would use it in foreign mission fields.

Trouble was, Mr. Lewis and his charges did their practicing on "volunteer" patients in rural Alberta. The Alberta Dental Association set up a howl of protest, but there was not much the government could do about it because Mr. Lewis and his students weren't charging anything for their work. Under the Alberta Dental Act, dentistry isn't dentistry unless you charge for it, hence there was nothing illegal.

Mr. Lewis' reply to criticism from the Dental Association was that there is a crying need for [illegible] in dentist-short rural areas. Apparently his view received considerable support from rural [illegible].

At any rate, the health department [illegible] with a rural dental health service unique in North America but at last reports it was being received with anything but enthusiasm.

The health department has set up equipment for two portable dental clinics available to local health units, but so far none has applied for it and officials of the department are at a loss to explain why.

When rural dental care was a hot potato earlier this year, the health department began discussions with the dental association in an effort to find a solution.

They came up with the idea of portable clinics, and the association persuaded more than 200 city-based dentists to man them on two-week shifts.

Health units were notified in the spring that the service would be available, now are being reminded that it is available.

How come the lack of interest to date? Health department officials think dollars and cents may be the answer, or part of it. Any health unit which wants to take advantage of the service, must pay for it. But like all other health unit services, 60 per cent of the cost is born by the province.

Under the plans, portable clinics would be set up in vacant school rooms, health unit offices or any other available space the municipality can provide.

The dentists would give free preventive dental treatment to pre-school and school children. In their spare time the dentists can treat adults in the area on a private practice basis, charging the going rates for their services.

In a few years when the program gets going at full speed the department plans to have the clinics staffed in part by "dental auxiliaries" — a brand new classification of public health worker. A bill was passed by the Legislature this year to provide for a university course for the auxiliaries.

The auxiliaries will be trained to do certain relatively simple jobs, but always under the supervision of a qualified dentist.

The bill carefully sets out the jobs an auxiliary can do, as a safeguard against the possibility of auxiliaries leaving the public health service and going out to work on their own.

Health department officials are confident the program will catch on soon. With some justification they regard it as a milestone in the province's public health [illegible].

YMCA and Alberta College Co-operate For Education

For the first time in Canada a satellite residence has been set up for over flow students. Alberta College in co-operation with the Edmonton Y. M. C. A. have mutually arranged for an accommodation of 31 students and two supervisors, occupying an entire floor of the New Edmonton Y. M. C. A.

The satellite residence while considered a "House Unto Themselves" by the students will be under constant supervision of two competently trained supervisors of Alberta College. Classes will of course be held at Alberta College daily with study periods from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. taking place at the Y.

Continuing in the spirit of co-operation always apparent between the College and the Y the boys are privileged to full Y.M.C.A. membership [illegible] access to the pool and all other privileges. This is a continuation of the policy of the Y utilizing Alberta College gym space and in return [illegible] leadership to the College athletic program.

[illegible] College at present planning a $1,000,000 building extension and Y. M. C. A. now completing a similar project this co-operation between two such Christian and educational institutions is worthy of support.

League Urges Balanced Diet

The Health League of Canada [illegible] education groups are continually urging Canadians to eat a balanced diet. Many people write to ask what a balanced diet is. The rules are easy to follow. The daily food menus should include citrus and another fruit or tomatoes, potatoes and one or two green or yellow vegetables, whole grain cereal and four slices of bread, meat, fish, egg, dried beans or cheese. Milk, one pint for children, one and a half pints for adolescents and half a pint for adults will complete a balanced diet.

Eating between meals may be the result of boredom, anger, worry or restlessness. The extra snacks are often the cause of overweight. It will help to allay [illegible] the snacks are kept to skim milk and some non-fattening food.

WILDMERE WINKS

The meals these days every one wakes up to and goes to bed to is the hum of swathers and combines. The women too are very busy gathering in a most bountiful garden. We have so much to be thankful for in this land of plenty.

Rev Mr MacKay gave a very nice sermon on Sunday at Wildmere. It is with great regret that we see him moving away but are sure he and his family will be richly blessed in their new field. Next Sunday is our student minister Mr Pagee's last service.

Congratulations to Mr Herbden Oden and the former Norma McLuckie on their recent marriage.

Mr and Mrs Archie Robinson were visitors at the home of the latter's mother Mrs Clarence Labourne and friends and relatives in town and district.

It was a good thing the officials in charge saw fit to cancel the little league ball tournament as farm people are just too busy to participate, no matter how much they would like to.

Mr. Hughes of Edmonton was a visitor over the long week-end at the home of his son Mr and Mrs. David Hughes and family.

Roy Garnett has harvest leave from his job with the Canadian Utilities.

Our sincere sympathy goes to the Dunsmore family in the loss of a loving wife and mother. Truly a pioneer of the Vermilion district and a faithful member of the Women's Institute. She will be greatly missed but fondly remembered.

A speedy recovery is wished Doreen Martin of town who had her appendix removed last week.

Mr and Mrs. Bud Batke and family and Mrs. Hazel Batke of town spent Monday at the home of [illegible] man.

FALL FERTILIZE with Elephant Brand

INCREASE PROFITS FROM STUBBLE LAND

Seed stubble land next spring and make bigger profits — simply apply Elephant Brand High Nitrogen Fertilizer this fall! Summer fallowing is expensive — you still pay taxes on idle land and it requires gas, oil and labour for tillage. Lack of nitrogen — not moisture — is the prime cause of low yields from stubble land. Elephant Brand Nitraprills (Ammonium Nitrate) applied on stubble land this fall means more money from the crop you seed next spring.

IT'S GOOD BUSINESS TO APPLY ELEPHANT BRAND FERTILIZER IN THE FALL

- You are not as rushed as you'll be next spring.
- Weather is more favourable.
- Fields are firmer — you travel faster.
- Fall and spring moisture carries plant food to the root zone.
- Plant food is there, ready for early use by plants.

Crops on Stubble Land need Phosphate too. An application of Elephant Brand 11-48-0 or 16-20-0 at seeding time will supply this vital plant food.

Outstanding Livestock at The Fair

This Aberdeen Angus cow was named best beef animal at the Vermilion Fair. Owned and exhibited by Willes Bros. of Claysmore, the cow, Mayflower McBride, was also grand champion Angus female at both Vermilion and Lloydminster exhibitions.

John Stewart, aged 17 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Stewart, is shown with his Hereford steer that was named grand champion of the 4-H calf club show at the Vermilion Fair. This animal also took first prize in the open market class for cattle weighing 850 pounds and over.

Vernon Lysseng and Sons of Armena, Alberta, contributed this Hereford cow, Birdie Mixer 4J, which was named grand champion Hereford female at the Vermilion Fair. At the halter is 17-year-old Nolan Lysseng.

Carl Fenton of Irma is shown with his purebred Hereford calf that was named best beef calf in junior livestock classes at both Vermilion and Vegreville summer fairs. The calf also took the reserve junior bull ribbons in open classes at both fairs. In addition, at Vermilion the Fenton boy was named top showman in the junior livestock show.

Cartoonist of "Jasper the Bear" Visits Resort Town for First Time

JASPER, September — "Jasper the Bear" was the only VIP not present here to welcome James Simpkins, noted Canadian cartoonist and creator of "Jasper the Bear" as he stepped off CNR's "Super Continental".

However the bear's retirement to pay tribute to his best press agent did not surprise his creator.

Local experts on the bear's morals felt he should have shown up on Mr Simpkins's first visit to Canada's largest national park — home of the rollicking black bear whose [illegible] and [illegible] antics have become internationally popular since his creator introduced the series in Maclean's Magazine several years ago.

In fact, it was a story in Maclean's that tipped off Jasper Chamber of Commerce President Bob Dowling, local druggist, that cartoonist Simpkins had never seen the locale for his cartoon creations.

So the local chamber went into action and drew up a two-day whirlwind research tour of the "real" bear's favourite haunts for Mr Simpkins, his wife, and seven-year-old son Scott. They will visit Old Fort Point, Maligne Lake, the famous Columbia Icefield, Mount Edith Cavell, and the championship golf course of Jasper Park Lodge on a Jasper fact finding mission.

Cartoons of "Jasper the Bear" have been published in two books. Mr Simpkins, who does other cartoon work, lives in Beaconsfield, Quebec.

Congratulations are extended to Miss Pauline Lesinski, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Paul Lesinski who received her cap at the graduation ceremony at the Edmonton School for Nursing Aides on Friday last. Pauline is spending a short holiday with her parents and sister Lillian.

The W.A. members of the Kitscoty United Church have set the date for the annual fowl supper. It will be held on Thursday, Oct. 27, and the fall tea and bazaar will be held on Friday, Nov 25. Other church W.A.s are asked to please keep these dates in mind.

The Rev Mr. G. Winchester, Mrs. Winchester, Jane and Andrew, spent a week's holiday at Banff recently.

Rev. Mr. James Shortt, Mrs. Shortt and Lynell enjoyed a holiday at Waskesiu, Prince Albert National park.

Mr and Mrs. Ted Sheppard and Kathleen motored to Jarvie to visit with Emma's sister Gertrude, Mr and Mrs. Bert Martin and family for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Carpenter spent their holidays camping at points of interest in Alberta and as far west as Kamloops, B.C.

Miss Grace Bootsman holidayed at Cold Lake visiting her aunt Mrs J. Bootsman and cousin Sharon.

Mr. C. F. Browne and nephew Bill Browne spent a week at Edmonton, Calgary and Banff. Stuart Linsdell of Edmonton returned home with them to visit with Bill at the farm for a few days.

Mrs. E. N. East, the former Lila Browne, and her daughter Betty of Winnipeg, visited here for the past eight days with Mr and Mrs. N. C. Browne, Mr C. Browne and Mr. and Mrs. R. S Pidruck and other relatives in the Marwayne district.

Mr and Mrs. A C Linsdell and granddaughter Miss Karen Howlett of Edmonton, spent several days here recently with the Brownes and Pidrucks and also called on several of their old friends while in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tyler and family of Drayton Valley visited here recently with their grandmother, Mrs. W. L. [illegible] and father Mr. E. Tyler and family at the farm. Mrs. A. E. Potter and children returned with them for a ten-day holiday at their home.

Recent guests at the home of Mr and Mrs. F O Seward were their daughter and son-in-law Rev Robert Seal, Mrs. Seal and Bobby of Forestburg, and their son Rev. O. C. Seward, Mrs. Seward and the children from Bentley.

Mrs. F Donaldson from Campbell River, B.C., who farmed in the Millerdale district over thirty years ago, visited here for several days with her cousin Mrs. R. J Fox, Dan and Millie at the farm.

Mrs. Fox and Mrs. Donaldson spent a few days at the home of their cousins, Mr and Mrs. W. Plaser in Lloydminster.

Mr and Mrs. Earl Franke from Fort Saskatchewan, spent two days here last week visiting with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alf Franke.

Mr and Mrs. Mickey Bootsman and family from Fort Saskatchewan visited here for the Labour Day week-end with their parents Mr and Mrs. Tim Bootsman and other relatives.

APPOINTED MATRON

We welcome Mrs. Steve O'Connor of Mannville back in our midst again. Mrs. O'Connor has been appointed matron of the high school boys' dormitory here for the coming year.

Mrs. Henry Joy accompanied her nephew Master Robert Milligan back home to Edmonton after Robert had spent the holidays here at the farm. Mrs. Joy visited for a week in the city with her sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. R. Milligan.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dannychuk of Biggar, Sask., visited here recently with Mr and Mrs. Larry Watt (Pearl), and children. Miss Gail Watt returned home with her aunt and uncle after a week's holiday in Biggar.

Mr and Mrs. D. Gramere of Edgerton visited here a short time ago with Mr. and Mrs. E. Joy.

Rev. J. H. Dicker of Sandy Lake, Sask., has been visiting here with several of his old friends in town. Mr. Dicker will now be in charge of the Onion Lake and Frog Lake missions.

Clandonald United Church News

The August meeting of the Clandonald United Church was held at the home of Mr and Mrs. Wilbur Feenstra on Thursday, Aug. 11, with ten members present. All were pleased to have as visitors Miss Evans and Miss Betty Lovell, but missed those regular members who were unable to attend.

An exchange between North and South Vermilion fields allowed us to hear the interesting Mr. S. Pogue on August 14.

A special communion service was conducted by Rev C. W. MacKay on Aug 21. Three children and two adults were baptized, and a class of eleven communicants joined the United Church.

On Aug 28th farewell was regretfully said to Miss Anne Evans and the summer services. During these fleeting weeks all have sincerely appreciated Miss Evans' excellent sermons and the children's choir so ably led by Mrs. Laird.

Mr MacKay will hold his last service here on the afternoon of September 11th, at 3:00 o'clock.

WORLD POPULATION GOES UP, UP

Open Reception To Farewell Departing Minister and Family

An open reception is planned for this Sunday evening, Sept. 18th commencing at 7:30 in the United Church hall, to bid farewell to the Rev. and Mrs. Chauncey MacKay and their four sons. They will leave at the end of September for Toronto where Mr MacKay has received the appointment as assistant preaching minister and director of Christian Education at Kew Beach United Church. He will commence his new duties on October 2nd. The church to be served has a very large congregation with three ministers sharing the work. Rev. MacKay has now completed nine years devoted service to the work of the church in Vermilion, coming here in 1951.

Gas Company Begins Replacing Business Section Mains

Northwestern Utilities Ltd. recently began the replacement of the 4-inch gas main in the lane between 49th Avenue and 50th Avenue from 49th Street to 51st Street. The three blocks of 4-inch main will be replaced with a six-inch main, wrapped and covered with pipeline enamel to ensure longer life and retard the corrosion of the underground steel main.

At present, the Gas Company crew are uncovering or trenching the old 4-inch line. Extreme care must be taken during this operation so as not to break or damage any service connections, thereby disrupting gas service to consumers.

During this uncovering phase of the work, another portion of the crew are stringing and welding the 6-inch line into place so as to be ready for the final placing once the complete ditch is open.

Once the three blocks of 6-inch main is placed in the trench it will be filled with gas and with the service lines having been previously welded into position, each individual customer's service will be transferred to the new 6-inch main.

The road crossing by the Boston Cafe will be augered under fifty feet so traffic will not be affected and no break in the paved surface of the road will occur. The road crossing at 49th street will be ditched but only when all other portions of the work have been completed.

At this time it would be well to mention to parents of little children some of the hazards involved while this work is progressing.

1. Please keep all small children away from open ditches.
2. Do not play with the lighted flares provided for your safety in outlining the open trench.
3. Guard against any small children receiving a welding flash while the welders are working. Children's eyes are very sensitive and the flash from a welder's torch may prove very harmful.

This work now being carried out by the gas company is very necessary primarily for your safety because of the state of disrepair of the old 4-inch line and also to ensure continued service during the coming winter. It is hoped the work will be completed within the next two weeks. During this time the Gas company apologizes for any undue inconveniences and would like their consumers to know how much they appreciate their cooperation during this current phase of construction.

Cardinals Take Second in Tourney

The Vermilion Cardinals ladies' fastball team won second money in the tournament held Sunday, regarded as the final activity of the season in this line of sport.

The tourney was played under ideal weather conditions and attracted six entries with the final result being: 1st, Lloydminster; 2, Vermilion; 3, Kitscoty. Other teams competing were Grand Centre, Mannville and Beverley. Prize money was $40, $30, and $20.

The event was organized by the Cardinals club who wish to thank the fans for their support, and express appreciation to the members of the Checker Ghosts for their help in managing the worthwhile sports action.

Gives Farewell Talk To Rotary

Taking as his topic "Rotary Fellowship", or "What Rotary Has Meant to Me", Chauncey MacKay, a departing member of the Rotary club, gave one of the [illegible] and appreciative messages it has ever been the privilege of the club to hear. Chauncey is a charter member of the club and everyone is genuinely sorry to see him and his family leave Vermilion.

Chauncey was introduced by Gil Rampling and thanks of the club were expressed by Bill Sutherland.

The next meeting of the club will be competitor relations meeting and will be held at the Hub Cafe at 12:15 noon. Members should note the change of place for this meeting and be sure to take your competitor.

Kitscoty Pumpkin Biggest Yet

Edmonton gardeners were mighty proud of their efforts in raising 44 pound "punkins" pictures of which duly appeared in city papers. However these 44 pound deals are merely a medium accomplishment hereabouts as Roy Jeffrey picked a 55-pounder in his garden at Kitscoty. This record breaker is now on display in the Co-op [illegible].

On August 28th the little church at Allandale was filled to hear the student minister, Miss Evans, on her final service. Her theme was "Beware of Indifference".

Orley Omness, on behalf of the congregation, expressed appreciation for a wonderful summer enjoyed by the church, and wished Miss Evans the very best in the future. She was presented with a hand-carved leather, initialled wallet done by Mrs. Gus Thrandson. It matched the lovely purse which Mrs. Wm. McIntyre had done for her.

Miss Evans left during the same afternoon for Edmonton en route to B.C. to visit a brother and his family. She goes home then to Toronto before departing for Scotland where she plans to be at the University Hall of St. Andrews for the coming year. She hopes to be able to tour Europe during that time, especially Germany. [illegible] speaks German and hopes to improve her command of the language by a visit to that country.

Andrew Cavil Dies Near Haney, B.C.

Andrew Cavil aged 53 years died suddenly near Haney, B.C. on August 30th when the car he was driving ran off a road and overturned in a deep irrigation ditch. Cavil was trapped in the car being found by a bus driver.

Andrew, who grew to manhood in Vermilion, was the second son of the late Mr and Mrs. James Cavil. Surviving members of the family are one brother John, in Ontario, four sisters, Mrs. Florence Grant, Dewberry, Mrs. Margaret Reid, Chilliwack, Mrs. Connie Capstos, Penticton, Mrs. Nancy Douglas, Vancouver.

The deceased served overseas for six years with the R.C.E. in World War 2, and was decorated by the King in 1943 with the British Empire Medal for outstanding gallantry at Gibraltar.

Funeral services were held on Saturday, Sept. 3. Cremation.

Former Clandonald Lady Wins Dream Home At Vancouver

Winner of the Pacific National Exhibition home in Vancouver was Mrs. Jessie McPhee formerly of Clandonald and the St. Andrews district where she lived until just three years ago.

A 73-year-old widow Mrs. McPhee has been living in a basement suite at 3216 East Pender street with her son John.

Her ticket was purchased by a friend just eight hours before the draw was made.

Called "the Home of Tomorrow" the house is completely furnished and has a landscaped lot and swimming pool.

Congratulations are extended to Mrs. McPhee on her good fortune from all her old friends and acquaintances.

Seek Mayor And Two Councillors To Fill Vermilion Civic Offices

Only eleven days remain before nomination day for the Town of Vermilion civic elections when the positions of mayor and two councillors will need to be filled. Nomination day is Wednesday, September 28th. Election day is three weeks later, October 19th.

MAYOR HILL TO TENDER RESIGNATION

Although his term has one year to run, Mayor Melvin Hill, with 5½ years of service in that office, has announced his retirement. Having no business ties now, he intends to do some travelling and feels that lengthy absences would be a hindrance to the council.

Mayor Hill has served the town as councillor for many years besides his 5½ years as mayor. He was first elected in 1934 being a member of the council for three years at that time, a similar period was served from 1939 to 1941. Just prior to becoming mayor he was on the council for the years 1953 and 1954.

TERMS OF COUNCILLORS ROWE, McCORMICK EXPIRE

The three year terms of councillors K. E. Rowe and C. J. McCormick also come to an end. Mr McCormick has declared his intention to retire. Mr. Rowe, while not anxious for the job, might be persuaded to consider sitting for another term.

No aldermanic nor mayoralty candidates have yet come forward, but there are numbers of men and ladies with ample ability in the town. No doubt, now that the electors have been reminded of the imminence of nomination day, a determined effort will be made to seek out candidates for the offices to be filled.

MAYOR MELVIN HILL, who has announced his intention to resign as chief magistrate of the town.

Week Perfect Harvest Weather Experienced

A week of perfect harvest weather prevailed until this Thursday morning when light rain accounted for .01 inch of moisture. The forecast calls for clearing skies.

Excellent progress has been made with harvesting throughout the Vermilion district. Completion of actual threshing is graduated from 40% in the northern part to 75% in the south.

Wheat is averaging 30 bushels to the acre, with No. 3 the predominant grade, with some No. 2.

Average for oats is placed at 55 bushels and that of barley at 40 bushels per acre. Barley is grading No. 1 Feed. A few cars of malting barley have already been shipped.

Rape, a crop which is on the increase in this area, is yielding from 700 pounds to 1200 pounds per acre.

The present weather and the yields are in direct contrast to the past three harvests in that this year good weather at the proper time is being experienced, the grade of the grain is good, and yields are excellent.

Many Inspect New Valley Lodge

An estimated 400 people toured the new Vermilion Valley Lodge, the future home for senior citizens for this part of Alberta. The many who inspected the Lodge liked what they saw, and the modern attractive building drew many complimentary remarks.

The Lodge will be opened just as soon as the supply of crockery arrives. Ordered some time ago it appears that shipments from the Old Country have been delayed through the dock and [illegible].

Islay Man Is Attacked, Robbed

Richard Gurney of Prince Albert, Sask., son of Mr and Mrs. Sid Gurney of Vermilion, was attacked and robbed one evening recently as he was returning to his home. He was jumped on from behind, knocked to the sidewalk and then kicked while he was down. His wallet containing $13 was removed from his pocket.

Bleeding profusely from cuts to his head, Gurney walked home, called the police and was then taken to hospital where seven stitches were required to close head cuts.

Cpl. Peter Morris Transferred

Cpl. Peter Morris who has been in charge of the RCMP detachment here for the past three years has been transferred to Edmonton. Mrs. Morris and the family have already taken up residence in the city while Cpl. Morris will remain here until his successor is named which is expected to be in the very near future.

Former Vermilion Pastor Joins Army

Rev. Kelk A. Minchin, a former rector of St. Saviour's Anglican church, and for the past eighteen months at Sudbury, Ont., has been appointed Anglican Chaplain at Petawawa Military Camp, and has already taken over his new duties.

Farewell parties were held in Sudbury for Rev. Minchin and his family with presentations being made of a walnut coffee table, electric percolator and flowers.

C. of C. Reconvenes After Summer Recess

The regular weekly luncheon meetings of the Vermilion Chamber of Commerce have re-commenced following the summer recess.

The first meeting was used to bring members up to date on summer projects with various committees reporting. Chief activity was in connection with the Vermilion Provincial park. A very busy season has been enjoyed with visitors registered from all parts of the continent. The provincial parks department has received scores of postcards from tourists who stayed here during the summer and some of these messages will be reproduced. The Standard from time to time.

NEW BUSINESS MEN INTRODUCED

Two new business men were introduced in the persons of John Bereton, owner and manager of the Robinson Stores, and Ed Hauck, proprietor of the Crossroads Service station. They were introduced by Jim Champion and Dick Topott respectively.

Plans were outlined for the reception of the Edmonton Friendship train which will stop here for an hour on Thursday morning next, Sept. 22. A short tour of the town is planned.

Meetings are held at the Rio Cafe every Wednesday at 12:10 noon. Everyone is invited.

Double Business Transaction Of Wide Interest in Vermilion, District

A double business transaction was completed during the past week whereby Oilfield Motors building and business was sold to D. R. "Reg" Mitchell who becomes sole owner and manager of the garage business and car sales agency.

In order to clear the way for the management of his new enterprise, Mr Mitchell sold his interest in Mitchell Insurance Agencies to his partner Mr. Angus MacMillan. Mr MacMillan will carry on all phases of the [illegible] business as before.

Former owners of Oilfield Motors were Messrs. K. G. Urquhart and Wm. Dyck who retire from the automotive field in Vermilion.

We Are Sorry . .

The Standard is sorry that several advertisements were received on Wednesday morning after all the space had been sold, and too late to allow for an increase of from 12 to 16 pages. Considerable news has also been crowded out including the popular 25 Years Ago etc. columns. This will all appear in next week's issue.

Battle River-Camrose Riding Rated High In Buying Power; Net Earnings Above Canadian Average

(Special to The Standard)

NEW YORK — Battle River-Camrose riding got a high rating for business vitality in a new, national classic survey released by Sales Management.

Family earnings locally in the past year have been high, it finds, resulting in good retail business.

The figures bearing this out are contained in its annual copyrighted "Survey of Buying Power," which analyzes markets in every section of Canada and the United States.

Residents of Battle River-Camrose federal riding had net earnings during the year, after deduction of personal taxes, of $563,122,000, exceeding the previous year's $503,301,000.

This was equivalent to earnings per household of $6,126.00 — a figure obtained by dividing total income by total number of households.

It was better than the average in other parts of Canada, $5,337 per household, and than in the Province of Alberta, $5,601.

Just how good a year it was in Battle River-Camrose district despite the effect that the 1958 setback had on the economy, is brought home by the fact that local residents, representing only [illegible] per cent of the nation's population, accounted for [illegible] per cent of its income.

With the added amount of money available to them for spending, they used it freely in resuming their buying of durable goods on which they had cut [illegible].

Profiting by this were the local retail merchants, whose sales volume in the year amounted to $377,[illegible] It bettered the prior year's $364,221,000.

A rating is given in the survey to each community to show its relative standing as a market, based on such considerations as number of people, income, expenditures and growth outlook.

Battle River-Camrose district's rating, called its "quality of market index", is given as 111, or 11% higher than the national average.

Economists generally look for continued progress in the nation as a whole during the months just ahead. The gains will be modest and far from boom proportions, they feel.

The survey notes the "remarkable degree of correlation" between the economies of Canada and the United States. Recession occurred in both countries in 1957-8 and recovery in both in 1959.

The recession was characterized in each by sharp drops in automobile sales. The following year, however, saw [illegible] gains in such sales.

Youth Speaker, Musician, To Hold Series of Meetings in Vermilion

Rev. Wes Aarum, area vice-president of Western Canada Youth for Christ and renowned as a youth speaker and musician, will appear at a series of meetings in Vermilion commencing on Sunday, Sept. 25th to Sunday, Oct. 2nd. The meetings are scheduled for 8:00 p.m. at the Alliance Chapel.

Rev. Aarum was born and raised in Buffalo, New York and was converted as a teen-ager in high school. He decided to enter into the work of the Lord as a musician. He attended Houghton college, Buffalo Bible Institute, and then the Bob Jones University where he double majored in English Bible and Sacred Music. He received his B.A. degree and was then ordained to the ministry by the Gospel Fellowship Association.

During the intervening years [illegible] with such men as Rev. [illegible] he went [illegible] and worked as a musician [illegible] of the Billy Graham team and Dr. [illegible] entered the Youth for Christ [illegible] on his own and became an evangelist for Eastern Canada Youth for Christ.

Wes Aarum is an excellent pianist and has made many records which are being used exclusively to raise money for [illegible] Youth for Christ. He was [illegible] athlete in his college [illegible].

The Alliance Youth Fellowship of Vermilion are proud and happy to have him come to Vermilion and a sincere invitation to each and everyone is extended to hear this man of God. 10-11

FOSTER PARENT PLAN GROWS

What does it feel like to walk into a spotlessly clean, yet humble room in Greece to meet a family you have never seen before, and find your own picture occupying a place of honour on the wall?

It happened recently to J. M. Wynn, prominent Montreal chartered accountant, and, according to him, the experience was a deeply moving one indeed.

Back in 1949, Mr Wynn joined the hundreds of Canadians who have become foster parents of impoverished children overseas, by contributing $15 a month toward a child's support through Foster Parents' Plan.

On joining the Plan Mr Wynn received the photo and case history of 3-year-old Theodore Dimaras. His father and uncle had been killed in the war and Theodore's mother was too ill to provide proper shelter and nourishment for her little family.

Now eleven years later, Mr Wynn visited Greece and had the pleasure of actually meeting "his child".

"It is a gratifying experience," he says, "to learn how much they can do with a few dollars and the clothing and medicine Plan provides."

Theodore now attends a trade school and is learning to become an electrician. The family have been able to purchase furniture, mattresses, kitchen utensils, an ice-box and so on, all through the help received.

"You can only visualize the hardships by an actual visit. I had already had this experience in Italy 4 years ago, when I saw my Italian foster child. However, the fact that children write their foster parents monthly helps greatly to understand their living conditions."

FALL CULLING OF CATTLE

A culling program based upon pregnancy checks, carried out at the Colorado State university, resulted in nine more calves being born for every hundred cows used in the test. J. J. Kallal, livestock fieldman, Department of Agriculture, suggests that cattlemen in this province have their herds checked by a veterinarian for pregnancy this fall. Cattle on range are in good condition and if not in calf can be sold on the market right away, which will make a nice saving on winter feed. The saving on feed alone should cover the Vet bill and any saving on labor and space and the fact that you can put the money to use some other place is all profit. Talk this over with one of your local veterinarians and ask him for an estimate of cost.

MASTITIS MUST BE BEATEN

Alberta Dairy Commissioner says the only way to beat mastitis is by good management and adequate preventive treatment. For several years now the incidence of mastitis has been steadily rising. The main reasons for this situation are faulty milking machines and too much reliance on antibiotics. When these drugs were first used results were very promising but because the emphasis was placed on cure rather than prevention new highly resistant strains of bacteria developed. The bulletin "Mastitis Must Be Beaten" gives excellent advice on how to combat the disease and is available from your district agriculturist. In the bulletin Dr. K. C. Johns lists precautionary measures which must be taken with the milking machine. All across Canada the percentage of mastitis in herds milked by hand is much lower than by machine. Experimental evidence points to lack of care in handling to be the villain, not the machine.

RATS GOOD AT ARITHMETIC

Who says rats aren't smart? At any rate they can multiply! From Oct. 1 to May 1, a pair of rats, (male and female) could, under ideal conditions, build up a population of somewhere in the neighborhood of 2000 mature and 6400 young rats. Don't depend on your dogs and cats to keep them down, use warfarin bait which is free from your M.D. office.

FUTURE FARMERS

These are dynamic times. Everything is changing at a rapid rate. The greatest concern today amongst western nations is the learning problem of the unskilled laborer. The majority of the off-season unemployed have less than a grade XI education. If you plan to farm, the same applies, but in a somewhat different manner: the lower the average education the lower the average income. The farmer of tomorrow must be a skilled technician and a skilled manager. To achieve this he must be as well educated as any other businessman. Avoid a lifetime of failure and disappointment. If farming is the goal, train for it. The future farmer will be better equipped if he graduates from a school of agriculture after completing grade XII.

V.S.A. TRAINING:

Courses offered at the School of Agriculture are especially designed for rural young people. Do you know of someone in your district who has finished school and could benefit by a term at V.S.A.? In order to take the two in one course grade eleven is required; for the two year course those having grade nine standing will be accepted.

[redacted]:

Homemaking subjects include Sewing, Clothing Selection, Textiles, Cooking, Nutrition, Handicraft, Laundering, Home Nursing and Home Management. Certain agricultural subjects of interest to homemakers are also taught. These include Dairying, Poultry and Horticulture.

Instruction in agriculture for boys covers a similar wide range and is ideal for those continuing on the farm or for those planning to find employment related to farming.

As well as this, a complete programme of extra-curricular activities is organized under supervision of a specially selected staff to encourage development of staff confidence, leadership and standards of good conduct.

COSTS:

Tuition is free, board and room charges are forty dollars per month, special fees, classroom materials etc. amount to approximately sixty-five dollars per term. Funds necessary for recreation and miscellaneous expenses generally amount to around sixty dollars. This makes a total of just over three hundred dollars for the term.

DURATION OF TERM:

Courses commence the last week of October and continue until the first week in April.

WHO TO CONTACT:

For further information and application forms, contact the principal at V.S.A., your District Agriculturist or District Home Economist.

Mammoth Bake Sale Planned by W. A. At Mannville

The Anglican Happy Hour W.A. met at the home of Mrs. Len Mann on Thursday evening Sept. [redacted] and two visitors present. [redacted] the departure of President Mrs. R. Forsyth for her new home at Grimshaw the first vice president Mrs. Joan Legg took over and led the members in the worship service with Mrs. Kay Cockle reading the Litany. Mrs. Roberta Shell gave an interesting review on the study book regarding Africa, after which discussion followed. Rev. H. Shell visited shortly at this meeting and brought several matters of importance before the group. During the business meeting a letter was read from the Vermilion Deanery with a suggestion re Prayer which this W.A. has adopted. Seven of the members will offer the special W.A. prayer at 7:30 a.m. while the remainder will commune in prayer at 9 a.m. In this manner all prayers will become a united offering, all groups taking part.

Reports were heard from previous tea and a decision was made to hold a mammoth bake sale on Sept. 17 at the Co-op store. A fall supper will also be held and the group will cater to a wedding in November. Lunch was served by the committee. Next meeting will be at the rectory. Everyone welcome.

Well Known Here, Prominent Swine Breeder Passes In B. C.

MANNVILLE—Word has come to Mannville of the passing of a well known former Minburn resident and noted swine breeder at Langley, B. C. William Gilbert, former widely known cattle dealer, prominent swine exhibitor and judge, as well as race horse owner, passed away in Lynn Rest Home, Burnaby, recently at the age of 81 years.

Born July 26th, 1879 in Polesworth, Warwick, England, Mr. Gilbert came to Canada as a young man in 1903, and homesteaded at Minburn, Alberta. He became established as one of the leading swine authorities in Canada, through his breeding programme, showmanship and judging at various exhibitions. He and his family moved to Murrayville in 1928 and later owned a farm on Stone road. During his residence here Mr Gilbert concentrated on cattle dealing, and occasionally owned race horses.

He and Mrs. Gilbert moved to Burnaby, B. C. three years ago when the former retired, continuing active until his illness of two months ago.

Funeral service for Mr. Gilbert was conducted on his 81st birthday, Tuesday, July 26th in Vancouver. Interment was in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Surviving Mr. Gilbert's death are his wife Rose, three daughters, Mrs. H. C. (Dorothy) Meade, Mrs. J. A. (Elsie) Butler and Mrs. C. A. (Marjorie) Read, all of Vancouver; three grandchildren, and three brothers and three sisters in England and on the Prairies.

Edmonton Wedding of Interest To Dewberry and District

Baskets of gladioli were used in the chancel of Metropolitan United church, Edmonton, on Saturday afternoon, when Shirley Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gleave, became the bride of Mr. Kenneth Thomas Hansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hansen of Dewberry, Alta.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Dr. W. T. Young.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional gown of white net over satin, with appliques of lace accenting the full length skirt. The naipee lace bodice was designed with lily point sleeves and a sabrina neckline. The bride's chapel veil, appliqued with matching lace, was caught to a small hat of lace, pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, ivy and white heather brought especially from Scotland by her aunt.

Miss Grace McEachern, maid of honor, wore a bouffant gown of sky blue crystal charm, with a matching lace jacket. A bow and short veil formed her head-[redacted] carried a bouquet of lemon Fiji chrysanthemums.

Mr. Ronald A. S. Brown was best man, while two other close friends of the groom, Mr. T. Racsuk and Mr. W. W. Fruden, were ushers.

Wedding music was played by Mr. Robert Pounder with Miss Noreen Fargey as soloist.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Sahara restaurant. To receive her guests Mrs. Gleave wore a champagne beige linen sheath with matching jacket. Her hat was a flower trimmed rose straw sailor model. Her accessories were rose and she wore a corsage of deep pink roses.

Mrs. Hansen, the groom's mother, wore a sheath dress of light blue silk crepe with white hat and accessories. Her corsage was one of pale pink roses.

For travelling on their honeymoon trip to the Oregon coast the bride changed to an avocado boucle dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was white carnations and heather.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Hansen will reside in Edmonton.

NEWS from ISLAY

Last Thursday evening a very pleasant time was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Allan when Richard Sweet with his motion pictures showed some of the Connon Gardens of flowers, the heavy snowfall of Oct. 5, 1959, the new bridge over the Vermilion River and other scenes of interest. Present were Mrs. Steinhauer, Gladys and Muriel Stone.

On Monday we visited the Connon Gardens, saw gorgeous flowers, quantities of crabapples still on the trees (a pretty sight), a Rowan or Mountain Ash tree, heavily laden with its clusters of red berries. One could wander there most of an afternoon enjoying the gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Turner and son are visiting Mrs. Turner's parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Sweet. On Sunday the baby was baptized, Timothy Ward, at the morning service of the United Church.

EXCELLENT HARVEST

No time for anything right now but the harvest and all are rushing at it and also gathering in the garden. Scarcely any frost has been experienced in Islay and tomato and cucumber plants are still green. We even gathered enough green peas for dinner.

SUNDAY SCHOOL AT 11:30

Sunday school began again last Sunday morning at 11:30. It is the hope of the teachers that parents will send, or better yet, bring the children. There is plenty of room for many more children. It will make it more interesting for all if the classes are large.

Sunday At The Alliance Chapel

During Sunday school at the Alliance Chapel on Sunday, Sept. 11th, leaders of the various boys' and girls' clubs had the opportunity of telling interesting facts regarding the club of which they were leaders. There are five such clubs conducted weekly in the Chapel for children of all ages.

Services of the day were conducted by Pastor Schroeder, whose subject in the morning service was "A Surrendered Body" and for the evening the third in the series on the Ten Commandments "Thou shalt not take the Name of God in vain."

During the services special musical items were a solo by Dorene Church, a male duet by Messrs. J. M. Schroeder and Albert Mix, and a solo by Mrs. Lyle Laird. She was accompanied on the piano by her mother, Mrs. John Hillcox, in whose home she and her husband and daughter Leone are visiting.

Other out-of-town visitors at the services were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wilson, Fairview; Mrs. Herman Wilton, Claresholm; Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Vert and daughter Janet from Three Hills and Mrs. Nelmes Sr. of Calgary.

After the evening service a large group of friends met in the basement auditorium to honor Mrs. Myrtle Fair who is moving from the district to reside in British Columbia. On behalf of the congregation Mrs. Fair was presented with a remembrance by Pastor Schroeder.

Wildmere Winks

Sunday saw the end of another summer season of services at Wildmere church. Mr. Pages was presented with a writing case and a social hour was enjoyed. Joanne Hughes and Linda Ruth Smith favored the gathering with some lovely solos. Mr. and Mrs. Wallington and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Upshall from town also attended.

Roy Dibber has been laid up with a bruised leg this week.

Anne Garnett is home from her nursing aide duties to help her mother for two weeks.

Murray and Bobby Cruthers are visiting with their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Cruthers while sister Darlene is in Edmonton for some more check ups. Best of luck Darlene.

Mr Clendenning should be [redacted] ing to help the children find some second hand school books. We have heard many compliments re this worthwhile project.

A speedy recovery is wished our old friend Fred Shaum from his recent operation in Edmonton.

Servicemen from the Community Television centre in Vermilion have been around testing pattern for the station in Lloydminster.

Funniest thing seen: Joanne Hughes, in a hurry to load bales, forgetting to lower the Farm Hand and hooking on to the telephone wires, resulting in no service for a couple of hours!

For the first time the grade 7 class had initiation ceremonies at Preston. Some really funny costumes were the result.

United Church W. M. S. Commence Fall Meetings

The September meeting of the United Church Missionary Society was held in the church hall on Thursday afternoon, Sept. 8. The president, Mrs. A. M. W[illegible] presided, and opened the meeting with Hymn 662. Mrs. M. Hill took the worship service and read a chapter from Corinthians II. She opened her address with the statement that the soil was prepared in the Old Testament for the seed of Christianity [illegible] was sown by Christ Jesus. [illegible] gave a very comprehensive enlightening talk on the Old Testament and the life and works of Jesus Christ.

Mrs. William Roebuck, literature secretary, gave a very interesting review of several chapters of the study book "Africa Disturbed".

During the summer months all were saddened by the passing of two of our highly esteemed and much loved members, Mrs. Oldenburg and Mrs. Dunsmore. These ladies were staunch supporters of missionary work and will be greatly missed in the society. A memorial service was conducted by Mrs. C. Barr and Mrs. W. L. Robinson.

Reports of officers and various committees were heard.

Treasurer Mrs. M. Barr gave a complete report of the financial status and reported that the society was well past the half way mark in its allocation.

Mrs. Wm. Muir convened the gift sale and reported a pleasing sum. With the exception of 50 cents due for postage the balance went into the Sunshine fund.

Mrs. Roebuck, acting supply secretary, reported a generous donation from Mrs. Kibblewhite of articles sufficient to make up the required vacation packets.

Mrs. Hill reported on the two exhibits made by the W.M.S. at the Vermilion fair. The quilt won first prize, it was the hand work of Mrs. H. P. Long.

Mrs. Robinson, secretary of Christian Stewardship, distributed thank offering envelopes, directed the ladies' attention to the reading of several articles in the Missionary Monthly, reported on a letter from Mrs. Varney, Presbyterial Secretary of C.C., who reminded all members of the Presbyterial Rally to be held at Cold Lake on Sept [illegible].

Mrs. Rookes, the Community Friendship secretary, reported that 47 home calls and 18 hospital calls had been made since last meeting.

The meeting closed with singing of Hymn 352 and the Mizpah.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Williams.

Golden Age Friendship Club

The September social of the Golden Age Friendship Club will be held in the Legion hall on Wednesday, Sept. 21st, commencing at 6:30 p.m. sharp. This will be in the form of a pot-luck supper. There is no need to bring knives, forks, spoons, plates, or cups, as these are being provided by the club. A little extra in the way of food might be advisable as all are sure to have big healthy appetites.

A wonderful program has been arranged so please make a special effort to attend, also invite one or more of your over 50 years of age friends. Let all Golden Age Club members try to make this our biggest year yet.

Standard Receives Lovely Bouquet

The Standard received a beautiful bouquet this Wednesday morning in contrast to the usual brickbat. The bouquet was a flowery one, picked chiefly from the wonderful garden of Mrs. Bert Gould of the Islay district. According to Mrs. Gould, blooms have never been more lovely nor profuse, or have they lasted so long as during this moist and frost-free season. Mrs. Gould is quite famous throughout this area for the beautiful flower garden at her farm home and for her house plants as well.

Whooping Crane Is Sighted In Vermilion District

(Special to Standard)

The Zoology Department of the University of Alberta has confirmed that an Edmonton man has spotted a whooping crane, one of the rarest of North American birds. Wm. Noble, a laboratory technician at the University of Alberta, saw this bird some 75 miles south west of Vermilion while helping with the harvest on the farm of Joe Lupino. There are only 43 whooping cranes in existence, an increase of four over the 1959 total. Cooperation of every hunter is asked in this magnificent bird's fight for survival and any sighting of the big whoopers in this area should be reported to Game Officer George Sens.

A week of absolutely perfect harvest weather, with temperatures in the high seventies, prevailed until this Thursday morning at which time the fine spell broke and the day dawned with a light rain falling. The forecast is for clearing however, with only .01 of an inch registered.

Pleasant Valley

Such lovely harvest weather. Everyone is busy taking off a very fine crop with high yields and good grades. Even flowers are still blooming and are a riot of color. Roses are blooming as if it were springtime.

Friends from Strome visited Sylvia Gould on Sunday.

Mrs. Gillies and Mrs. Bert Gould spent a day in Lloydminster viewing flower gardens and taking color pictures. A new variety of asters resembled the cactus dahlia. These seeds were brought from Germany in the spring.

Just a tip folks . . . if you want a good cup of tea go to the Tom Sherwood home.

BUFFALO COULEE ACTIVITIES

FAREWELL SERVICE HELD

Mr Pagee held his final service here on Sunday. While his future plans at time of writing are a little indefinite, everyone wishes him the very best. It has been a very fine experience for both congregation and student to have had someone from Trinidad [illegible] the summer, making us realize that regardless of race and color all are one in Christ.

BRIDE-ELECT FETED

Last Saturday afternoon Miss Shirley Love, a bride-elect of Sept. 17 and former Buffalo Coulee girl, was guest of honor at a shower held at the home of Mrs. Ruth Everett, and Miss Lorene Everett who is to be Shirley's bridesmaid. Over thirty ladies were present and enjoyed contests under the leadership of Mrs. Mavis Haverslew and Mrs. Evelyn Cunningham. For presenting the gifts Mavis conducted a husband calling contest and when Shirley called "Mike", one of the ladies dressed as a hobo arrived with a pack on her back, laden with gifts which she said she had foraged from the people of B.C., among whom Shirley had grown up. The bag was then deposited on a table for Shirley to open and produced many lovely presents for which the guest of honor very graciously thanked all. Lunch was served by the ladies. Best wishes for a long and happily married life go with Shirley and Mike [illegible] will reside in Calgary.

Similar wishes also go to another young couple of the community, Mr. Wayne Green and Miss Elaine Everitt who were married quietly in Wainwright [illegible] Saturday. They will be living in Vermilion.

Clifford Cunningham, with a friend from Regina, arrived [illegible] last week-end from his [illegible] work in Saskatchewan [illegible] Parks Department. He is helping with the harvest and plans on having a few days' holiday in the Peace River country before returning to university.

Vernon Smith, a former student at Buffalo Coulee, will be attending the U. of A. this year.

LOCAL NEWS

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr and Mrs. Henry Schneider of Clandonald wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Donna Bertha, to Donald Arthur Weston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weston of Maidstone, Saskatchewan. The wedding will take place Saturday, September 24th at St. Anthony's Catholic church, Lloydminster, at 11 a.m. Reception from 4 to 8 p.m. at the Schneider home in Clandonald. Friends and acquaintances please accept this as your invitation.

Rev. J. M. Schroeder of the Alliance Chapel left early Wednesday for Winnipeg to attend the W[illegible] Canada [illegible] prayer conference of the Christian and Missionary [illegible] being held Sept. 14 to [illegible].

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Howard and Mrs. Thomas Cairns of Edmonton arrived by bus Saturday. Mrs. Cairns will visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jensen in town over the week-end while Mr. and Mrs. Howard went on to the Wildmere district to see their son Lloyd and family. Many friends from the Wildmere district where she used to live called at the Jensen home to visit with Mrs. Cairns.

Mr. Harvey Rankin and son Douglas of Stony Plain, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wiggins of Edmonton, grandparents of Doug, visited at the home of Harvey's mother, Mrs. Cora Rankin. Together they all helped Mrs. Peter Jensen celebrate her birthday.

Miss Betty Robinson who spent her vacation with her parents, Mr and Mrs. Lyle Robinson, returned Sunday to resume her nurse's training at the Royal Alexandra hospital, Edmonton.

Buster Larkins, master printer with the Standard for the past six years left last week-end and is now a member of the staff of the Ponoka Herald.

The Standard has a new member on the staff this week, Mr. Mal Menzies who comes to Vermilion from Kimberley in B. C. At one time Mr Menzies was editor of the Spirit River news. He is a highly qualified printer having grown up in the business. Mal will be joined by his wife and four children later this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Manson V. Rutherford of Vancouver renewed acquaintances with old school chums around the town and district for a few days recently.

Ernie Mayowski has brought in the prize carrot this fall, that is the prize for oddness, for it had no less than 12 appendages growing from its sides.

Warren Rosequist and Gordon Park competed in the Labor Day golf tourney at Vegreville with Warren winning the second flight.

Mr and Mrs Wm Tipper and the boys have moved from their farm in the Kitscoty district and taken up residence in Vermilion. Mr Tipper is employed at Macleods.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dent of Swan River, Man., spent several days at the Rectory in Vermilion, guests of the Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Champness. Mr. and Mrs. Dent were on a holiday tour by car.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Corley were Labor Day week-end visitors at the home of their daughter Jean and husband and family at Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cameron of Edmonton spent the Labor Day week-end visiting at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. A. Cameron.

RUMMAGE SALE

A rummage sale will be held in the United Church hall Saturday Oct. 22. Please keep this date open. 10

Mrs. E. P. Langridge and children Katherine, Teddy and Bob are visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. West.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert French of Vegreville were week-end visitors in Vermilion, renewing many old acquaintances.

F. W. Powell who is a former member of the Vermilion school division teaching staff, and more recently of Viking, was a visitor in Vermilion prior to registering at the U of A. He will take pharmacy with the ultimate objective of entering medicine.

Flower gardens have been particularly beautiful this summer and due to frost holding off it is still a real treat to walk around and look many of them over. A real eye-catcher is that of Rod Sample. Rod grumbles a bit about some of the seeds not being as good as they should be but nobody can find much to criticize in the riot of blooms and terrific coloring that greets you as you stroll past his very extensive flower garden.

Mr and Mrs Gordon Williams and Mr and Mrs. Grant Hetherington and two children, Billy and Lynn, motored to Grande Prairie over Labor Day week end where they visited Mrs Norma Crowell and the children. A trip was made to see the new Dunvegan bridge which they described as a truly beautiful structure and a real boon to the area.

Mrs Rose Harle returned home on Wednesday evening from Edmonton where she spent a week, a guest at the home of her daughter and son-in-law Mr and Mrs Stewart Cooper.

Mr and Mrs. Mark Williams of Fort Pitt were in town on Friday of last week visiting Mr and Mrs. Will Muir.

Mrs Myrtle Fair left this week for Matsqui, B.C., where she intends to make her home with her son and family, Mr and Mrs Robert Fair.

Mr and Mrs Will Muir left via the CNR Continental on Friday night last for a visit to old home scenes at Durham and district in Ontario.

APPRECIATION

Having sold my interest in Mitchell Insurance Agency Ltd. to Angus MacMillan, I wish to thank my many friends for their past courtesies to me in the insurance business and hope that you will continue your relationship with the firm with Angus MacMillan as the owner.

D. R. (Reg) MITCHELL.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Due to the desire of D. R. (Reg) Mitchell to fulfill a long-time ambition to be in the garage business, we have mutually agreed that he would retire from the business of Mitchell Insurance Agency Ltd.

Having purchased Mr. Mitchell's interest in the business, I will continue to maintain the same policy of service to our customers that we have followed over the years. I will continue to carry on the various kinds of insurance that we have in the past, as well as Real Estate and Travel Service.

I welcome the opportunity to continue to be of service to our many customers.

ANGUS MacMILLAN

ANNOUNCEMENT

I have purchased the premises and business of

OILFIELD MOTORS LTD.

and will be operating under the trade name of

SCHOOL CORNER A HIVE OF ACTIVITY

The school corner is once more a hive of activity with all the rooms staffed, and again under the principalship of Mr George Jushow. There is a good-sized class of beginners this term.

The former grade X students are all continuing their grade XI. Ronnie Kennedy is in Wainwright. Robert Cameron is going to Mannville and Katherine Barlow, Alnyne Stone, Laurena May, Lenore McInnis, Lyla Eyben and Grant Haverslew attending Vermilion high. Douglas Cameron and Diane Renaples are taking grade X in Mannville and Fay Luchyk in Vermilion. Those taking grade XII are back to their respective schools again this year.

W.A. HOLDS QUARTERLY MEETING AT CHURCH

Last Wednesday evening the quarterly meeting of the W. A. was held at the church with a fairly good attendance. Ruth Haverslew vice president, presided with Evelyn Cunningham, secretary. The W. A. will be making up the deficit of the M and M fund and it was also decided to get the carpet for the aisle of the church and do the floor before the services start next year.

Mrs. Bessie Stone on behalf of the Auburndale W. A. presented Mrs. Wear with a life membership for her many years of faithful service to the W.A. and the church. Mrs. Wear, completely taken by surprise, was deeply appreciative of the honor as she expressed her thanks to the group. Following this the guest of the evening, Mrs. Laird of Clandonald sang a lovely solo. Upon conclusion of the business meeting Mrs. Laird gave a very interesting talk on Camp Whitney with Sam Pagee following her, telling of how much he had enjoyed and felt the worth to the young people of such a camp. Ruth Haverslew extended thanks to Mrs. Laird on behalf of the group. Pleasure was expressed at having Mrs. S. Carroll and Mrs. Omness present. They had accompanied Mrs. Laird. Lunch was served by the Willowby-Battleview groups and a social half hour enjoyed.

Y. P. COMPLETE MEETINGS

The Young Peoples held their last meeting of the season Friday night at which Mr. Pagee was presented with a gift by President Colleen Kennedy on behalf of the group. Plans were made for their Sunrise service which was held on top of Edward's hill Sunday morning at 5:30 a.m. This has become an annual affair and is very much enjoyed by the young folks. Following the service they cook their own breakfast . . . even to pancakes — Ask Bobby.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

[illegible] has been cool, with slight frosts in our district, and little moisture. Swathing, binding, combining and some threshing has been done. The yield and grade appears much better than for some years past. The gardens this year were excellent too, with cukes especially in great abundance.

ATTEND W.M.S. RALLY

Mrs. Omness accompanied Mrs. Laird of Clandonald on Sept. 1 to the W.M.S. rally in Islay and had a very interesting afternoon. Guest speaker was Mr Pagee who gave a very informative talk of his homeland, Trinidad, since its discovery by Columbus. We have often heard it said, "Islay is such a homey place". We think so too. Thanks again ladies.

Mrs. Helen Schmidt and family of Lloydminster spent the long week end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isidore Nelson. Frank was golfing at Vegreville.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Edwards and family who used to live at Allandale, then in Vermilion, have recently moved to Edmonton. Our very best wishes go with them.

PRESENTATION MADE TO STUDENT MINISTER

The Omnesses were very pleased to be able to join the Islay congregation for church service on Sept. 4. Mr Snider was really thrilled with his gift and overjoyed with the poem, which went as follows:

TO MR. SNIDER

"You came to stay with us in May
To help our hard worked pastor
And so we hope, with you to cope
He found the work go faster.
Your sermons preached, we know [illegible]
And helped us many a day,
As to the sick, you have the trick
Of knowing what to say.
Vacation school, though not the rule
In this locality,
With projects neat, and time to [illegible]
Took lots of energy
The time you spent, where'er you went,
We hope was entertaining
And that we brought some little thought
To help you in your training
But now we fear the time is here
To sever our relation,
So best wishes true we bring to you
From the Islay congregation."

Our congratulations to the author, Mrs. McLennan. I'm sure Islay folk are duly proud of your ability, and it is grand to share it with others. Thanks again Islay ladies we do appreciate your fine hospitality.

Mrs. Barb McPhee is again on the teaching staff at Clandonald. May all the teachers and pupils have a most successful year.

Mrs. Dorothy Johnson of town accompanied daughter Joyce and Eddie Lyons and boys to Stettler for the long week-end to visit daughter June and Allen Russell and son. They returned with them to spend a week in town. Dorothy is comfortably settled in a McLean apartment.

Mr. and Mrs. Laird and daughters Margaret and Kathy motored to the city the long week-end to visit son Wayne, Marjorie and daughter Heather Lynn. Their daughter Clarice and Cy Trudel and son Colin from Camrose met their parents in the city.

Mr and Mrs. Stuart Laird and son Shannon from Assiniboia, Sask., arrived at the Laird home in Clandonald on Sept 6 for a three weeks' holiday.

The evening of Sept 7 Mrs. Carroll from town and Mrs. Omness accompanied Mrs. Laird of Clandonald to Auburndale to attend a joint W.A. meeting at Auburndale. Your kindness was much appreciated ladies.

Miss Hazel Habstritt from town is taking a nurses' aide course in the city. Grandma Johnson is living in Edmonton.

The September W.A. meeting was held on the 8th. Plans were made for a bake sale and farm produce sale on Nov. 5 in town. More details later in The Standard. October meeting will be at the Omness home, lunch committee — Mrs. Erna Armstrong and Mrs. Nancy McPhee.

Closing thought: "Shoes of Peter, shoes of Paul, John and Stephen. They have all left footprints in the sands of time, footprints of love and faith sublime, service and salvation."

HAPPY HOUR TO MEET

The Happy Hour group of St Saviour's W.A. will meet at the home of Mrs. Fred Stewart on Thursday evening at 8:30. 10

Miss Mary Gourley Feted At Shower

Miss Mary Gourley of Clandonald, bride-elect of Sept. 3rd, was guest of honor at a shower held on Thursday, Sept. 1 by co-hostesses Mrs. Ivy Arnold and Mrs. Jean Butler.

The large group of friends gathered in St. Columba's hall and enjoyed many hilarious games, with the winner of the mystery box being Mrs. Frances [illegible].

The bride-to-be, seated at a table decorated with beautiful glads sent by Mrs. Hilda Cross, was presented with many lovely and useful gifts, wheeled in on a miniature stretcher by little Miss Gloria Butler, who was dressed as a nurse.

In opening her gifts, Mary was assisted by her mother, and sister Margaret. She quite ably thanked all present and invited them to visit her in their new home at Fairview.

To bring the happy occasion to a close, a tasty lunch was served.

Mannville W.A. Plan Wedding Reception

MANNVILLE. — Meeting in the United Church social rooms, members of the Women's Auxiliary had a good attendance for their first meeting since the holiday months, on the evening of Thursday, Sept. 8. Following the service of worship period reports were heard from the recent flower show and the Masonic banquet committee, both showing a most successful return.

A contribution was sent towards the maintenance of the group's adopted refugee.

Considerable discussion was held regarding catering for a wedding reception in October as well as planning the annual jungle tea to be held Oct. 22. It was decided to undertake both projects. The sewing committee distributed material among the group.

Lunch was enjoyed at the conclusion of the meeting, served by Mrs. Norma Ewing and Mrs. E. Wood. Next meeting will be held on the second Thursday in October in the social rooms. All interested please join in this evening of worship and fellowship. Visitors are always welcome.

News from Meinsberg

Mr. and Mrs. L. Coombe of Vermilion were visitors here for a few days renewing old friendships. Leonard was looking fine but we were sorry to hear that Mrs. Coombe had injured her ribs.

The Rev. and Mrs. Ray Clennett and family have left to take up church duties in the parish of Hines Corners. Rev. Clennett was for some time Anglican missionary for the Frog Lake reservation. Every success and happiness is wished them in their new home.

FIRST LOAD OF WHEAT
Nick Kalynchuk hauled the first load of new wheat to the elevator on Sept. 8, almost six weeks earlier than the first load last year. It tested 16.4 and graded No. 2.

Mrs. O. Vinge and daughter Joyce had a very busy and no doubt noisy time when they entertained fourteen of the town's [illegible] try. The occasion was young Raymond's ninth birthday. If noise was any indication of a good time the youngsters certainly had it.

Mr. and Mrs. Drysdale had for dinner guests on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. E. Sharkey, Mr. George Botting and Mr. and Mrs. O. Vinge.

The farmers are all very busy these days trying to get their crops off between showers.

Gardens are still looking nice for the lateness of the season. No frost as yet for which everyone is thankful.

"EXPLOSIMETER" FINDS GAS LEAKS

If you smell danger don't go looking for it, because when gas fumes are in the air even the flick of a light switch can trigger a fatal explosion. Call the fire department and firemen will come to the rescue with an explosimeter, a three-pound, portable box-like instrument which seeks out highly concentrated areas of inflammable or explosive gases or liquids. Firemen take samples of the air by pressing a small bulb on the explosimeter. The machine is shown above by Deputy Chief Dave Forgie of Scarboro, Ontario.

4-H Garden Club Achievement Day At Paradise Valley Held September 7

PARADISE VALLEY. — The 4-H Garden club held its achievement day on Wednesday, Sept. 7, and again the prairie gardeners came through with a very fine display of vegetables while the flower arrangements were especially good. The canned and frozen vegetables and fruits were outstanding as also were the jellies and various salads. It was quite evident that much time and thought had been put into the project [illegible] very good.

The program was short but interesting. Ruth Bloxham acted as chairman with Linda Stepen off at the piano and Ellen Teasdale leading in the singing. After the singing of O Canada by the audience and the Club Pledge by the group, there were [illegible] demonstrations, "Making Dilled Carrots" and "Flower Arrangements". A short skit by several girls followed and then a very fine report by Eleanor Fulgham on her short course at Vermilion Agricultural school in July.

Miss Hooper spoke on the method of marking and the reasons for certain marking. She congratulated the girls on the fine display.

Mr. Fleming who had helped with the vegetable judging was unable to be present at the program on account of illness, but District Agriculturist Morley Douglas was in attendance and spoke to the girls about judging of vegetables. After a short sing-song and the "Queen" the girls served tea and lunch to all who wished to stay.

PARADISE VALLEY NEWS

Guests at the home of Mrs. H. Smith during the past week were her cousin Mrs. J. Kaye of Blackfoot and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Smith of Stettler.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Alwood of Edgerton have moved into the U.G.G. house. Mr. Alwood is the new agent for the company here.

FAREWELL PARTY HELD
A farewell party was held on Friday night for Mr. and Mrs. Mel Nyastvold and family who have moved to Lloydminster. A very good crowd attended. We are sorry to see this family leave our midst but wish them the best in their new home.

THEATRE TO REOPEN
The Paradise Valley theatre will reopen on Thursday after being closed for the past few weeks. Mr. Jack Hawkes has sold out both here and in Edgerton so the Paradise Valley Hall club have purchased the equipment and will carry on. They were able to do this by the very generous support of the district in raising funds to make the deal. We hope that they will receive full support from all those who enjoy the movies.

Keep Your Home Free From Poisonings

* * *

Health Unit Notes

Did you know that several children are poisoned each day? That between 30 and 40 children die of poison each year? That half of these deaths are caused by poisons other than drugs and medicines — by so-called "common household preparations"? That danger of poisoning lurks in your home — in every home in this land of Canada?

Not all the common household preparations you use every day are lethal, or even injurious. Some of them, if swallowed, would merely cause violent discomfort at the worst. But many of them would be very dangerous. Most medicines are meant to be swallowed, they nevertheless should be treated with extreme care.

These hazards are magnified whenever there are small children around, for toddlers will eat anything and are as a rule more susceptible to poisons. It will pay you to take stock of the items around your home which could be termed "poisonous" or "toxic".

Let's look at a few: MEDICINES — "prescriptions", pills, headache tablets, laxatives, ointments, liniments. CLEANERS — bleaches, solvents and cleaning fluids, oven cleaners, detergents, lye, drain cleaners, disinfectants and deodorants, waxes, polishes. PAINTS — including varnishes, calcimines, thinners, turpentine, brush cleaners and paint removers. FLY SPRAYS — bug killers, rodent exterminators, [illegible] weed killers, anti-freeze, [illegible] kerosene, gasoline, rust removers, car polishes, glues and cements, soldering com[illegible], polish removers, per[illegible] lotions and alcoholic beverages.

The list is endless — all are villains that threaten your children — that bring sickness to thousands of children, that kill more than thirty Canadian children each year. Grim as this sounds, it does not tell the whole story. It is true that death occurs in only a small proportion of cases also, [illegible] with proper treatment many recover quickly and completely. But what about the rest? What about the children who become seriously ill, even permanently disabled, because of these poisons?

Take for example, a child who swallows kerosene. He may appear, after treatment, to be wholly out of danger, yet in a few days the doctors may again be battling for his life against pneumonia — a frequent complication in such cases.

Or again, a child whose life had been saved even though he drank a quantity of lye might suffer from voice impairment due to damaged vocal chords to say nothing of the scars that could be caused by the lye being spilled on his skin. There are many other types of permanent damage that may result from poisoning. Do you want to risk any of them? No? How then can you protect your family against accidental poisoning? By practising the following common sense precautions.

Good Housekeeping: Make sure that cupboards and storage for all potentially dangerous substances are the right kind and in the right places. This means locked storage in basement garage and workshop and high shelves for cleaning fluids for polishes, bleaches and similar housecleaning aids.

Safe Habits — Develop safe habits like these. When using any preparations read the label carefully and observe cautionary instructions placed there by the manufacturer. If you have any doubts about the safety of a preparation, treat it as if it were a poison. When using medicine read the label and administer only as directed. Throw out all "left-over" prescriptions and all medicines whose label has been lost — a wrong guess could be fatal. Give children only medicine for which a child's dosage is indicated. Teach your child to regard medicine as such and not as "candy". When you are called to the phone carry [illegible] you or put out of harm's way any preparation that could hurt your child. Risk losing a [illegible] better than to risk losing [illegible] child. When "dry" cleaning [illegible] doors or windows open, remember, fumes from cleaning fluids can poison as well as ignite. When housecleaning, if you cannot watch your child every moment, at least keep an eye on the cleaners and polishes you are using. Place them all in one basket and take them with you as you move about the house. When your children are around warn them of the dangers of the preparation you are using. Familiarize them with the package or container. Never transfer harmful substances to cups, pop or milk bottles or other food containers. When discarding make sure children will not be [illegible] recover medicines, [illegible] tions or [illegible] preparations from garbage cans or elsewhere. When the task is done, put away the tools. The sooner poisons are [illegible] to a safe place, the less the risk of accidents.

DELAY CAN BE DEADLY

Thirty to forty Canadian kiddies die each year of poisoning, and many hundreds more are made ill. Why? Why, in this age of enlightened medical knowledge, cannot all these lives be saved? All too often the answer is delay — in calling a doctor, in getting the victim to the hospital, in identifying the poison, in determining correct treatment.

The number of these deaths and illnesses is so serious that federal and provincial health departments have established a series of poison control centres to help doctors in the diagnosis and treatment of such cases.

The idea behind Poison Control centres is to have available, at central points across Canada, complete information regarding all household poisons together with the treatment indicated in each case. The branch of the federal government most vitally concerned, the Food and Drug directorate of the Department of Health and Welfare, set about compiling this information and, to date more than 5000 products, both drug and household preparations have been listed and cross-indexed for treatment. The lists, in the form of a handy reference card system, are supplied to hospitals wishing to set up Poison Control centres, through the provincial deputy ministers of health. Since the spring of 1957, when the first one began to function, Poison Control centres have been set up in most major Canadian cities, and the list is growing still.

It is a simple matter now for a doctor, called in on a poisoning case anywhere in Canada, to dial a number or place a long distance call and receive, usually within minutes, all the information he needs to proceed with the treatment. As new products reach the market, the lists and the treatment cards are brought up-to-date, and new knowledge gained in the light of experience is duly recorded. In the first six months of their operation, the services of the Poison Control centres were enlisted at the rate of about 100 times a month, a figure which is growing as more centres open up.

As the general public becomes aware of the existence of the services, intelligent action is being taken when accidents involving poison occur.

WHAT TO DO IN CASE OF POISONING

We've listed some of the precautions you should take to safeguard your children. By following these instructions you can help keep the poison toll to a minimum. In spite of all reasonable precautions, however, accidents happen. What can you do if your child swallows poison?

1 Call a doctor right away. Remember . . . delay can be fatal.

2 Tell the doctor not only what the child has swallowed, but also the brand name of the product. This ensures proper identification of the poison or poisons involved.

3 If the doctor advises it, lose no time in getting the child to the hospital.

4 Show the label or container to the doctor or take them to the hospital with the patient.

5 If you cannot locate a doctor quickly call the emergency ward of your nearest hospital, or other emergency service in your town such as the fire or police department. Remember, antidotes are not the best answer, prevention is!

Kitscoty News

DEATH OF FORMER OLD TIME RESIDENT

Word was received by friends here last week that Mr Alexander Potter of Edmonton had passed away after a long illness. Sincere sympathy is extended to Mrs. Potter and the family in their bereavement. Mr. and Mrs. Potter and family lived here for many years before taking up residence in the city about four years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Christoffersen and Arlene and Mrs Burton Parker motored to Edmonton on Saturday to attend the funeral of the late Mr A. Potter and spent the long week-end visiting with relatives and friends.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Miss [illegible] and members of her family on the passing of Mrs. Dunsmore last Friday in Vermilion.

Mr. James [illegible] of Edmonton spent the holiday week-end here with his folks Mr and Mrs J. H. Manson and visiting brother Neil who is ill in Lloydminster hospital. Best wishes for improved health Neil.

Best wishes also for a speedy recovery are extended to the following who at time of writing were in hospital: Mrs. C. K. Miller in the University hospital Edmonton, Miss Helen McCourt, Mr Neil Munson, Mrs. Pauline McLean in Lloydminster and Mrs A. Whittingdon in Islay.

We are pleased to report that Junior Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Moore, is now home from the Lloydminster hospital and will soon be back at school.

Visiting for the holiday week-end at the home of Mr and Mrs. L. E. Speelman were their son, Dr James Speelman, Mrs. Speelman and children from Lethbridge.

Mr and Mrs. Alex Malcolm and the girls from Edmonton spent the long week-end visiting with Mr and Mrs. Elmer Long and family in the Kinnaird district.

Mr and Mrs. Henry Gerlock and family of Edmonton visited with Mr and Mrs. C. J. Quinn and Mr and Mrs. Ralph Cooper during the Labor Day week-end.

Miss Gail Richardson returned home last week-end from Banff where she spent the holiday months employed at the Banff School of Fine Arts.

ATTENDING REGINA SCHOOL

Leaving for Regina were the Misses Sylvia and Judith Kay, daughters of Mr and Mrs Reg Kay who will attend the Anglican School for Girls during the coming year. All the best girls!

Mr and Mrs. Archie Olds of Marysville B.C. were recent visitors here with their father Mr. George Olds.

Mr and Mrs. Albert Hounsh left last week to spend a vacation at the west coast.

Miss Joyce Birkett, nurse-in-training at the Archer Memorial hospital, Lamont, spent the long week-end here with her parents Mr and Mrs Charles Birkett and family.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Special Fall Session of Alberta Legislature Now Unlikely

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — Plans for a special fall session of the Legislature appear to be falling through.

Last spring the government all but promised a session would be held this fall to implement the revolutionary industrial tax redistribution scheme and the municipal tax on pipelines and power lines.

But now, from all indications, it looks as though the preliminary spadework won't be completed in time. If there were a special session called this fall, it would be fairly late and would almost run into the start of the next regular session in February.

So the trend in government thinking now is that it might be just as well to wait until the regular 1960 session in hopes of having all the groundwork done and being able to push the legislation through with as little delay as possible.

Municipal Affairs Minister Alf Hooke said it will take three or four more meetings between the provincial - municipal advisory committee and representatives of industry before the actual dollars-and-cents effect of the taxation proposals can be determined.

Meanwhile, the municipal affairs department assessment staff is continuing to work on a uniform assessment of major industrial plants, pipelines and power lines which will come under the new schemes.

Also awaiting the outcome of the taxation talks is the thorny problem of Edmonton area metropolitan amalgamation plans. Indications are nothing much will be done here until it is known exactly how Edmonton and its adjoining municipalities will fare under the tax shuffles.

While legislative action to implement the tax schemes may be delayed only for a few months, it probably will mean a delay of one year in actually putting the schemes into operation. Government officials hoped by having a fall session to put the plans into operation during the next municipal taxation year. But if the enabling legislation isn't passed until the next regular session, municipalities probably will have to wait until the following year.

LAC LA BICHE TO TURN ON GAS

The provincial government is keeping an interested eye on the town of Lac La Biche, which will soon be ready to turn on its municipally-owned natural gas utility.

With the advent of large-scale natural gas export bringing the promise of gas to scores of Alberta communities which don't have it at present, the Lac La Biche experiment could have far reaching effects.

Like many other Alberta centres, Lac La Biche relied on fuel oil and propane gas until a natural gas field was discovered a few miles away. When this happened the town was faced with the decision of granting a franchise to a commercial utility company or going ahead on a do-it yourself basis.

After a long battle, the question went to the town voters and they came out overwhelmingly in favor of doing it themselves.

Cost to the town runs at around $210,000. The government, anxious to help, lent about half that amount.

The remainder was raised by the first issue in Alberta of municipal revenue bonds. Surprisingly, the small northern settlement snapped up the revenue bonds and within a short time bought more than enough to finance the gas utility system.

Later this month Lac La Biche will turn on its municipally-owned gas system. Town council has given first reading to a by-law declaring a civic holiday to mark the event. The mayor, Michael Maccagno, also MLA for Lac La Biche riding, hopes to have a delegation of provincial cabinet ministers there for the event.

Lac La Biche hopes the natural gas utility will prove to be a money-maker for the town, helping to ease the burden of municipal taxation. Naturally, other towns due to get gas with the advent of export are watching the experiment with interest.

Last week a group of maverick Social Crediters who call themselves the union of electors held a meeting in eastern Canada. They reaffirmed their faith in the movement's founders, and said Social Credit parties in Canada have abandoned true Social Credit principles.

Answering the charges at a press conference last week, Premier Manning said the criticism is "simply not true" and added that the Union of Electors was repudiated many years ago.

School tunics, slacks and shirts may look the same this fall, but Mom can tell the difference: this year they can be washed and worn without ironing. The little girl's tunic and her brother's slacks are of 65 per cent "Terylene" and 35 per cent viscose. They'll go into the wash at night and be ready for wear next morning without pressing. The boy's shirt is 100 per cent "Terylene" and the blouse is the same fibre blended with cotton. Both are automatic wash and wear. These new, back-to-school fabrics are wrinkle-resisting and will keep their neat appearance through months of rugged wear. Tunic and blouse by Barakett.

SHOOT THE GOPHERS... NOT THE INSULATORS

Shooting electrical insulators endangers not only your own life, but the lives of other people. A hospital might be without power. A fire alarm in your neighborhood could be put out of operation. Any way you look at it, a broken insulator hurts the community, and the marksman who does the damage could easily be electrocuted by a wire whipped toward him in the break.

Mayor Hill Resigns With One Year Of Term To Run

Nomination Day Wednesday, Sept. 28 For Mayor and Two Vacancies On Town Council

Mayor Melvin Hill resigned as chief magistrate of the town of Vermilion on Monday evening, with one year of his term to run. His resignation was regretfully accepted by the council. Mr. Hill [illegible] ties and wishes to spend some time travelling.

Nomination day is Wednesday next, September 28 between the hours of 11 a.m. and 12 noon. Nominations will be received at that time for the offices of mayor and two councillors.

The mayoralty term will be one year, the unexpired term of former Mayor Hill. Regular terms of three years each prevail for the members elected to town council.

Kinsmen Review Outstanding Year

At the opening dinner meeting of the fall season, Jim Ferguson was installed as president of the [illegible] succeeding Art Morgan. The installation ceremony was officially carried out by District Deputy Governor Lorne MacLeod of Wainwright

The officers for the ensuing year are: President — Jim Ferguson, Vice-Pres. — Bob Rowe; Secretary — Bob McDowell, Treasurer — Harold Moyer, Registrar Bud Baddock Bulletin Editor - John Stewart; Directors Vic Rogers, Arne [illegible]

Retiring president Art Morgan was chairman at the well attended meeting. Guests of the club besides the many visiting Kinsmen, introduced were Ashley Cooper, M.L.A.; Percy Cooper of the Vermilion Standard, and Mal Menzies, a former Kinsman from the Spirit River club in the Peace River country.

REPORTS REVEAL YEAR OF ACTIVITY

The reports of various committees and of retiring president Art Morgan, revealed a very active year despite the fact that the club only has eighteen members.

Fund raising projects successfully carried out were 'Peanut' night, Grey Cup pool, car raffle Great Virgil show, Sportsmen's banquet drive-in theatre bingos.

MUCH COMMUNITY SERVICE

On the side of service to the community, the Kinsmen sponsored Midget hockey operated the wading pool, sponsored a team in the Little League ball and are helping the recreation [illegible]

$1000 DONATION MADE

During the year a donation of $1000 in cash was made to the Civic Recreation and Agricultural [illegible]

The car raffle was energetically promoted with the result that net profit had amounted to $2364.17

SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

The social side of club life was not overlooked and several enjoyable functions were held including the New Year's eve ball, ladies' night, family picnic, zone meeting and dance

Inter-club visits had been made to Grand Centre, Wainwright Sedgewick and Vegreville

The Vermilion Kinsmen had chartered a new club at Sedgewick during the year

Following installation and committee reports D.D.G. Lorne McLeod gave a short but inspiring club address. Newly installed president, Jim Ferguson [illegible] the club for the honor and responsibilities bestowed on him noting that there was an ever increasing amount of service work in this community and he felt that there was no body of men better able to do it than the Vermilion Kinsmen

A motion praising the retiring president and officers for an interesting and active year met with general approval

The meeting was held in the new Hub Cafe banquet room where a delicious and bountiful dinner nicely served was enjoyed prior to the business session

Mannville Now Boasts Paved Street

MANNVILLE. — The village of Mannville now boasts a paved main street, which rivals Jasper [illegible]

A wide street, it is now particularly impressive by the broad expanse of smooth pavement.

What a treat it is, no more bumps, no more mud, as has been the experience in the past with this particular stretch of street

This great improvement was made possible through the five-year plan of the Alberta Government. The village council plans to commemorate the completion of the hardtop by tendering a complimentary dinner to the Hon. Gordon Taylor, Minister of Highways, and Ashley Cooper, M.L.A., on Friday, evening, Sept. 30th

Workshop To Help Farm People Held At V. S. A.

A workshop was held at Vermilion School of Agriculture the week of Monday, Sept. 19th to the 23rd, attended by Alberta Cooperative fieldmen and Farm Union of Alberta directors. The Farmers' Union of Alberta and the major Alberta Cooperatives agreed August 10, 1959 to form the Farm Union and Cooperative Development Association to work through local F.U.A. groups on farm education. This was a major decision bringing the co-op field staff into the job. The purpose of the shop was to show the fieldmen the role they would have to play and the directors what help could be expected.

Present at the meeting and directing activities was Mr F Griesbach director of F.U.A. and C.D.A. Edmonton Mr Phil Roth ers Co-op College Saskatoon [illegible] Director Farm [illegible] broadcasts CBC [illegible] Mr Lloyd Rasmusson Mr Charles Cheshire supervisor of district agriculturists for Alberta Jim McFall secretary Farm Forums for Alberta Allan Des Champs secretary of Agricultural Extension U of A.; Jim Dahlmett supervisor of field [illegible] Braithwaite Red Deer, president F.W.U.A. and Mr Ed Nelson president F.U.A. Cubs and Scouts — Guides and Brownies; What Is Their Future?

What is the future of our Cubs and Scouts, our Guides and Brownies? Right now it looks very black, for without leaders and parental support these groups cannot function.

The group committee has been busy trying to find leaders. This is an extensive task and so far the results have been very discouraging Unless we can find the following leaders real soon these worthwhile groups cannot continue this season

A scoutmaster and two assistants for some 25 to 30 Scouts.

One Cub leader and two assistants for one Cub pack of 25 boys.

Mrs Bottorff Mrs Faye Park and Mrs Bea Keene [illegible] on with the other Cub [illegible]

Two assistants to help Mrs King and Mrs. Marguerite Webb with the two packs of 65 Brownies Mrs Dot Webb and Mrs Mary Mitchell are continuing as Guide leaders

MEETING MONDAY, SEPT. 26

A general meeting is being called for all parents of Cubs, Scouts Guides and Brownies along with all other interested parties on Monday Sept 26th at 8 p.m. in the Scout hall [illegible] youth groups had a very interesting and active season last year. It would be a disgrace for a town the size of Vermilion to have to drop these groups from lack of leadership. A large turnout is earnestly requested.

Returns To Barber In Vermilion

Tommy Wilcox who grew to manhood in Vermilion left in 1939 when he joined Canada's active service forces and has lived in Edmonton since returning from overseas following the war has come back to town and has opened a bright new and attractive barber shop here located next door to the Krause Flower shop

Tommy is an expert barber and will be pleased to meet all old friends and to make new ones See Tommy's opening ad elsewhere in this issue

The Vermilion Cadet Corps will commence its training on the 27th September 1960 at the Vermilion Armouries

Over 300 Attend Farewell Social Tendered Rev. and Mrs. MacKay

Possibly the most largely attended farewell ever held in Vermilion took place on Sunday evening in honor of Rev and Mrs Chauncey MacKay and their four sons, David, Donald Jimmy and Stevie The family leave Vermilion after nine years residence here and will live in Toronto.

The farewell social was held in the church hall and was attended by fully three hundred friends and well wishers

The program which was emceed by G W [illegible] comprised a sing-song led by Dr Ben King with Mrs Morris as accompanist a piano selection by Mrs Wm [illegible] violin selection by Nancy Hill with Mavis McCauley as accompanist a solo by John Webb with Mrs Morris accompanist

Presentations were made to Mrs MacKay by Mrs Maxwell on behalf of the Busy Bees and by Miss Judy Russell for the Youth groups

Mr Gordon Seale presented Mr and Mrs MacKay with an engraved, burnished copper vase from the rural congregations of Auburndale and Wildmere

From the Vermilion congregation and other friends Mr and Mrs MacKay received a television set to be delivered to their new home in Toronto. The presentation was fittingly made by Mr Newcombe Bentley

Both Mr and Mrs MacKay replied feelingly telling just how much their years in Vermilion meant to them and thanking each and everyone for the presentations and good wishes.

Following his nine years of devoted service to the work of the United Church in Vermilion, Mr MacKay has been appointed assistant preaching minister and director of Christian Education of Kew Beach United Church in Toronto.

Rev and Mrs MacKay and the four boys leave Sunday by car for their new home

A Fine Job

A worthwhile job very well done is that of the hard topping of the south river hill road Not only does this eliminate a great source of dust on a very busy road but it provides a smooth surface that will not rut

The work was done by the town crew under the direction of public works foreman Ken [illegible] all of whom deserve considerable praise for the fine work done on a difficult project

Mrs. Harold Dorey Dies At Victoria

Word has been received of the death of Margery Louise Dorey, beloved wife of Mr Harold Dorey. The death took place at Victoria, B. C. on September 19th following a lengthy illness. Mrs. Dorey is a pioneer settler of the Landonville district where the family lived since the early days of settlement in this area. Twelve years ago Mr. and Mrs. Dorey retired from farming and moved to Victoria.

Besides her husband she is survived by two sons and three daughters, Gilbert of Edmonton, Geoffrey of Clandonald, Mrs. Stan McCrae (Joan) of Vermilion, Mrs. Colin West (Betty) of Clandonald and Mrs W A Etherington (Shiela) of Edmonton. She was predeceased by her eldest son in 1948.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday Sept 20th at 10.30 o'clock in the morning at the Hayward Chapel.

Getting Blood From A Stone

Who says you can't get blood from a stone? Junior Red Cross members in one Canadian high school get blood not only from a Stone but a Smith and a Jones, too.

The enterprising high school students are doing invaluable service to the Red Cross and to their community in the organization of a blood donor clinic de luxe, unique in Canada.

Four years ago these teen-agers saw the need in their area for increased interest and attendance at the clinic. For one reason or another many citizens didn't give blood when the [illegible] clinic rolled around.

Using posters, pamphlets, radio, theatre and newspapers, the Junior Red Cross members drum up "business" for the clinic. They organize the clinic in their school and circulate door to door to sign up donor pledges. They keep the telephone lines buzzing with their recruiting.

If a mother wants to come but can't leave baby, baby comes along to a special student-staffed nursery. If father wants to be a donor but hasn't transportation, a car decked in red crosses delivers him to the door.

Teams of teen-agers supervise coat checking and registration. They help soothe the brow of donors and offer them refreshment.

This is just one example of the way in which Canadian members of the world's largest youth organization are pointing the way to responsible citizenship. In this Junior Red Cross week we tip our hat to these industrious young Canadians.

A National Immunization Week Message To Parents

It is the duty of every parent to see that his children are immunized against five of the most serious of the communicable diseases: polio, whooping cough, diphtheria, smallpox and tetanus.

However, the Health League of Canada has a note of interest for the parents themselves. Tetanus (or lockjaw) is usually fatal and extremely painful. To be properly immunized against tetanus, caused by a germ that infects a wound, even a very small cut or scratch, you need periodic booster shots. Now it is possible to get a combined tetanus and polio shot. Remember tetanus can infect anyone who is not immunized. It is often picked up while gardening, on the farm, or from a cut or puncture from any rusty instrument. Perhaps you were immunized against tetanus a few years ago. Now it's time for a booster, and if you haven't had your polio shots yet you can get them both at once. Be wise — Immunize!

Women Can Really Help As Front Seat Drivers

Be a front seat driver, not a back seat one.

This is the advice offered by Mrs. E. J. Roylance, Greenwood, B.C., president of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada, to Canadian housewives and mothers.

"On long trips this fall, wives should share in the driving if they can. By avoiding undue driver fatigue, they are protecting the safety of their husbands and children," Mrs. Roylance pointed out. "On the other hand, instructing the driver from the back seat can only distract and irritate him.

"Canadian women can also help considerably in preventing traffic accidents by suggesting frequent stops for rest and coffee," she added.

Among other protective measures, Mrs. Roylance suggested that a wife should indulge in pleasant conversation to keep the driver alert, and pay special attention to the children to keep them quiet and in a happy mood.

"Safe-driving is certainly a major responsibility of women in our modern world. To discharge it, they must use all their natural talents for diplomacy," she concluded.

ATTENTION, Ratepayers!

RE: THE CURB AND GUTTER PROGRAM the Council has proposed starting in 1961, there seems to be a difference of opinion as to how it should be paid for. The council proposed the frontage tax which they feel is the only fair and just way it can be done. The curb and gutter that has already been done was by the frontage tax, and it is not fair to those who have already paid for theirs to have to pay for it again through general taxation. Nor is it fair to make those pay for it who have not got it and may never have it.

As to cost — it is estimated to cost $2800.00 for a block of 1680 lineal feet, and again it is not fair to make the corner lots pay for all the flankage which in most cases is 120 feet. The Council felt that corner lot owners should pay the front of lot plus 50 feet of flankage, leaving the 70 feet to be equalized over the whole block — there being four flankages or 280 feet —1680 minus 280 leaves 1400 feet at $2.00 per foot, giving the $2800.00 dollars.

Referring to the grant of $35,530.00 — when the town is completed, this will be mostly used up in putting the curb and gutter on non-taxable property, such as schools, parks and playgrounds, etc. Any that is left after the frontage has all been paid will go into the surplus fund and belong to every taxpayer — and you have paid no interest.

To do this under general taxation would require a plebiscite to borrow $100,000.00 at a high interest rate over a period of 10, 15 or 20 years, and make some ratepayers pay twice. If this were voted down we would lose the grant. The way the Council has proposed, those who want the curb and gutter and are willing to pay for it will get it, if any block does not want it, they have the right to petition against it . . . but the Council hope there will be enough take it to use up the grant at least.

Farm Purchase Aid National Economy

Although the number of farms in Canada is declining, agriculture continues to contribute heavily to the national economy — both direct and indirectly.

This is underscored in an analysis by the Economics Division, Canada Department of Agriculture, which shows that:

There are more than 1,000,000 cars, trucks and tractors on Canadian farms and their annual expenses, including depreciation and financing, are more than $400 million.

About 11,000 tons of pig iron goes annually into the making of agricultural implements and the implement manufacturing industry gives work to more than 10,000 employees with a payroll of over $42 million.

Farmers use $20 million worth of electric power annually and pay nearly $200 million for hired labor.

They buy 900,000 tons of fertilizers valued at nearly $70 million and use over 600,000 tons of limestone.

Pest control each year amounts to $20 million.

Farm operating expenditures and depreciation total $1.9 billion annually.

Moreover, an estimated one-eighth of the total revenue from motor transport of commodities and about one-fifth of the revenue from all carload freight involves agricultural products. The combined revenues total more than $225 million.

CONSTRUCTION COSTS

Hundreds of millions of dollars are spent annually on the construction, maintenance and furnishing of half a million homes owned by farmers. With 11% of the population living on farms, additional hundreds of millions are spent for clothing, recreation, health, education.

In 1957 there were over 9,000 establishments with more than a quarter of a million employees processing products of Canadian farm origin. Products from these establishments amounted to more than $4.5 billion and the payroll of the employees was $763 million.

While the number of farms declined from more than 700,000 to less than 600,000 between 1924 and 1957, this reduction was about equal to the increase in the number of employees processing or manufacturing products of farm origin.

In addition to these, there are about 70,000 engaged in food wholesaling and retailing.

Most youngsters think there are only three seasons in the year: baseball, football and basketball.

CASSEROLE COOKERY

With the arrival of fall, days become steadily cooler and homemakers make more use of their ovens. Casserole dishes become popular again and it seems many are on the alert for new recipes. A good casserole suggestion for you is to make up a recipe from your favorite main dish foods. There are a few principles which are generally followed.

Principles:

Most casseroles have three distinct parts. The first layer is a foundation layer and is made from some starchy food such as rice, noodles, macaroni, etc. This layer can be anywhere from one to three inches in thickness. The second part is the main ingredient. Very often this is chicken, fish or meat of some kind but it can be a vegetable (corn, mushrooms, peas, etc.). The third part of the casserole is the "cover". This can be a sauce, a sliced soft fresh vegetable such as tomatoes, grated cheese or buttered crumbs. The purpose of the cover is to prevent the other foods from drying out.

These three parts may be left in layers or they may be blended together. If you decide to blend them, a cover is recommended on your dish or too much moisture may escape.

Chicken and Rice Casserole

2 large onions, minced
¼ cup fat
1 chicken 3 to 4 pounds
2 cups uncooked rice
2½ cups canned tomatoes
1½ tsp salt
¼ tsp pepper
1 tsp chili powder

METHOD: Saute minced onion in fat until golden brown. Then remove from fat and set in casserole. Cut chicken in serving size pieces and fry lightly in fat in pan. As pieces are browned add to casserole. Pour rice into same frying pan and stir over medium heat to brown. Add to casserole. Pour other ingredients on top. Cover and cook very slowly. It will require about an hour in a 375-degree oven. This recipe should serve eight persons.

GREEN ACRES

District Agriculturist

V. S. A. OCTOBER 24

Alberta's future farmers are keeping October 24th, 1960 in mind. October 24th is registration day at the Vermilion School of Agriculture. Applications have been coming in steadily. If you are planning on making the farm a career apply today. Contact the principal V. S. A. or phone No. 1 Vermilion.

TREES

Your district agriculturist has the lists of trees and shrubs available to farmers for spring planting. If you are planning to plant trees in the spring of 1961 make your application now while the supplies are complete. Field shelterbelts and roadside plantings are now possible using your municipal district's tree planter.

EFFICIENCY?

It takes six or seven times as many acres to feed a population by growing grain for livestock and eating the livestock products than it does for the population to eat the grain directly. But thinking about a steak all hot and sizzly from the grill seems to make the extra acreage worth while.

BRANDS

Under Alberta's brand act, the cattle brand on the animal is accepted in any court in the province as proof that ownership of the animal is in the owner of the brand. There are two exceptions: (1) if a subsequent vent is placed on the brand. (2) a document to the contrary signed by the owner of the brand. A vent is made by marking in a hay position immediately below the brand mark upon any animal a letter or numeral forming part of such a brand.

FALL CULTIVATION

Shallow tillage of stubble in late September or early October provides a good seedbed for wild oats and makes possible earlier kill the following spring. A somewhat deeper tillage preferably with a cultivator is the most effective control of perennial weeds (thistle, couchgrass, toad flax, etc.) in summerfallow.

What To Do About Baby Talk

Health Unit Notes

Baby talk is a childish habit familiar to many parents. A typical example is "Ah av a witta tat" instead of "I have a little cat". Most children between the second and fourth year have difficulty in pronouncing words and when speech is developing you can expect your child to have trouble mastering sounds perfectly. But when the habit continues after the fourth year and no steps are taken to correct it, then it may persist until it becomes a serious handicap to the child.

Physical causes for baby talk are uncommon and tongue tie is rarely [illegible]. When there is a true tongue tie, a minor operation is required. A more frequent cause is that the child is hard of hearing or has what is known as a high-frequency deafness which means he doesn't hear such sounds as s, f or th and leaves them out altogether in his speech. If you suspect deafness of any kind, you should of course, consult your doctor.

However, four out of five children with defective speech have no organic causes and most of them have no mental defect either. The majority are quite intelligent children who have no mental defect either. The majority are quite intelligent children who [illegible] a very weak sense of sound discrimination. For instance, t and k sound alike to the, so do f and th. They call cow 'tow' and a thumb becomes 'fum'. Such children can and should be taught to tell one sound from another.

Begin Corrections Early

The best time for this correction is between the ages of four and seven. A delay can mean that your child will develop personality troubles because of his defective speech.

If the condition is not too extreme you can do a great deal to help your child overcome his difficulty. In the first place, he should have a good pattern of speech to follow, in other words, you can set the example. To talk baby talk back to your child is just making the situation worse. And it's not advisable to make him repeat a word over and over again in an attempt to make him pronounce it right. Chances are he'll go on giving the wrong pronunciation over and over again. You become frustrated. It's irritating to him exasperated and he becomes frustrated when you try too much speech correction while he's trying to tell you something. And yet, by showing you understand his talk easily, he won't want to make any special effort to improve it. It will take patience and good judgment [illegible] to show him you understand what he's saying and [illegible] to.

[illegible]

What's the way out of this problem? A systematic approach will work wonders. Set aside a short period every day when you can be alone with your child. Make a list of his glaring mistakes and study these sounds yourself.

If you look into a mirror and watch how you pronounce sounds, not words, you will learn a great deal. If your child is having trouble with the letter 's' teach him how to say see, saw, so, before you try store, speak, swing, smoke, etc., which are much harder to pronounce.

It will try your patience but you'll find the result well worth it. Remember, single letters should be taught first. Don't try words at the beginning but let him repeat simple syllables and play around with them until he is completely at ease with the sound. After this, and only then, will he be ready to use those sounds in familiar words.

Keith Hetherington Married in Calgary Ceremony

The South Calgary Nazarene church was the setting for the recent marriage of Florence Lillian Millman, daughter of Mr and Mrs E. Millman of Calgary and Joseph Warren Keith Hetherington, son of the late Mr and Mrs W. A. Hetherington of Auburndale, Alberta.

Rev. J. S. Watson officiated at the afternoon ceremony at which the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full length gown of white Chantilly lace and net over satin. Misting from her tiara of sequins was a fingertip veil. The bridal bouquet was an arrangement of pink rosebuds and lily of the valley.

Attendants included Miss Pearl Lambert and Mrs. Ruth Bedwell, sisters of the bride. They wore identical street length dresses of light turquoise lace. Headdresses of white feathers white shoes and gloves completed their ensembles. The bride's niece, Ruthie Goodfellow was flower girl. She wore a pink frock and a headband of tiny pink flowers. The senior attendants carried bouquets of pink and white carnations, while the flower girl carried a nosegay of pink daisies.

Grant Hetherington, brother of the groom, was best man, supported by William Green, nephew of the groom.

The guests were ushered by Ronald and Carl Millman.

Mr Ronald Stott was soloist and the wedding music was played by Mrs Jennie Millman.

Following the reception held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hetherington left on a honeymoon to Banff and Lake Louise. On their return they will reside in Calgary.

Lots of parents would have a car if the kids didn't have drivers licenses.

Sure is a difference between good, sound reasons and reasons that sound good.

Alliance Church Gives $2500 To Foreign Missions Program

Rev. J. Schroeder pastor of the local Alliance church who this past week attended the 34th Annual Conference of the Western Canadian District of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, returns to his pulpit this Sunday. He will give a brief report on the highlights of the conclave in the course of the morning service.

The conference, which was held at the Central Alliance Church in Winnipeg was attended by 112 delegates from churches in B. C. the three prairie provinces and Fort William in Ontario.

In business transacted at the gathering, goals for advance in missionary giving, church extension, youth and Sunday School work were established. The conference called for foreign missionary giving of $250,000.00 annually before the end of 1962, which is the 75th year of the Christian and Missionary Alliance. Present donations to missions from Western Canadian churches are just in excess of $200,000.00 annually. The local Alliance church last year gave $2,500 to the foreign missions program of the society which has an annual budget of some three and three-quarter million dollars with approximately 800 missionaries working in 22 fields around the world.

Rev. B. S. King, treasurer of the society, and delegation from the Board of Managers in New York, told the Conference that not a single Christian and Missionary Alliance missionary had been forced to leave the Congo and that rather, some missionary personnel had returned to the field since the recent trouble in that land. The Congo mission is the largest of the national Alliance fields.

The 1961 Conference is to be convened at Chilliwack, B. C.

Kitscoty Klippers Enjoy Barbecue

KITSCOTY. — The Kitscoty Klippers ladies' fastball team finished a very successful season and through the generosity of Mr Lyle Carpenter, an enthusiastic supporter the end of the season was marked by a steak barbecue which was held on Sept. 11. This event took place on the sports ground with the players and their escorts, coach Tony Graham, and manager Reg Kay.

The team won its way through league and tournament games to the semi-finals of the Alberta Provincial "B" fastball play-offs. They then lost out to Barrhead. The latter team went on to capture the title defeating a Calgary team in the finals and are thus Alberta "B" champions.

Next season the new young players of the Kitscoty team will have this experience behind them and they will probably stand at the top of the league, and have a good chance at copping the "B" title. Many thanks go to Tony for his fine coaching, and to all those who made it possible for Kitscoty to have this fine team.

PLAYERS THIS SEASON

The line-up of players for the past season includes Capt. Pat Tyler; assistant manager Mrs. Milo Quinn; Noreen Graham, Verna Kuehl, [illegible], Mary Gerrits, Evie Lang, [illegible] Kay, Sandra Gerrits, Judy Kay, Mrs. Gordon Blake, Mrs. Archie McLean.

Heinsburg

Heinsburg ferry is being equipped with electric lights in the near future.

Mr and Mrs. Gordon [illegible] of Lloydminster were visiting here with friends last Sunday.

Maurice Kunitz was in this district recently. He sold a hotel in [illegible]. Mr Kunitz still owns land here which he has rented.

Mr and Mrs. George Crook from Wainwright were here for a short time visiting at the home of Mrs. O. Vigne who is George's sister. He was home for a few days leave from the D E W line where he is employed as a cook.

Mr L. Kapjack is certainly doing his best in giving the area good roads, both to the north and to the south past the Lypowy farm, on to Walter Sowski's. Gravelling crews have certainly been busy. Thanks Mr Councillor.

Mr W. Franks really had a bumper crop of plums. They were a sight worth seeing and the branches of the trees had to be staked to hold up the fruit. Seven bushels were picked from the tree.

The first frost of the season was experienced here during the week. Everyone is now busy harvesting their garden [illegible].

Keep Small Children Away From Open Gas Mains

Northwestern Utilities Ltd. recently began the replacement of the 4-inch gas main in the lane between 49th Avenue and 50th Avenue from 49th Street to 51st Street. The three blocks of 4-inch main will be replaced with a six-inch main, wrapped and covered with pipeline enamel to ensure longer life and retard the corrosion of the underground steel main.

At present, the Gas Company crew are uncovering or trenching the old 4-inch line. Extreme care must be taken during this operation so as not to break or damage any service connections, thereby disrupting gas service to consumers.

During this uncovering phase of the work, another portion of the crew are stringing and welding the 6-inch line into place so as to be ready for the final placing once the complete ditch is open.

Once the three blocks of 6-inch main is placed in the trench it will be filled with gas and with the service tees having been previously welded into position, each individual customer's service will be transferred to the new 6-inch main.

The road crossing by the Boston Cafe will be augered under fifty feet so traffic will not be affected and no break in the paved surface of the road will occur. The road crossing at 49th street will be ditched but only when all other portions of the work have been completed.

At this time it would be well to mention to parents of little children some of the hazards involved while this work is progressing.

1. Please keep all small children away from open ditches.

2. Do not play with the lighted flares provided for your safety in outlining the open trench.

3. Guard against any small children receiving a welding flash while the welders are working. Children's eyes are very sensitive and the flash from a welder's torch may prove very harmful.

This work now being carried out by the gas company is very necessary, primarily for your safety because of the state of disrepair of the old 4-inch line and also to ensure continued service during the coming winter. It is hoped the work will be completed within the next two weeks. During this time the Gas company apologizes for any undue inconveniences and would like their consumers to know how much they appreciate their co-operation during this current phase of construction.

United Church W.A. Holds Fall Meet

The W. A. of the First United Church held the first monthly meeting in the church hall on Tuesday evening, Sept. 13th.

The devotional service was given by Mrs. Rooks.

The minutes reminded the group that there were still some juice containers on hand: and that the second joint rally of the W.M.S. and W.A. of St. Paul's Presbytery will be held in St. Paul on Sept. 28th.

Several secretarial reports were given by the president. A thank you letter from St. Saviour's W. A. was read and Flower and Friendship corner showed that 20 cards had been sent during July and August.

A short memorial service was given in memory of two revered members who had passed away since the last meeting, Mrs. Oldenberg and Mrs. Dunmore. The latter was filling the office of literature secretary.

Mrs Herbert, treasurer, gave a very favorable report, also plans for the social farewell for Rev C. W. MacKay and family were progressing favorably.

After some discussion it was decided to give the W.M.S. the returns from the rummage sale that will be held in October. A wedding supper also met with approval by the group.

The film strips can be obtained by phoning Mrs. Herbert for all church groups.

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. N. N. Bentley left Vermilion on Tuesday for an absence of a year which will be spent in Iraq on a United Nations agricultural mission. They go from here to Edmonton and will then be in Regina on Sept. 24th to attend the wedding of their son Bob. On the way to Baghdad they will spend a week in Paris, will visit briefly in Cairo, Egypt where they previously spent a year on a similar mission, and then to Baghdad.

Mrs. Rose Harle and Mr and Mrs. Henning Haverslew motored to Edmonton last Saturday to attend the wedding of Miss Shirley Love. Mrs. Harle remained in the city to visit her son and wife, Mr and Mrs. Gerry Harle.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Buckingham returned home last week from a holiday spent at the C.N.E. in Toronto and visiting boyhood scenes in Buck's native Bruce country in Ontario.

FAMILY RE-UNION

A real family re-union is being enjoyed at the home of Mrs. Wm. Steele on the south side. Mrs. Steele has her three daughters, Mrs. T. R. Cairns of Edmonton, Mrs. Wm. Barr, Victoria and Mrs. R. A. Steele of Lake Forest Ill., as well as her sister, Mrs. Daisy Rothwell of Fresno, Calif. all visiting her. They will be here for two weeks.

Miss Lorna Daley who is now nursing at La Jolla Calif. is visiting her parents, Mr and Mrs. Edwin Daley, and her grandmother, Mrs. Wm. Steele.

Mr and Mrs. S. Carl Heckbert returned last week-end after enjoying a motor tour and holiday in the Okanagan Valley.

Mrs. J. Kuzek returned the first part of the week from a visit with her daughter Elizabeth in Calgary. While there they enjoyed three days at Radium Hot Springs in Banff National park.

Mrs. Rooks, son Herbert, daughter Margaret and Miss Deanna Currie, all motored to Calgary over the week end. Margaret and Deanna remained in Calgary to seek employment.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wells have returned to Alberta following a summer spent visiting relatives and friends in Ontario. Much of the time was spent at their birthplaces of Madoc and Marmora, Ont., as well as visiting the C.N.E. in Toronto, and son Allen and family at Welland. It was 55 years ago that Mr Wells left Madoc to homestead in Alberta, and this was the first time he had seen Ontario since the days of the first world war.

Miss Lillian Bielech has returned to the University of Alberta after working for the summer at Long's Drug store. Lillian is a student in the Faculty of Pharmacy.

Mrs. Wm. Roebuck returned last Thursday from a 4300-mile motor trip to Ontario where she visited relatives at many towns and cities.

Gary Harreuther, son of Mr and Mrs. Albert Harreuther registered this week at the University of Alberta in Engineering.

Mr and Mrs. S. L. Conboy and two children, Ian and Heather of Forestburg were visitors for the week-end at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Conboy.

Mr. Graham King of Buckinghamshire, England was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Graham Skinner. Mr. King's father, Arthur, was a member of the R.N.W.M.P. force in the early 1900s. Mr. Skinner met Mr. King during the Oxford and Cambridge boat race in 1956.

WHIST WINNERS

The winners in the whist held in the Legion hall by the Ladies Auxiliary, Sept. 16 were: Ladies 1st Mrs. P. Wotherspoon; 2 Mrs. E. Shaw; 3 Mrs. E. Egan. Gents 1 Mrs. Davies; 2 Mrs. Urquhart; 3 Mrs. Roebuck. Mrs. Torrance and Mrs. Urquhart won the travelling prizes.

BUY ALBERTA MADE PRODUCTS

Mr and Mrs. Lloyd Maskell and family of Edmonton spent the week-end with Mrs. Flo Maskell. Mrs. Martinson, who accompanied them, visited relatives in the district.

Mr and Mrs. W. R. (Art) Wiebe and daughter Lois Lee from Edmonton were Sunday guests at the home of Miss Anne Snaychuk, also visiting their sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Rawe and family.

CARD OF THANKS

W. Curtis Martin wishes to thank Dr. Evans, Matron Miss McPhee and staff for the very fine care received while a patient in the Vermilion hospital. Appreciation is expressed to all visitors, and for the lovely flowers, fruit, gifts and cards received.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to sincerely thank Dr. Stephens, Dr. Evans, the matron and staff of the Vermilion hospital for the kindness and care received while I was a patient. Many thanks also to those who visited me, and for the gifts, cards and flowers received.

Mrs. Chas. L. Hollen.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all of our friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness and help received during the time our little girl was sick in hospital which required our absence from the farm and to the Greenlawn Goodwill Club for the gift of the doll sent to Sandra while she was in hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sikora,
Heinsburg, Alberta.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks for the many acts of kindness and help and expressions of sympathy received in our recent bereavement with special mention of Mr. Thos. Watts, Mr. Neberge, Mr. George Maxwell, Mrs. Walter Fisk, Mr. Karl Carlson, Mr. H. Moyer and Lieut. Reynolds of the Salvation Army.

The Grant Families.

CARD OF THANKS

On behalf of my dear mother and family I wish to express sincere thanks to all who showed us so much kindness in so many different ways. Also to those who called in from town and country and gave us support during our deepest sorrow. A very special thank you to the many children who sent spiritual bouquets. May God bless them all.

RCMP Ask Care In Shooting of Rifles In Rural Areas

The RCMP request the co-operation of parents in preventing indiscriminate shooting by young boys and teen-agers of the highly dangerous but lightly regarded .22 rifle.

Complaints are being received continually regarding this shooting which is done close to town or in the vicinity of farmsteads.

Some farmers have suffered heavy financial loss by reason of cattle and horses being killed or wounded and several motorists have had car windshields or windows broken by stray shots fired in the direction of the highways. This latter practice endangers the lives of the traveling motorists and their passengers.

PARENTS' DUTY

It is felt that parents have a responsibility to warn their children concerning this indiscriminate shooting and as most is done by juveniles they should consider their financial responsibility in case of accidents caused by stray bullets and deliberate shooting.

The greater number of these complaints are recived during the regular hunting season and in this regard it should be pointed out that it is unlawful to use a rifle in shooting water fowl of any kind.

CLAYSMORE CLIPPINGS

Mrs. Chas Creighton of Kitscoty accompanied by Mr and Mrs. Sam Emery of Calgary spent Thursday afternoon of last week visiting Mr and Mrs. Robt. MacMillan.

Mr and Mrs. Stan Gerrie and Carolyn who were returning from Manitoba where Stan was on a special contract job since early in August, called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. MacMillan Sunday afternoon. They were on their way to their home in St. Albert.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Hogg from Kitscoty have purchased the Philip Duffy place and have taken up residence there.

W. I. MEETS

The September meeting of the Claysmore W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. R. Bauer on Wednesday the 14th with six members and one visitor present. Plans for the fall bazaar were discussed and a date planned for late October.

A questionnaire regarding the schools for mentally retarded children was tabled until further information could be obtained.

A donation was made towards the scholarship fund for the top grade 12 student in Mannville school. October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Willes.

At the close of the meeting the hostess served lunch.

Mr and Mrs. Ronnie Bauer were Sunday afternoon visitors at the Allan Olstad home.

Mr and Mrs. Jack Willes were Sunday visitors in Vermilion at the Tim Nelson home.

Mr and Mrs. Peter Shimko spent Sunday at Vegreville.

Jimmy Pawlow is once again on the Claysmore school bus. He is staying at the Peter Shimko home and attending school from there.

Widmere Winks

The rain which had been threatening to fall on several occasions finally came down Monday evening to stop harvesting. Some farmers here are finished but those who are not will have to get some scare crows out as ducks are quite numerous.

Mr Pagee has been helping with the harvest at the home of Mr and Mrs. Dave Hughes while waiting for a new appointment for the winter.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wallington who celebrated their 57th wedding anniversary on the 17th. Here's wishing you many more years [illegible].

Supper guests at the Gibson home last Sunday were Mr and Mrs. Cliff Cruthers and family, Mr and Mrs Bill Smith and Linda, Adam Smith Sr., Mr and Mrs Bob Martin and Doreen, Mr and Mrs Ken Shepherd and Ron Hemmingway. The occasion was the celebration of the birthday of Adam and Ernest.

The farewell reception for the Rev. and Mrs MacKay was very nice with many different districts and denominations represented. We will all miss this family very much.

We are glad to report Darlene Cruthers is doing well after a serious operation in the hospital in Edmonton.

Kitscoty News

Mr and Mrs. Manson Rutherford from Vancouver were recent overnight guests at the home of Mr and Mrs. Ken C. Gray and family. They also saw several of their old friends in town and district.

Mrs. J. Crowe and Helen of the Earlie district spent the week-end in Edmonton, guests at the home of Mr and Mrs. Roy Barker who are former Earlie residents. While in the city Mrs. Crowe visited with Mrs. C. K. Miller who is a patient in the University hospital.

Mr and Mrs. R. M. Mathewson spent the week-end in Edmonton visiting with friends and relatives.

Mrs. J. Leighton and Art were visitors to Edmonton on Sunday.

Returning to Edmonton at the week-end to commence their second year at the University of Alberta were Miss Joan Stewart, Miss Neta Trask and Miss Carmie Ferris.

Recent visitors to the home of Mr and Mrs. J. Horne and family were Mr and Mrs. Merle Raymond and Darlene from Blue Ridge, Alberta. They also called on relatives and friends here.

Mr Robert King of Edmonton has been visiting with his brother Albert (Dick) King and renewing acquaintances.

Visiting at the home of Mr and Mrs. A. W. Govier were their son Bill, Mrs. Govier and the girls from Edmonton, also their daughter and son-in-law Mr and Mrs. W. Sage and family from the city.

Mr and Mrs. Wilf Clifford were business visitors to Edmonton on Wednesday last.

Mr and Mrs. J. Christiansen motored to Edmonton one day last week. Mrs. Christiansen remained in the city and is a patient in the University hospital where she is taking treatments. Best wishes to her for a speedy recovery.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Arle Franke on the birth of their first grandchild, a daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Franke of Fort Saskatchewan, on Monday, Sept. 19th.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Jos spent Sunday and overnight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Spear in the [illegible] district [illegible].

Competitor Meeting Held By Rotary

Last Friday was competitor relations meeting of the Rotary Club. At this meeting each member of the club brings his competitor, one in the same line of business. The result was 27 guests plus all the rotarians, so that a really large gathering was held at the new Hub cafe.

In welcoming the guests president Elmore Stewart said that vocational service was one of the most important avenues of service in Rotary precepts. In building up a high standard of ethics in business it is so important that we meet with our competitors and learn to know them. Problems can be solved more easily through friendship and co-operation.

Speaker for the meeting was a club member, Alex Pulla, acting principal of the V.S.A., who gave his vocational talk. In this he stressed just what the school was attempting to do for the farm young people attending in the building and developing of personalities as well as the education which the students absorb.

The speaker was introduced by Jack Knowle and thanked by Wally Dunsmore.

Dr. Bob Anderson on behalf of the guests, thanked the Rotary club for the very fine dinner and interesting program.

Mrs. Wm. S. Porter Farewelled By Dewberry United Church W. A.

The September meeting of the Dewberry United church W. A. was held at the home of Mrs. John Porter with Mrs. Milo Hodgson in the chair. There were eleven members and five visitors present. Following the hymn, "When He Cometh" Mrs. J. Shortt read from the Bible and Mrs. G. Dunn gave the reading for the day from the Upper Room.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted and the treasurer's and Sunshine reports were also given. A sum of money will be given to the Sweet family who had a fire in their home. The annual church supper will be held on Nov. 9th and this year a Turkey Supper will be served. A letter from "Care" was read and tabled until a later date.

At a recent meeting, a gift was presented to Mrs. Wm. S. Porter, a life member and who is now making her home permanently in Vancouver. Mrs. Porter was one of the first members of the Ladies Aid as it was then called, the first secretary, and for some thirty-three years, never missed having a meeting in her home. this was a real record and shows how much she will be missed in the church organization.

The benediction brought the meeting to a close after which lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter and Mrs. Hodgson.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. L. W. Kruger.

Youth Speaker, Musician, To Hold Series of Meetings in Vermilion

Rev. Wes Aarum, area vice-president of Western Canada Youth for Christ and renowned as a youth speaker and musician, will appear at a series of meetings in Vermilion commencing on Sunday, Sept. 25th to Sunday, Oct. 2nd. The meetings are scheduled for 8:00 p.m. at the Alliance Chapel.

Rev. Aarum was born and raised in Buffalo, New York and was converted as a teen-ager in high school. He decided to enter into the work of the Lord as a musician. He attended Houghton college, Buffalo Bible Institute, and then the Bob Jones University where he double majored in English Bible and Sacred Music. He received his B.A. degree and was then ordained to the ministry by the Gospel Fellowship Association.

During the intervening years he went into the field of Evangelism and worked as a music director with such men as Rev Leighton Ford of the Billy Graham team and Dr Cedric Sears. He then entered the Youth Crusades on his own and became an evangelist for Eastern Canada Youth for Christ.

Wes Aarum is an excellent pianist and has made many records which are being used exclusively to raise money for India Youth for Christ. He was an all star athlete in his college days.

The Alliance Youth Fellowship of Vermilion are proud and happy to have him come to Vermilion and a sincere invitation to each and everyone is extended to hear this man of God. 10-11

Student Minister Preaches Farewell Service At Allandale

On August 28th the little church at Allandale was filled to hear the student minister, Miss Evans on her final service. Her theme was "Beware of Indifference".

Orley Omness on behalf of the congregation expressed appreciation for a wonderful summer enjoyed by the church and wished Miss Evans the very best in the future. She was presented with a hand-carved leather initialled wallet done by Mrs Gus Throndson. It matched the lovely purse which Mrs. Wm. McIntyre had done for her.

Miss Evans left during the same afternoon for Edmonton en route to B.C. to visit a brother and his family. She goes home then to Toronto before departing for Scotland where she plans to be at the University Hall of St. Andrews for the coming year. She hopes to be able to tour Europe during that time especially Germany. Miss Evans speaks German and hopes to improve her command of the language by a visit to that country.

BIG SAVINGS IN FEDERAL EFFICIENCY?

There may be savings of [illegible] millions when the Canadian Hoover-style commission starts investigation of federal administration, The Financial Post reports.

The commission will be set up this fall and is expected to require two years for its work. The U. S. commission effected savings of millions of dollars.

36,000 LETTERS TO ALBERTA FARMERS

EDMONTON — The annual membership campaign of the Farmers Union of Alberta got underway September 9th when letters were mailed to 36,000 members. This is the first time in many years this technique has been used, and it is hoped that members will respond in such a way as to avoid much of the more expensive farm to farm canvassing.

Over 5,000 members are already paying their membership dues through the municipal requisition plan, which also is a great saving to the organization.

Leonard Hilton, Strathmore, chairman of the Membership Committee and a member of the Provincial Board of Directors, states that if 50 per cent heed the letters and renew promptly more than $5,000 in canvassing fees will be saved. The letters contain an account of the past year's activities, and a catalogue of the services available to the F. U. A. members.

OTTAWA STUDIES AID FOR SHIPYARDS

Four plans aimed at bucking up Canada's ailing shipyard industry are under study by the government, according to The Financial Post.

The plans do not involve direct subsidy but would give the industry advantages that would help it compete with the ultra-modern German, U. K. and Japanese yards.

Joint Municipal and School Administration Offices Opened at Two Hills

The Hon. A. J. Hooke, minister of municipal affairs, and Dr W. H Swift shared honors of cutting of the ribbon to officially open the Joint Administration Building of M. D. of Eagle and the Two Hills School Division. N. Myskiw, superintendent of schools was master of ceremonies and the speakers on the program included John Dudar, reeve of Eagle M.D., M Karbeshewski, vice chairman of the school board, members of the legislature Nick Melnyk, Willingdon, Alex Gordey, Vegreville, and Ashley Cooper, of Vermilion.

Following the traditional cutting of the ribbon the guests were taken on a tour of the building and lunch was served by the office staff.

The joint administration building is, without doubt, the finest of its kind in the province.

W. A. To Anglican Church Of Canada Commemorates 75th Anniversary

MANNVILLE. - Sunday, Sept 11th marked the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Anglican Women's Auxiliary — their theme, "The Love of Christ Constraineth Us". At Christ Church, Mannville, women of both the Afternoon and Happy Hour groups worshipped together at the regular service of Morning Prayer, conducted by Rev. Harry Shell. The first lesson was read by Mrs. R. Lugg, Happy Hour president and the second lesson by the afternoon president Mrs. A. M. Rutherford. Mrs. R Whitson from the afternoon group led the second half of the prayers.

In the evening Rev H. Shell accompanied by Mrs. E. B. Allen, Mrs. H. Cockle, Mrs. H. Shell, Mrs. Tom Rostron, Mrs. J Pesklivets, Mrs. A M Rutherford and Mrs. R. Lugg attended service in All Saints Cathedral, Edmonton, conducted by the Dean, Very Rev. T. W. Teape, sermon by Suffragan Bishop Rt. Rev. Gerald Burch, D.D.

1885 YESTERDAY 1960

That is, in the year 1885, to a devoted churchwoman in the Diocese of Ottawa came a vision. A vision of a company of women bound together by the love of Christ, activated by a deep desire to further the work of the church, dedicated to the service of mankind. How to bring such a vision into reality became an issue with Mrs. Roberta E. Tilton, and six of her companions.

TODAY

Today the W.A. walks side by side with the three boards of the church. She trains and equips suitable women workers. By means of bursaries she assists in the education of the children of the clergy in missionary dioceses. She takes an active part in the religious education programs of the church. She shows her concern for humanity in the various fields of social service.

TOMORROW

Has the time come to make drastic changes in the W.A. program? As the name "Women's Auxiliary" has become somewhat hackneyed in modern society should she change her name? Is the time ripe for a further broadening of her policies? Let loyalty be demonstrated by a close adherence to the principles and aspirations of Mrs. Tilton and at the same time by a recognition of the necessary adaption to the many varied changes in modern society.

Provincial 4-H Delegates Reunion

Another first in Canadian 4-H was registered in Alberta with the reunion of former 4-H award trip winners. This provincial delegates' reunion took place at the Banff School of Fine Arts from Sept 9 to 11 inclusive. All members who went as official delegates to the State 4-H Congress in Bozeman, Montana, the National 4-H Club Week in Toronto and the National 4-H Conference in Washington, D.C., were invited to attend the reunion.

The delegates' reunion was organized by a committee from the U of A Alumni club.

Rev. R. McCleary, M. & M. Secy., To Speak At Mannville

MANNVILLE — Recently appointed acting-secretary of the Missionary and Maintenance department of the United Church of Canada with headquarters at Toronto Ontario Dr Ray McCleary, will be the special speaker at McQueen Memorial United Church Mannville, on Sunday, September 25th at 11:00 a.m.

Dr McCleary was minister at historic Wood-Green United Church in Toronto from 1935 until this year when he was appointed to his present position. During the 25 years of his ministry at Wood-Green he saw what growing industrialization of the area surrounding the church was doing to the lives and the souls of his people and he began to build on the plans of those who preceded him from as far back as 1875 when Wood-Green was first formed.

His plans were temporarily halted with the outbreak of World War II and Dr McCleary enlisted in the Canadian Army as a chaplain and spent most of his time with the First Canadian Division troops, remaining in the [illegible] when hostilities [illegible].

On the return from overseas it was felt that something of a very distinctive and imaginative nature must be undertaken by Wood-Green for this part of the city of Toronto which by now had spread [illegible] like 25,000 people to [illegible]. As a result of the concerted dedicated efforts of the people and personal, driving magnetic influence of its founder, Dr McCleary, who was able to interest others of all faiths in the project Wood-Green Community Centre was born and exists in Toronto today serving all ages, all races, all who make up that section of the city.

Rev and Mrs Andrews worked for several years with Dr McCleary in Metropolitan Church, Toronto and have enjoyed his friendship throughout the years since then.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to join with the three congregations of the Mannville [illegible] charge at the morning worship service on Sunday, September 25, at 11:00 a.m.

Vermilion Library Fulfills Community Need

Fulfilling a need, whether it be recreational, educational or hobby reading, the Vermilion Public Library can provide the books; the public must provide the desire. In the picture above, Mrs. Gordon Williams, librarian for the past five years, is shown among a few of the 5,831 books at the disposal of the public.

Housed in an attractive building, given for the purpose by the late George Whitnell, the library is open every week day. [illegible] and policy is handled by a board consisting of Dr A. B. King, representing the council of the town, secretary W S Cash, and members Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. Barbara Hill, Mrs. Esther Stephens, Dr H. J Clarke and J W G Morrison Q C.

Although the number of members is not large for the area served, 148 adult members and 175 juniors (now who are the delinquent ones?) giving a total of 323, the average readership is good as 13,558 books were in circulation during 1959. Based on this each member read 48 books during the year. How many have you read? If your average is below better trot down to the library and pick up a good book - they have lots of them. Standard Staff Photo.

BOWTELL BULLETIN

Quite a number of farmers in this district have finished harvesting. The weather was certainly ideal. Quite a few had a complaint though, no help. We wonder why when there is so much unemployment at present.

A little late, but we welcome Mr. and Mrs. Shaw to our district. Mr. Shaw is the agent for National Grain at Borradaile while Mrs. Shaw is teaching school at Islay.

We hope that Grandad and Granny Jones enjoyed their holiday in B.C. recently.

The writer was pleased to have Mrs. Gillies, Mrs. Gould, Mr. and Mrs. Stocker and Mr. Gow and Mr and Mrs Pierman visit us this past week.

Mr and Mrs Saunders and family of Edmonton visited for the long week-end at the Robinson home.

Jack Caro is visiting at present with his sister and family Mr and Mrs Williams. Jack is certainly helping out with the threshing in the district.

Jim Repp was noticed combining for Allan Ronaghan.

Raymond McGaughey was also busy on the same farm driving Allan's tractor on the swather.

Larry Playne left for Calgary recently to take a course as a chef. Good luck Larry.

The September meeting of the Loafers' club was held at the home of Mrs. Williams with ten members present and one visitor Mrs. Armstrong. The lucky draw was won by Mrs. Walker Sr. The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Joe Payne.

Miss Ollie Semeniuk is working in the dining room of the Brunswick hotel.

The Walker family sold a large number of turkeys last week which were ready for the Thanksgiving market. Mr. and Mrs. Wm Walker Jr. and Mr. Walker Sr. [illegible] to Edmonton to [illegible] the turkeys graded and plucked.

Of Many Things . .

By AMBROSE HILLS

THE FAMILY

It would be a foolish father who would force each member of his family along precisely the same lines. The wise father tries instead to give each youngster a chance to develop his potential skills to the utmost, avoiding discrimination of any kind. To hold back an ambitious child in favor of a slower one would be considered foolhardy.

Most families operate sensibly so that each member may develop fully. The young earner who saves most [illegible] allowed to keep his savings and use them in his own way and is not obliged to turn them over to his less frugal brother or sister. In other words, the normal penalties of life are allowed to operate side by side with the normal rewards. In the happy family a great deal flexibility exists under a set of rules [illegible] to all. A good father would [illegible] impede the success of one son in order to insure the success of another.

Does this mean that there is no charity in family life? Not at all. In home after home, the more talented child will voluntarily assist a slower brother. This is true charity, because it is on a voluntary basis, and thus has great spiritual value.

Few public organizations can match the family unit for spiritual values. Families where there is lack of love, compassion, generosity, charity and innumerable other values, are rare indeed. Even a man who is a rotter in public life will display remarkable virtue in the interests of his family, even to the point of risking his life for them.

The world will never go completely to pot as long as family life continues. If ever the family unit is destroyed, and public authorities attempt to replace natural parents, civilization will be doomed.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Annual Fall Madness Descends; It's Hunting Season Again

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — This is the time of year when otherwise sane men stagger out of bed at unearthly hours and highball out of town to spend the better part of the day sitting, cold and uncomfortable, around sloughs and fields.

What we mean to say is that the duck hunting season has arrived. So you can relax. The rumble of heavy artillery you hear doesn't herald the outbreak of civil war.

Like most things the arrival of duck hunting season is relative. If you're a farmer whose crops have been the feeding grounds for waterfowl, you're probably glad to see these wild-eyed wildfowlers arrive with their 12 gauge cannons to throw a scare into the birds.

On the other hand, you may be a farmer who feels the damage caused by ducks is peanuts compared with the damage and just plain nuisance caused by the sportsmen who pour out of cities and towns intent on burning up as much gunpowder as they can in the shortest possible time.

At any rate, the annual fall madness is upon us.

DUCKS APPEAR PLENTIFUL

A check with the experts in the game branch of the department of lands and forests indicates there should be plenty of ducks available to scattergunners this year.

According to surveys of the game branch, the federal wildlife service and Ducks Unlimited, plentiful water supplies and the bumper grain crops have produced a goodly duck population.

The one exception is east-central Alberta — around Stettler, Coronation and Hanna — where dry summer weather has made conditions unfavorable for nesting.

So far the weather has been, if anything, too good for duck hunting. The [illegible] available to hunters are the local ones, because warm weather has stalled any big migration from the north. And in addition, the sunny skies and balmy temperatures have kept the birds fairly stationary. Genuine gourmets are probably holding off for the first onslaught of cold, windy weather.

The daily bag limit on ducks is seven birds. Possession limit is 21. This means 21 is the maximum number a hunter is permitted to have in his possession at any one time.

Wildlife officials are emphasizing the limit this year can include only one canvasback or redhead. These two species are being protected this year because their number is declining. The only reason for allowing one to a hunter is to [illegible] the possibility of shooting one by mistake. Those who do most of their hunting around sloughs are asked to take special notice of this new protective measure.

The daily limit on geese is 5, and the possession limit is 10. Limits on rails and coots are seven and 21 and on Wilson's snipe are eight and 16.

TO TEST TRADING STAMP REGULATION

Alberta's regulations outlawing retail trading stamps appear to be headed for a test in the courts.

An Edmonton grocer, Joseph Keller, has been charged with issuing trading stamps and with operating without a licence. Keller who operates a food store in the city, began issuing trading stamps four weeks ago. The government suspended his licence, but he stayed in business.

Alberta acted quickly to outlaw trading stamps last fall when a couple of big grocery chains moved in with them. The action was taken under the Licensing of Trades and Businesses Act, under which the province licenses retail concerns.

By ministerial order a regulation was passed under the act prohibiting issuing of trading stamps and at the same time outlawing most other retail giveaway gimmicks.

Under the Alberta act, any retail outlet which fails to comply with regulations stands to lose its licence. At the time Alberta was the only province with legislation which enabled it to take direct action against the stamps.

The upcoming case is the first court test of the Alberta laws, and some big eastern Canada food store chains will be watching with interest.

Paradise Valley

Mr. John Hargest, an old timer of the district who has been living in B.C. lately, is visiting with his brother Dick in town.

Mr. A. A. Adams, better known as "Tony" is visiting with his many relatives in the town and country. Mr. Adams has been in hospital in Edmonton for some time but is much better now.

While visiting in the Maritimes recently we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. and Mrs. Eric Coffin who was the minister in charge of the United Church at this point at one time. Mr. and Mrs. Coffin and family now live at Rothesay, N.B. Mr. Coffin is in the employ of the Civil Service as an inspector having quit the ministry some years ago. A nice chat was had. They both wish to be remembered to all their old friends in Paradise Valley and McLaughlin and are planning on a trip west to meet old friends at some future date.

Our first frost of the season was experienced during the night of Sept. 15. This is quite a late date and as a result gardens have yielded well and the cereal crop is exceptionally good. Some had small damage done by hail but this was not a general condition. Harvest is nearing completion in these parts.

INITIATION CELEBRATION

On Thursday afternoon the High school put on their regular initiation celebration. A [illegible] with some strange and weird costumes [illegible] a very colorful show. On Friday night they enjoyed a dance and lunch. Those who did not dress in the style of the day were tried and convicted. Just what the sentences were we have not heard as yet.

Mrs. Robert Fair of Vermilion was a recent guest with her sister Mrs. W. A. Gunn. She has now left for Matsqui, B.C. where she will make her home. Her son and family have a farm at that point. Also a guest at the Gunn home was Mrs. Nichols of Edmonton. She was the former Miss McNish and lived in Paradise Valley for many years before being married. She was an old school chum of Mrs. Gunn.

Patients in hospital during the week are Mrs. R. A. Stewart in the Lamont hospital and Mrs. V. Stoddart in the Lloydminster hospital. Mrs. Stoddart celebrated her 75th birthday Thursday, Sept. 15th. A number of friends from P.V. called to congratulate Mrs. Stoddart.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gordon of Vancouver are visiting at the J. Gordon home. Mr. Gordon is Jim's brother.

NEW WOODS PLANTS FOR WEST

Two new major pulp and woods-products plants are in the works for the West.

Canadian Forest Products Ltd. is working on a $60 million project at Grande Prairie, Alta. B.C. Lands and Forests Minister Williston says two groups, one of them undoubtedly the Wenner-Gren interests, are investigating B.C.'s northern spruce stands and one is likely to build a pulp mill there within five years.

FALL FERTILIZE with Elephant Brand

INCREASE PROFITS FROM STUBBLE LAND

Seed stubble land next spring and make bigger profits — simply apply Elephant Brand High Nitrogen Fertilizer this fall! Summer fallowing is expensive — you still pay taxes on idle land and it requires gas, oil and labour for tillage. Lack of nitrogen — not moisture - is the prime cause of low yields from stubble land. Elephant Brand Nitraprills (Ammonium Nitrate) applied on stubble land this fall means more money from the crop you seed next spring.

IT'S GOOD BUSINESS TO APPLY ELEPHANT BRAND FERTILIZER IN THE FALL

- You are not as rushed as you'll be next spring.
- Weather is more favourable.
- Fields are firmer — you travel faster.
- Fall and spring moisture carries plant food to the root zone.
- Plant food is there, ready for early use by plants.

Crops on Stubble Land need Phosphate too. An application of Elephant Brand 11-48-0 or 16-48-0 at seeding time will supply this vital plant food.

Edmonton Friendship Train Receives Enthusiastic Welcome

The crowd shown above of some 700 school children and over 100 adults, gave the passengers on board the Edmonton Friendship train an enthusiastic welcome last Thursday morning. When Jack Weber, president of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce led his coterie of some 67 Edmonton business men off the train, they were greeted by the pipers of 'A' Coy., L.E.R., and the tumultuous strains of "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here", sung by children and adults alike. An official welcome was extended by Angus MacMillan, president of the Vermilion Chamber, and Mayor Melvin Hill, with reply by President Jack Weber of the Edmonton Chamber. The school children were entertained by Gaby Haas and Co., while a goat picked up along the way as a mascot created a lot of amusement. The visitors distributed souvenir flags to all the children. Local business men hustled the visitors into waiting cars and a short tour of the V.S.A. grounds, provincial park and Vermilion Valley lodge was made. The visitors were greatly impressed by these beauty spots, and by the excellent oiled roads all over the town. The interlude was a pleasant and interesting one and much enjoyed by everyone concerned.

R. Gray Elected President of the Dewberry Parent-Teachers Assoc.

DEWBERRY — The first meeting of the Dewberry P.T.A. was held on Sept. 8th in the school auditorium. Mr. Bob Gray acted as chairman.

The meeting opened with the singing of "O Canada" accompanied by a deep voice humming "Star Spangled Banner". Mrs. Davies acted as secretary.

At this meeting officers were elected for the coming year as follows: President — Mr. R. Gray; Vice Pres. — Mrs. D. Brown; Secretary — Mrs. W. Kruger; Executive members — Mr. J. Whiteside, Mrs. D. Oxton, Mrs. Romaniuck, Mrs. R. Jones, Mr. B. Bauchman; Auditors — Mrs. Whiteside, Miss Markowski; Resolution Committee — Mrs. W. Mathison, Mrs. W. Boyce, Mrs. D. Brown.

The highlight of the meeting was the presentation of the grade 9 and grade 12 scholarship awards.

Mr. J. Thomson presented Miss Isabelle Jones with the grade 9 award to which she suitably replied. Mr. R. Gray, on behalf of the Dewberry Home and School Association presented the grade 12 scholarship to Ron McAfee. Ron also suitably thanked the Home and School.

Mr. Kruger then introduced his staff, following which Mrs. D. Brown gave a most informative and stimulating talk stressing the importance of parents belonging to their own H. and S. Association. She pointed out what help was available from the head office in the way of speakers, films, etc.

Mr. R. Gray expressed thanks to the retiring executive and secretary for the fine services rendered during the past year.

A satisfying lunch was served to bring the evening to a close.

17 Alberta Fire Chiefs At Course

The fourth and final short course for fire officials is under way this week at the Vermilion school of agriculture. The same [illegible] are being given as in the other courses but with an entirely new class of students in attendance.

Fire officers registered are as follows:

Kirk, civil defence instructor.

Anglican Y. P. Plan Active Year

The Anglican Young People's Association is [illegible] its second season. Officers for the coming season elected at Sunday night's meeting, were as follows: President — Vivian Tillett; Vice President — Brad Blocksidge; Secretary — Nadine Hart; Treasurer — Glenda Brennan; Press Representative — Terry Cooper.

Meetings are held every Sunday evening at approximately 8.30, excepting on the third Sunday of every month on which there is a Corporate Communion at 8.30 a.m. with a breakfast following.

All young people are cordially invited to [illegible] as an interesting year is planned.

Help! Mother and 9 Fatherless Children Need A Home!

Immediate help is needed to save the lives of a devoted mother and her nine fatherless children. They were discovered, in a starving condition, [illegible] in the woods of the Vermilion Provincial park, snuggled together under a thick bush. The mother was having a hard time [illegible] the ravenous family so the five young [illegible] boys, Frankie Ross, Derek Beatty, Lawrence Klein, Robert Kaiser and Dean Cooper, who made the discovery, brought them home and housed them in an abandoned rabbit hutch. Yes, you've guessed it, the mother is a collie dog, very quiet, and her family of nine! They are nice pups, just about a month old, and would appreciate a nice home. Has anyone room for the mother and her family until the pups are old enough to give away? They are, according to the boys "just too cute to destroy." Phone 60 if you are interested and willing to help the boys out.

MISS EUNICE BURY, R.N.

Mannville Nurse Awarded $1000 Scholarship

Miss Eunice Bury R.N., has been awarded a scholarship valued at $1,000.00 for post graduate study in nursing and is now enrolled at the Assumption University at Windsor, Ontario. She will obtain her degree in nursing with the objective of teaching nursing.

Miss Bury is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bury who farmed for many years in the Fidelity district, but who have now retired and are living in Mannville. A sister, Mrs. Steve Jacula lives just north of Vermilion.

Eunice grew up at Fidelity attending public school there and high school in Mannville. On graduating she entered the nursing school at the general hospital Edmonton. She was a distinguished graduate of the hospital in the fall of 1959 receiving the top award for bedside nursing. As a result of her high standing and general capabilities as a nurse [illegible].

Congratulations of her many friends and acquaintances are extended to Eunice for her well [illegible].

Loses Farm Home and All Contents in Disastrous Fire

The farm home of well known hockey player, Brent Macnab Jr. and Mrs. Macnab was completely destroyed by fire late Tuesday afternoon. No one was in the house when the fire started, Mrs. Macnab and the children being but a short distance away at the home of Mrs. Macnab Sr.

The fire of unknown origin engulfed the home quickly, and nothing was saved. All the furniture, appliances and personal belongings were lost.

As the tank containing the propane gas was located between the two houses, it was feared that it might ignite. As a precautionary measure a call for help was phoned to Vermilion and the fire engine was dispatched to the scene. The engine and crew remained until all danger had passed.

Mrs. Macnab had returned home from hospital with her new son just the day before the [illegible].

AUXILIARY FIRE TRUCK TAKES OVER

It is interesting to know that while the Vermilion fire truck was out of town, a fire engine from the fire chief's school at the V.S.A. with a full crew, immediately took over at the local fire hall. They remained on call until the Vermilion brigade returned.

Brother and Sister Meet After 56 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Brown of Waterloo, Ont. were recent visitors at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Wm. Smith. This was the first time Mrs. Smith had seen her brother since they came out from Scotland in 1904 so they had a wonderful time reminiscing.

Mr. Brown, who is a wood carver by trade had the honor of doing the carving on the table which was presented by Canada to the Mother Country some years ago for use in the main chamber of the House of Commons in London. About five years ago Mr. and Mrs. Brown and their daughter Margaret while on a visit to Britain were guests at a sitting of the House in London and were later entertained at a luncheon where they met Sir Winston Churchill.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Brown were thrilled with the beauty of the West and from here went on to Vancouver to visit another sister and brother.

Esteemed Pioneer Curtis H. Wilson Passes Away

Curtis Henry Wilson, a true pioneer of the Vermilion district, passed away in the hospital on Sunday, September 25th. He was 82 years of age and had lived in this area since 1906.

Mr. Wilson was born at Digby, Nova Scotia on July 8, 1878, son of John and Elizabeth Wilson. He grew to manhood there and came to Vermilion in 1906 filing on a homestead in the Rusylvia district. A blacksmith by trade he operated a shop in Vermilion until 1916 at which time he moved to what is now known as the home farm just a few miles north of town.

In 1945 he retired from active farming and went to Chilliwack, B.C. where he and Mrs. Wilson lived for five years. At the end of this time they returned to Vermilion and purchased their present home in town.

He leaves to mourn his passing his sorrowing wife, three daughters and six sons: Mrs. [illegible] Walters, Tollard; [illegible] Wilson, Kelowna; Mrs. Joyce Knight, Champion, Alta.; John, Clarence, Ralph, Wallace, Frank and Donald, all of Vermilion. There are seven sisters, 26 grand children and seven great grand children.

Funeral services were held at the First United Church on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with interment taking place in the Vermilion cemetery. The Rev. J. Schroeder officiated.

Youth Organizations Start Year; Parent Attendance Poor At Meeting

Eleven parents were present at the general meeting of the group committee for the Scout Association. Five of these parents are leaders for the different groups.

Even with this small attendance it was felt the meeting should go on due to the necessity of locating leaders and helpers and the interests of the season.

Following the meeting, through the extensive efforts of President Ted Herbert, along with Don Keene, the situation has become somewhat brighter.

Up to date the Association has the following leaders and assistants lined up: Cubs — Jean and Mark Norton, Edna Botter?, Faye Park, Bea Keene, Marian Anderson and Jack Marfleet.

Scouts (so far) — Scoutmaster Jack Turner, Assistant (for time being) Arnold Kvill. One more assistant is needed to help with the Scouts.

Brownies — Leaders — Mrs. Maxine King, Mrs. Marguerite Webb, Assistant Mrs. Vera Moren. One more assistant is needed.

Guides — Mrs. Dot Webb, Mrs. Mary Mitchell.

The executive members wish to extend thanks to those who have come forward to lead these very worthwhile groups.

Parents along with the whole town did a tremendous job of supporting the leaders. The Mother's Association and the group committee of the local Scout Association this past year and it is sincerely hoped that this support will again be forthcoming.

People have only to drop in on any of the groups in action to really see what a wonderful job the leaders are doing.

FINANCES

Expenditures by the organization for the past year amounted to approximately $290 of which $200 was paid out on utilities including gas, water and light; another $[illegible] went to headquarters as a share of the [illegible]. This allotment paid to all Scout Associations [illegible] is used to cover expenditures of [illegible], a Provincial [illegible] and assistant training programs for [illegible].

Clifford J. McCormick Acclaimed Mayor of Vermilion

Ken Rowe and Stan Waldenberger Councillors

Clifford J. McCormick was acclaimed mayor of Vermilion, and Ken Rowe and Stan Waldenberger were unopposed and complete the council for the coming year, when nominations closed at noon on Wednesday. One year ago there were five candidates nominated for three vacancies on the council.

The new mayor completes the unexpired term of Melvin Hill which has one year to run. Mr. McCormick has completed three years as a member of the council. For the past year he has been chairman of the important public works committee.

Ken Rowe is an experienced councillor, having just completed a three-year term.

Stan Waldenberger is new to municipal politics but has always been deeply interested in town and community affairs.

The town's governing body for the ensuing year will be comprised of Cliff McCormick, Mayor; Councillors Charles Heckbert, Reg Ireland, Aldous Kent, Dr. Ben King, Ken Rowe and Stan Waldenberger.

Sale Of Boake's Drug Store Surprise Business Move

ROSS BOAKE

The surprise business move of the week was the sale of Boake's drug store to Mr. Victor Dowhaniuk of Holden. Change of ownership is effective Oct. 15th.

Ross Boake, owner and proprietor of the drug store business for the past seventeen years, has no immediate business plans.

On coming to Vermilion Ross and Muriel Boake immediately became part of the community and have remained active and interested over their seventeen years' residence here. Ross has served on the town council and local school board. He is a past president of the Chamber of Commerce, past president of the Rotary Club, as well as serving on a dozen of various committees and supporting all sporting activities. Mrs. Boake is a talented musician and has been active in musical circles, the United Church choir and the mixed chorus. Since coming here they have built a new house, and purchased a business block which was renovated into the present attractive drug store.

While plans are indefinite, it is probable that Mr. and Mrs. Boake will be living in Edmonton.

Kinettes To Raise $500 for Centre

The September meeting of the Kinette club was held recently with nine members and two prospective members present. Past President Art Morgan of the Vermilion Kinsmen club installed the officers for the coming year.

They are as follows: President — Marion Anderson; Vice-Pres. — Jean Wright; Sec'y. — Mary Morgan; Treas. — Lee McDowell; Registrar — Ruth Stoddart.

The incoming executive was congratulated by President Jim Ferguson of the Kinsmen club.

The club was unanimous in a motion to help the Kin club with their objective for the civic recreation centre. A sum of $500 is to be raised as the Kinette contribution.

The hospital library committee reported a shortage of children's books.

A discussion of various projects and committees for the coming year brought the meeting to a close.

Miss M. Watt Heads A.T.A. Sub-Local

The Vermilion sub-local A.T.A. held the first meeting for the year 1960-61 on Monday, Sept. 19th in the High school. Thirty-five members were in attendance.

The following officers were elected: President — Miss M. Watt; Vice-President — Mr. D. Yakimowich; Sec'y Treasurer — Mrs. I. Wilson; Press — Miss I. Shaw; Sub-local Rep. — Mr. F. Stewart.

The next meeting will be a supper meeting on Oct. 5th in the [illegible].

Dr. Love Makes Generous Offer

Dr. J. H. Love, D.C., resident chiropractor, has made the very fine offer of free chiropractic services to the pupils enrolled in the Vermilion Retarded Children's school. This thoughtful offer was made to the executive members of the Retarded Children's Association last week.

One Spot To Fix

The Vermilion provincial park is gaining in popularity season by season, so that the summer of 1960 saw the highest number of tourists staying at the park for stopovers of from one day to a week. It is not uncommon for a party to set up camp for one night, and find the park so lovely, so complete in the facilities offered, so quiet and restful, that they have [illegible] a week. Another cause for much satisfaction is that many vacationers are coming back to the park for their second, third and fourth visits. Next year they will have added facilities in the way of shower rooms, and laundry rooms, all free for their use.

However, one small area does somewhat detract from the beauty of the park. Unfortunately this is situated right at the main entrance, the east gate. It is the low-lying area of swampy and at times somewhat odoriferous land, between the park road and the grounds of the Canadian Utilities power plant. It would certainly be worthwhile if some means could be found of filling, draining or otherwise improving this area. Although this is not included in the confines of the park it is a feature which somewhat detracts from the overall picture.

Alberta-Made Products Increase

New industries settling in Alberta mean more Alberta made products. The physical volume of goods manufactured in Alberta and the value of shipments of "Alberta Made" products has shown an increase during the first six months of 1960 over the corresponding period of 1959. New plants coming into operation this year are expected to raise the total value of goods produced in Alberta to well above the nine million mark. During the first six months of this year 53 companies have announced the establishment of new industries or the expansion of present industrial manufacturing in this province. Included in this list are such items as stage lighting equipment, telephones and communications equipment, gas processing plants, asphalt emulsions, cut glassware, urea plants, detergents and industrial chemicals, plastics, insulation, rubber tires, chain sprockets, trailers and portable homes, artificial stone, concrete products, tanks and pressure vessels, aluminum doors, vegetable oil plants.

Agricultural Bursaries Still Available

Applications for bursaries offered by United Grain Growers Limited for the fall term in agriculture at the Olds, Vermilion and Fairview Schools of Agriculture will still be considered if submitted by Sept. 30th according to information received from the Department of Agriculture at Edmonton.

The basic requirement for an applicant, who should be at least seventeen years of age, is [illegible] for assistance. However, either a boy or girl applying should have taken a leading part in [illegible] club work etc. The bursaries are intended to help those who could not otherwise attend a School of Agriculture or School of Home Economics and have proven themselves worthy of assistance.

Full information and application forms can be obtained through the offices of district agriculturists, district home economists, principals of the Schools of Agriculture or by writing to United Grain Growers Limited, Calgary.

Of Many Things . .

By [illegible]

WHERE'S THAT [illegible]?

A year ago, most of the pundits were predicting a curious recession or even a depression [illegible] in Canada. But we have been fortunate. Things [illegible] continue [illegible] to roll along at a pretty [illegible] clip.

Now some of the most respected forecasters see the possibility of a small boom in the offing. They believe the economy will get a real shot in the arm from the decision of the U.S. federal power commission to allow the importation of Canadian natural gas. Pipelines will be constructed, the steel industry will be busy again, and more men will be put to work.

Already the stock market is reflecting a new feeling of confidence in the Canadian economy. Americans are said to be enthusiastic once again about the steady growth potential of this country. And there is similar sentiment building up among European investors. What happened to the depression? Why did it not materialize?

My own view is that we escaped it, so far because the vast majority of Canadians are sensible and industrious. When there are storm warnings, they take them and act accordingly.

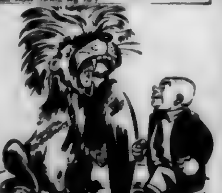
Demands for heavy government spending have eased off except the strictest demands of the professional demanders, and a deluge wouldn't stop them.

For the time we were behaving much the same way as the citizens of 1928-29. Governments were beginning to take the attitude that money grew on trees. Some men in responsible positions of leadership were preaching that prosperity was merely a question of spreading large amounts of money around so that consumers could keep buying. Prices zoomed up and up and up. Some of the proposals of these leaders, if generally accepted, would have assured a depression equal to that of the dirty thirties.

Better sense has prevailed. There is a steady growth going on now and it should soon accelerate. If our manufacturing industries can reach reasonable agreements with their employees [illegible] manage somehow to compete with other nations in world markets, a wonderful base for progress would be established.

A reduction in taxes, a general lowering of costs, a willingness to work hard and effectively — these would assure a prosperous and strong Canada for many years to come.

HOW TAME IS HE?



Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

If favored with a small space in your valued paper I wish to reply to Councillor McCormack re the method of financing the construction of proposed curb and gutter. The said curb and gutter to be a dividing line between the boulevard and the street being some ten feet from the owner's property line abutting. I took part in canvassing with the petition of protest against the levying of the cost of construction against the amount of footage each owner has where the work is proposed to be done. Mr. McCormack seems to think that his way of assessing the cost is the most just and fair way, and not against the town general expense as most of the taxpayers do. Because, sometime in the past he says, certain ratepayers had borne the cost of curb (which I presume may be a portion of the business section.) BUT does he think it also just and fair, when some years ago we property owners in certain sections of the town were assessed, and paid for asphalt sidewalk in addition to taxes, at the rate of $1 per foot and are also now paying our share from the General fund of the town revenue for sidewalks since built with NO EXTRA COST to the property owner where the sidewalks are being laid? Streets and sidewalks are public property, for the use of all and sundry, country as well as town folk, providing they are used according to laws and regulations governing the same. Therefore no individual or group should be called upon to bear the cost of construction, or its upkeep. This proposed assessing of the cost direct against the properties of owners concerned, is nothing short of a camouflage to cover up increased rise in taxation.

We have no complaint, if the council at their discretion decides it best to first put curb and gutter around parks and playgrounds, etc., utilizing the grant for that purpose. But for other curb work to be done on public streets and rights of way, there is no other just and fair way to levy the cost than for it to be drawn from the General revenue of the town. On calling upon the taxpayers I found that the feeling ran high against the high rate of taxation of the town, and any additional increase would bring further hardships on those with small incomes.

If, and when gutter and curb is constructed, and it proves to be of no better quality both in material and workmanship, than we see near the post office and elsewhere, it will have disintegrated before the proposed allotted time for payment has expired.

Chas. Young.

MAKING DRAPES

After the busy summer season is over homemakers should have time for sewing and handicraft. With the days gradually getting shorter, it is possible you may want to add a bright note to one of your rooms with draperies.

FABRIC CHOICE

Fabric for drapes should hang well, be easy to care for and wear well. A wide variety of fabrics are being offered for drapes. Many new processes have been developed to make fabrics resistant to fading, creasing, shrinking and soiling. The term vat dye indicates the best possible vat dye has been used. Choose pre-shrunk fabrics or pre-shrink it before you start working.

ESTIMATING YARDAGE

All draperies should begin and end at some structural part of the window. The top may be at the ceiling, top of window frame or top inside of window frame. The lower edge of the drapes may be at the sill, apron or an inch above the floor. The length of the hanging should be in proportion to the width of the window. Draperies must be wide enough to cover the required space and to hang in graceful folds. Twice the width of the space to be covered is usually considered for heavier fabrics. Sheers and soft fabrics require three times the width for desired fullness. In estimating yardage be certain to allow sufficient fabric for matching the design in figured materials and for top and bottom hem allowances.

SHOP FOR IDEAS TOO

Look at window treatments in magazines, in stores and in your neighbors homes. Then decide which one bests suits your room, you and your family.

Before buying fabric, decide on the maximum amount of money to be spent and keep within that limit. Watch for small savings, realizing that they add up to large sums.

LINING

If you are uncertain about the sunfastness of the drapery fabric, then lining is advisable. It also gives weight to the window effect and allows draperies to hang in richer folds.

LESS NOISE, PLEASE

It will be news to most people that an International Association Against Noise exists, says The Financial Post.

The association publishes a journal called Silence and its first conference was recently in Paris.

Noise can cause heart attack, migraine, [illegible] and endocrine disorders, [illegible] break-downs, and marital squabbles.

More power to the International Association against Noise that [illegible] calls [illegible] to this [illegible] and happiness.

PROFIT IN BILLIARD [illegible]

Makers of billiard room [illegible] are plotting a [illegible] growth in their sales. The turning point came when the industry launched a determined effort to "get away from the old stigma of the smoke-filled pool room." Animals and birds delightful as scenery on a motor trip — can present problems for the driver. Sometimes a startled deer charges in front of a car, or a bird will fly into a windshield.

No driver likes to hit an animal. It's unpleasant, it can be dangerous, and it's often wasteful. For example, skunks, frequent highway visitors, are important to our food supply as they feed off mice etc., which destroy crops. And birds decidedly help keep the insect population under control.

You can protect yourself and our animal friends by following these simple rules:

Blink your lights at night to warn animals on the road. A steady beam will hypnotize them into immobility. Warn them of your approach in the daytime by honking your horn.

Warn birds along a fence by honking your horn. When you are too near they become startled and are liable to fly into the car.

Slow down when you see a herd-type animal such as a deer. One such animal crossing the road will usually be followed by others.

Be on the lookout when driving through recently harvested farmland. Animals are likely to be on the move in search of new food sources.

WHAT'S NEW

New products reported by The Financial Post include:

Butter in a tube may ease the problem of buttering corn. The plastic tubes contain ½ lb. of butter.

Glass bicycle won't corrode or rust, maker says. The lightweight, streamlined bike consists of two pieces of bonded glass fibre which forms a frame that encloses all the mechanical parts.

Twin Home refrigeration unit, designed by Canadian firm, includes a 10 cu. ft. freezer exclusively for frozen foods and a 10 cu. ft. refrigerator for the storage of fresh foods. The unit has twin matching cabinets, costs less than competitive refrigerator-freezer combinations, maker says. Frozen storage area is larger than that available in combination refrigerators.

GREEN ACRES

By: H. MORLEY DOUGLAS
District Agriculturist

Alberta's Extension Service was established for the purpose of improving the lot of the people living on the land. For this reason the Extension Service is anxious to help the farmer with management. Recent studies have proved beyond any doubt that there is a close correlation between [illegible] management and farm net [illegible]. In north eastern Alberta in 1959 despite much said to the contrary some farmers made a profit raising hogs. Other farmers who kept good records and knew how to use them had no financial difficulties during the much publicized tight money period. Bankers understand good accounts. It is a fact that during 1959 a farmer running an efficient hog enterprise made a larger net profit than his neighbor who was selling whole milk under contract. Work is absolutely necessary to successful farming but today we have to know what and how to direct that work. Since farm management groups will be formed in this area during the winter and the two established ones will be carried on. Contact your District Agriculturist today and talk it over with him.

[illegible] TO FEED CATTLE?

The Marwayne and Mannville Feeder Associations are now accepting applications for feeders. Feeder Associations do not supply cheap money but they do supply good cash and supervision of feeding and management. Whether you plan to use a feeder association or secure money elsewhere, don't hesitate. Turn those big supplies of grain into money.

PLANTING TREES

Field wind breaks for wind erosion control are planted in single rows 30 to 40 rods apart. Roadside windbreaks should be 125 feet from the fence line and act as a permanent snow fence. Farmstead shelterbelts are planted 100 feet from any buildings and the rows spaced so that farm machinery can be used for cultivation. Greater space between rows and the more frequent cultivation produces more rapid growth. Always plan the shelter belt to protect the buildings from prevailing wind and provide a snow trap. All tree planting programs are now possible since the local Municipal District secured a tree planter.

FALL SALE

The Lloydminster Fall Sale of purebred livestock (mainly beef and dairy cattle) will be held October 21, 1960 at the exhibition grounds, Lloydminster. Entries close October 6th.

Attifield-McFadyen Vows At Salisbury United Church

A wedding of interest took place on July 29th at 2 p.m. in Salisbury United church when Ruby May McFadyen, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald McFadyen of Islay, became the bride of George Anthony Robin Attifield, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Attifield of Clandonald. Rev. [illegible] Richer performed the double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length gown of lace over satin with fitted bodice, high neckline and lily point sleeves. Her headpiece was of nylon net, edged with pearls and sequins on the crown. Her veil was fingertip length. Her only jewelry was a pearl pendant and earrings, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Attending the bride was Betty Ann Hughes who wore a floor-length gown of green nylon net over satin, with hair band and gloves to match. She carried a bouquet of orange blossoms.

Little Caroline Dixon was the flower girl wearing a dress of yellow lace with hair band and dress to match. She carried a bouquet of mixed flowers.

Attending the groom was James Sprowl and ushers were James McFadyen and David Attifield.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. McFadyen chose a blue nylon jersey dress with white accessories and corsage of pink rosebuds.

The mother of the groom wore a dress of pink organza with lace jacket to match, white accessories and corsage of yellow rosebuds.

A reception was held at the home of Mrs. Francis Dixon, the bride's sister, from 4 to 6 p.m. The bride's table was centred with a triple-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. The cake was made and decorated by the bride's mother. James McFadyen proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom ably responded.

The following night a wedding dance was held in St. Patrick's hall, north of Clandonald, with Charlie Hanna's orchestra supplying the music for the dance. During lunch hour the bride and groom thanked everyone who turned out to make the dance a success. Mr. and Mrs. Attifield supplied the lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Attifield will make their home in Edmonton where Mrs. Attifield will return to work at the University Administration building. Mr. Attifield is employed by McCabe Construction Ltd.

Out of town guests to the wedding were Mr. James McFadyen, Margaret Andrews, Peace River; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brown, Islay; Mr. Norman McFadyen, Grand Centre; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Winter, Vermilion.

VBS Staff Honored At Alliance Chapel

To show appreciation to the director Mrs. Marjorie Curtis and the staff of the Vacation Bible school held during the past summer in the Alliance Chapel, they were guests at a social evening held by the Sunday school in the chapel on Thursday, Sept. 22.

An evening of games and contests was enjoyed. One contest which involved the building of a house from a kit supplied was won by Mr. and Mrs. H. Sorenson.

The evening closed with the serving of supper by ladies of the Sunday school. Mr. Albert Mix, superintendent, was chairman. Mr. Sorenson was guest speaker and gave an interesting talk on the theme "God has no grandchildren".

NEWS from ALLANDALE

Weather has been cloudy with some moisture around equinox which delayed harvest for a time.

We were delighted to see the picture in last week's Standard of Rev. and Mrs. MacKay and sons. A grand gathering was enjoyed at their farewell. A very pleasant though sad evening. Our appreciation to the entertainment committee and to the ladies who served lunch.

A five generations picture appeared recently in the Journal, of Mrs. Wilcox (now 79), her daughter Mrs. Ada Habstritt of Calgary, her daughter Mrs. George McClinton, her daughter Mrs. Donald Cruckshanks and her ten months old daughter Connie, all of Edmonton. The happy reunion took place in Edmonton. Ray and Ada Habstritt and family are well known in these parts. The family used to live north at Ferguson Flats.

Our congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Magistad of Ponoka on their 25th wedding anniversary on Sept. 20th.

Mrs. Stella Mayers and Mrs. Nora Ronaghan returned home from their holiday in the U.S. on Sept. 21. Mrs. Mabel Lee accompanied Mrs. Mayers to the city on the 23rd where she will stay at the Jim Ronaghan home while Mr. and Mrs. Ronaghan are away to Fort St. John.

A few weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. Jake Roe from the city accompanied Reg Spencer to Vermilion and Clandonald. Mrs. Roe's sister-in-law, Mrs. Edna Darling of Lindberg, is now at Kelowna, B.C., with her sister Mrs. Margaret Ketchum.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schmidt and family from Lloydminster spent last weekend at the home of Mrs. Schmidt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isidore Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus [illegible] and daughter Irene from Kelowna were recent visitors in the city. Irene is attending [illegible] of A.

Misses Elaine and Florence Lundblad from Valley View are attending college in Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Riley from Centralia, Wash., arrived at the Gus Thrandson home in town on Sept. 22. The next day they [illegible]. Lorne was a homesteader up [illegible] where Gus homesteaded. Mrs. Riley before she was married was a Methodist missionary in that area around 1913. They brought greetings from Gus' cousins who live near Centralia. Before coming to Vermilion they visited relatives and friends in Edmonton [illegible].

Last Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] called at the [illegible] and [illegible] home and sister [illegible] at [illegible]. That day [illegible] came [illegible] excellent [illegible].

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] of town on the birth of a son Sept. [illegible].

PLYMOUTH FEATURES ALL-NEW DESIGN FOR '61

Its new design featuring a low, streamlined four-quarter contour, and its over-all model change accentuated by a completely different grille and front motif, the Plymouth for 1961 epitomizes the ultimate in modern passenger car styling and function. The result of this major remodelling achievement is the creation of a slim, streamlined and eye-catching silhouette. While design is the major change in the 1961 Plymouth, the interior qualities of the upholstery and appointments have been improved. More economical operation is promised from Plymouth's "slant-six" and V-8 engines. All of these improvements give this Chrysler of Canada product the mark of "top quality" for 1961. Pictured is a Fury two-door hardtop.

OBITUARY

MARGARET ANN DUNSMORE

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Ann Dunsmore, wife of Gordon Dunsmore of Vermilion, were held from the First United Church on Monday September 5 at two o'clock. The Rev C W MacKay officiated. Pall-bearers were Ernest Schurman, Dale Williams, Carman Long, Norman Williams, Frank Welsh and Ray Williams. Moyer's Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements and interment took place in the local cemetery.

In his message Mr MacKay spoke on the theme "Praise be to God who giveth us the victory" (I Corinthians 15 57). He referred to Mrs Dunsmore's devotion to her family and to her church. She was a life member of the W.M.S. and an eager worker, until her illness, in most church activities.

Mrs. Dunsmore, the former Margaret MacKay of Portage la Prairie came to the Claysmore district as a bride in 1919. She resided there with her family until their move to Vermilion in 19[illegible]. She had been a resident of the town since that time.

She is survived by her loving husband, three daughters, Gwen of Kitscoty, Mrs. William Phillips (Murre) of Fort Nelson B.C. and Mrs. Vernon Sprake (Eleanor) of Lloydminster, two sons, Bob of Swan Hills and Mac of Jasper Place. There are 11 grandchildren and two great grandsons. Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs Oliver and Mrs Machan, three brothers, Alex, Hector and Robert MacKay all of Portage La Prairie.

Following is a list of the tributes received:

Floral tributes: Loving husband and family, Tom and Hector, [illegible] and Dorothy, Merle and Don, Kate, Alex and Joanne, Charles, Lillian and Heather, the Welsh family, the Swanson family, Mr and Mrs Wallington, Mr and Mrs Cyril Gee and family, Emily McLean, Ted and Madeline Foley, Margaret and Garfield Roberts, Ruth, Jim and Billie, Moses, Opal, Albert and family, Mary and Charles Upshall and family, Vermilion Local A.T.A., Nell Long, Beth Witherby, Mrs. [illegible] Hughie and family, Mr. and Mrs D. Wells, Mr and Mrs A M West, J W G Morrison.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Mrs Gordon Dunsmore wish to extend their sincere appreciation of the above tributes. We wish also to thank the friends who acted as pall-bearers and all those who showed such kindness at the home at the time of our loss.

CARD OF THANKS

Gordon Dunsmore and family wish to tender their thanks to the nursing staff of the Vermilion hospital who cared for Mrs Dunsmore during her last illness. Also we are grateful to Dr Brown and Dr Stephens for their services.

WILDMERE WINGS

Reception in this area of the new television station at Lloydminster is really good. Albert Holtz, W J Garnett and Frank Gibson have all had sets installed recently.

Joe Wilson from town has been building some granaries for Clarence Wilson on the old Carlson place.

Lawrence Sautzmer is a patient in the hospital. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr and Mrs Ralph Bathe were visitors one evening this week with the former's niece Mrs Walden Westman.

Bertie Fadden and June Lamley spent the week-end in Wainwright visiting Mr and Mrs Bert Friesel and family.

Sympathy from the district goes to the family of the late Curtis Wilson, an old timer of the Vermilion district who passed away Sunday, Sept. 25th.

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs Brent Macnab on the birth of a son.

A LOVELY SIGHT

Going out to his threshing machine early Tuesday morning, Raymond Preston of the Tolland district saw a very lovely sight indeed. Six large and handsome deer appeared from a bush in the field one by one, lined up and looked him over as he went by and then proudly went on their way. The deer according to Ray were very fine specimen and in [illegible].

Shower Honors Naomi Rea At Mannville

MANNVILLE — Honoring Miss Naomi Rea, a number of ladies gathered in the United Church social rooms recently to present her with gifts. Contests were held and much enjoyed, especially the spelling contest which provoked much merriment.

After the gifts were presented by Mrs. Mabel Gamble on behalf of those present, they were opened by Naomi assisted by her mother Mrs W Rea, who is a member of the high school teaching staff, and Miss Elaine Rea. The gifts were then passed around for the group's inspection.

Naomi graciously thanked all those who had given her such useful and lovely presents.

A lunch was then served to bring the evening to a close.

W.A. Group Starts Fall Meetings

MANNVILLE — The Afternoon group of the Anglican W.A. held their September meeting at the home of the president Mrs. A Rutherford on Wednesday, Sept [illegible]. On Sept 9 8,000 letters went out to Alberta farmers asking them to renew their membership in the Farmers' Union of Alberta. Above Mrs Penny Mohan, Secretary of the F.U.A., holds the first return containing a cheque for $5. This renewal was from Mr Gordon Harrold of Lamont, President of the Alberta Wheat Pool.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

No Fall Session of Alberta Legislature Planned Now

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — Chances of a special fall session of the Legislature all but flew out the window last week.

Premier Manning made it almost official when he told reporters attending his press conference that the possibilities of a special House session are "almost nil." The proposed fall sitting would have been held to deal with the government's industrial tax legislation.

As we had suggested here earlier, government thinking now is that by the time necessary preliminary studies are completed the next regular session will be fairly close at hand and a fall session would hardly be worthwhile.

Asked if industrial tax legislation definitely will be introduced during the next session, the premier said this depends on the analysis of evidence now being collected. Personally, he said, he is keeping an "open mind."

Whether this last statement has any hidden significance or not is anyone's guess. This reporter and others covering the last session of the House were convinced the government had decided definitely in favor of redistributing industrial tax revenues among municipalities.

FARMERS FEEL REDUCED EARNINGS

Provincial government statistics released last week showed farmers still are feeling the pinch of reduced earnings from grain and livestock. For the first seven months of the year the report showed farm income was down by more than $18,000,000.

Total earnings from grain and livestock were $233,780,000 in the January-July period this year, against $251,770,000 at the same time in 1959.

Grain income dropped to $116,280,000 from last year's $126,812,000. Livestock receipts dropped to $117,499,000 from $124,962,000.

[illegible] drop in farm income is due in some measure to last fall's crop losses. This year's generally good crops could brighten the picture considerably, so long as fine harvesting weather holds out.

The drop in farm income is reflected, naturally enough, in other areas of the provincial economy.

RETAIL TRADE DECLINES

Retail trade in the province declined by 2.2 per cent to $836,572,000 during the first six months of the year. Wholesale business followed about the same pattern, showing a drop of 1.3 per cent to $436,985,426 for the period.

FURNITURE and APPLIANCE DEALERS SUFFER

The heaviest blow was absorbed by furniture, appliance and radio dealers who reported retail volume down a whopping [illegible] per cent. Motor vehicle dealers were almost as badly off with business down 9.5%.

CAR SALES DOWN

Sales of new motor vehicles were off even more. They dropped 13.8 per cent to 23,129 units. The value of units sold was down 12.6 per cent at $73,686,000.

BUILDING PERMITS LOWER

In other areas of the economy the value of building permits issued was down 30.6 per cent in the province's ten cities and down 28.8 per cent in 161 other municipalities.

The number of contracts awarded was down 34.8 per cent to 2,419 and the value of contracts dropped 12.5 per cent to $123,501,400 for the period under review.

SOME BRIGHT SPOTS

There were a few bright spots. Flour mills reported gross sales up 5.3 per cent and production up 13 per cent. Creamery butter and factory cheese output increased 6.5 and 10.6% respectively.

Mineral production increased in some categories, declined in others. Biggest increase was in sulphur production, which soared by 108.2 per cent; sales of sulphur were up 145.5 per cent. Natural gas output jumped 27.9 28 per cent per cent and sales increased.

All in all, it could be said that the province is in an economic recession of sorts, but Alberta probably is still better off than some other Canadian provinces.

NEWS from ISLAY

Two more TV sets were installed here Saturday, one at the Moncrieff home by I. D. Innon and one at the Hurst home by J. H. Ford. Reception is reported as good from Lloydminster.

FAMILY [illegible] MRS. [illegible]

A happy birthday dinner was had at the home of Mr and Mrs. Gordon Gould on Sunday in honor of Mrs. John Shaw. She was 78 years of age. All the families were represented: Mrs. Hilda Bell, Sandra and Janet; Mr and Mrs Dick Bootsman and Shirley (Edith); Mr. and Mrs. Ken Shaw and three boys; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shaw and Jim; Mr and Mrs. B Teskey, Jack and Marion; Mr and Mrs. G. Gould, Wayne and Bruce (Doreen). Marion Teskey is attending university and came with the Bootsmans for the day. Many pictures were taken [illegible] the happy event.

For the next three months church service is at 9:30 a.m. Sunday school is at the same time.

Miss Vera Budzilka was home from the university in Edmonton for the week-end.

EXCAVATES FOR NEW HOME

Ben Axley of Ben & Bob's Service has purchased the lots next to Mrs Pall where once stood the log building which housed a butcher shop and Hart Harris' residence. He already has the basement dug.

TO TEACH MUSIC IN ISLAY

Last Saturday there were several delighted and excited children in the village caused by Mrs Waterfield's announcement that she would gratify their wishes and teach music. Some of them had been instructed last year by Elaine Sweet who is attending university in Saskatoon this term. Several Islay pupils show great promise in their music.

Russell Buchanan has purchased the Bill House farm.

Heinsburg

It is pleasing to hear that Mrs. Laurence Sharkey is better and will be coming home soon. She has been in the Elk Point hospital for the past week.

Mr and Mrs Jimmy Gregor and family from Edmonton were recent guests at the home of Jimmy's parents.

Mr J A Jones has returned from his trip to Ontario and reports having a wonderful holiday along with his brother-in-law who has now gone back to Australia.

Louis Kapjack and Ernie Sharkey were out goose hunting and bagged nine. Kenny Vinge, [illegible] and a friend were also out recently and brought home nine. They report that geese so far are quite small.

Several farmers have completed harvesting operations despite the poor weather of last week. However it is hoped the present dry spell continues as there is still considerable threshing to do in the district.

62-pound Pumpkin At Mannville

MANNVILLE — Mannville is proudly displaying a gigantic pumpkin grown by Mr. and Mrs. Nick Mistlew's family of boys, who farm north of the village. The big jack-o-lantern may be viewed at the local Co-op store. The weight? 62 pounds net!

Various claims of large pumpkins have been seen but we are quite sure that no one can "top this".

THE HUB CAFE

Former Vermilionites Meet in Quebec

In a recent letter from Ottawa, Ont., to her parents here, Mrs. F. H. Waite (the former Nadeen Cooper), tells of a pleasing incident experienced by herself, husband and family this summer while returning from a week-end trip into the province of Quebec. The family had stopped at a wayside cafe for lunch and while there RCAF buses pulled up and the cafe quickly filled with personnel of the RCAF band which is stationed in Ottawa. Mrs. Waite soon picked out the [illegible] of Flt./Sgt. Harold Heidebrecht, former Vermilionite. Needless to say Harold was greatly pleased and surprised to see someone from his old home town [illegible] Mrs. Waite to send greetings to all his old friends here. Nadeen and Harold have been living in Ottawa [illegible] quite some time now, but their paths had never crossed until this occasion, [illegible] a trip outside the province of Ontario.

Honored on 25th Wedding Anniversary

DERWENT — Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kiziak were honored on their silver wedding anniversary recently when relatives, friends and neighbors gathered at Derwent National hall to celebrate [illegible].

The guests of honor were the recipients of a beautiful silver set and a bedroom suite.

Mr. and Mrs. Kiziak expressed their heartfelt thanks for the beautiful gifts and happy celebration. A supper was served and the evening was spent in dancing.

Friends here will be interested to learn that Ken Hunt, a former Vermilion boy, has returned to his home at Hay River, N.W.T. after spending six weeks in Edmonton. During this time he underwent surgery for an ulcer. Ken sends along greetings to all his friends in Vermilion.

Robert Bentley Married at Regina

The marriage of Agnes Stein and Robert Arthur Newcombe Bentley was solemnized at the Holy Trinity church in Regina on Saturday September 24th.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Stein of Regina, and the groom the son of Mr and Mrs. Newcombe Bentley of Vermilion.

Attending the bride were her sisters, the Misses Kathy and Betty Stein. The groom's attendants were his brother Pat and Brian Hoover of Calgary. Rex Boake of Edmonton was an [illegible].

At a reception held in the Blue Room of the Hotel Saskatchewan the following were among the guests: Mr. and Mrs. Newcombe Bentley, Vermilion, Mr and Mrs. Rex Boake, Mr Pat Bentley, Mrs. Moore, grandmother of the groom, Miss Alice Tye, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Cooper, all of Edmonton; Mr. Duncan Locke, Mr Brian Hoover, Miss Sylvia Harris, Mr Barry Mitchell, all of Calgary.

Mike Coma and Son To Operate Business At Elk Point

Vermilion lost two good citizens this week when Mike Coma and his son Bill left to take over the management of a service station and bulk oil and gas business at Elk Point. The firm will be known as "Mike's & Bill's" Service.

The Coma family have lived here for the past twelve years and a wide host of friends are sorry to see them leave but all wish them well in their new venture.

Surprise Dinner For MacKay Family

Chauncey and Claire MacKay and their family packed into [illegible] Sunday immediately after [illegible] service to begin their journey to Toronto. They had driven just a "Sabbath Journey" when they noticed that they were being trailed by a car looking much like Ches Waldenberger's. Going down the hill Chauncey was sure that he saw the Herbert's car parked at the turnoff into the Kitscoty camp ground. Proceeding up to the kitchen they were further surprised to see two tables laden with food.

After a half hour of eating and chatter Chauncey, Claire and the four boys were waved off to Toronto by the Ches Waldenbergers, the Ted Herberts, the Gil Ramplings and the Al Coulbourns.

TWIN BROTHER VISITS

Mr John Reasbeck, twin brother of George Reasbeck, is visiting in Vermilion with Mr and Mrs. George Reasbeck and helping to finish up the threshing.

Mrs. A B Stevenson has just returned from a two months trip to the coast, visiting Victoria and other points in B.C. and in the state of Washington.

Mr and Mrs Lawrence Webb and Mr and Mrs John Webb were in Saskatoon the first half of the week at a preview of the new 1961 Meteor-Mercury models which will soon be released.

Sgt J E Reasbeck left for his home at Sea Island, B.C. on Thursday of last week after spending a month holiday on the farm here helping his parents, Mr and Mrs George Reasbeck with the harvest.

Mr and Mrs Steve Warawa and boys have now moved to Claysmore where Steve is agent for the Searle Grain Co.

Roy Watkins of Leduc was a visitor in town on Wednesday. He renewed former acquaintances at the luncheon meeting that day of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr and Mrs. G W Sutherland have as guests their daughter Mrs. Don Lemieski and her two sons Douglas and David from Vernon, B.C. The visitors will be here for two weeks.

Mrs. A B King is visiting in Victoria with her parents, Mr and Mrs. W H Prescott. The trip was made via TCA. Mrs. King is expected home this Sunday.

D R "Reg" Mitchell was in Saskatoon this week attending a preview of the new Ford cars.

Miss Sharon E Fitch was in Vermilion from Vegreville last week-end attempting to secure premises in which to conduct dancing lessons which would include tap, ballet, Highland and acrobatics. It is regretted that she was unable to rent suitable quarters for a studio and so was forced to cancel her plans for a school in Vermilion. Miss Fitch conducts classes at Vegreville and St. Paul.

RETURN FROM IRELAND

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Dougan returned home last Saturday after spending three months visiting old home scenes in Northern Ireland. While on the other side they visited sisters on both sides of the family, and many friends. It was 35 years since Bill had been back to the old country, while Mrs. Dougan was over home six years ago. The return voyage was made on board the Corinthian. Bill noticed great changes on the farms and in farming methods. Practically all farm produce is subsidized and the farmers are much more prosperous than he remembers them 35 years ago. This is reflected in their homes and modern machinery. The towns did not reflect the same progress, looking not too much different than he remembered them 35 years ago. The great number of people who ride bicycles is noticeable and the country roads are lined with cyclists on Sundays and holidays. Cars are small ones and everybody does not own an automobile like they do in this country. It is Bill's opinion that we are much better off in Alberta, although Ireland is certainly a lovely place to visit and spend a holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. V. MacHardy were week-end guests at the home of their son and daughter-in-law in Edmonton, the occasion being to meet Mr MacHardy's cousin Kathleen (MacHardy) Quigley and her husband the Rev Cameron Quigley of Owen Sound, Ontario. Rev Quigley was a commissioner at United Church council held in Edmonton last week.

Mrs. Allen Currah of Edmonton was a recent visitor at the home of her son Darrell and family.

Stanley Hicks of the R.C.N. stationed on the west coast, visited his parents, Mr and Mrs. Clyde Hicks for a few days recently.

Mr and Mrs. George Reasbeck had as their guests over the week-end of September 20th, George's sister Mrs. Sandy McDonald of Vankleek Hill, and the latter's daughter, Miss Carrie McDonald, a nurse from Montreal, also another daughter, Mrs. R. S. Minto and Mr Minto of Calgary.

Bob Waldenberger is now back at university commencing his second year in Physical Education.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of
JOSEPH PATRICK CLARK who passed away suddenly
October 2nd, 1957

There is no death, no dark and fearsome night
It is the entrance to eternal light
The portal where our earthly pathways end
A gladsome trysting place of friend with friend
He has but gone one step or two ahead
To larger fuller life, he is not dead.

Loving wife and family

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank Dr. Sweet, the matron, nurses and staff of the Islay hospital for the care and kindness and all that was done for me while a patient there.

Mrs. [illegible]

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear [illegible]
[illegible] CLARK
who passed away Oct. 1, 1958.

We watched you suffer and heard you sigh,
All we could do was just stand by
God took your hand, we had to part,
He eased your pain, and broke our hearts."

Sadly missed by son Lorman and girls.

LIVESTOCK REPORT

On sale for Tuesday, Sept. 27 at the Vermilion Auction Mart there were the following: 32 cattle, and 80 hogs.

Cattle prices were in keeping with the lower levels being established at all other markets. Hogs met with less demand owing to shortage of buyers. Next Tuesday should see the finish of harvesting providing our weatherman is correct, and supply and prices should be better.

The following prices prevailed: Common feeder steers, 600-700 lbs., up to $17.80; Feeder heifers, up to $15.30; good cows up to $12.70. Bulls topped at $12.00.

Stocker heifers and steers insufficient to establish a market. One lot of 8 heifers with an average of 330 lbs. sold for $62.00 each.

Feeder hogs brought up to $20.50 per cwt.; weaner hogs from $8.00 to $12.00 each.

REMEMBER — Our Sale on Tuesday, Oct. 4th starts at 11:00 a.m. Have your hogs in early, to be sold first. Cattle go on sale at 1:00 p.m.

Friendship Train Enthusiastically Greeted By Mannville Residents

Mannville- Approximately 372 Mannville schoolchildren were on hand, in orderly arrangement of classes, to greet the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce Friendship train on Thursday last, and a most impressive sight it was to see them marching eagerly to the local CNR station. Led by Jack Webber 62 Edmonton businessmen detrained here to be greeted by Mannville's genial mayor, Albert E. Williams, and members of the village council, Merle Main, Roy Hay and Ralph G. Rudd. Proceeding at once to the group of school boys and girls, the visitors handed out pennants to everyone.

Gaby Haas, whose popular band formed part of the group entertained the young fry with specially beloved numbers, much to their delight. A hearty clapping of hands was proof of their sincere welcome to the visitors. Seen on board the train was a live goat, chickens and rooster, latter which had been presented to the Chamber. The goat we understand was won in a raffle. One of the group confided that a member of the party had wakened this morning to find a chicken in bed with him, and the chicken given to them at Willingdon had mysteriously "flew the coop." They hope to have it returned shortly.

Announcing themselves as impressed with this village, they were particularly interested in the newly paved main street, of which they had a clear view.

It was noted with gratification the council members of M. D. of Minburn, whose office is situated here, were well represented. The editor of the village weekly paper, The Mannville Mirror Mrs. Joan C. Lugg, presented the group with copies of the weekly containing events of vital interest to this village, which were distributed by William Hawreluk among the Chamber members. Mayor Williams was presented with a momento of the visit as his picture was handed to him developed and framed, in a group of four including Jack Webber, president.

It was hoped that the train of friendship will call our way again.

Delighted Audience Hears Hart House Orchestra

A highly delighted audience of some eight hundred people listened to the Hart House orchestra in Lloydminster on Thursday evening, Sept. 15. This was the first concert staged by the Overture Concert Association for this season. This orchestra of fourteen artists, is direct from the Royal Conservatory Concert Bureau, Toronto, and is subsidized to allow travelling so that other parts of Canada can hear and see the best in entertainment.

Dr. Boyd Neel, conductor, is Dean of the Faculty of Music, and led his orchestra in a manner that will be long remembered with pleasure, every member cooperating fully to insure the finest from their instruments. The precision with which they interpreted every piece gave one an impression of lilting pipes, folk dancing jigs and the deep tones of an organ. The listener had only to close his eyes to get the full value of the tones produced.

The program included works by Handel, Blackburn, Brahms, Williams, Hadyn, Strauss, Vivaldi, Graingor, Ravelli and Saint-Saens. Outstanding were "Pizzicato Polka", "Fantasia on Greensleeves", and two solos for the bassoon. These latter were played in a masterly manner by Mr George Zukerman, who is the director of the Overture Concert Association. Once again members came away from the first concert with a feeling that they had received full value in one evening, and what is to come, is all bonus.

The next concert will be the Canadian Opera Company in "The Merry Wives of Windsor", to be held Nov. 23rd.

Most pleasing has been the response of Vermilion once again, for the 1960-61 series, there are now ninety-two paid-up members.

Special Services At The Alliance Chapel

It was "Promotion" day at the Sunday school in the Alliance Chapel on Sunday, Sept. 25th when 40 pupils were promoted to new classes. Each was presented with a suitable certificate. The Sunday school now has an enrollment of 159 with twelve classes and a staff of twenty. Pastor J. M. Schroeder gave a short talk suited to the occasion.

Announcement of special meetings with Wes Aarum was made by Mrs. Leta Francisco, president of the Alliance Youth Fellowship, which is the sponsoring group. These meetings will continue through Sunday, Oct. 2.

Pastor Schroeder introduced the crusade speaker, Wes Aarum, national leader of Youth for Christ in Canada. Mr. Aarum spoke in both services in the Vermilion Chapel and also in the afternoon service at the Mannville Tabernacle.

Ron Mix, who has returned to Vermilion with his wife, the former June Gunderson, and son Darrell, was welcomed back by Pastor Schroeder and led the opening singing in the evening service. Other special music of the day included a solo by Albert Mix, a ladies' trio consisting of Dorothy Grinde, Doreen Currah and Margwynne Clendenning, and a ladies' duet by Dorothy Grinde and Mrs. Wayne Mathews, the former Almeta Willan.

Guest speaker, Wes Aarum, also an accomplished musician, played several hymns on the piano and led in Gospel singing. He played in a dance orchestra before entering full time Christian service.

Advance announcement was made of the 25th anniversary services of the Alliance Chapel in Vermilion to be held Thanksgiving week-end, October 7 to 10.

Former Vermilion Girl Married In Edmonton

Miss Shirley Anne Love became the bride of Mr. Michael Harold Small at a recent ceremony conducted by Rev. R. J. D. Morris at Metropolitan United Church, Edmonton.

Baskets of pink and white gladioli decorated the church for the double-ring wedding at which the bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. D. J. Love. Wedding music was played by Mr. Robert Pounder.

Mrs. Love was present for her daughter's wedding and Mr and Mrs. T. H. Small, the groom's parents attended from Lamont.

The bride's gown was full length in white nylon chiffon, the bodice, with lily point sleeves, was cut with an Italian neckline edged with lace and sequins. The bride carried a shower bouquet of red roses.

Attending the bride were Miss Lorene Everett and Miss Adaline Small, sister of the groom. They wore ballerina-length dresses of pink silk organza with matching hats. Their bouquets were white baby chrysanthemums and carnations.

Mr Louis Yashinski and Mr. Lance Love, the bride's brother, attended the groom. Ushering guests were Mr. R. Small, brother of the groom, and Mr Paul Straub, the bride's step-brother.

Wedding music was played by Mr. Robert Pounder.

At the reception, held at Pleasantview Community hall, Mr Henning Haverslew of Vermilion proposed the toast to the bride.

The bride's travelling costume was a mink trimmed beige suit. Her accessories were dark brown and she wore Talisman roses en corsage.

After returning from a wedding trip to Banff and Jasper, Mr and Mrs. Small will live in Calgary.

Shirley Cooper Becomes Bride Of Eric Sturt

The St. Saviour's Anglican church, Vermilion, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday, Aug 20th when Shirley Marie, youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs. Harry Cooper of Vermilion, became the bride of Eric Richard Sturt, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sturt, also of Vermilion. The Rev. W. Champness performed the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked radiant in a floor length gown of Chantilly lace trimmed with pearl and mother of pearl, styled with a sabrina neckline and lily point sleeves. Alternate tiers of tiny nylon pleated net made up the front of the skirt with a Chantilly lace fashioned gathered skirt at the back brought up in mid-front and held in place with pearls and mother of pearl. Her chapel veil of French illusion edged with lace, was held in place by a tiara trimmed with tiny pearls. She carried a beautiful bouquet of American Beauty roses and lily of the valley with three streamers cascading with tiny rosebuds.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Byron Dahl and Miss Mable Lockhart, who wore identical gowns of nylon chiffon in pink and blue with white picture hats. They carried nosegays of blue and pink carnations with lily of the valley and fern.

The groom was attended by Mr. Henry Sturt and Mr. Steve Ludwig, cousins of the groom. Mr. Walter Cooper, brother of the bride and Mr. Ken Ludwig, cousin of the groom, acted as ushers. Mrs. Albert West was organist.

During the signing of the register Mrs. J. Young, grandmother of the bride, as soloist, sang "Together".

A reception was held in the Legion hall for over one hundred guests. To receive, the bride's mother chose a powder blue linen two-piece sheath dress with white accessories. Her corsage was pink roses. The groom's mother chose a blue sheath dress of rayon tweed with white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

The bride's table was laid with a white cutwork tablecloth centred with a large three-tiered wedding cake set in pink nylon tulle. The cake which was baked by the bride's mother was decorated by Mrs. Mary Arthur. Mr. Wilson Brooks proposed the toast to which the groom ably responded. A telegram was read from the groom's sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. Ken Cooke of Regina.

Miss Margaret Sturt, sister of the groom, took care of the guest book.

The newlyweds left later for a honeymoon in the north. For going away the bride chose a powder blue tweed two-piece boxy suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

Out of town guests were Mr and Mrs J. Young Sr. of Ardmore, Mr and Mrs. Byron Dahl of Fort St. John B.C., Mr and Mrs. Robert Young and Marie of Bittern Lake, Mr and Mrs. J. H. [illegible], Mr and Mrs. [illegible] Gilbert, Mr. Fred Sturt, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sharpe, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Gilbert, all of Minburn, Mr and Mrs. Osborn [illegible], Mr and Mrs. Del [illegible] of Edmonton, Mr and Mrs. [illegible] Stuart, Mr and Mrs. [illegible] Schumacher, Mrs. [illegible], all of Mannville, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Larson, [illegible] and Mr. and Mrs. R. Dahl and [illegible] of [illegible].

The sole meaning of life is to serve humanity.

MR. AND MRS. ILCHUK
Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ilchuk, the former Anneliese Ganz, who were married recently at the Seventh Day Adventist Church at Mission City. The groom is a former Vermilion man, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Ilchuk, now of Vernon, B.C. Rev. Nicholas Ilchuk of Toronto, eldest brother of the groom officiated at the ceremony.

Northwestern Makes Change-Over To New 6-inch Gas Main

The above photo shows the Northwestern Utilities crew making the tie-in or change-over from the old 4-inch main to the new 6-inch gas main. The 2-inch pipe in the foreground running on top of the road is the by-pass line, permitting gas to flow over and across the actual tie-in to ensure service to all consumers while the tie-in is being completed. The operation was made without difficulty and now crews are back-filling the ditch and levelling the laneway to its original condition. Shown in the picture are members of the crew as well as some onlookers. From left to right they are Terry Webb, Cy Somerville, Doug Cooper, Gus Mireault, Al Faulkner, Fred Wolosnyn (partly obscured), Elmer Leahy, Bill Webber, foreman, and standing at the back is Rudy Fielding. Standard Staff Photo

Salisbury Livelys Know What It Means To Start A Hospital

(The following article is copied from the Sept. 15, 1960 issue of the Franklin - Tilton - Northfield New Hampshire, U.S.A. Journal-Transcript.)

Memories of a successful hospital drive of 49 years ago have been brought back to a Salisbury couple, (post office address Route 1, Andover) by the success of Franklin's $500,000 fund raising drive to build a new hospital here.

In time, 49 years is a long span, but no farther than the space and conditions of the hospital drive of the Lively's.

That was in 1911, and the place was the bleak prairie town of Islay, little homesteaders' town of Battle River, Alberta, Canada, a place with wooden sidewalks (where there were sidewalks), a railroad station, two general stores, grain store, post office, livery barn and a small store - no place to be sick, or to be born, or to die in.

The Livelys were homesteaders, some miles from town, but Mrs. Lively had been a nurse and to their homesteader's home the women came from miles around when they were about to give birth.

"It is driving me nuts," said Mrs. Lively to her husband one day. "I can't take seven women in here in one week to have babies. I can't leave my own, and you, and the farm work to go and care for each one of them - they live too far apart anyway. We'd better build a hospital and have done with it."

"Well, it's an idea," said Jack, who had spent most of a long lifetime doing things (we'll tell you more about him sometime). But you can't build a hospital out here on the prairie, 30 miles from anywhere, no roads, no telephone, no electricity.

The Lively's hit on the town of Islay because there was no place else to consider.

"After some discussion, land was given and my sister, Miss Teetgen came out from England and stumped the country, speaking and collecting for the hospital. (Miss Teetgen visited the Livelys in Salisbury a few years ago.)

"A doctor came and worked hard for the hospital also. Eventually in spite of the usual objections, bickerings and handicaps we got it going with a hearty shove in the nature of a mortgage which since has been paid off.

"Miss Teetgen did all the clerical work and later wrote a book on prairie life and the struggle to get the hospital off to a running start.

"The proceeds from the sale of her book, 'A White Passion', were given to the hospital. None of us who worked for it, Miss Teetgen, myself, my husband, or the doctor, ever received a penny.

"One idea we used successfully was to sell tickets for $10 each, entitling the holder to treatment, at any time for one year from the date of issue. They sold like hot buttered biscuits.

"Today the hospital is going full blast, and a nurses' home has been added to it."

Soon afterward, the Livelys gave up their homestead and have made their home in Salisbury for a good many years now, but they are still remembered in Islay.

This summer a young woman made her way to the Lively home and announced herself:

"I am secretary of the Islay hospital."

For 49 years all they had heard of the institution was in the form of annual reports. But Islay hospital had not forgotten the Livelys.

Dick Belland Addresses Rotarians

Dick Beland of the Fire Commissioner's office of the province and chief instructor at the fire officers' training school being conducted at the Vermilion school of agriculture, was guest speaker at the Rotary meeting Friday.

Mr Beland told of fire losses in property and life throughout Canada and Alberta. He outlined the work of the present short courses for fire officials and what is hoped to be accomplished by these short courses of a week's duration, four of which have been held at Vermilion.

Incidentally Alberta is leading the way in such courses, being the only province to sponsor them up to the present.

Mr Beland had a fine grasp of his subject and interspersed his talk with humor all the way.

The talk was an excellent one exceptionally well given. Mr Beland was introduced by Bill Pettigrew thanked by Ed Herring with president Elmore Stewart adding his appreciation.

The club officially said farewell to charter member Chauncey MacKay who was attending his last meeting here.

RURAL-URBAN AT ISLAY

The rural-urban meeting will be held at Islay this fall on Nov 4th. George Webb is in charge and Islay business men and farmers will soon be receiving invitations to a free dinner and entertainment.

TO INDUCT NEW MEMBERS

October 7 is new member day when the following business men will be inducted into the club: J H Blocksidge, Archer Holden, Clarence Lovig, Austin McKelvie, and E C Smith.

Vermilion Rotary is again tops in attendance with an attendance of 95.15 percent for the first five months. The district includes the whole province with portions of B C and Saskatchewan as well. Chief competition comes from Lloydminster and Lacombe.

Islay Hospital Board Inspects Building Improvements

The regular monthly meeting of the Islay Municipal Hospital board was held in the hospital on Tuesday, Sept 6 at 8 p.m. Present were Messrs. Shirreff, Shaw, Garnier, the secretary and the matron. Minutes of the previous meeting and the financial statement were adopted as read.

Prior to the meeting Board members inspected the hospital improvements completed this summer were new vinyl tile floors in the operating room, delivery room, X-ray room, the maternity ward and nursery upstairs. On the main floor new fixtures and floor were installed in the bathroom and a new tile floor in the men's ward. Installation of aluminum windows was completed in the kitchen and the lift was lined with aluminum. Also inspected was the new fire door on the second floor fire escape.

Correspondence was read regarding the conference at Radway and the convention in Edmonton in October.

The matron discussed the staff situation with the Board and the appointment of Mrs Alice Makohoniuk to the permanent nursing staff was confirmed.

Matron's report: In hospital 7, admitted 31, discharged 28, remaining Sept 1 5, out patients 10, births 1, deaths 0, operations 3, X rays 16.

Our very sincere thanks to all our wonderful friends who shared their flowers, vegetables and fruit with us this season.

Board and Staff of Islay Municipal Hospital.

Vermilion Women's Institute

After two months vacation the September meeting of the W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. O. Clark. The president, Mrs. W.J. Bell was in the chair, ten members were present and two visitors, Mrs. J. King and Mrs. K. King. The minutes were read and approved and the treasurer's report accepted.

During the two months, eight get well and four sympathy cards were sent, thirty-eight sick calls made, a memorial donation was given to the Cancer Society and fruit and flowers sent to sick members.

The president was pleased to announce our "Baby Shower" won first prize at the fair and she thanked all members who entered articles. Prize money amounted to $18.60.

One minute of silence was observed in memory of Mrs. G. Dunsmore, long a faithful member who passed away on Sept 2. She will be greatly missed by all.

The correspondence was read and $5 will be sent for the appeal from CARE.

At the next two meetings articles will be brought for the Mental Hospital Christmas bazaar. It was agreed we will not sponsor the magazine subscription campaign this year.

A bake sale, tea and raffle will be held on Oct. 29th if Legion hall is available.

The topic on "Alberta Jails" was given by Mrs O. Clark. The mystery box was won by Mrs H. E. Cross. Lunch was served by Mrs Green, Mrs Mashell and Mrs. Clark and a social visit was enjoyed.

End Stockyard Tuberculin Tests On Western Cattle

OTTAWA, Sept. 16. — Restrictions on the movement of feeder cattle from stockyards in Western Canada have been eased the Canada Department of Agriculture has announced. In future these cattle will not be submitted to a tuberculin test.

This action is possible due to the progress made in the Department's tuberculosis eradication program. At present Canada's entire cattle population has been tested with the exception of two small areas, one located in the Peace River district of Northern Alberta and the other in Newfoundland. It is hoped to complete testing within a year.

What To Do About Baby Talk

A Sample Lesson

Here's a sample lesson on the letter 'l'. First study the position in a mirror. You'll see that the tongue tip is lifted to the roof of the mouth and the sound pours over the sides of the tongue. Sometimes the child's tongue has to be lifted to the roof of his mouth (a teaspoon handle will do) and held there while he says 'l'. Always have him do it in front of a mirror so that he not only sees what you are doing and imitates you, but also sees what he is doing himself.

Start out with syllable exercises la, le, li, lo lu: al, el, il, ol, ul. The latter group enables the child to use the sound in the final position as well as at the beginning of a word. When he can make the sound clearly in these drills, introduce simple words like low, light, look, bell, fall, ill, etc., and when he's using 'l' easily try blends of the sound such as clap, play, blue, glad, fly, little, puddle, etc. The final step is to use such sounds in simple sentences and rhymes.

You'll find that your child has his most difficult time with the first production of the sounds he's been mispronouncing. Once he produces the sound, you can proceed with each sound in a similar manner as outlined for the letter 'l'.

Some suggestions follow for establishing a few of the sounds which are most frequently mispronounced by young children.

To Correct the Lisp

Often lisped is the letter 's'. This happens when the tongue protrudes through the teeth or the tip of the tongue is pressed against the upper teeth, so to make a pure 's' a central column of air must be hissed through the teeth with the tongue tip being just behind the front teeth. The easiest way to obtain a correct 's' is to place a drinking straw in the centre of the lower lip while the sounds sa, se, si, so and su are repeated. If the 's' is being made correctly the sound will be magnified in the straw.

"Sh" is made somewhat like 's' except the lips are well rounded and the tongue tip slightly withdrawn from the front of the mouth. The drinking straw is of no use and a mirror is the best aid.

"Ch" is a combination of 't' and 'sh' pronounced together. This explains why a young child will often call a chair a 'tair' or a 'shair'. He is using only one part of the sound instead of the two. Have him say 't' and then 'sh' and suddenly introduce 'choo choo' and he usually gets the idea.

"K" or hard 'c' and hard 'g' (as in cat and good) are made by the back of the tongue being raised to the roof of the mouth and released suddenly. If the child is substituting 't' for 'k' and 'd' for 'g' in his speech, you can help him on the right track by holding the tip of his tongue down with a spoon handle. Then when he tries to say 't' it becomes 'k' and when he tries to say 'd' it becomes hard 'g' because he has to raise the back of his tongue on this sound as long as he flattens the tongue between his teeth.

Listening Isn't Enough

He'll likely get the vowel sounds by direct imitation but make sure he sees the position of his mouth as the vowel is made, as well as hears it, since hearing alone is not sufficient to bring about the correct pronunciation.

The important thing to remember as you guide your child into normal speaking is that just listening is not enough. What he needs, and what he'll benefit by, is the fuller experience of speech through the three senses, hearing, seeing and feeling.

Deliberate Baby Talk

Sometimes a child will cling to baby talk long after he's learned to speak correctly. He may feel that grownups like him that way since it's cute or he may return to baby talk because of jealousy of a younger brother or sister and he feels that he'll get more attention this way.

Showing the child that you love him without tricks on his part will solve this problem. For the child who continues baby talk out of laziness, correct him in a friendly matter-of-fact way, encouraging him to feel he can speak well reminding him how much easier it will be for other children to understand him if he pronounces words the right way.

Explorer News from Marwayne

A trip by bus to Edmonton was thoroughly enjoyed by fifteen Explorers and the Counsellors last Saturday. The Alberta Wild Life farm operated by Mr Al Oeming was visited en route and a picnic lunch was enjoyed among the trees where the peacocks strut. A number of the Explorers assisted in giving the twelve baby deer their 2.00 o'clock bottle of milk. The "Storybook Valley" zoo was a treat for everyone when the city was reached. The University buildings, city hall and quite a number of churches were seen as the bus drove slowly around the city streets.

The first meeting of the new term was held Sept. 22. Mrs. W. Hancock will be assisting Mrs. Rea as a counsellor. New officers are: Chief Explorer — Marilyn Hathaway; Vice Chief — Judy Bystrom; Keeper of the Log — Diane MacDonald; Keeper of the Treasure — Linda Peck; Reporter — Audrey Espetveidt; Entertainment Convener — Willa Doull.

The group will be selling Xmas cards very soon and would appreciate an order, large or small.

Any girl who is nine years old before Nov. 1st is welcome to join the Explorer group.

MARWAYNE

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bendixen and family in the passing of Mrs. Bendixen's mother, Mrs. Kidder, after a lengthy illness. Funeral service was held in the United church, Marwayne, with interment at Kerrobert, Sask.

Quite a number from here are in hospital and all are wished a speedy recovery. In the Lloydminster hospital are Mrs. W. Curtis, Mrs. George Leslie, Mrs. Ray Flewell, also Miss Jean Leslie who is in for a routine check. Mrs. Harry Hillaby is in the University hospital, Edmonton. Mrs. Flewell Sr. in Mannville hospital suffering from an injury to her arm which was caught in a wringer. Mrs. Howard Hines in Elk Point hospital. Also in Lloydminster is Cameron Harvey.

CLUB VISITS VERMILION

Twenty-one members of the Friendship Club journeyed to Vermilion on Wednesday, Sept. 21st to join in a pot luck supper and evening of fun with the Golden Age club of that town. Everyone reported a good time. The next meeting will be on October 11th.

Mr and Mrs. Clayton Henry of Edmonton are visiting at the home of the latter's parents, Mr and Mrs. Bert McClean. Also visiting at home is Billy, son of Mr and Mrs. W. Giles.

Returning to the Prairie Bible Institute at Three Hills for their third year are Phylis Kent and Janet Swanson. Judy Johnson is attending for her first year.

Mrs. Oneta Kent is visiting with an uncle in Winnipeg, going by car with cousins who have been here and are now on their way home to Ontario.

September birthday greetings go to Mrs. Ruth Anderson, Mrs. H. Tupper, Mr. C. Currie, Mr. W. Giles, Mr. R. A. Swanson.

Jasper Park Lodge Ends '60 Season

JASPER, Alta., September— Jasper Park Lodge, the CNR's famed resort in the Canadian Rockies, has ended another busy season which started early in June.

Reservations are being received for 1961 and many conventions already have been booked for next year.

Nine new guest cabins will be constructed and made ready for occupancy by next June. They will replace a group of older cabins which front on Lac Beauvert.

District Couples Pledge Vows

OTTO—BROWN VOWS ARE PLEDGED IN ONTARIO

MANNVILLE. — A wedding of particular interest to Edmonton, Mannville and surrounding districts took place at St. Mary's Anglican Church, Westmeath, Ont., when Miss Helen Edythe Brown became the bride of Mr. Frederick Douglas Otto, with Rev. R. Roberts officiating.

Mrs. Sterling Leeson was the organist, and soloist was Mr. J. S. Hefler, brother-in-law of the bride.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde D. Brown of Westmeath, Ont., and the groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas F. Otto of Mannville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of white silk organza, designed on Empire lines, with Sabrina neckline, edged with guipure lace, short sleeves and bouffant skirt. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held in place by a tiara of sequins and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of baby chrysanthemums and stephanotis, and her only jewelry was a cultured pearl-pendant, a gift of the groom.

Miss Shirley Ann Graburn of Ottawa, Ont., was her cousin's bridesmaid, choosing a dress of Cromspun taffeta in an attractive sapphire shade, ballerina length, full skirt, V-neckline with cumberbund waistline and pleated bodice. Her hat was a small shell floral and feathered creation in sapphire and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Robert Macries of Edmonton attended the groom, and ushers were Mr. Alexander McEachern of Deep River, Ont., and the bride's brother, Mr. G. Donald Brown of Westmeath, Ontario.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother chose a lovely dress of blue chantilly lace with rounded neckline, outlined in iridescent sequins, short cap sleeves with unusual skirt styled with one side of plain folds of organza, and a bow at the waistline, and sheath skirt. Her corsage was of pink tea roses and her gown was complemented by a Dior blue feather cloch hat.

Mrs. Douglas Otto wore a dress of mauve sheath style lace over linen for her son's wedding, with matching bow at the back, and white accessories.

A reception followed the wedding ceremony at the Copeland Hotel, Pembroke, Ontario.

For the honeymoon trip to Quebec the bride changed to a travelling ensemble of Ducharme broadcloth, dark brown in color, with three-quarter length sleeves, scooped neckline, fitted bodice and sheath skirt. Her hat was a rounded dome-shaped beige feather cloche, and she wore beige and brown accessories, complemented by a corsage of bronze roses.

Following their honeymoon the happy couple will make their home in Ann Arbor, Mich., U.S.A.

The bride is a graduate of Carleton University, Ottawa. The groom, a graduate of the University of Alberta, is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity, and is presently attending the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor to complete his doctorate in chemical engineering.

PRETTY SUMMER WEDDING SOLEMNIZED AT KITSCOTY

FERRIS—EVANS

A pretty summer wedding was solemnized in Kitscoty United church, Kitscoty, on August 6th when Thelma Ethel, youngest daughter of Mrs. R. A. Evans and the late Mr. Evans, became the bride of Mr. Gerald Malcolm Ferris, younger son of Mr and Mrs. Eugene Ferris, all of Kitscoty.

Rev. James Shortt officiated at the double-ring ceremony and Mrs. Elsie Batty presided at the organ. As soloist, Mrs. Kirk Evans, sister-in-law of the bride, sang "God Bless This Day."

Bouquets of delphiniums, gladioli, bronze mums and sweet peas decorated the church.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Keith Evans, the bride looked charming in a floor-length white gown of nylon lace over taffeta, featuring a scalloped neckline sprinkled with iridescent sequins, seed pearls and lily point sleeves. Her fingertip veil of net, sprinkled with sequins, was caught to a tiara of rhinestones. Her only jewelry was a cultured pearl on a silver chain with matching earrings, a gift of the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of Talisman roses with ribbon streamers nipped with rosebuds.

Preceding the bride up the aisle were Mrs. Wayne Shortt, a friend of the bride, as matron of honor; Miss Carmie Ferris, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, Miss Elaine Hines, Miss Susan Hines and Miss Ella Marie Long, all nieces of the bride, as flower girls.

The matron of honor and bridesmaid wore similar waltz-length dresses of shrimp and turquoise nylon chiffon over taffeta respectively. Their matching headpieces were of nylon net intertwined with pearls. They carried white baskets of blue and pink apple blossoms.

The flowers girls were identical short dresses of white nylon over pink and blue taffeta respectively. Their headpieces were of semi-circular wreaths of pink and blue apple blossoms.

Attending the groom were Mr. Bob Evans, brother of the bride and Mr Dale Mitchell. Ushers were Mr Earl Evans, brother of the bride and Mr. Bob Hiltz.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Evans wore a summer dress of floral nylon with white accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Ferris, mother of the groom, wore a beige dress with teal blue accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

At a reception for one hundred and ten guests the bridal table was laid with a lace cloth centred with a beautifully decorated three-tiered wedding cake embedded in tulle and heather. Red sweetheart roses in cutglass vases graced the table.

Rev. James Shortt asked the blessing. Mr. C. N. Gray proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom ably responded. Mrs. Kirk Evans sang "I'll Walk Beside You", during the reception. A telegram from the bride's aunt in Winnipeg was read. Miss Joan Stewart presided at the guest book.

For a short honeymoon to North Battleford the bride changed to a wintergreen suit with white accessories and a corsage of yellow tea roses. The happy couple will reside on the groom's farm near Marwayne.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. Dick Vivian, Dewberry, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ballantine and Linda, Mannville; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lang, Eadie, Ella Marie and Billy, Dawson Creek, B.C., Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Evans, Bonnie and Terry, Mr. R. A. Ballantine, Edmonton, Mr and Mrs. Mouford Jamieson and Ross, Mr. Dave Gardiner, Major, Sask., Mr Garth Evans, Dewar, Sask., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dammett, Fusilier, Sask., Mrs. A. Evans, Silverton, Man., Mr and Mrs. C. Evans, Leduc, Mrs. Hazen Vennard, Compeer, Sask.; Mrs. H. Gratz and Jean, Mr. Norman Nufeld, Acme, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hines, Streamstown, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hines, Elaine, Susan, Debbie and Carolyn, Mr. and Mrs. Reg Box, Mr. and Mrs. H. Dow, Marwayne, Mr. and Mrs. Angus Anderson, Miss Jean McPhee, Vermilion, Mr and Mrs. Tom Carmichael and Judy, Onion Lake, Sask.; Mrs. Ruth Ferris, Mr. Bill Newcome, Mr. Leslie Ferris, Tulliby Lake, Mr. J. A. Carmichael, Lloydminster.

BRASSARD—CARROLL VOWS EXCHANGED AT UNITED CHURCH, VERMILION

Bouquets of pink and white gladioli graced the altar of First United church for the recent ceremony uniting in marriage Madeleine Lorraine Carroll and Leonard Spencer Brassard. Pews were becomingly decorated with pink and white sweet peas and pink bows.

Rev. C. W. MacKay conducted the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore an original intermission length gown of imported hand clipped Chantilly lace over taffeta. A feature of the gown was a Gothic train of bouquet taffeta. The fitted bodice was styled with a scooped neckline and elbow length sleeves. An Elizabethan cap of taffeta designed with tiny lace rosettes held in place the bride's double veil of nylon net. She carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds and ivy.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Carol Goodwin. Sister of the bride Miss Barbara Ann Carroll, was bridesmaid. They wore full skirted frocks of silk organza in shades of green and shrimp. Their slippers were in shades to match the dresses and they wore white bandeaux in their hair and carried bouquets of white Shasta daisies.

Mr Wilfred Godfrey and Mr Dick Upshall were the groom's attendants. Ushering the guests were Mr Donald Sandquist and Mr Dick Upshall.

Dr Ben King was soloist and Mr. Jack Brown played the wedding music.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Carroll wore a beige and green print dress with matching coat and beige accessories. Her corsage was of rust [illegible].

Mrs. Sarah Carroll, [illegible] mother of the bride, wore a deep blue silk dress with a pink hat and gloves, and corsage of pink roses.

At a reception held in the church hall, Mr Melvin Hill proposed the toast to the bride. In charge of the guest book was Miss Edna Martin.

For travelling the bride wore a red wool dress and matching coat ensemble with black accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

Mr and Mrs. Brassard will make their home in Calgary.

Guests from out-of-town at the wedding included Mr and Mrs. Tom Carruthers, Slave Lake; Mrs Eileen Sweeney, Edmonton; Mr and Mrs Tom Stark, Redwater; Mr and Mrs Wilf Godfrey, Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sanquist, Lacombe.

Prior to her marriage the bride was honored at showers at the homes of Miss Carol Goodwin and Mrs Barbara Hill.

Former Resident Of Landonville Passes Away

MARGERY LOUISA DOREY

The passing of Margery Louisa Dorey, aged 78 years, beloved wife of Mr Harold Dorey, occurred September 18th at the Jubilee Hospital, Victoria, B.C.

The deceased who had been in failing health for many months was of a most cheerful disposition and her zest for living was an inspiration and example to all who knew her. Profound regret and sorrow is expressed by a host of friends and relatives at her passing.

Mrs. Dorey was born in Thornford, Dorchester, England in 1884. Coming to Canada in 1913 she was married in Vermilion and made her home in the Landonville district for thirty two years. During this time she took an active part in all social activities of the community. She was also an instigator in establishing the Anglican church in the Landonville district, the W.A. branch of the church and for many years acted as organist.

In 1945 she moved with her husband to Victoria, B.C. where, apart from numerous visits back to Landonville district, she had [illegible]

She is survived by her loving husband Mr Harold Dorey of Victoria; two sons, Gilbert of Edmonton and Geoffrey of Clandonald; three daughters, Mrs. J. S. McCrae (Joan) of Vermilion, Mrs. C. C. West (Betty) of Clandonald, Mrs. W. A. [illegible] (Sheila) of Edmonton. There are seventeen grandchildren, also one sister, Mrs. [illegible] [illegible] England.

She was predeceased by one son Henry in 1949.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, Sept. 20 at 10.30 a.m. The Rev. R. S. Faulks of Vancouver, a long time friend of the family officiated. Interment was in the Hatley Memorial Gardens.

Many beautiful floral tributes in her memory were received.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to relatives, friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness received during the illness and loss of our loved one. Also many thanks for the beautiful floral tributes, kind letters and cards of sympathy.

Construction Booms With Start On New Hardware Store

Construction permit totals boomed this week when building started on the new Renaud & Casey hardware store, erection of steel for the new $225,000.00 agricultural and recreation centre, and five new residences.

NEW HARDWARE STORE

The new hardware store of Renaud & Casey will be an ultra modern retail structure with a 60-foot frontage on 50th avenue, and 100 feet in depth. In it will be incorporated all the latest features for hardware merchandising. The location is just west of the town hall.

AGRICULTURAL AND RECREATION CENTRE

Bringing many workmen to town also was the delivery of the steel for the new $225,000.00 agricultural and recreation centre, which will be the finest structure of its kind in western Canada. Permasteel have the contract for erecting the steelwork and many steel beams are now in place on the cement footings run over one month ago.

FIVE NEW RESIDENCES

Permits for new residences have taken an upward swing with the fine weather prevailing. Mrs. Marjorie [illegible] has a new house well under way in block 32 on lots 2 and the east half of [illegible]. This is in the high school subdivision. [illegible] $11,750. The [illegible]

[illegible] has a [illegible] house valued at $11,000.00. Floyd Bottrell is the builder with the structure already under way.

Wm. Pettigrew has taken out a permit for a new house also in the high school area for a residence 50 by 26. Frame siding is the finish. Value is $9,000.00.

Clarence Lovig is having a de luxe $19,000.00 home built in the hospital subdivision, the proper name for which is Vermilion Heights. This will be brick and [illegible]

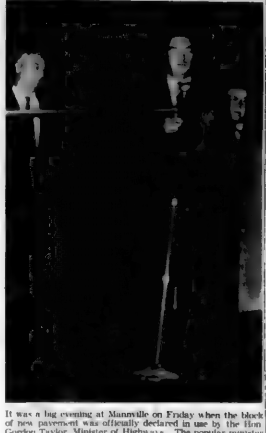
[illegible] other major alteration [illegible] there being the Vermilion Hotel block. This is [illegible] complete remodelling which is resulting in a much improved and attractive appearance.

The Gospel hall has been practically completely rebuilt and placed on a full basement and foundation.

Ken Isley is adding a large addition to his house.

In addition to this there has been a rush of garage building.



It was a big evening at Mannville on Friday when the block of new pavement was officially declared in use by the Hon Gordon Taylor, Minister of Highways. The popular minister is shown cutting the ribbon. On the left is Ashley Cooper, M.L.A., and on the right A. E. Williams, long-time Mayor of Mannville.

Esteemed Pioneer Samuel Filgate, 89 Passes Away

Samuel Alexander Filgate, a true and esteemed pioneer of the Vermilion district, passed away in the Vermilion hospital on Sunday, October 2nd, at the age of 89 years.

Mr. Filgate was born at Inverness, Quebec on Oct. 24th, 1870. He grew to manhood there and came to Vermilion in 1907 filing on a homestead in the Clandonald district.

He leaves to mourn his passing three daughters and two sons, Mrs. Jane Thero at Evansburg, Mrs. Edith Darling and Mrs. Eunice Chambers of Minburn, Gordon Filgate of Vernon, B.C., and Jim in Vermilion. There are 18 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the First United church, Vermilion on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment took place in the Vermilion cemetery. The Rev. F. G. Andrews of Mannville officiated.

Mowat's Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Ken McManus, CNR relief operator at Vermilion for the past month has returned to his home in Edmonton.

Anglicans Face $6,000 Rehabilitation Program

Men of St. Saviour's church commenced their monthly supper meetings on Monday. Following a menu of Irish stew served by the committee of Jack Kneale, Harry Brown, Hugh Evans and Rev. Champness, several projects for the year were discussed.

The vestry of St. Saviour's is faced with a rehabilitation program which cannot be avoided. The old converted furnace used for heating the church has been condemned as unfit for further use and must be replaced at once. The west side of the church has settled some seven inches and has pulled the underpinning of the church and the church floor out of shape.

The rehabilitation program will cost some $6000 so a building fund has been [illegible] and contributions are [illegible]

[illegible] Wm. Fooks, the club secretary who has been transferred to Forestburg, Jack Kneale volunteered to carry on the secretary's duties for the rest of the term.

Supper meetings are held in the parish hall the first Monday of each month. Chefs for next meeting are Don Kerr, Jim Blake, Walter Coulter and Jim Kaiser.

Transferred To Forestburg

Popular resident of the town for many years William Fooks has been transferred by his company, the Canadian Utilities Ltd., to the plant at Forestburg. Bill has already commenced work at the new site with the family to follow at an early date.

Mr. and Mrs. Fooks will be greatly missed, particularly in Anglican Church and Masonic Lodge circles. Bill has also been a familiar member of the Vermilion [illegible]

R.C.M.P. Move Offices

The RCMP have moved their offices to the former single men's residence at [illegible] Street. This will now serve as the town detachment office and the RCMP detachment office. The cells are also located there.

The office is one block east of [illegible] Sales and Service and as there are plenty of signs no difficulty should be experienced in finding the spot even though it is off the beaten track.

CHSA-TV Programs In Standard Weekly

The TV programs from Channel 2, CHSA Lloydminster, will be featured weekly in the Standard through the courtesy of [illegible] Transport and Renaud & Casey Hardware. Commencing in this issue of the Standard these firms will bring you the daily programs for the coming week.

Local Men Attend C. of C. Convention

Angus MacMillan, president of the Vermilion Chamber of Commerce and F. C. Smith, chairman of the Industrial committee of the chamber, attended the three day convention of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce being held in Calgary from Oct 3 to 5. They were the official delegates from the local C. of C.

Mrs. MacMillan and Mrs. Smith accompanied their husbands for the occasion as special entertainment was being provided for the wives of the delegates.

Rotarian See Slides Of Opening Of The Legislature

Members attending Rotary on Friday were shown twenty five slides depicting various phases of the official opening of the Alberta legislature. The slides were accompanied by a commentary given by Ashley Cooper, Vermilion constituency MLA.

The speaker was introduced by Ross [illegible] in a humorous vein and was thanked on behalf of the club by Warren Rosequist.

Men Form Singing Group

At a meeting held on Monday night to discuss the formation of a men's group for singing, it was decided [illegible] to have some practice and enjoyment in this form of entertainment. The first practice is to be held at the home of Mr. Jack Brown on Monday Oct. 17, at 8.15 p.m. Numbers are not essential but if you like to sing, and can read or wish to learn to read music the practice will be held and you are welcome. It is planned to stay with old favorites for the time being.

Thanksgiving Day, Monday, Oct. 10th

Monday, October 10th is Thanksgiving Day and a National holiday. All schools, stores and business places will be closed in Vermilion in common with the rest of Canada.

Mannville Street Opening Marked With Celebration

MANNVILLE. — Another milestone in Mannville's progressive history was marked on Friday evening, Sept. 30th as celebrations were held to signify the opening of Mannville's main street and the completion of the first block of pavement in the village. Guests of honor for the occasion were the Hon. Gordon Taylor, Minister of Highways, and Ashley H. Cooper, member of the legislature for the Vermilion constituency.

Preceding the ribbon cutting ceremony, village council members and their wives, headed by Mayor Bert Williams and Mrs. Williams with Hon. Gordon Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Cooper, Mr. Murray Kehr, engineer, Perry Cooper of the Vermilion Standard, Mrs. Joan C. Lagg, press representative, council members and wives, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Malin, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hay, and Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Rudd attended a most delicious and enjoyable dinner served at Linda's.

RIBBON CUTTING

Following the dinner, the official party moved to a raised platform in a blocked-off area of Main street where the Hon. Mr Taylor cut the ribbon, thus recognizing the completion of the co-operative project between the village of Mannville and the Government of Alberta and the newly-paved street was officially opened.

THANKS GOVERNMENT

Mayor Albert E. Williams in addressing the gathering recalled the days of 1905 when ox-drawn carts had traversed this same street. He advised the people that Mannville was the first village to complete their paving plan, and praised the Alberta government as one that had the welfare of the rural people at heart and that Mannville had benefitted greatly from Alberta policies in regards to paving, water and sewer and school programs. He thanked the Hon. Mr. Taylor and the local member Mr. Cooper for their efforts on behalf of Mannville.

Mayor Williams introduced the local M.L.A., Mr. Ashley Cooper, who in turn praised the hospitality of Mannville. He declared that he was a rural Albertan and seeing improvements being effected in towns, villages and rural areas always gave him wonderful satisfaction. The Alberta government of today wants to maintain strong active villages and towns throughout the province and that is why many projects of the five-year plan are directed to the benefit of these rural centres, said Mr. Cooper. In conclusion he stated that he was proud to represent the progressive active and self-contained village of Mannville in the Alberta legislature.

CROWD LOVES TAYLOR

Mr. Cooper in turn introduced the Hon. Gordon Taylor, minister of highways for the province. The Hon. Minister stated that he was pleased indeed to share in the street opening festivities at Mannville, particularly as this was the first village to complete the paving plan. It was noted by the large audience at once that Mr. Taylor was a humorist and an excellent mixer. He spoke of Alberta's changing face, some good changes and some otherwise. Speaking of the trend away from hospitality Mr. Taylor expressed the hope that the sample shown by Mannville this evening never dies. He urged the citizens to keep their trade at home and he felt that attractive features such as this block of hardtop in the center of their shopping area would help to achieve this objective. The hard top should benefit shopper and business men alike as is designed for both farmer and villager. Attractive villages likewise attract further enterprise. Tribute was paid to Linda's attractive coffee bar whose hospitality he had enjoyed. Then congratulating Mannville's mayor and citizens, he cut the ribbon marking the opening of Mannville's paved street.

STREET DANCE

A street dance followed to the music of Leo McDonald and his Saddle Tramps from Edmonton. At this affair the Hon. Mr. Taylor got things off to a start by acting as emcee. He also introduced several novelty programs and presented prizes to the winners. The whole affair was a most successful and enjoyable event and the guests of the evening left expressing the hope that they would again soon be back in Mannville for another such fine time.

Commencing the celebrations at Mannville on Friday evening was a delicious banquet, delectably served at Linda's Cafe. Shown from left to right are Murray Kehr, government engineer, Roy Hay, councillor, Mrs. Hay, Ashley Cooper M.L.A., Mrs. Cooper, Hon. Gordon Taylor, Minister of Highways, His Worship Mayor A. E. Williams, Mrs. Williams, Merle Malin, councillor, Mrs. Malin, Mrs. Ralph Rudd, Mrs. Joan Lagg, press representative. Sitting between Mrs. Rudd and Mrs. Lagg was Ralph Rudd, acting secretary of the village. Also present but taking the picture was Perry Cooper of the Standard.

Buy Safe Fire Extinguishers

About a month ago a 15-month-old baby boy of the Wayne district died in his crib as a result of breathing the vapors from the contents of a broken vaporizing-liquid, bomb-type fire extinguisher. That liquid, (carbontetrachloride), is dangerously toxic on vaporizing. There are many accidents on record involving poisoning and death to persons exposed to the toxic carbontetrachloride, used as a fire extinguishing agent.

Because this carbontetrachloride is a toxic fire extinguishing agent its use should be restricted to installations where there is the least possible chance of humans or animals being exposed to the vapors. Trained personnel who use these extinguishers in industry take careful precautions against inhaling the toxic vapors. Farmers throughout Alberta who have installed these so-called automatic fire bombs in their homes and other farm buildings should be informed about the dangers involved.

"I would advocate removing from dwellings any glass bomb type fire extinguishers. They are dangerous and are of doubtful value as a fire extinguisher in spite of the exaggerated claims of fast talking salesmen," says A. E. Bridges, Alberta Fire Commissioner.

"When you buy a fire extinguisher for the home, buy the water type," says Mr Bridges. A metal pump tank with two gallons of water in it is a good extinguisher for the home. Farm folk should be alert to the possibility of misrepresentations from the door to door salesmen of fire protection equipment. Be sure to buy an approved type extinguisher bearing an inspection label of a recognized testing laboratory. Extinguishers can be purchased from the nearest licensed dealer. For number and type, always consult your local fire chief or the Provincial Fire Commissioner.

Thanksgiving

As another Thanksgiving Day approaches Canadians generally are fully conscious of the many blessings they have enjoyed in 1960. Problems there are, without question, in agriculture as in other sections of our economy, but they are seldom problems of outright want. Moreover, agriculturally speaking, many of them must seem less serious this year when viewed in light of the bounteous harvest which has now been safely gathered in.

In many ways the 1960 crop was an exceptional one. As usual, however, before reaching maturity it had to face several very real hazards, any one of which might have materially affected outturn or quality. Spring operations generally were a week to ten days behind normal but with ample moisture reserves the western crop got away to a good start and developed into a stand of bumper proportions until dry weather set in in mid-July. The dry, hot weather which lasted for close to three weeks had its effect but the fear that drought might continue and drastically reduce yields still further was, fortunately, not realized.

At no time this year was there much real danger of damage from stem rust but at one stage the somewhat backward crop made damage from frost appear a distinct likelihood — particularly in northern areas. Once again those fears were never realized and under weather conditions seldom equalled in the past, crops matured and harvesting proceeded apace. Lastly, the 'quality' of the 1960 crop as measured in terms of protein content, is the third highest in history. Predominant grades will be No. 2 and No. 3 Northern and these will account for an unusually high percentage of the total crop.

Nature has, indeed, been kind to us during the year 1960 and, from a production standpoint, there is a great deal for which to be thankful. However, true Thanksgiving is fragrant of humility rather than self-gratulation and as we pause to give thanks in 1960 let us remember with thankful hearts the source from which all good things have come and His promise that while the earth remains seedtime and harvest shall not pass away.

"I Didn't Know I Was Loaded"

The guns are roaring, the hunters are abroad and carcasses will soon turn up on fenders and car tops. The all-too-familiar excuse — "I didn't know it was loaded" — will also turn up in the reports of hunting fatalities.

The motors are roaring, the drivers are abroad and human carcasses will turn up on fenders and streets and roads. The all-too-familiar excuse — "I didn't know I was loaded" — will continue to turn up in the reports of traffic accidents.

The difference is that "I didn't know I was loaded" knows no season. The drinking driver is abroad throughout the year, the motorist who didn't realize how far a drink or two could dull his senses and cloud his responses and responsibilities. The Canadian Highway Safety Council warns all drivers that drinking is as serious a menace when the drinker has a loaded gun in his hands as when he has an automobile under his control. In both cases the lives of human beings are at stake.

OF COURSE, YOU'RE READY FOR SELF GOVERNMENT!

[illegible]

The Lea Park Cattle Association is holding a second annual sale of 1000 steer and heifer calves October 19th. The Lloydminster Exhibition Association will hold its annual fall sale of pure-bred swine beef and dairy cattle on Oct. 21. Entries for the Lloydminster sale close Oct [illegible]th.

ARTIFICIAL BREEDING

The North Eastern Artificial Breeding Association reports 724 cows serviced from May 1st to Sept 23rd 1960. The summer rush is tapering off and anyone who wishes to breed some cattle artificially should contact Ed Rosendal, technician phone 636 Vermilion. This is an opportunity to improve your herd with outstanding breeding stock.

FEEDER CATTLE

Harvest is rapidly being completed and with this year's bountiful crop most farmers are considering a means whereby large stocks of grain may be turned in to money. Many will buy feeders to use up some of this grain and Alberta's Veterinary Services branch is doing its utmost to see that the feeders going through class D stock yards are as free of disease as possible. Alberta Class D stockyards and auction markets are supervised by a practising veterinarian for your protection. The veterinarian inspects all incoming stock, blood tests non-vaccinated cows and heifers, vaccinates young heifers and is responsible for overseeing the cleaning up of the yards between sales. Play it safe as possible — buy at a licensed auction market.

MORE DAIRY COWS

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports that there are now 277,000 dairy cows and 57,000 yearling dairy heifers on Alberta farms. This represents an increase of 5000 cows and 1000 heifers over the previous year. The dairy cattle population of Canada has increased 54,000 head during the last year, most of which occurred in eastern Canada.

VARIETY NAMES

Canada's new seeds act regulations make it illegal to represent seed as belonging to a variety unless the seed is registered or certified under the terms of the act. Furthermore it will be illegal to use a trade name similar to a variety name or to use a qualified variety name such as "grown from Ladak seed." Henceforth seed advertised for sale must be referred to as alfalfa, wheat etc., without reference to variety.

FABRICS FOR FIGURE TYPES

We are fortunate today since we have so many types of fabric to choose from. There are as many different textures as there are kinds of fabric. Your figure determines to a large extent what your choice of fabric should be.

SMOOTH OR DULL FINISHED FABRICS

These do not attract attention to size so they are good basic selections for most figures. The full figure should wear only dull textures in all garments.

TEXTURED OR NUBBY FABRICS

Almost anyone can wear these if the textured design is not too bulky. Heavy bulky fabrics are poor if you wish to minimize weight. These fabrics are best worn by tall, slim people.

STIFF FABRICS

Stiff fabrics [illegible] since they stand away from the figure. The thin person can use them to camouflage figure irregularities. Short women are advised not to [illegible].

TRANSPARENT FABRICS

Although these have no effect on the apparent size they reveal the figure whether fat or thin. Sheer materials look out of place on the large athletic person.

SHINY FABRICS:

These call attention to your figure so stay away from them if you want to camouflage any bad points or appear slimmer. These are dramatic fabrics and are good for emphasis. A shiny fabric is more pleasing in a dark or pale color than in a bright color.

PRINTS

Although prints may be worn by everyone, it is important to choose carefully. Tall thin women break height and add width by [illegible] prints with large motifs. For the small person a small all-over print is best.

PLAIDS:

Plaids and checks look well when in proportion to the wearer's size. Big bold plaids and checks are fine for a tall slim woman. Small to medium plaids especially in muted colors, can be worn by the average and shorter than average women. Choose simple lines in a garment when sewing patterned fabrics. If trimming is used it must be of plain fabric.

Doll Collection from All Parts of the World

This doll collection was undertaken as a school project by David MacKay, son of the Rev. and Mrs. C. W. MacKay. David just didn't send for dolls from all the various countries. They were procured for him by people who had visited the countries or who knew people who had visited far away from their native Canada. So each and every doll has a personal history all its own. It is easy to pick the countries from which the dolls come from the distinctive dress of each one. The project is designed to depict Canada as a great mixing bowl of peoples of all nations.

Wes Aarum was guest speaker at both morning and afternoon services, concluding his week long crusade in the local chapel. He is Canadian director for Youth for Christ. Ron Allen, Alberta leader of Youth for Christ spoke in the afternoon service at the Mannville Tabernacle. They made announcement of the Youth for Christ rally to be held in Edmonton Oct. 5 and 6 at Fellowship Baptist church. Their group is in the process of re-organization on a Dominion-wide scale and it is planned to have regular rallies in Vermilion commencing in the very near future.

Special musical items during the services were a solo by Mrs Marjorie Curtis, a ladies' trio by Dorothy Grinde, Doreen Currah and Margwynne Clendenning and a solo by Margaret McLennan. Wes Aarum, an accomplished pianist and former dance band leader played as a piano solo "Master the Tempest is Raging" and led the teen-age choir which he trained throughout the week in the singing of many selections.

Chatsworth Country Club Wins Honorable Mention Award In Dominion-Wide Contest

The Chatsworth Country Club has won honorable mention in the Dominion-wide contest open to ladies' clubs and organizations. The award was made by Chatelaine which present one first prize and five clubs with honorary mention. That a club small in numbers and representing a rural area such as Chatsworth, should rank in the first six clubs in Canada, is a singular and outstanding achievement indeed and the individual members deserve the highest praise. The award is for services rendered by the club to the community, province, dominion and international projects.

The Chatelaine Club award was for the 1959-60 season, and as the Chatsworth club's year begins in July, the report of the activities, basis of the award, will be given.

The club had eleven active members and held 11 meetings with an average attendance of nine members. President of the club was Mrs. Evelyn Henning, with Mrs. Arthur Towell as secretary-treasurer.

ACTIVITIES

In [illegible] gifts were [illegible] to two young brides of the community. In September the visit of Miss Nancy Hooper district home economist to the monthly [illegible] was sponsored with all [illegible] district being welcome to attend.

A Christmas tree and concert was held at the community centre with over 100 bags of candies and treats provided for the children of the community. A gift exchange among the members was a feature of the December meeting.

In December a baby shower for one of the members was held in connection with a meeting. A tea and sale of home baking and farm produce was held in Vermilion in March.

In June the club sponsored the placing of containers in stores in town for contributions to World Refugee Year fund.

A picnic was held at Vermilion lake with treats for all including a beautiful basket lunch.

Donations of $5.00 each were given to CNIB, Heart Fund, Red Cross, Cancer crusade, Crippled Children, School for Retarded Children, Polio Fund, membership in the multiple sclerosis chapter Edmonton, one of the members being thus authorized to accept donations to same. The club belongs to the Canadian Association of Consumers, and receive their helpful literature.

[illegible] members of the club visit the sick of the community each month, flowers are sent to members in hospital, and cards of congratulations, sympathy, are sent to others in the district. A table was purchased for the use of a multiple sclerosis patient.

The award takes the form of a large framed certificate worded as follows:

"The Canadian Home Journal Club Award Honorable Mention presented to Chatsworth Country Club Vermilion Alberta. In recognition of an outstanding contribution to the community, [illegible]"

The Great Enemy

It is a pitiful thing that each year seems to see fire consuming more of our forests than men do. Thousands upon thousands of acres fall before this great enemy which often destroys not only the wood but soil and wildlife as well.

Fire can be man's best friend, particularly in a cold climate like ours. Nothing is more pleasant than to sit before an open fireplace with birch logs crackling, or to spin yarns around one of those good old big-bellied stoves, loaded with fuel. Perhaps it is the very warmth and cheer of a good fire that leads us to ignore the frightening danger of uncontrolled flames.

Smokers, particularly, become altogether too casual about fire. When the Ontario Fire Marshal recently listed the causes of fires in that province for 1959, CARELESS SMOKING was high on the list.

There are many misconceptions about the main causes of fire, as any Albertan will be prompt to tell you. For example, natural gas gets far more blame than it should, since statistics prove it to be near the bottom of the list, under even than oil, which also has a good record.

Of course, it is probably wrong to say that this fuel or that one has "a good record". It is the people who use it who have the record, not the fuel itself which is impersonal and simply obeys the laws of its nature. And we the people are to blame when we neglect those laws.

So the great enemy again, when you get right down to it, is ignorance of the laws of nature or a silly disregard of them. Our health, our wealth and our happiness so often depend only on sensible alignment with nature's edicts, yet knowing this, we court sickness, poverty and despair by flouting the most elementary of such laws.

Ornery creatures, aren't we?

CN's Continental Now "Local" Train

MONTREAL — Canadian National Railways has announced changes in the make-up of its second cross-country train, the Continental. The change became effective last week-end.

The Continental now will handle only express, mail and coach traffic with sleeping car accommodation restricted to certain local areas. Dining car facilities will not be available on this train.

On its daily run between Vancouver, Toronto, Montreal, the Continental will provide sleeping car service only between Montreal and North Bay, Ont., Saskatoon and Edmonton, and between Kelowna and Vancouver.

Service aboard the Continental is tailored to the lower [illegible] of passenger traffic [illegible] tion to eliminate duplication and to provide quick intercity travel.

CN's Super Continental will continue to provide fast transcontinental service with a variety of through sleeping and dining car facilities.

Art Exhibits Are Available For Alberta Districts

Ten travelling art exhibitions with a total of 166 paintings are being made available for showing in Alberta communities. The program, which will operate from October through to May is being sponsored by the Cultural Activities Branch of the Alberta Provincial Secretary's Department in cooperation with artists' groups across the province.

The exhibitions range in size from six to 33 paintings. Artists are from the University of Alberta, the Institute of Technology and Art in Calgary, the Calgary Allied Arts Council and such points as Fort Macleod, Medicine Hat, Grande Prairie, Lethbridge, Drumheller, Red Deer, Lacombe, Sylvan Lake.

Any three of the ten exhibitions will be available to a community during the program year. Exhibits must be sponsored by community organizations which are obligated to pay only the charges of shipping the exhibit to the next community.

Deadline for applications is Oct. 15th. Further information may be obtained by writing the Arts and Crafts Division, Cultural Activities Branch, Room 424, Legislative Building, Edmonton.

LOCAL NEWS

On Friday evening, friends of Mrs. Ada Fraser met at the home of Mrs. McKelvie on the eve of her leaving the block to reside at the Vermilion Valley lodge. On behalf of the friends Mrs. McKelvie presented Mrs. Fraser with a table lamp which pleased and greatly surprised her. Mrs. Fraser will be 89 years of age this month. A very delicious lunch was served by the hostess and committee in charge. Mrs. Fraser was wished the very best and a continuation of health.

Miss Katherine Kiziak, nursing aide from Viking has just completed three weeks' vacation visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kiziak and other relatives at Derwent. Miss Kiziak also attended the convention in Edmonton for certified nurses' aides which was of three days' duration and which she enjoyed very much. She was at home just in time to help out with the threshing also.

Mr. and Mrs. Sifton Hammond of the CNR returned recently from a holiday spent in Vancouver, Victoria and other coastal points. The trip was made by CN.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burton had as their guests for the past week Mrs. Joe Moreland and her daughter Mrs. Janet Jost and little boy Steve from Portland, Oregon. During this time they enjoyed the grand weather and visited Mr. and Mrs. Repp and George and Arthur Hughes.

The sub-local representative of the A.T.A. is Mr. Floyd Sweet, not Mr. F. Stewart as appeared in last week's Standard.

Mr. David E. Brown will go to Calgary this coming week to attend the convocation exercises of the Holy Cross hospital nursing class, which will be held at the Jubilee auditorium. Miss [illegible] Wilson is a member of the graduating class.

Mrs. Stan McCrea has recently returned via TCA from Victoria where she had spent two weeks, being called there by the death of her mother, Mrs. H. Dorey.

Specializes in Cross-bred Coyotes

Walter Hinton who has bagged two pure black coyotes in the west Buffalo Coulee area has this time shot a coyote with a white tip to its tail. It will probably be a great many years before this happens again. The tail, upon examination showed no injury in any way, so the explanation of it is that it was inherited, indicating its forebears were probably crossed sometime with a farm dog.

HUMAN SPUD

Mrs. W. Preston has the prize potato this week, not from the standpoint of size but from its peculiarity. The potato greatly resembles a person, head, body, arms and all. Of course it does not actually look like anyone we know but it does resemble people generally.

Concrete Beams in New Bridge Over Red Deer River

NEW BRIDGE OVER etc. 8

An important link in Alberta's highway network was officially opened August 17th when Hugh Forster, pioneer Cessford rancher, cut the ribbon at the modern new bridge crossing the Red Deer river near Duchess. These opening ceremonies were attended by local officials and members of the Alberta Department of Highways. The Hon. Gordon E. Taylor, Minister of Highways, declared the $800,000 structure officially opened.

Forming a part of highway No. 36, the bridge consists of five 148-foot spans on concrete piers extended to 30 feet below the streambed. All pilings were driven to a minimum bearing capacity of 18 tons. Post tensioned concrete girders, each weighing 110 tons, form the main superstructure. Each span contains four of the giant beams, which are the largest ever used in Alberta.

The concrete girders were cast at a site near the bridge and moved by specially designed dollies to the piers. Two large cranes of 60 and 70 ton capacities were used in erecting and positioning the girders.

The 748-foot long bridge provides a 30-foot clear roadway, and has a height of 42 feet above the Red Deer river.

The opening of the bridge replaces two ferries which have been operating near the site. Access roads leading from the old crossings connect the rural roads to the new highway.

Designed by engineers of the Department of Highways Bridge Branch, the new structure was built in little more than one year. Construction was commenced in July, 1959.

PREVENT PIN HOLES

To attach a brooch to a lightweight blouse or dress, pin it through a small piece of felt on the inside of the material. The felt then takes the weight of the brooch.

LIVESTOCK REPORT

On sale for Tuesday Oct. 4th were the following: 96 Cattle, and 145 Hogs.

Cattle prices were in line with the previous week. One lot of stocker steers with weight average of 480 lbs., contributed by R. J. Bonaire and purchased by N. M. Klit, brought $19.00 per cwt. Other stocker steers were in close price range. Stocker heifers were finding a price range of $16.00 to $17.50 cwt.

One lot of fat steers contributed by Irvine Bell, with a weight average of 985 lbs. sold for $20.80 per cwt., being purchased by Canada Packers.

Cows were steady, good cows bringing $12.00 to $13.00 cwt.

Hogs were steady also, weaners bringing $8.00 to $12.00 and feeders $18.00 to $21.50 per cwt.

We found it much better to handle our contributors with the sale starting at 11:00 a.m. Make sure your hogs are in before sale time if possible. Hogs go on sale at 11 a.m. sharp.

Good prospects for feeder and fat cattle next week. Consign yours with the open market — and remember "NO SALE NO CHARGE."

City Under Glass

An Alberta city, Medicine Hat, boasts more acres under glass for the growing of flowers than any other city in Canada. With an immediate and economical source of natural gas for heating purposes, this branch of Alberta's floral industry expects in excess of two million dollars worth of flowers annually to points spread from the west of the great lakes to the Pacific coast. A high percentage of the chrysanthemums seen in the prairies and the Pacific coast are grown in that city.

The New 1961 Ford

THE completely re-styled Ford for 1961 will present a slimmer and shorter exterior than the 1960 model and will incorporate the "classic Ford Straight Line design" in hood, roof and deck lines. All this has been accomplished with no sacrifice of interior roominess. Numerous engineering improvements are also incorporated in the 14 models that include two new models, a Galaxie Club Victoria—a two-door hardtop—and a six passenger Country Squire station wagon. Two standard engines, the "mileage maker" six and the Thunderbird 332 V-8 are augmented by an optional Thunderbird Special 390 V-8. The 1961 Ford cars will be available at all Ford of Canada Ford-Monarch-Falcon dealers.

500 Expected To Attend United Church Young People's Fall Rally

Some five hundred young people from throughout Alberta and northern B.C. are expected to gather in Edmonton this weekend for the annual Alberta Conference YPU fall rally.

The combined business and social get-together will be spread over the entire long Thanksgiving week-end, in Norwood United church.

Guest speaker on the theme "Am I My Brother's Keeper?" will be Rev. Hart Cantelon, the principal of Edmonton's Alberta College, oldest secondary education institution in the province, founded in 1903. Rev. Bev Johnston, minister of new Grace United church in Edmonton, will be feature speaker at a special Sunday night theme service.

Sessions and workshops will be conducted in the various church departments. Rev. Ray Smith, Norwood minister, is co-ordinator of a Presbytery YPU planning committee. Rally convener is Tom Sawyer, first year Theology student at the U. of A. Co-conveners are Dick Smit and Bety Cragg of Edmonton and Don Steel of the University of British Columbia.

The rally brings together provincial delegates to elect a new Conference executive to co-ordinate and plan Alberta young peoples' activities through the church's 540 preaching places. Reports will be presented from delegates at National YPU Council sessions at Hamilton, Ontario in August and Naramata Christian Leadership Training school in the Okanagan Valley, also in August. Observers from other denominational and United Church youth groups have been invited to attend the rally. New dynamic ideas and methods will be outlined in workshops.

The highest temperature officially recorded in Canada, in southern Alberta and interior British Columbia, has been 115 degrees. - Quick Canadian Facts

Clandonald United Church News

The September meeting of the Clandonald W.A. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reg Lovell with eleven members present. A number of activities of the past month were noted.

On Sept. 10th Mrs. George Carlton, Mrs. Schoonmaker and Mrs. Olsen served coffee for the opening of the new TV shop in Clandonald.

It was with deep regret that farewells were bid to the Rev. and Mrs. MacKay and family. The best wishes of the district accompany them to their new home.

Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Laird and Mrs. Cooper attended the W.A. and W.M.S. [illegible] at Cold Lake. Transportation was provided by Mrs. Cooper. It is always such a pleasure to meet old friends and make new ones at these meetings.

Mrs. Mike Bobowski of Vilna sends greetings to her old friends Zelma Nettleton and sister Olga. Cecilia Bell also of Vilna sends greetings to Flora Throndson, Ellen Omness, Delore Nelson and the Nelson families.

Miss Gail Goddard has started nurses training at Lamont. Miss Barbara Campbell is attending college in Edmonton.

FRINGE BENEFITS TAKE PAYROLL BITE

Fringe benefits paid by Canadian companies amount to an average of 22.2% of the payroll, The Financial Post reports.

A new study of 180 Canadian companies in the manufacturing, utility, transportation, trade and finance field carried out by Industrial Relations Counselors Service Inc. shows.

Average payment per employee amounts to $1,100 a year.

Fringe benefits are defined as those provided by a company in addition to wages and salaries and include payments required by law, pay for time not worked and non-cash benefits.

RIVERTON

Mrs. Bob Speer recently gave a supper to celebrate 45 years of wedded bliss. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] of Kitscoty, Mr. [illegible] of Edmonton, Mr. and Mrs. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. West, Mrs. F. Hansen and Mrs. [illegible]. All are old timers of the district.

Mr. Harry Rennals was here recently at the home of Mrs. P. Hansen, staying a few days to help his brother-in-law Mr. Clayton Hansen with the harvest.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar [illegible] are [illegible] with their two lovely baby [illegible] who were christened [illegible] at Dewberry United church. [illegible] is busy these days [illegible] relatives with the harvest.

Nurses Present Award To Marie Tovell, To Enter Nurses Training

The first meeting of the Vermilion Registered Nurses' Association of the season was held in the board room of the Vermilion municipal hospital with 19 nurses present. The meeting opened with the Nightingale Pledge said in unison. The president, Mrs. Pat McLaughlin, was in the chair. All were happy to have Mrs. Alex McMillan come down from the hospital to attend the meeting and to have Mrs. Ted Marfleet attend once again.

The president thanked Mrs. Manson Barr for having the annual nurses' picnic at her home this summer and for the extra work it entailed. Thanks go also to Keith and Johnny Barr for building a barbecue for the guests. It was suggested that the picnic next summer be held from 5 to 8 o'clock so that all could enjoy a bit of the evening together.

Miss Marie Tovell was voted to receive the annual award of $50 given by the Chapter to a grade twelve student of the Vermilion High school with the highest average entering a training school for nurses. Miss Tovell's average was 77 per cent.

The president thanked the nurses for helping at the blood donor clinic July 5th. The donor attendance at this clinic broke all previous records.

When the business of the meeting was over, Miss Arnett and Miss Brovald of the Health Unit staff showed the film "That They Shall Live", demonstrating the technique of mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. The Health Unit staff was thanked for giving the nurses the privilege of seeing this educational film. It is hoped to have more films of this type shown at the meetings.

Due to the next meeting falling on Hallowe'en it was decided to have the meeting a week earlier, October 24th, at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Watts.

Family Gathering Marks Birthday of Mrs. P. Wilkinson

A family gathering marked the 70th birthday of Mrs. Peter Wilkinson on September 27th at the family home in Vermilion. Here for the happy occasion were members of the family including Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Wilkinson, Mrs. Maryanne Phelan and her daughter Margaret, all of Edmonton; John Wilkinson of Calgary; Grandson Jimmy Wilkinson, Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Wilkinson, Vermilion, Mrs. Pat Donahy, Vermilion, and Mrs. Joe Wilkinson, Vermilion. Phone calls were received from George and James Wilkinson in Calgary who were unable to be present.

A delicious turkey supper was served. The family presented Mrs. Wilkinson with a luxurious chesterfield and chair.

Fifty-Seven Alberta Chiefs Attend Fire Fighting Schools

The third and final fire chiefs' training school sponsored by the [illegible] fire commissioner's office was completed here Friday.

Seventeen chiefs representing as many Alberta centres Friday ended a week-long course in which they took practical training in the fundamentals of fire-fighting. This was the third school held at the Vermilion School of Agriculture. Twenty-one [illegible] attended the first clinic, 19 in the second and 17 in [illegible] for a total of 57.

Seven instructors headed by William MacKay, assistant fire [illegible] for the province, put the visiting firemen through [illegible]. Others assisting Mr. MacKay were Richard Beland in charge of the school, Al Johnson, [illegible] M. D. Shuttleworth, Archie Kennedy and Richard [illegible].

COVER WIDE AREA

Fire chiefs or senior officers of volunteer fire brigades attended from as far north as Lower Hay River NWT and as far south as Waterton Park. They were given practical training in every phase of the operation of four types of pumper trucks, breathing apparatus and obstacle tests.

The school of agriculture here was selected as headquarters for the clinic because of its adaptability of billeting the men, and the proximity of the lake at the provincial park which provided an unlimited supply of water.

Those attending the third and final school for this year were: R. D. C. Eager, Grande Prairie; M. Evasnuff, Hinton; B. Voshell, Camrose; M. McKelvey, Ponoka; F. F. Harrington, Hay River; A. O. Evans, Athabasca; E. Kurylak, Hines Creek; L. McGuire, Waterton Park; E. Robinson, [illegible]; J. Middleton, Medicine Hat; G. Wilson, Ponoka mental hospital; S. Griffiths, Grande Prairie; E. McMillan, McLennan; Hugh Thomson, Fairview; G. Hansen, Foremost; Ken Urquhart, Vermilion and D. Champion, Hinton.

While the school just completed was the third and final course for the year it is planned by the fire commissioner's office to conduct similar schools next year.

TRAIN CHIEFS

It is the belief of the fire commissioner's office that for cities, towns and villages to have efficient fire fighting forces the chief is the most important cog in the volunteer brigades. With this in mind the fire commissioner is attempting to give all chiefs a full opportunity to understand the operation of machines.

The course is also designed to [illegible] instruction on the administration of such a force and offers an abundance of technical knowledge.

Four fire trucks, all of different makes, were used at the school. Each fire chief was [illegible] command of the various trucks and also took practical lessons in the use of breathing machines or gas masks.

One of the most outstanding events of the week was the operation of pumper trucks at the provincial park lake Wednesday night. This operation was carried out under floodlights and was attended by a large number of townspeople.

WHAT'S NEW?

The Financial Post regularly reports on new products, new ideas, new money-makers. Here's the latest: Red tissue is not caused by a bloody nose, reports The Financial Post. It's dyed so hunters can blow their noses without fear that some trigger happy hunter will mistake a handkerchief for the white flash of a deer's tail. The flare red tissue comes in pocket size packs.

The Canadian National is the only railway in the world operating through six different time zones: Newfoundland, Atlantic, Eastern, Central, Mountain and Pacific.

The young people of Canada, through their Junior Red Cross, have chalked-up an impressive record of assistance to handicapped children here at home and to millions of hungry and homeless children abroad.

Street Paving, Sidewalk and Curb Programs Popular in Towns, Villages

"Good progress is being made on the street paving and/or sidewalk program in the villages and towns of Alberta", Gordon E. Taylor, Minister of Highways, stated in Edmonton last week. Approximately one-half, 97, towns and villages have now completed agreements with the Department of Highways. A breakdown by type of work for this is as follows:

Concrete Sidewalk Construction only	47
Concrete Sidewalk, Curb and Gutter	30
Street Paving	20
	97

Of the above, construction arrangements have been approved in 86. Tendering is still in progress on several projects.

The Alberta Government has set aside some $6,000,000 in its five-year program for the purpose of making towns, villages and large hamlets more attractive through a street paving and/or sidewalk construction program. The towns and villages may take advantage of this program within a three-year period. The local authority is responsible for setting grade lines and preparing the subgrade and the provincial government pays the total cost of the concrete sidewalks or base course and surfacing.

The total amount of grant funds now committed for the ninety-seven towns and villages is [illegible].

Many towns and villages are taking advantage of the program to improve their main business streets and to place concrete sidewalks in their residential districts especially in the vicinity of schools, hospitals, churches and other community buildings.

"This program is unique in Canada", the Minister of Highways stated, "and is providing facilities that will service our town and rural people for many, many years to come."

Edmonton Symphony Hopes To Build Country Audiences Sundays

The Edmonton Symphony Society will present a series of seven Sunday afternoon concerts this fall and winter in the Jubilee Auditorium, Edmonton.

The concert time has been advanced from Sunday evening to 3 p.m. Sunday afternoon for the benefit of students and district audiences who have found the late hour inconvenient. In addition, the Symphony will present a special Christmas Box concert December 27th.

INTERNATIONAL STARS

The concerts will be highlighted by the appearance of six internationally-known guest stars and seven distinguished guest conductors.

Nadine Conner, noted lyric soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Co. will be the featured performer of the first concert on Oct. 16. Frederick Balazs, violin virtuoso and conductor of the Tucson Symphony, will be the guest conductor.

Frederick Grinke, well-known British violinist and fellow and professor of the London Academy of Music will be guest star for the Nov. 13th performance. Walter Susskind, concert pianist and conductor of the Toronto Symphony will conduct.

EDMONTON PIANIST

Mark Jablonski, young Edmonton pianist studying at Juilliard School of Music New York, will star at the Dec. 4 concert. Hans Gruber, conductor of the Victoria Symphony and the Vancouver [illegible] Festival [illegible].

On January 15, Dr. Boyd Neel, Dean of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Toronto will star as the guest conductor.

Nicanor Zabaleta, internationally known and respected as one of the finest exponents of the harp, will be the guest star on March 12th. Karl Rucht, Herr general musik direktor of the Heidelberg Orchestra, will conduct.

SIR ERNEST TO CONDUCT

The dean of Canada's composers and conductors, Sir Ernest MacMillan, will conduct the orchestra on its Feb. 12 performance. Leonard Rose, billed as one of the world great cellists will appear as guest artist.

The seventh and final concert March 26 will bring back popular Victor Feldbrill of the Winnipeg Symphony as guest conductor. Guest performer will be Ray Dudley, winner of the Eaton award and the Geneva International Competitions' Unanimous medal for extraordinary keyboard artistry.

POPULAR PRICES

Ticket prices for the entire series of seven concerts range from an amazing low of $7 to $22 with student memberships priced at $5. This has been made possible by a grant of $31,000 by the Canada Council to the Edmonton and Calgary symphonies. A number of private donations also have helped to subsidize the performances.

A comparable series of concerts elsewhere would mean prices of $20 to $50 for each season membership, officials said.

The sound in the Jubilee Auditorium is superb for seats in all price brackets.

It is pointed out that these concerts afford an excellent opportunity to arrange a family treat [illegible] to the city to enjoy a concert of live music, have a pleasant dinner and return home leisurely at an early evening hour.

Membership may be obtained by writing The Edmonton Symphony Society, c/o Hudson's Bay Company, Edmonton, Alberta. A deposit of $5 is required with each application for membership.

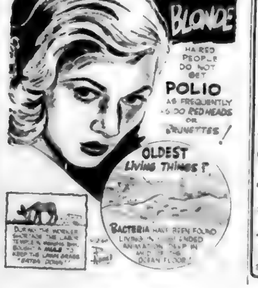
NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH by Arnold



Golden Age Club Pot Luck Supper A Huge Success

The first social of the Golden Age Friendship club for the fall season took place in the Legion hall on Wednesday evening Sept. 21st. There were over one hundred in attendance, including 21 members from the Marwayne Friendship club. A pot luck supper was the order of the evening and a good array of food was thoroughly enjoyed. It was certainly a great pleasure to see such a fine turnout for this social and a great big 'thank you' is extended to the ladies of the kitchen committee for their very wonderful effort. The dining tables so tastefully decorated with flowers of every description were certainly appreciated by all. The assortment of food was so nicely arranged that no one could help but feel hungry, as was evidenced by the justice done to the festive board.

After supper was finished and the tables cleared and put away, community singing was the first item on the program with Mrs. Sybil Roebuck at the piano and that embarrassing gent, Percy Cross, as M.C. After many old favorites had been enjoyed Mr. W. Williams entertained with selections on the violin accompanied by Mrs. Simonet. A hearty vote of thanks to both, also to Mrs. Roebuck for a job well done.

Following Mr. Williams, Mr. R. Dilts showed films taken by himself. These included parts of the Calgary and Camrose stampedes, bull fighting in Mexico and some pictures of square dancing. This feature was enjoyed very much. Thank you Mr. Dilts for taking the time to entertain at [illegible].

After the show all were entertained by that well known celebrity Mr. Johnny Maxwell who organized a number of the members into a square dance, and to see those old timers toe tapping to the lively music and Johnny's calling certainly made the old saying true, "I'm not too old to cut the mustard anymore". A lot of credit is due to Mr. Maxwell for his fine effort in which he did a lot of work in a very short time and sincere thanks is expressed from all of the Golden Agers.

The evening was then brought to a close and the Vermilion club trusts that the Marwayne group enjoyed the evening and invite them to come again.

'Freshies' At The Mannville High 'Suffer' Initiation

MANNVILLE — Attired in unusual dress, students, that is, "Freshies", at the Mannville High school began initiation exercises at 11:15 a.m. Friday Sept. 23. Girls were attired in gunny sack skirts, men's plaid shirts and suspenders, long stockings and hair tied by means of a nylon stocking. The boys wore long underwear, ballet skirts made of fringed paper, jam pails on top of their head from which sprouted turkey feathers, 15 pin curls, excess make-up, nylons and rubbers. An amusing sight was that of a freshman 'man' teacher attired in a first year lady teacher's clothes, complete to the ear rings, and vice versa. Her pupils addressed her by his name and he by hers. The entire class executed the annual snake dance through the village and performed many of the consequences imposed following same.

As a consequence, one lass was seen and heard calling "Please Mr. Custer", while another promenaded on Main street singing lustily. Other penalties were serving coffee at Linda's; boy and girl proceeding hand in hand into a cafe to order a non-existent dish, four smoking pipes of peace and many others.

The usual dance in the evening proved a most enjoyable affair to the music of a good orchestra and wound up with the serving of lunch.

MINISTER OF NATIONAL REVENUE RE-AFFIRMS CHARITABLE STATUS OF MORAL RE-ARMAMENT

Mr. C. W. Carter M.P. (left) [illegible] outside Parliament

Eight Members of Parliament including Revenue Minister Nowlan and two Parliamentary Under Secretaries sternly took to task the CCF Member from Kootenay West, H. W. Herridge for a "vitriolic attack" on Moral Re-Armament in the House of Commons last week.

Mr Wallace Nesbitt, Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister for External Affairs, referring to the CCFer's attack said, "I must say I was surprised, but I suppose that those in this world who don't agree with the precepts of socialism and Communism might well come under [illegible]."

Referring to the fact that the charitable status under which gifts to Moral Re-Armament are tax deductible, the Revenue Minister said "Years ago the Minister then responsible ruled that Moral Re-Armament was a charitable organization within the meaning of the Act, and I have seen no reason, and I have heard no reason tonight why that decision should be reversed or interfered with."

Drawing the attention of the House to the continuing attacks on MRA that appear with regularity in the official Communist paper, Major Chesley Carter of Newfoundland affirmed that the purpose of Moral Re-Armament was not the formation of any type of religious or political party and that its charter was granted in recognition of its aim — "To advance Christian religion" — and that it at no point attempted nor desired to compete with any religious body.

In conclusion Mr Carter said, "[illegible] mistrust, hates and resentments among the peoples of the world. [illegible] usage of living by absolute moral standards."

1961 BUICK SPECIAL

Perfectly proportioned and cleanly styled, the 1961 Buick Special is a completely new car. The Special combines the best of big-car performance and comfort with the best of small-car economy and manoeuvrability. The four-door sedan, shown here, and the four-door station wagon are powered by an aluminum Fireball V8 engine that weighs only 318 pounds. Optional on all Special models is the new dual-path Turbine Drive transmission that saves nearly 180 pounds over conventional automatics through use of an aluminum housing.

WALKING AFTER THE BALL

Vernon Law, star of the Pittsburgh Pirates, told a writer for THIS WEEK magazine some of the secrets of becoming a winner. Law keeps a little black book in which he has written down things he has noticed about winners in the great sport of baseball. One of the first observations was this:

Nobody ever became a ball player by walking after the ball.

What a wealth of philosophy there is in that one observation!

Another pointed comment was this: "When you start to slide, slide. He who changes his mind may exchange a good leg for a broken one."

Another was: "You'll never become a 300 hitter unless you take your bat off your shoulder."

Seldom have I been so impressed with words. Law who is an elder of his church as well as being one of the finest pitchers in baseball, speaks volumes in each single line. His observations in his own trade apply with stinging force to most other human enterprises.

Nobody ever became a ball player by walking after the ball! Any man who can get that wisdom etched into his cranium is half way to home. Any nation with young men who know this truth and live by it will be wealthy and secure.

Canadians, in general, do not walk after the ball. We are hustlers. We are industrious and hard working. But in recent years there has been a drift away from such an attitude. There are some who preach that by some political magic or other we can become secure and well fed while walking, not running, after the ball. We cannot. We must hustle. No nation ever became great without zeal and enterprise and plenty of hard work.

And there was another bit of advice in Vernon Law's black notebook—advice some of those who call for more government spending ought to read and absorb. It was packed into one sharp sentence too.

"Don't throw the ball before you have it."

NEW BID TO EASE CREDIT FOR FORGOTTEN SMALL BUSINESS

A fresh attempt will be made, probably later this month, to win government approval for new credit facilities for small business, writes Don Peacock in The Financial Post. Trades department officials, following extensive studies by the department's small business branch, say they are convinced there is a gap in existing credit facilities. They believe the small businessman who is too small to raise money by a bond or stock issue needs easier access to term loans — for two to five years, say — than he now has at the chartered banks.

Million-Dollar Alcoholism Study To Be Headed by Nevitt Sanford

TORONTO — Appointment of Dr Nevitt Sanford, professor of psychology at the University of California, Berkeley, as general and scientific director of the new Co-operative Commission on the Study of Alcoholism was announced recently. The announcement came from the office of H. David Archibald, executive director of the Alcoholism Research Foundation here who as president of the North American Association of Alcoholism Programs has been serving as chairman of the interim commission.

Dr. Sanford, a native of Chatham, Virginia, at the age of [illegible] brings to this new post a wide ranging experience in many areas of psychology. With degrees from the University of Richmond, Columbia and Harvard, he served as a research psychologist in the Harvard Growth Study of Children from 1935 to 1940, when he moved to the University of California as an assistant professor. He has been professor of psychology there since 1948, and over the years has been associated with Institute of Personality Assessment and Research, the Tavistock Institute in Human Relations, London, England, and the Berkeley Public Opinion Study. During the war he served on the United States OSS Assessment Program. Dr. Sanford is co-author of two books, "Physique, Personality and Scholarship," and "The Authoritarian Personality," and author of numerous scientific papers.

The California professor expects to take over active direction of the comprehensive five-year alcoholism project in July 1961. In the meantime he will be concerned with locating the project headquarters in a suitable university and recruiting key members of his staff.

Financed by an unprecedented million dollar grant from the National Institute of Mental Health of the United States Government, the new [illegible] will spend five years delving into every field of study relevant to the understanding and relief of alcoholism in the United States and Canada. Scientific knowledge of alcoholism as a disease and as a social problem is to be examined and re-evaluated. The [illegible] organizations which deal with alcoholism or bear upon it in significant ways will be brought under fresh study. Nothing is to be overlooked. [illegible] of all kinds surrounding the use of alcohol, the Temperance movement, sales promotion, law enforcement methods, health, welfare and educational agencies will be systematically studied.

"The goal is to learn how alcoholism has reached its present proportions in the United States and Canada and to search out better ways of dealing with this very serious problem," summed up Mr Archibald in making the announcement.

Criminal Liability For Neglect

There are various provincial penalties for callous neglect of children. And section [illegible] of the Criminal Code of Canada reads: "Everyone who unlawfully abandons or exposes a child who is under the age of ten years, so that its life is or is likely to be endangered or its health is or is likely to be permanently injured, is guilty of an offence and is liable to imprisonment for two years."

There is a tragic [illegible] to the [illegible] of the last year in which [illegible] children died. Alone in house 6 children die. Mother next door [illegible]. 3 children playing with matches, perish in flames. Cigaret lighter burns fatal to boy 3. Two children, one 4, the other 6 months, burn to death when wood stove starts fire while mother visits neighbors. Mother in tavern, child dies in flames.

Parents who go out have a duty to their children, to the community and to themselves to see that the youngsters are properly looked after.

The heartening acceptance of this obligation in homes around the land is reflected by the fact that baby-sitting has become more than a casual occupation for many people. It has even developed into a regular profession.

The Fire Chief has information on child protection. If you do a fair amount of baby sitting, call him. He'll be delighted to hear that you want to know and that, like him, you are deeply concerned with the welfare of your charges.
